Spring Carnival Pandemonium

Busted for 'steppin'

By Su Marchese
Correspondent

Three MSC students and one former student were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct on Wednesday, April 24, according to Campus Police.

The men, four Montclair State students and a former student between the ages of 19 and 23, reportedly were celebrating their first anniversary as members of a fraternity. Their activities included marching, chanting and singing. After the group ignored three requests to disperse, Campus Police summoned the Little Falls Police Department for assistance. Police report that some of the students used the walking sticks which were part of their marching routine to strike several parked cars. Upon the order of the Little Falls Police, the students dropped their sticks but continued verbal assaults on the officers. Four of the men were arrested on disorderly persons charges. They were booked and released.

The incident is being investigated by Campus Police and the dean of students.

The men contested the release.

Cont. on p. 3

SGA legislator busted for smoking pot

By Michael Walmsley
Editor-in-Chief

SGA Legislator James Cotter and another MSC student were arrested on Friday, April 26, and charged with use of a controlled dangerous substance. At 10:24 p.m., two Campus Police officers observed Cotter and Michael Fortuna allegedly smoking marijuana in lot 28 during the Spring Carnival, said the Little Falls police department. They were released later that night.

Cotter declined to comment and Fortuna could not be reached for comment.

Their court date has been set for May 15 at the Little Falls Municipal Court.

Cotter has been a legislator since the Fall 1990 semester. His responsibilities are to represent the student body at SGA meetings and vote on all legislation that effects the students at MSC.

In order to become a student legislator, one is required to get 150 signatures from undergraduate students and maintain a 2.5 GPA.

Busted for 'steppin'

Carnival sparks five fights and eight arrests

By Tim Lenahan

Eight people were arrested during last weekend’s Spring Carnival, according to Campus Police.

At 10:24 p.m. on Friday, two male MSC students allegedly smoking marijuana were observed by Campus Police officers in lot 28 (See SGA, this page). They were arrested, charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance and released on their own recognizance.

At approximately 1 a.m. on Saturday, three individuals were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct when Campus Police attempted to break up an apparent dispute. Michael Daddario, a student at William Paterson College, was also charged with resisting arrest. Two of the individuals are juveniles.

Between 1 and 2 a.m. on Saturday, an individual was arrested for provoking groups of people to engage in threatening and violent behavior. The individual, Seth Godfrey, is not an MSC student.

On Sunday, two males were arrested and charged with possession of an unlawful weapon. Campus Police noticed a car in lot 25 that had been broken into and two vehicles leaving the scene. The officers pursued both cars and stopped one. A search of the vehicle produced the weapon. Neither man, Dalaibor Suchy nor Joseph Caninia Jr., is an MSC student.

Five additional altercations occurred at the Carnival, each of which involved groups of 20 to 30 people. All individuals involved were escorted off the Carnival site but no arrests were made.

C.L.U.B. sponsored Spring Carnival: Chills, thrills, spills and a rash of arrests.

Special Campus Police Report:

Carnival sparks five fights and eight arrests

Compiled by Tim Lenahan

Eight people were arrested during last weekend’s Spring Carnival, according to Campus Police.

At 10:24 p.m. on Friday, two male MSC students allegedly smoking marijuana were observed by Campus Police officers in lot 28 (See SGA, this page). They were arrested, charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance and released on their own recognizance.

At approximately 1 a.m. on Saturday, three individuals were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct when Campus Police attempted to break up an apparent dispute. Michael Daddario, a student at William Paterson College, was also charged with resisting arrest. Two of the individuals are juveniles.

Between 1 and 2 a.m. on Saturday, an individual was arrested for provoking groups of people to engage in threatening and violent behavior. The individual, Seth Godfrey, is not an MSC student.

On Sunday, two males were arrested and charged with possession of an unlawful weapon. Campus Police noticed a car in lot 25 that had been broken into and two vehicles leaving the scene. The officers pursued both cars and stopped one. A search of the vehicle produced the weapon. Neither man, Dalaibor Suchy nor Joseph Caninia Jr., is an MSC student.

Five additional altercations occurred at the Carnival, each of which involved groups of 20 to 30 people. All individuals involved were escorted off the Carnival site but no arrests were made.

Carnival sparks five fights and eight arrests

Compiled by Tim Lenahan

Eight people were arrested during last weekend’s Spring Carnival, according to Campus Police.

At 10:24 p.m. on Friday, two male MSC students allegedly smoking marijuana were observed by Campus Police officers in lot 28 (See SGA, this page). They were arrested, charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance and released on their own recognizance.

At approximately 1 a.m. on Saturday, three individuals were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct when Campus Police attempted to break up an apparent dispute. Michael Daddario, a student at William Paterson College, was also charged with resisting arrest. Two of the individuals are juveniles.

Between 1 and 2 a.m. on Saturday, an individual was arrested for provoking groups of people to engage in threatening and violent behavior. The individual, Seth Godfrey, is not an MSC student.

On Sunday, two males were arrested and charged with possession of an unlawful weapon. Campus Police noticed a car in lot 25 that had been broken into and two vehicles leaving the scene. The officers pursued both cars and stopped one. A search of the vehicle produced the weapon. Neither man, Dalaibor Suchy nor Joseph Caninia Jr., is an MSC student.

Five additional altercations occurred at the Carnival, each of which involved groups of 20 to 30 people. All individuals involved were escorted off the Carnival site but no arrests were made.

Carnival sparks five fights and eight arrests

Compiled by Tim Lenahan

Eight people were arrested during last weekend’s Spring Carnival, according to Campus Police.

At 10:24 p.m. on Friday, two male MSC students allegedly smoking marijuana were observed by Campus Police officers in lot 28 (See SGA, this page). They were arrested, charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance and released on their own recognizance.

At approximately 1 a.m. on Saturday, three individuals were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct when Campus Police attempted to break up an apparent dispute. Michael Daddario, a student at William Paterson College, was also charged with resisting arrest. Two of the individuals are juveniles.

Between 1 and 2 a.m. on Saturday, an individual was arrested for provoking groups of people to engage in threatening and violent behavior. The individual, Seth Godfrey, is not an MSC student.

On Sunday, two males were arrested and charged with possession of an unlawful weapon. Campus Police noticed a car in lot 25 that had been broken into and two vehicles leaving the scene. The officers pursued both cars and stopped one. A search of the vehicle produced the weapon. Neither man, Dalaibor Suchy nor Joseph Caninia Jr., is an MSC student.

Five additional altercations occurred at the Carnival, each of which involved groups of 20 to 30 people. All individuals involved were escorted off the Carnival site but no arrests were made.

Carnival sparks five fights and eight arrests

Compiled by Tim Lenahan

Eight people were arrested during last weekend’s Spring Carnival, according to Campus Police.

At 10:24 p.m. on Friday, two male MSC students allegedly smoking marijuana were observed by Campus Police officers in lot 28 (See SGA, this page). They were arrested, charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance and released on their own recognizance.

At approximately 1 a.m. on Saturday, three individuals were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct when Campus Police attempted to break up an apparent dispute. Michael Daddario, a student at William Paterson College, was also charged with resisting arrest. Two of the individuals are juveniles.

Between 1 and 2 a.m. on Saturday, an individual was arrested for provoking groups of people to engage in threatening and violent behavior. The individual, Seth Godfrey, is not an MSC student.

On Sunday, two males were arrested and charged with possession of an unlawful weapon. Campus Police noticed a car in lot 25 that had been broken into and two vehicles leaving the scene. The officers pursued both cars and stopped one. A search of the vehicle produced the weapon. Neither man, Dalaibor Suchy nor Joseph Caninia Jr., is an MSC student.

Five additional altercations occurred at the Carnival, each of which involved groups of 20 to 30 people. All individuals involved were escorted off the Carnival site but no arrests were made.

Carnival sparks five fights and eight arrests

Compiled by Tim Lenahan

Eight people were arrested during last weekend’s Spring Carnival, according to Campus Police.

At 10:24 p.m. on Friday, two male MSC students allegedly smoking marijuana were observed by Campus Police officers in lot 28 (See SGA, this page). They were arrested, charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance and released on their own recognizance.

At approximately 1 a.m. on Saturday, three individuals were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct when Campus Police attempted to break up an apparent dispute. Michael Daddario, a student at William Paterson College, was also charged with resisting arrest. Two of the individuals are juveniles.

