N.J. students protest in Trenton

By George Olchewski
Staff Writer

More than 300 students from New Jersey state colleges attended a rally in Trenton on Friday, Nov. 9, to protest rising tuition in all state colleges, to prevent future cuts of higher education funding and to encourage passage of the Student Rights Act, which is still pending in the New Jersey Legislature.

The bill would give more power to student governments and provide opportunities for students to take a more active role in the legislative decision-making process. It will also allow students to form a statewide student association to lobby for student concerns.

Demonstrators rallied at the State House and then to the front steps of the Department of Education, Before it moved back to the State House.

Signs and banners filled the street in front of the State House with statements such as, "Hey, Florio - Freeze tuition while you're still in office!" and "I'll pay more for toilet paper, but not tuition!"

The students had an official statement from Governor Jim Florio on the steps of the State House. According to a news release, Governor Florio will work closely with parent, student, education and legislative leaders to minimize tuition increases and ensure the highest priority to affordable programs.

Florio also told the students he supports student representation on the State Board of Higher Education as well as increased participation in the governing of state colleges and universities.

He plans to work closely with Assembly Speaker Joe Doria and Senate Majority Leader Paul Dalton for the consideration of the Student Rights Act currently pending in the Legislature.

Marcoantonio Lacatena, president of the Council of New Jersey State College Locals for the faculty unions, assured college students statewide that the faculty is behind them 100%. He also said that the state's financial burdens should not be put onto the shoulders of students.

Lacatena cited a case where tuition funds have been misused. "At Trenton State College, where some of the worst abuses have occurred, tuition doubled between fiscal years 1984-85 and 1990-91. The college has plans to sell hundreds of millions of dollars worth of construction bonds, to be repaid from further tuition increases. Funds generated by past tuition increases were spent to provide free housing for administrators. An academic scholarship program was implemented which increased middle-income student's tuition to pay for other, sometimes more affluent, students."

"Such a warped policy is an affront to every student who must work, and both of whose parents must also work, to pay that tuition. Tuition increases must be kept in reasonable bounds, not inflated to pay for grandiose building schemes and administrator's free housing," Lacatena said.

Douglass College Government Association representative Wendy-Ann Vodak added to Lacatena's comments. "Find out how your college is using your money. Find out the structure between you and the administration. That knowledge is a source of power," Vodak said.

Darren Fedder of the William Paterson College SGA made reference to state budget cuts for higher education. "Because of these cuts, we had to cut enrollment - we just can't afford to take in new students!"

There are $2.6 billion in unpaid state loans - get the people who took out the loans to pay them back - not us!" said Joe Sevillo of Essex County Community College.

Norberto Canzo from Rutgers New Jersey.

Several hundred students from N.J. state colleges converged on Trenton to protest the current state of education.

$72,000 settlement against FSCA

By Sean McAnally
Correspondent

Gertrude Silberman, former chief accountant and finance director of the Faculty Student Cooperative Association (FSCA), reached a $72,000 settlement with the FSCA for her charges of sex discrimination. The settlement was reached on the first day of her trial, Oct. 15, in federal court, said Silberman's attorney, Paul Schachter, of Reinhardt & Schachter in Newark.

This was the third accusation of discrimination against Jeffrey Shapiro, former president of the FSCA, by two other FSCA employees. Joyce Hazacorzian and Elizabeth Lytel filed complaints against Shapiro by meeting with Shapiro. She then filed a complaint with Anita Walters of MSC's Affirmative Action office in December of 1986, Silberman said.

Walters' office handled complaints of sex discrimination against Shapiro by two other FSCA employees. Joyce Hazacorzian and Elizabeth Lytel filed complaints against Shapiro, but Walters' investigation cleared him, said the FSCA's attorney, Robert Falanga of Zazzali, Zazzali, Falanga and Nowak of Newark.

Shapiro suspended Silberman for two days for removing the letter from Miozzi's desk. Upon returning to work she was suspended for an additional two days, said Silberman. Immediately

MSC College Bowl to be held on Dec. 1

By Sandra Spillman Correspondent

The College Bowl will be held on Saturday, Dec. 1, in the Student Center Ballroom. The exhibition, which was between Alpha Iota Chi (AIX) Sorority and Tau Kappa Epsilon (TKE) Fraternity, was meant to bring the actual College Bowl to the campus' attention. "I think it's great that we can demonstrate our knowledge in such a fun way," said Stacey Leibowitz, a junior and member of AIX's College Bowl team. AIX beat TKE at the exhibition with a score of 60 to 50. The College Bowl will consist of at least 16 teams of four players and an alternate each. Throughout the game, teams will be asked to answer both academic and trivial questions and will be awarded points for correct answers. When a team wins a match, it will go on to compete against other teams which has not yet been eliminated by a loss. The last two teams will play in the final match of the College Bowl tournament.

The winning team will receive $100 and the runner-up will receive $50. The four best participants, not necessarily from the same team, will then be chosen to represent MSC. "Hopefully we'll be able to compete against other colleges," said Charles Feiner, director of Student Activities. Feiner thought of bringing the College Bowl to MSC after his success with it at Ramapo College. "I posed the idea to TKE, and they're running it," Feiner said.

Feiner and Student Affairs will be advising TKE, donating the awards for the 1st and 2nd place winners and $15 to the 16 teams who signed-up for the tournament. TKE organized the sign-ups and will be organizing the tournament.

"We want it to be an entire campus event," Dan Forte, a member of TKE Fraternity said. "We're hoping to get a lot of support from the faculty and administration too." The teams, which are made of fraternities, sororities, organizations and clubs have already been assigned. However, all are invited to participate as judges, moderators and supporters for the tournament.

Work remains unfinished on Freeman Cafeteria

By Mark Hendricks Correspondent

Freeman Hall Cafeteria opened on Nov. 5 with ceiling tiles and lighting fixtures still being worked on and without new tables, chairs and beverage and condiment stations. "It was an insult to eat there," said Christine McNamara, a resident of Freeman Hall. "There were only tables set up on half of the room and there weren't that many available," she added.

Donna Pericone, head of Freeman Campus Housing Entertainment Educational Recreation Society (CHEERS), said that the construction is still progressing very slowly. "Sometimes there are ceiling tiles above you, sometimes there aren't." The lighting was terrible on Nov. 5, "Pericone said. "The lights were shattered and they were still painting the walls. We ate in the dark."

"One of the major differences between the way the cafeteria was and the way it is now is that side dishes, vegetables and entrees used to be served by a staff and were continuously replaced. Now it's self-service, which I think was to cut down on cafeteria workers. If something runs out, now you have to yell for more," said Pericone.

In addition to these inconveniences, Pericone said that some of the wallpaper had been hung improperly and was currently being repaired. She also said that there was sometime a limited selection of beverages at the cafeteria.

following that, Silberman was fired.

Once she had been fired, the FSCA cancelled her health care. She requested that she be allowed to continue paying for that insurance policy. The ability for an employee to continue insurance payments for 18 to 24 months following dismissal is covered under the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act, or COBRA law.

The FSCA refused to reinstate her insurance claiming that she was covered under Medicare, said Silberman. However, Silberman contends that since Medicare is contingent on carrying another insurance policy she should be entitled to continue her other policy.

After three and a half years of pursuing the case, Silberman was advised by her attorney to take the settlement of $72,000 because it could have been an additional three years before she saw a judgment.

"At my age, I had to consider whether I could afford to wait years before seeing the fruits of my lawsuit," Silberman quoted her lawyer, "it's not worth it."

Unless you have money to burn and time to kill," Silberman quoted her lawyer, "it's not worth it."

"Shapiro left the FSCA six months after Silberman's dismissal. Both Doug Blackburn, the FSCA's current president and Walters of the Affirmative Action office declined to comment. Silberman filed a request, on both February 3 and February 9, 1987, with the college and FSCA for a formal hearing. She received no response to her request.

Then on February 24, 1987 Silberman filed charges with the New Jersey Division on Civil Rights and the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, said Schachter.

Silberman contends that her dismissal on May 15, 1987, was also brought about by her accusations of improper procedures regarding the safeguarding of FSCA funds and college funds of which the FSCA is custodian. Silberman's ability to point out employer wrong doing is protected by the Conscientious Employee Protection Act, or "whistleblower's" statute, said Schachter.

In April of 1987, Silberman, while reviewing the work of her subordinate, Linda Miozzi, found a letter from Shapiro to Prudential Bache that changed the FSCA's investment policy to a higher risk policy. "I have doubled the risk to my own corporation in order to try and generate the potential of a significant portfolio account. I am willing to place at risk both the investment of FSCA funds and if necessary, the college funds," wrote Shapiro, April 7, 1987.

