Plan to open Student Center 24 hours is in the works

by Anthony Guadagnino

Stu Weissman, General Manager of WMSC, is developing a plan to keep the Student Center open 24 hours. Presently, the student center is open Monday through Friday, between 7:15 am and 11 pm; Saturday, between 8 am and 6 pm; and Sunday, between 3 pm and 10 pm.

"It will give a chance for other organizations to run longer meetings," Weissman said. "The clubs could spend more needed time in their offices."

In addition to longer meetings, the radio station will be on 24 hours.

"It would give a chance for other organizations before stepping forward."

In addition, Weissman said he wants to get estimates on security costs for the Student Center if it were to stay open all night. One question on the survey asked if the organization was willing to donate their offices.

"It would make our lives easier if we could stay till 2 in the morning," said Giamboli. "For Class One, it would also help because they can have a lot more organized, and efficient, said Giamboli. We would be able to promote better, have better meetings and speak to their contacts more often," added Giamboli.

Erica Smith, Secretary of Organization of Students for African Unity (OSAU) believes that it is a nice idea to keep the building open for the radio station, but adds, "where would we get this money from?" Smith says that she keeps hearing how there is no money available and she doesn't feel that the students should have to pay for it.

Weissman said he has not approached the administration with his idea yet. Weissman wants to be sure he has support from the different organizations before stepping forward.

In addition, Weissman said he wants to get estimates on security costs for the Student Center if it were to stay open all night. One question on the survey asked if the organization was willing to donate their offices. Smith said that every response feels that the school should cover the cost.

Weissman plans to go before the administration before the end of the school year, Flores said. "If it is passed, the new hours will go into effect immediately.

Blood drive sponsored by Greeks

by Glenn Steinberg

A blood drive, sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, took place on April 27-28 between the times of 8am-4pm in room 126 of the Student Center.

The blood drive, which was organized by Jennifer Jacquith, vice president of Alpha Phi Omega, was done in cooperation with the North Jersey Blood Center.

There were nine staff members assisting in the operation and six beds set up for the blood drive.

On April 27, they received 89 units of blood from 120 people who were registered and on April 28, they received approximately 70 units of blood, said Margaret Mance, Registered Nurse for North Jersey Blood Center.

Mance said that this blood drive is an increase from last year.

Penn Federal Savings Bank donates to MSC scholarship

A new scholarship fund established recently at Montclair received a $25,000 donation from Penn Federal Savings Bank.

The scholarship, known as the Don Miller Memorial Fund, is available for those students at the school who are majoring in fine arts.

An apparent IRA bomb hidden in a track devastated London’s financial district. The group’s tactic of bombing was suspended for about two months prior to this explosion. The bombings are in response to England’s occupation of Northern Ireland which has officially separated Ireland for 70 years.

A ten person mission by the U.N. to Haiti is to keep a watch for violence by the army. Haiti’s first democratically elected president was overthrown in 1991 by a military Junta. Since then, soldiers have killed, beaten and imprisoned thousands without charges.

Israeli parks and beaches filled in with celebrators to mark the 45th year of Israeli independence. At the same time, Palestinians in the West Bank and the Gaza Strip have intensified their uprising against their occupation by Israel.

Bosnian Serb leaders rejected a U.N. peace plan. Britain also announced that its planes would fire on Serbs if they attacked U.N. peace keepers. The plan that was rejected was to divide Yugoslavia into ten semi-autonomous regions based on ethnicity.

No official cause to the fire at the Branch Davidian Compound in Waco, Texas has been proven but some independent investigators have agreed with the FBI’s claim that the fire which killed around 80 people was started by the cult members.

A prison siege in Ohio ended peacefully when 407 prisoners surrendered. Nine inmates and one guard were killed in the initial riot. The standoff lasted 11 days, and according to one guard, no hostages would have been killed if negotiations had granted the prisoners their demands. Inhumane conditions, racism and abuse were what sparked the revolt.