Between 1 and 2 a.m. on Saturday, an individual was arrested for provoking groups of people to engage in threatening and violent behavior. The individual, Seth Godfrey, is not an MSC student.

On Sunday, two males were arrested and charged with possession of an unlawful weapon. Campus Police noticed a car in lot 25 that had been broken into and two vehicles leaving the scene. The officers pursued both cars and stopped one. A search of the vehicle produced the weapon. Neither man, Dalaibor Suchy nor Joseph Caninia Jr., is an MSC student.

Five additional altercations occurred at the Carnival, each of which involved groups of 20 to 30 people. All individuals involved were escorted off the Carnival site but no arrests were made.
REGIONAL

The executive director of Passaic County Utilities, Anthony Ross, said county transfer stations have had an 18,000 ton drop off in the amount of garbage passing through them. Part of the decline is due to recycling and the poor economy. But Ross said he suspects some Passaic garbage haulers may be secretly bringing their garbage to the Essex County incinerator which charges $27 less per ton than Passaic.

Jersey City Police Officer Francis Sharkey was shot in the face trying to stop a robbery. The suspects were captured and Sharkey is expected to survive.

New Jersey Senator Frank Lautenberg has proposed a $1.4 billion "smart highway" initiative. The proposal is hoped to cut back on congestion from accidents, tolls and traffic by utilizing new technologies instead of road construction. Electronic toll booths are among the new systems expected to be used in the plan.

NATIONAL

Thunderstorms rocked parts of the Central Plains states killing at least 33 people. About 100 tornadoes were reported on Friday alone. Hardest hit was Andover, Kansas where 22 people were killed.

A recent poll conducted found only 13% of Americans believe in all Ten Commandments, 91% lie regularly at home and work and most workers admit to goofing off at least seven hours a week. According to the poll, 72% of Americans do not know their neighbors, 41% have used illegal drugs and 31% of married Americans are having or have had an affair.

Representative Robert Roe of N.J. is seeking support for a new nickel a gallon gas tax. The new tax, which would be added to the present federal gasoline tax of 14 cents, would raise $6.6 billion a year for mass transit and road systems. Roe is head of the House Public Works and Transportation Committee.

The space shuttle Discovery blasted into orbit with seven astronauts aboard. Most of the trip, which was delayed seven weeks due to faulty parts, will be devoted to developing sensors for tracking and destroying enemy missiles. NASA also unveiled the new shuttle Endeavor.

INTERNATIONAL

Some Kurds are returning to Northern Iraq, moving from the mountains to tent cities set up by allied forces. But many Kurds refuse to return to Iraq because they fear reprisals by Saddam Hussein once allied forces are replaced by U.N. forces.

A British newspaper reported Saddam Hussein is attempting to rearm. Jordanian sources stated that Hussein was setting up an operation to illicitly acquire military technology and equipment. U.S. sources revealed that Hussein is smuggling spare parts and ammunition from North Korea and China into Iraq.

White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said progress on Mideast peace was "obviously somewhat disappointing." Secretary of State James Baker had to cut short his trip to the Middle East for personal reasons. Neither side seemed willing to make enough concessions to meet face to face.

Two large earthquakes struck Soviet Georgia. The initial quake measured 7.1 on the Richter scale and one of its aftershocks measured 6.2.

Students speak on obscene calls

By Paul Brundage
Correspondent

Several female students living in Blanton and Freeman Halls have received obscene telephone calls from a male claiming to be pledging for a fraternity, according to Campus Police.

Although only four females have complained to Campus Police so far, the number of students that have been actually harassed by this caller appear to be far greater.

The incidents had apparently stopped after October until April 15th. Between April 15-18, two female residents in Blanton and Freeman Halls received calls from a male who identified himself as "John." He claimed to be pledging for a fraternity and needed to get girls to watch him strip.

One Blanton female resident, a 24-year-old senior who wished to remain anonymous, said she received a call from a male who identified himself as "John" about two weeks ago. She said he claimed to be a pledge of the Senate Fraternity at MSC and that he hoped to strip for her to prove himself to his brothers.

She offered her $40 for her help. She said that she refused to take money, but agreed to meet him outside of Blanton Hall.

"I believe he must be an MSC student because he knew exactly where Blanton Hall was. He never needed directions," said the student.

"At first I was scared to get into his car, but I did get in when he let me hold his keys (a different set than the ones in the car's ignition)," she said.

She drove him to a parking lot behind Blanton Hall, she said, and "John" got undressed saying "you have to see how big I am."

After fully undressed, "John" turned on the radio of the car and began to masturbate, asking her many obscene sexual questions.

"He seemed nervous, like he had never done this before. He asked me to touch him, but I refused and he was not forceful," she said.

After finishing, "John" drove the Blanton resident back to her dorm and dropped her off untouched. He asked her to keep the incident secret and drove away. The incident was never reported to Campus Police.

She said that "John" was always asking her for female residents' phone numbers. He is targeting freshmen females that are in sororities or pledging. Apparently, he believes they will be more willing to go along with his act.

A 20-year-old female Freeman resident said that "the caller" called her last October and claimed he was instructed by his fraternity brothers, because he was pledging, to call random phone numbers and ask girls to paddle him. The female, a junior who wished to remain anonymous, did not report the incident to Campus Police because she said, "he wasn't abusive. It was pretty funny and he seemed so desperate."

At the caller's request, she even gave the phone number of a suite-mate to him. He called the suite-mate and asked the same questions in the same order. The junior admitted that it seemed like a fraternity prank, but she did get a little concerned when other Freeman residents confessed to receiving similar phone calls. "He claimed he needed many girls' phone numbers at school, and apparently he got them," she said.

Campus Police believe that the calls from last October and this April were done by the same person because the incidents follow the same pattern of a pledge trying to become a member of a fraternity. Also, all reported calls involved a male either offering money to a female witness that would watch him strip, or a male bragging about the size of his penis.

"John" has been described as a male Caucasian, light brown hair, 5'11" 201 lbs., with very fair skin. He usually claims that he is a sophomore. Sgt. Newcombe of campus police urges anyone receiving calls of this nature to notify Campus Police immediately.

A Temple University residence said, "I think the incidents have been going on for longer. I heard of instances where police officers confused our staffs with other Greek organizations."

Rothman accidentally bumped into one of the men while trying to enter the car. The other male jumped around and hit Rothman, who fell to the ground. Another came over and kicked Rothman in the head.

"There were at least eight people there. I have no idea if they were from MSC, but I have never seen them before," Ammaturo said.

Ammaturo said he ran over to the male who kicked Rothman and began fighting with him. Two other males jumped Ammaturo, then Toolan pushed the other two away, Ammaturo said.

One of the other guys said that the police were coming and they jumped in their cars and took off, telling the ZBT members to "meet them in the park" presumably to finish off the altercation, Ammaturo said.

Campus Police arrived about three minutes after the other eight left. Rothman is in good condition and did not need to be taken to the hospital. The fraternity members have not decided if they are going to file a complaint, Ammaturo said.

This newspaper is recyclable.

ZBT member assaulted while leaving Carnival

By John Tibbetts
Staff Writer

A Zeta Beta Tau (ZBT) fraternity member was assaulted while trying to enter his car on Friday, April 26, from the carnival with three other ZBT members, according to Scott Ammaturo, a member of ZBT. No charges have been filed with Campus Police at press time.

Ammaturo said that he and three of his fraternity brothers, Kevin Toolan, John Rothman and Scott Sheppard, were on their way to their car when they observed two males, who were with a group of six others, yelling at each other by Rothman's car.

"I asked why we were being handcuffed and the Campus Police officer said that he had heard of instances where police officers have been killed by their suspects for not having them handcuffed. Another officer claimed that this was not a racial incident because he had a lot of black friends.

"The reason why we were arrested was because Campus Police confused our staffs for violent weapons. It is stupid that officers, working with such a diverse student body, can't try to understand various cultures," he said.

"This is not the first time that an African-American organization that was 'stepping' in the quad has been harassed by Campus Police. There was a prior incident where an organization was 'stepping' in the quad and Campus Police arrived with nightsticks, and local police came with their guns drawn," he added.

Hutchinson also said that there was another instance when a United Greek Council organization was having a party. When the party was over, several people were talking outside. No violence occurred but the Campus Police reported to Dean James Harris' office that there was a riot.