Shapiro should have been responsible for obtaining written permission from the college board and the FSCA board before making a change in investment policy, said Silberman. Silberman's complaint, however, was that she would have been responsible for setting up a reserve fund for the investments, but hadn't been notified of the policy change.

The Arab Club made an appeal to the SGA for $170 which they were denied last week for a lecture. Several legislators felt they were misled about the content of the lecture after reviewing fliers that were passed out promoting the lecture. The Arab Club suggested that the lecture would be about the Middle East crisis and how it affected Kuwait and Iraq. However, the fliers stated: "Palestinian Rights in Light of The Gulf Crisis."

The bill passed and was then denied after legislators saw the fliers. See SGA News of November 7 p.10.

The Spanish Club was granted $350 from the Mass Transit Authority (MTA) account for a trip to New York. This is the second trip to New York City within two weeks being funded by the MTA account.

Supporters of Child Care was granted a class III charter. The group was created to find affordable means of child care for students.

Starting next semester the minutes to the previous week's meeting will be available to the public on Mondays. Currently the minutes are not available until Wednesday afternoon and legislators feel they do not have enough time to prepare for the meetings the same day.

Phi Sigma Pi was granted a constitution change which will allow them to fine members who repeatedly miss meetings.

"The Montclarion" was appropriated $800 for their magazine section and the position of production editor was created.

Dozens of groups at MSC Health Fair

By Audrey Regan
Staff Writer

The Fall '90 Health Fair, sponsored by the Health Professions Department, brought a host of services to MSC last Thursday ranging from cholesterol readings and fitness assessments to career counseling and health related awareness programs.

Dozens of both on and off campus organizations set up tables in the Student Center Ballrooms while three mobile units - Mammutistry Testing, the Eye/Ear Mobile and the PSE&G Energy Conservation Van - offered reduced rate testing and educational awareness information to interested MSC students and faculty.

"This is the sixteenth year we've been doing this," said Dr. John Redd, coordinator of the Health Fair and head of the Health Professions Department.

"We thought attendance was good. There were a couple of thousand people who came during the day," said Redd.

"I think on a campus as big as Montclair, we could have had more students and faculty come out, but for the people that came, it was really worthwhile," said Mary Jane Linnehan, president of the Health Professions Association, who worked with Jeff Caswell the chairman, in coordinating the Health Fair.

Dr. Richard Tobin of the Spiedes Human Performance Lab in Panzer Gym and his student staff conducted fitness assessments. The assessment, a 25-minute procedure, tested blood pressure, heart rate, body fat composition, flexibility, and cardiovascular strength.

We’re working to determine fitness levels in healthy individuals, not sick individuals," Tobin said. "We’re on the verge of a campus-wide testing program for faculty, students and the public," and the program could possibly run in the spring, Tobin said.

Several on-campus health fair could also had a $12 cholesterol test, a $5 cholesterol reading, a free Shiatsu massage from the Well Being Center of Montclair or they could take advantage of the many pamphlets and booklets from organizations like Planned Parenthood, Trasport, Safety Now, Red Cross, Montclair YMCA, Ommission Internaional and the New Jersey Chiropractic Association.

Several on-campus organizations set up tables at the health fair. The Conservation Club displayed harmful household environmental products and Career Services offered information on health related professions. Other on-campus organizations, such as the Drop-In Center and the Therapeutic Recreation Center, provided information on their services.

In the Student Center Mall, students and faculty could visit the Eye/Ear Mobile or the PSE&G Energy Conservation Show. For $65 female students could have a 15 minute mammography exam which was half of what it would cost at a hospital, said Ed Helmbold of the Marltont-based unit.

"We had 17 students tested today. That's a lot for a college, especially when these students fall below the critical age group," Helmbold said.

Student Rights Bill pursued by NJSRC

By Jaime Reinoos
Writer for The Vector

This summer the "New Jersey Student Rights Coalition" was formed. This coalition, representing about 12 schools of higher education in New Jersey, was formed with the purpose of sponsoring the "Student Rights Bill.

This is a bill that will give the students in the state the basis for better representation. It consists of three basic points:

First, it will give the elected student leaders control of the student government fees. This statement will affect our undergraduate student government. The student senate already has control of its fees, and a checks-and-balances system with the administration. Therefore, this bill will just create a "buffer" for the student government, if in the future there are any discrepancies with the administration.

Second, it establishes students' right to found, fund and direct independent student organizations. This point will allow the Student Senate to bring a non-profit organization onto campus and to support it independently. It must be understood that before any association of this type is accepted, there must be a student referendum which 1/4 of the student body must sign. After this procedure is done, then this new amendment must be brought up to a general student election. This organization will be supported in a separate "waivable" student fee, much like the fee on our income tax form concerning the presidential election fund to which the tax payer may choose to give a dollar or not.

Finally, the most important point provides for a New Jersey State Student Association. This group will bring together all the schools in the state. So far the 2 institutions in the NJSRC will be the founders of this organization. The main goal of the group is to make one day to represent all the students in the state. This association's purpose is to defend the students' rights. It will tackle all issues that affect students, such as tuition increases, financial aid cuts, student representation, and others.

Rash of Toyota thefts on campus

By William C. Hendrixson
Staff Writer

Stolen Cars:
-Nov. 12 between 11:45 a.m. and 2 p.m. a 1985 Toyota Corolla was stolen from lot 28.
-Nov. 12 between 9:40 a.m. and 2 p.m. another 1985 Toyota Corolla was also stolen from lot 28.
-Nov. 12 between 7:45 a.m. and 1 p.m. a 1988 Toyota Celica was stolen from lot 26.

Break-ins/Vandalism:
-Between 11:20 p.m. on Nov. 1 and 6 a.m. on Nov. 2, a 1988 Ford Escort in the nurses parking area near Blanton Hall had its door and quarter panel kicked in.
-Between 9 p.m. on Nov. 5 and 11:30 a.m. on Nov. 6, a 1986 Pontiac was broken into and the radio was stolen.
-Nov. 11 at 11:48 p.m. a 1986 Corvette parked in lot 21 was vandalized by 7 to 8 males. They smashed a window and attempted to steal the car, but a witness called Campus Police and scared them away before they could start the car. They fled on foot and Campus Police called the Little Falls and Clifton Police Departments for assistance. The vandalism were not apprehended.

Thefts:
-Between 10 p.m. on Nov. 9 and 4 p.m. on Nov. 10, two Webster Hall rooms were burglarized. Jewelry and clothing were stolen.
-Between 10:30 p.m. on Nov. 9 and 9 a.m. on Nov. 10, a VCR was stolen from a locked closet in Partridge Hall.
-Between 3 p.m. on Nov. 10 and 8:30 p.m. on Nov. 12, a candy machine in Partridge Hall was broken into. No assessment has yet been made on how much was stolen.

Miscellaneous:
-Nov. 1 at 5:30 p.m. Campus Police investigating a report of a female being assaulted in a car found a female student and a male non-student arguing. The female claimed it was a simple misunderstanding and that they were friends.
-Nov. 2 at 4 a.m. a female Blanton resident reported her room and touched her head and back as she slept. The person fled and she was unable to identify the person as a male or female.
-Nov. 1 between 10-10:30 p.m. a female Bohn Hall resident left her wallet near the mailbox and returned later to find it was missing.
-Nov. 7 at 3 p.m. a female student left her purse in the library, and it was not found.
-Nov. 8 at 8 p.m. and again on Nov. 13 at 8 p.m., a faculty member and a student were arguing in Richardson Hall. When Campus Police arrived it was decided both times the matter should be handled internally.

Lack of maintenance on campus housing

By David Orr
Correspondent

Maintenance workers have repaired the plumbing at Clove Road, but some other problems still exist, said Shelly Jackson, director of Clove Road.

Four maintenance positions, one of which is at Clove Road, cannot be filled due to lack of funding, said Doug Cooper, assistant director of residence life in charge of maintenance and housekeeping.

Problems at Clove Road still include unpainted rooms, broken air-conditioners and sinks as well as toilets which do not work, said Jackson.

Part of the problem is that the maintenance crew is supposed to have 15 members. There have not been 15 maintenance workers since 1988.

During the summer there was a crew assigned to do the work over a six week period but the college froze funds and the workers fell behind schedule, Cooper said.

Under the present 1991 budget, which is pending approval, there is no money to hire more maintenance workers. Webster and Stone Halls would remain without maintenance workers, said Cooper.

Originally, he said, Clove Road asked for $385,000 for the fiscal year, 95% of that was approved, and then cut in half due to problems with the budget.

