Clove Road intersection considered dangerous

by Laurie-Elaine Matriclan

According to Little Falls Police Sgt. Warholcic, there have been at least four accidents within the past two months at the intersection on Clove Road.

Students are voicing concern about their safety when either entering or exiting campus, by way of Clove Road, because of overgrown bushes and lack of traffic signs.

Warholcic said the bushes at this intersection could be a factor in the accidents that have occurred. Campus Police also said this intersection is dangerous, and the shubbery could be interfering with the drivers’ line of vision.

One student was involved in a car accident on September 14, 1992. Kim Guadagnini was heading north on Clove Road towards the apartments, when another student was making a left onto Clove Road from campus. Guadagnini’s car was struck by the other car, spun around onto the island, hit the curb, bushes, and a fire hydrant. “I’m not concerned about the car. I was lucky enough to walk away from the accident. I’m just concerned about it happening again. I want people to be aware,” Guadagnini said.

Guadagnini said she doesn’t blame the other student for the accident. “You can’t see past the bushes, they’re blind-ending. People come flying out of there and it’s no wonder because there isn’t even a stop sign or even a yield sign for cars entering the roadway,” she said.

Other students voiced similar feelings. One student believes that trimming or removing the bushes will not solve the problem. “If the bushes were removed it would help, but it’s a mpuus. Guadagnini’s car was struck by the other car, spun around onto the island, hit the curb, bushes, and a fire hydrant. “I’m not concerned about the car. I was lucky enough to walk away from the accident. I’m just concerned about it happening again. I want people to be aware,” Guadagnini said.

Guadagnini said she doesn’t blame the other student for the accident. “You can’t see past the bushes, they’re blind-ending. People come flying out of there and it’s no wonder because there isn’t even a stop sign or even a yield sign for cars entering the roadway,” she said.

Other students voiced similar feelings. One student believes that trimming or removing the bushes will not solve the problem. “If the bushes were removed it would help, but it’s a

Parking decal fee included in tuition bill

by Pam Colon

There was an addition to the tuition bills for the Fall 1992 semester which has caused mixed reaction from students.

According to MSC Bursar Ms. Vil Maristela, the business office decided it might be easier for them as well as the students if the $25 parking fee was automatically added on to the tuition bills, considering that the parking decal application form is mailed with the bill. Students were not notified of this new addition.

“The form indicates that the fee was added on. If the students don’t read what’s on the bill then we are not responsible,” MSC Bursar Ms. Maristela, said.

Some students who have cars and needed a decal felt it was easier with the fee added on, but some students did not. Many students without cars didn’t read the bill and paid the additional fee.

Senior Celeste Narciso said, “I don’t understand why a notice wasn’t sent out. I have been here for four years, every year I get my bill, I look at the total and pay the price, I figure the school knows what it’s doing. The bill looked as if it always did so why would I look twice? The funny part is, I don’t even have a driver’s license, never mind a car.”

Maristela said, “We are giving students the benefit of the doubt and if they came down to the business office they will be reimbursed,” According to Maristela, students are driving to campus but not filling for a decal. Campus Police went on a vehicle check and issued approximately $3,000.00 in tickets to vehicles without decals. “I don’t understand why students would rather pay $100.00 every time they park rather than pay one time $25.00 parking fee,” she said.

Maristela said she wants students to understand that they are not charging this fee “for the heck of it,” there is a purpose. It helps pay for the three new shuttle buses as well as parking facilities for the students and faculty.

“Instead of beating the system, why don’t the students work with us to provide a better service for everyone?” Maristela said.

According to the business office, Please turn to DECAL page 4

Campus Police issue warning about campus scam

by Maureen McGowan

Campus Police have issued an inter-office memo warning of the possibility of a magazine scam taking place on campus.

The memo reads: “During the Spring Semester of 1992, our office began an investigation into a group of con artists that came on campus and solicited the sales of magazines. A number of our students fell victim to these con artists and lost hundreds of dollars. During the investigation, we also learned these same con artists also prey on college high school aged females at the local malls. These con artists never give their correct names, life histories, or information about the company they work for (which by-the-way does not exist). They give the receipts that look legitimate but they are not! We have just learned they are back! We are looking for any information available to track these individuals down. We have photographs of two of the con artists which had actually convinced our students to date them. Two of these females were very embarrassed. They came forward only after losing money and realizing they had been lied to.

The sales are going on during lunch time in the Student Center Cafe, which are affecting many of the Frats and Sororities. The sales are going on in the Residence Life Facilities where the con artists have been able to get residents to sign them into the building as guests. The sales are also going on in the Malls where anyone may fall victim.

Should you have any questions or believe you have fallen victim to this con, please feel free to contact our office at 893-5222 or 893-4201.” Campus Police have said the sellers of the subscriptions impersonate college students, and will claim they are students here trying to raise money for campus organizations and/or extra cash.
Assistant Vice President of Facilities, Thomas Stepnowski, was selected vice president of the New Jersey chapter of the Association of Higher Education Facilities Officers. The international organization strives for excellence in higher education facilities management.

Donations for victims of Hurricane Andrew are being accepted in the Student Center and the Residence Halls. Recommended items needed by the survivors include: bottled water, condensed milk, infant formula, batteries, canned goods, clothes, flashlight and personal items for children and the elderly.

There will be a retirement reception for Dr. Max Sobel of Mathematics and Computer Science Department held on Oct. 5, from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Student Center Ballrooms B and C. All are welcome to attend. An $8 contribution is requested and will cover refreshments and a donation to the Max Sobel Scholarship Fund. Please respond by Sept. 29, by sending a check made payable to the Math and Computer Science Department, Richardson Hall. For further information call x7239.

Members of the campus community are being offered two free tickets to the home football game of their choice by the athletic department. For tickets send your name, campus address and the date of the game you wish to attend to the athletic department. Tickets will be mailed the week of the game. Upcoming home games are: Saturday Oct. 3, against Ramapo at 7 p.m., Saturday Oct. 17, Homecoming against William Paterson at 7 p.m., Saturday Oct. 31, against Trenton at 7 p.m., and Saturday Nov. 14, against Rowan College at 1:30 p.m.

INTERNATIONAL

Police fired on a crowd of 300 protesters in the Dominican Republic. According to authorities, one person was killed and two wounded. The protest was centered on the government’s plan to commemorate the 500th year since Columbus’ voyage. The protesters said the plan is wasting millions of dollars in a poor nation which only has electricity for approximately two to three hours a day, due to lack of facilities.

The Swedish Navy, for the second time in less than a week was forced to fire depth charges on unidentified submarines near the Stockholm Archipelago. A spokesperson said the ships may be Russian and operating without President Yeltsin’s knowledge.

In a national referendum in France, the Maastricht Treaty was narrowly approved. Denmark has already rejected the plan, which is causing problems because the 12 nations involved were supposed to unanimously approve the Treaty. The Treaty provides for a unified European economic, political, and defense policy. It also calls for a common currency and banking system by 1999.

Four German right wing extremists were arrested for an attack on a refugee camp along the Baltic. In Bavaria an Ultra-Rightist party gained new strength in the regional election. The campaign by the “Republican” party targeted the flood of refugees into the German nation. They garnered 11 per cent of the vote in the elections.

NATIONAL

Since the Republican convention Bush has been dropping in the polls. An ABC News/Washington Post poll showed Clinton’s lead over the president has widened to 58% to 37%. The poll has a margin of error of 4.5%. The margin has increased from the two previous polls which had Bush behind by 13% then 15% to the now staggering 21%.

“Murphy Brown,” the television sitcom, responded to Dan Quayle’s annual on the shows portrayal of single parent families. Quayle responded after the show, having to speak over protesters shouting “Four more months,” and said “I never criticized single mothers.”

An Indiana woman was pulled over in Iowa after not paying at a gas station. Her two children were found in the back seat. They had been shot in the head. The woman is said to be severely disturbed by her pending divorce. At the mention of her children in court, she said, “Who is Dusty and Randy?”

Bruce Janu, a suburban Chicago teacher has come up with his own way of making detention more of a punishment. He forces students to listen to Frank Sinatra tapes.

President Bush is threatening to veto the medical leave act now pending in Congress as a “flawed bill.” The bill would require businesses to give up to 12 weeks of unpaid leave to family members who have had a new child or who must care for a sick spouse or family member.

CORRECTIONS

It is the policy of The Montclarion to correct any errors. If you spot an error please notify us at 893-5169.
Moore is first recipient of Distinguished Teacher's Award

by A. J. Pags and Caroline Burgess

Dr. Joseph Thomas Moore, of the History department, is the first recipient of MSC's first Distinguished Teacher Award.

The award, created by President Irvin Reid, allows the winner to design a course in their particular field of study. Also for his achievement, the recipient will receive a stipend equal to 9.0 credit hours at the summer rate. Further funds may also be given for the purchase of materials, travel expenses for conferences, and a student assistant.

Moore, who received his B.S. from Rutgers, M.A. from MSC, and his Ph.D. in Education from Rutgers, began teaching here in 1966. He said he "chose (to teach) history because I observed that when I read for pleasure, I tended towards history, the social studies and current affairs."

In a memo to the faculty, Reid said the award was created "...to acknowledge those of our colleagues who have chosen to dedicate their lives to the art and craft of teaching."

Moore is also the author of several books about baseball, war and teaching. He has taught the course "Methods of Teaching Social Studies" every year. Moore said, "I believe that success in teaching is in part the result of personal contact between teacher and student. Besides, the individual personalities of my students help to make teaching such fun!" He also said, "I don't consider a class to be a success unless there's at least one chance for everyone to laugh."

Moore has twice been the president of the local chapter of the American Federation of Teachers, a union which represents faculty, librarians, and staff. He also has been president of his church, tries to keep fit, enjoys scuba diving and loves to spend time with his wife, Dr. Joan Ficke, a professor in the Health Professions Department and Director of the Women's Center on campus. "We do almost everything together," said Moore.

