11-15-1990

The Montclarion, November 15, 1990

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.montclair.edu/montclarion

Recommended Citation

https://digitalcommons.montclair.edu/montclarion/603
N.J. students protest in Trenton

By George Olschewski
Staff Writer

More than 300 students from New Jersey state colleges attended a rally in Trenton on Friday, Nov. 9, to protest rising tuition in all state colleges, to prevent future cuts of higher education funding and to encourage passage of the Student Rights Act, which is still pending in the New Jersey Legislature.

The bill would give more power to student governments and provide opportunities for students to take a more active role in the legislative decision-making process. It will also allow students to form a statewide student association to lobby for student concerns.

Demonstrators rallied at the State House and then to the front steps of the Department of Education, before it moved back to the State House.

Signs and banners filled the street in front of the State House with statements such as, “Hey, Florio - Freeze tuition while you’re still in office!” and “I’ll pay more for toilet paper, but not tuition!”

The students had an official statement from Governor Jim Florio on the steps of the State House. According to a news release, Governor Florio will work closely with parent, student, education and legislative leaders to minimize tuition increases and ensure the highest priority to affordable programs.

Florio also told the students he supports student representation on the State Board of Higher Education as well as increased participation in the governing of state colleges and universities.

He plans to work closely with Assembly Speaker Joe Doria and Senate Majority Leader Dan Dalton for the consideration of the Student Rights Act currently pending in the Legislature.

Mariana Lacatena, president of the Council of New Jersey State College Locals for the faculty unions, assured college students statewide that the faculty is behind them 100%.

He also said that the state’s financial burdens should not be put onto the shoulders of students.

Lacatena cited a case where tuition funds have been misused, “At Trenton State College, where some of the worst abuses have occurred, tuition doubled between fiscal years 1984-85 and 1990-91. The college has plans to sell hundreds of millions of dollars worth of construction bonds, to be repaid from further tuition increases. Funds generated by past tuition increases were spent to provide free housing for administrators. An academic scholarship program was implemented which increased middle-income student’s tuition to pay for other, sometimes more affluent, students.”

“Such a warped policy is an affront to every student who must work, and both of whose parents must also work, to pay that tuition. Tuition increases must be kept in reasonable bounds - not inflated to pay for grandiose building schemes and administrator’s free housing,” Lacatena said.

Douglas College Government Association representative Wendy-Ann Vodak added to Lacatena’s comments. “Find out how your college is using your money. Find out the power structure between you and the administration. That knowledge is a source of power,” Vodak said.

Darren Fedder of the William Paterson College SGA made reference to state budget cuts for higher education. “Because of these cuts, we had to cut enrollment - we just can’t afford to take in new students!”

“ar are $26.6 billion in unpaid state loans - get the people who took out the loans to pay them back - not us!” said Joe Sevillo of Essex County Community College.

Norberto Canzo from Rutgers New Jersey state colleges attended a rally in Trenton to protest the current state of education.

$72,000 settlement against FSCA

By Sean McNally
Correspondent

Gertrude Silberman, former chief accountant and finance director of the Faculty Student Cooperative Association (FSCA), reached a $72,000 settlement with the FSCA for her charges of age discrimination. The settlement was reached on the first day of her trial, Oct. 15, in federal court, said Silberman’s attorney, Paul Schachter, of Reinhardt & Schachter in Newark.

This was the third accusation of discrimination against Jeffrey Shapiro, former president of the FSCA, by two other FSCA employees. Joyce Hazocorzian and Elizabeth Lytel filed complaints against Shapiro, but Walters’ investigation cleared him, said the FSCA’s attorney, Robert Fagella of Zazzali, Zazzali, Fagella and Nowak of Newark.

Shapiro suspended Silberman for two days for removing the letter from Miozzi’s desk. Upon returning to work she was suspended for an additional two days, said Silberman. Immediately following the protest, the students continued their walk up the street in front of the State House with statements such as, “Hey, Florio - Freeze tuition while you’re still in office!” and “I’ll pay more for toilet paper, but not tuition!”
WHEN: Fri., Nov. 30 - Sun., Dec 2
WHERE: Johnsonburg
COST: Including transportation lodging and food

NOW ONLY $41!

Sign up:
Wed. 11/14 11am - 2pm
Thurs. 11/15 11am - 2pm
Mon. 11/19 11am - 3pm
Tue. 11/20 11am - 2pm
Wed. 11/21 10am - 3pm
IN STUDENT CENTER OUTSIDE OF CAFETERIA

For more info. or questions Call 893-7348 or come see us in Rm. 403 S. Center
MSC College Bowl
to be held on Dec. 1

By Sandra Spillman
Correspondent

An exhibition for MSC's first College Bowl was held last Thursday at 12:30 p.m. in the Student Center Commuter Cafeteria and was sponsored by Student Activities and Tau Kappa Epsilon (TKE) Fraternity.

The College Bowl will be held on Saturday, Dec. 1, in the Student Center Ballroom. The exhibition, which was between Alpha Iota Chi (AIX) Sorority and TKE, was meant to bring the actual College Bowl to the campus' attention.

"I think it's great that we can demonstrate our knowledge in such a fun way," said Stacey Leibowitz, a junior and member of AIX's College Bowl team. AIX beat TKE at the exhibition with a score of 60 to 50.

The College Bowl will consist of at least 16 teams of four players and an alternate each. Throughout the game, teams will be asked to answer both academic and trivial questions and will be awarded points for correct answers. When a team wins a match, it will go on to compete against other teams which has not yet been eliminated by a loss. The last two teams will play in the final match of the College Bowl tournament.

The winning team will receive $100 and the runner-up will receive $50. The four best participants, not necessarily from the same team, will then be chosen to represent MSC.

"Hopefully we'll be able to compete against other colleges," said Charles Feiner, director of Student Activities. Feiner thought of bringing the College Bowl to MSC after his success with it at Ramapo College.

"I posed the idea to TKE, and they're running it," Feiner said.

Feiner and Student Affairs will be advising TKE, donating the awards for the 1st and 2nd place winners and $15 to the first 16 teams who signed-up for the tournament. TKE organized the sign-ups and will be organizing the tournament.

"We want it to be an entire campus event," Dan Forte, a member of TKE Fraternity said. "We're hoping to get a lot of support from the faculty and administration too."

The teams, which are made of fraternities, sororities, organizations and clubs have already been assigned. However, all are invited to participate as judges, moderators and supporters for the tournament.

USSR and MSC agree on educational exchange

By Chris Rohloff
Staff Writer

The first agreement establishing an educational collaboration between U.S. and USSR educators and philosophers was signed by MSC on October 23.

The agreement is between MSC's Institute for the Advancement of Philosophy for Children (IAPC), a program that trains educators to teach children logic and critical thinking skills, and the Academy of Pedagogical Sciences (APS), an educational research organization in the Soviet Union.

"This agreement is a busy way of interchanging key academic people from different nations," said Dr. Matthew Lipman founder and director of the IAPC.

Lipman, along with APS Vice President V.V. Davydov, signed the agreement. The points include:

- Conducting a Soviet/American seminar on developing children's thinking skills
- Application of the Philosophy of Children curriculum at Moscow's Experimental School #91
- A program for training Soviet educators via MSC's IAPC.

"The exchange of educators is the beginning of transferring other educational processes as well as educational programs," said U.S. Department of Education Official Dr. Lee E. Wickline who characterized the agreement as "groundbreaking."

Wickline advised Lipman to visit the APS and demonstrate his program after APS Deputy Director Nikolai Nikandrov asked him to send directors of U.S. programs which focused on the development of critical thinking skills.

By Chris Rohloff
Staff Writer

The Soviet's positive response to the demonstration helped move the agreement along more quickly, said Lipman who established the Philosophy for Children program at MSC in 1974 with co-director Ann Margaret Sharp.

"The purpose of the program has always been to explore ethical questions such as what is fairness and what makes for a good society. In a way that is conducive to strengthening reasoning skills in grades K-12," said Sharp.

Today the program exists in 5,000 U.S. schools and 5,000 schools overseas (other than the USSR).

Lipman said that different languages and local examples for illustrative purposes were used in the various countries but the basic curriculum used is the same.

"The Philosophy for Children curriculum is an education in thinking and presents universal ideas," said Lipman.

Dr. Irvin Reid, president of MSC, considers the agreement a "natural marriage and collaboration between the two nations," and would eventually like to see the program include the exchange of not only educators but graduate and undergraduate students as well.

"In many ways, this agreement is an exchange of students," said Mariso Pallino, an MSC senior member of the International Student Organization, "because educators will be able to share not only a new program with students, but new cultural experiences as well."

The first exchange of this IAPC/APS agreement will be held January 6-23 in New Jersey. Lipman, Sharp and two other IAPC educators will then travel to Moscow in April to complete the second phase of the exchange. An annual exchange is expected to continue.

Work remains unfinished on Freeman Cafeteria

By Mark Hendricks
Correspondent

Freeman Hall Cafeteria opened on Nov. 5 with ceiling tiles and lighting fixtures still being worked on and without new tables, chairs and beverage and condiment stations.

"It was an insult to eat there," said Christine McNamara, a resident of Freeman Hall.

"There were only tables set up on half of the room and there weren't that many available," she added.

Donna Pericone, head of Freeman Campus Housing Entertainment Educational Recreation Society (CHEERS), said that the construction is still progressing very slowly.

"Sometimes there are ceiling tiles above you, sometimes there aren't. The lighting was terrible on Nov. 5," Pericone said. "The lights were shattered and they were still painting the walls. We ate in the dark."

"One of the major differences between the way the cafeteria was and the way it is now is that side dishes, vegetables and entrees used to be served by a staff and were continuously replaced. Now it's self-service, which I think was to cut down on cafeteria workers. If something runs out, now you have to yell for more," said Pericone.

In addition to these inconveniences, Pericone said that some of the wallpaper had been hung improperly and was currently being repaired. She also said that there was a limited selection of beverages at the cafeteria.

Corrections

Nov. 1 issue:

p.1 - Students can apply for a Co-op with only 30 credits, as long as they will have completed 45 credits at the time of Co-op placement.
Here's Why
The Smart Money at Montclair State College is Going with TIAA-CREF as if the Future Depended on It.

Because it does. Smart investors know that your future depends on how well your retirement system performs. TIAA-CREF has been the premier retirement system for people in education and research for over 70 years. We have enabled over 200,000 people like you to enjoy a comfortable retirement. And over 1,000,000 more are now planning for the future with TIAA-CREF.

SMART MONEY LOOKS FOR SECURITY, GROWTH AND DIVERSITY FOR RETIREMENT SAVINGS.

Security—so the resources are there when it is time to retire. Growth—so you'll have enough income for the kind of retirement you want. And diversity—to help protect you against market volatility and to let you benefit from several types of investments.

THAT'S EXACTLY WHAT YOU GET WITH TIAA-CREF.

TIAA offers you the safety of a traditional annuity that guarantees your principal plus a specified rate of interest, and provides for additional growth through dividends. CREF's variable annuity offers opportunities for growth through four different investment accounts, each managed with the long-term perspective essential to sound retirement planning:

- The CREF Stock Account
- The CREF Money Market Account
- The CREF Bond Market Account
- The CREF Social Choice Account

CALL 1-800-842-2776 TO FIND OUT MORE.

Our experienced retirement counselors will be happy to answer your questions and tell you more about retirement annuities from TIAA-CREF.

Your future is protected by the largest private retirement system in the world. We have done so well, for so many, for so long, that we currently manage some $85 billion in assets.

Ensuring the future for those who shape it.

For more complete information, including charges and expenses, call 1 800 842-2776, ext 5509 for a prospectus. Read the prospectus carefully before you invest or send money.

MSC News Hotline

893-5169

Fourth Annual Thanksgiving Convocation: An Interfaith of Word, Prayer and Song

Hosted by the Campus Ministry
Tuesday, November 20, 1990
12:10 p.m. ----Ballroom A - Student Center

Light reception to follow

"Let us give thanks to Lord, for He is good. The earth has yielded its fruits, God, our God, has blessed us!"

The Campus Ministry Council is the coordinating body for the Student religious groups on campus, chartered as a Class IV Organization of S.G.A. in liaison with the Office of Student Affairs.
OPENINGS ARE NOW AVAILABLE FOR EXPERIENCED:

* Wait Staff
* Host/Hostess

Excellent work environment

APPLY IN PERSON
455 Harmon Meadows Blvd.
Secaucus, NJ
201-865-8833

Red Robin is an equal opportunity employer
Lawsuit cont. from p.1

following that, Silberman was fired.
Once she had been fired, the FSCA cancelled her health care. She requested that she be allowed to continue paying for that insurance policy. The ability for an employee to continue insurance payments for 18 to 24 months following dismissal is covered under the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act, or COBRA law.
The FSCA refused to reinstate her insurance claiming that she was covered under Medicare, said Silberman. However, Silberman contends that since Medicare is contingent on carrying another insurance policy she should be entitled to continue her other policy.
After three and a half years of pursuing the case, Silberman was advised by her attorney to take the settlement of $72,000 because it could have been an additional three years before she saw a judgment.
"At my age, I had to consider whether I could afford to wait years before seeing the fruits of my lawsuit," Silberman said.
"At my age, I had to consider whether I could afford to wait years before seeing the fruits of my lawsuit," Silberman said.
Shapiro left the FSCA six months after Silberman's dismissal.
Both Doug Blackburn, the FSCA's current president and Walters of the Affirmative Action office declined to comment.
Silberman filed a request, on both February 3 and February 9, 1987, with the college and FSCA for a formal hearing. She received no response to her requests.
Then on February 24, 1987 Silberman filed charges with the New Jersey Division on Civil Rights and the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, said Schachter.
Silberman contends that her dismissal on May 15, 1987, was also brought about by her accusations of improper procedures regarding the safeguarding of FSCA funds and college funds of which the FSCA is custodian. Silberman's ability to point out employerwrong doing is protected by the Conscientious Employee Protection Act, or "whistleblower's" statute, said Schachter.
In April of 1987, Silberman, while reviewing the work of her subordinate, Linda Miozzi, found a letter from Shapiro to Prudential Bache that changed the FSCA's investment policy to a higher risk policy. "I have doubled the risk to my own corporation in order to try and generate the potential of a significant portfolio account. I am willing to place at risk both the investment of FSCA funds and..., if necessary, the college funds," wrote Shapiro, April 7, 1987.
Shapiro should have been responsible for obtaining written permission from the college board and the FSCA board before making a change in investment policy, said Silberman. Silberman's complaint, however, was that she would have been responsible for setting up a reserve fund for the investments, but hadn't been notified of the policy change.
figures of my lawsuit," Silberman said.
Shapiro left the FSCA six months after Silberman's dismissal.

