Arrest in WMSC-FM case

- Six hundred fifty dollars worth of equipment recovered
- Campus Police nab D.J. during radio show

by Greg MacSweeney and Kevin Sean Colligan

The on-air arrest of Death Metal DJ Bill "T. until proven innocent" Turgencik has WMSC-FM looking forward to retrieving some stolen equipment and police looking for at least two more suspects in a crime that occurred almost two years ago.

Turgencik was arrested during his Feb. 6 Saturday afternoon radio show and charged with two counts of possession of stolen property relating to a theft that occurred in 1991, according to Sergeant Debra Newcombe of the Campus Police.

"To the best of my knowledge," said Dr. Edward Martin, Dean of Student Affairs, "the arrest was the result of cooperation of an unidentified informant."

Stu Weissman, the general manager of WMSC said he received an anonymous tip from a former associate of Turgencik on Jan. 31.

A subsequent search of Turgencik's home turned up "a significant amount of evidence," said Dr. Edward Martin, Dean of Student Affairs. Among that evidence, police said, was a tape deck and one of three CD players stolen from WMSC.

Turgencik was arraigned Feb. 2 on two counts of possessing stolen property and one count of conspiracy in Clifton Municipal Court, according to Newcombe.

"If he pleads guilty, we get the equipment back immediately," said Stu Weissman, General Manager of WMSC.

The original theft occurred sometime between March 1 and March 2 in 1991. At the time, the loss of the CD players forced the station to rely on two turntables and one cassette player - thus preventing them from playing 75 percent of new releases. "We have new stuff, but we could definitely use [the stolen equipment]," said Weissman, who is planning to install the returned CD player into the production studio.

Police also found $200 worth of CD's which are thought to have been stolen from Centenary College in Hackettstown, NJ. Eric Slater, the General Manager of Centenary College's 91.9 WNTI-FM, confirmed that Turgencik had been a D.J. at the station, "He worked from March until September in 1992; at which time I had to let him go because there were too many students to get on the air." Slater was not aware of Turgencik's arrest.

Police say the investigation is ongoing and expect more arrests.

New furniture in Bohn scheduled for Spring Break

by Michael P. Rubino

Residents of Bohn Hall can look forward to spring break as the approximate completion time for the arrival of their furniture according to Douglas W. Cooper, Assistant Director for Residence Hall Facilities.

Originally, the new furniture was scheduled to arrive by July 1 of last year. The furniture was supposed to be completely in place by Sept. 1, just in time for the Fall semester arrival of Bohn Hall residents.

"We were victims of circumstance. We had a choice to wait on the shipment or to cancel the order. We had to make the best of a bad situation," said Cooper.

The furniture did not arrive until Sept. 1, the original completion crew has been working 8 hours a day, 6 days a week.

Cooper states that the biggest problem causing the project's delay is the dismantling of the old furniture. Much of the old wardrobes need to be dismantled in order to remove them from the rooms.

According to Cooper, most of the work is completed and only about one-third of the wardrobes remain.

$1500 increase in conference line spurs debate

by Kelly J. Schab

During Wednesday's meeting, legislators took more than one hour to debate and eventually pass, an appropriations bill which will give the SGA an extra $1500 for a Spring Conference that takes place the weekend of Feb. 20th and 21st.

The conference is for legislators, both new and old, to learn about parliamentary procedure, to bond with their fellow legislators, and to learn what the SGA is all about.

$1500 was originally appropriated for the trip, but due to doubts about the weekend's weather, a bus will be hired to ensure safe traveling.

Approximately fifty people will be going including executive board and cabinet members.

Both positive and negative sides were brought up during the debate including the need to be stuck together for two days on the woods and, on the other hand, the cost of the trip. The possibility of holding the conference in the Student Center was also brought up.

Holly Stephens, Alumni Relations Director, explained about the purpose of the Phone-a-Thon which needs more volunteers for Feb. 24, March 2 and March 3. They will be calling alumni for donations at 34 Normal Ave., the alumni house.

So far, according to Stephens, "the turnout has been terrific." For more information or to set up volunteer hours, call extension 4141 and ask for Diane.

Steven Khalaf was appointed director of Welfare and Internal Affairs and promised to tackle such projects as problems with identification card numbers, handicap access throughout the campus and shuttle bus problems.

Vivian Rodriguez was appointed director of Academic Affairs and promised to work on academic advising and extending library hours for the benefit of commuters.

A call to action

by Geoff Pfaff

We have come to the spot in time where our immediate decisions can and will seal the fate of human kind and her surrounding brood. No more can we be allowed to make poor choices. The balance of things have begun to swing irrevocably towards an un-fixable situation where there are no second chances. We are at a fixed decision a couple makes.