Moore's new course, to be taught in the Spring, is entitled: "Connections: Years That Made History." It will be taught at the 100 level and fulfill general education requirements. Moore is recommending this course for history majors. In the past, Moore has taught other courses he originated including, "War in History" and "Sport in History."

He describes the course as a study of eight significant years in history since 1500. It will also study each year of the participating student's birth.

Moore said the course will emphasize western history, but will attempt to achieve a more global perspective through elements of non-western history.

Moore's new course is entitled: "Connections: Years That Made History." It will be taught at the 100 level and fulfill general education requirements. Moore is recommending this course for history majors. In the past, Moore has taught other courses he originated including, "War in History" and "Sport in History."

He describes the course as a study of eight significant years in history since 1500. It will also study each year of the participating student's birth.

Moore said the course will emphasize western history, but will attempt to achieve a more global perspective through elements of non-western history.

Debris from an auto accident found in a bush on the Island at the Clove Road Intersection still very dangerous. No one stops to look. You're chancing it every time you go. I think we need a blinking light in that area," said Jennifer Varites.

ROAD, from page 1

Another student, Kristin Byrne, thinks a blinking light would encourage people to go through it cautiously. "I wonder how many times there's going to be an accident or how many people have to get hurt before they do something about it," said Byrne.

According to Campus Police there was a stop sign at this intersection in the past, but it had been stolen.
Sobel retires after 43 years of teaching

by Kelly Schab

Enthusiastic, outgoing, motivational, friendly, supportive, and an outstanding lecturer is how Dr. Wolfe, head of the Department of Math and Science, described Dr. Max Sobel.

"He is very efficient at getting things done and is always willing to help," said Wolfe. Sobel taught at Montclair State College from 1947 to 1949, at Robert Treat Jr. High School from 1949 to 1955, and then came back to MSC in 1957, where he has been teaching since. Though he officially retired in June, Dr. Sobel is still teaching part-time a course geared to prospective high school math teachers here.

He has also taught at Columbia University, Rutgers University, and Stanford University. Besides his distinguished teaching record, he has also had an extremely successful writing career. Among his publications are numerous articles in professional periodicals and yearbooks, and approximately 50 textbooks of which he has either authored, co-authored, or edited.

Some of his books include: Mathematics for Secondary School Teachers.

Wolfe attested to Sobel's popularity and said he attended two of Sobel's lectures, one was attended by over 750 people while the other was attended by a standing room only crowd of over 1,000 people.

Dr. Garfunkel, a former student of Dr. Sobel's, said, "He had a clear exposition, and motivated all of his classes. He was able to reach an audience of all levels including elementary school children to graduate students."

Sobel has received many honors during his years of teaching, some of them include: the First Annual Montclair State Alumni Association Outstanding Faculty Award, 1982; an establishment of the Max A. Sobel Fellowship Fund for graduate students in Mathematics Education at Montclair State, 1983; the First Outstanding Mathematics Educator Award by the Association of Mathematics Teachers of New Jersey, 1990; and he is listed in such publications as Who's Who in American Education and Who's Who in the East.

After his full retirement, Dr. Sobel will continue to consult, to lecture nationally and locally, and to write.

According to Wolfe and Garfunkel, they will miss Sobel's positive attitude, and sense of humor.

NORML comes to "Whatever Festival"

by Cliff Annicelli

If you were at Sunday's "Whatever Festival," you probably saw the various political activist groups jockeying for your attention. You may have noticed the people with the big marijuana-leaf banner. They weren't Canadians, they were NORML, the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws. In an effort to keep you informed, here's their agenda:

- NORML see marijuana, or to be technical, cannabis sativa hemp, as a sort of "lost wonder plant" of the 20th century. NORML are trying to show America the practical uses of this much-maligned plant as a source of medicine, paper, fuel, clothing and food.

- Before the anti-drug crusades of the last twenty years, cannabis hemp was legally used for medicinal purposes. In 1970, the Nixon Administration inexplicably had marijuana taken off the Food and Drug Administration's "Class 2" list of substances having "demonstrated medical value."

- In 1972, the Nixon-appointed Shafer Commission suggested that marijuana be legalized but their report apparently was ignored. The medical uses of marijuana include the treatment of "back pain, asthma, glaucoma, epilepsy, cancer, muscle spasms, muscle disorders, tumors, stress, depression, nausea, anorexia, rheumatism and arthritis" all with "nontoxic minimal side effects."

"Whatever Festival" had a crowd of over 1,000 people. The media was supplied by NORML. "Whatever Festival" wasn't Canadians, they were NORML of NJ.

NORML of NJ

1 (800) 742-2002

Liberty

MARIJUANA

NORML

Campus Police staked out in lot #28.

Campus Police have added additional manhours in order to try and deter criminals from vandalizing, breaking into and stealing automobiles in campus parking lots. Campus Police will be situated through out the lots from 7 a.m. till 11 p.m.

School of Conservation plans workshop

by Renee McDonnell

The N.J. School of Conservation, the environmental education field campus of Montclair State College, located in Sussex County's Stokes State Forest, will hold it's annual fall workshop Oct. 2 through 4, said Sue Bourghard, Office of Public Information.

The workshop titled "Utilizing the Natural Environment" is open to college students, teachers, naturalists, interpreters and concerned citizens.

According to Bourghard the workshop will include classes in wetland/river ecology, cycling and recycling, canoeing, orientation, survival art from found materials, environmental values, blacksmithing, Indians of New Jersey, simulations games, American craft heritage and pottery.

"I plan on attending this workshop because it is a great way to gain a practical awareness about the environment," said Lisa Charmello, a senior and avid environmentalist.

The workshop begins Friday Oct. 2 at 6 p.m. and ends Sunday Oct. 4 at 2 p.m. The fee for the weekend is $88 and includes meals and lodging.

One credit, graduate or undergraduate, is available through Montclair State at the School of Conservation.

To register write to The New Jersey School of Conservation, R.D.2, Box 272, Branchville, N.J. 07826 or call (201) 948-4646. Applications are accepted on a first-come, first-served basis.
The Macintosh Student Aid Package.

Get over $400 worth of preloaded software when you buy one of the Apple* Macintosh* computers shown above at our best prices ever. And if you are interested in financing options, be sure to ask for details about the Apple Computer Loan. But hurry, because student aid like this is only available through October 15, 1992 — and only at your authorized Apple campus reseller.

For further information visit
The College Store
Lower Level - Student Center Building

COLLEGE LIFE UNION BOARD presents...

COMEDY SHOW
Tuesday, Sept. 29 9 p.m.
student Center Ballrooms

Laser Karaoke
Wednesday, Sept. 30
6 p.m. Student Center Cafeteria

C.L.U.B. is a Class 1 Organization of the S.C.A.
9/15/92: Student parked her vehicle in Lot 28 and as she was riding the shuttle bus she noticed men doing landscaping. When she returned to her car she found dirt clinging to her car windshield, and two large tree branches on the hood of the car, and a 3" to 4" crack in the windshield. She claims this damage was done by the working men.

9/15/92: Motor Vehicle accident occurred on Clove Road and Quarry Road, Little Falls. Damage was done to grass and bushes of Montclair State College Property.

9/15/92: The alarm went off in the Athletic Office. A check of the area was made and found no signs of entry. It was determined that the alarm malfunctioned.

9/15/92: Report of fire in Bohm Hall. A smoldering mattress was found in a dumpster. A cigarette was determined to be the cause of the fire. It was extinguished immediately.

9/16/92: A wallet was found laying in the roadway of Lot 6. It was turned over to the parking side. The owner was informed and he picked it up.

9/16/92: A student parked his car in Lot 21. When he returned he found a piece of trim in the back window of the passenger side of the car was removed.

9/16/92: The director of Blanton reported 4 males were hanging over the balcony overlooking the cafeteria at the time several fireworks went off. The residue of the fireworks landed on the heads and plants of students sitting below in the cafeteria. Witnesses overheard conversations between the four regarding future activities involving fireworks.

9/16/92: A student stated he found no signs of entry. It was determined that the alarm was activated.

9/19/92: A non-student attempted to enter Freeman Hall with a ladder after being turned away earlier at the door for using false identification. A strong scent of alcohol was said to be emanating from this person. He was taken to headquarters, charged with trespassing and then released with a court date scheduled for Oct. 6, 1992, 9AM in Montclair.

9/20/92: A Clove Road resident was found sitting on the ground after becoming sick as a result of being under the influence of alcohol. Although she was conscious, she could not stand or sit without assistance. She had difficulty answering questions. An ambulance arrived, but she refused to go to the hospital.

9/20/92: A non-student attending the Spin Doctors concert became violent, threatening by fighting, and refused to calm down while attempting to be escorted out of campus. The individual hit a security officer on the wrist and then resisted arrest.

9/21/92: A faculty member reports a non-student in Partridge Hall that the last time he saw his briefcase in the classroom. When he returned he found the briefcase was gone.

9/21/92: A student parked her car on campus. The car's lock on the passenger's door was forced into and the door was damaged. Some minor items were stolen.

9/21/92: Student reported his father's car had been broken into. The passenger door lock had been tampered with and the steering cover removed.

9/21/92: A student parked her car in Lot 23. When she returned she found the car was missing.

9/22/92: A student reported that his car had been broken into. The passenger door was broken into and the steering cover removed.

9/22/92: A Gallery I employee reported damage. Someone slashed 17 of his paintings while stored in two rooms of Fine Arts. $85,000.00 was reported damage.

9/22/92: Dept. of Classics employee states his personal computer was in Room 402 of Partridge Hall and that the last time he saw it was last week. There was no sign of forced entry into the room.

9/22/92: Student parked his car in Lot 22 and someone broke into his car, stealing a jacket and wallet containing credit cards and money.

9/22/92: Male parked his car in Lot 28 and upon returning his car ornament (symbol of Makes) was missing from the front of the car.