SGA News

Arab Club appeals appropriation denial

By Richard E. Buckley Jr. and Norman Kurdy

The Arab Club made an appeal to the SGA for $170 which they were denied last week for a lecture. Several legislators felt they were misled about the content of the lecture after reviewing fliers that were passed out promoting the lecture.
The Arab Club suggested that the lecture would be about the Middle East crisis and how it affected Kuwait and Iraq. However, the fliers stated: "Palestinian Rights in Light of The Gulf Crisis."
The bill passed and was then denied after legislators saw the fliers. See SGA News of November 7 p.10.
The Spanish Club was granted $350 from the Mass Transit Authority (MTA) account for a trip to New York. This is the second trip to New York City within two weeks being funded by the MTA account.
Supporters of Child Care was granted a class III charter. The group was created to find affordable means of child care for students.
Starting next semester the minutes to the previous week's meeting will be available to the public on Mondays. Currently the minutes are not available until Wednesday afternoon and legislators feel they do not have enough time to prepare for the meetings the same day.
Phi Sigma Pi was granted a constitution change which will permit them to fine members who repeatedly miss meetings.
The Montclarion was appropriated $800 for their magazine section and the position of production editor was created.

The C.G.I. & It's Staff

Salute

M.S.C.

Every Thursday with "College Night"

$1.50 Domestic Beer
$1.00 Jello Shots
Proper I.D. & Attire Required

30 Pompton Avenue
Cedar Grove, N.J.
239-8912

(Void if copied)
Dozens of groups at MSC Health Fair

By Audrey Regan
Staff Writer

The Fall '90 Health Fair, sponsored by the Health Professions Department, brought a host of services to MSC last Thursday ranging from cholesterol readings and fitness assessments to career counseling and health related awareness programs.

Dozens of both on and off campus organizations set up tables in the Student Center Ballrooms while three mobile units—Mammography Testing, the Eye/Ear Mobile and the PSE&G Energy Conservation Van—offered reduced rate testing and educational awareness information to interested MSC students and faculty.

"This is the sixteenth year we’ve been doing this," said Dr. John Redd, coordinator of the Health Fair and head of the Health Professions Department.

"We thought attendance was good. There were a couple of thousand people who came during the day," said Redd.

"I think on a campus as big as Montclair, we could have had more students and faculty come out, but for the people that came, it was really worthwhile," said Mary Jane Linnehan, president of the Health Professions Association, who worked with Jeff Casswell, the chairperson, in coordinating the Health Fair.

Dr. Richard Tobin of the Spiedes Human Performance Lab in Panzer Gym offered physicians conducted fitness assessments. The assessment, a 25-minute procedure, tested blood pressure, heart rate, body fat composition, flexibility, and cardiovascular strength.

"We’re working to determine fitness levels in healthy individuals, not sick individuals," Tobin said. "We’re on the verge of a campus-wide testing program for faculty, students and the public," and the program could possibly run in the spring, Tobin said.

Several on-campus health fair could also have a $12 cholesterol test, a $5 cholesterol reading, a free Shiatsu massage from the Well Being Center of Montclair or they could take advantage of the many pamphlets and booklets from organizations like Planned Parenthood, Transports Safety Now, Red Cross, Montclair YMCA, Omnitrition International and the New Jersey Chiropractic Association.

Several on-campus organizations set up tables at the health fair. The Conservation Club displayed harmful household environmental products and Career Services offered information on health-related professions. Other on-campus organizations were the First Aid, Theraputic Recreation Center, provided information on their services.

In the Student Center Mall, students and faculty could visit the Eye/Ear Mobile or the PSE&G Energy Conservation Show. For $65 female students could have a 15 minute mammography exam which was half of what it would cost at a hospital, said Ed Heimbold of the Marleton-based unit.

"We had 17 students tested today. That’s a lot for a college, especially when these students fall below the critical age group," Heimbold said.

Elsewhere

An article from The Vector at The New Jersey Institute of Technology

Student Rights Bill pursued by NJSRC

By Jaime Reinoso
Writer for The Vector

This summer the "New Jersey Student Rights Coalition" was formed. This coalition, representing about 12 schools of higher education in New Jersey, was formed with the purpose of sponsoring the "Student Rights Bill." This is a bill that will give the students in the state the basis for better representation. It consists of three basic points:

First, it will give the elected student leaders control of the student government fees. This statement will not affect our undergraduate student government. The student state has already had control of its fees, and a checks-and-balances system with the administration. Therefore, this bill will just create a "buffer" for the student government, if in the future there are any discrepancies with the administration.

Second, it will establish students’ rights to be found, funded and direct independent student organizations. This point will allow the Student Senate to bring a not-for-profit organization onto campus and to support it independently. It must be understood that before any association of this type is accepted, there must be a student referendum which 1/4 of the student body must sign. After this procedure is done, then the new amendment must be brought up to a general student election. This organization will be supported in a separate "waivable" student fee, much like the fee on our income tax form concerning the presidential election fund to which the taxpayer may choose to give a dollar or not.

Finally, the most important point provides for a New Jersey State Student Association. This group will bring together all the schools in the state. So far the 2 institutions in the NJSRC will be the founders of this organization. The main goal of the group is to be able one day to represent all the students in the state. This association’s purpose will be to defend the students’ rights. It will concern all issues: tuition increases, financial aid cuts, student representation, and others.

Campus Police Report

Rash of Toyota thefts on campus

By William C. Hendrixson
Staff Writer

■Stolen Cars:
-Nov 2 between 10 p.m. and 4 a.m. a 1984 Oldsmobile Cutlass was stolen from lot 13. The car was recovered intact the next day by the 40th precinct in the Bronx.
-Nov 12 between 7:45 a.m. and 1 p.m. a 1985 Toyota Corolla was stolen from lot 28.
-Nov 12 between 9:40 a.m. and 2 p.m. another 1985 Toyota Corolla was also stolen from lot 28.
-Nov 12 between 7:45 a.m. and 1 p.m. a 1988 Toyota Celica was stolen from lot 26.

■Break-ins/Vandalism:
-Between 11:30 p.m. on Nov. 1 and 6 a.m. on Nov. 2, a 1988 Ford Escort in the nurses parking area near Blanton Hall was its door and quarter panel kicked in.
-Between 9 p.m. on Nov. 5 and 11:30 a.m. on Nov. 6, a 1986 Pontiac was broken into and the radio was stolen.
-Nov 11 at 11:45 a.m. a 1986 Corvette parked in lot 21 was vandalized by 7 to 8 males. They smashed a window and attempted to steal the car, but a witness called Campus Police and scared them away before they could start the car.
-There were a couple of thousand people ranging from cholesterol readings and fitness assessments to career counseling and health related awareness programs.
-We thought attendance was good. There were a couple of thousand people who came during the day," said Redd.

"I think on a campus as big as Montclair, we could have had more students and faculty come out, but for the people that came, it was really worthwhile," said Mary Jane Linnehan, president of the Health Professions Association, who worked with Jeff Casswell, the chairperson, in coordinating the Health Fair.

Dr. Richard Tobin of the Spiedes Human Performance Lab in Panzer Gym offered physicians conducted fitness assessments. The assessment, a 25-minute procedure, tested blood pressure, heart rate, body fat composition, flexibility, and cardiovascular strength.

"We had 17 students tested today. That’s a lot for a college, especially when these students fall below the critical age group," Heimbold said.

Elsewhere

An article from The Vector at The New Jersey Institute of Technology

Student Rights Bill pursued by NJSRC

By Jaime Reinoso
Writer for The Vector

This summer the "New Jersey Student Rights Coalition" was formed. This coalition, representing about 12 schools of higher education in New Jersey, was formed with the purpose of sponsoring the "Student Rights Bill." This is a bill that will give the students in the state the basis for better representation. It consists of three basic points:

First, it will give the elected student leaders control of the student government fees. This statement will not affect our undergraduate student government. The student state has already had control of its fees, and a checks-and-balances system with the administration. Therefore, this bill will just create a "buffer" for the student government, if in the future there are any discrepancies with the administration.

Second, it will establish students’ rights to be found, funded and direct independent student organizations. This point will allow the Student Senate to bring a not-for-profit organization onto campus and to support it independently. It must be understood that before any association of this type is accepted, there must be a student referendum which 1/4 of the student body must sign. After this procedure is done, then this new amendment must be brought up to a general student election. This organization will be supported in a separate "waivable" student fee, much like the fee on our income tax form concerning the presidential election fund to which the taxpayer may choose to give a dollar or not.

Finally, the most important point provides for a New Jersey State Student Association. This group will bring together all the schools in the state. So far the 2 institutions in the NJSRC will be the founders of this organization. The main goal of the group is to be able one day to represent all the students in the state. This association’s purpose will be to defend the students’ rights. It will tackle all issues: tuition increases, financial aid cuts, student representation, and others.

Lack of maintenance on campus housing

By David Orr
Correspondent

Maintenance workers have repaired the plumbing at Clove Road but some problems still exist, said Shelly Jackson, director of Clove Road.

Four maintenance positions, one of which is at Clove Road, cannot be filled due to lack of funding, said Doug Cooper, assistant director of residence life in charge of maintenance and housekeeping.

Problems at Clove Road still include unainted rooms, broken air-conditioners and sinks and toilets which do not work, said Jackson.

Maintenance crew is supposed to have 15 members. There have not been 15 maintenance workers since 1988.

During the summer there was a crew assigned to do the work over a six week period but the college froze funds and the workers fell behind schedule, Cooper said.

Under the present 1991 budget, which is pending approval, there is no money to hire more maintenance workers. Webster and Stone Halls would remain with maintenance workers, said Cooper.

Originally, he said, Clove Road asked for $383,500 for the fiscal year; 95% of that was approved, and then cut in half due to problems with the budget.

MSC News Hotline
893-5169
Do you know what happens when you don't advertise...

nothing

Call The Montclarion business office at 893-5237

Ask Mr. BUYBACK

• Look for Mr. BUYBACK in the November 29th and December 6th issues of the Montclarion for answers to the most commonly asked questions on textbook buyback.

• Mr. BUYBACK will also be announcing the BUYBACK BONUS BUCK PLAN in the above issues.

BUYBACK Locations, Dates and Times

The College Bookstore:
Monday through Thursday, December 10-20 – 8:30am to 7:30pm
Friday, December 21 – 8:30am to 4:00pm
Saturday, December 22 – 9:00am to 1:00pm

Blanton Hall Atrium:
Tuesday through Thursday, December 18-20 – 10am to 7pm

NOTE: A current Photo ID is required for textbook buyback
No Montclarion Next Week!

Have a very nice Thanksgiving or don't have one at all

The Montclarion is a class I of the SGA

The Alpha Iota Chapter of Phi Sigma Pi Welcomes its New Members!

Congratulations, You did it!
Jason Ortiz
Eric Basilo
Krista Huchison
Janel Cohen
Diane Finkel
Kathy Durber
Jennifer Dubroski
Timothy Coyle
Dina Sgambatti
Michele Keller

Phi Sigma Pi is a Class IV Organization of SGA
SGA News

Students Rights Bill supported by SGA

By George Oleschewski
Staff Writer

November 7, 1990

The SGA passed a resolution supporting the Student Rights Bill. This bill, introduced in the New Jersey State Senate on July 1, will give more rights and powers to student government associations statewide. (See the NJ state college protest article on p. 1.)

The Arab Club, a Class II organization, went up for an appropriation of $170 to help fund a lecture on Nov. 13. The lecture was to focus on the Gulf Crisis.

Originally, the bill passed through the legislature without incident, but when a flyer documenting what was to be covered in the lecture was distributed, the bill was brought back onto the floor for reconsideration and another vote.

"The Arab Club representative was withholding information," said legislator David Goldberg.

The flyer read as follows:

ISRAEL COMMITS ANOTHER MASSACRE

30 Palestinians killed
Hundreds of Palestinians injured

Bloodiest day in Jerusalem in years

World strongly condemns ISRAEL

Embargo against IRAQ continues

Palestinian Rights in Light of The Gulf Crisis!

The legislature felt that while the flyer made reference to the Gulf Crisis (the United States military presence in Saudi Arabia and the Kuwait-Saddam Hussein conflict), it had four other points that were not touched upon by the representative.

"The representative said the lecture was to deal with the Persian Gulf situation. Out of five points on this flyer, only one makes any reference to the Persian Gulf," said legislator Robert Tranter.

Legislator Angel Mossucco did not think there was any misrepresentation in the flyer. "If there is a conflict, then the speaker can be questioned. An open forum like this is a very good way to discuss issues and educate the campus."