Students Rights Bill supported by SGA

By George Olschewski
Staff Writer
November 7, 1990

The SGA passed a resolution supporting the Student Rights Bill. This bill, introduced in the New Jersey State Senate on July 1 will give more rights and powers to student government associations statewide. (See the NJ state college protest article on p. 1).

The Arab Club, a Class II organization, went up for an appropriation of $170 to help fund a lecture on Nov. 13. The lecture was to focus on the Gulf Crisis. Originally, the bill passed through the legislature without incident, but when a flyer documenting what was to be covered in the lecture was distributed, the bill was brought back onto the floor for reconsideration and another vote.

"The Arab Club representative was withholding information," said legislator David Goldberg.

The flyer read as follows:

ISRAEL COMMITTS ANOTHER MASSACRE
30 Palestinians killed
Hundreds of Palestinians injured
Bloodiest day in Jerusalem in years
World strongly condemns ISRAEL
Embargo against IRAQ continues

Palestinian Rights in Light of The Gulf Crisis!

The legislation felt that while the flyer made reference to the Gulf Crisis (the United States military presence in Saudi Arabia and the Kuwait-Saddam Hussein conflict), it had four other points that were not touched upon by the representative.

"The representative said the lecture was to deal with the Persian Gulf situation. Out of five points on this flyer, only one makes any reference to the Persian Gulf," said legislator Robert Tranter.

Legislator Angel Mossucco did not think there was any misrepresentation in the flyer. "If there is a conflict, then the speaker can be questioned. An open forum like this is a very good way to discuss issues and educate the campus."

"The representative gave information that was false," Goldberg said. "He misled us, and he may attempt to mislead others." Other legislators agreed, citing lying by withholding information.

Others present at the meeting commented that although his views may not be the same as the legislature's, the lecturer should still be permitted to speak. This was countered by legislator James Cotter, who said, "If the Ku Klux Klan wanted to come and speak on campus, they can, but how would the SGA look if we appropriated money to fund the speaker? It would appear that we, as representatives of the student body, were supporting them."

"I'm pretty confident that he knew what our interpretation of 'Gulf Crisis' was, and he used that to mislead us," said legislator and MSC Board of Trustees member Paul Prior.

After a motion to end debate, the bill was voted on and failed.

Dr. Richard Lynde of the Division of Academic Affairs of MSC addressed the legislature. The SGA passed a resolution supporting the Student Rights Bill. This bill, introduced in the New Jersey State Senate on July 1 will give more rights and powers to student government associations statewide. (See the NJ state college protest article on p. 1).

The Arab Club, a Class II organization, went up for an appropriation of $170 to help fund a lecture on Nov. 13. The lecture was to focus on the Gulf Crisis. Originally, the bill passed through the legislature without incident, but when a flyer documenting what was to be covered in the lecture was distributed, the bill was brought back onto the floor for reconsideration and another vote.

"The Arab Club representative was withholding information," said legislator David Goldberg.

The flyer read as follows:

ISRAEL COMMITTS ANOTHER MASSACRE
30 Palestinians killed
Hundreds of Palestinians injured
Bloodiest day in Jerusalem in years
World strongly condemns ISRAEL
Embargo against IRAQ continues

Palestinian Rights in Light of The Gulf Crisis!

The legislation felt that while the flyer made reference to the Gulf Crisis (the United States military presence in Saudi Arabia and the Kuwait-Saddam Hussein conflict), it had four other points that were not touched upon by the representative.

"The representative said the lecture was to deal with the Persian Gulf situation. Out of five points on this flyer, only one makes any reference to the Persian Gulf," said legislator Robert Tranter.

Legislator Angel Mossucco did not think there was any misrepresentation in the flyer. "If there is a conflict, then the speaker can be questioned. An open forum like this is a very good way to discuss issues and educate the campus."

"The representative gave information that was false," Goldberg said. "He misled us, and he may attempt to mislead others." Other legislators agreed, citing lying by withholding information.

Others present at the meeting commented that although his views may not be the same as the legislature's, the lecturer should still be permitted to speak. This was countered by legislator James Cotter, who said, "If the Ku Klux Klan wanted to come and speak on campus, they can, but how would the SGA look if we appropriated money to fund the speaker? It would appear that we, as representatives of the student body, were supporting them."

"I'm pretty confident that he knew what our interpretation of 'Gulf Crisis' was, and he used that to mislead us," said legislator and MSC Board of Trustees member Paul Prior.

After a motion to end debate, the bill was voted on and failed.

Latin Month 1990: Flying in a “Latin Dream”

Benavides said that she has also noticed this attitude on campus through Latin American students trying to achieve educational goals.

"Hispanics are in this country because they are looking for better futures that they can't get in their own country because of their social or political situations," she said. "This country opens the door. It offers opportunities."

Speakers such as Luis Quintana and MSC professors Carmen Arderio and Joan Engelbert have offered insight into these opportunities, she said, as well as the Hispanic culture.

Last Thursday, for example, Ramapo political science professor John Frandt, Nicaraguan Solidarity Network members Jane Guskin and Dennis Perin from WBAI in New York City, and Guatemalan Miguel Garcia, who spoke through a translator, talked about the socio-political situation in Central America.

"The turnout was excellent," said LASO president Ramona Guzman. "They told us how badly Central America is covered in the news. It's (political killings) covered very vaguely."

"We got first-hand information," added LASO vice-president Sandra Garcia.

Two former LASO presidents, Tomase Jimenez and Miguel Melendez, also gave "first-hand information" about other experiences at the Latin Month alumni dinner last Sunday.

"Tomase graduated here in 1985," Garcia said. "She was married and pregnant the year she was president of LASO." Jimenez went on to graduate from Columbia University, and is currently a lawyer for juvenile rights in Union City.

"She talked about how people tried to discourage her. She said that all her life she'd been told that she would never make it in college, so she was a secretary for two years before she ever came to MSC," said Latin Month committee member Nancy Garcia.

She added that Melendez offered a similar message. "He said that once you're out there, there's nothing like LASO there. Hispanics should be there for others, basically," she said.

So far, Benavides has noticed a good response toward the Latin Month activities from both the faculty and the student body. The political science department and the Spanish/Italian department, she said, have been especially supportive, as well as LASO's 100 members.

Benavides added that MSC has about 1,000 Hispanic students, but others have been interested in the activities as well. "It's making me very happy," she said, "because I see that they want to learn about our culture."

In the remainder of Latin Month, events such as a dance, a Spanish food display, and a talent show will be held, as well as the "Latin Dream Concert" on November 30, featuring Latin jazz ensemble Grupo Causucnan and Casa Latinoamericana.

However, Benavides adds that the "dream" will not end at the end of November.

"The Latin Dream is going to keep on for the rest of our lives as Hispanics," she said, "even if we sometimes face obstacles such as prejudice or language barriers, like some of our members, I know they are working to improve that."

And working to keep the "dream" alive. "We're going to strive and achieve what we want," she said.

How Do You Feel About Another Tuition Increase?

I am a foreign student (India). Getting money transferred from home means losing lots already, and I am not allowed to work off campus. Another increase would affect us, the foreign students, even more severely than it is affecting other students. Impeach Florio!

Krishna Aikat
Junior/Marketing

If the next tuition hike is above ten percent, I can no longer attend school. I think they should audit government agencies before they bleed more money from me.

James Kuba
Senior/Anthropology & Philosophy

I am definitely against it. It's hard enough as it is to get financial aid. I'm working two jobs already and don't know how I could afford another increase. With another raise it would be impossible for some of us to afford an education which we are entitled to.

Maria F. Gonzalez
Sophomore/Biology

I feel they have not justified enough reasons to increase tuition again. It's hard enough to pay the tuition as it is, and another increase would discourage people seeking higher education.

MSC marketing professor Paul Scipione stands in front of a Vietnamese burial plot near the perimeter at Phu Bai, 1969. He is holding an aiming stake for an 81-mm mortar, and was 23 years old when this was taken by another soldier.

I remember...landing at Bien Hoa. The heat and the smell were overpowering. I remember...waking up in a ward at Fort Dix, marching, crawling and stabbing at old tires with a bayonet, screaming, “Kill, kill, kill!”

Vietnam Revisited: An MSC professor remembers

At Fort Dix, marching, crawling and stabbing at old tires with a bayonet, screaming, “Kill, kill, kill!”

The Army sent me to Ft. Gordon for Airborne Infantry AIT, then onto Ft. Benning where they paid an extra $55 a month if you’d jump out of a C-119 five times. A couple of drill sergeants thought I was officer material, and a few weeks later I was in the 92nd Company of Infantry OCS at Benning, learning how to lead 18-year-olds against NVA regulars. It was a responsibility I didn’t feel comfortable with.