Republican party candidate, Christine Whitman, running for the New Jersey Governor’s seat released her financial records for the past 11 years. She and her husband made $3.7 million, none of it from salaries. They profited from royalties, commissions, profit sharing, rents, dividends, interest, partnerships and securities sales.

A Dallas man won a libel suit against Procter and Gamble. The jury found that the company’s posting of him on a bulletin board as a thief after his firing was libel. He was fired for taking a $35 phone later proven to be his own as he had claimed. He won $14 million in punitive damages.

North Haledon police officials claim that recent layoffs of the force are in retribution to the rejection of a health plan proposed by the borough council. Councilman Paul Lynch called the attacks “hog wash.” The plan was cheaper than the current policy.

A seven year old North Brunswick boy died when a hole swallowed him up. He sank slowly in the mud much like quicksand. Reserve workers worked frantically to dig the boy out, but their efforts were to no avail. No cause for the hole has been identified.

"The bedrock of my campaign has been to make New Jersey work again by reducing taxes now, creating private sector jobs and fixing state government," Edwards said in a meeting of the Essex, Union, and Hudson Employes' legislative committees.

"PennFederal Savings Bank has been contributing to the communities it serves for over 50 years," LaMonica said. The scholarship has received funds from many other organizations.

Miller established the scholarship at MSC on Nov. 5 at the reception for the art exhibit in the library. The scholarship was not yet made memorial.

"We're honored that our neighbor, Miller's widow, Julia, said, "I'm very grateful to Penn Federal Savings Bank for doing this on behalf of the scholarship which was developed to encourage young people to pursue art. I am also honored that MSC has contributed to the community. Other than that he has a catchy slogan and that he is not well known. Other than that he has the most administrative experience and is an extremely capable person.""}

"Only through growth can New Jersey be whole, not through taxes," said Edwards. "Jim Florio has turned his back on all tax payers that caused a recession that has been deeper and longer standing than the national slump." Edwards proposed a municipal conversion program that would give grants allowing local governments to foreclose on abandoned properties and give private entities ownership to bring these sites back into private use.

"With his tax and economic policies Edwards hopes to assure New Jersey of a strong tourism and protection plan. He has called for an increase in funding for the New Jersey Division of Travel and Tourism from a $3.7 million budget to a $10 million annually."

In an extensive plan to put the "you back into the "New Jersey and You" program, Edwards hopes to rework New Jersey pride and build a public relations program that will extended the entire country and to the world. New Jersey's diverse tourist attractions employ 350,000 people. Edwards estimated that for every $1 million spent on tourism $70 million is returned in new business revenues and an additional 1,316 new jobs are created. He urges the governor and the legislature to fund the $10 million in order to protect New Jersey tourism.

Edwards concern with women's rights plays a personal role in his platform. He would like to see women overcome the obstacles his mother had to deal with as a single parent living in East Paterson. As Chief Council to former Governor Tom Kean, Edwards appointed more women judges then anyone in the state's history. "The only faults Edwards has," said Zilbergeld, "are that he has a detailed plan instead of a catchy slogan and that he is not well known. Other than that he has the most administrative experience and is an extremely capable person."

A Closer Look At Our Town: Yesterday and Today

by Sandra Cammilleri

Beginning tonight, Mainstage Theatre Series of Montclair State proudly wraps up its 1992-1993 season with a spectacular showing of Thornton Wilder's Our Town. This is a special production, for it commemorates the first ever show that was presented in Memorial Auditorium back in 1957.

On Saturday May 1, the original alumni cast from the 1957 Player's Production of Our Town will reunite with the present cast to celebrate and join in the festivities of Alumni Weekend.

Returning to join the cast are Howard Fox, the production's former director, and a recent professor Emeritus at Montclair State; and some 1957 players- Jim Andrews, Nancy Elting, Shirley Hunter, John Sullivan, Dwight Baud, P.E. Woodford, and Mary Ann Bond. The original Player's club officers, Helene Zerold and Roxy Akillian will also be there.