9/22/92: Student reported her wallet stolen in the Library. She remembers a man hanging around her property.

9/23/92: Non-student's stolen vehicle was found in Lot 28 with window open and engine running. No damage was noticed other than the ignition damage. Car had been stolen in Paramus.

9/23/92: Student parked his car in Lot 22 and someone broke into his car, stealing his rear right window open and radio kicker box missing, and his ignition broken.

9/23/92: Student states she parked her car in Lot 24 and upon returning the front right tire was missing.

9/23/92: Student parked and locked her car. Upon returning the driver's door and rear passenger door were unlocked and the radio missing.

9/23/92: Student left her keys in her dorm room door. Forty-five minutes later her wallet was returned to her at the Blanton Desk. The wallet had been handled, and the money was missing along with a car of rear gas.

9/23/92: Vintner was in the library with his sister when he noticed an individual staring at him. He went to the Men's Room and this individual placed his hand under the stall, reaching up as if to touch him.

9/23/92: A faculty member reports someone has slashed 16 of his paintings while stored in two rooms of Fine Arts. $85,000.00 was reported damage.
Go ahead...take the plunge
by George Olachewski

That assured me a little bit. This Couch Potato has no desire to become a mashed potato!

We pulled into the parking lot just as the crane was raising a jumper. As we approached the plummeted toward the Hudson (the crane swings out over the river), and about five feet before splash down, the cord grabbed him and splat, it's your own fault, not ours. I asked for another count down. "Four," I'm rocking back and forth, getting ready. "Three," I remember the guy offered another idea. Since I'm a balloon bungee jump is next. "Two," I'm psyching myself up. "One," I see the glistening water between my legs don't work. The attendant sympathetic, and my first jump, and believe me, he gave me a Cheshire cat grin on his face. I made my way toward the table with the waivers. You know, the ones that say if you go splat, it's your own fault, not ours. I read over, signed it and awaited my turn. My good friend went to get a soda just as it was my turn to take the leap of faith. The straps seemed sturdy, thank God, as they set me up and strapped the cords onto my chest. After a few gentle springs, he was lowered back to terra firma with a Cheshire cat grin on his face. I made my way toward the table with the waivers. You know, the ones that say if you go splat, it's your own fault, not ours. I read over, signed it and awaited my turn. My good friend went to get a soda just as it was my turn to take the leap of faith.

I leaned, he let go, I plummet. The sensation is awe-inspiring that's going to benefit them. We stop. Okay, here goes. I leaned, he let go, I plummet. The sensation is awe-inspiring. I was almost weightless. Hands and arms flail, and I go back down. After I bounce for about five seconds, they lower me and the cage back to the ground. I come off the harnesses with a post-bungee grin on my face. It was unbelievable. I was almost ready to do it again, but my wallet was empty. The 130 feet I jumped makes the 70 feet Action Park bungee jump seem like aisée walk. I've done a crane. Maybe a balloon bungee jump is next.
Make the right environmental choice

by Dawn D. Kelly

Every day, whether you realize it or not, you make choices on decisions that will help or degrade the environment. For example, you may choose to leave your paper plate or napkin on the steps of the Student Center to fly away with the wind or you may choose to plate or napkin on the steps of the Student Center to fly away with the wind or you may choose to...
DANCECLUB

WORLDCLASS D.J.s SPIN THE SMART MIX FOR PEOPLE ON A HEALTHY AURAL DIET. HERE'S A SAMPLE . . .

- RED HOT CHILI PEPPERS • CURE • JAMES BEASTIE BOYS • PEARL JAM • T99 • SOUP DRAGONS • BLACK SHEEP • BLUR • EPMD •
- JANE'S ADDICTION • THE SHAMEN • J&M CHAIN • VIOLENT FEMMES • L7 • SONIC YOUTH • SMASHING PUMPKINS • A TRIBE CALLED QUEST • LORDS OF ACID • KC & THE SUNSHINE BAND • THE STRANGLERS • 25TH OF MAY • DEE-LITE • APOTHEOSIS • SISTERS OF MERCY •
- MUDHONEY • PUBLIC ENEMY • BARRY WHITE • RIDE • MY LIFE WITH THE THRILL KILL CULT •
- FRONT 242 • REM • U2 • JAM • CLASH •
- NEDS • ATOMIC DUST BIN •
- STEREO M.C.s • ETC . . .

LIVE VENUE

WATCH FOR SPECIAL LIVE SHOWS.

ACTS LOCAL TO INTL. THESE ARE SOME BANDS THAT HAVE PLAYED THE LOOP.

- FAITH NO MORE • NINE INCH NAILS • APB • THEY MIGHT BE GIANTS • SCHOOLY D. • GANG OF FOUR • THE FEELIES • UNTAMED YOUTH • KILLING JOKE • JOHNNY THUNDERS • THE SMITHEREENS • HENRY ROLLINS BAND • DUMP TRUCK • SILLY RABBIT • FLESH FOR LULU • THE SELVES • GIMMIE THE GUN • SQUARE 1 • BARRENCE WHITFIELD & THE SAVAGES • SWEET LIZARD ILLTET • RICHARD LLOYD • THE SILOS • KONK • CLOSE LOBSTERS • MIRACLE LEGION • THEY EAT THEIR OWN • SCRAM •
- DIG • YOUR MAMA • ANYTHING BOX •
- LUCKY 7 • WINTER HOURS

THE LOOP IS SWIRL ON THURSDAYS

M.S.C. STUDENTS FREE ADM. .75¢ DRAFT

WRECKING BALL WEDS.

GIRLS ADMISSION FREE

$1.00 DRAFT • $2.00 SOL

SOUND CONDITIONED

MUST BE 21 YRS.

DANCING WED-SAT.

NO BONEHEADS!

FRIDAY - SATURDAY

FREE ADMISSION

BEFORE 10:30 p.m.

$1.00 DRAFT until 11:00

DIRECTIONS:

JUST 10 MINUTES FROM CAMPUS. TAKE RT. 3 EAST TO PASSAIC AVE. EXIT. GO RIGHT OFF RAMP. GO TO THIRD TRAFFIC LIGHT AND MAKE LEFT ONTO VAN HOUTEN AVE. GO TO FIRST TRAFFIC LIGHT AND MAKE RIGHT ONTO B'WAY. LOOP IS ONE BLOCK ON RIGHT SIDE.

373 BROADWAY, PASSAIC PARK, N.J. 365-0807
The value of networking: part two

Our last article looked at the idea of creating a network early in your college years so that you can begin getting information that can help in career planning and eventual job hunting. The more you know about the world of work, the easier it will be for you to plan your major, and look for related work experiences, such as co-ops, internships, or part-time jobs.

Before you contact someone via your own network or Career Service’s Alumni Network, you should prepare a list of well thought-out questions. At the same time that you are conducting an information interview, you are adding someone to your network and you will want to sound intelligent.

The questions you should ask fall into two broad categories: the nature of the work being performed and the kinds of people who typically enjoy and are successful in that kind of work. The questions that follow are provided only as examples. Feel free to ask others that fit your conversation.

1. Why did you choose this occupation?
2. What do you do on an average day? What tasks do you perform each week?
3. What are some of the advantages and disadvantages of work in this field?
4. Tell me about your work setting.
5. How many hours a week do you typically work?
6. What kind of educational background and/or work experience is required to enter this field?
7. Is study in a particular major required?
8. What classes outside my major do you think would be helpful for me to take?
9. What classes did you think would be helpful for me to take?
10. Is promotion possible in your occupation?
11. What kind of lifestyle does this occupation give you?
12. What have you gained or lost personally by working in this field? If you were hiring a new employee in this field, what kinds of personal qualifications and skills would you be looking for?
13. How has your work been affected by technology? Are computer skills needed?
14. What are typical entry level jobs? How has the local entry level job market been affected by the recession?
15. How has your field as a whole been influenced by the recession?
16. How should I proceed if I am interested in this field despite the recession?
17. What professional associations may I join as a student?
18. What books or professional literature should I be reading so I can learn more about this occupation?
19. Are there conferences that I might attend to meet others in this occupation?
20. Are there other people you know whom I might call to get further information?

Use good judgment in asking your questions. Don’t overwhelm the person to whom you are speaking with a hundred questions. Listen carefully to what he or she is saying and let your questions develop as a natural outgrowth of your conversation. Call a number of people in the same job title so that you can get all of your questions answered and be sure of getting a balanced view of a particular occupation.

Remember that Career Services has an Alumni Network of over 300 people in a wide variety of occupations, all of whom have already volunteered to talk with you on the phone and help you learn about their work. Come to the office to learn how to take advantage of this system.
EVERYONE SAW THIS AS A PROBLEM ONCE.

Occasionally the pieces all fit, but you didn't know why. Eventually, it became obvious.

Today, you have a new set of problems and again you may find yourself getting the solutions, but not knowing exactly why.

Working with Schaum’s Outlines takes the guesswork out of problem solving. The Outlines provide you with the questions and the solutions in order to show you how to solve problems. The more you work with Schaums, the more obvious the solutions become.

Available in engineering, math, science, economics and computer science. Look for them in your college bookstore.
Letters Policy

The Montclarion encourages the campus community to write and express their views on relevant topics. Simply drop your letter off at our office, or mail to:

The Montclarion
c/o Editorial Page Editor
113 Student Center Annex
Montclair State College
Upper Montclair, NJ 07043

Letters Must include your Name, Major and Telephone Number (for confirmation purposes only) if they are to be considered for publication.

The deadline for letters is the Monday before publication. Letters may be edited for taste and/or brevity.

The author of the letter, not The Montclarion, are responsible for the opinions expressed therein.

Subscription & Advertising Information

Subscriptions to The Montclarion are available to Alumni, families of students, faculty or anyone interested in receiving one. A minimum suggested donation of $12.00 per semester is requested to help defray production and shipping costs of The Montclarion.