When a desk job running the Peer Evaluation Ratings program came up, I quit OCS and rented a trailer. Linda and I were together again in Columbus, GA for about a month. It was 1969; nearly 40,000 Americans had died in Nam. By then the Pentagon needed more warm bodies, especially guys like me, an infantry sergeant with an MOS of 11-Charlie — mortars. They allowed us only three weeks to move back to New York to find Linda a new home and a job. We listened to Peter, Paul and Mary sing “Leavin’ On A Jet Plane,” and wouldn’t let go of each other. It didn’t seem right to have to think about death at 23.

I was ordered back to Ft. Dix. Several hundred other Nam-bound GIs and I were put in old wooden barracks and wore fatigues. We sat on the steps of the barracks, listened to news about world of a jet, where screams mixed with shouts of “Kill, kill, kill!” me aside and offered me an administrative job in base camp; I grabbed at the miracle and for once in my life it actually happened. A senior NCO took me aside and offered me an administrative job in base camp; I grabbed at the chance.

I remember...when my company was at Bien Hoa, 20 miles north of Saigon. It was sunny and warm and the only bad part was getting rocketed or mortared by the NVA every other night. Then they moved us 400 miles north to Phu Bai, just six miles south of Hue and only twenty minutes by chopper from Hamburger Hill, Khe Sanh and the DMZ. One week it rained more than 30 inches; midlew formed in minutes. We shivered day and night, both of which looked the same. There were enemy probes at night and then came Tet. All that we thought about was survival and getting back to the world, neither of which seemed likely.

I remember...waking up in a ward at the 85th Evac Hospital at Phu Bai, staring at a dozen other scared patients. It didn’t hurt much — until the morphine wore off. After a few days they told me they’d have to fly me to a bigger Army hospital in Japan in order to save my right kidney and bladder. The next morning I was in a stretcher hung from the ceiling of a C041 Starlifter, one of fifty GI patients on the medevac flight to Yokota, Japan.

I remember the fear on that plane — dying at 40,000 feet in the cold, sterile world of a jet, where screams mixed with surges from the engines. Dying alone, without friends or family, at some unknown cross-hatch on the aeronautical charts.

I remember...spending two months in Ward 884 of the 249th Army Hospital at Camp Drake, Asaka, Japan. Business was brisk at the 249th, a direct barometer of how many soldiers were being wounded in Nam. There were 600 beds and they were never empty. All day and night, we’d hear the wail of the sirens cont. on p. 15
Looking back
by Chris Panepinto

Ten years ago this week, MSC students were "ticked off," while five years ago, students were warned that too narrow a focus might anger their future employers...

Nov. 13, 1980

A "major altercation" between patrons and staff of the Rathskellar prompted an administrative decision to temporarily ban the sale of alcohol. The argument involved approximately 15 to 25 people, and began when a student refused to present proper identification. He became enraged and allegedly assaulted a member of the Rat's staff. Talks were scheduled to appease both students and administrators, while the students hoped the ban would be lifted.

"Union and state stalled in talks"
The state stopped negotiations with the American Federation of Teachers because the NJEA won the right to hold a collective bargaining election the following week. The cost of living increases and pay increments would be discussed. Jon Sobek, NJEA organizer, said that the NJEA would have its own proposals generated by employee demands and elected leadership. Meanwhile, hopes of satisfying faculty demands were lagging, and a possible strike was seen on the horizon.

"Limited budget in economics dept. might result in a greater selectivity"
Due to budget cuts, the economics department was forced to be more selective of its students; in other words, it would raise its academic standards in order to meet limited resources (including faculty) and maintain the quality of education. As a result of expanded enrollment, the department came to rely more on part-time faculty members to teach the expanded curriculum.

on the water towers as another medevac chopper arrived from Yokota. The wards got so jammed that the less severe cases were moved to the corridors and solarium and we had to share wheelchairs and gurneys.

The surgeons and urologists were finally able to put me back together again and I was put on a charter flight from Travis Air Force Base nine hours later. I wanted to kiss American soil, but it was too painful to bend down.

It was the middle of the night when we arrived at the Oakland Army Depot. There were no bands or parades, just a free steak dinner. They checked all our papers and told us to sleep a few hours while we waited for our Honorable Discharge. A dozen of us slept on one side of a thin plywood partition; on the other side slept a dozen "cherries" who were waiting for their flight to Nam.

Six hours later I was a civilian again, and twelve hours later that I stepped off a plane in Buffalo back to Linda. Home.

I remember...April 1975. Watching Vietnamese hang from the last plane out of DaNang as the NVA quickly overran South Vietnam. Hue fell, and I felt sick knowing that my former camps at Phu Bai and Camp Eagle were in enemy hands. We vets felt like losers and our fellow citizens did nothing to either honor or comfort us.

I remember...missing the dedication of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial in D.C. on Veterans' Day 1982 because I was in the hospital for surgery. Two years later I was there, though, for the dedication of Frederick Hart's statue of three Nam vets. It felt good to be a Vietnam veteran, and we Nam vets should feel good about ourselves because we kept the faith during the most difficult, confusing time in American history.

What I remember most, though, are the more than 2,000 Americans still not accounted for in Southeast Asia, and the six names on the wall in Washington who were friends of mine: Fred Cadille, KIA on 12-05-65 (Panel 3E, Line 125); Norm Mayer, KIA on 3-11-67 (Panel 16E, Line 62); Tom Jackson, KIA on 5-21-69 (Panel 24W, Line 67); James McConnyhead, KIA on 6-13-69 (Panel 22W, Line 42); Peter Pulaski, KIA 1-4-70 (Panel 15W, Line 126); and Floyd Moye, KIA 3-10-70 (Panel 13W, Line 105).

I remember...every day, not just Veterans' Day. How could I ever forget?

MSC attends tuition protest

On Friday, November 9, students from MSC, in conjunction with other New Jersey State colleges, staged a protest against more tuition increases. The rally in Trenton to show Gov. Florio that the students of New Jersey will not sit by while he continues to increase tuition is a noble endeavor, but out of 17 schools, only between 300 and 500 students attended.

If Florio is going to take students seriously in their quest for a tuition freeze, more students need to come forth and show they care.

It is a crime that the government continues to try to make up for past budget mistakes by increasing the cost of college. It is not something people can just do without, as Florio is well aware, so he feels it is a resource he can continue to exploit. Instead, he should look to the other resources of New Jersey to try and increase the revenue coming into the government, taxing big business for example.

Why is Florio so quick to raise tuition, while not bothering to check where and how the current educational budget is being used. An overall reevaluation of how the state schools use the money allotted to them by the state, might help bring about a more cost efficient school system.

We have already seen how the administration of MSC wastes thousands of dollars a year on useless or unacceptable labor projects, (Nov. 1st Montclarion) how about the other state schools? Do they have similar budget wasteage?

These are just a few of the questions Gov. Florio should be asking, before he just decides to increase the cost of tuition, and if he isn't going to ask them, it is up to the students of New Jersey to bring them to his attention.

The rally on Nov. 9 was definitely a step in the right direction, but the fight must be continued. The students have to demand that the government examine how the current money is being used before they make the cost of going to college restricted to only the very rich and the very poor.

Letters to the editor must be typewritten, accompanied by a name, year, and major, and submitted by Monday at 3 pm. The Montclarion reserves the right to edit all editorial letters for spelling, grammar, and brevity.

Student Voice
by John Tibbetts

What is patriotism?

Though an actual draft for non-military persons, such as MSC Students, is not truly a reality yet, I can not help but wonder what it would be like for Uncle Sam to ask me to go to war.

Recently, I asked several students whether they would actually go to war if they were drafted (All Around the Campus). Though most said they obviously wouldn't want to go, to my surprise almost everyone said they would if they had to.

This put quite a threat on my own ability to be a traitor? What exactly does patriotism mean for me to be a traitor? What exactly is patriotism, I can't help but wonder.

With a rather conservative decade of politics behind us, a decade in which most of us here at MSC came of age, a re-evaluation of fundamental questions about American life seems to be called for more than ever.

All of us know that there are a lot of problems. With New York City drowning in muck, outrageous tax increases, tuition hikes, continuously rising crime rates, drug addiction at an all-time high, AIDS, and more homeless people than ever, it is not easy to still pride oneself in being an American.

Obviously, something needs to be done; eventually all of us will be affected. Sending our kids to school won't be an easy task the way things are going.

Then why is it that efforts made by Civil rights activists, environmentalists, and other so-called radical people demanding change often get belittled, labeled as 1960s rejects? Is being a patriot not wanting the best for the American people? Can a war help stop hunger for poorer Americans, how can spending millions for oil provide better schools, better drug treatment programs, a chance for everyone to lead a regular life? If thousands of us are going to die, who will be there to make a change?