The Play takes place in Grover's Corners, New Hampshire and depicts the lives of ordinary people experiencing the cycle of human existence. Wilder, through dialogue, expressively affirms the true values of life and offers insight towards understanding this value. Thus, the small town life is beautifully rendered as we take a closer look at Our Town.

In the current production, Joseph R. Patenamde, visiting theatre specialist, resides as director. Faculty theatre members, Jose Kenderish designed the costumes and sets in collaboration with John Figola who designed the lighting. Two BFA students helped to achieve these designs. Sharon Mayerchak co-designed the sets and Matt Novak is the assistant lighting director.

As a whole, the cast renders some fine talent. We can feel the unity and cohesiveness that binds a small town as well as the soft pulsating rhythm that sustains the community. Actor Joe Dalo who holds the principle role of the stage manager, is particularly strong and intriguing as he narrates the happenings at Grover's Corners. Equally as profound and eloquent in their portrayals are Kimberly Monion as Emily Webb and Mark Jamerson as George Gibbs. As we watch them grow up, fall in love and marry, these two characters realistically portray the emotions of life. Finally, Matthew Horohoe, though a minor character in the production, gives a typical enigmatic and surreal "Horohesian" quality to his performance.

Wilder's picturesque legacy of people continues to breath life and meaning today. Dalo's characters sums it all up beautifully when he states: "You gotta love life to have life and you gotta have life to love life." This timeless classic is a worthwhile production featuring a gifted cast and crew. Performances run April 29, 30, May 1, 6, 7, 8 at 8pm and April 30 and May 9 at 2pm. For further information, call 893-5112.

Seth Liebowitz is a god. Pure and simple. Maybe not thee God, but a god nonetheless. Just when I thought that there was nothing to look forward to at this school (what with no carnival, no hot water, tuition increases, and all around student apathy), along comes Seth with one hell of a fun idea!

On Wednesday, April 28, 1993, Seth brought Rat burgers to the Rat. That’s right, kiddies! Genuine, bona fide, Grade A (maybe), White Castle cheeseburgers in OUR Rat! And at the no-profit price of fifty-five cents per burger, you could have five of those suckers and a soda for around $3.50. That’s less than a helping of vegetable loophole and beer! That’s only able to finish eight bundles of burger and beer in the Rat by 11 a.m. sharp. Of course, true to his every word, Seth Liebowitz is a god. Pure and simple. Maybe not thee God, but a god nonetheless.

Seth Liebowitz is a god. Pure and simple. Maybe not thee God, but a god nonetheless. Just when I thought that there was nothing to look forward to at this school (what with no carnival, no hot water, tuition increases, and all around student apathy), along comes Seth with one hell of a fun idea! But we stayed true, and were the only ones responsible for getting the fun things to come on to campus.

If you have an idea then voice it! But by all means, do not send it through the “proper channels!” All you will meet up with is a bunch of power-hungry, no-fun-wanting bureaucrats (administration and students alike). No, sir! No, ma’am! Step up and bring your fun ideas to Seth Liebowitz. He’ll do what he can to help. He’ll probably even give you more ideas to think about.

Speaking of ideas, what ever happened to jello wrestling? You think I’m kidding? Two years ago there was jello wrestling in Blanton Hall and it went pretty dam well. If advertised correctly, it could work again. Just charge a small entrance fee for contestants (and the chance to win prizes) and put it in the Rat. Beer sales would go up and, get this, people might actually have fun! Or what about the Rat serving alcohol during real social hours, and on weekends? That could be the start of something fun. There could be ladies night, a sports night, a regular comedy/hippie-night....real actual fun events that would keep people ON campus on the weekends.

But it seems that I am just writing in a fantasy world. Nothing will get done. No more fun will be had at Montclair Suitcase College. You know, as I am sitting here still feeling the effects of the White Castle treats I didn’t eat last Wednesday, I realize that no matter how my articles start out, they end up with the same recurring themes: the Rat, and the stinky campus life here at Clair on the Mountain. So that people will wake the hell up and DO something!! Folks, the SGA has $560,000 a year to work with. Regardless, some of those events would pay for themselves, and maybe even turn a profit! And a profit means more money for the students! YEA!!