The local display advertising rates for the 1992-1993 academic year are as follows:
1/8 page - $60.00
1/4 page - $120.00
1/2 page - $220.00
Full page - $380.00

Call Advertising Manager Connie Cole for a full listing of discount packages.

Mail any subscription requests or advertising insertions to: The Montclarion's Business Office
113 Student Center Annex
Montclair State College
Upper Montclair, NJ 07043

Commuters check in, but they can’t check out

Picture this: You’ve embarked upon your epic journey to MSC an hour early in the hope of getting a parking spot in the same area code as your 9:00 a.m. class. After a fruitless, spirit-deadening search for said spot, spent primarily dodging the decal-checking sirens, you resign yourself to your customary early-morning mountainous hike. Parched and emaciated from the pre-dawn effort, you attempt to lift your flagging spirits with a synthetic breakfast served in the gastrointestinal inferno of the Blanton Hall cafeteria. You take your plastic fork in hand, and steel yourself in the face of the thick-skinned, oddly appendage-esque sausages and poker-chip potato slivers. Napkinless, your Levi’s must suffice.

But your odyssey has only begun. A sweltering, construction-jarred classroom and 45 minutes with an adjunct still stand between you and your freedom. Fortunately, the walk back to your escape vessel is downhill, and desperate students have been known to pick up MSC escapees before they get out of the Quad in hopes of securing a parking spot.

Cursing your financial-aid status, and straining to keep your attention off your institutional food-knotted bowels, you make your way perilously through the (trumpet flourish, MSC escapees before they get out of the Quad in hopes of securing a parking spot.

But that’s right, suspicious motorists may, at this very moment, be under the watchful surveillance of the proper authorities.

Our stay may not be pleasant, but if it might appease the almighty administrational gods, we pray your departure be assured.

“An aberration?” gaspeth the uninitiated. Alas, no. But in fact, an improvement in parking lot security over the September 1 premier of MSC’s yearly academic woes, when 31 hapless students faced the same fate. On that particular date,19 cars were vandalized, while 12 were burglarized.

But your odyssey has only begun. A sweltering, construction-jarred classroom and 45 minutes with an adjunct still stand between you and your freedom. Fortunately, the walk back to your escape vessel is downhill, and desperate students have been known to pick up MSC escapees before they get out of the Quad in hopes of securing a parking spot.

Cursing your financial-aid status, and straining to keep your attention off your institutional food-knotted bowels, you make your way perilously through the (trumpet flourish, MSC escapees before they get out of the Quad in hopes of securing a parking spot.

But that’s right, suspicious motorists may, at this very moment, be under the watchful surveillance of the proper authorities.

Our stay may not be pleasant, but if it might appease the almighty administrational gods, we pray your departure be assured.

“An aberration?” gaspeth the uninitiated. Alas, no. But in fact, an improvement in parking lot security over the September 1 premier of MSC’s yearly academic woes, when 31 hapless students faced the same fate. On that particular date,19 cars were vandalized, while 12 were burglarized.

Take heart, trampled student body. Our campus police have shifted their attention from the lawless, decal-free students to the less desirable window-smashing vein of deviants that have taken to habitually cruising our construction-scarred byways in search of abandoned prey. That’s right, suspicious motorists may, at this very moment, be under the watchful surveillance of the proper authorities.

Our stay may not be pleasant, but if it might appease the almighty administrational gods, we pray your departure be assured.

“I don’t understand why students would rather pay $10.00 every time they park rather than pay a one time $25.00 parking fee,”...Vil Maristela, speaking of students driving to campus without decals.

Quote of the Week

"He jumped on top of me and forced a crowbar to my hood, I tried to scream, but he told me to shut the hell up or he'd pull my spark plugs!! That's when he busted my eye! I winged as he forced himself inside me! $508!

"I don’t understand why students would rather pay $10.00 every time they park rather than pay a one time $25.00 parking fee,"...Vil Maristela, speaking of students driving to campus without decals.
Religion is out of touch with politics and the real world

I don’t know about you, but I’m starting to think that George Bush’s campaign managers (and the Quayle’s) have been spending too many evenings dropping acid and watching non-stop Donna Reed reruns. It seems like the only viable explanation for making a campaign issue out of “family values.” Maybe Bush is trying to evade the economic issue. God knows he’ll have to do if he somehow wants to win. But even so, family values has got to be a pretty scary platform. It’s another one of those phrases like “politically correct” and “Just Say No.” People who hail them as social triumphs may not have it all together upstairs and are more than just a little bit naive. People like this are simply not in touch with the real world. I saw a button the other day that said, “Clinton and Gore are lying. They’re not Christians.” Excuse me? Who cares? Who ever said that allegiance to Jesus Christ was a prerequisite for the presidency? Any politician who puts their religion before the interest of the people shouldn’t be in politics. It’s no more than an attempt by the religious right to make their concealed beliefs law and isolate about 90% of the population. What’s really scary about this is that a lot of people take them seriously and agree with them, while many of us don’t feel that it’s too ridiculous a proposal even to take seriously. Will in-difference win out? It’s not impossible. Maybe I’m mistaken, but I thought this was the United States. You know, a democracy. You should be able to practice any religion you want and have any damned value system you feel like having, provided your values don’t involve hacking other individuals into small pieces. Maybe if the right-wing holy rollers got some consid-erable clout in government, they would hack into small pieces any individual who disagrees with them. Or maybe they’ll intimidate the fetus at the stake?

After all, why should we be concerned with how “morally up-right” a candidate is? Whose morals are we discussing? People want honesty, but when a candidate is honest about his personal life, they always find a reason to be shocked or outraged by it. And what about candidates who don’t seem to have skeletons in their closets? Doesn’t it make you wonder? I’m sorry, but as far as I’m concerned, a person without a past is not a person. Everyone has done something that will offend someone else. Personally, I couldn’t care less about who or what a candidate has smoked dope or how many times he has smoked dope and disastrous dry-belly dur-ing his college years. I want a president who has lived life, not hidden behind his monastery walls. So remember when you vote this year (which you should): nobody is perfect, so beware of the guy who pretends to be.

The case against abortion makes some valid points

The column Iron Heel, the author states that the question of whether or not the being in the womb is a “human” life is irrelevant. This could not be further from the truth. If the state and our current constitution are to even resemble their original purpose, then this factor is the dominating source for debate surrounding this issue.

What are the responsibili-ties of the society to the individual?

Some of the most做的 words of our Declara-tion of Independence state that all people have the right to “life, liberty, and the pur-suit of happiness.” This makes all laws where life or possible life are involved contingent to the respect of those lives. This reasoning is continued in the Constitution. Notice “pursuit”, not “right” to happiness.

Amendment XIV - "Nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law." Also, if an unborn baby is a life, Amendment IX would protect them from abor-tion. It states “the Maybe Bush is trying to evade the economic issue. God knows he’ll have to do if he somehow wants to win.

Meet our student trustees

Who are the most powerful students on campus? Some say it is the SGA President or perhaps the treasurer who oversees the $500,000 budget. If you think one of these is correct, well you’re wrong. In fact, very limited, but certainly effective, is the board of select students who have the ingredients that constitute authority on campus. Your student trustees, Seth Leibowitz and Sal Anderton. Since 1986, two students have constituted a foundation on MSC’s most influential governing body, the Board of Trustees.

This past year, unlike the previous seven, the administration of the college has kept their commitment to minimalizing a tuition increase – we saw a 3.9% raise. This balancing act was done despite a $3 million cut to MSC’s base budget.

The first meeting of this year involved contracting awards for renovations of the Rat and work on Carlyle and Webster roads. Another contract that was awarded was for over $100,000 to construct 5,500 square feet of faculty reading rooms. Because of a $1.5 million shortfall of funds as of this meeting, the student trustees move to table this action until a math and science graduate degree.

Also present at this meeting was the student center. And feel free to direct any questions or concerns about the college to your student trustees through the SGA office, ext. 4202.

Seth Leibowitz
Sal Alderton
Student Trustees

...we strongly urge all students to attend the Board of Trustees meeting, usually on the second Thursday of the month at 4:30 on the fourth floor of the student center.

Remember, all letters must include your phone number.
Whatever Festival rocks the Amphitheatre

by Anthony Floreno

September 20th. The Amphitheatre. The Spin Doctors, Mainline, and Planet Dread. What does this add up to? A great concert. Class One Concerts comes up golden again with its second show of the year. This time a four band/all day/political kind of festival.

Whatever. That's right, the Whatever Festival office in today's political p.m. when the opening act, Planet Dread, took the stage. Playing on an over-crowded stage was no obstacle for Planet Dread. They played their brand of psychedelic grunge for close to 45 minutes. Dave, the bassist, cited, "Indian rock music" as a main influence, while singer John, a cross between Chris Cornell and Jimi Hendrix, jokingly added, "King Crimson and the Bee-Gees." It showed. The first song, "The Farm," was a Psychedelic jam while "Where's the Love?" "Inside," and an untitled new song were all straightforward grunge.

Mainline, a band from Bergen County, went on second and played their world beat/popp/industrial/techno sound. Squiggy, the guitarist, described their sound as "1-900-HYBRID," while James, the drummer, added, "It's like pulsating dances." Mainline's "Pea In Mind" is out in stores now. Singer Sean describes it as "eclectic, different.

The Wallflowers were the next band up. Fronted by Bob Dylan's son, Jacob, they sounded like Bruce Springsteen only worse. They played most of the material off their self-titled debut and also two covers: Van Morrison's "Brown-Eyed Girl," and The Band's "The Weight." Overall, the Wallflowers did a great set of folk oriented rock.