"The representative gave information that was false," Goldberg said. "He misled us, and he may attempt to mislead others." Other legislators agreed, citing lying by withholding information.

Others present at the meeting commented that although his views may not be the same as the legislature's, the lecturer should still be permitted to speak. This was countered by legislator James Cotter, who said, "If the Ku Klux Klan wanted to come and speak on campus, they can, but how would the SGA look if we appropriated money to fund the speaker? It would appear that we, as representatives of the student body, were supporting them."

"I'm pretty confident that he knew what our interpretation of 'Gulf Crisis' was, and he used that to mislead us," said legislator and MSC Board of Trustees member Paul Prior.

After a motion to end debate, the bill was voted on and failed.

Dr. Richard Lynde of the Division of Academic Affairs of MSC addressed the legislature. Dr. Lynde clarified many of the duties and influences of the Division of Academic Affairs, including the hiring and retention of faculty and personnel, long-term planning for the college as a whole, Co-operative Education, the library and media center, and EOF funding.

A videotape of the Homecoming Parade was shown to the legislators. Any of the participating organizations or interested students wishing a copy can see the secretary in the Dumont Television Center in Life Hall for details.

The Human Relations Organization (HRO), a Class I organization, came up for an appropriation from the Montclair Transportation Authority (MTA) for "The Weekend," a series of workshops which will take place on Nov. 30 through Dec. 3. The MTA fund is granted by the state to MSC specifically for the purpose of an educational, recreational, or social trip.

The bill originally failed when it came to a vote. Some legislators felt that the reasons for the trip were not clear, but later in the meeting the bill was reconsidered and passed.

The Marketing Club was appropriated $387 to attend a conference in Charleston, Virginia. The American Marketing Association will be holding workshops which will be open to all students, not just marketing students. For more information, contact the Marketing Club through the SGA office.
The Montclairion/Thursday, November 15, 1990

WAITRESS / WAITER
Private Country Club looking for experienced people to work full time - weekends/flexible hours.

Call Stephen Wolsky, Tuesday - Friday
575-8200

CLUB Presents:

RADIO CITY CHRISTMAS SHOW
December 12, 1990
Tickets are
$18 Students with ID
$20 Non-Students
On sale November 20 & 21
Buses leave at 6:30
Show starts at 8:00

club is a class one of the sga

FREE PEPSI
Monday Night Pizza & Football Special
Get 1 liter of Pepsi free with purchase of a pizza with one or more toppings.
893-5100
RATHSKELLER
Valid only for delivery - present coupon for free Pepsi.

FREE DELIVERY - Monday - Thursday 4-9 pm
Residence Halls & Chen Hall Apartments ONLY

ONE FREE TOPPING
(Value $1.50)
with delivery of whole pizza
Pepperoni - Sausage - Mushroom
Onions - Peppers - Black Olives
893-5100
RATHSKELLER
Valid only for delivery - present coupon for topping.

FREE DELIVERY - Monday - Thursday 4-9 pm
Residence Halls & Chen Hall Apartments ONLY

Impress your friends...

Join the Montclarion

The Montclarion is a Class One organization of the SGA

FREE DELIVERY - Monday - Thursday 4-9 pm
Residence Halls & Chen Hall Apartments ONLY
Congratulations to Class One Concerts

on a Sold Out Show with the Allman Brothers
We ROCKED the house!!

Thank you for all your hard work
& dedication - you know who you are!

Love,

Producer - Angel DiGregorio
Vice Producer - Irene Vitale
Secretary - Karen Levy
Treasurer - Suzanne Alfano
Publicity - Michelle Cyr

Hospitality - Michele LaFon
Box Office - Brian Platkowsky
Security - Paula Slavin
Stage - Helena Doyle & Joe Seroka
Art - Tony Concepcion

C1C is a Class One of the S.G.A.
Latin Month 1990: Flying in a “Latin Dream”

By Valerie Kalfrin
Outlook Editor

Once upon a time in Washington, D.C., Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. said he had a dream. This month Rita Benavides is saying the same thing.

Benavides, 21, is a member of the Latin American Student Organization (LASO) and the coordinator of Latin Month. This year, the theme is “The Latin Dream,” a theme reflected in the lectures, films, and other activities that LASO is sponsoring throughout November.

“I had many themes in mind,” said Benavides, a junior business finance major, “but I chose this one because my whole family is achieving the dream they had when they came to this country (from Ecuador).”

Benavides said that she has also noticed this attitude on campus through Latin American students trying to achieve educational goals.

“Hispanics are in this country because they are looking for better futures that they can’t get in their own country because of their social or political situations,” she said. “This country opens the door. It offers opportunities.”

Speakers such as Luis Quintana and MSC professors Carmen Arderio and Joan Engelbert have offered insight into these opportunities, she said, as well as the Hispanic culture.

Last Thursday, for example, Ramapo political science professor John Frandt, Nicaraguan Solidarity Network members Jane Guskin and Dennis Perin from WBAI in New York City, and Guatemalan Miguel Garcia, who spoke through a translator, talked about the socio-political situation in Central America.

“The turnout was excellent,” said LASO president Ramona Guzman. “They told us how badly Central America is covered in the news. It’s (political killings) covered very vaguely.”

“We got first-hand information,” added LASO vice-president Sandra Garcia.

Two former LASO presidents, Tomase Jimenez and Miguel Melendez, also gave “first-hand information” about other experiences at the Latin Month alumni dinner last Sunday.

“Tomase graduated here in 1985,” Garcia said. “She was married and pregnant the year she was president of LASO.” Jimenez went on to graduate from Columbia University, and is currently a lawyer for juvenile rights in Union City.

“She talked about how people tried to discourage her. She said that all her life she’ve been told that she would never make it in college, so she was a secretary for two years before she ever came to MSC,” said Latin Month committee member Nancy Garcia.

She added that Melendez offered a similar message. “He said that once you’re out there, there’s nothing like LASO there. Hispanics should be there for others, basically,” she said.

So far, Benavides has noticed a good response toward the Latin Month activities from both the faculty and the student body. The political science department and the Spanish/Italian department, she said, have been especially supportive, as well as LASO’s 100 members.

Benavides added that MSC has about 1,000 Hispanic students, but others have been interested in the activities as well. “It’s making me very happy,” she said, “because I see that they want to learn about our culture.”

In the remainder of Latin Month, events such as a dance, a Spanish food display, and a talent show will be held, as well as the “Latin Dream Concert” on November 30, featuring Latin jazz ensemble Grupo Causucnan and Casa Latinoamericana.

However, Benavides adds that the “dream” will not end at the end of November.

“The Latin Dream is going to keep on for the rest of our lives as Hispanics,” she said, “even if we sometimes face obstacles such as prejudice or language barriers, like some of our members. I know they are working to improve that.”

And working to keep the “dream” alive. “We’re going to strive and achieve what we want,” she said.

All Around the Campus — Students Speak

How Do You Feel About Another Tuition Increase?

I am a foreign student (India). Getting money transferred from home means losing lots already, and I am not allowed to work off campus. Another increase would affect us, the foreign students, even more severely than it is affecting other students. Impeach Florio!

Krishna Aikat
Junior/Marketing

If the next tuition hike is above ten percent, I can no longer attend school. I think they should audit government agencies before they bleed more money from me.

James Kuba
Senior/Anthropology & Philosophy

I feel they have not justified enough reasons to increase tuition again. It’s hard enough to pay the tuition as it is, and another increase would discourage people seeking higher education.

Gina Nitti
Senior/Psychology

I am definitely against it. It’s hard enough as it is to get financial aid. I’m working two jobs already and don’t know how I could afford another increase. With another raise it would be impossible for some of us to afford an education which we are entitled to.

Maria F. Gonzalez
Sophomore/Biology

Compiled by John Tibbetts
Vietnam Revisited: An MSC professor remembers

MSC marketing professor Paul Scipione stands in front of a Vietnamese burial plot near the perimeter at Phu Bai, 1969. He is holding an aiming stake for an 81-mm mortar, and was 23 years old when this was taken by another soldier.

Editor's note: On Veterans' Day 1988, the Montclarion printed a letter to the editor from Dr. Paul A. Scipione, a marketing professor at MSC and a Vietnam veteran.

This week, he resubmitted the letter. "In view of the Middle East crisis, I thought you might find it appropriate to run it again," he said. Scipione and Dr. Robert Stephens of the music department are the only two Vietnam vets on the MSC faculty.

I remember. How could I ever forget?

A small country half a world away. A war that fewer and fewer Americans supported as it dragged on for eight and a half years.

I remember...1968. So many things happened so fast. Linda and I graduated from college and got married six days later. We paid for our own wedding and we were broke, but who cared? We had each other and we both had teaching contracts for the fall.

That's when the Vietnam War got personal for me. I wanted to teach, but I knew that the draft would get me soon if I didn't take action. I drove to Rochester and took the test for Navy OCS. By late Summer '68 I was third on the waiting list for OCS at Newport, but the Draft Board in Lockport, NY needed warm bodies and wasn't about to wait. I found myself in Army Basic Training at Fort Dix. Marching, crawling and stabbing at old tins with a bayonet, screaming, "Kill, kill, kill!"

The Army sent me to Ft. Gordon for Airborne Infantry AIT, then onto Ft. Benning where they paid an extra $55 a month if you'd jump out of a C-119 five times. A couple of drill sergeants thought I was officer material, and a few weeks later I was in the 92nd Company of Infantry OCS at Benning, learning how to lead 18-year-olds against NVA regulars. It was a responsibility I didn't feel comfortable with.

When a desk job running the Peer Evaluation Ratings program came up, I quit OCS and rented a trailer. Linda and I were together again in Columbus, GA for about a month. It was 1969; nearly 40,000 Americans had died in 'Nam. By then the Pentagon needed more warm bodies, especially guys like me, an infantry sergeant with an MOS of 11-Charlie — mortars. They allowed us only three weeks to move back to New York to find Linda a new home and a job. We listened to Peter, Paul and Mary sing "Leavin' On A Jet Plane," and wouldn't let go of each other. It didn't seem right to have to think about death at 23.

I was ordered back to Ft. Dix. Several hundred other Nam-bound GIs and 1 were put in old wooden barracks and wore fatigue. We sat on the steps of the barracks, listened to news about Woodstock and felt like condemned men. In the middle of a hot night, they packed us into "cattle cars" and drove us over to McGuire Air Force Base to a chartered DC-8 for a 22-hour flight to 'Nam.

I remember...landing at Bien Hoa. The heat and the smell were overpowering. A computer somewhere assigned me to the 101st Airborne Division. They sewed Screaming Eagles onto my fatigue and they were never empty. All day and night, we heard the wail of the siren. Then I was only days from the bush and night, we'd hear the wail of the siren.

I remember the fear on that plane — dying at 40,000 feet in the cold, sterile world of a jet, where screams mixed with surges from the engines. Dying alone, without friends or family, at some unknown cross-hatch on the aeronautical charts.

I remember...spending two months in Ward 884 of the 249th Army Hospital at Camp Drake, Asaka, Japan. Business was brisk at the 249th, a direct barometer of how many soldiers were being wounded in 'Nam. There were 600 beds and they were never empty. All day and night, we'd hear the wail of the sirens.

Philanthropic

GQota Gamma Xi's canned food drive for St. Rocco's home; boxes are at the main desks in dorms.

Lambda Sigma Upsilon provides a speaker on Hispanic affairs for Latin Month.

Delta Phi Epsilon and Alpha Chi Rho's food drive through 11/30.

Zeta Beta Tau's Turkey Donation Day.

Lambda Sigma Upsilon and Lambda Sigma Phi's clothes and toy drive.

United Greek Council's "Feed the Homeless in Penn Station".

Sponsorship

Delta Chi helps the Ukrainian Center.

Sigma Delta Tau sponsors the Veterans Association flag raising.

United Greek Council's "Feed the Homeless in Penn Station".

Alpha Xi's inter-sorority karaoke competition.

ZBT's Flag football tournament at Rutgers Dec. 1.

Questions? Contact Kerry Raftery at 783-2530 for more information or to place your event in The Greek Weekly.

Phelan's

Gota Gamma Xi's canned food drive for St. Rocco's home; boxes are at the main desks in dorms.

Lambda Sigma Upsilon provides a speaker on Hispanic affairs for Latin Month.

Delta Phi Epsilon and Alpha Chi Rho's food drive through 11/30.

Zeta Beta Tau's Turkey Donation Day.

Lambda Sigma Upsilon and Lambda Sigma Phi's clothes and toy drive.

United Greek Council's "Feed the Homeless in Penn Station".

Sponsorship

Delta Chi helps the Ukrainian Center.

Alpha Xi's inter-sorority karaoke competition.

ZBT's Flag football tournament at Rutgers Dec. 1.

Questions? Contact Kerry Raftery at 783-2530 for more information or to place your event in The Greek Weekly.

The Greek Weekly

In recognizing that a considerable portion of the campus community is involved with Greek life, The Montclarion presents The Greek Weekly, a calendar of events for those involved or interested in fraternities or sororities at MSC.

Social Events

11/16: Phi Sigma Sigma's Sapphire Ball at the Excelorium

11/17: Alpha Iota Chi's sister dinner.

11/18: Sigma Delta Phi's Thanksgiving Dinner.

11/20: Sigma Delta Tau’s Thanksgiving/Entertainment Dinner.

11/22: Lambda Sigma Upsilon’s Karate Competition.

Pledge events

11/17: Phi Sigma Sigma's Epison class initiation.

11/21: Theta Xi's Member Education Program.

11/27: Delta Phi Epsilon's sister/pledge dinner at Houlahan's.