Whatever the benefits will be from entering a possible war in the Gulf, I am sure it won't compensate for the millions lost needed here, right now. I urge everyone here to forget about the penalty of evading the draft for a moment, and think about what really needs to be done, how anyone could possibly benefit from dying.
Former track coach speaks out

This letter is written in response to several statements by Vice-President Armstrong coming into the group the track coach which appeared in successive issues of The Montclarion (Oct. 25, Nov. 1). I have read these statements repeatedly and wonder what message they are trying to convey?

To begin with, the issue which has brought about all sorts of letter writing, the question of falsified track records, has never been addressed by the powers that be. When asked simple and direct questions, they have never been answered.

It appears that the VP and AD lack awareness of the seriousness of the claim of false records. Nor is this an internal matter: The Montclair Times and The Star Ledger have both run columns using these same non-factual records. Therefore, this has clearly become a much larger public issue. Greg Lockard, as AD, bears immediate responsibility for accuracy of records submitted by his staff members. True, the SID may assist in locating of the documentation but the responsibility is on the shoulders of the AD.

It is ironic that prior to assuming the post of AD, Mr. Lockard was MSC's very successful coach of Swimming and Diving. In that capacity, he was very successful coach of Swimming and Diving. In that capacity, he was very successful coach of Swimming and Diving. In that capacity, he was very successful coach of Swimming and Diving. In that capacity, he was very successful coach of Swimming and Diving.

What a pathetic statement she made. How it points up her basic lack of historical knowledge of these sports at this college. With this statement she has demeaned hundreds of young athletes who represented this college with outstanding results and exemplary behavior.

Our squads, (those "non-teams"), ran against the best and were always invited to compete with the best, not because we were a chaotic mob, but rather because we were a track team of quality, on the field and off. So, the VP's statement, designed to build up the current team, does, in fact, demean the former team members as well as put down the former coaches.

This lack of sensitivity to programs which formed the foundation of the current Athletic Department is incredible—especially when one considers that it comes from the office which is responsible for that current program. I wonder where the former coaches are now? How do they react to the VP's statement about their runners? Are you going to stand by while the teams you coached are demeaned?

I contend that, as former coaches, they owe a response in deference to their team members and their own dedication to MSC track and cross country.

And so, we have an on-going saga:

—a charge of record falsification (documentation given to The Montclarion)

—two administrators, VP and AD, who hold identical opinions about the coach who is responsible for the records.

How are they dealing with the problem?

—Mr. Lockard held a "private meeting" with several students (Nov. 1 issue) when, in fact, an open forum would have shed greater light on the issue.

—VP Armstrong refers to Coach Blanton as a "fine professional" (Oct. 25 issue).

Her personal opinion notwithstanding, it is difficult to reconcile her statement with the fact that just two weeks earlier, on Oct. 9, he took an action in which he allegedly violated the right of free press by pressuring a female photographer from The Montclarion to give up her film against her will (Oct. 11 issue).

What has happened to leadership in education when such examples of harassment are not immediately acted upon by the administration? The Montclarion editorial on Oct. 25 had every right to ask why the administration claims to support them, "but when support is needed they are nowhere to be found."

Apparently, changes in education have become far more widespread in the six years since my retirement and the 10 years I coached here. Such an action on the part of a coach, alleged or not, would hardly qualify one to be termed a "first rate coach and a fine professional" as the VP stated. It looks like the administration's "broom and carpet" technique in dealing with this matter is just not working.

Pledging promotes friendship?

I am sorry that some people have deprived themselves of sharing a brotherhood in a fraternity. Why don't you start your own? The previous article was not directed towards those people feeling left out, but to people who are not expressing freedom to speak their minds about harassment. If those in their own little world did not know, harassment is illegal, wake up!

In my personal opinion harassment is coming out of prejudice in this campus from ignorant people who speak about what is not even seen and do have not a clue about the beautiful and rewarding sister or brotherhood that sororities and fraternities who pledge on line experience.

Pledging promotes prejudice?

This is a response to the letter from Belinda Diaz regarding what she sees as prejudice towards pledges. I agree with her that what a person chooses to do is nobody else's business, within reason. However, I feel that the practice she is defending is a contradiction of her statements about prejudice.

The main reason people join an organization is to belong to a group that shares similar views. There is nothing wrong with this; the problem arises when the requirements for gaining acceptance into a group are detrimental, counter-productive, and potentially, destructive.

Many of the pledging practices, i.e., the forcing in the cafeteria are dumb and silly, but, nevertheless, harmless. Miss Diaz, in defending the requirement that pledges speak, outside of class, only to their pledge brothers/sisters, is going beyond foolishness.

Read "apart" as better.

I think that Miss Diaz should carefully examine this practice - it is promoting the very prejudices that she is complaining about.

Climbing on Jacob's Ladder to New Depths

By John Tibbetts
Staff Writer

If you try to hold on to your life, and its memories, you will see demons and experience the worst kind of hell. But if you accept dying, and let go of your life those demons will look like angels.

Though this is an old concept, experiencing this might make you think you have gone insane. And insanity is exactly what Jacob (Tim Robbins) refuses to accept as an explanation for the unexplainable hallucinations and terrifying events in his life in Jacob's Ladder. His quest for explanation eventually uncovers a trail of conspiracy, deception, and murder; a more than surprising and dance to be real. This way the audience doesn't know, making the last scene of the movie an exciting and fulfilling ending, as mentioned above.

Tim Robbins (Bull Durham, Cadillac Man, Miss Firecracker, Tapeheads) does very well in the title role. His vulnerability and intelligence seem to add a certain lightness to his part, balancing the darkness of the movie. Elizabeth Pena (Down and Out in Beverly Hills & La Bamba), Danny Aiello (most recently seen in Do The Right Thing), Matt Craven, and Pruitt Taylor Vince also star.

Though I cannot guarantee whether you will like this movie, I can guarantee that if you go see it you will experience two hours that will startle and intrigue you. Personally, I would give "thumbs up."

Jacob Singer's (Tim Robbins) life turns into nightmare when unexplainable hallucinations and terrifying events begin to plague him in Jacob's Ladder.

BUDDY HOLLY LIVE
(sort of) AT THE SCHUBERT THEATER

By Oren B. Silverstein
Correspondant

Hey kids, meet the gang at the malt shop! Gals! Dig out those poofy skirts and the saddle shoes! Slick back your hair with Brylcreem and get the leather jacket and black sunglasses on! Buddy Holly and the Crickets will be killing time between songs.

The story details Buddy’s meteoric rise from Lubbock, Texas to his tragic death in 1959 at the pinnacle of his career. While the show is strong on the music, the biographical drama only seems to be killing time between songs.

The production also shines in its design. Painted and neon billboards, designed by Andy Walmsley, not only serve as backdrop to the action, but give us a sense of the era as well. The final ballroom concert especially captures the flavor of the era, with yards of satin curtains, tacky lighting, and the frilly dresses of the background singers.

The show triumphs because it is able to work around the contradictions that it sets up for itself. It portrays both the shy, insecure Texas boy, and sexually charged rocker. Unfortunately, it also presents the fact that rock and roll favorites. This is what the people got. The music, not the words, did the talking.

The spirit of the show can best be represented by the theatre’s request that "Prepare to Die" and "The Promise," the former being a pleasant song about suicide and the latter being an obvious plea to keep a promise.

Overall, the album is strong with a style that is pissed off and concerned. Enjoy!
This Flick Goes Beyond Child's Play

By Anthony Minutella
Staff Writer

Would it be too damaging to my reputation as a film critic to admit that Child's Play, the 1988 hit horror/thriller about a living, foul-mouthed killer doll, is one of my favorite films of the last decade? It was scary, intelligent, well acted and directed, paced like lightning, and, most importantly, it introduced to the world a screen villain in a class by himself: Chucky, the doll with a heart of ice. In addition, it was a lot of fun and incorporated some truly astonishing special effects sequences (courtesy of Kevin Yagher, the effects wizard who designed the Crypt Keeper for the HBO series, "Tales from the Crypt").

Well, I'm happy to report that Chucky chops again in Child's Play 2, but the gore is minimal and, for the most part, the sequel maintains the lightweight sense of fun and humor that captured the spirit of the original. Unfortunately, the sequels is visually eye catching and well paced, the sense of roller coaster thrills and chills that marked Part 1 a public and critical success is displayed only occasionally in Part 2.