Dean Martin, who is still investigating the incident, said that people have different perceptions of what sticks may be used for. Are they clubs, sticks, staffs, or batons? Given certain situations, people will react differently. Campus police were reacted to their perception accordingly.

Richardson said that stepping is a form of dance and is not used to promote violence. The students plan to use this idea of non-violence as a defense at their arraignment on May 15, 1991.
Outdoor Jam

Sunday
May 5
12-5 PM
FREE IN THE AMPHITHEATER

"THE ALARM"
"LESLIE SPIT TREE-O"
"BIGGER THOMAS"

Bring a canned food
Get a free drink cooler

Don't miss - don't miss

Only 100 tickets available

For info call 803-4428

Montclair College
15121 Saticoy Street
Los Angeles, CA 91331

Phazer Gym

Class One of the 6th
Class One Concerts
County sheriff and six police departments respond to fight

On April 27 at about 3 a.m., there was a dispute between two large groups of males in front of Bohn Hall. When Campus police arrived at the incident, they were approached by a male who claimed he was hit in the face with the butt of a gun. Little Falls, Clifton, Montclair, Wayne, West Paterson, Cedar Grove Police departments and the Passaic County Sheriff's department all responded to the scene. The individual was not found and no arrests were made.

ASSAULT:
April 25 between 9:00 p.m. and 9:50 p.m. a female student was harassed by a male student speaking and acting in an alarming way. The victim later identified a male in a photo lineup who had previously been arrested by MSC police for criminal trespassing in the Student Center.

THEFT:
April 26 between 12:00 p.m. and 12:45 p.m. a guitar left unattended in a McEachern Hall practice room was stolen.

Between 6:15 p.m. on April 26 and 12:30 a.m. on April 27, stereo components, a leather jacket, a 35 mm camera, an IBM computer, printer and monitor and $50 cash were stolen from a room in Bohn Hall.

VANDALISM:
Between 10:30 p.m. on April 26 and 2:30 p.m. on April 27, a 1987 silver Subaru was sprayed with black paint.

Between 11:00 p.m. on April 26 and 3:15 a.m. on April 27, the window of a 1986 Chevrolet was smashed and the gas cap removed.

Between 11:00 p.m. on April 26 and 12:45 a.m. on April 27, the doors of a 1988 Oldsmobile were kicked in.

April 29 between 8:00 p.m. and 12 a.m. on April 30, a food service van parked on the west side of College Hall had its window smashed.

April 26 at 2:45 p.m. Campus Police received a call from a dorm director who obtained a plastic bag containing a small amount of marijuana that a maintenance person saw dropped by a male student walking across the quad. The man was not located.

El departamento de Español presenta obra Teatral

For the benefit of our readers who are not yet fluent in English, The Montclarion is printing an article in Spanish weekly.

Por Jorge L. Cruz
Staff Writer

Dentro de las actividades para la comunidad de habla hispana, el próximo 6 de mayo a las 7 p.m., se llevará a cabo la representación de la obra teatral titulada, "Una Mariposa Blanca" de la escritora chilena Gabriela Roepke. Este espectáculo se escenificará en el "Calda Auditorium" de la escuela de Español-Italiano, quién también actúa en el teatral "Thespis" dirigido por Felicidad Gabriela Roepke. Este espectáculo se será el drama de "Una Mariposa Blanca" y aprender algo más de timismo, algo más de tu cultura.

Si deseas pasar un rato agradable, además de ayudar a tan noble causa, asiste al próximo lunes a la presentación de "Una Mariposa Blanca" y aprende algo más de ti mismo, algo más de ti mismo.
Rock Climbing Course

May 4 and 5 or May 11 and 12
Course will be given by the Adirondac Rock and River Guide
Service

only $40
usually costs $81
Sign up in room 120
Student Center Annex
Sponsored by the Conservation Club
A Class 1 of the SGA
must be 18 years of age
NOW available at
The College Store

PLAYERS

Nominations for '91 - '92 Elections
Monday, May 6, 1991

Everyone is welcome.

Rm 118
Student Center Annex
4:00 PM

Players is a Class One of the SGA

Watch Montclair State's Literary and Arts Magazine
during the week of May 6th.

We are now accepting submissions for the Fall 1991 issue until the end of October. So don't miss it!!
Congratulations to the New Officers of Delta Phi Epsilon

President-Karen Kacynski
Vice President-Lisa Mullane
Treasurer-Jennifer Seyler

Recording Secretary-Kim Collins
Scholarship-Colleen McVeigh
Pledgemother-Kelly Gibson

Social Chair-Janine Waugh
Rush Chair-Laura Dennis
Service Chair-Valerie LeBlanc
Sisterhood Chair-Joy Lulis
Corresponding Secretary-Jennifer Sudol
Historian-Dana Paluzzi
Greek Council Reps-Michelle Zito
Michelle McGrath

Fundraising Chair-Jennifer Heerwagen
Publicity Chair-Nancy Pasquale
Alumnae Rep-Kathy Breency
Spirit Night Chair-Stacey Edelstein
Homecoming-Stacey Edelstein
Special Affairs-Kimberly Constantino

If you're feeling stressed-confused-worried-pressured
Don't keep it inside
Tell someone today!

CALL THE DROP-IN CENTER

Whether you need information, peer counseling, or just to talk, it is strictly between you and the Center located between Richardson Hall and the Student Center.

Stop in or call 893-5271
24 hours a day
7 days a week.

---

Mainstage Theater Series
Department of Broadcasting, Speech, Communication, Dance, and Theatre presents
The Life and Adventures of Nicolas Nickleby
Compelling characters come to life in a bygone era

May 2-6 and 9-11 at 8pm
May 3 and 10 at 2:15pm

Memorial Auditorium
for more information and reservations call 893-5112

The Higher Institute of Philosophy
The University of Leuven (Belgium) offers
Complete Programs in Philosophy
From a One Year Certificate in Philosophy to the Ph.D.
All courses are in English
Tuition is 15,000 Bi/Year (+/-$500)

The Secretary, English Program
Kardinaal Mercierplein 2
B-3000 Leuven, BELGIUM
AXP's "Crows" reach new heights: Fraternity receives national status

By Audrey Regan
Staff Writer

Like any consumer, William Palm shopped around for a good deal. His search wasn't for the best car his money could buy or the ripest apples per pound. It was for a fraternity.

"No offense to the other fraternities on campus, but they didn't have what I was looking for," recalls the junior photography major. "I talked to some friends and we decided to start our own."

Back in December of 1989, Alpha Chi Rho (AXP) began with 15 members and two founding fathers—Palm and his friend Rob Capasso. Now, three semesters later, their gamble has paid off: membership has more than doubled, and last Saturday, after a week of re-pledging (or "postulating"), the fraternity was accepted into its Neptune, NJ-based national chapter.
AXP's "Crows" soar to national status
cont. from p. 9

The week culminated in Saturday's ceremony (complete with the fraternity's national president), and was followed by a formal dance at the Wayne Manor.

For campus chapter president Kevin Beegle, however, the whole ordeal hasn't "sunk in yet," although he adds that the morale has never been higher among the 36 members. National membership, to him, is a definite plus.

"Becoming national allows us to know more things about the chapter," he said. "We'll learn why certain things are said and what certain things mean. We'll also be chartered by the national chapter instead of being solely chartered by the SGA."

Their new status will also enable them to continue their programming. AXP is a social fraternity, but it does hold fundraisers (they recently raffled off two compact disc players), community service projects (such as building a garden for the Day Care Center last fall) and educational work.

"The AXP Educational Foundation gives several scholarships to national members," Kalmar said.

One thing that hasn't changed with national status, though, is the need for recruiting entry level positions. "We're top-heavy right now," Beegle said (he and most of the Crows are juniors). "It's up to our rush committee to get more people to come in so they can eventually take over leadership positions."

At the moment, however, they're content to put their enterprise on hold and celebrate. "It's awesome," Beegle said.

Taking time to brush up on others' creative endeavors

Sunday, April 28, members of the Association for Creative Endeavors (ACE) held a Calcia Appearance Improvement Party complete with paintbrushes in hand. Together with professor John Luttropp (shown at near right), members Jonathan LeVine, Cornelia Tucker, Michele Nolan, Pam Graham (pictured below left to right) and Debbie Yacoubian painted the gallery walls inside the Calcia Fine Arts Building and then moved outside to paint over the rust on the orange metal sculpture on the Calcia lawn.