Or, maybe I just write about these things because it coincides with my column heading. Well, I’m graduating in May. What do I care about what happens to this campus and its students? I can just walk away, and never think about it again. BULL PUCKY! That’s what most of the students do. We complain about the crappy campus life, but most of us don’t do a damn thing about it. We have to get off of our Tetris playing butts and DO something!! Folks, the SGA has $560,000 a year to work with. Regardless, some of those events would pay for themselves, and maybe even turn a profit! And a profit means more money for the students! YEA!!

By the way, the two Rat Burgers I bought ten, My roommate and I had been anticipating this debut of mystery meat on a tiny bun for about a week, and we were in the Rat by 11 a.m. sharp. Of course, true to his every word, Seth Liebowitz is a god. Pure and simple. Maybe not thee God, but a god nonetheless. I don’t know what that will get us, but it sounds good. And if that doesn’t get you anywhere, then we do what we did four years ago. We march and take over College Hall! I don’t know what that will get us, but it sounds good.

By the way, the two Rat Burgers I didn’t eat are now sitting on my mantle, awaiting the arrival of my MSC degree.

In order to make it in this world you have to work with people in a team fashion. But, from time to time, you will run across people who can’t work with the team. Let’s call them Loner-Yahoos. Unfortunately, one of these loners is Mark Loughlin. Mark Loughlin is just such a person, or appears to be when he writes such letters as the one which appeared in last week’s issue regarding my column.

For those of you who don’t know who Mark is, he is a contributing writer in the arts section, who writes movie reviews. So, therefore, he and I are on the same team. I am the assistant art editor; he is a contributing writer in the arts section. But Mark is, unfortunately, one of these loners. For rather than talk to me about his problem with my column, he feels it better to insult me in a letters to the editor.

Well, let’s get a few things straight. In an opinion column, I can comment on “whatever the hell I damned well please.” That’s what an opinion column is for.

Outrageously misinformation. I am on the information list for many studios and get my information from them and other first-hand sources. I’m sorry if you feel left out.

I never once said in that week’s issue that Last of the Mohicans was “the best film of the year.” It was, however, my opinion that the film was “dissappointingly looked over by the academy for lots of things,” which it was. (If you’re going to quote me in any future letters, please have the courtesy to quote me correctly.)

I don’t want to spend any more time defending my opinions, except to say I do respect your views on the film, but that I hope you realize that people have different opinions and they won’t always agree with yours. Have you ever read any Matt Schwartz?

But I won’t let some other things go so easily. I am insulted to be accused of listening to Rush Limbaugh at all, let alone too much. But, of course, that is my opinion. As for my “political views and closenessmindedness” if you had read the article carefully you would have seen “But the awards are so political now that I could care less who wins.” Allow me to translate: I don’t have any political views. Therefore, they can’t effect my opinions. I’m not prejudiced against any group, except loner-yahoos who tell me I’m a bigot, carefully veiled behind such poetic terms as “political values and closenessmindedness” and “You can’t have any major discriminations against certain social groups.”

Finally, you’re right. The film companies are nice enough to send tickets to advance screenings to The Montclarion. But, let’s be clear about this. They request my presence. And they do it because they are sent copies of the write-ups I’ve done and they are impressed enough to have me back. It’s funny how your reviews and my column often appear on the same page and are seen by the same people, but there never seems to be any tickets waiting around for you or any messages from production companies looking for you because they’d like a write up on their pictures. So keep your naive, professional jealousy to yourself and worry about your own “credibility.” The people who actually have a clue will worry about the papers. And if that isn’t enough for you to realize that no one on this campus gives a crud about the new Hulk Film music, aimed at a twelve-year-old audience, I feelselector for you than I did when I first read your immature drivel. Grow Up.
Opening options at MSC

Stuart Weissman, the General Manager of WMSC, has addressed all Class One organizations as to the idea of petitioning the administration to keep the Student Center open twenty four hours. This would be an advancement for our now dead campus.