The plot: workers at Play Pals Toy Factory come across the charred remains of Chucky from Part 1. In order to cover the bad publicity of events from the first film, they work furiously to repair the damaged doll to show there's nothing wrong with it. As the eyes are re-implanted, lightning strikes, Chucky is reanimated and goes on another murderous rampage in his quest to transfer his soul into little Andy Barclay (Alex Vincent).

Well, I've heard a few good things about this column to date, which almost makes it worth the effort. I've also heard that it's not the news section. Anyway, today I'll show you a way to amuse your friends and maybe even pick up a few dollars on the side. I'm going to teach you the secrets of cartooning. Just as Matt Groening's sister's next-door neighbor's calculator tutor's psychic taught them to me. Get a pencil. Get some paper. Observe your subject, pick out the closest features from the following categories, and trace. Voila! Maybe you can be the next cartoonist to throw away a wildly funny and successful daily strip for a soapbox-of-the-week that even members of STAND would consider pointless - good career move Berke.

Horror films have been around since the good old days of Frankenstein, but how many horror films of late do you know of that are genuinely "fun"? That's what horror films are supposed to do: to give the audience goosebumps and provide a good time; after all, it's fun to be scared. So many recent horror films - like the monotonous Friday the 13th series - substitute gore for scares, therefore eliminating the fright factor and adding buckets of blood instead.

Well, I mean that it was an outrageously-incredible-must-see movie.

Avalon
Starring Winona Ryder and Jeff Daniels. The hometown of the famous Roxie Carmichael prepares for her return, especially two of its residents, Ryder and Daniels. Daniels is the long-ago jilted ex-boyfriend; Ryder, the town misfit. Ryder is very credible as the troubled teenager who searches for a way to fit in with the rest of the world. Daniels plays his usual role of a typical, hum drum middle aged man. The purpose of the movie is not to welcome its star, but to help the two "left" behind. Overall, a bland movie with no real or exciting action and few surprising moments. $5

Welcome Home, Roxie Carmichael
Starring Armin Mueller-Stahl, Aidan Quinn and Elizabeth Perkins. Mueller-Stahl is an immigrant who came to this country in 1914. He and his wife live with their son, Quinn, and daughter-in-law, Perkins. Quinn struggles to make a new business work. A poignant movie that makes use of flashbacks from present-day 1940's to the mid 1910's. Excellent portrayal of a family with extended relations in a new country. A movie designed for older audiences (over 30) who enjoy a storytelling movie (there is no sex, violence or foul language). $5

Don't Tell Her It's Me
Starring Shelley Long, Steve Guttenberg and Jami Gertz. Boy meets girl, boy falls for girl, girl isn't interested, boy changes for her (and no, I'm not going to tell you the ending). This is not a typical Guttenberg movie. At times it is sad, as Guttenberg is recovering from cancer treatment. But it is also a funny fast-paced movie with a continually unfolding story. A good movie to see, if you don't mind a little emotional distraction from the basic funny entertainment films. $$$$

Sibling Rivalry
Starring Kirstie Alley, Scott Bakula, Jami Gertz and Ed O'Neill. Alley is the neglected wife of a doctor, Bakula. She decides that she needs to find her real self. What she finds herself in is a real mess. It makes a very funny movie, filled with fresh innovative comic scenes. Alley is full of her usual facial expressions and whining desperation. Expect to laugh out loud. $$$$

Video
Opportunity Knocks
Starring Dana Carvey. A con-artist finds the ultimate con. Along the way he falls in love, or is that too a con? An entertaining movie if you can make it past the first half hour.

Troop Beverly Hills
Starring Shelley Long. Long decides to prove to her husband that she can do more than shop. So, she heads a girl-scout-type troop. A truly nice movie.

heart was supposed to kill Chucky, yet the toy makers are able to remove the bullets and transplant a new heart like they're cardiac surgeons. A little imagination in the script would've helped enormously.

Another hindrance is Hohn LaFia's direction. The "suggestion" of Chucky in the first film made it scary; in the sequel, the ominous mood and atmosphere for creating suspense are mostly absent, except in a few creatively shot sequences.

Still, there are moments when Child's Play 2 really works, such as a terrifying confrontation between a teen-age girl and Chucky in a dark, gloomy house and the explosive climax at the toy factory. Visually, the sequel is dynamic, using sets that are colorful and expansive. The best asset of the sequel is, of course, Chucky, again executed by Yagher just as imaginatively and scary as the first time around. Whether he's simply moving his eyeballs menacingly to his next victim, or spitting out a hilarious line of dialogue, or stalking his victims with deadly accuracy, Chucky is a riot and easily has the edge over other popular horror movie villains. A genuinely wonderful character, Chucky is the driving force of the "Child's Play" series, and one can only hope he finds a better script for his creative talents for the forthcoming Child's Play 3.

SGA president talks tuition

Last Friday, November 9, 1990, New Jersey state college students protesting in Trenton against government and program cuts and curriculum cuts. The rally was organized by the New Jersey Student Rights Coalition consisting of student action groups and Student Governments from across the state of New Jersey.

This wide range in membership prompted Governor Jim Florio to request a meeting with the rally organizers. Myself and Sharon Maffette, a member of S.T.A.N.D., represented MSC. During this meeting we discussed the need for accessible and affordable education in the New Jersey State school system. The following requests were made:

1. The Department of Higher Education guidelines that sets a 30% limit on the amount of college costs has been violated by several colleges. MSC students and their families pay 25% of all college costs and an increase will further burden the average MSC student. If this guideline becomes law, this 30% limit on college costs will not be violated.

2. Tuition review board will be established to look into and approve proposed increases and that membership of this board include student representation.

3. The governor's gave his support to a students' bills that bill has been introduced into the legislature. This bill would give greater autonomy to each Student Government Association thus allowing Student Governments to establish and fund a statewide student association that would enable them to represent students' views on state issues.

Governor Florio's response:

He expressed his concern with rising tuition costs and pledged his support in providing affordable, quality education as well as more direct financial assistance to students and their families. The Governor also told us that the supported student representation on the Board of Higher Education as well as increased participation by students in governing state colleges and universities. The Governor also plans to work with the legislative leadership, particularly Assembly Speaker, Joseph Doria and Senate Majority, Dan Dalton, for the expeditious consideration of the "Student Rights Bill."

It was the unified action of New Jersey students that secured a meeting with the governor and gained the attention of the entire state towards this crisis in higher education.

As students, we all share this success of the rally in Trenton, but this was only the first step, and for us to guarantee that all those students who have given us affordable quality education, we must continue to work together to protect these rights.

If you are interested, please contact the SGA office, in Room 103, Student Center Annex or call 893-4202 or (201)384-1570. Your continued help and support is greatly appreciated.

Anthony Vito Susco
SGA President

Psychologists doubt that we, as children, will ever forget our parents. We mimic our movements, actions and even wear their clothing. All of us at one time or another have slipped into the too-big shoes of our parents and clomped around the house. Our parents think this is cute. Pictures are taken, and are brought out years later to playfully embarrass us in front of our boyfriends or girlfriends. We think this is cute. Pictures are taken, and are brought out years later to playfully embarrass us in front of our boyfriends or girlfriends.

The child, in this case, is MSC. The administration of MSC is mimicking the United States Government. We would mimic a parent. This is evident all over campus. Shoddy repairs on the Memorial Auditorium, Freeman Hall's Café, the student lies unrepairred and unfitted, as the deadline gets pushed further and further back. And to top it off, all 25,000 spent on new gates for the campus roads. Our parents would only repair the gates to help reduce car theft from the pit. But, really, 25,000 for a bunch of pipes welded together?

Students are protesting for lower tuition, and I sincerely hope that all they do is nothing. However, all our voices will not be worth a nickel if the frivolous spending of the campus administration is allowed. Repairs that are done to these student expenditures like the gates all come from a theoretically free-flowing source- the students' wallets. I am sure that all we students have better things to spend our money on than 25,000 pipes.

Cohesion's Corner:

Gamblers end Gnat's Cinderella story

Sixteen teams took part in the seven game flag football season, bidding for six coveted playoff spots. After four playoff games, only the Gamblers and the Gnats were still standing.

The Gamblers, which feature former MSC football players, had lost just once in their inaugural season. The Gnats, finishing third, were the defending champions. The Birds are a fraterity based squad, with their season title.

In the league semi-finals, the Gamblers beat ZBT-AL's six game winning streak, upending the fraterity based squad 12-0. The Gnats, finished in third place in the supposedly "inferior" Monday - Wednesday league with a 4-3 record. The Gnats had QB Brian Pray and Jeff Kowalchuk come off of injured reserve which proved to be key in the Gnats capturing a Super Bowl birth.