The group will hold another improvement party on Friday, May 3, at 1:00 p.m. to give the metal sculpture another coat of paint. Their goal is to restore it to its original form.

All Around the Campus: The Community Speaks

Compiled by H. David Pollock

Do you feel that the violence this weekend was related to the Carnival in any way?

Roger Germinder
Sophomore/Broadcasting

"I wouldn't say the Carnival was the cause of it, but it didn't help any."

Ulana Zahajkewycz
Junior/Illustration

"I think whenever there is a social situation there is always room for trouble."

Cara Fiorio
Junior/Business Administration

"It's not related to the Carnival. Definitely too much alcohol."

Dave Oates
Junior/English

"There are fights at that Carnival every year. Society is just getting more violent."
Don't miss out on the band outside
FREEMAN HALL
Saturday, May 4, 1991
at 7:30pm

depeche mode ✦ Modern English

1000's of
TEACHING jobs in
NY, NJ, PA, CT, DE, MD

Put your finger on every job, in every district, every month. New monthly publication, called Teaching Opportunities, contacts each district in Mid-Atlantic region monthly. More than 1,000 K-12 teaching jobs listed, plus projected openings. Who to call, salary, starting date, certification and more provided.

Best bet: 5 issues, $52.50. 3 issues, $35. 1 issue, $12.50. Send check or money order to:
Teaching Opportunities
637NN Georges Road
North Brunswick, NJ 08902-3331

Save time. Call now (908) 246-7046

THE UNKNOWN GRADUATE
He didn’t send graduation announcements!
Don’t let this happen to you.
Order now!
NOW available at
The College Store
EDITORIAL POLICY

The Montclarion would like to ask the administration of MSC why it does not remain consistent when it comes to the policy of releasing names of students involved in news stories. The Right of Privacy Act gives the administration total control over names it deems suitable for publication, without establishing any standard for which to adhere to.

This is an awesome power to possess, and is one that the administration takes full advantage of by only submitting student names when it is beneficial to them. The staff of The Montclarion has been witness to this all too often, with the most recent example being the arrest of one of MSC’s more controversial student legislators. The administration decided it would not release the names of the individuals because they deemed it unfit.

This is a real injustice to the campus community who has the right to know the name of one of its elected officials caught breaking the law.

It was somehow different when the student who was calling in the bomb threats in the dorms was caught. His name was also immediately released for publication because it made the campus look good to see that a severe nuisance was tracked down and eliminated.

Yet conversely, when a student was caught with a gun in his dorm room, the news staff tried exclusively to acquire the name of the individual involved but was unsuccessful. This, again, was because a student with a gun shows the campus in a negative light, and the administration hoped by not putting a name with a face, it might seem less real.

Another example of this inconsistency came in September when 21 students were arrested at the Clove Road apartments for under-age drinking. The names of the individuals involved were not released to the paper because having so many under-age students caught drinking on school property makes the college seem out of control.

This inconsistency in policy regarding the printing of student names makes it very difficult for The Montclarion to do its job of reporting the news. It is time that the administration set a standard for which the releasing of names to the press can be based upon. What is going on now needs to stop. The administration has total control over what names are printed without being subjected to anything but their own opinion. What has happened as a result is the names of those students that tarnish the school’s images are being swept under the carpet.

PHOTO STAFF
Beverly Masterson
Dave Pollock
Eric Basilo

CIRCULATION
Phi Sigma Pi Fraternity

TECHNICAL DEPARTMENT
Chris Leppin.................Graphics Mgr.
Mauro Manfroni...............Graphics
Andrea Dimino..............Graphics
Mike Davis...........Editorial Cartoonist
Elizabeth Lubin.............Typesetter
Michele Love................Typesetter
Jody Bardin...............Proofer

FACULTY ADVISER
Prof. Ron Hollander

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT
Kerry Raftery................Treasurer
Luisa Carrizzo............Ad. Manager

The Montclarion is published weekly, except during examination, summer and winter sessions. It is funded, in part, by funds received from the Student Government Association, Inc. of Montclair State. Advertising rates are available upon request, in Room 113 of the Student Center Annex, or by calling the business department at (201) 893-5237. The views expressed in the editorial pages, with the exception of the main editorial, do not necessarily reflect the opinion of The Montclarion.

The Montclarion reserves the right to edit all letters to the editor for spelling, grammar, and brevity.
No matter what Washington may think, America's energy problems won't go away when Saddam Hussein does.

Because the fact is, America uses far too much oil. And looking for more in our natural wildlife preserves, the ocean, or the Persian Gulf won't solve the problem.

But investing in long-term conservation programs will. Like mass transit. Efficient lighting and heating technologies. Alternative sources of energy. And cars that get better gas mileage.

Please support Greenpeace Action. Because if you think spilling oil is a disaster, wait until we start spilling blood.
PARTY AT COLLEGE HALL

WHEN: SURPRISE, SURPRISE!!

WHERE: THAT BIG TACO BELL LOOKING BUILDING WITH THE WHITE WALLS AND THE RED ROOF.

WHY: TUITION HIKE.

HOW: LIKE, TOTALLY HYPED UP CRAZY SCREAMING YELLOW BONKERS.

STAY TUNED !!!!!!
A Kiss Before Dying is the latest in a string of suspense thrillers that have flooded theatres, this one directed by James Dearden, the screenwriter for 1987's phenomenal Fatal Attraction. Although it offers a few good scares, A Kiss Before Dying is also a painfully predictable thriller that seems to be a catalogue of familiar ideas from other thrillers, from Hitchcock's classics to the most recent Sleeping with the Enemy. But don't let that stop you from having a good time.

The plot centers around Jonathan Corllis (Matt Dillon), a student at the University of Pennsylvania who is on the verge of marrying Dorothy Carlson (Sean Young), the daughter of a wealthy copper plant owner (Max Von Sydow). In an ineffective - and blood drenched - scene, Jonathan decides to end the relationship by tossing Dorothy off a ledge. Later, we find out Dorothy has a twin sister, Ellen (again played by Young), who believes her sister was murdered while the police label it as a suicide. Somehow Jonathan hooks up with Ellen and before long they're married and he's working for her rich father. Things start to go wrong, however, when friends and classmates of Dorothy's threaten to expose Jonathan. Jonathan then responds by bumping them off, though eventually Ellen starts to catch on and there is a brutal showdown between the two in an ending that is almost a frame-for-frame repeat of the conclusion of Fatal Attraction.

The story is hardly original, but the movie has its charms. At least an attempt was made to gradually build up tension, an element that was sorely lacking in Sleeping with the Enemy. Dearden adds punch to this familiar tale by providing sudden, solid shocks from time to time that are extremely effective in heightening the suspense. Thus the ending, tied as it is, works well because of what has gone on before.

Dillon is good actor, but this role is hardly a stretch for him. Jonathan Corllis plays like the male equivalent of Fatal Attraction's villain, and Dillon fails to add a fresh inventive twist on this familiar character. Young, who can be good (The Boot) or terrible (Fire Birds), depending on the material, is a delight here and adds lots of energy and humor to her dual role.

Despite its shortcomings, A Kiss Before Dying is an exciting and enjoyable thriller that could have been great if more care had been taken with the script. The most shocking element of the film is that you can predict the ending - the entire ending - after watching the first five minutes. And some of the film's most suspenseful moments are telegraphed by Dearden beforehand (you know, for example, that Dillon will appear out of nowhere in the film's climax). In any case, don't let that stop you from having a good time.

Earth Day at South Street

By Maria Russo
Staff Writer

Last year in Central Park, New York City Earth Day 1990 was held. It turned out to be a huge success, why not do the same this year? Earth Day 1991? That's exactly what happened this past Saturday at South Street Seaport. An enormous festival full of music, environmentalists, guest speakers, dancers, and anyone else interested in preserving the earth attended. The function once again proved to be a success!

The entire day was aimed to open the ears and minds of those who didn't realize how much jeopardy our environment is in. Unlike last year's Earth Day, there were many more environmental organizations trying to teach us all how we can save the earth now before it is too late. These organizations ranged from the Rainforest Alliance, to Peta, to the Natural Resources Defense Council. The entire day was out to fill our brains with knowledge of our surroundings, not just to entertain us with famous musicians like last year.