11/30: Delta Phi Epsilon's Big/Little breakfast. Pledging ends.
Looking back
by Chris Panepinto

Ten years ago this week, MSC students were "ticked off," while five years ago, students were warned that too narrow a focus might anger their future employers.

Nov. 13, 1980

□ "Rat brawl ends in alcohol ban"
A "major altercation" between patrons and staff of the Rathskellar prompted an administrative decision to temporarily ban the sale of alcohol. The argument involved approximately 15 to 25 people, and began when a student refused to present proper identification. He became enraged and allegedly assaulted a member of the Rat's staff. Talks were scheduled to appease both students and administrators, while the students hoped the ban would be lifted.

□ "Union and state stalled in talks"
The state stopped negotiations with the American Federation of Teachers because the NJEA won the right to hold a collective bargaining election the following week. The cost of living increases and pay increments would be discussed. Jon Sobeck, NJEA organizer, said that the NJEA would have its own proposals generated by employee demands and elected leadership. Meanwhile, hopes of satisfying faculty demands were lagging, and a possible strike was seen on the horizon.

Nov. 14, 1985

□ "Limited budget in economics dept. might result in a greater selectivity"
Due to budget cuts, the economics department was forced to be more selective of its students; in other words, it would raise its academic standards in order to meet limited resources (including faculty) and maintain the quality of education. As a result of expanded enrollment, the department came to rely more on part-time faculty members to teach the expanded curriculum.

Vietnam through a veteran's perspective: an MSC professor

cont. from p. 14
on the water towers as another medevac chopper arrived from Yokota. The wards got so jammed that the less severe cases were moved to the corridors and solarium and we had to share wheelchairs and gurneys.
The surgeons and urologists were finally able to put me back together again and I was put on a charter flight from Travis Air Force Base nine hours later. I wanted to kiss American soil, but it was too painful to bend down.
It was the middle of the night when we arrived at the Oakland Army Depot. There were no bands or parades, just a free steak dinner. They checked all our papers and told us to sleep a few hours while we waited for our Honorable Discharge. A dozen of us slept on one side of a thin plywood partition; on the other side slept a dozen "cherries" who were waiting for their flight to Nam.
Six hours later I was a civilian again, and twelve hours after that I stepped off a plane in Buffalo back to Linda. Home. Normalcy. Nightmares, too. After the war ended for me, several years after President Nixon and Henry Kissinger first said "peace is almost at hand," nearly 15,000 more American GIs would die.
I remember...April 1975. Watching Vietnamese hang from the last plane out of DaNang as the NVA quickly overran South Vietnam. Hue fell, and I felt sick knowing that my former camps at Phu Bai and Camp Eagle were in enemy hands. We vets felt like losers and our fellow citizens did nothing to either honor or comfort us.
I remember...missing the dedication of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial in D.C. on Veterans' Day 1982 because I was in the hospital for surgery. Two years later I was there, though, for the dedication of Frederick Hart's statue of three Nam vets. It felt good to be a Vietnam veteran, and we Nam vets should feel good about ourselves because we kept the faith during the most difficult, confusing time in American history.
What I remember most, though, are the more than 2,000 Americans still not accounted for in Southeast Asia, and the six names on the wall in Washington who were friends of mine: Fred Cadille, KIA on 12-05-65 (Panel 3E, Line 125); Norm Mayer, KIA on 3-11-67 (Panel 16E, Line 62); Tom Jackson, KIA on 5-21-69 (Panel 24W, Line 67); James McConnyhead, KIA on 6-13-69 (Panel 22W, Line 42); Peter Pulaski, KIA 1-4-70 (Panel 15W, Line 126); and Floyd Moye, KIA 3-10-70 (Panel 13W, Line 105).
I remember every day, not just Veterans' Day. How could I ever forget?

ALL NEW 1991 STYLES
Come in and browse
The College Store
Lower Level
Student Center Building
MSC attends tuition protest

On Friday, November 9, students from MSC, in conjunction with other New Jersey State colleges, staged a protest against more tuition increases. The rally in Trenton to show Gov. Florio that the students of New Jersey will not sit by while he continues to increase tuition is a noble endeavor, but out of 17 schools, only between 300 and 500 students attended.

If Florio is going to take students seriously in their quest for a tuition freeze, more students need to come forth and show they care.

It is a crime that the government continues to try to make up for past budget mistakes by increasing the cost of college. It is not something people can just do without, as Florio is well aware, so he feels it is a resource he can continue to exploit. Instead, he should look to the other resources of New Jersey to try and increase the revenue coming into the government; taxing big business for example.

Why is Florio so quick to raise tuition, while not bothering to check where and how the current educational budget is being used. An overall reevaluation of how the state schools use the money alloted to them by the state, might help bring about a more cost efficient school system.

We have already seen how the administration of MSC wastes thousands of dollars a year on useless or unacceptable labor projects, (Nov. 1st Montclarion) how about the other state schools? Do they have similar budget wasteage?

These are the type of questions Gov. Florio should be asking before he just decides to increase the cost of tuition, and if he isn't going to ask them, it is up to the students of New Jersey to bring them to his attention.

The rally on Nov. 9 was definitely a step in the right direction, but the fight must be continued. The students have to demand that the government examine how the current money is being used before they make the cost of going to college restricted to only the very rich and the very poor.

Letters to the editor must be typewritten, accompanied by a name, year, and major, and submitted by Monday at 3 pm. The Montclarion reserves the right to edit all editorial letters for spelling, grammar, and brevity.

The Montclarion
113 Student Center Annex  893-5169
The Montclarion is a Class One Organization of the SGA

Editorial Policy Board
Michael Walmsley .................................................. Editor-in-Chief
Richard E. Buckley, Jr. .............................................. Managing Editor
Anthony DiPasquale .............................................. Editorial Page Editor

Editors
Eric Ezr ............................................................... Arts
Steve Sukula .......................................................... Assignments
Valerie Kauffman .................................................. Outlook
Barclay Minton ...................................................... Production
Audrey Kegan ....................................................... Magazine
R. A. Campos .......................................................... News
KristinMarcussen .................................................. Photo
Michael Esposito .................................................... Sports
Matt Wintner ........................................................ Assist, Sports
Jennifer Fender .................................................... Assist, Editorial

Production Staff
Mike Berardo ....................................................... Photography Staff
Pam Hutchinson ..................................................... John Tibbetts

Technical Department
Claresey Leopold .................................................. Graphics Mgr.
Andrea Dimino ..................................................... Graphics
Elizabeth Lubin ...................................................... Typesetter
Michele Lowell ...................................................... Typesetter
Jody Bartin ........................................................... Proofer
Mike Davis ......................................................... Editorial Cartoonist
John Paul .......................................................... Cartonist
ZTF Fraternity ...................................................... Circulation

Student Voice
by John Tibbetts

What is patriotism?

Though an actual draft for non-military persons, such as MSC Students, is not truly a reality yet, I can not help but wonder what it would be like for Uncle Sam to ask me to go to war.

Recently, I asked several students whether they would actually go to war if they were drafted (All Around the Campus). Though most said they obviously wouldn't want to go, to my surprise almost everyone asked said they would if they had to.

This put quite a threat on my own position towards a possible war: would choosing a mandatory jail-sentence mean for me to be a traitor? What exactly is patriotism, I can't help but wonder.

With a rather conservative decade of politics behind us, a decade in which most of us here at MSC came of age, a re-evaluation of fundamental questions about American life seems to be called for more than ever. All of us know that there are a lot of problems. With New York City drowning in muck, outrageous tax increases, tuition hikes, continuously rising crime rates, drug addiction at an all-time high, AIDS, and more homeless people than ever, it is not easy to still pride oneself in being an American.

Obviously, something needs to be done; eventually all of us will be affected. Sending our kids to school won't be an easy task the way things are going.

Then why is it that efforts made by Civil rights activists, environmentalists, and other so-called radical people demanding change often get belittled, labeled as 1960s rejects? Is being a patriot not wanting the best for the American people? How can a war help stop hunger for poorer Americans, how can spending millions for oil provide better schools, better drug treatment programs, a chance for everyone to lead a regular life? If thousands of us are going to die, who will be there to make a change?

Whatever the benefits will be from entering a possible war in the Gulf, I am sure it won't compensate for the millions lost needed here, right now. I urge everyone here to forget about the penalty of evading the draft for a moment, and think about what really needs to be done, how anyone could possibly benefit from dying.
Student harassed during fire drill

At approximately 3:30 a.m. on November 9, 1990, the residents of Blanton Hall were awakened by the sound of the fire alarm system. As one knows, all residents are required to evacuate the residence hall during a fire alarm, or in this case, a fire alarm

Because I am a Resident Assistant, it was my job to check my floor for residents that had not evacuated. Accompanying me during this time was an R.A., a security guard employed here at MSC. My problem was with the security guard and his complete lack of professionalism.

While checking rooms, we came upon a resident sound asleep, obviously unaware that a fire alarm had been sounded. I attempted to wake her to let her know of the situation and have her evacuate like everyone else. She was slow to get up, which is understandable, considering the early hour of the alarm and the fact that she was legitimately asleep.

The security guard at this point became extremely abusive in his language toward the resident. He threatened to "drag her ass out if she didn’t get the fuck up," referring to her getting out of the building. I was offended by both his language and attitude, as was the R.A. with me. I can only imagine how the resident felt.

The security guard, in my opinion, behaved in a completely unprofessional manner that was in no way provoked. I feel he abused his authority and position by acting so irrationally and by all means should be penalized. This man should have been able to approach the situation with a calm and professional manner. Security guards are hired to promote law and order within the residence halls. Instead of being a help, he most definitely proved to be a hindrance.

I am happy that the VP and AD have responded to the issue. I believe that the issue be glossed over by their ridiculous verbalism. This verbalism by any methods they attempt. Nor will this issue be glossed over by their ridiculous verbalization. The fact is seen in the VP’s statement (Oct. 25) concerning the "real teams" finally arriving at MSC since Mr. Blanton’s appointment. Such a statement is very difficult to fathom. What does she mean?

Apparently, when former coaches, Dean James Harris, Prof. Richard Grey, Vic Mizzone, Gene Lee, and myself were leading the cross country and track programs as MSC, we had less than "real teams." We certainly weren’t aware that all of the efforts put forth by the athletes and ourselves were not being directed at a team effort and team concept.

What a pathetic statement she made. How it points up her basic lack of historical knowledge of these sports at this college. With this statement she has demeaned hundreds of young athletes who represented this college with outstanding results and exemplary behavior.

Our squads, (those "non-teemans"), ran against the best and were always invited to compete with the best, not because we were a chaotic mob, but rather because we were a track team of quality, on the field and off. So, the VP’s statement, designed to build up the current team, does, in fact, demean the former team members as well as put down the former coaches.

This lack of sensitivity to programs which formed the foundation of the current Athletic Department is incredible—especially when one considers that it comes from the office which is responsible for that current program.

As I understand it, the former coaches are now? How do they react to the VP’s statement about their runners? Are you going to stand by while the former coaches are demeaned? I contend that, as former coaches, they owe a response in deference to their team members and their own dedication to MSC track and cross country.

And so, we have an on-going saga:—a charge of record falsification (documentation given to The Montclarion) and,—two administrators, VP and AD, who hold identical opinions about the coach who is responsible for the records. How are they dealing with the problem?—Mr. Lockard held a "private meeting" with several students (Nov. 1 issue) when, in fact, an open forum would have shed greater light on the issue.

-VP Armstrong refers to Coach Blanton as a "fine professional" (Oct. 25 issue). Her personal opinion notwithstanding, it is difficult to reconcile her statement with the fact that just two weeks earlier, on Oct. 9, he took an action in which he allegedly violated the policy of free press by pressuring a female photographer from The Montclarion to give up her film against her will (Oct. 11 issue).

What has happened to leadership in education when such examples of harassment are not immediately acted upon by the administration. The Montclarion editorial on Oct. 25 had every right to ask why the administration claims to support them, "but when support is needed they are nowhere to be found."

Apparently, changes in education have become far more widespread in the six years since my retirement and the 10 years I coached here. Such an action on the part of a coach, alleged or not, would hardly qualify one to be termed a "first rate coach and a fine professional" as the VP stated. It looks like the administration’s "broom and carpet" technique in dealing with this matter is just not working.

Dr. George A. Horn
Former Cross Country & Track/Field Coach

Pledges promote prejudice?

This is a response to the letter from Belinda Diaz regarding what she sees as prejudice towards pledges. I agree with her that what a person chooses to do is nobody else’s business, within reason. I feel that the practice she is defending is a contradiction of her statements about prejudice.

The main reason people join an organization is to belong to a group that shares similar views. There is nothing wrong with this; the problem arises when the requirements for gaining acceptance into the group are detrimental and counterproductive, and potentially destructive.

Many of the pledging practices, i.e., the singing in the cafeteria are dumb and silly, but, nevertheless, harmless. Miss Diaz, in defending the requirement that pledges speak, outside of class, only to their "buddies/sisters, is going beyond foolishness.

I feel that the practice she is defending is a contradiction of her statements about prejudice. The main reason people join an organization is to belong to a group that shares similar views. There is nothing wrong with this; the problem arises when the requirements for gaining acceptance into the group are detrimental and counterproductive, and potentially destructive.

Many of the pledging practices, i.e., the singing in the cafeteria are dumb and silly, but, nevertheless, harmless. Miss Diaz, in defending the requirement that pledges speak, outside of class, only to their "buddies/sisters, is going beyond foolishness.

I agree with her that what a person chooses to do is nobody else’s business, within reason. I feel that the practice she is defending is a contradiction of her statements about prejudice. The main reason people join an organization is to belong to a group that shares similar views. There is nothing wrong with this; the problem arises when the requirements for gaining acceptance into the group are detrimental and counterproductive, and potentially destructive.