With a 4-3 record the Gnats had to take the NFL's equivalent of the wildcard route which included a 7-6 win over the defending champions The Birds. The Gnats defense as his Gamblers marched upfield. The second half drive culminated when Conley hit Mike Ketchum for the conversion to stop them in order to gain momentum. It was imperative for the Gnat defense to tie the game at 6-6 with seconds remaining. Pray who was reminiscent of Roger Staubach leading the Dallas Cowboys with his last minute heroics, then hit Kowalchuk for the conversion to win the game by a point and get to the Bowl.

So the scene was set. A battle of David and Goliath if you will. This year's Super Bowl would be like Villanova - Georgetown in 1985; the USA - USSR in 1980 Olympic Ice Hockey; the Jets beating the Colts in the 1969 Super Bowl. This would have been on the same scale if the Gnats could have upset the lofty Gamblers.

In the first half of the Super Bowl game, the Gamblers exploded. Ted Conley threw 3 first half touchdown passes to give the Gamblers an early 19-0 lead.

The Gnats tried to answer back on the last play of the first half when Brian Pray hooked up with Rick Schanzen on a 50 yard TD pass.

The Gamblers had the ball to start the second half and with a 19 to 7 lead it was imperative for the Gnat defense to stop them in order to gain momentum. However, Ted Conley picked apart the Gnats defense as his Gamblers marched downhill. The second half drive culminated when Conley hit Mike Ketchum on a beautiful 25 yard TD pass.

The Gnats were now down 25 to 7 and were forced to go the long air game. However, a stingy Gamblers defense would not let the Gnats score. John Fiore's two interceptions at the goal line stopped the Gnats cold on their ensuing touchdown drives.

"L.T. and Ron Clarke playing cornerbacks and Mike Strauss covering the middle gave me freedom to roam around and pick off passes," said Fiore.

The final score of the game was 25 to 7. Not a Hollywood ending for the Gnats' Cinderella story.

While the Gamblers rolled to a school title, they also had their eyes on capturing the state title. Sunday the Gamblers traveled to William Paterson for their shot at the crown. The tournament featured a double elimination format of 12 champions from public and private schools throughout the state.

The Gamblers beat WPC 18-13 and later romped Kean College 28-6 to get to the finals of the winner's bracket against Princeton. The Gamblers beat WPC 18-13 and later romped Kean College 28-6 to get to the finals of the winner's bracket against Princeton.

This brought the Gamblers to the finals of the winner's bracket against a highly organized Princeton team. Big plays for the Ivy League school and an injured Ted Conley proved to be too much for Gamblers to overcome dropping a 13-7 decision.

The Gamblers regrouped in the fourth game to romp Ramapo 25 to 6. Backup quarterback Jeff Trzcinski came in for the injured Conley and threw for 3 TD passes. A 20 yard L.T. touchdown run also contributed to Gamblers scoring.

This brought the Gamblers to the state finals against Princeton. Once again Princeton had their number and was able to beat the Gamblers for the state championship.

The Gamblers second place finish was the best ever by an MSC team since the tournament began in 1983. The second place finish also earned the Gamblers an invitation to the nationals in the Louisiana Superdome. All they need is $10,000 to be able to go.

John Fiore earned the tournament MVP with 6 TD's and 6 interceptions. Cornerbacks L.T. and Ron Clarke also had great tournaments. L.T. had 5 interceptions on the day and Ron Clarke had 4.

Women's hoops preps for season

By Richard T. Green
Staff Writer

If there was any one phrase that could best describe the 1990-1991 Women's basketball season, it would be "great expectations". After an impressive season last year, and a birth into the Sweet 16 of the NCAA tournament, great things are expected from the Lady Hawks this season.

Ranked 16th nationally in the pre-season polls, MSC has three returning starters Kim Wilson, Cathy Madalone, and Tracy Moffat. Wilson tore up the hardwood last season as she was the NJAC leading scorer. Her impressive 89-90 campaign was recognized by the ECAC and the New Jersey Coach's Association which both named Wilson "Player of the Year".

Cathy Madalone returns to the squad after leading the team in assists last season. In addition to setting up scoring opportunities for her teammates, Madalone can hurt the opposition with her long range shooting.

Tracy Moffat brings an all around game to this year's team. Moffat is a multi-faceted player who according to Coach Jeffrey can hurt you either with the jump shot or a quick move to the hoop.

Returning non-starters from the 89-90 Lady Hawks include Cindy Poling, Jeanine Mullaly and Shannon Shaffer. Cindy Poling was known for providing that needed quick spark off the bench and her tight "in your face" defensive style. Her defensive prowess is such that Coach Jeffrey feels Poling might be the best defensive player in the conference as well as a projected starter.

Last year Shannon Shaffer served as the understudy to the now graduated Carolyn Savio. With Savio's departure, Shaffer has redefined her game and worked herself into the position of getting a shot at cracking the starting five.

To round out the remainder of the team, Coach Jeffrey has a group of six fresh faces to work with. The six new additions include three transfers Tracy Bails, Maritza Martinez, and Stacy McWilliams. The other trio consists of three baby boomers Kerry Price, Judy Star, and Monica Stellato. The blend of old and new faces will look to contribute to a program that has been a dominant force in the NJAC.

Despite the two key losses of Carolyn Savio and Jackie Martinez, Coach Jeffrey is very optimistic about the season. "Despite losing Carolyn and Jackie, we still have the nucleus of a strong team. We have three returning starters and a stronger bench. We have more depth this year at certain positions and I feel very good at our chances. Last year we had the #1 defensive team in the country, and this year's team is quicker, so we definitely have reasons to be optimistic."

The Lady Hawks open the season against Heidelberg in the Frostburg Basketball Invitational in Maryland. Heidelberg is ranked #7 in the country and is the team that made the Lady Hawks exit stage right from last year's NCAA tourney earlier than they preferred.

Last season's tournament loss hasn't slipped the minds of the Lady Hawks as they eagerly await to avenge their defeat.

Men's soccer bows out of NCAA's

After a highly successful 16-3 season, the MSC men's soccer team suffered a disappointing 4-1 loss to Glassboro State College in the opening round of the NCAA tournament. The Red Hawks looking to avenge an earlier 4-2 season loss to GSC, failed to generate any offense, and subsequently had an early exit from NCAA play.

Despite falling behind early, the Red Hawks came back when Dominick Bucci scored on a penalty kick, with eight minutes left to tie the game at 1-1. However, GSC answered right back scoring with just over two minutes left and MSC headed into halftime trailing 2-1.

GSC went on to add two more goals in the second half to put the game away as the Red Hawks managed only 11 shots on goal, their lowest shot total of the season. The final score was 4-1 in favor of GSC ending any hopes the Red Hawks had of capturing the NCAA title.

MSC entered the game with several injuries to key players. Leading scorer Tom Estes played despite having a 103 fever and starting defender Dominick Bucci was injured midway through the first half, causing the Red Hawks to switch their entire defensive scheme.

Despite playing with such adversity, Coach Masur still felt the team would have had a tough time winning even if everyone had been healthy.

"We faced a very focused and determined GSC team who knew how to make right decisions at the right time. My team lacked maturity, in the sense of knowing what to do and how to maintain their poise once the score was in the other team's favor. We got down on ourselves and teammates and that hurt us in the long run. Hopefully this game will serve as a learning tool for us and we can avoid our mistakes," explained Coach Masur.

Coach Masur also went on the record as saying,"Any rumors that might have been going around about me taking a head coaching job at Brown University are totally false and inaccurate. I'm looking forward to recruitment and the next spring season."

Coach Masur was pleased with the performance of his team this year, as he should be, considering MSC finished the season at 16-4 without a senior on the entire team.

The Red Hawks established ten new records this past season including single season team marks in goals (79), assists (86) and points (244), goal keeper Mike Rodgers was unable to pitch a shutout of an injury suffered in pre-game warm ups.

With the injury to Rodgers, MSC was forced to play George Zauila, who played at 75% because he had been injured in a previous game.

X-country splashes through Mideast Regional Tourney

The MSC Men's and Women's Cross Country Team slipped, splashed and dove its way through a downpour at the NCAA Mideast Regionals, Saturday, at Allentown College, in Allentown Pa.

"We're happy no one was hurt," Coach Blanton said after his team competed in what Blanton called one of the worst weather conditions he'd ever experienced for a track and field event.

The heavy wind and rain caused the course to be extremely wet and muddy. The conditions were so bad that parts of the men's course runners were knee deep in water and in another place it was almost waist deep. "It was like a small lake," Blanton said. Some of the guys literally dove in the "simulated pool" and swam their way through, Coach said. Fortunately, everyone was all right. Well, almost everyone. Coach Blanton slipped and slid and suffered a sprained ankle getting to one of the mile markers.