Even though the day to many people was an educational experience, it did not go with-out some live entertainment. Anyway, all work and no play makes the Earth a dull place to live! The main attraction to many was the performance of The Fixx, Vinnie James, and The Samples. Each one presented their own views about saving the earth and then led into a song. The music was definitely the highlight. It captured the spirits of the audience and sent us on a journey high beyond the clouds. In other words, the music was tremendous! The Samples sang a song about an uprooting subject relating to some living creatures that roam the earth; I personally wasn't aware of their threat. Their song entitled "African Ivory" is about all the elephants and rhinos in Africa that are being killed for their horns and tusks to make jewelry. After listening to it, I personally would think twice about buying a piece of ivory jewelry!

There is one important message that everyone should learn from Earth Day: it's not just a day event to recycle your aluminum cans or to plant a tree in your backyard, it's everyday tasks that should be taken seriously and religiously! Remember, if there is no earth, there is no Montclairian!

Safire releases new album

By Laurie Jeffers
Staff Writer

Safire has just released I Wasn't Born Yesterday featuring the soon-to-be-pop-smash, "Made Up My Mind." If you're one of the regular weekend club hoppers, this is just the right album for you. For those who avoid the clubs as much as possible, but still love a good beat or ballad, this is also for you.

Safire did not write any of the music on this album, but she feels she can personally relate every song to some facet in her life. Either way, the lyrics are very emotional and Safire brings her feelings right into the song. She feels certain songs are her own personal "Declaration of Independence," a statement of her search for true love, commitment, friendship, or standing up for her (or anybody's) that matter rights. "I Never Heard" is "for a girl" who must mention. It's a cross between Club and Motown, and why wonder? It was written by Safire's idol, Michael Jackson.

"It's my decision I'm takin' control/ My intuition is letting me know! It's time I put myself first on the list..." "Made Up My Mind."

"I'll be the one you call/ In the middle of the night/ Wipe all your tears away...A friend to the end/ On what we may..." "Some Things Never Change."

"Don't waste my time/What you call love is just a game you play/ I was too blind to see/ Now you're not fooling me..." "I Wasn't Born Yesterday."

I thought this album was great from the very first song. If you love to dance or at least like to pretend you know how to dance, then pick up a copy of I Wasn't Born Yesterday. After all, I wasn't, and I'm sure neither were you (born yesterday, that is...). We know good music when we hear it.**

Couch Potato Update

By George Olschewski

After 14 seasons, CBS says adios to a ratings amigo- Dallas, and after 356 episodes, it's about time.

I will admit to watching the earlier seasons (like the first two), but once the "Who shot J.R.?" craze ended, I gave it up. Call it TV evolution. Growth, even. It was like watching Sesame Street, graduating to Mr. Roger's Neighborhood, and ending up at 3-2-1 Contact. I grew it, plain and simple. And now, the show that gave new meaning to the term Texas Crude is getting the cowboy boot. Let's take a trip down Memory Lane.

Remember when:

1. The ever classic Who shot J.R. episode that hit America on the edge of its seat back in 1980 (Hey, it was even bigger than Luke and Laura!).
3. Good ol' Bobby E. takes a few slugs originally aimed for J.R. and subsequently dies (or does he?).
4. The biggest cop-out in television history. In 1986, Bobby steps out of a season-long dream, and we find out that all that happened could have been reversed by Bobby tapping his cowboy boot three times and saying, "There's no place like Southfork, there's no place like Southfork."
5. Plus, the Ewings fell off of everything. Horses, buildings, the wagon, you name it. Victoria Principal gets the Couch Potato nomination for official spokesperson for Lifecall, outing the ever-popular Mrs. Fletcher (I've fallen- and I can't get up!)...
Ten forgotten musical treasures

By Oren Silverstein

1. Julian Cope Saint Julian
A surprisingly good album from some guy that I never heard of and figured would be the typically wimpy/whiny U.K. singer who'd been a third-rate Morrissey clone. Instead, I heard good, guitar-oriented, punky tunes. The lyrics can get a trifle spaced at times, but he redeems himself with songs that say: "World, shut your mouth/Put your head back in the clouds and shut your mouth." Favorite memory: Watching Jules on Joan Rivers' old late night show, singing "Spacehopper," and making incredible faces into the microphone.

2. Jane's Addiction
Nothing's Shocking
Songs about prostitutes! Songs about Ted Bundy! Songs about being as big as the ocean (and that's big)! Songs about standing in the shower and thinking about stuff, while peeing on yourself! Singer Perry Farrel (Peripheral — get it? Hal) sings like a cricket, looks like a cricket, dances like a cricket, so therefore must be a cricket! He also must hold some sort of record for having three records in a row that all feature bare nipples.

3. Max Q
I don't understand why this album wasn't a huge hit. It featured vocals by INXS frontman Michael Hutchence, a guy who has, according to an ex-girlfriend of mine, "an excellent voice and a great tush." Besides tunes, this album has some of the funkiest, most danceable rhythms that I've heard in a long time. It also has a good set of intelligent, politically aware lyrics like: "There's a great deal of fear inside/That I'm right in my conclusions/There's a great deal of pain inside/And I'm supposed to be alright/And now they want to crown me/For the Ghost of the year." The album is an example that it is possible to use your mind while shaking your booty (Hey! Another but free comment!)

4. Mission of Burma
One of the most important American punk bands that I'm sure nobody has ever heard of. The Rykodisc label put together this compilation CD with all of the attention to sound and detail that they are known for. The disc runs for over 80 minutes (You audiophiles heard right, 80 minutes on one disc), so the skip button on the disc player may get a workout from some people. You might have heard of this group because R.E.M. played a cover of their "Academy Fight Song" during their Green Tour. Spin Magazine, those suckers, even gave this album their "Outstanding Recording of the Year Award!"

5. The Pursuit of Happiness
Love Junk
The only way I can describe the way this band sounds is to call it Woody Allen with a boner and a guitar. Singer/songwriter/guitarist Moe Berg likes to write about good old-fashioned schtruppin'. But, unlike those head bangin', groupie despoothing, virgin converting heavy metal guys, Moe writes about it from an adult's point of view. In fact one of the album's best (and funniest) songs is the anthem "I'm An Adult Now," where he writes "I don't hate my parents/I don't drink just to spite them/Get my own reasons to drink now/Think I'll call my dad up and invite him...I don't write songs about girls anymore/I have to write songs about women/No more boy meet girl, boy loses girl/More like, man tries to keep what the hell went wrong." And that, plus production by geek-genius Todd Rundgren.

6. Graham Parker Live!
Alone In America
Speaking of geeks, here's one from the Angry Young Man department. Graham wrote a whole bunch of really good albums that nobody bought, even though the critical hounds of adulation were wagging their collective tails over him. On this tune, he took a dozen of his best songs and stripped them down to just vocals and guitar, and recorded this album over his 1988 club tour of the East. That means that Graham was the one who started this current acoustic rock and roll craze. Never mind the MTV Unplugged show, or Teasha's lame live album. Give credit where it's due. Buy this album; Graham needs money for sunglasses.

7. Red Hot Chili Peppers
Mother's Milk
The coolest band around, bar none. I don't just mean that because they have a penchant for performing with nothing on except for socks on their cocks. They can only be described as a combination Punk-Punk-Rap-Metal-Reggae-Soul group. It looked as if this would be the album that would put the band over the top, but radio still managed to ignore them in favor of the latest Janet Jackson album. MJIC was supposed to get them to play for last year's spring concert, but instead went with the infinitely superior Meatloaf. I mean, go figure; the guy's made eleven albums. Name one besides "Bat Out of Hell.""}

8. Patti Smith Dream Of Life
Patti Smith's latest album. Her previous records (including her chart topper "Because the Night") have sold a lot of records, but not this one.史氏:她的上一张专辑席卷了排行榜，但这个专辑却没有人买。她还经常在演奏会上用自己写的东西，把人吓到不敢听。
Jon, here's your article

By Richard E. Buckley Jr.
Managing Editor

A crowd of 20 was treated to a delightful dose of the musical wizardry of Jon Max Green and company in McEachern Hall on April 25. Green's performance was sublime. In fact the only thing missing was his grandmother, but she'll get to see the video.