After the Wallflowers set, everyone waited for the Spin Doctors to take the stage. As Rob Campos pointed out, "The place is packed. I've never seen it this packed. I mean, I came to Meatloaf a couple of years ago..." With that in mind, the Spin Doctors came on at 4:30 p.m. They started off with 'Big Pat Punky Booty,' after which bassist Mark White yelled, "Chill out! This is not slam-dancin' music." The students obviously disagreed, and continued to bounce around. Other highlights of their set included "Jimmy Olsen's Blues" and "Little Miss Can't Be Wrong," which singer Christopher Barron introduced with, "You don't have to be a woman to be a bitch. If you have a problem, you're a bitch."

The Spin Doctors played three encore songs, but what was really interesting was seeing Rob Tranter in the pit physically stopping people from slam dancing. Rob obviously thought he grabbed people around the neck, they would stop. He was wrong. The students continued slamming and no one got hurt. Imagine that.

I would have told you that by the end of September, Class One Concerts would have put on two great live shows, you would have said, "You're fuckin' crazy?" Well, who's fuckin' crazy now? Four weeks into the semester and Class One Concerts is 2 for 2. Did I mention they were both free?

(Planet Dread are playing at Atlantis on Sept. 30 and at Danceteria on Oct. 1. Mainline will be playing at the Loop Lounge this Sunday, Live Tonight Oct. 8 and Boo-Boo's Oct. 24.)

A prescription for a good time

by Chris Miguel

by Chris Miguel

In ancient times, physicians had three round tables on which they would place their patients. These doctors would then spin them really fast, believing that whatever sickness or disease their patients had would fly out of their bodies. At least that is what Mark White of the Spin Doctors told me. During my interview with him Sunday afternoon, with the help of fellow journalist Tony Floreno, it felt like we were all attached to one of those spinning tables, as all remnants of sense, logic and seriousness were thrown out the window. Mark revealed that the term "spin doctor" is quite different than the medieval version; "It's someone who puts a spin on what the President is saying. If he's lyin', they make it sound like the truth. If he's tellin' the truth, they make it sound like he's lyin'." Someone look into the feeling this "Doctor of spin" would be true to form, centering fact into fiction in this interview. At times, this is a h a u g h t y, patronizing "Dan Rather" interview voice and run-around double talk would get a little frustrating. But as I would soon discover, this bass-playing, wise-ass, liberal, undeserved father of one was actually a great guy. Maybe. You figure it out.

CHRIS: I know you guys are from New York, but where exactly are you from?

MARK: The island of Manhattan.

CHRIS: How long have you performed together?

MARK: Three consecutive years.

CHRIS: How did you get started

MARK: Just playing in clubs for a long time, putting up a lot of nonsense. But we had a good time nonetheless.

CHRIS: How would you describe your music?

MARK: Our music is a blend of everything: rock 'n' roll, disco, rock 'n' roll, funk, rock 'n' roll, ska, rock 'n' roll...

CHRIS: Who are some of your favorite performers?

MARK: Amy Grant, Paula Abdul (seriously), E-4... and who else... Princes, of course.

CHRIS: What's your favorite song on the album (Pocket Full of Kryptonite)?

MARK: The whole album. It's one gigantic song.

TUNY: What's your favorite song to perform live?

MARK: The whole album. It's one gigantic song. (Talk about deja vu)

CHRIS: Is "Little Miss Can't Be Wrong" based on a real person?

MARK: No. It can pertain to everyone. Everybody has someone they call a Little Miss Can't Be Wrong: a mother, daughter, sister, friend, whatever.

Please turn to SPIN on page 16
The title says it all...

by Mike Cappadora

The title of Uggy Joe's latest CD, America's Least Wanted, couldn't be more appropriate. I never before had such a difficult time listening to an entire LP in one sitting. But this display of unoriginality and overused lyrics practically had me praying for the final tune to quickily fade away. Uggy Kid Joe apparently tries to imitate the screaming sounds of Motley Crue and the driving force of early Van Halen. They fail in doing so, and the result is a collection of repetitious guitar riffs and brain-dead lyrics. The first track for the song "So Damn Cool" provides a good example of these brain-dead lyrics: "I, I, I wanna know you! Cause you're so damn cool!" Wow, it must have taken months of brilliant songwriting for them to think of these lines. Their next effort comes when UKJ wrongly decides to perform Harry Chapin's classic tune "Cat in the Cradle." The group sounds as if they are being flushed down a toilet, let alone they do an abysmal tribute to this great piece of music. The only decent song on this CD (if there is a decent song) is "Everything You Want," which appeared on last year's Up At They Wanna Be EP. But unless you enjoy listening to really bad rock n' roll, don't waste your time with D.A. Least Wanted. It's enough to drive any true rock fan crazy. Hey, UKJ, next time THINK before you record a CD!

CENTERT from page 15

CONCERT from page 15

an old school teacher with hemorrhoids.

The conversation switched to live performances as the Wallflowers' set continued at the amphitheater. Mark commented how he and his cohorts had gotten along with the Wallflowers on tour for the past few weeks. "The Wallflowers are a great band," he said. "It's Bob Dylan's kid's! I didn't know that 'til today." He thought he was serious, for which he severely lashed me.

CHRIS: Where is the biggest place you've ever played?
MARK: The planet Earth.
CHRIS: Could you be more specific?
MARK: The Paramount.
CHRIS: Where is the flattest you have toured?
MARK: From the East Coast to the West Coast...in one day.
CHRIS: Could you be more specific?

CHRIS: What is it like on the H&R.D.E. tour (with Blues Traveler, Phish, and Widespread Panic)?
MARK: It was the most unbelievable thing that ever happened to me, second only to watching my kid being born. They'd be playing and suddenly the arena scene in your future?

CHRIS: It is going to vary from theatres to clubs to giant gigs. (He then explained how they had played in front of about 5000 people in a gym with a legal capacity of 2000.)

CHRIS: Who would you like to tour with?
MARK: Myself. Actually we have our own tour called "An Evening With the Spin Doctors" where we play two full sets and no opening bands. But you get a full night of music for the same price. At that point, Tony and I had been caught in a hull, a mumber of utter silence and no questions to ask. Mark suggested that we ask him how he liked playing at MSG.

CHRIS: How do you like playing there?
MARK: I don't know; (Laughter) I'm actually quite surprised. I forgot I was a college...it looks so cool.

TONY: What do you like best about it?
MARK: The damn sun is out. (He then talked about how they played in L.A. at Brookside Park in Claremont.)

CHRIS: What was it like playing there?
MARK: Man, it was raining so hard. I was bummin' out. The heavens were not cooperating that day.

CHRIS: What's your favorite place to play?
MARK: Itaca (College), N.Y. We played there lotsa times. That was the first time we ever went outside New York City.

CHRIS: Any future gigs?
MARK: tThe Rockland Ballroom on October 1st. I'mry be sold out, so get your tickets now.

The interview then progressed to his personal life. I thought Mark was going to put the kibosh on any intrusions into his personal space, but he was actually very open about himself, his beliefs, his psyche. He was really deep and "social-causes" conscious. Or was he lying.

CHRIS: How'd you get involved with "Rock the Vote?"
MARK: They asked. We said yes.

TONY: Who are you going to vote for?
MARK: Frank Zappa. If he is nowhere to be seen, Bill Clinton. (He is the) least of all evils.

TONY: Do you think they should legalize marijuana?
MARK: I am totally against pot-smoking. It is a crime against the nation. But they should legalize it. So you don't have to sneak around like a criminal. You can get high with your parents.

CHRIS: How do you stand on abortion?
MARK: Pro-choice. But abortion is an abomination to this country. However, if they keep it illegal, there will be lots of dead people around (back-alley abortions). It's better to have the child and deal with the consequences later. And practice safe sex. (Thank you, Senator.)

CHRIS: What do you think of the term "alternative music?"
MARK: Some people consider us alternative, and some people consider us pop. People have their own opinions. All music would be Top 40 except they don't play it on the radio. I think it's just a weird-as-sam something made up.

TONY: What's your favorite color and why?
MARK: Black. Because it represents all colors...at night. Plus it doesn't get dirty as white, which also represents all colors...at daytime.

TONY: Who's your favorite cartoon character?
MARK: Elmo from Sesame Street. (???!!!)

CHRIS: If you met Madonna, and you could do anything to her, what's the first thing you would do?
MARK: ...Ask her why she looks so funny now. "How come you don't look like you did in the 'Like a Virgin' video?!?" Then I'd give her a big fat tongue kiss. No, I'm just joking. Maybe.

TOP: Do you think they should legalize marijuana?
MARK: I am totally against pot-smoking. It is a crime against the nation. But they should legalize it. So you don't have to sneak around like a criminal. You can get high with your parents.

CHRIS: How do you stand on abortion?
MARK: Pro-choice. But abortion is an abomination to this country. However, if they keep it illegal, there will be lots of dead people around (back-alley abortions). It’s better to have the child and deal with the consequences later. And practice safe sex. (Thank you, Senator.)

CHRIS: What do you think of the term “alternative music?”
MARK: Some people consider us alternative, and some people consider us pop. People have their own opinions. All music would be Top 40 except they don't play it on the radio. I think it’s just a weird-as-sam something made up.

TONY: What’s your favorite color and why?
MARK: Black. Because it represents all colors...at night. Plus it doesn’t get dirty as white, which also represents all colors...at daytime.

TONY: Who's your favorite cartoon character?
MARK: Elmo from Sesame Street. (????!!)

CHRIS: If you met Madonna, and you could do anything to her, what’s the first thing you would do?
MARK: ...Ask her why she looks so funny now. "How come you don’t look like you did in the ‘Like a Virgin’ video?!!!?" Then I’d give her a big fat tongue kiss. No, I’m just joking. Maybe.

It was almost time for the Spin Doctors of perform, so we wrapped up the interview and continued with some off-the-record conversation about catered food and the Wallflowers’ dog Gracie. They then entertained a group of teenagers at a local high school (the band is now playing on their official site, signing a couple of baseball caps (misspelling his own name on one.) He turned to walk away, paused, and then uttered something to his fans that I will never forget; words of inspiration and truth that will live on in my memory and in the hearts of the young forever more.

