Stu Weissman, General Manager of WMSC, is developing a plan to keep the Student Center open 24 hours. Presently, the Student Center is open Monday through Friday, between 7:15 am and 11 pm; Saturday, between 8 am and 6 pm; and Sunday, between 3 pm and 10 pm.

"It will give a chance for other organizations to run longer meetings," Weissman said. "The clubs could spend more needed time in their offices."

In addition to longer meetings, the radio station will be on 24 hours, Weissman said. The station is under contract to be on 24 hours, Weissman said. The station can play "questionable" music between midnight and 6 am and begin to program radio shows, which are high in demand, Weissman said.

Weissman gave a survey to every organization to find out how they feel. The response has been positive, Tony Floreno, music director of WMSC said. Every survey returned so far has been for the idea, Floreno said.

Paul Emil Sahar, recording secretary of the Conservation Club, said that he feels it is a good idea. It would give people a chance to work with their clubs, even early in the morning, if the Student Center were open all the time, Sahar said.

Paul Giambolli, director of Programming of SGA and head of security at Class One Concerts, believes keeping the Student Center open later is beneficial to Class One Concerts. He says that due to conflicting schedules, it is hard to have all of the people at meetings. "It would make our lives easier if we could stay till 2 in the morning," said Giambolli.

For Class One Concerts, it would also help because they can be a lot more organized and efficient, said Giambolli. "We would be able to promote better, have better meetings and speak to their contacts more often," added Giambolli.

Erica Smith, Secretary of Organization of Students for African Unity (OSAU) believes that it is a nice idea to keep the building open for the radio station, but adds, "where would we get this money from?" Smith says that she keeps hearing how there is no money available and she doesn’t feel that the students should have to pay for it.

Weissman said he has not approached the administration with his idea yet. Weissman wants to be sure he has support from the different organizations before proposing forward.

In addition, Weissman said he wants to get estimates on security costs for the Student Center if it were to stay open all night. One question on the survey asked if the organization was willing to donate for the security system. Floreno said that every response feels that the school should cover the cost.

Weissman plans to go before the administration before the end of the school year, Floreno said. If it is passed, the new hours will go into effect immediately.

Blood drive sponsored by Greeks by Glenn Steinberg

A blood drive, sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, took place on April 27-28 between the times of 10am-4pm in room 126 of the Student Center.

The blood drive, which was organized by Jennifer Jacquith, vice president of Alpha Phi Omega, was done in cooperation with the North Jersey Blood Center.

There were nine staff members assisting in the operation and six beds set up for the blood drive.

On April 27, they received 89 units of blood out of 120 people who were registered and on April 28, they received approximately 70 units of blood, said Margaret Mancio, Registered Nurse for North Jersey Blood Center.

Mancio said that this blood drive is an increase from last year.

because interested in Miller when his work came to the attention of the bank’s President and Chief Executive Officer Joseph L. LaMonica. Penn Federal shares Miller’s philosophy as quoted by LaMonica, “art must not only be brought to the attention of the public and shared, but that more individuals must be exposed to and taught art” which resulted in the presentation of the check.

“Penn Federal Savings Bank has been contributing to the communities it serves for over 50 years,” LaMonica said. The scholarship has received funds from many other organizations.

Miller established the scholarship at MSC on Nov. 5 at the reception for the art exhibit in the gallery. The scholarship was not yet made memorial.

Miller died on Feb. 7, 1993 because of heart failure. Miller’s widow, Julia, said, “I’m very grateful to Penn Federal Savings Bank for doing this on behalf of the scholarship which was developed to encourage young people to pursue art. I am also honored that MSC established this scholarship in his name.”

MSC President Reid said, “We are honored that our neighbor, Penn Federal Savings Bank, has made it possible to bring to fruition Miller’s dream of encouraging people to share his love of art.”

The scholarship is scheduled to go into effect in the Fall of 1994, pending that all criteria and qualification guidelines are developed.