Many of the pledging practices, i.e., the singing in the cafeteria are dumb and silly, but, nevertheless, harmless. Miss Diaz, in defending the requirement that pledges speak, outside of class, only to their "buddies/sisters, is going beyond foolishness.
COLLEGE LIFE UNION BOARD

A Class One of S.G.A.

Presents

Winter Ball '90

A Night of

MASQUERADE

Friday, December 7, 1990
8:00 p.m. - 1:00 p.m.
Aspen Hotel - Manor
Parsippany, NJ

4-Hour Open Bar
(21 and over. I.D. required)

*Tickets on sale November 26-28
10 am - 4 pm in ticket booth
$36 per person/ $72 per couple
Hotel rooms are available
$49.95 for single

NO COSTUMES
Dancing
Dancing
Climbing on Jacob’s Ladder to New Depths

By John Tibbetts
Staff Writer

If you try to hold on to your life, and its memories, you will see demons and experience the worst kind of hell. But if you accept dying, and let go of your life those demons will look like angels.

Though this is an old concept, experiencing this might make you think you have gone insane. And insanity is exactly what Jacob (Tim Robbins) refuses to accept as an explanation for the unexplainable hallucinations and terrifying events in his life in Jacob’s Ladder. His quest for explanation eventually uncovers a trail of conspiracy, deception, and murder; a more than surprising and thought-provoking outcome will most likely fascinate and intrigue some, and put off others. Either way, two hours that will startle and intrigue you. Personally, I would give “thumbs up.”

Director Adrian Lyne, director of Fatal Attraction, 9½ Weeks, and Flashdance seems to have taken quite a risk with this movie; the script alone certainly didn’t guarantee success. Having dug deep into the human psyche, purging deep fears and unconscious terrors he might easily have let this movie become aimless; but instead, the movie ties together due to his careful directing. For instance, the camera never takes an omniscient point of view, which would suggest for Jacob’s hallucinations to be real. This way the audience doesn’t know, making the last scene of the movie an exciting and fulfilling ending, as mentioned above.

Tim Robbins (Bull Durham, Cadillac Man, Miss Firecracker, Tapeheads) does very well in the title role. His vulnerability and intelligence seem to add a certain lightness to his part, balancing the darkness of the movie. Elizabeth Pena (Down and Out in Beverly Hills & La Bamba), Danny Aiello (most recently seen in Do The Right Thing), Matt Craven, and Pruitt Taylor Vince also star.

Though I cannot guarantee whether you will like this movie, I can guarantee that if you go see it you will experience two hours that will startle and intrigue you. Personally, I would give “thumbs up.”

Greetings and Salutations, MSC. Before you do anything else, you must do the campus music community a grand favor. If you didn’t mention to visit MSC, then you shouldn’t have told them. Them is Class 1 Concerts. Now is your chance for input. Stop by and place your opinion on who you want to play at MSC next. I’ve already worked my Jane’s Addiction vote. Do it soon or else we might be listening to pre-recorded, lip-syncing Milli Vanilli in the amphitheater. Rock the Vote!

Campus Dedications: This is dedicated to the possible fact that the personal ads seem to be a conspiracy. It has been noted by 2 anonymous gals by the pseudonyms of Lil-Bit and Afro that there is foul play and favoritism. They’d like to point out that if this is the case, then - “Idiots Rule,” by Jane’s Addiction. On this note I’d like to add: Like music, everyone should be heard.

Our second dedication is to that species that is scarce during this time of year. They only dwell in temperatures of 87 degrees or above with a tanning index of 9 or higher. They have a craving for excessive gold and tacky wardrobe. Their defense mechanisms are their claws and shielding big hair. These mysterious creatures, which can be caught during a 3:42 am Blanton Fire drill looking their absolute best, are the Guidettes. Your song is “Phony Ladies” by Neneh Cherry.

1st String: Following in the artistic steps of Milli Vanilli and Paula Abdul, November will host new compilations of original hits in the form of Remix Albums. This prestigious musical format has but one intention...to squeeze the leftover prestige of a child’s album...to make a left-over buck.

Who would have ever suspected that the leader of the remix regime would be the New Kids on the Block with No More Games: The Remix Album? (Are they hinting to be taken seriously with this title? Who are they kidding?) After a 2-year hiatus, the Fine Young Cannibals release The Raw and the Remixed. This is probably a cheesy effort so the public won’t forget they are since they take years between real albums. Another Remix compilation due is Shriekback’s The Dancing Years. I didn’t even remember them going multi-platinum; so how can this remix be? Ending with a material blow is Madonna, hot off her heels of her I’m Breathless album. Who knows? Maybe she’ll surprise us by going back to her Danceteria years. She’ll attempt it with The Immaculate Collection.

2nd String: A real album to check out is Red Hot & Blue. It’s a music industry assault on the deadly AIDS virus through multi-level support of the album. Showcasing their music and hearts will be Sinead O’Connor, U2, Neneh Cherry, the Pogues, David Byrne, and others... Do you know what Frank Sinatra wants to do with Sinead O’Connor? He wants to “kick her in the ass.” Maybe the music world is coming to its senses since the latest New Kids single strangled at #53 on the charts.

High Strings: Vanilla Ice becomes the 1st rap artist in history to have the #1 song in the nation. “Ice Ice Baby...” The #1 R & B single for a 2nd straight week is “So You Like What You See” by Samuelle... In his 21st week as the #1 album is Please Hammer Don’t Hurt ‘Em by MC Hammer.

Stringing You Along: Last week’s answer is Michael or Christopher Penn as Madonna’s brother-in-law. This week’s: What is the oldest album on the charts? Until next week, peace, love, and brutal honesty, MSC.
ART
The coolest thing in art on campus will be Ik-Joong Kang's "Sound Paintings" in the College Art Gallery from Nov. 2 through Dec. 19. You can call the gallery at 893-5113.

Art Forum, a lecture series sponsored by the Art Dept. at MSC is hosting the following:
Nov. 15 Nanette Carter, painter
Nov. 29 Ellen Driscoll, sculptor
Dec. 6 David Diao, painter

Each lecture begins Thursdays at 3pm in the Calda Auditorium.

Steven Roux will be presenting ceramics in Gallery One opening Nov 19.

DANCE
Studio Players of Montclair invites potential tap dancers from 16 to 60 to participate in two FREE tap lessons in preparation for their annual musical, "No, No, Nanette", scheduled to open next February. Please call 744-9752 for more information.

MUSIC
Dr. Jack Sacher of the College’s Music Dept. will be conducting the Oratorio Society of New Jersey's fall concert on Nov 17 at 8pm at the Union Congregational Church in Upper Montclair. For more info call 239-2014

Nov. 26 Edmund Battersby will perform works of Schubert, Beethoven and Chopin on the fortepiano at 12 noon in the Student Center Ballroom A

"Schubertiad. Ein Alt-Wiener Salon-Abend" an evening of music in old Vienna will cap the activities of the two day Early Piano Festival at Montclair. The music of Schubert will be played in the intimate setting of Morehead Studio on original and replica 19th century instruments on Nov. 27, at 8pm.

Llewellyn Chamber Players will give a 3pm performance at the Montclair Art Museum Sunday, Nov. 18. Four Mozart arias from "Marriage of Figaro," and a sonata by Johannes Brahms highlight the performance. Call 746-5555.

Popcorn Playhouse kicks off the new season with Tom Chapin in concert Nov. 17 at 3pm at Montclair High School Auditorium. For info call 744-1717.

"Schubertiad. Ein Alt-Wiener Salon-Abend" an evening of music in old Vienna will cap the activities of the two day Early Piano Festival at Montclair. The music of Schubert will be played in the intimate setting of Morehead Studio on original and replica 19th century instruments on Nov. 27, at 8pm.

Llewellyn Chamber Players will give a 3pm performance at the Montclair Art Museum Sunday, Nov. 18. Four Mozart arias from "Marriage of Figaro," and a sonata by Johannes Brahms highlight the performance. Call 746-5555.

POP CORN PLAYHOUSE will present works of Schubert, Beethoven and Chopin on the fortepiano at 12 noon in the Student Center Ballroom A

"Schubertiad. Ein Alt-Wiener Salon-Abend" an evening of music in old Vienna will cap the activities of the two day Early Piano Festival at Montclair. The music of Schubert will be played in the intimate setting of Morehead Studio on original and replica 19th century instruments on Nov. 27, at 8pm.

Llewellyn Chamber Players will give a 3pm performance at the Montclair Art Museum Sunday, Nov. 18. Four Mozart arias from "Marriage of Figaro," and a sonata by Johannes Brahms highlight the performance. Call 746-5555.

The Ultimate Hunter.

This Time...
Los Angeles
1997.

The filing deadline is
Tuesday, November 27, 1990 at 4:30PM

For further information, please call
Elaine Yaccarino at 893-4404

WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES 1990-1991

Application and nomination forms are now available for students with a minimum GPA of 2.75 PLUS 90 earned credits and can be obtained at the following locations:

Student Activities - Student Center, Room 400
Academic Advising Center - Annex E
Student Government Association - Student Center Annex, Room 103
Vice President of Student Affairs - College Hall Room 217
Campus Recreation - Field House Office
Dean of Students - College Hall, Room 217
Residence Life Office - Bohn Hall
EOF Office - College Hall, Room 304

The filing deadline is
Tuesday, November 27, 1990 at 4:30PM

For further information, please call
Elaine Yaccarino at 893-4404
Hey kids, meet the gang at the malt shop! Gals! Dig out those poodle skirts and the saddle shoes! Slick back the hair with Brylcreem and get the leather jackets. Shake your hair like you don't care. Now, if you happen to be from Lubbock, Texas to your tragic death in 1959 at the pinnacle of his career, Buddy Holly, isn't he? Woefully, the most vigilant of those tribute shows, this one, does not lapse into either tastelessness or self-parody.

Much of the praise can be directed toward star, Paul Hipp. Along with a startling resemblance to the departed legend, he also is able to convey the insecurities, stubbornness and determination of this young Texan who hit the big time.

The story details Buddy's meteoric rise from Lubbock, Texas to his tragic death in 1959 at the pinnacle of his career. While the show is strong on the music, the biographical drama only seems to be killing time between songs.

To be fair, there are highlights. For example, the scene where performers in Harlem's Apollo Theatre wonder how the show triumphs because it is able to work around the contradictions that is it portraying both the shy, insecure Texas boy, and sexually charged rocker. Unfortunately, it also presents the rock and roll charges of American culture without explaining how or why it did so.

But this is not why people will come out and see it. People came to hear faithful recreations of full-throttle rock and roll favorites. This is what the people got. The music, not the words, did the talking.

The spirit of the show can best be represented by the theatre's request that there should be no standing or dancing in the aisles. The audience, ranging in age from seven to seventy, ignored those posted signs. As Buddy would have said, "Let's rock and roll!"

This Raygun Needs No Clothes

By Pete Quilla
Staff Writer

Naked Raygun. No, it is not a new sexual stimulation device, it just happens to be the name of a well established punk band from Chico. The sixth and latest release off of Caroline Records is called Raygun...Naked Raygun. (The title being a spoof of "Bond...James Bond.") The band is one of the of the band are: Jeff Pezzati on vocals, Bill Stephen on guitars, Piere Keddy on bass, and Eric Spicer on drums. Their lineup represents a classic example of a strong, four man punk band cast in the loose mode of such legendary slammint' quartets as The Ramones, The Sex Pistols, and The Clash.

What distinguishes them from other bands in this mold is that they can play and write good songs with an indescribable wall of sound that is practically required for all good punk bands to succeed. Inspired amateurism at its best.

To explain what I am talking about, side one is a good example. It starts off with "Home" and "Fever Island," two up tempo songs about alienation that start the album off with a pleasant and heavy funk to a punk lockstep with grace and agility. (Inspired amateurism is proven again). The rest of the side finishes off with "In My Head," "Ca-mariilla," and "Terminal". The three songs being about the usual topics of nihilism and anti-conformity, impressive but done before and better by other bands.

Overall, the band is strong with a few twists that keep it stimulating while still keeping it punk. The guitar riffs are simple, the beat is strong, and the singer is pissed off and concerned. Enjoy!
This Flick Goes Beyond Child’s Play

By Anthony Minutella
Staff Writer

Would it be too damaging to my reputation as a film critic to admit that Child’s Play, the 1988 hit horror/thriller about a living, foul-mouthed killer doll, is one of my favorite films of the last decade? It was scary, intelligent, well acted and directed, paced like lightning, and, most importantly, it introduced to the world a screen villain in a class by himself: Chucky, the doll with a heart of ice. In addition, it was a lot of fun and incorporated some truly astonishing special effects sequences (courtesy of Kevin Yagher, the effects wizard who designed the Crypt Keeper for the HBO series, “Tales from the Crypt”).

Well, I’m happy to report that Chucky’s back again in Child’s Play 2, but the gore is minimal and, for the most part, the sequel maintains the lightweight sense of fun and humor that captured the spirit of the original. Unfortunately, while the sequel is visually eye catching and well paced, the sense of roller coaster thrills and chills that marked Part 1 is public and critical success is displayed only occasionally in Part 2.

The plot: workers at Play Pals Toy Factory come across the charred remains of Chucky from Part 1. In order to cover the bad publicity of events from the first film, they work furiously to repair the damaged doll to show there’s nothing wrong with it. As the eyes are re-implanted, lightning strikes, Chucky is reanimated and goes off on another murderous rampage in his quest to transfer his soul into little Andy Barclay (Alex Vincent).