"It’s the grown ups that fucked up the world, not us.”

Amen.
A reflection of our times

by Mike Cappadona

Singles is the new film from writer-director Cameron Crowe who brought us Fast Times at Ridgemont High in the early eighties and Say Anything at the end of that same decade. Both of those films were successful in realistically portraying teenage life while still entertaining. With his new film, Crowe retains his observant eye, this time focusing on people in their twenties. Ironically though, the only real difference between Crowe’s teenagers and the people in Singles, is that they don’t go to school.

Bridget Fonda plays Janet, in love with future rock star Cliff (Matt Dillon), who has difficulty noticing this beautiful and attentive girl right under his nose. When Janet thinks larger breasts are what’s needed to snag Cliff’s affections, she proceeds to go to the plastic surgeon to seek a new, hourglass figure.

Another segment involves the relationship between a young environmentalist (Kyra Sedgwick) and a Department of Transportation worker (Campbell Scott) who have both had bad luck dating in the past.

A third section involves a woman (Sheila Kelley) whose one purpose in life is to attract an eligible man, since the general consensus is that there are none around. She hires a maker of videos (director/Tim Burton in cameo) who is described by a coworker as “the next Martin Scorsese.”

The stories are all tied together by the fact that they all live in a singles complex in Seattle, Washington. The sound of Seattle’s honky-tonk bars fill the soundtrack which enhances the reckless, but intelligent attitudes of the characters. Intelligence is also what makes Singles better than the average youth oriented comedy. Although its not terribly funny or overly dramatic, the film is full of likable characters who defy stereotypes and have real problems. The choice of using Seattle as a backdrop enhances the film a great deal. The cloudy skies and scattered buildings give the film a moody atmosphere that lessens the Hollywood shiners know that there is life in the other 49 states. It also works because of the presence of the actors, especially Bridget Fonda, who blends likability with beauty and Matt Dillon, who steals most of the scenes he appears in. It might be hard to believe, but that rebel of the late seventies Matt Dillon is back and better than ever.

In a few years, I wouldn’t be surprised if Singles becomes a sort of time capsule of popular culture, just as Fast Times at Ridgemont High portrays the high school culture and mentality of the early eighties. This is not a major achievement by any means, but it is still a good place to hang out for a hundred minutes, especially if you get the student rate.

Two new specialty cable TV channels will debut by the end of this year, and although most of MSC’s residents won’t get to see them on campus, they bear mention. Besides, you can always head for home and watch cable TV in the comfort of Mom and Dad’s air-conditioned living room.

The first of the new kids on the tube is The Cartoon Channel. Why the hell not? I mean, we have an all news channel, all weather channel, all kids channel, why not cartoons? Don’t even think that this new channel is Nickleodeon Part II. I can name quite a few adults who will be tuning in on a regular basis. I’ll even pop in once in awhile to see all the cartoons I watched when I was growing up. Magilla Gorilla, Underdog, Courageous Cat and Minute Mouse, Heckle and Jeckle, I can go on and on. These are the shows that I would get up at six in the morning to watch. Then you have all the other cartoons, the most recent ones. Fill in the blank whichever ones you might like. Hell, I’d rather watch cartoons than a depressing news channel any day.

The Science Fiction Channel
Hey baby, I hope you love that puppy a whole lots.

Love, you Diamond for Brady

Cheatab- Here's to your last year here! Let's make it the best yet! Love ya- Tomato

To Steve- Jesus loves you.

Garifu, you're so damn cute! You're better than lunch! ??

Waiting for lunch! ??

SDT & Delta Chi Homecoming '92: The second time around is always better!!!

Iggy- Thanks for brushing my teeth. Love you- Michelle

Robyn- This is it. I'm outta here. Let's make this year the best.

Amy

Jen FS#5. Hope your arm heals fast and without surgery. Don't worry, I'll help you out. Feel better. Love you always, your twin FS#20.

EKMO, I'll come talk with you again. Our last conversation was really great. Towards the end it felt like we could "SAY ANYTHING!!"

Handsome Hansler (ZBT)- Sorry I told a few of our secrets! Love me

ML-Deal-a-Meal

ZBT- OKX = Keep it to a minimum!! Love a Theta with confidence.

Strelac (SDT), We will devise a plan, I promise you, Love, Neen

Sigma's 305C- Help! Help! It's electric!

Dare to be a D - PHI - E

Attention Town Pub waiter Sean: Did you forget about meeting me in the Quad? I've been waiting for lunch!!! ?

Nicki O. (Tri Sigma), Happy Birthday! I love you, Love your twin

Congratulations to the new Tri Sigma Exec Board: Terri, Jen, Gina, Dawn, Tracy & Anne! Terri, Jen, Gina, Tracy & Danielle (Tri Sigma), We were an awesome Exec Board. I love you all! Dawn

Congratulations to the Zeta Kappa Chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma- three times better!!

Sigma Sigma Sigma - "Faithful Unto Death"

Colleen (D-Phi-E)- His name is Chester-just Cheeks-and can't eat an entire rice cake in one day. Love, your neighbor

Lisa (D-Phi-E)- We're always looking out for you- esp. after too much tequila! Love, your two moms

ELVIS - YOU'RE MY HUNKA HUNKA BURNING LUV, MOMO

Tina- I miss you! Get better soon and let's hang out. Heather and I are awesome- D-Phi-E is awesome! I missed you guys over the summer. Welcome back- I love you guys! AH ??

Michelle (Tri Sigma)- You were the best secret Sigma and you are the BEST LITTLE. You're always in my heart and I love you. Love your big- Jill Traci (S), Tri Sigma)- Good luck tonight. We do our best! I love you and you really are a "perfect friend." Love, Jill (Tri Sigma)

Happy birthday Nikki O. We all love you. Love your sisters (Tri Sigma)

A certain kitten that still knows how to scratch- From now on, wet kisses upon your awakening. The scratched one...

-Mallory- I love my self porcupine!! Just relax and everything will be better. I love you. Amy

To Tizzy and the rest of the Tropical sorority ghouls- I think you're the cutest green thing this side of Plmington

To Madrid (mac Daddy); TRULY! Rocky and Maria "LTA"

Psiycho women of 308C- Had a blast in the city!!!- Your friendly neighborhood gynecologist

Donna (Thetas)- Watch out for those pillows- they can be dangerous. Love, Brenda and David

Phi Sig- Thanks for being the silver lining in a dark cloud. Love, "Theta"

Jim M. (ZBT)- Was there really something in the cellar- or a phone call?

To my left half- Please burn those incriminating pictures!!! Love, Your right half

ZBT- You cheat at pool! Love, Mur-Mur

JoAnne and Sheila(Sigma)- You guys are the greatest. I don't know what I'd do without you! Abbe

To the Sisters of Lambda Theta Alpha, We love you! Rocky #3 and Maria #7

Keith (Senate)- It's not a challenge if there's no response! Play the game, Dorinda

"Jason Silver" (You know who you are): Thanks to you I have yellow marker on my pillow case!! And it is your fault. "Donna"

Muppet (ZBT)- Thanks for helping me cheat with the quarter! Torrato

Barry, Let's make it work this time. I love you. Amy

Carmen, I was really happy to see you on Sunday when you came by my house and I saw that smile on your face. Casanot

To the Sigma House Live-ins- LG's room. KIT. Love ya's, Jo

Amaldo - I guess honesty isn't all its cracked up to be...

Andres- You better watch out for Kevin- He's on the look for you!! Chrissy poo poo Christine, Anne + Jen (Tri Sigma)- "I wear tight clothing and high-heeled shoes..." I love you guys! Love your "suite" pea, Michelle

John- Let's make things work. I love your disease. Love, Jenn

"Aramdo- I guess honesty isn't all its cracked up to be. Try telling the truth next time.

Yeah.

Dare to be a D-Phi-E!

Oh! Maryanne! Don't let that city slicker get you down! I love you!! Chrispy poo poo Andres- You better watch out for Kevin- He's on the look for you. You know who!!

"I swear it, by the end of the night, I'll kiss her," Garaoof

"Wet?" Chorns

Is it this new food or is something wrong with my bowel movements? - A seated student.

To Ness (Lambda Theta Phi)- I beeped you. "Beep!!" Rocky "LTA"

Tomato and Ghost- It's revenge of the sweetmates- you'll never get us! Love, Sweetmates from hell

Carmen- I hope you get well soon. Although we don't speak right now I still miss you. Casanot

To Madrid (mac Daddy); TRULY! Rocky and Maria "LTA"

Psiycho women of 308C- Had a blast in the city!!!- Your friendly neighborhood gynecologist

Donna (Thetas)- Watch out for those pillows- they can be dangerous. Love, Brenda and David

Phi Sig- Thanks for being the silver lining in a dark cloud. Love, "Theta"

Jen D. (Theta)- Did you like the concert? I was so excited to see her left hand a lot of times? - A seated student.

Alan and Mike (ZBT)- You guys cheat at pool! Love, Tanja

Jill D. (Theta)- Did you like the popcorn in your shower? Love, Tomato Joanne (Sigma)- I just wanted to write to say "Hi!" ya...

To Gamma Sigma-I miss my MUA pledge sisters- call JC and LG's room. KIT. Love ya's, Jo

Poinichak"
I. Travel

Student Travel Services is now FREE!!!

SPRING BREAK '93 - SELL hour. Call 227-8802.

Flexible days. Average $8-$12 per either 9am to 1pm or 4 to 8pm.

Tour S/M/S Tours/Service.

Sun Splash Florida. Best Commission.

Margarita Island, Cancun, Bahamas, Jamaica, Most Reliable Spring Travel Free! Set. T. Qual. $5.50 per hour. 1-800-245-1826

Code - 5 minute drive from school.

Hrs. available 1:00 - 5:00. No dress Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday.