Does population growth have an effect on the environment? To some, the answer has been obvious for a long time. Lovers of nature have long been aware that when wild lands are developed for human use, wildlife is displaced and sometimes entire species become extinct.

By the middle of this century, if not before, it must become clear to most observers that human population growth is one of the main forces for the ever-increasing encroachment on wild lands. In recent years, as wilderness has been shrinking and species have been becoming extinct at an alarming rate, two of America’s oldest and largest environmental organizations, The Sierra Club and The National Audubon Society, officially have adopted positions favoring the limits to population growth.

The environmental organizations have taken these positions despite the fact that limiting population growth is a thorny issue, with problematic social, ethical and religious aspects. Spokespersons for the organizations have said that deciding how many children to have is probably the most important environmental decision a couple makes.

The best protection to use against AIDS is Latex condoms with Spermicide. If you are having oral sex, do not use the condom with spermicide, but use a dry non-lubricated condom. You are a very important person. Treat yourself with the respect you deserve and use a condom.

EVE ON EARTH

Dear Eve,

I am a freshman who is just beginning to experiment with sex. I feel very uncomfortable about introducing a condom during sex when these guys don’t introduce them themselves. I am on the pill sometimes - I don’t use one. I don’t sleep with just anyone. What can I say to my partner to make him use a condom?

Thanks,
Concerned Freshman

Dear Concerned Freshman,

Your reservations are probably felt by many other students, regardless of their experience with sex or their age. After all, AIDS and pregnancy couldn’t happen to me, right? Well, wrong. We should and must take every precaution against spreading this crippling disease even further than it has already progressed. Innocent babies are dying as well as responsible adults who were just too young to insist on wearing a condom. In fact, condoms don’t have to be "not fun." Comments like "Babe, come on in its time to wrap that willie" or "you know sailor, no one comes abroad without a raincoat" can be used to make you both laugh and relax any tension felt.

Your partner is even more likely to respect the fact that you do take precautions because then he'll feel safer with the fact that you don't have AIDS.

When you care enough to wear the very best

Safe sex, AIDS awareness and the issue of abortion have become topics of everyday conversation for our generation. We even discuss population control and the importance of condoms over pizza in the Rat. In recent years, the SGA has observed National Condom Week by handing out free condoms with information on how to use condoms, safe sex and AIDS awareness to students at MSC. Condom Week has become an annual tradition at MSC, somewhat like Homecoming and tuition increases. We are amused by annual Condom Week mascots like 1992’s “Stan the Elephant Man” and this year’s “Condom Man” that grace the fronts of free SGA t-shirts. Nevertheless, we must not forget the important messages that are voiced during this campaign to educate the American public, particularly our generation.

“Safe sex saves” is a slogan that we can recite in our sleep, but it is during the waking hours that we spend in bed and other various places when this saying is most important. Sexually transmitted disease have faced people of many generations in the past, but none has been as deadly, claimed as many lives or has been more prominent in American society than AIDS. We are a generation who have come of age with the HIV virus and the AIDS epidemic. It is all around us. Television talks show cover it almost daily. The nightly news discusses a new AIDS study all the time. However, just because we find ourselves becoming familiar with this topic, we must not dismiss it as another media soundbyte. It is an immediate health crisis for each and every one of us, especially the sexually active.

In the beginning of the AIDS crisis the disease was known as “gay man’s cancer.” Then the medical community discovered that it was also a problem among blood donor recipients and intravenous drug users who shared needles. Now we know that the HIV virus does not discriminate. AIDS is an equal opportunity disease. No matter what your age, gender, race, sexual class or sexual orientation is you may become a victim of AIDS. We should be the first to admit that we are a generation that has, for the most part, become sexually active at a very young age. Nor can we deny that college campuses afford the opportunity for sexual activity. Therefore, we may laugh when we see our “Condom Man” t-shirts, but it presents us with a very real message.

Condoms are easy to obtain. Don’t be so shy, you can now waltz into the MSC convenience store and pick up a pack. They come with directions and friends can always give helpful advice on how to use them properly. Wearing a condom during intercourse is not a definite way to avoid contracting a sexually transmitted disease or preventing unwanted pregnancy, but aside from abstinence it is the safest measure we can take.

If you make the decision to have unprotected sex, you are gambling with your own life and the life of the person with whom you are sexually involved. At this time, there is no known cure for the AIDS virus, but if we assume the responsibility of having safe sex then we can help to stop the spread of AIDS. “When you care enough to wear the very best,” you are taking control of your future and the future of our generation. Be safe. Stay alive.

"Food is something they eat every day."