Green's band opened with Can't Ya Think which was written and arranged by the infamous Mark Tonelli who plays guitar in "The Band." The rest of the band is as follows: On the flutes, Lisa Giannotti and Laurie Lindstrom. Clarinets were Patrick J. Burns and Michelle Galan. The saxophonists were Marla A. Meisner (alto/o soprano), James Finnen (tenor) and Ann Marie Bifano (alto). On brass there was Dave Lanzo on trumpet, James Frankel on trombone and Josh Mandel on tuba. The rhythm section consisted of John Girt on synthesizer, Jason DePope on bass, Tonelli, Kenny Straub on drums and Tom Mulvaney on marimba. On the video camcorder was Lauren Green who never took a solo.

Anyway, Can't Ya Think was a great song to open to. As the song ended, Green jumped on stage waving his arms as though he were actually instructing "The Band." Green talked and introduced the next song which he dedicated to the musical icon Donny Wahlberg, the famed pyromaniac and member of the alleged band New Kids on the Block. As I now look at the program, "The Band" apparently did a song called Save Me a Day which I have no recollection of and hence, will not comment on.

The next song was Living Backwards written by Green with parts of the melody by DePope and Tonelli. This is the bread and butter of any of Green's shows and this particular performance was especially moving. I laughed, I cried, I sighed. Following that was an intermission with a lot of food.

After the intermission were three of the greatest songs since Swedish supergroup ABBA recorded Knowing You, Knowing Me. The first song was One Meatball which is one of the first songs Green ever learned. It's a bluesy little number and it's a lot of fun. I Know How To Keep You Home was a great song. Performed in the Sinatra tradition, it made the audience say "Frank who?" That's the way it is, Jack! Much to the surprise of everyone, there was an encore. After all this an encore, go figure?! The encore presentation was The King Of The Jungle from The Jungle Book. It moved me! Who would have known the boy from the bad side of the track could sing? For those of you, like Kelly Lockwood, who missed the show, Green will be performing at the Cymbala Farm in New Hampshire on August 3. Seating is limited so please reserve your seats early.
Congratulations TO THE NEW SISTERS OF
Delta Phi Epsilon
ZETA CLASS:

Jenn Dassori
Christine D'amato
Karen DiConsiglio
Alicia DiFolco
Lesley Harmon
Tina Hogan
Jessica Katarzsky
Lisa Levy
Christine Lovell

Jean Manelski
Lisa Primavera
Amy roseman
Kristin Schemp
Lois Tessello
Sue Thomas
Sue Trujillo
Janice Wilson

A Class 4 of the SGA

CASH
FOR YOUR BOOKS!

BRING YOUR BOOKS TO:
The College Store
May 13-23, 1991
Monday-Thursday 8:30am-7:30pm
Friday 8:30am-4:00pm
Saturday(May 18th) 9:00am-1:00pm
Blanton Hall Atrium
May 20-22, 1991
10:00am-7:00pm
ID REQUIRED

We buy the largest range of books-
Hard or Soft bound.

IMPORTANT
BUYBACK INFO

RETAIL...THE BEST OFFER
We will pay up to 50% of the book price providing the textbook:
A- Will be required for next term.
B- Is needed to fill next term's enrollment.
C- Is in reusable condition.
Example:
You paid $46.00 for a textbook...
We will pay $23.00 or 50%.

WHOLESALE...THE NEXT BEST OFFER
♦ For books having a national demand, the Bookstore will pay 15% to 40% of the new book price.
♦ Discontinued books are shipped to a wholesaler who recycles them to other colleges and universities.
♦ Old editions have no national value.

REMEMBER...
♦ Recycling your used books is good for the environment and lowers the price of textbooks.
♦ Books with writing or highlighting may have value.
♦ The price of books is determined by the publishers,
not the Bookstore.
♦ Wholesale prices are based on national supply & demand.
♦ Damaged copies will be deducted appropriately.
♦ Old editions will not be purchased.

OUR GOAL IS TO BUY
BACK AS MANY OF YOUR BOOKS
AT 50% AS POSSIBLE.
Congratulations to the brothers of AXP on presents Quiet Hours at 6:00 pm featuring Zeta's don't cream properly!

date before the day of the formal.

Thanx for a great year. Luv, Denise

Flopper, Mat At, Homier & Corpse

Love, the car borrower

-Mermaid - Thanks for being you! I am As A Part Of My Family Tree! Your Big/

love you baby! LM

and bad but we made it through. thanx. #46

formal will be even better times were good french bread pizza without asking?

-Lorna & Niki - Did you guys eat my french bread pizza without asking?

-Becky, Friends are far & few in between, -Rubble(PZ91)Camival was great! I can't better than last year's. Who would've

the Crows" #35

congratulations to all the sigma sisters who got big/littles brothers on Sunday!

-Samson - Don’t make the same mistake twice or three times - whatever it is.

-Crows: It’s been 2 years and our hard work paid off, Let’s not stop here.

-Jenn - Don’t listen to the Karens, go anyway on Wednesday. I’ll look stupid dancing by myself. Keith

-To the girls in 106A - thanks for a good time Wed. night but next time keep a better eye on us both! T & M

-110A - Michele - You’re something else...Love an admirer

-T.I.M. - (Sigma) As long as we know what counts!

-Becky, I hope you had fun Saturday night!!!

-Liz - We always find them in pain lately.

-Steve - Please reply....I'm still waiting to hit the bathroom -don't ya think?

-Ziz - It’s not easy being miss modern 1991! Flipper

-Crows - Theta Chi Phi is what life is all about. Bulldog

-Lisa(Sigma) U were MIA on Sat. night. I looked but couldn’t find you so me &

-Zachary stayed at Kappa Xi Kappa

-Donna - It’s a 30 time - time to hit the bathroom -don’t ya think?

-Zic - It’s not easy being miss modern 1991! Flipper

-Zeta - I love you guys! You’re the best! Keep up the good work!

-Deedels - oh savanah I’ve been searching for you everywhere! Rand

-Kevin(TKE) & Christine(SDT) - Sorry to barge in like that. Brian(ZBT)

-I bet your sorry...

-Jenny - late happy b-day! how does it feel to be 21? Your date to the formal

-Sue, Happy 21st birthday! Love Liz

-Patrick - Get it all out of your system. Love your hometown buddy

-Flounder(Theta Xi) Didn’t start a singing career. A.O.

-Uncle Bob - I’d get that suit jacket sterilized. A.O.

-Shadow - No more rock painting? A.O.

-Kristi - I miss dining with you & our lovely talks. Love Jeanne

-AXP - Theta Chi Phi Forever "Long live the CROWS" #35
Mother Goose and Grimm by Mike Peters

GREAT, THE SEWING WORKED, BUT... BOTHER! THIS JACKET LOOKS SIMPLY BREATHTAKING WITH THESE TROUSERS!

Calvin and Hobbes by Bill Watterson

YOU KNOW, BEFORE THERE WAS TELEVISION, A CAT'S NORMAL JOB WASN'T ON THE TV LIKE THIS. THEY'D HAVE SOME OTHER CATASTROPHE THAT TOASTER RUINED TOAST!

Shoe by Jeff McNelly

I'M SORRY, MR. BLACKWELL, IT'S THE ONLY SHIRT WHERE IT'S NOT TOUCHING YOUR BUTT UNDER A TREE!
Red Hawks eliminated from post-season play

By Al Iannazzzone
Assistant Sports Editor

For the first time in school history, the women’s softball team did not advance to the NJAC Championship tournament, as the sixth seeded Rutgers-Camden Roadrunners edged the third seeded Red Hawks 4-3 in the opening round of the NJAC playoffs.

Ramapo scored one run in the first when Dawn Martin singled home Debbie Malkiewicz. In the bottom of the second, Montclair took a 2-1 lead when Kristi Kuchinski doubled and LuAnn Zullo singled, to set up a first and third situation. Kim Schoemer came up and laid down a sacrifice bunt that scored Kuchinski, and Zullo came home on another wild pitch and scored on a single by Zullo. The ten run rule came into play and MSC won 11-1.

Gardenier was 2-4 with two runs scored, Kuchinski went 1-2 with four RBI and Zullo finished 2-4 with two RBI. Fyfe helped her own cause as she went 3-3 with four runs scored. She tossed a three-hitter and improved her record to 13-12.

The Red Hawks close out their season this week with doubleheaders against Scranton and Stony Brook. If they can sweep both twinbills they will put their record above .500 and probably earn a seed in the Eastern College Athletic Conference playoffs. The softball team has never lost more than 17 games before, so, if they drop one, they will eclipse this record, their season will be over and it will mark the first time in its history that Montclair finished below .500.