All residents of MSC can empathize with the tumbleweed atmosphere left for us come Friday night. By eleven o’clock on Friday, everything is shut down and all students are left to a darkened campus.

If the Student Center was left open all night, this would be step toward a campus that is there for it’s students. Why shouldn’t the Student Center be open? MSC should have a twenty four hour radio station, those involved with clubs and organizations should be able to meet and produce work, whenever they want.

Beyond the few, yet relative, needs the Student Center holds, having a building open twenty four hours may start a needed trend. Perhaps decadence will prevail and MSC could have a library that extends its hours past that of ten o’clock. It is inane that our library is not open twenty four hours.

Most colleges are set up for the pursuit of education. Having a library close before even most part time jobs are over is pathetic. Most students have plenty of energy past ten. In fact, those after-hours are irreplaceable moments when quiet succumbs the usual noisy hallways and real studying can occur.

After the library branches to twenty four hours, we, as a campus, could move on to pressure the administration to spending money for our business, for our needs. The access road was a gallant try. Although it adds so much to many students’ lives here, the thought that perhaps that money would have been better spent with educating the students ( some more computers, extended computer lab hours) does cross one’s mind.

The shafty school store closes at eight. The Rat closes at ten. The computer lab at Richardson closes at ten and is unavailable on weekends. The Student Center and our beloved radio station are shut down at eleven. What’s going on with this school? People live here, students study here. The object of college is to explore possibilities. How is that possible when nothing extends at all?

After the library branches to twenty four hours, we, as a campus, could move on to pressure the administration to spending money for our business, for our needs. The access road was a gallant try. Although it adds so much to many students’ lives here, the thought that perhaps that money would have been better spent with educating the students ( some more computers, extended computer lab hours) does cross one’s mind.

In hopes that this will set a precedent for other facilities also to be available for students, The Montclarion is unanimous with their support for the Student Center being left open twenty four hours. MSC is a boring, uneventful college blinded with grandeur at becoming university status. In the process for reaching this ultimate ideal, the campus has become inaccessible.

Leave decisions unmandated, nothing will be made for students. If you want a campus built for status. In the process for reaching this ultimate ideal, the campus has become inaccessible.

It is time for MSC to be made for the students attending here, not to look good only on a glossy eight by ten handbook.
The fourth defendant, Bryant Grober was service. These sentences are totally unac-}

Glen Ridge judgement a travesty

A total travesty of Justice. That is the only way to explain the events that unfolded in the Glen Ridge sexual assault case. If any of you have been living the hermits' life for the past four years, let me fill you in. On March 11, 1989, thirteen high school athletes from Glen Ridge, either forced or coerced a 17 year old to perform sex acts with seven of them. These sex acts included penetration with a baseball bat and a room stick. To make matters worse, the 17 year old girl had an IQ of 64 and the social skills of an 8 1/2 year old. This victim was a mildly retarded girl desperate to fit in with classmates. The four defendants, Kevin and Kyle Scherzer, Christopher Archer, and Bryant Grober, knew of the defendants condition and used it to have their way with this girl. They then threatened her if she told anyone. They then threatened her if she told anyone.

In the four years since the attack, the defendant's attorneys have portrayed the victim as a Lolita, a promiscuous girl who instigated such acts. The four defendants were portrayed as innocent boys. Their lawyers said these were All-American boys from the best schools. To all the women out there, let me assure you these acts did not go through the minds of all boys. These four convicts are a bunch of pampered, spoiled brats. They thought they could get away with anything, and they did, for most of their lives. But then they had to push it too far. They sexually assaulted a retarded girl and got caught. If the story ended there, all is fine. But no, it's not that simple. These acts are an insult to every single person out there. How can you sentence these convicts as youths? People have been stood trial as adults in murder cases being as young as 14 years old. These convicts were 16 & 18 years old at the time of the attack. By that age, you know right from wrong. The three that received prison terms will probably be released in 22 months.