Racial harmony goal of new SGA committee

"Free your mind. The rest will follow. Be color-blind. Don’t be so shallow." These profound ideas expressed by En Vogue, demonstrate the growing need to surmount the limitations of our minds. In many incidents our minds allow us to generalize preconceived, but unwarranted views of individuals based on their race. This in essence, is a form of racism. Racism is quite prevalent in our society. However, due to the society of today it regrettably becomes a taboo during forums.

With the establishment of the Multicultural Advisory Committee of the Student Government Association, this matter will be addressed. The focus of this committee will be to promote racial awareness, tolerance and ultimately racial harmony amongst all ethnic groups. In order to achieve the aforementioned goal, this organization will concentrate on the aid of the SGA, the Greeks, the Class I’s, II’s, III’s and IV’s and last but not least the administration. This committee is open to any individual. The members of this organization look forward to working with you.

LETTER...

Croatian-American student disagrees with "Vinnie’s Views"

"Vinnie's Views", U.S.-European intervention needed for peace in Baltic States (2/11/93), makes some good points about the situation in Bosnia. However, there were a few errors in his analysis of the situation. Being a Croatian-American and having relatives residing in Croatia, I’m aware of the situation. Vinnie fails to distinguish the fact that the Serbs are the main aggressors in this civil war. He also fails to mention that it’s the Serbs preaching ethnic cleansing.

According to Vinnie, all sides are practicing this inhumane act. Before the civil war, Yugoslavia was a country with seven republics. Different ethnic groups resided in each republic. The languages were different in each republic and in some republics even a different alphabet was used.

After Slovenia seceded from Yugoslavia, the Croatians were the next to secede. After the brutal war with the Serbs, who dominated the former Yugoslavia government, Croatia entered a truce with Serbia for peace. The Bosnian conflict resulted next with the Serbs being the aggressors. They wanted to exterminate the Muslims by taking their possessions and eventually their lives. Being heavily armed, the Serbs were successful. The Bosnian-Muslims are not prepared for this onslaught because they are militarily inferior to the Serbs.

A possible solution to the Bosnian situation is not U.S. intervention, but the supplying of Bosnia’s Muslims and Croats with arms. The need for heavy artillery for the Muslims and Croats is a priority if the Serb aggression is to be subdued. The diplomatic approach will not be effective in this situation because the Owen-Vance plan gives too much to the Serbs, with neither Croatia nor the Bosnian Muslims agreeing to these terms.

Humanitarian relief is also ineffective because of the Serb aggression. United States intervention could take the lives of many soldiers and the idea of mountain warfare doesn’t sit well in the minds of the military because of continual guerrilla warfare used in this region. Limited air strikes and the arming of the Bosnian Croats and Muslims seems like the only feasible approach in ending the brutal civil war in former Yugoslavia. If this war does not end it may escalate into Macedonia, Albania, Greece and Turkey.

Welcome loyal readers, to a very special installment of PROPHET BIGG! There are new movies every week of every month of every year. And, occasionally, there are performers in those films who enjoy a moment of stardom and just as rapidly fade into obscurity. On other occasions, a performer will spend most of his or her life, from childhood to demise, in "The Business" one way or another. Ron Howard is a fine example. Last week, probably at the very same time as you were perusing through last weeks PROPHET installment, I was attending a screening of Untamed Heart in Manhattan. And after that screening a small man wearing a presidential inaugural cap low over his eyes and two or three people around him walked into the room, which I shared with a myriad of college reporters from as far away as Boston and a high school journalism class consisting of some 25 giggling teenage girls. When the man sat down, a melodic sigh arose from behind my front row seat. I looked back there and saw their lost-looking glance fixed on the gentleman in front of me. I realized that I was now seated some five feet from a man who could entertain people till the day he died.
Father Art: more than a campus priest

by Kristy Capobianco

You may see him around campus and mistake him for just another college student. With his understanding, patience and ability to listen, you may consider him just another friend. But this man is both, and just a little bit more. He is Father Arthur Frank Humphrey, age 44, and is MSC's Catholic Priest.

A prominent figure on campus, you may have seen him in his frequented places such as the Student Center Cafe, the Rat, (or the Student Center Pizzeria) and Blanton Hall. "A part of ministry is being visible, known and accessible," says Father Art. He feels preaching is only a part of being a priest and being there for the students is a big part.

Originally from Berkeley Heights, Father Art was ordained in May of 1975 and has been a Catholic Priest for 18 years. He was a priest for seven years at St. Joseph's High School in Roselle and one year at St. Luke's High School in Holbrook. In September of 1982, he came to MSC's parish and is now in his eleventh year. "I watched so many high school students go off to college and I thought that's where I'm going," said Father Art.

Dealing with the college-age group is difficult, he admits. "Even though some situations are not comfortable and some have no solution, just having someone to listen to, and being a neutral third party helps," he said. Just because he is a priest doesn't mean that students don't turn to him. Father Art spends most of his time counseling. "Some students call for counseling about family problems and relationships. Some are just lonely or in trouble," others call for a confession. The campus is his "primary responsibility," even though alumni call to marry them, or baptize their children.