Ramapo won 11-1 in a game that was shortened due to a ten run rule. In the first inning, Gardner, Madalone and Fyfe all singled to load the bases for Kuchinski, who cleared them with a three-run triple. Zullo singled her home and Montclair scored three more runs in the inning, including one on an RBI single by Kuchinski. The ten run rule came into play and MSC won 11-1.

Gardenier was 2-4 with two runs scored, Kuchinski went 1-2 with four RBI and Zullo finished 2-4 with two RBI. Fyfe helped her own cause as she went 3-3 with four runs scored. She tossed a three-hitter and improved her record to 13-12.

The Red Hawks close out their season this week with doubleheaders against Scranton and Stony Brook. If they can sweep both twinbills they will put their record above .500 and probably earn a seed in the Eastern College Athletic Conference playoffs. The softball team has never lost more than 17 games before, so, if they drop one, they will eclipse this record, their season will be over and it will mark the first time in its history that Montclair finished below .500.

YOGI BERRA'S RACQUETBALL CLUB

$25
1 year racquetball membership

SAVE 35% by joining the club NOW!!

NO MONTHLY DUES Fees are paid only when you decide to use the club's facilities.

Racquetball court fees range between $8 and $3.50 per hour per person.

(example: prime time court fee of $16 is $8 each for 2 players or $4 each for four players/non-prime time court fee of $10 is $5 each for 2 players or $2.40 each for four players).

FREE USE of fitness equipment is included with payment of the court fee--"lifecycles," rowing machines, "lifesets," "universal weightlifting equipment," saunas, whirlpools and steamroom.

FITNESS EQUIPMENT can be used by racquetball members who want to just workout (not play racquetball) for a $4 fee.

$25
1 MONTH FITNESS MEMBERSHIP

UNLIMITED USE of all fitness equipment including steam room, sauna, and whirlpool for 1 month.

NO CONTRACT renew your membership only if you decide you want to continue to work out at the club.

YOGI BERRA'S RACQUETBALL CLUB

© The Montclarion / Thursday, May 2, 1991

SPRST

First baseman LuAnn Zullo had 4 hits and 4 RBI in the doubleheader sweep of Rutgers-Camden earlier this week.
Coherence's Corner
By Glen Haerle

Baffige sparks Crypto

As the 1991 SILC softball season is about to start up post-season play, the post-season picture is coming into focus. In the American League, Crypto Clearance and Delta have played a much improved style of ball. Crypto's star, Paul Cioffi, has put his lineup with success and Ed Baffige's big bat has helped his squad win two crucial games in their division and clinch a playoff spot. Delta has also won its last two contests and are looking to catch a slumping PRP team for the final playoff spot. Delta's bats came alive scoring a whopping 50 runs in their last double-header.

Turning to the National League, the Gamblers, the Undefeateds, and the No Names have clinched playoff spots. The last post-season invite is up for grabs between the AXP's, the Plan B's, and Southern Comforts looking to go to the post-season fiesta.

In the International League, the Undefeateds and ZBT Gold are still undefeated at 5-0 and haven't played much due to two weeks of rainouts.

Southern Comforts 15 Gamblers 9

The mighty fell last week as Mark Dally had 4 RBI to lead the Southern Comforts and handed the Gamblers its first loss of the season. Chris Borgio and Larry Masin also went deep to pace the S.C. attack.

Pat "Squeak" Ferrell also contributed to the cause with a solid defensive effort.

No Names 18 AXP 5

Despite Ken Turash's 3 dingers and 5 RBI, the No Names were able to answer back scoring six runs in the final frame to beat AXP by three.

John Ashley and Mike Zorich each hit 3 runs to propel another No Name comeback.

Julio Ramos also carried a heavy stick contributing with 2 homers and 3 RBI.

Crypto Clearance 20 PRP 11

In extra innings, the challenge, Crypto Clearance prevailed over a noticeably slow and sluggish PRP squad 20-11.

PRP came up big with hitting performances by Chris Albertson (2 HR, 4 RBI) and Rich Dygos, whose second homerum off pitcher Matt Wintner still hasn't come down yet.

Crypto Clearance exploded with 11 runs in the final two innings penned by Ed Baffige, who went 5-5 with three HR's and 8 RBI.

Dorene Sananes has officially broken out of her slump going deep twice and driving in four.

Undefeateds 15 Plan B's 12

Undefeateds was down by 6 going into the seventh when they exploded for 3 runs and then went on and put the game away.

Bob Downey went 2-2 to lead the Plan B's with a double and a three run blast.

Ron Clarke and John Rubinetti also hit shots into the cheap seats for the hard luck with a double and a three run blast.

Dorone Sananes has officially broken out of her slump setting the stage for Rob Barraco.

Barraco calmly sent a one strike offering into orbit for the win which sent the Crypto team into a frenzy.

Player of the Week
Ed Baffige-Crypto Clearance

The former MSC quarterback had a big week going 8-8 with seven dingers and 10 RBI to lead his squad to two wins and a playoff spot.

Bum of the Week
Brian Bartell-Delta

Brian receives this dubious honor due to his carelessness and lack of sportsmanship.

In addition to swinging with a teammate for swinging at a 3-0 pitch in a close contest, Brian became the first player of the season to be thrown out of a game for arguing with an umpire.

Co's Comments

Two teams that have turned things around and playing hot right now are the No Names and Crypto Clearance.

The No Names suffered through a 1-3 start and have won five straight. Bobby Capelli, a big slugging last season has played despite back problems. Capelli, like Larry Bird, had put the pain aside and continues to play ball and produce.

Julie Ramos has come around also and now has 13 home runs.

Crypto Clearance, managed by Paul Cioffi, has been playing solid ball as of late. The team is loaded with power and has cut down considerably on errors and mental mistakes.

Both teams have had several come from behind victories which could prove to be crucial once the playoffs start. These two teams are going to be strong contenders for the title as they meet Tuesday at 6 to finish up the regular season.

Soccer Championship
Gamblers 4 AXP 3

Rich Ferraro fed Dan Roberts with four assists and Gerrin Presti with 3 RBI each. Mike Walmley also chipped in with a 3-4 effort.

Crypto Clearance 16 Delta Chi 15

Crypto Clearance exploded with 11 runs in the final two innings penned by Ed Baffige, who went 5-5 with three HR's and 8 RBI.

Despite Ken Turash's 3 dingers and 5 RBI, the No Names were able to answer back scoring six runs in the final frame to beat AXP by three.

John Ashley and Mike Zorich each hit 3 runs to propel another No Name comeback.

Julio Ramos also carried a heavy stick contributing with 2 homers and 3 RBI.

Crypto Clearance 20 PRP 11

In extra innings, the challenge, Crypto Clearance prevailed over a noticeably slow and sluggish PRP squad 20-11.

PRP came up big with hitting performances by Chris Albertson (2 HR, 4 RBI) and Rich Dygos, whose second homerum off pitcher Matt Wintner still hasn't come down yet.

Crypto Clearance exploded with 11 runs in the final two innings penned by Ed Baffige, who went 5-5 with three HR's and 8 RBI.

Dorene Sananes has officially broken out of her slump going deep twice and driving in four.

Undefeateds 15 Plan B's 12

Undefeateds was down by 6 going into the seventh when they exploded for 3 runs and then went on and put the game away.

Bob Downey went 2-2 to lead the Plan B's with a double and a three run blast.

Ron Clarke and John Rubinetti also hit shots into the cheap seats for the hard luck with a double and a three run blast.

Dorone Sananes has officially broken out of her slump setting the stage for Rob Barraco.

Barraco calmly sent a one strike offering into orbit for the win which sent the Crypto team into a frenzy.

Player of the Week
Ed Baffige-Crypto Clearance

The former MSC quarterback had a big week going 8-8 with seven dingers and 10 RBI to lead his squad to two wins and a playoff spot.

Bum of the Week
Brian Bartell-Delta

Brian receives this dubious honor due to his carelessness and lack of sportsmanship.

In addition to swinging with a teammate for swinging at a 3-0 pitch in a close contest, Brian became the first player of the season to be thrown out of a game for arguing with an umpire.

Co's Comments

Two teams that have turned things around and playing hot right now are the No Names and Crypto Clearance.