Reading this article, I hope you feel as appalled as I do as to the lenience afforded these convicts. If you don't, you should seek professional help. The judge in this case, R. Benjamin Cohen, had a chance to really straighten things out. The jury saw through the defendants' stories and convicted them. All the judge had to do was impose the maximum sentence. Instead of spending most of their adult lives in jail, they will spend a year and 10 months in a minimum security youth correctional facility. A total travesty of Justice.

The fact is that we, as a people, have the right to bear arms.

However, because of the interpretations throughout history, we do have that right. So far. Here is where the misconception lies. Just because a person wants to own a gun does not make him a threat to anyone. How many legal gun owners commit murders and other crimes with guns? The real problem is the people who get their guns illegally. Why would I file for an ownership permit, register with the state, wait God knows how long, and pay $200-300 dollars for an unregistered gun "on the street?" Plus, I'd have same day service!

All that is achieved by banning guns in giving criminals more of an edge than they already have. In New York City, criminals all ready carry fully automatic machine guns as opposed to the police's revolvers. What a match-up! When guns are banned, the only people who will own them, besides the police, are the criminals. And if a person just has a gun to protect his/her law abiding family, then he or she is a criminal also.

This waiting period stuff is for the birds too. With today's technology, we should be able to punch up someone's record in an instant. I agree that first time buyers should have to apply and maybe wait a little for a background check. But a gun permit should be like a driver's license, once you get it, it is yours, provided that you renew it and avoid revocation. Anyone who comes up on the computer as having a record, or even just arrest without convictions for lesser crimes, should be denied ownership at that moment and have to reapply to the state. It is as simple as that.

Besides, if I wanted to kill someone, I could just walk into a sporting good store and buy a shotgun, no questions asked, in the state of New Jersey. Do shotguns kill less? Do they hurt less?

The real gun control should be the crackdown of illegal guns. Every criminal that is arrested should have their guns confiscated and the guns should be resold by legitimate stores. And there should be a crackdown on the illegal importation of firearms into the United States. Concentrate on the real problem, not be average Americans who are exercising their Constitutional right to protect themselves and their loved ones.

MSC breaks school records at Penn Relays

Men’s track stars take second place in sprint medley, 800-meter races

When expectations are placed upon a team to excel and the performance to meet those lofty heights becomes difficult to handle, results are often disappointing.

Track Talk
by Mark Alan Belny

For the MSC track and field team, at this past weekend’s Penn Relays at the University of Pennsylvania, those expectations were nowhere to be found. Thus, the team responded to the pressure-free atmosphere and broke two school records in front of 38,592 at Franklin Field.

The sprint medley team consisting of Wayne Dennis, Neal Ruiz, Jaime Alayon and Dewayne Stevens once again provided the highlight of the Penn Relays for MSC.

The Red Hawks took second place in this race that went right down to the wire. Dennis, who ran the 800-meter anchor, was edged out by James Madison University’s Matt Holthaus by just less than one second (3:19.87-JMU, 3:20.66-MSC).

“Our guys could have won race,” said MSC head coach John Blanton. “We just didn’t get Dennis a big enough lead,” he added.

Although the team finished second, the time did break a 14-year-old MSC record by just over 13 seconds.

The men’s 800-meter team of Stevens, Alayon, Ruiz and Ernest Johnson made it to the IC4A Finals and placed second behind New York Tech. The time of 1:26.22 was also a school record for MSC.

Also, the men’s 1600-meter relay team of Alayon, Johnson, Stevens and Dennis took second in its race, finishing just behind Morgan State University. This race also went right down to the wire, with MSC coming up just short again.

Other relay teams for MSC weren’t as successful. The men’s 400-meter relay team of Anthony Williams, Ruiz, Alayon and Stevens continued to have its’ difficulties.

Fundamentals have become a problem for this team, but Blanton is confident that a return to basics could put them back to a respectable level.

Overall, the MSC team performed at quite a respectable level. The performances of the 800-meter, 1600-meter and sprint medley relay teams brought back memories of levels of excellence that these athletes have attained in the past.