Well, I’ve heard a few good things about this column to date, which almost makes it worth the effort. I’ve also heard that it’s not the news section. Anyway, today we’ll show you a way to amuse your friends and maybe even pick up a few dollars on the side. I’m going to teach you the secrets of cartooning. Just as Matt Groening’s sister’s next-door neighbor’s calculator tutor’s psychic taught them to me. Get a pencil. Get some paper. Observe your subject, pick out the closest features from the following categories, and trace. Voila! Maybe you can be the next cartoonist to throw away a wildly funny and successful daily strip for a soapbox-of-the-week that even members of STAND would consider pointless - good career move Berke.

Horror films have been around since the good old days of Frankenstein, but how many horror films of late do you know that are genuinely “fun”? That’s what horror films are supposed to do: to give the audience goosebumps and provide a good time; after all, it’s fun to be scared. So many recent horror films - like the monotonous Friday the 13th series - substitute gore for scares, therefore eliminating the fright factor and adding buckets of blood instead.

Well, I’m happy to report that Chucky chops again in Child’s Play 2, but the gore is minimal and, for the most part, the sequel maintains the lightweight sense of fun and humor that captured the spirit of the original. Unfortunately, while the sequel is visually eye catching and well paced, the sense of roller coaster thrills and chills that marked Part 1 is public and critical success is displayed only occasionally in Part 2.

The plot: workers at Play Pals Toy Factory come across the charred remains of Chucky from Part 1. In order to cover the bad publicity of events from the first film, they work furiously to repair the damaged doll to show there’s nothing wrong with it. As the eyes are re-implanted, lightning strikes, Chucky is reanimated and goes off on another murderous rampage in his quest to transfer his soul into little Andy Barclay (Alex Vincent).

Well, I’ve heard a few good things about this column to date, which almost makes it worth the effort. I’ve also heard that it’s not the news section. Anyway, today we’ll show you a way to amuse your friends and maybe even pick up a few dollars on the side. I’m going to teach you the secrets of cartooning. Just as Matt Groening’s sister’s next-door neighbor’s calculator tutor’s psychic taught them to me. Get a pencil. Get some paper. Observe your subject, pick out the closest features from the following categories, and trace. Voila! Maybe you can be the next cartoonist to throw away a wildly funny and successful daily strip for a soapbox-of-the-week that even members of STAND would consider pointless - good career move Berke.

CAPSULATE MOVIE REVIEWS

Compiled by Amy Caradine
Correspondent

$ will mean that the movie was poor.
$$ will mean that it was a good movie.
$$ will mean that it was an outrageously incredible must-see movie.

Avalon
Starring Armin Mueller-Stahl, Aidan Quinn and Elizabeth Perkins. Mueller-Stahl is an immigrant who came to this country in 1914. He and his wife live with their son, Quinn, and daughter-in-law, Perkins. Quinn struggles to make a new business work. A poignant movie that makes use of flashbacks from present-day 1940’s to the mid 1910’s. Excellent portrayal of a family with extended relations in a new country. A movie designed for older audiences (over 30) who enjoy a storytelling movie (there is no sex, violence or foul language). $$$

Welcome Home, Roxie Carmichael
Starring Winona Ryder and Jeff Daniels. The hometown of the famous Roxie Carmichael prepares for her return, especially two of its residents, Ryder and Daniels. Daniels is the long-ago jilted ex-boyfriend; Ryder, the town misfit. Ryder is very credible as the troubled teenager who searches for a way to fit in with the rest of the world. Daniels plays his usual role of a typical, humdrum middle aged man. The purpose of the movie is not to welcome its star, but to help the two “left” behind. Overall, a bland movie with no real or exciting action and few surprising moments. $5

Cont on 24

Can’t afford Comics? Draw Your Own with John Paul

Well, I’ve heard a few good things about this column to date, which almost makes it worth the effort. I’ve also heard that it’s not the news section. Anyway, today we’ll show you a way to amuse your friends and maybe even pick up a few dollars on the side. I’m going to teach you the secrets of cartooning. Just as Matt Groening’s sister’s next-door neighbor’s calculator tutor’s psychic taught them to me. Get a pencil. Get some paper. Observe your subject, pick out the closest features from the following categories, and trace. Voila! Maybe you can be the next cartoonist to throw away a wildly funny and successful daily strip for a soapbox-of-the-week that even members of STAND would consider pointless - good career move Berke.
Give.
Give all you can.
Please donate canned goods to the hungry

From now through Winter Break, WMSC will be collecting your contributions in room 110 of the Student Center Annex...
MOVIE REVIEWS Cont from 22

Don't Tell Her It's Me
Starring Shelley Long, Steve Guttenberg and Jami Gertz. Boy meets girl, boy falls for girl, girl isn't interested, boy changes for her (and no, I'm not going to tell you the ending). This is not a typical Guttenberg movie. At times it is sad, as Guttenberg is recovering from cancer treatment. But it is also a funny fast-paced movie with a continually unfolding story. A good movie to see, if you don't mind a little emotional distraction from the basic funny entertainment films. $$$$

Sibling Rivalry
Starring Kirstie Alley, Scott Bakula, Jami Gertz and Ed O'Neill. Alley is the neglected wife of a doctor, Bakula. She decides that she needs to find her real self. What she finds herself in is a real mess. It makes a very funny movie, filled with fresh innovative comical scenes. Alley is full of her usual facial expressions and whining desperation. Expect to laugh out loud. $$$$

Video
Opportunity Knocks
Starring Dana Carvey. A con-artist finds the ultimate con. Along the way he falls in love, or is that too a con? An entertaining movie if you can make it past the first half hour.

Troop Beverly Hills
Starring Shelley Long. Long decides to prove to her husband that she can do more than shop. So, she heads a girl-scout-type troop. A truly nice movie.

CHILD'S PLAY Cont. from 22

heart was supposed to kill Chucky, yet the toy makers are able to remove the bullets and transplant a new heart like they're cardiac surgeons. A little imagination in the script would've helped enormously.

Another hindrance is Hohn Lafia's direction. The "suggestion" of Chucky in the first film made it scary; in the sequel, the ominous mood and atmosphere for creating suspense are mostly absent, except in a few creatively shot sequences.

Still, there are moments when Child's Play 2 really works, such as a terrifying confrontation between a teen-age girl and Chucky in a dark, gloomy house and the explosive climax at the toy factory. Visually, the sequel is dynamite, using sets that are colorful and expansive. The best asset of the sequel is, of course, Chucky, again executed by Yagher just as imaginatively and scary as the first time around. Whether he's simply moving his eyeballs menacingly to his next victim, or spitting out a hilarious line of dialogue, or stalking his victims with deadly accuracy, Chucky is a riot and easily has the edge over other popular horror movie villains. A genuinely wonderful character, Chucky is the driving force of the "Child's Play" series, and one can only hope he finds a better script for his creative talents for the forthcoming Child's Play 3.
editorial cont. from p. 17

SGA president talks tuition

Last Friday, November 9, 1990, New Jersey state college students protested in Trenton against the state's proposal to increase the Higher Education budget by 8% - a decrease in the Higher Education budget. In the past, these cuts have been the reasoning behind increased tuition costs, faculty cuts and program cuts.

The rally was organized by the New Jersey Student Rights Coalition consisting of student action groups and Student Governments from across the state of New Jersey.

This wide range in membership prompted Governor Jim Florio to request a meeting with the rally organizers. Myself and Sharon Maffette, a member of S.T.A.N.D., represented MSC. During this meeting we discussed the need for accessible and affordable education in the New Jersey State school system.

The following requests were made:

1. The Department of Higher Education guidelines that sets a 30% limit on the amount of college costs has been violated by several colleges. MSC students and their families currently pay 25% of all college costs and an increase will further burden the average MSC student. If this guideline becomes law, this 30% limit on college costs will not be exceeded.

2. A tuition review board will be established to look into and approve proposed increases and that membership of this board include student representatives.

- Meg, This is not meant to scare you but I won't wait forever. - Dennis

Governor Florio's response:

He expressed his concern with rising tuition costs and pledged his support in providing affordable, quality education as more direct financial assistance to students and their families. The Governor also told us that the supported student representation on the Board of Higher Education as well as increased participation by students in governing state colleges and universities. The Governor also plans to work with the legislative leadership, particularly Assembly Speaker, Joseph Doria and Senate Minority Leader, Dan Dalton, for the expeditious consideration of the "Student Rights Bill."

It was the unified action of New Jersey students that secured a meeting with the governor and gained the attention of the entire state towards this crisis in higher education.

As students, we all share this success of the rally in Trenton, but this was only the first step, and for us to guarantee that our needs are met, we have to have affordable quality education, we must continue to work together to protect these rights.

Psychologists indicate that we, as children, have been affected by this. We mimic our movements, actions and even wear their clothing. All of us at one time or another have slipped into the too-big shoes of our parents and clomped around the house. Our parents think this is cute. Pictures are taken, and are brought out years later to playfully embarrass us in front of our boyfriends or girlfriends.

The child, in this case, is MSC. The gates all come from a theoretically free-flowing source - the students' wallets. I can't imagine how the children, take after our parents. We think this is cute. Pictures are taken, and are brought out years later to playfully embarrass us in front of our boyfriends or girlfriends.

The Montclarion/Thursday, November 15, 1990

Anthony Vita Susco
SGA President

MS wastes money

Dave-PZ 10-How can you forget the road trip to 71, that sub was great!-Just watch our future curbs.

To all the sisters of Iota: Love you all-

Thanks for being here for me-Love Joanne

1-DL-Thanks for being the best date I could ever ask for-Love Joanne

Joanne-Life has just begun for you-If you ever need anything you know you can always count on me-Love ya Donna

-Cookie-It's been a great 4 weeks!! And the coming weeks should be better, Love Heinz PZ 88

-Pledge Gina You an awesome pledge, I'll be looking out for you.-Your perspective big Carol

-PZ 76-You may be bullet proof but your love isn't-

-Iota pledges-It's almost over, keep up the good work-Luv VPmcGovern

-Dedra-So this is your agenda for your last week-Love Mecliri (Iota)

-FMUCILKLAIBGCLAEN-I- guess the club is over-

-Rae Rae- what are you thinking about?-Love Eileen

-Rae Rae- what are you thinking about?-Love Eileen

-Stacey (Iota)-Do you think we should have the doors closed?-Love Elleen

-Trevise- You can't keep a good dog down! -Love Elleen

-Keith (ZBT)-Thanks for an awesome time Friday night. I'm so happy we were there with you.-Love Elleen

-Cheryl(AKP)- Thanks for being there when I needed you! -Pledge Stef

-To whom it may concern-For those of you who have provided the most significant support, I know that your efforts were not in vain. While some of these expenditures may have been used to improve student life on campus, they have also caused by a member of the Chlamydia genus of organisms and is a disease of the lymphatic system. It does exist

-All hail Rugs - Mike

-One more shot cause I love you and I know that it's real-always Donna

-Congratulations to my new Senate Brothers-

-Stacey (Iota)-Do you think we should have the doors closed?-

-Trevise- You can't keep a good dog down! -Love Elleen

-Keith (ZBT)-Thanks for an awesome time Friday night. I'm so happy we were there with you.-Love Elleen

-Cheryl(AKP)- Thanks for being there when I needed you! -Pledge Stef

-To whom it may concern-Single man, leave the child alone! I don't know her but the stuff you wrote was pretty mean!!-

-Rae Rae- what are you thinking about?!

-Cindy-

-Mary(SDT)- Snort, snort, snort. Fickle Finger of Fate. Love Me-

-Wow, I'm watching you!! Love Your Secret Pal

-SG wastes money

-Tanya- Good luck this weekend. It will all be worth it.