Father Art feels he and other ministers on this campus look forward to interacting with the students, and make a good effort to do so. "If someone asked me how many students go to mass," he said "when they heard the number who attend the services, they'd say, 'why are you here.' His main priority is to be there for the students as a friend, counselor, or whatever they may need.

He feels the best way to get to know people is by talking to them.

Father Art has many active roles on MSC’s Campus. He gives a lot to the students by being an advisor for The Newman Center (the Catholic Campus ministry) which is a student led group for spiritual activity, educational and social growth. He is also an advisor for many Greek organizations. In accordance with years of service, he is a brother and chairman of the Council of Alpha Phi Omega coed Fraternity, an advisor and sister of Sigma Delta Phi Sorority, an advisor of the Delta Chi Fraternity, honorary brother of Delta Kappa Psi Fraternity, and temporary advisor to Tau Phi Beta Fraternity and Alpha Omega Sorority. "I love being the advisor for all of them, except when they get in trouble," he laughed, and added "which is rare."

Father Art has also worked on homecoming, spring-week, carnival, R.A. training programs and as a lip-sync competition judge. He is willing to help with almost anything that anyone asks of him, as long as it's within reason.

Next on Father's Art's agenda will be conducting scripture services for Ash Wednesday at 12:15, 1:15, 3:30 and a mass at 7:30. Mass will also be held on April 8, at 4:45 on Holy Thursday and Sunday April 11, Easter morning at 11:00.

After Spring Break Father Art will be:
- Organizing people for Fast Day, which will include giving up two meals in one day, and the dining services will refund that money for the poor.
- Three times a month the Newman Center has Newman nights, where people get together to attend mass, have dinner, relax and have discussions, just like at home.
- He also hopes to plan philanthropy events with IPC (Inter Fraternity Council).
- Father Art is always open for suggestions, and if it's "reasonable, he'll run with it."

Should Mike Tyson be freed from jail?

Yes, because there were many issues and facts that were left out of the original trial. And when a crime of such nature is addressed it needs to be proven without a shadow of a doubt.

No, because he did his dirt and he should do the time, even though they (the system) might have locked him up on the wrong account.

Yes, only for the sole reason that I'd really like to see him start fighting again.

Mike Tyson should be free. The girl who got him in trouble is a phony like the rest of them and should seek mental help.

tured (The Untamed Heart) is a real rarity in Hollywood. Is that one of the things that drew you to the script?

S • Yeah. This is certainly something I didn't expect to be asked to do. When the script came around, Tony Bill (the director of Untamed Heart) gave a few people in me that I didn't necessarily see in myself. I'm grateful that he decided to stick with me and pursue me to do this role because I really wasn't sure about it in the beginning. (Sigh) First one down.

Laughter.

Q • Would you consider yourself from the same mold as such actors as James Dean, Marlon Brando, Montgomery Clift or John Garfield?

S • Nah. I think when they made the molds for those particular actors they probably broke 'em and threw them away. I don't know what particular mold I'm a part of, but those guys were definitely in a whole "Young Jack Nicholson" category.

Laughter.

Q • How much spontaneity did you actually have on the set? Was there any from the actors, like things that the director didn't work over, and you did it and it came out okay?

S • That was something that was brought to my attention by my parents. They just happened to come in, and they were doing something else all night and my mother called and asked me to do a favor except she was really doing it for me. And I think something else I've always wanted to do.

Q • Untamed Heart contained an important scene at a hockey game. Are you a hockey fan?

S • Actually, I'm a basketball fan. I had a good time at that game.

Q • Was it real game or set up for the movie?

S • Yeah. That was for real. And I really caught that puck too.

Laughter.

Q •详・It's not a movie about a heart transplant. The role in Untamed Heart is a real thing.

S • That was for real. And I really caught that puck too.

Laughter.

Q • How much spontaneity did you get involved with the play directed and Pediatric AIDS?

S • That was something that was brought to my attention by my mother. She produced the show some years ago, and my father directed it. She thought it was a research and wanted to do something about it. So she brought the idea to my attention and asked me if I wanted to direct it. And I had never directed anything before in my life, so this was a real good opportunity and I got to work with a lot of people I hadn't seen in years and do something for a good cause. It all worked out beautifully. Since then, a lot of people have come from all over the country and they've gone start doing their own productions of it and continue to raise money for the cause.

Q • What do you think of the whole "Young Jack Nicholson" thing?

S • I just try not to anymore, really. I thought about it for a little while but now I'd sort of like to pass that to Tom Cruise now. After A Few Good Men when he imitated him, at least for one line, I feel like he can carry that torch now. He's the one who has been most challenging role thus far.