PT Office Work

Help Wanted

To place a classified ad, please send the ad (25-30 words), along with a check or money order for $8.00 payable to the Montclarian to: The Montclarian 113 Student Center Annex, Montclair State College, Upper Montclair, NJ 07043. ATTN: Classifieds.

TOO NEEDED

PT Office Work

Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday.

Hrs. available 1:00-5:00. No dress code - 5 minute drive from school.

$5.50 per hour. 1-800-245-1826

Travel Free! Sell quality vacations for The Most Reliable Spring Break Company! Jamaica, Cancun, Bahamas, Margarita Island, Florida. Best Commissions/Services. Sunsplash Tours 1-800-426-7710

Babysitter Wanted: Quiet, young hands. 2-3 days a week. Flexible.

Mother of two looking for helping hands. 2-3 days a week. Flexible hours. Must have own transportation. References a must. Livington area. 740-1622

After school childcare. M-F, 3-5pm. 1 to 5 days. For twin 9 year old boys. Glen Ridge. Call Alison 5pm. 1 to 5 days. For twin 9 year old boys. Glen Ridge. Call Alison 10 year old boy. Must drive, own car preferred. Leave message 744-8276.

Mother’s helper needed 4-7pm, Mon-Fri. For smart, well-behaved 10 year old boy. Must drive, own car preferable. Leave message 744-8276.

Babysitter wanted for Friday nights and Saturday nights for great 2 year old. If you love kids, have good references, and own car call 746-2464. $5.00

Weart Art

T-shirts, jackets painted. Original art airbrushed.

Prices vary with complexity. Will do Greek letters.

Call 893-5600 Ask for Rich

If busy call #5620

Cheap! FBI/U.S. Seized

89/Mercedes..............$200
86 Vw......................$50
87 Mercedes..............$100
65 Mustang................$50

Choose from thousands starting $25.

FREE Information - 24 Hour Hotline.

891-379-2929 Copyright #NJIIKJC

1979 Oldsmobile Cutlass Salon Only 70,000 miles! Runs beautifully. New tires, new exhaust, new shocks, new brakes. Insurance broke me. $1200 or b/o. Call Kevin at 893-5230

Classifieds Sell!
MOTHER GOOSE & GRIMM

ACROSS
1 Postings
2 Letter or a key
3 Tory opponent
4 Midwifery
5 Annex
6 Seacoast
7 1952 Elvis hit
8 2 Wts.
20 Questionable remedies
21 Locksmith
22 Scoundrel
23 Dumber
24 1963 Elvis hit
25 1963 Elvis bit
26 —— tower
32 Vlith humor
33 —— code
34 Colloids
36 Evening, in newspapers
37 Monte
38 Like most colleges
39 Despite, for short
41 "West Side Story" character
42 Frost’s "I gave them a ——"
Competitiveness and the excitement is what first attracted senior volleyball player Denise Chouinard to the sport. The senior humanities major became interested in volleyball when she was a freshman at Cresskill High School. A friend informed her that the school team needed players, so she went out for the team. It was then that she realized volleyball was for her. "I love being part of a team. I like knowing that I can depend on my teammates and that they can depend on me," said Chouinard.

Chouinard, currently playing in her third season for MSC, knows that there is always room for improvement. "Our coaches have always pushed me to do better. I always knew that I could play better, and their motivational tactics helped me play at a higher level," she said. "This year's team is very talented, and I think we can improve upon last season's performance. Aside from winning or losing, I will always enjoy playing," added Chouinard.

Lois Fyfe is still making softball headlines at MSC, even though her Red Hawk softball career is over. The fifth-year senior has been nominated for the 1992 Honda Award. The award, sponsored by the Honda Motor Corporation, is annually given to the nation's top collegiate women's softball player. The nomination came unexpectedly to Fyfe, the 1992 Division III Player of the Year. "I'm more surprised. I was also expectedly to Fyfe, the 1992 Division III Player of the Year. "I'm also very surprised. I was also expectedly to Fyfe," said Fyfe. Awards in general shouldn't come as a surprise to Fyfe. However, the Honda Award is the women's softball equivalent to the Heisman Trophy. Fyfe broke eight MSC records during the '92 season. She was spectacular both on the mound and at the plate, although most of the records she broke were offensive. The Morristown native set new NCAA standards for batting average, slugging percentage, hits, doubles, triples, and RBI this past spring. On the mound, Fyfe sported a 20-15 record to go with an excellent 1.75 ERA. Perhaps her most impressive feat in '92 was being the winning pitcher of three NCAA Tournament games in one day. Her overall tournament performance propelled MSC into the Division III College World Series. The Red Hawks came into the World Series seeded sixth in the six-team field. The finished third, which was good for a final ranking of third in Division III. Although she is flattered by the former Honda softball star Lois Fyfe Honda nomination, Fyfe doesn't expect to win the award. "I don't think I'm going to win, but I'm proud of just being considered. There are some very talented and more well known players up for the award, so I believe one of them will win," said Fyfe. One of the nominees is two-time Honda Award winner Lisa Fernandez of UCLA. Fernandez was 29-0 with an astounding 0.14 ERA, and is the favorite to win the award for the third time.

Over her career, Fyfe provided MSC softball with outstanding play as well as durability. The 1992 ECAC Player of the Year played in every MSC softball game for four seasons, which is an indication of her dedication to the team and the game.

Now that her collegiate career is over, Fyfe plans to stick with softball. This past summer, she played for the New Jersey Rebels, an American Softball Association team that competes at the "A" level. The league is highly competitive and plays at the second highest level of women's softball in the country. "I like the competition, so I want to keep playing in that league," she said.

For the last few years, Fyfe has played softball almost all year around. "With summer leagues, fall practices, and the college season, the only month I wasn't playing were November, December, and most of January," said Fyfe.

After being named Second Team All State in 1988, Fyfe came to MSC because she wanted to become a teacher. She had been recruited by several out-of-state schools, but decided to stay in New Jersey. Currently, Fyfe is completing her course work and will do her student teaching at Pequannock High School. She also hopes to help out Pequannock's softball team in 1993.

Lois Fyfe was still making softball headlines at MSC, even though her Red Hawk softball career is over. The fifth-year senior has been nominated for the 1992 Honda Award. The award, sponsored by the Honda Motor Corporation, is annually given to the nation's top collegiate women's softball player. The nomination came unexpectedly to Fyfe, the 1992 Division III Player of the Year. "I'm more surprised. I was also expectedly to Fyfe, the 1992 Division III Player of the Year. "I'm also very surprised. I was also expectedly to Fyfe," said Fyfe. Awards in general shouldn't come as a surprise to Fyfe. However, the Honda Award is the women's softball equivalent to the Heisman Trophy. Fyfe broke eight MSC records during the '92 season. She was spectacular both on the mound and at the plate, although most of the records she broke were offensive. The Morristown native set new NCAA standards for batting average, slugging percentage, hits, doubles, triples, and RBI this past spring. On the mound, Fyfe sported a 20-15 record to go with an excellent 1.75 ERA. Perhaps her most impressive feat in '92 was being the winning pitcher of three NCAA Tournament games in one day. Her overall tournament performance propelled MSC into the Division III College World Series. The Red Hawks came into the World Series seeded sixth in the six-team field. The finished third, which was good for a final ranking of third in Division III. Although she is flattered by the former Honda softball star Lois Fyfe Honda nomination, Fyfe doesn't expect to win the award. "I don't think I'm going to win, but I'm proud of just being considered. There are some very talented and more well known players up for the award, so I believe one of them will win," said Fyfe. One of the nominees is two-time Honda Award winner Lisa Fernandez of UCLA. Fernandez was 29-0 with an astounding 0.14 ERA, and is the favorite to win the award for the third time.

Over her career, Fyfe provided MSC softball with outstanding play as well as durability. The 1992 ECAC Player of the Year played in every MSC softball game for four seasons, which is an indication of her dedication to the team and the game. Now that her collegiate career is over, Fyfe plans to stick with softball. This past summer, she played for the New Jersey Rebels, an American Softball Association team that competes at the "A" level. The league is highly competitive and plays at the second highest level of women's softball in the country. "I like the competition, so I want to keep playing in that league," she said.

For the last few years, Fyfe has played softball almost all year around. "With summer leagues, fall practices, and the college season, the only month I wasn't playing were November, December, and most of January," said Fyfe.

After being named Second Team All State in 1988, Fyfe came to MSC because she wanted to become a teacher. She had been recruited by several out-of-state schools, but decided to stay in New Jersey. Currently, Fyfe is completing her course work and will do her student teaching at Pequannock High School. She also hopes to help out Pequannock's softball team in 1993.

Lois Fyfe was still making softball headlines at MSC, even though her Red Hawk softball career is over. The fifth-year senior has been nominated for the 1992 Honda Award. The award, sponsored by the Honda Motor Corporation, is annually given to the nation's top collegiate women's softball player. The nomination came unexpectedly to Fyfe, the 1992 Division III Player of the Year. "I'm more surprised. I was also expectedly to Fyfe, the 1992 Division III Player of the Year. "I'm also very surprised. I was also expectedly to Fyfe," said Fyfe. Awards in general shouldn't come as a surprise to Fyfe. However, the Honda Award is the women's softball equivalent to the Heisman Trophy. Fyfe broke eight MSC records during the '92 season. She was spectacular both on the mound and at the plate, although most of the records she broke were offensive. The Morristown native set new NCAA standards for batting average, slugging percentage, hits, doubles, triples, and RBI this past spring. On the mound, Fyfe sported a 20-15 record to go with an excellent 1.75 ERA. Perhaps her most impressive feat in '92 was being the winning pitcher of three NCAA Tournament games in one day. Her overall tournament performance propelled MSC into the Division III College World Series. The Red Hawks came into the World Series seeded sixth in the six-team field. The finished third, which was good for a final ranking of third in Division III. Although she is flattered by the former Honda softball star Lois Fyfe Honda nomination, Fyfe doesn't expect to win the award. "I don't think I'm going to win, but I'm proud of just being considered. There are some very talented and more well known players up for the award, so I believe one of them will win," said Fyfe. One of the nominees is two-time Honda Award winner Lisa Fernandez of UCLA. Fernandez was 29-0 with an astounding 0.14 ERA, and is the favorite to win the award for the third time.