-Lean-Nine, I can't wait to get drunk with you at the semi! I love you, your little-

-To Charly and Blair, You guys are the greatest. I love you so much, Love Elvira

-Maria-Gook Lucky on Friday, Don't worry we're all here for you! You're the best and I love you! Your Perspective Big Sharyn

-Stephanie- I'm sorry I won't be there the whole time tomorrow! I love you so much! Love always-

-Leigh & Amy

-Debbie- Do you want your strawberries? A

-Debbie- Do you want your strawberries? A

-Lori (AIX) Happy Birthday to my best-

-Melanie (Iota pledge)-Good luck this-

-Stephanie- I'm sorry I won't be there the whole time tomorrow! I love you so much! Love always-

-Leigh & Amy

-Debbie- Do you want your strawberries? A

-Lori (AIX) Happy Birthday to my best-

-Melanie (Iota pledge)-Good luck this-

-Stephanie- I'm sorry I won't be there the whole time tomorrow! I love you so much! Love always-

-Leigh & Amy

-Debbie- Do you want your strawberries? A

-Lori (AIX) Happy Birthday to my best-

-Melanie (Iota pledge)-Good luck this-

-Stephanie- I'm sorry I won't be there the whole time tomorrow! I love you so much! Love always-

-Leigh & Amy

-Debbie- Do you want your strawberries? A

-Lori (AIX) Happy Birthday to my best-

-Melanie (Iota pledge)-Good luck this-

-Stephanie- I'm sorry I won't be there the whole time tomorrow! I love you so much! Love always-

-Leigh & Amy

-Debbie- Do you want your strawberries? A

-Lori (AIX) Happy Birthday to my best-

-Melanie (Iota pledge)-Good luck this-

-Stephanie- I'm sorry I won't be there the whole time tomorrow! I love you so much! Love always-

-Leigh & Amy

-Debbie- Do you want your strawberries? A

-Lori (AIX) Happy Birthday to my best-

-Melanie (Iota pledge)-Good luck this-

-Stephanie- I'm sorry I won't be there the whole time tomorrow! I love you so much! Love always-

-Leigh & Amy

-Debbie- Do you want your strawberries? A

-Lori (AIX) Happy Birthday to my best-

-Melanie (Iota pledge)-Good luck this-

-Stephanie- I'm sorry I won't be there the whole time tomorrow! I love you so much! Love always-

-Leigh & Amy

-Debbie- Do you want your strawberries? A

-Lori (AIX) Happy Birthday to my best-

-Melanie (Iota pledge)-Good luck this-

-Stephanie- I'm sorry I won't be there the whole time tomorrow! I love you so much! Love always-

-Leigh & Amy

-Debbie- Do you want your strawberries? A

-Lori (AIX) Happy Birthday to my best-

-Melanie (Iota pledge)-Good luck this-

-Stephanie- I'm sorry I won't be there the whole time tomorrow! I love you so much! Love always-

-Leigh & Amy

-Debbie- Do you want your strawberries? A

-Lori (AIX) Happy Birthday to my best-

-Melanie (Iota pledge)-Good luck this-

-Stephanie- I'm sorry I won't be there the whole time tomorrow! I love you so much! Love always-

-Leigh & Amy

-Debbie- Do you want your strawberries? A

-Lori (AIX) Happy Birthday to my best-

-Melanie (Iota pledge)-Good luck this-

-Stephanie- I'm sorry I won't be there the whole time tomorrow! I love you so much! Love always-

-Leigh & Amy

-Debbie- Do you want your strawberries? A

-Lori (AIX) Happy Birthday to my best-

-Melanie (Iota pledge)-Good luck this-

-Stephanie- I'm sorry I won't be there the whole time tomorrow! I love you so much! Love always-

-Leigh & Amy

-Debbie- Do you want your strawberries? A

-Lori (AIX) Happy Birthday to my best-

-Melanie (Iota pledge)-Good luck this-

-Stephanie- I'm sorry I won't be there the whole time tomorrow! I love you so much! Love always-

-Leigh & Amy

-Debbie- Do you want your strawberries? A

-Lori (AIX) Happy Birthday to my best-

-Melanie (Iota pledge)-Good luck this-

-Stephanie- I'm sorry I won't be there the whole time tomorrow! I love you so much! Love always-

-Leigh & Amy

-Debbie- Do you want your strawberries? A

-Lori (AIX) Happy Birthday to my best-

-Melanie (Iota pledge)-Good luck this-

-Stephanie- I'm sorry I won't be there the whole time tomorrow! I love you so much! Love always-

-Leigh & Amy

-Debbie- Do you want your strawberries? A

-Lori (AIX) Happy Birthday to my best-

-Melanie (Iota pledge)-Good luck this-

-Stephanie- I'm sorry I won't be there the whole time tomorrow! I love you so much! Love always-
Attention
- Need money for your organization? Call the Alumni Office and let me tell you how we can help you. To find out more about participating in Phonathon (and making money for your organization), please call ext. 4141 and ask Lisa Bogart.

- Study more effectively and retain more of what you learn. Booklet shows you how. Send $3.00 check or M.O. to: FML, 133 S. Livingston Ave., #208, Livingston, NJ 07039-3097.

For Sale
- Late Model 1988 Toyota 4x2, 2.4L 5 spd., red with striping, 34 K, well maintained and in good condition. Asking $4500 or best offer. Call Steve at 227-9280.

- Kitchen table and four chairs in good condition. Call 857-5005 after 5:00 weekdays. Weekends anytime. Ask for Peggy or Charles.

- 1988 Ford Escort GT, sport-fully loaded, four cylinder 1.9 liter, A/C, AM/FM stereo cassette, power brakes, alloy rims, fog lights, gray sport seats, rear defogger, extended service plan, Ford alarm system, white color, 30,000 miles. Call John (201) 943-5723.

FAST FUNDRAISING PROGRAM
$1000 IN JUST ONE WEEK
Earn up to $1000 in one week for your campus organization. Plus a chance at $5000 more! This program works! No investment needed. Call 1-800-932-0528 Ext. 50

WAKE N' BAKE!! For Spring Break in Jamaica/Cancun/Margarita Island starting at $429.00! Organize group travel free!! Book early and save $30.00.

STUDENT TO WORK WITH 3 & 1/2 YEAR-OLD BOY WITH DELAYS IN LANGUAGE AND SOCIAL SKILLS. 1-2 WEEKDAY MORNINGS FROM 8-11:30. Walking distance from college. Call 746-2517.

TELEPHONE SALES. We have exciting and highly profitable programs for both beginners and pros. No hard selling. Survey type solicitation. Salary and commission from $10/hour to much, much more! Please call Eileen Curtin for further information.

SKI AREA Campgaw Mt.-Mahwah, N.J. Ski free and earn $$$! We're accepting applications for: Ski instructors-downhill, snowboard, cross-country, Lift Operations, Rental Shop Technicians, Office and Cashier, Food Service. Full and part time available. No experience necessary will train. Contact James Munson 825-0820.

-TELEPHONE SALES. We have exciting and highly profitable programs for both beginners and pros. No hard selling. Survey type solicitation. Salary and commission from $10/hour to much, much more! Please call Eileen Curtin for further information 438-0500.

- HAVE FUN AND MAKE MONEY TOO. Excellent part time income potential, great business, great people. CALL TODAY 472-1240.

- Excellent opportunity to practice your French babysitting two afternoons per week. Short Hills area, French speaking family. Call 376-4269.

-Telemarketing-Potential. $8-$14/hr. Totowa based co. seeking self motivated, outgoing and enthusiastic individuals. If you are articulate and like speaking to exciting dynamic people then why not make $$ doing it? P/T mornings/ evenings/weekends. Will work with your school schedule. Please call Miss Dolan at (201) 942-5000.

-Student wanted to do yard work and odd jobs in Montclair- flexible hours- $6/hour. Call 509-1899.

MCAT
Dr. Blank teaches 11 session complete review. Copious study materials. Video cassette make-ups. Interview counseling. 90% success rate.

For Rent

College Life Union Board presents

BRUCE WILLIS
DIE HARD
at 6:30 p.m.

BRUCE WILLIS
DIE HARD 2
DIE HARDER
at 9:00 p.m.

Tuesday, Nov. 27
In the SC Ballrooms
FREE ADMISSION!

c.l.u.b. is a class I of the s.g.a.
Cohesion's Corner:

Gamblers end Gnat's Cinderella story

Sixteen teams took part in the seven-game flag football season, bidding for six coveted playoff spots. After four playoff games, only the Gamblers and the Gnats were still standing.

The Gamblers, which feature former MSC football players, had lost just once this season en route to capturing the Tuesday - Thursday league regular season title.

In the league semi-finals, the Gamblers beat ZBT-A's six game winning streak, upending the fraterity based squad 12-0. The Gnats, finished in third place in the supposedly "inferior" Monday - Wednesday League with a 4-3 record. The Gnats had QB Brian Pray and Jeff Kowalchuk come off of injured reserve which proved to be key in the Gnats capturing a Super Bowl birth.

With a 4-3 record the Gnats had to take the NFL's equivalent of the wildcard route which included a 7-6 win over the defending champions The Birds. The combination of Pray to Rick Schannen for a 50 yard TD late in the contest proved to be the difference.

The Gnats didn't have long to celebrate their victory as the road to the Super Bowl went through the undefeated Princeton in 1989; the USA - USSR in 1980 Olympic Ice Hockey; the Jets beating the Colts in the 1969 Super Bowl. This would have been on the same scale if the Gnats could have upset the lofty Gamblers.

In the first half of the Super Bowl game, the Gamblers exploded. Ted Conley threw 3 first half touchdown passes to give the Gamblers an early 19-0 lead.

The Gnats tried to answer back on the last play of the first half when Brian Pray hooked up with Rick Schannen on a 50 yard TD pass.

The Gamblers had the ball to start the second half and with a 19 to 7 lead it was imperative for the Gnat defense to stop them in order to gain momentum. However, Ted Conley picked apart the Gnats defense as his Gamblers marched downfield. The second half drive culminated when Conley hit Mike Ketchum on a beautiful 25 yard TD pass.

The Gnats were now down 25 to 7 and were forced to go the long air game. However, a stingy Gambler defense would not let the Gnats score. John Fiore's two interceptions at the goal line stopped the Gnats cold on their ensuing touchdown drives.

"L.T. and Ron Clarke playing cornerbacks and Mike Strauss covering the middle gave me freedom to roam around and pick off passes," said Fiore.

The final score of the game was 25 to 7. Not a Hollywood ending for the Gnats' Cinderella story.

While the Gamblers rolled to a school title, they also had their eyes on capturing the state title. Sunday the Gamblers traveled to William Paterson for their shot at the crown. The tournament featured a double elimination format of 12 champions from public and private schools throughout the state.

The Gamblers beat WPC 18-13 and later romped Kean College 28-6 to get to the finals of the winner's bracket against Princeton.

The Gamblers second place finish was the best ever by an MSC team since the tournament began in 1983. The second place finish also earned the Gamblers an invitation to the nationals in the Louisiana Superdome. All they need is $10,000 to be able to go.

John Fiore earned the tournament MVP with 6 TD's and 6 interceptions. Cornerbacks L.T. and Ron Clarke also had great tournaments. L.T. had 5 interceptions on the day and Ron Clarke had 4.

Season Awards: (These awards were voted on by myself, the league supervisors and the referees.)

Outland Trophy (Best Offensive Lineman)
Gene Segeda - The Zoo
Lombardi Award (Best Defensive Lineman)
John Fiore - The Birds
Vinnie Henrich - The Birds

This brought the Gamblers to the state finals against Princeton. Once again Princeton had their number and was able to beat the Gamblers for the state championship.

Cont. on p. 30
Women's hoops preps for season

By Richard T. Green
Staff Writer

If there was any one phrase that could best describe the 1990-1991 Women's basketball season, it would be "great expectations".

After an impressive season last year, and a birth into the Sweet 16 of the NCAA tournament, great things are expected from the Lady Hawks this season.

Ranked 16th nationally in the pre-season polls, MSC has three returning starters Kim Wilson, Cathy Madalone, and Tracy Moffat.

Wilson tore up the hardwood last season as she was the NJAC leading scorer. Her impressive 89-90 campaign was recognized by the ECAC and the New Jersey Coach's Association which both named Wilson "Player of the Year".

Cathy Madalone returns to the squad after leading the team in assists last season. In addition to setting up scoring opportunities for her teammates, Madalone can hurt the opposition with her long range shooting.

Tracy Moffat brings an all around game to this year's team. Moffat is a multi-faceted player who according to Coach Jeffrey can hurt you either with the jump shot or a quick move to the hoop.

Returning non-starters from the 89-90 Lady Hawks include Cindy Poling, Jeanine Mullaly, and Shannon Shaffer. Cindy Poling was known for providing that needed quick spark off the bench and her tight "in your face" defensive style. Her defensive prowess is such that Coach Jeffrey feels Poling might be the best defensive player in the conference as well as a projected starter.

Last year Shannon Shaffer served as the understudy to the now graduated Carolyn Savio. With Savio's departure, Shaffer has redefined her game and worked herself into the position of getting a shot at cracking the starting five.

To round out the remainder of the team, Coach Jeffrey has a group of six fresh faces to work with. The six new additions include three transfers Tracy Bails, Maritza Martinez, and Stacy McWilliams. The other trio consists of three baby boomers Kerry Price, Judy Starr, and Monica Stellato. The blend of old and new faces will look to contribute to a program that has been a dominant force in the NJAC.

Despite having the two key losses of Carolyn Savio and Jackie Martinez, Coach Jeffrey is very optimistic about the season.

"Despite losing Carolyn and Jackie, we still have the nucleus of a strong team. We have three returning starters and a stronger bench. We have more depth this year at certain positions and I feel very good at our chances. Last year we had the #1 defensive team in the country, and this year's team is quicker, so we definitely have reasons to be optimistic."

The Lady Hawks open the season against Heidelberg in the Frostburg Basketball Invitational in Maryland. Heidelberg is ranked #7 in the country and is the team that made the Lady Hawks exit stage right from last year's NCAA tourney earlier than they preferred.

Last season's tournament loss hasn't slipped the minds of the Lady Hawks as they eagerly await to avenge their defeat.

cont. from p. 30

Butkus Award (Best Linebacker)
Mike Strauss - The Gamblers

Heisman Trophy (Best Player Overall)
Ted Conley - The Gamblers

The All-Co team
Offense
QB Ted Conley - The Gamblers
OL Gene Segeda - The Zoo
C Carl Buffalino - The Gamblers
OL Steve Mulheam - The Gamblers
RB Frank Quinn - The Birds
WR Jeff Trzeciinski - The Gamblers
WR Steve Johansen - ZBT-A
WR Doug Bullinger - The Zoo
WR John Fiore - The Gamblers

Defense
DL Vinnie Henrich - The Birds
DL Dexter Scott - The Zoo
DL Mike Fedor - The Gnats
LB Mike Strauss - The Gamblers
LB Billy Gallagher - ZBT-A
DB Ron Clarke - The Gamblers
DB Karl Monaco - The Bushmen
DB Rick Schannen - The Gnats
DB L.T. - The Gamblers

HELP! The YEARBOOK needs members!
Stop in and JOIN!

--Pictures, Layout, Writing--
We're located in the lower level of the Student Center
FUN!!

If you can't stop by, call X4346
WE WANT YOU!!

BOOK AND TOY FAIR
To benefit
MSC Child Care Center
and
Child Care Center Scholarship Fund

Tuesday, Nov. 27 10 a.m. - 3 p.m.
Wednesday, Nov. 28 10 a.m. - 2 p.m.