Q • The role in The Name of the Rose was really difficult for me physically. It was grueling, but working with Sean Connery was really nerve-racking, a showhow in the beginning, until I got to know him and see what kind of person he is. Robin Hood: Prince of Thieves was so coke walk either, though.

Q • Do you have a lot of input in your films?

S • Well, that depends on the movie. With Pump Up The Volume I had a lot of say. I had to put a lot of my feelings into it. With Untamed Heart I really wanted to stick as close to the script as I possibly could. It all depends.

Q • PROPHET? Have Iqthe ques­tions for you. The first one is we've heard you talk about your favorite films and which ones you like doing. Did you really not like doing Untamed Heart?

S • Well, let me put this it. I'll never forget my pants again.

Laughter.

Q • That's the one I did a hard time with. PROPHET? The other question is can you give us a little insight as to why they changed the title from Baboon Heart to Untamed Heart?

S • Because of all the transplants on that I don't think they wanted the audience to get the wrong idea. It's not a movie about a heart transplant.

Q • Did you have something to do with that change?

S • Well, no. I actually liked the title Baboon Heart. But they felt it was just something they needed to change so people didn't get the wrong idea.

Q • Who have you learned the most from?

S • Well, "We've learned something from everybody. Even if something was a bad experience, I came away learning something from it. I think life is a daily pro­ cess of learning and trying to stay open minded and teachable. I've probably learned the most from my parents. She's the really key person in all of this.

Q • What was the most embarrassing moment in your career?

S • It probably took place in a love scene, I'm sure. I won't go into it any further that that.

Laughter.

Q • Do you have any advice for aspiring young actors?

S • Other than don't do it? Laughter.

Q • Make sure you pick your friends wisely. Feel people out before you get to the point when you feel like you can't really trust anybody anymore. At least you'll have real friends.

Q • Did you ever go to college?

S • Not that I recall. No. Laughter.

Q • Do you feel you missed out by not going?

S • Well, I had the opportunity to have a lot of experiences out there in this business and working with different people. So I don't feel that I missed out. Someday I may decide to attend college. I don't know if they'd take me. It might just pop in to my head and I'll do it, but at this point I don't feel I will.

Q • How much spontaneity did Tony Bill allow you in the role of Adam?

S • That's one of the great things about Tony, and I really love directors who don't like a lot of takes. He's really great about that. He didn't rehearse or go over anything again and again. So, a lot of what you're seeing is pretty spontaneous. It's mostly first and second takes. Most directors like to shoot things over and over again and it tends to get a little maddening, it sort of feel like it's getting old.

Q • Have you remained friends with any of your leading ladies like Winona Ryder?

S • Yes. We all stay in pretty close touch. (Checkles) Laughter.

Q • The scenes in Untamed Heart were filmed, for the most part, in natural succession. Was it helpful?

S • Yeah. That gave us a real sense of consistence which helped us to find our characters.

Q • If you were a salad dressing which would you be and why?

Laughter. At this point, Mr. Slater put his head down on the table in front of him, having no sort of answer.

Q • PROPHET? Kind of makes getting up in the morning all the more worth it, huh?

S • Mr. Slater raised his head and said to me "It sure does." Laughter.
A rose by any other name is just a flower

After you’ve walked down the student center stairs, (the ones by the MAC machine) slipped and fell on the ice, and consequently sued MSC for negligence, take your extra cash and go to the Student Center Pizzeria.

What?! Did I say that? You can’t do that! It’s wrong! It’s immoral! It’s not ethical! Don’t go to the Student Center Cafeteria until they call it THE RAT again!!

This is blasphemy! They make us wait for more than a whole semester for THE RAT, and all we get is Student Center Cafeteria D! The Rat (no more bold face, you get the point) had ambience. The “pizzeria” should have balloons and clowns. Let me tell you why I am so upset.

1. The first thing that you notice is that they ripped out that big, beautiful, wooden bar and replaced it with a card table full of napkins. The new bar, located opposite the old one, doesn’t even work. It is made of imitation cheez-wiz and promptly seats 2 1/2.

2. Ouch! My eyes!! They made the place so bright. Time was when a person could go to the Rat and watch General Hospital without the embarrassment of being seen. Speaking of watching:

3. Where the hell is the big screen TV?? (for complaint see #2)

4. $1.25 for a measly slice of pizza!!! But then again, this is MSC.

OK, those are my main problems and I do have to give credit where credit is due. The food is not bad. But then again, sometimes it’s not heated. If you eat there at the wrong time and order pizza, it’ll be at least fifteen minutes out of the oven. Now it’s not cold, it’s room temperature. You know, when you order Domino’s and finish all but the last piece, which you think you’re going to save. But a half hour later you decide that you want it. And then because the slice has fused to the Domino’s box... well you get the idea.