The Red Hawks are in a different situation than most of the teams that they faced this past weekend.

Ruiz, a sophomore from Camden, was a key in the Red Hawks’ record-breaking finishes at the Penn Relays last weekend.

Men’s tennis nets two of three
Red Hawks could finish with a winning record

In its quest to finish the 1993 season with a winning record, the MSC men’s tennis team came up with victories in two out of three matches last week.

After starting out the week with a loss to Kutztown on April 20, the Red Hawks responded with wins over the United States Merchant Marine Academy and New Jersey Tech.

MSC picked up two of its easiest wins of the season by putting out the United States Merchant Marine Academy on Saturday, April 24 and NJIT on Sunday, April 25, both by the score of 9-0.

The Red Hawks have now improved to 7-5. Head coach Barri Pollner is confident that her team will be victorious in its final two regular season matches this week against Rutgers-Camden and Stevens’s Institute. Wins in these two matches would leave the Red Hawks with a final record of 9-6.

After the regular season matches, MSC will participate in the NJAC Championships this weekend (April 31-May 1).

Red Hawk Notes...
MSC will participate in the CTC Championships this weekend (April 31-May 1).

In fact, the Red Hawks were playing David to the Goliaths of Divi- sion I track and field.

So, in what turned out to be a weekend in which the MSC team made its presence felt at the 99th annual Penn Relays, the athletes discovered that talent alone is not the key to victory. It takes pride and desire to attain that extra something that makes the difference between victory and defeat.

The Red Hawks are in a different situation than most of the teams that they faced this past weekend.

Ruiz, an instrumental part of the relay teams, addressed MSC’s position. “This team isn’t about the amount of scholarships we have. It’s about the pride that each athlete has concerning his or her performance on the track,” Ruiz said.

A little bit of this and a little bit of that makes for an exciting week

It has just been one of those weeks. The New York metropolitan area has been quite a little hotbed for professional sports. So, let's just consider this a grab-bag week for this column.

-First and foremost, the Knicks wrapped up home-court status throughout the NBA Playoffs. Some may not see that as being overly important, but think about it. It's Game 7 of the Eastern Conference Finals, the Knicks and Bulls are tied entering the fourth quarter and it's all on the line. The once-dominant bullpen has been quite a little hot one. It's Game 7 of the Eastern Conference Finals, the Knicks and Bulls are tied entering the fourth quarter and it's all on the line.

It's Game 7 of the Eastern Conference Finals, the Knicks and Bulls are tied entering the fourth quarter and it's all on the line.

-Kean College, 21-10, at Sprague Field on April 22. Winning the annual "New Jersey War" in lacrosse would have made what thus far has been a disappointing season an easier pill to swallow. The Cougars of Kean would have none of it.

-Lacrosse

The victory gave Kean its first Knicked Conference title in 13 years. The win also gave Kean its fourth decision overall against MSC in their last six meetings. The lopsided final score is certainly misleading. That's because MSC trailed by scores of 4-3 (second quarter) and 10-7 (third quarter), but could never take the lead.

-The Red Hawks seemed to be clicking after sophomore midfielder Mike Bruten scored to cut Kean's lead to 10-7 with 10:04 left in the third quarter. With plenty of time left in the game, the Red Hawks looked as if they were actually to make the game into a "war" like it was supposed to be. But an unsportsmalike conduct penalty on MSC opened the floodgates for Kean.

"The penalty hurt us pretty bad, but it was our overall lack of discipline that really hurt us," said MSC head coach Doug Alderfer. The penalty seemed to throw the Red Hawks off of their game. "It was 10-7 and we were on a pretty good roll, but then we just fell apart as though we had totally forgotten what to do. It was very disappointing," Alderfer added.