The No Names suffered through a 1-3 start and have won five straight. Bobby Capelli, a big slugging last season has played despite back problems. Capelli, like Larry Bird, had put the pain aside and continues to play ball and produce.

Julie Ramos has come around also and now has 13 home runs.

Crypto Clearance, managed by Paul Cioffi, has been playing solid ball as of late. The team is loaded with power and has cut down considerably on errors and mental mistakes.

Both teams have had several come from behind victories which could prove to be crucial once the playoffs start. These two teams are going to be strong contenders for the title as they meet Tuesday at 6 to finish up the regular season.

Lacrosse captures 5th straight title

By Keith A. Idec
Staff Writer

The Montclair State Men's Lacrosse Team was geared up for their annual "New Jersey Lacrosse War" against Kean College on Saturday at Sprague Field in Upper Montclair. Last year's "War" game, Montclair defeated Kean 17-13 during the regular season, and had a straight 6-0 record in the NCLC men's Conference title. However, Kean got its revenge on Montclair with a 15-11 victory in the ECAC Metro New Jersey-New York final. Montclair went into the game with a record of 9-2, while Kean went in 9-3. Montclair led the overall series 14-7.

Both teams' coaches were looking for the game to be a great battle between two excellent teams. Kean Coach Hawley Waterman said, "It's going to be another New Jersey Lacrosse War." The victory put Montclair's record to 10-2, with a 6-0 Knickerbocker Conference mark. Kean fell to 9-4, and 5-2 in the conference.

On Saturday, Montclair State battled a tough Manhattanville College Lacrosse Team. The Red Hawks edged Manhattanville 21-17. Montclair's attack was led by the Van New brothers, Bill and Keith. Bill, a senior midfielder from Montville, scored three goals and had one assist. Keith, a freshman tackled the show, scoring six times and dishing out an assist. Also, John Huffstutler was excellent, scoring five times and passing for three assists.

Senior midfielder Jack Belanger from Clifton, threw in three goals. Anthony Persico was the majority of the offense for Manhattanville, scoring nine times. This victory clinched Montclair State's fifth consecutive Knickerbocker Conference title. The Red Hawks finished with a perfect 7-0 conference record, and currently have an 11-2 overall mark. Manhattanville had a chance to win the conference title, but finished 6-1 in the conference.

Montclair concludes the regular season on Thursday when it travels to play the United States Merchant Marine Academy.
Freshmen phenoms sparkle at Penn Relays

By Michael Frasco
Sports Editor

For the last 97 years, runners of all ages from many different institutions around the country have taken their hopes and talents to Franklin Field at the University of Pennsylvania, site of the 1991 Penn Relays. This was the case for the MSC outdoor track relay teams last Thursday and Friday, as Coach Blanton’s runners competed in the world’s oldest and largest relay carnival.

“The weather and track conditions were perfect. We ran about 5:40 p.m. and it was just getting cool. The sun had gone down and the air quality was great for running,” Blanton said.

Maybe Mother Nature was hinting to Blanton and his team that perhaps this was to be their day in the sunshine. In fact it was nothing but clear blue skies for the women’s 1600m relay team: Denise Drakes, Carla Roberts, Sharon Lindo, and Yvonne Bradford. This fine freshmen quartet came through big time, winning their section with a time of 3:53.57, shattering the school record of 3:58.18. Not satisfied? Consider that this time qualified them for the NCAA Championships at the end of May. Still not satisfied? The time of 3:53.57 was the fastest in the country in Division III track and field.

A very proud Coach Blanton had this to say about yet another outstanding performance by his women’s 1600m relay team. “Once again, these ladies have come through. They’re not only making history, but they’re re-writing it every week and they’re all freshmen. We just hope that they stay in their books, remain healthy and keep everything in perspective.”

But the excitement didn’t stop there. MSC was out to make the best of this annual running spectacle and it did just that.

The women’s 400m relay team, Denise Drakes, Shantay Brame, Yvonne Bradford and Shawn Williams, sprinted their way into the MSC record books, by breaking the old mark of 49.41, and replacing it with a 49.18 time. This was the second fastest time in the nation for Division III and also qualified them for the NCAA Championships later this month.

The men’s 1600m relay team did some fine running of its own, as the team of

by Tom Reid
Staff Writer

The MSC baseball team (19-11) is steadily gaining momentum, winning six out of their last seven games. “We’re really playing well and our defense is playing well,” said slugger outfielder Dave Kennedy. “We still have a long way to go though, but we’re going in the right direction.”

MSC took a road trip to the University of Scranton and came away with a 7-3 victory. Vinny Henrich pitched a solid seven innings of seven hit ball in a game which MSC needed a late game rally to come away with the victory. With the game tied 3-3 in the eighth inning, MSC was able to take the lead when Lee Alston scored on a wild pitch giving the Hawks a 4-3 lead. In the ninth, MSC scored three runs, highlighted by Mike Brandon’s two-run double and Alston’s sacrifice fly, to give the Hawks some insurance runs. Luis Torres pitched the last two innings, allowing no runs to preserve a 7-3 victory.

MSC next took on Ramapo in a key Northern division NCAA game. The real story of the game was MSC pitcher Drew Ryan. He pitched magnificently, allowing nine hits, eight of which were fane infield singles, stifling the Ramapo bats and giving the Hawks a 5-3 victory at Pittser Field.

In the fifth inning, Kennedy cracked a homerun scoring Joe Critelli to give the Hawks a 2-0 lead. In the fifth, Timmy North drove home Steve Antonucci with a single. Then at Pittser Field in a thrilling game that lasted 4 hours and 21 minutes and featured 28 walks, 21 hits, seven errors, and 12 pitchers between both teams.

MSC leftfielder Joe Critelli waits patiently to take his licks.

MSC scored six runs in the first inning highlighted by five walks and Brandon’s three-run double. However, Eastern Connecticut pecked away at MSC’s lead by scoring two runs in the second, three runs in the third, and four runs in the fourth to take a 9-7 lead. MSC took advantage of five Eastern Connecticut errors to bring the Hawks to within one run after five innings, 10-9. Eastern Connecticut then scored two runs in the eighth inning to take a 12-10 lead. But MSC fought back in the bottom of the eighth, highlighted by Critelli’s RBI single, and three Eastern Connecticut errors accounting for four unearned runs.

The top of the ninth featured game winning dramatics. Winning pitcher Brian Devins walked the lead-off batter and, after a sacrifice, Kennedy came in to face Ken Vailiire. Vailiire hit a screaming line drive to the shortstop DiLaurenzo who made a spectacular catch, and flipped the ball to North who stepped on second for the game ending play, preserving the 13-12 victory.

MSC next took on arch rival William Paterson in a game that would have almost certainly secured a playoff berth for the homefield Hawks. But MSC, obviously emotionally drained after the heart stopping Eastern Connecticut game, played uninspired baseball, and dropped the game 11-6.

WPC scored three runs in the first, thanks to two MSC errors and a two-run single by Keith Eday. MSC answered with three runs in the bottom of the first, highlighted by Mike Brandon’s three-run homer, which scored Critelli and Wilmot. In the second, Ron Moore scored on a two base error to give MSC the lead 4-3. But WPC scored one in the third, two in the fourth, one in the sixth, and four in the seventh, highlighted by Joe Carter’s three-run run triple. Dilaurenzo had a two-run single in the sixth, but it wasn’t enough and WPC won 11-6.

MSC next took on Dominican College and the story of the game was pitcher Greg Formisano who pitched eight innings of five hit ball. “My fastball was working really well and I got a lot of ground balls,” Formisano said about the game.

Kennedy hit two home runs and drove in four runs, and Pallino had a three-run homerun, to power MSC to an 18-4 blowout. Brandon also homered and Wilmot finished with three RBI.

HAWK NOTES...Dave Kennedy has been getting a lot of Major League scouts lately. Although he has Major League power at the plate, scouts seem to like him as a pitcher. He has been clocked at 92 MPH with his fastball. “I’m a little nervous when I’m warming up, but once I’m in the game, I forget about the scouts,” says Kennedy. Kennedy also set MSC’s single season record with five saves and leads the team with 11 homeruns....Drew Ryan had an 18.23, three-run double inning streak broken in the seventh inning against Ramapo....Rob Valliere’s two-run triple ended the shutout position with his defensive and offensive play over the last three games.