Kids, The Rat is like Michael Jackson. It still delivers the same stuff, but it doesn’t look like it did a few years ago. So I find myself in a dilemma. To eat or not to eat.

My fellow Montclarions, it’s time this apathetic student body took a stand! We can’t just muddle in there like cattle, slobbering over our pizza. We have to stand up for our Rat Rights! And so I say to you: Ask not what your Rat can do for you, but rather ask what you can do for your Rat. Form rallies and protests! Boycott this horrible shell of what once was! Make them give us THE RAT!

What’s that? Where do we eat? Well, let’s see... there’s Blanton. NO, that won’t work. There’s the commuter caf. No, that won’t work either. Well then there’s, um, er...

See ya in the Rat.
Writing a cover letter

Cover letters are as important as resumes, but most job hunters do not take the time to create letters that work well for them. Perhaps after they have struggled with the resume, spending effort, time and money to create a “masterwork,” the cover letter appears to be only a formality of little importance. After all, the resume says everything that matters, doesn’t it? No, it does not, and that is why cover letters must be written. Here’s what an effective letter should do:

- Your letter should tell your reader why he or she has received your resume in the mail. (When resumes are hand delivered, no cover letter is needed.) Is this resume being sent in response to an advertised position? At the suggestion of a friend who already works for the organization? As part of a request for an information interview? There are dozens of reasons why you might be prompted to send a resume to an organization and you need to tell the reader why you are writing.

- Your letter should be written to make the resume intriguing to the person who will be reading it. (Resumes and their cover letters are never sent to “Director of Marketing” or some other “title.” You must always call the organization to find the name of the appropriate individual.) How do you make your resume catch the interest of a total stranger? Create several sentences in your letter that make your resume specific to the position you are after and show your knowledge of the organization you are contacting.

  For example, “You will note from my resume that I have been promoted several times in the last few years to my current position as Assistant Manager, supervising 20 part time employees in a high volume restaurant. In addition to the information provided on my resume, I inventoried daily sales of each food item on our menu using the register software your ad requests. I believe that these experiences have prepared me for the management position in your restaurant. Additionally, last Tuesday’s article in the business section of the NY Times, describing your company’s decision to offer a “health food menu,” really piqued my interest and would make excellent use of my education in nutrition.”

- Never forget to ask for an interview if that is the reason you are writing. Indicate that you will be calling during the week after this mailing to determine a convenient date. Do not assume that the employer will take the initiative to call you as he or she may have received 50 resumes on the same day as yours appears in the “in-box.”

The style of your cover letter is as important as its content. Use the rules that apply to any business communication:

- Keep the letter short enough to be easy to read but long enough to say what needs to be said.
- Be certain that there are no errors in grammar, punctuation or spelling.
- Respect your reader and don’t try to “impress” him by using fancy language you do not usually use. Leave your thesaurus unopened and write in simple, direct English. State your accomplishments plainly without exaggeration or bragging. Remember that you are writing to someone with as much or more education, and experience than you have. Also, it is someone who probably has seen thousands of cover letters and resumes over the years.

MSC drops rematch with Stockton, 79-60

Chances of the program's first .500 season since '85-'86 slip away

by Michael Frasco

If only the MSC men’s basketball team shot better in the 79-60 loss to Stockton State Monday night at Stockton Gym in Pomona.

If only the Red Hawks were not out-muscled on the boards by a 55-34 margin. If only Stockton’s Chris Mitchell didn’t rip MSC for a game-high 26 points. If only Stockton wasn’t ranked No. 11 nationally in Division III.

If only.

Thompson named NJAC Defensive Player of the Year

by Keith A. Idee

A perfect way to end a college career is the way MSC football player Larry Thompson described being named the NJAC Defensive Player of the Year for 1992-93. The senior from Millisjon will honored at the ECA's Annual Awards Banquet at the Sheraton Hotel in East Rutherford. The banquet honors players in all divisions from Maine to Virginia.

Thompson, who was also named an honorable mention All-American by the Champion sports company, feels that this award is the one that means the most to him.

"The coaches vote for this award, so it's great to see that the people who know the game most recognized my achievements," said the 6’0”, 250-pound Thompson.

MSC head coach Rick Giancola was equally proud of his three-year starter at nose tackle.

"Larry's a terrific young man. He worked extremely hard and played with great intensity. Add that to his great skill and you have an outstanding football player," said Giancola.

Giancola also knows he’s achieved something that he can always look back on. "It's special because it signifies the dedication and commitment that I put into my football career at Monclair State," he said.