Over her career, Fyfe provided MSC softball with outstanding play as well as durability. The 1992 ECAC Player of the Year played in every MSC softball game for four seasons, which is an indication of her dedication to the team and the game. Now that her collegiate career is over, Fyfe plans to stick with softball. This past summer, she played for the New Jersey Rebels, an American Softball Association team that competes at the "A" level. The league is highly competitive and plays at the second highest level of women's softball in the country. "I like the competition, so I want to keep playing in that league," she said.

For the last few years, Fyfe has played softball almost all year around. "With summer leagues, fall practices, and the college season, the only month I wasn't playing were November, December, and most of January," said Fyfe.

After being named Second Team All State in 1988, Fyfe came to MSC because she wanted to become a teacher. She had been recruited by several out-of-state schools, but decided to stay in New Jersey. Currently, Fyfe is completing her course work and will do her student teaching at Pequannock High School. She also hopes to help out Pequannock's softball team in 1993.
Can volleyball team "spike" back?

by Nicole Festa

A little more than a week ago, the MSC volleyball team vowed to fly high in '92. However, after this weekend's disappointing losses, the Red Hawks realized it might be an uphill battle. Despite strong efforts and determination, on September 19, the Red Hawks volleyball team fell to the clutches of Stevens Tech in two straight sets, 15-10 and 15-7. In the second game of the double-header, MSC fell to FDU in four sets, 15-6, 15-9, 13-15 and 15-3.

These were two disappointing losses to a team considered by head coach Anita Kubicka to be the "best talent seen on a volleyball court at MSC." However, it is still early in the season, and the team should be more "together" now.

The big questions probably being asked are: Can they bounce back and put these losses behind them? Can they still "fly high?" Well the expectations for a good season are obviously still present. The Red Hawks are scheduled to compete against Marywood on Thursday, as to others that they can go far this season.

MSC." However, it is still early in the season, and the team should be more "together" now.

The Red Hawks were led individually by their number-one player Ray Gaffney, who shot a tournament-best 76. MSC's number-three player Gary Homer shot a 78, with number-two man Peter O'Reilly right behind him with a 79. Number-four player Casey O'Reilly shot an 81.

The Red Hawk golfers are looking forward to a successful season after some strong performances late last season. The '92-'93 team is packed with veteran golfers. Gaffney, De Lazaro, Homer and John Krick, the team's number-five man, are all returning players. O'Reilly and Mike Hayes are newcomers who are expected to make an impact.

Gaffney, the winner of last year's prestigious Plainfield Country Club Tournament, will be counted on to provide the team with consistently good scores.

De Lazaro, known for his excellent short game, returns to MSC after a two year absence. He spent plenty of time working on his game in Florida since leaving the team. Homer, who won individual honors in last year's East Stroudsburg Classic (72), is excited about the team's chances this season. "This year's team is loaded with talent. I'm sure with the help of our coaches Pete Petani and Bob Downey, we will see continued success," said Homer.

The Red Hawk golfers' next test comes tomorrow when they participate in a tournament at Edgewood in the Pines Golf Course.

In The Bleachers

by Keith A. Idec

The MSC golf team began its fall season in impressive fashion by winning the East Stroudsburg Classic at the Delaware Water Gap Country Club in East Stroudsburg, Pa. on Monday, Sept. 14.

Each team plays in a tournament with five players. The top four scores of a team's five players make up that team's final score.

MSC won this tournament with a total score of 323. The Red Hawks' closest opponent shot a total of 332.

The Red Hawks were led individually by their number-one player Ray Gaffney, who shot a tournament-best 76. MSC's number-three player Gary Homer shot a 78, with number-two man Peter O'Reilly right behind him with a 79. Number-four player Casey O'Reilly shot an 81.

The Red Hawk golfers are looking forward to a successful season after some strong performances late last season. The '92-'93 team is packed with veteran golfers. Gaffney, De Lazaro, Homer and John Krick, the team's number-five man, are all returning players. O'Reilly and Mike Hayes are newcomers who are expected to make an impact.

Gaffney, the winner of last year's prestigious Plainfield Country Club Tournament, will be counted on to provide the team with consistently good scores.

De Lazaro, known for his excellent short game, returns to MSC after a two year absence. He spent plenty of time working on his game in Florida since leaving the team. Homer, who won individual honors in last year's East Stroudsburg Classic (72), is excited about the team's chances this season. "This year's team is loaded with talent. I'm sure with the help of our coaches Pete Petani and Bob Downey, we will see continued success," said Homer.

The Red Hawk golfers' next test comes tomorrow when they participate in a tournament at Edgewood in the Pines Golf Course.

Gaffney leads MSC golf to season-opening victory at East Stroudsburg Classic

Michael Frasco, sports writer:

1. x-L.A. Rams over N.Y. Jets in a pick 'em. Game still hurting.
   * 2. x-Chicago -4 over Atlanta. Bears at home win with punchless Falcons...
   4. x-Houston -11 over San Diego. Moon will shine brightly.
   5. Pittsburgh -3 over x-Green Bay. Steeler are on a roll.

Steve Garufi, Editorial Page Editor:

1. N.Y. Jets over x-L.A. Rams in a pick 'em. And just think, the Jets still have to play the Pars and Colts.
   * 2. Miami -6 over x-Chicago. True, the game's on the road, but six points isn't much.
   3. San Francisco -3 over x-New Orleans. Another road game, but S.F. is simply better.
   4. Atlanta +4 over x-Chicago. A close game. Take the points.
   5. x-Houston -11 over San Diego. This one should be over by halftime.

Keith A. Idec, Sports Editor:

1. N.Y. Jets over x-L.A. Rams in a pick 'em. No way the Jets go 0-4 with Nagle back.
   * 2. x-Chicago -4 over Atlanta. I wouldn't want to see Ditka on Monday morning after losing three in a row. Would you?
   4. Miami -6 over x-San Diego. Marino will keep Dolphins undefeated.
   5. Green Bay +3 over Pittsburgh. Take the points, because Brett Favre will keep the Packers in this one.

Callie, Managing Editor:

1. x-L.A. Rams over N.Y. Jets. Hate the Jets. Go back to Shea...
   2. Atlanta +4 over x-Dallas. Take the 4 points. Neon Deen is too much.
   3. Buffalo -14 over x-New England. In this really necessary?
   4. Miami -6 over x-San Diego. Always bet two teams. Miami and whoever plays the Jets.
   5. San Francisco -3 over x-New Orleans. Be careful this one could be close.

Maureen McGowan, News Editor:

   3. Green Bay +3 over Pittsburgh. Refer to Jets comment.
   4. Miami -6 over x-San Diego. Calle typed this.(see Calle's picks above.)
   5. x-Dallas Bears over Atlanta +4.............Duikh.

x denotes home team
* denotes best bet of the week
Men's soccer drops to 3-3

by Craig Berash

There were plenty of fireworks at the MSC men's soccer home opener Friday night. Red and yellow outbursts dominated the action and when the smoke settled, the Red Hawks were left celebrating the Golden Pels of Rowan College.

With the score tied at 2-2 midway through the second half, Rowan scored twice in 1:48 to spoil MSC's first home game.

The first half was marked by tight tackling and great goalkeeping. Mark Williams frustrated Rowan for the first forty-five minutes by repeatedly going high and to his left, before a golden cross and throw-in in front of a screaming crowd. "Mark played the best game of the season," said head coach Rob Chesney. The game's first goal was set up when playmaking midfielder Fernando Barbato sent Dennis Mancero free on a cross with a beautiful chest pass. Mancero was taken down in the box and awarded a penalty kick. He made two attempts at goal, the first one going to the bottom left corner, and MSC ended the first half with a 1-0 lead. The game was Barcato's fifth of the season.

Rowan took the lead early in the second half, scoring twice in a minute and a half once assisted by the goalie.

MSC's Mario Batelli responded with a head-ball goal, his first, off a throw-in from Erik Neubart. It was not enough however, because the Red Hawks recorded a 9-3 win over the Rowan College Profs of Rowan College.

Ostrowski's goalpropels fieldhockey

by Mark Alan Belnay

The MSC field hockey team now owns its first victory of the season. Their first victim was Kings College of Pennsylvania this past week. The team was again led by the outstanding goaltending of Lori Ostrowski as she held Kings College to a single goal in MSC's 2-1 victory. Ostrowski has been solid in goal since the onset of the season. The Red Hawks played remarkably well considering the problems the program has faced thus far this season in terms of manning a team for competition.

MSC faced the fully manned squad from Rowan College and was defeated 5-0 on Saturday. Ostrowski was implied outstanding as was the rest of the team that played short last once again. Ostrowski, who preserved the team's victory against Kings College is new in goal and is doing a marvelous job of Jessica Edelman, who has given up her position in goal to become a top flight field player because of the lack of support the team can field. Head coach Barbara Brown has done a remarkable job in molding a team together a squad of athletes that work as one on the field and will at last be joined by three new players that will give the MSC team a full roster for the remaining games of the season.

The MSC team has two remaining road games against rivals Drew and William Paterson (Sept. 24th and 26th at William Paterson) before returning to MSC for their home opener on the 29th against Kean College. The home opener on the 29th is the first game of a three-game homestand that includes games against former national champions Trenton State and a match with Rowan College in a game that will hold a strong revenge factor for the MSC team.

After only three games it is evident that the team is loaded with a group of talented athletes who are finally at full strength after a rough road at the season's onset. The 2-1 record to Kings College showed that this team is fully capable of victory and the home opener against Kean College could be stepping stone for the rest of the season.