Announcement : Next issue's column will feature coverage of volleyball and the women's flag football finals.

La Campana is a Class One of the SGA
Men's soccer bows out of NCAA's

Richard T. Green
Staff Writer

After a highly successful 16-3 season, the MSC men's soccer team suffered a disappointing 4-1 loss to Glassboro State College in the opening round of the NCAA tournament. The Red Hawks looking to avenge an earlier 4-2 regular season loss to GSC, failed to generate any offense, and subsequently had an early exit from NCAA play. After falling behind early 1-0 MSC came back when Dominick Bucci scored on a penalty kick, with eight minutes left to tie the game at 1-1. However, GSC answered right back scoring with just over two minutes left and MSC headed into halftime trailing 2-1. GSC went on to add more goals in the second half to put the game away as the Red Hawks could manage only 11 shots on goal, their lowest shot total of the season. The final score was 4-1 in favor of the GSC ending any hopes the Red Hawks had of capturing the NCAA title.

MSC entered the game with several injuries to key players. Leading scorer Tom Estes played despite having a 103 fever and starting defender Dominick Bucci was injured midway through the first half, causing the Red Hawks to switch their entire defensive scheme. Despite playing with such adversity, Coach Masur still felt his team would have had a tough time winning even if everyone had been healthy.

"We faced a very focused and determined GSC team who knew how to make the right decisions and use our mistakes," explained Coach Masur.

Coach Masur also went on the record as saying,"Any rumors that might have been around saying about taking a head coaching job at Brown University are totally false and inaccurate. I'm looking forward to recruitment and the next spring season." Coach Masur was pleased with the performance of the team this year, as he should be, considering MSC finished the season at 16-4 without a senior on the entire team.

The Red Hawks established ten new records this past season including single season team marks in goals (79), assists (86) and points (244).

goalkeeper Mike Rodgers was unable to pitch MSC out of an injury suffered in pre-game warm ups.

With the injury to Rodgers, MSC was forced to play George Zauala, who played at 75% because he had been injured in a previous game.

X-country splashes through Mideast Regional Tourney

By Al Iannazzone
Staff Writer

The MSC Men's and Women's Cross Country Team slipped, splashed and dove its way through a downpour at the NCAA Mideast Regionals, Saturday, at Allentown College, in Allentown Pa. "We're happy no one was hurt," Coach Blanton said after his team competed in what Blanton called one of the worst weather conditions he'd ever experienced for a track and field event.

The heavy wind and rain caused the course to be extremely wet and muddy. The conditions were so bad that parts of the men's course runners were knee deep in water and in another place it was almost waist deep. "It was like a small lake," Blanton said. Some of the guys literally dove in the "simplified pool" and swam their way through, Coach said. Fortunately, everyone was all right. Well, almost everyone. Coach Blanton slipped and slid and suffered a sprained ankle getting to one of the mile marks.

Despite the horrendous weather conditions both races were completed. The officials at Allentown felt the conditions weren't that bad and were safe for running, Blanton said. In the competition, the women placed 12th, out of 24, and were led by Jennifer Welch, who finished 34th, out of 277. The men finished 24th, out of 26, and were led by Brian Major, who came in 78th out of 344.

"I think we ran well," Blanton said. "We're just glad everyone finished the race. We told them to be aggressive but be cautious since the course was so wet and muddy. Our major concern was getting through the race. I will definitely express my sentiments against running the regionals or the 1992 NCAA Cham­pionships in Allentown".

Two weeks ago, at the New Jersey Athletic Conference Championships in Holmdel, the men and women had four runners named to the All-Conference Team while running the 3.1 mile competition in 2003, 20:07 and 21:26 respectively. These times were good enough to earn them second, third and 12th overall. Danielle DeBose also ran well, coming in 25th, with a time of 23:38. Welch, Papke, Hennessy and DeBose all ran personal bests on the Holmdel course, (in other words, this isn't the first time the team has run in Holmdel, and this the best time the girls ran on their numerous occasions there), Blanton said.

The men's lone All-Conference runner in the 5.1 mile competition was Brian Major, who placed eighth with a 27:32 time. Major was followed by Wesley Pears, placing 20th with a 28:24 mark, and Tim Fuhrer, finishing 21st at 28:27. Coach Blanton said these were also personal bests, on the Holmdel course, while running the 3.1 mile competition in 20:03, 20:07 and 21:26 respectively. These times were good enough to earn them second, third and 12th overall. Danielle DeBose all ran personal bests on the Holmdel course, (in other words, this isn't the first time the team has run in Holmdel, and this the best time the girls ran on their numerous occasions there), Blanton said.

The Bottom Line

by Matt Winter

Straw put up last year. Therefore letting Berry go cranked the top 5 Met front office blunders sandwiched in between the Nolan Ryan-Jim Fregosi deal and the 77 Seaver trade.

While many believe that letting Straw go wasn't the right way to go, some of his former teammates have been out­spoken and believe that saying bye-bye Berry was beneficial to the team. The most outspoken met has been infielder Tim Teufel. While Teufel is a reserve infielder, he's noted as being the most respected voice in the Met clubhouse. Teufel strongly believes that letting Darryl go was a good move claiming that he wasn't a gamer and that other teammates felt Darryl had let the team down by not playing down the stretch because of an injured back. Teufel said that it is one thing to be injured, but questioned the fact that Darryl didn't seek treatment for the injury making the team wonder if he didn't fold up the tent prematurely.

Then there is the issue of those who sided with Darryl. That side is anchored by former teammate and said the magic words, Mets fans asking how, why, and what's next?

So now in a ballpark in Flushing there is a hole in the outfield the size of the Grand Canyon with no immediate repair. Fortunately, the Mets have three months to the start of the season and by not signing Straw there is a lot of money to spend on the free agent market. Unfortunately, this year's market is the weakest in recent memory.

So Darryl is gone. A member of a left coast team that by taking number 8 away from the Mets has taken from New York's heart and soul. Along with Doc Gooden the tandem acted as the backbone of what could have been a great franchise and is now in a downward swing.

Almost ten years ago when baseball reigned supreme in The Bronx, the now dethroned King George let a lockjaw Hall of Famer named Reggie Jackson dethrone King George let a lockjaw Hall of Famer named Reggie Jackson. Darryl Gooden the tandem acted as the back­bone of what could have been a great franchise and is now in a downward swing.

So now in a ballpark in Flushing there is a hole in the outfield the size of the Grand Canyon with no immediate repair. Fortunately, the Mets have three months to the start of the season and by not signing Straw there is a lot of money to spend on the free agent market. Unfortunately, this year's market is the weakest in recent memory.

Almost ten years ago when baseball reigned supreme in The Bronx, the now dethroned King George let a lockjaw Hall of Famer named Reggie Jackson. Darryl Gooden the tandem acted as the back­bone of what could have been a great franchise and is now in a downward swing.

Almost ten years ago when baseball reigned supreme in The Bronx, the now dethroned King George let a lockjaw Hall of Famer named Reggie Jackson. Darryl Gooden the tandem acted as the back­bone of what could have been a great franchise and is now in a downward swing.

Almost ten years ago when baseball reigned supreme in The Bronx, the now dethroned King George let a lockjaw Hall of Famer named Reggie Jackson. Darryl Gooden the tandem acted as the back­bone of what could have been a great franchise and is now in a downward swing.

Almost ten years ago when baseball reigned supreme in The Bronx, the now dethroned King George let a lockjaw Hall of Famer named Reggie Jackson. Darryl Gooden the tandem acted as the back­bone of what could have been a great franchise and is now in a downward swing.

Almost ten years ago when baseball reigned supreme in The Bronx, the now dethroned King George let a lockjaw Hall of Famer named Reggie Jackson. Darryl Gooden the tandem acted as the back­bone of what could have been a great franchise and is now in a downward swing.

Almost ten years ago when baseball reigned supreme in The Bronx, the now dethroned King George let a lockjaw Hall of Famer named Reggie Jackson. Darryl Gooden the tandem acted as the back­bone of what could have been a great franchise and is now in a downward swing.

Almost ten years ago when baseball reigned supreme in The Bronx, the now dethroned King George let a lockjaw Hall of Famer named Reggie Jackson. Darryl Gooden the tandem acted as the back­bone of what could have been a great franchise and is now in a downward swing.

Almost ten years ago when baseball reigned supreme in The Bronx, the now dethroned King George let a lockjaw Hall of Famer named Reggie Jackson. Darryl Gooden the tandem acted as the back­bone of what could have been a great franchise and is now in a downward swing.

Almost ten years ago when baseball reigned supreme in The Bronx, the now dethroned King George let a lockjaw Hall of Famer named Reggie Jackson. Darryl Gooden the tandem acted as the back­bone of what could have been a great franchise and is now in a downward swing.

Almost ten years ago when baseball reigned supreme in The Bronx, the now dethroned King George let a lockjaw Hall of Famer named Reggie Jackson. Darryl Gooden the tandem acted as the back­bone of what could have been a great franchise and is now in a downward swing.

Almost ten years ago when baseball reigned supreme in The Bronx, the now dethroned King George let a lockjaw Hall of Famer named Reggie Jackson. Darryl Gooden the tandem acted as the back­bone of what could have been a great franchise and is now in a downward swing.
Hawks weather storm, beat GSC

By Tom Reid

For most other teams, an overall record of 7-3 with a conference record of 4-2 would be considered a successful season. But this is MSC, a place where the standards by which excellence is measured is judged to be greater than what the Hawks achieved this season. So it’s safe to say that although the Hawks won their final two games this season, there was feeling of disappointment by players, coaches, and fans after the Hawks defeated Glassboro State last Saturday, 22-20 at Sprague Field. It was a hard fought win, but MSC failed to make the playoffs and anything less at MSC is hard to swallow.

Saturday’s Glassboro game was played in rainy, windy conditions that seemed to be more conducive to water skiing than football. Yet the Hawks, with nothing to play for but pride, showed their true colors by squeezing out a victory in the season finale, and salvaging the season with a win for the seniors who were playing their last game at MSC.

In the early stages of the game, it didn’t look good for the Hawks. MSC fumbled the opening kickoff and Glassboro recovered on MSC’s 36 yard line. Two plays later, Glassboro scored on a 37 yard touchdown pass to give the Prof a 7-0 lead with 14:59 left in the first quarter.

After that, MSC and Glassboro traded possessions until MSC put together a 7 play 70 yard drive. MSC used both the run and pass effectively on this drive by using tailback John Walker and Glassboro’s 35 yard line. Banas connected on a 35 yard scoring strike to wide receiver Ernie Harris. Jim Young’s extra point attempt was wide right however, and MSC trailed 7-6 with 8:07 left in the first quarter.

After MSC kicked off, Paul Cioffi sacked Glassboro quarterback Ed Hess. Hess was soon forced to punt. After the punt, Glassboro’s punt returner fumbled the ball and Walker recovered the ball at the 26 yard line.

On the next series, MSC fumbled the ball right back to Glassboro on the 1 yard line. Bob Franks, Jim Deshore scored on a 1 yard run making the score 22-20. MSC then recovered an onside kick and was able to run out the clock and hand Glassboro a 22-20 loss.

Giantola feels that the key game for the Hawks this season was the Kean game. It was at a point where we were questioning ourselves and their ability as a team. “Kean was a big win,” he said. “We were emotionally down, focusing on ourselves. But to a great extent in the second half, we overcame. Paul (Cioffi) really gave this team a lift with the touchdown he scored and showed why he is All-American.”

So what does MSC do to keep their winning tradition next season? Well Giancola is confident that MSC will once again live up to the high standards and be an answer.

This isn’t easy because it’s so difficult to break kids who have been here and not lost anything less at MSC is hard to swallow. But recruiting players is very difficult according to Giancola. “Some athlete may be recruiting by 10 schools, so we have to try and sell the whole college life to the kids in high school. Assistant Coach O’Conner tries to visit as many schools as possible, but it isn’t easy to get the players. It’s very competitive.”

The remainder of the half was marred by turnovers and sloppy play, due to the impossible weather conditions. Glassboro could never seem to get going the rest of the half, and the end of the first half, MSC lead 15-7.

The third quarter saw no scoring by either team, but with 5:02 left in the quarter, MSC fumbled and Glassboro recovered at MSC’s 22 yard line. Glassboro marched down the field on the Hawks defense and with 14:56 left in the fourth quarter Glassboro then scored on a quarterback sneak. A two point conversion failure, however, and Glassboro trailed 15-13 at the start of the fourth quarter.

The Hawks again hurt themselves with a turnover when Paul Cioffi recovered a fumbled snap at Glassboro’s 33 yard line. John Walker then ran 33 yard for a touchdown. Jim Young’s extra point was good, MSC had a 22-13 lead with 8:07 left in the game.

MSC kicked off to Glassboro and they were maybe an inch away from a touchdown, but Jim Young saw them march all the way down to MSC’s two yard line. But Glassboro fumbled the snap on the two yard line and Winship Young recovered the ball at the 3 yard line.

On the next series, MSC fumbled the ball right back to Glassboro on the 1 yard line. Bob Franks, Jim Deshore scored on a 1 yard run making the score 22-20. MSC then recovered an onside kick and was able to run out the clock and hand Glassboro a 22-20 loss.

So what does MSC do to keep their winning tradition next season? Well Giancola is confident that MSC will once again live up to the high standards and be an answer. The credit they deserve, but MSC’s line of Fernandez, Alex Sanzagoroski, DeSerra, no, Franks, Mark Padovino, and Vigeant helped open huge holes all season for Walker, Kenyatta Greene and Derrick McGee. McGee was tremendous and Walker has said time and time again that they would be nothing without them...Ernie Harris led the team with 32 receptions followed closely by Walker at 30....