Hey fellas: Let's try basketball instead of basketbrawl

The always controversial intramural basketball league opened under new management this week. The new sheriff in town is SILC President Brian Pray and he will attempt to run the show without the brawls which have tarnished the league's past two seasons.

"We're anticipating a better season than in the past," said Pray. "And at the same time I'm hoping...hoping that nobody hates me like Frank," he added.

"Frank," is Frank Basile, last year's SILC President who was assaulted and blinned during the playoff battle cancelled the playoffs, then finished the season two weeks later without further incidents. Then there was two years ago when John Flore was the man in charge. A fight erupted after a semifinal playoff game. Flore cancelled the entire league and co-champs were named. The new SILC administration has legislated to prevent a repeat of the same type of nonsense. Introducing the NO FIGHT RULE: If a fight occurs, on or off the court, both teams will be expelled for the remainder of the basketball season.

Let's hope the executive branch is not needed.

WHAT'S NEW: Each of the 28 teams will get shits this year for their $40 entry fee.

WHAT'S OLD: The three-time defending champs BDP will have their core of past champions back. Almar "Moo Moo" Dyer and Lamont Hasley make up the best backcourt in the league, and Amod Field upfront, and you may have a four-peat! Try dynamite!

CB's SILC SCOOP

by Craig Berosh

WHAT ELSE IS SOLD:
The five-on-five league is still playing two 20 minute halves, no 3-point line and no dunking. Also, there will be plenty of bad officiating and lots of complaining from players about the bad officiating. A word to all the crybabies around the league, SILC is in need of referees and I hear they actually pay, so stop bitchin and sign up.

THE RICH GET RICHER: Many of last year's title contenders did well by picking up a few free agents. Sudden Impact added Ibaa Mahammed and Tyrone Rolls to a team that lost in the semis last year. Runnin Nudipp picked up Pat Brunner to go along with proven scorer Justin Vogel giving them a solid one-two scoring combo. MVP candidate Brian McNair leads the X-Men who can go ten deep and had really cool uniforms last year.

THE BEST OF THE REST: The Riccifics have a two good players and a great nickname (Catch the Lick), but they can still ball. Delta GTI tops out the six-pack. Hey DX! pledges, trivia time. Who was the last team to win the SILC Basketball Championship, other than BDP, in the last three years. Answer: Delta Chi (co-champs 1991)."

No more iron bars for 'Iron Mike'

Mike Tyson, the former undisputed heavyweight champion of the world, has been sitting in an Indiana state penitentiary cell unjustly for a little more than a year now.

That's correct, unjustly. Ever since he burst upon the boxing scene in mid-1980's, Tyson has been someone that either you really like or you really hate. Generally, there is no in-between.

Forget how you feel about Iron Mike for a few minutes and take a look at the reasons why he shouldn't be in jail.

Rape is the most horrific crime, aside from murder, that can be committed and should never be taken lightly.

However, there are only two people in the entire world that know what happened in suite 606 of the Canterbury Hotel in Indianapolis, Indiana on July 19, 1991.

The speculation and accusations that have followed that night has been nothing but varying opinions from people who really don't know the truth, except Tyson and Desiree Washington.

It comes down to who you choose to believe.

Red Hawk grapplers upended by Kean, but Sloan keeps unbeaten streak alive

The lastest chapter in the long running rivalry between MSC and Kean College was written last Thursday in Union.

The injury-plagued Red Hawks were unable to pull out a victory as they were defeate by the Cougars, 34-12.

This weekend (Feb. 20-21), the Red Hawks will travel to Trenton State in Ewing Township to participate in the Metropolitan Tournament.

MSC hopes to go into the tournament healthy enough to come up with a few individual victories.

Sloan is one of the favorites in the 177-pound weight class and could very well come back to Upper Montclair as a tournament winner.

MSC finished up the season with a record of 12-11 overall and 2-2 in the NJAC. Coming into the season, more was expected of this strong and powerful lineup, but injuries and illnesses were too ma-jor stumbling blocks. Considering all that the Red Hawks had to overcome, a 500-plus record was more than acceptable.
Track stars headed to Disneyland?

by Mark Alan Belnay

If any of you have seen the movie Alive about the soccer team that must resort to cannibalism to survive in the Andes mountains after their plane crashes, you have some idea of the situation the MSC track and field team had to deal with in order to compete at the Cornell Invitational this past weekend.

Once they arrived, they decided to feast on their opponents instead of one another. The men’s track and field team had to deal with in order to compete at the Cornell Invitational this past weekend.

On a cold Saturday morning, the USC men’s track and field team of Wayne, get used to being first place finish. Hey Ruiz was again the pacesetter in the 55-meter dash with a time of 6.38. He also finished second in the long jump with a mark of 23.475 to round out his excellent overall performance.

The team will be in action this weekend starting at the conference championships.