MSC managed to pull within four goals (12-8) late in the third quarter, but Kean had an answer. The visiting Cougars went on an eight-goal run to put the game out of reach for MSC at 20-8. The Cougars, who won for the first time ever at Sprague Field, were led by Darren Calendrello who netted five goals and passed off three assists. Tony Clandra and Nick Medvedich also scored five goals apiece in the winning effort. MSC goalie Ken Kane, an All-America candidate, was tough in the first half as he stopped 13 of 16 Cougar shot attempts. The second half was another story for the senior from Kinnelon as Kean scored 13 goals in just 27 shot attempts on Kane. It's quite ironic that Kean proved to be too much for Kane, isn't it?

MSC (24-6, 5-3 NJAC), shutout the visiting Pioneers, 5-0. Once again Warnock was brilliant as she tossed her second shutout of the season. The Keamy native raised her record to an outstanding 14-1 and pitched herself out of three bases loaded jams without giving up a run.

The Red Hawks were led offensively by Kent O'Meara's home run in the third inning. Flinn, Kuchinski and Shannon Malone all added RBI singles for MSC. The sweep gave the Red Hawks a final NJAC record of 5-3, their best conference mark under Kubicka.

The New Jersey Athletic Conference Tournament begins Sunday afternoon as the Red Hawks play host to sixth-seeded Kean College at 1 p.m.

The major obstacle for MSC will be adjusting to Kean's slower pitchers. "We're better at the plate against fast pitching, but I think we'll be able to adjust," said Kubicka. It would be hard to argue with her philosophy since MSC swept Kean in a double-header on April 20.

-Lack of focus shouldn't be a problem in this single-elimination tournament for MSC either. "We know what's at stake. It's do or die and obviously we'd like to do," said Kubicka.

RED HAWK NOTES...

Kuchinski leads the team in batting average (.461), home runs (3), RBI (33), hits (41), doubles (11), total bases (65) and slugging percentage (.708). She has also not made an error behind the plate this season...MSC has outscored opponents 196-94. This is direct proof that the new optic yellow polyurethane balls that are being used have benefited the Red Hawks more than it has hurt them...Rowan (No. 3 in Division III) and Trenton State (No. 5 in Division III) received the first and second seeds respectively in the NJAC tournament...The second round of the tournament begins on Friday (5/7). If MSC beats Kean, it advances to this round.
Red Hawks soar again in NJAC play

Offense explodes on conference foes as MSC primed for post-season

The Red Hawks, who were led by junior John Pallino (4-for-4, 4 RBIs, 5 runs scored) and sophomore Tom Pallino (2-for-3, 3 RBIs), defeated Trenton State, 13-6, in the first game of the double-header on Saturday. The victory was significant for the team in all major offensive categories.

MSC's relievers for seven runs in the final three innings.

"I'm very disappointed in our middle relief," Schoenig said, with a note of sternness. "Our bats have been there, but we have to bring Frank (Dippold) in too early," he added.

While Carlon got the victory, Vonk expressed his satisfaction with Costello's performance, as he bid for the NJAC-leading third save.

"The nightcap was a laugher," Schoenig said, as Pallino, Critelli, Pallino, and Scavalla all hit home runs enroute to the 19-3 victory in the nightcap.

"Rob is having an outstanding year," Schoenig said. "He is our most valuable infiltrator," he added.

On Friday, freshman T.J. Costello turned in a virtuoso performance, letting up four hits and striking out five while hurling a complete game in a 19-1 romp over Ramapo College.

Costello (3-2, 2.50 ERA), locked on the verge of a shutout until the ninth, when Ramapo put the loneblemish on an otherwise brilliant performance. The solid outing also gave the bullpen some much-needed rest.

The Roadrunners, er Roodkill, did nothing to help their plight as their pitchers allowed 10 walks, hit five batters with pitches and threw seven wild pitches.

"It was a game best used for padding statistics, as 12 Red Hawks had hits. The most notable contributions were those of Critelli (2 for 5, RBI), DiLaurenzio (2 for 4, 3 RBI), Scavalla (2 for 3), Pallino (2 for 4), and junior catcher Kuchinski (2 for 3)," Schoenig said. "Our bats have a note of sternness. "Our bats have been there, but we have to bring Frank (Dippold) in too early," he added.