Despite the horrendous weather conditions both races were completed. The officials at Allentown felt the conditions weren't that bad and were safe for running, Blanton said. In the competition, the women placed 12th, out of 24, and were led by Jennifer Welch, who finished 34th, out of 277. The men finished 24th, out of 26, and were led by Brian Major, who came in 78th out of 344.

"I think we ran well," Blanton said. "We're just glad everyone finished the race. We told them to be aggressive but be cautious since the course was so wet and muddy. Our major concern was getting through the race. I will definitely express my sentiments against running the regionals or the 1992 NCAA Championships in Allentown."

Two weeks ago, at the New Jersey Athletic Conference Championships in Holmdel, the men and women had four runners named to the All-Conference Team while running the 3.1 mile competition in 20:03, 20:07 and 21:26 respectively. These times were good enough to earn them second, third and 12th overall. Danielle DeBose also ran well, coming in 25th, with a time of 23:38. Welch, Papke, Hennessy and DeBose all ran personal bests on the Holmdel course, in other words, this isn't the first time the team has run in Holmdel, and this the best time the girls ran on their numerous occasions there), Blanton said.

The men's lone All-Conference runner in the 5.1 mile competition was Brian Major, who placed eighth with a 27:32 time. Major was followed by Weley Paster, 20th with a 28:24 mark, and Tim Fuhrer, finishing 21st at 28:27. Coach Blanton said these were also personal bests, on the Holmdel course, for Major, Peters and Fuhrer.

As the outdoor season ends, and the indoor season is about to begin, Blanton is happy with what his team accomplished.

"I am extremely proud of them," Coach B said. "They worked real hard on August to this point. We had our share of ups and downs, more ups than anything, and I would just like to thank the runners along with my coaching staff for making it an overall successful season."

The Bottom Line

by Matt Winter

Straw put up last year. Therefore letting Berry go cracked the top 5 Met front office blunder sandwiches in between the Nolan Ryan-Jim Fregosi deal and the 77 Seaver trade.

While many believe that letting Straw go wasn't the right way to go, some of his former teammates have been outspoken and believe that saying byebye Berry was beneficial to the team. The most outspoken met has been infielder Tim Teufel. While Teufel is a reserve infielder he's noted as being the most respected voice in the Met clubhouse. Teufel strongly believes that letting Darryl go was a good move claiming that he wasn't a gamer and that other teammates felt Darryl had let the team down by not playing down the stretch because of an injured back. Teufel said that it is one thing to be injured, but questioned the fact that Darryl didn't seek treatment for the injury making the team wonder if he didn't fold up the tent prematurely.

There is the issue of those who sided with Darryl. That side is anchored by most outspoken met has been outfielder Dwight "Doc" Gooden. Gooden has sustained a complete with a possible expansion team in Doc's hometown of Tampa, don't be surprised if Gooden ends up as well and inks a monster contract to pitch for a losing team in his backyard.

The Mets could have made this issue a lot longer ago and still would have had Straw in their outfield. He could have been signed after Smithers but that would have been playing Russian roulette. The time has come for the Mets to come along making a run at the first place Pirates. Darryl would have been happy not having to deal with any distraction as to what time he has left in his bat and now will be playing in L.A. in his prime. What makes the situation even worse is that the Mets let Darryl get away for unsuitable compensation.

For most other teams, an overall record of 7-3 with a conference record of 4-2 would be considered a successful season. But this is MSC, a place where the standards by which excellence is expected are set higher. This was the third year in a row that the Hawks failed to make the playoffs and anything less at MSC is hard to swallow.

Saturday's Glassboro game was played in rainy, windy conditions that seemed to be more conducive to water skiing than football. Yet the Hawks, with nothing to play for but pride, showed their true colors by squeezing out a victory in the season finale, and salvaging the season with a win for the seniors who were playing their last game at MSC.

In the early stages of the game, it didn't look good for the Hawks. MSC fumbled the opening kickoff and Glassboro recovered on MSC's 36 yard line. Two plays later, Glassboro scored on a 37 yard touchdown pass to give the Prof a 7-0 lead with 14:59 left in the quarter.

After that, MSC and Glassboro traded possessions until MSC put together a 7 play 70 yard drive. MSC used both the run and pass effectively in this drive by using tailback John Walker and a pass. Once again however, the extra yard was never to be gotten and MSC fumbled the ball right however, and MSC trailed 7-6 with 8:07 left in the first quarter.

On the next series, MSC fumbled the ball back right to Glassboro on the 1 yard line. With Franks, Jim Deshouch score on a 1 yard run making the score 22-20. MSC then recovered an onside kick and was able to run out the clock to help Glassboro 22-20.

"To some degree, 7-4 is disappointing," said Giancola. "Our goals are high to win the conference and go into the post season, we always want to go out on a win. We could have let the season die but the guys were determined to play hard. It's tough to play when there is no gold ring to get but we did it. We're very proud of them.

Giancola feels that the key game for the Hawks this season was the Kean game. "It was the one game where we questioned our play. We said we would give it our best but our defense was not up to par. We did not stop the ball enough and lost the game." What was the most important thing for the Hawks this season to make sure did not happen again? Giancola said: "I'm not sure, we never really thought about it."

"So what does MSC do to keep their winning tradition next season? Well Giancola is confident that MSC will once again come up to the high standards and excel. "We have a good foundation of players who will always play. All eras at MSC were able to sustain the excellence of the past and I hope the players to be ready to play when they are called upon.

MSC is losing some tremendous seniors this season. But the seniors will not be easy to replace, despite the talent of the underclassmen. Starting seniors gone on offensive are linemen Joe Young and Brian McNair. With both McNair and Young being back for next season. We don't have to worry about their replacement, they are ready to go.

The remainder of the half was marred by turnovers and sloppy play due to the impossible weather conditions. Glassboro could never seem to get the rest of the ball. MSC led 15-7, the end of the first half, MSC lead 15-7.

The third quarter saw no scoring by either team, but with 5:02 left in the quarter, MSC fumbled and Glassboro recovered at MSC's 22 yard line. Glassboro marched down the field on the Hawk defense and with 14:56 left in the fourth quarter Glassboro then scored on a quarterback sneak. A two point conversion failed however, and Glassboro trailed 15-13 at the start of the fourth quarter.

Glassboro again hurt themselves with a turnover when Paul Cioffi recovered a fumbled snap at Glassboro's 33 yard line. John Walker then ran 33 yards for a touchdown in the finals. Jim Young's extra point was good, MSC had a 22-13 lead with 8:07 left in the game.

MSC kicked off to Glassboro and they possessed the ball the entire way down the field. Glassboro fumbled the snap on the three yard line and Wimbush Scully recovered the ball at the 3 yard line.

On the next series, MSC fumbled the ball right back to Glassboro on the 1 yard line. With Franks, Jim Deshouch scored on a 1 yard run making the score 22-20. MSC then recovered an onside kick and was able to run out the clock to help Glassboro 22-20.

"I'm very proud of this team," said Giancola. "Our goals are high to win the conference and go into the post season, we always want to go out on a win. We could have let the season die but the guys were determined to play hard. It's tough to play when there is no gold ring to get but we did it. We're very proud of them.

The Women's Volleyball season came to an end November 2, at the New Jersey Athletic Conference Championship, at Stockton College. MSC was upended in the double elimination tournament by William Paterson, 15-12 and 15-1, and Rutgers-Newark, 15-6 to end the season.

In the first match, WPC started strong, taking a quick six point lead, but MSC chipped away only to come up short, 15-15. In the second set, it seemed WPC got together and corrected what went wrong, Coach Anita Kubicka said. WPC capitalized on MSC not being in the game mentally, as four of their first six points were serve-receive points, and MSC fell 15-1. Rutgers-Newark then defeated MSC in straight sets, 15-5 and 15-6, to end the season.

The winner of the NJAC was Keen as they dominated and beat Ramapo in the finals. "Keen dominated and you could tell they were hungry for the win," Coach K said. "They took control and had the desire and intensity needed to win the tournament. If you don't have a mental edge, you're a few steps behind. We didn't have the hunger or desire needed in tournament play."

Before the NJAC, MSC played Rutgers-Newark on October 30, and NJ Tech on the 23rd, and played well. Despite losing both games MSC looked the sharpest they had looked all season in the first match against Rutgers-Newark, Kubicka said. "We did everything in the first game was fundamentally sound and we were 150 percent in the game and it showed," Kubicka said. MSC won the first match 15-12, but lost the next three, 15-10, 15-5 and 15-5.

Against NJ Tech it was the same old story. MSC won the first 15-13, but dropped the next three 15-1, 15-2 and 15-7.