Shannon Shaffer, who grabbed rebound No. 1000 in a game this week against Stockton State, awaits a rebound against an NJAC opponent in a recent game at Panzer Gymnasium.

Red Hawks bounce back by drilling Stockton, 63-26

by Brian Falzarano

A win was just what the doctor ordered for the MSC women’s basketball team. The Red Hawks took care of medicine in the form of the Stockton State Ospreys on Monday night.

The 63-26 win helped the Red Hawks to secure what they needed this season. She averages 15 career high rebounds and 1,000 points. She also leads the conference in scoring averaging 14.6 points a game. Shaffer also leads the team in rebounding, finishing into last night’s game against Sir Charles Barkley.

The Red Hawks took a 33-16 lead into the half before outscoring the Ospreys 30-16 in the final half.

Steph led all scorers with 18 points. Shaffer figures in 15 points and Mullally added ten for MSC.

Cathy Caicciaro led Stockton (2-18, 0-16 NJAC) with 14 points.

The win moved the Red Hawks to 16-8 (11-5 NJAC).

it also showed that we can be in jail?..............23

Shaffer also led the team in rebounding, finishing into last night’s game against Sir Charles Barkley.

The 5’9” senior from Jersey City was paced by the tandem of Norma Gonzalez and Hillary Davis, who each provided 13 points for the winners. Judy Stair led MSC with 14 points, while Jeanne Mullally added 10 points.

Prior to this loss, MSC had control of its own playoff destiny. They’re still in second place in the NJAC, but wins or losses by Rowan College at Hamilton and William Paterson College will determine whether MSC gets the second seed in the NJAC tournament. The second seed would give MSC the home court advantage in at least the tournament’s first game. The seedings will not be announced until Monday morning.

In previous action, MSC handed upset Trenton State, 66-50. The Red Hawks came out uninviting, entering a 14-2 advantage. The 5’9” senior from Jersey City was paced by the tandem of Norma Gonzalez and Hillary Davis, who each provided 13 points for the winners.

MSC was upset by Jersey City State College, 49-42 at Fries Gym in Jersey City on Saturday night.

Going into the conference matchup, the Red Hawks had won 11 of their previous 13 games and seemed to gaining a head of steam for the playoffs.

Things started off well enough for the Red Hawks against the Lady Go-Hawks, taking a 24-21 advantage at the half. As they expanded their lead to 38-32, it looked as if MSC was ready to pull away from its NJAC foe.

However, Jersey City, first by a 9-0 run and Jolfin Stanton’s de breaking three-point basket, hooked a 41-38 lead. Overall, Stockton went on a 17-4 run to close out the game.

DiFeo felt that her team may not have taken the Lady Go-Hawks seriously enough. "I think we may have started to look ahead and we lost our focus," she said.

In previous action, MSC had upset Trenton State, 66-50. The Red Hawks came out uninviting, entering a 14-2 advantage. This laid the foundation for the rather lopsided victory. MSC was paced by Shaffer’s 15 points and 16 boards. Guard King Barnes chipped in with 14 points and 10 assists. Chris Niebert led Trenton State with 17 points.

The win completed MSC’s season sweep over TSC, coming after a 64-53 triumph on Dec. 9.

RED HAWKS NOTES-

To all 21 games this season,斯塔cher has led the team in rebounding, grabbing at least 10 in every game this season. She averages 15 career rebounds. She led the team in scoring averaging 14.6 points per game. Shaffer is currently leading the team in scoring with an average of 14.6 points per game. However, Jersey City, first by a 9-0 run and Jolfin Stanton’s de breaking three-point basket, hooked a 41-38 lead. Overall, Stockton went on a 17-4 run to close out the game.

DiFeo felt that her team may not have taken the Lady Go-Hawks seriously enough. "I think we may have started to look ahead and we lost our focus," she said.

Judy Stair was paced by the tandem of Norma Gonzalez and Hillary Davis, who each provided 13 points for the winners. Judy Stair led MSC with 14 points, while Jeanne Mullally added 10 points.

Prior to this loss, MSC had control of its own playoff destiny. They’re still in second place in the NJAC, but wins or losses by Rowan College at Hamilton and William Paterson College will determine whether MSC gets the second seed in the NJAC tournament. The second seed would give MSC the home court advantage in at least the tournament’s first game. The seedings will not be announced until Monday morning.

In previous action, MSC had upset Trenton State, 66-50. The Red Hawks came out uninviting, entering a 14-2 advantage. This laid the foundation for the rather lopsided victory. MSC was paced by Shaffer’s 15 points and 16 boards. Guard King Barnes chipped in with 14 points and 10 assists. Chris Niebert led Trenton State with 17 points.

The win completed MSC’s season sweep over TSC, coming after a 64-53 triumph on Dec. 9.