“The bedrock of my campaign has been to make New Jersey work again by reducing taxes now, creating private sector jobs and fixing state government,” Edwards said in a meeting of the Essex, Union, and Hudson Employers’ legislative committees. Under Florio’s program, New Jersey will have fallen to 49 in growth by 1993, predicts Edwards. Under Edwards’ economic plan, funds already in the state budget will be used to reduce income taxes, provide investment tax credits and end double taxation of small businesses. Dr. George Zilbergeld, of the Political Science Department called Edwards, “An extremely capable person” and said, “small businesses create a lot of our jobs. These are the people we want on our side.”

“Only through growth can New Jersey be whole, not through taxes,” said Edwards. “Jim Florio has turned his back on all taxes,” said Edwards. “Jim Florio has turned his back on all tax payers through a massive tax hike that caused a recession that has been deeper and longer standing than the national slump.” Edwards proposed a municipal conversion program that would give grants allowing local governments to foreclose on abandoned properties and give private entities ownership to bring these sites back into private use.

With his tax and economic policies Edwards hopes to assure New Jersey of a strong tourism and protection plan. He has called for an increase in funding for the New Jersey Division of Travel and Tourism from a $3.7 million budget to a $10 million annually.

In an extensive plan to put the “you” back into the “New Jersey and You!” program, Edwards hopes to respark New Jersey pride and build a public relations program that will extended to the entire country and to the world. New Jersey’s diverse tourist attractions employ 350,000 people. Edwards estimated that for every $1 million spent on tourism $70 million is returned in new business revenues and an additional 1,316 new jobs are created. He urges the governor and the legislature to fund the $10 million in order to protect New Jersey tourism.

Edwards concern with women’s rights plays a personal role in his platform. He would like to see women overcome the obstacles his mother had to deal with as a single parent living in East Paterson. As Chief Council to former Governor Tom Kean, Edwards appointed more women judges then anyone in the state’s history.

“The only faults Edwards has,” said Zilbergeld, “are that he has a detailed plan instead of a catchy slogan and that he is not well known. Other than that he has the most administrative experience and is an extremely capable person.”

but she is not exactly sure by how much.

The blood drive is something that Alpha Phi Omega does every semester in conjunction with Red Cross, said Jacquith.

Jacquith said that Alpha Phi Omega was responsible for doing all of the publicity by putting out posters, giving fliers to residents and making announcements in all of the residence halls on campus.

According to Mance, the blood will be going to various local hospitals such as Mountainside Hospital, St. Barnabas and St. Joseph’s Hospitals.

Mance said that it takes up to three days to check for different diseases in the blood such as Venereal Disease, HIV and Hepatitis, an inflammation of the liver that is transmitted through the blood.

Jacquith said that she was very happy with the turnout. “It was a big success, I would say,” said Jacquith.

People were afraid that no one would know where the room was because the blood drive is usually held in the ballrooms, said Jacquith.

According to Jacquith, Alpha Phi Omega is a service fraternity and this is just one of the services that they perform for the community. Other services include visiting hospitals, nursing homes, pediatric wards, going to food banks and the Adopt-a-Highway program.

A Closer Look At Our Town: Yesterday and Today

by Sandra Cammilleri

Beginning tonight, Mainstage Theatre Series of Montclair State proudly wraps up its 1992-1993 season with a spectacular showing of Thornton Wilder's Our Town. This is a special production, for it commemorates the first ever show that was presented in Memorial Auditorium back in 1957.

On Saturday May 1, the original alumni cast from the 1957 Player's Production of Our Town will reunite with the present cast to celebrate and join in the festivities of Alumni Weekend.

Returning to join the cast are Howard Fox, the production's former director, and a recent professor Emeritus at Montclair State; and some 1957 players- Jim Andrews, Nancy Eling, Shirley Hunter, John Sullivan, Dwight Baud, P.E. Woodford, and Mary Ann Bond. The original Player's club officers, Helene Zerold and Roxy Akillian will also be there.

The Play takes place in Grover's Corners, New Hampshire and depicts the lives of ordinary people experiencing the cycle of human existence. Wilder, through dialogue, expressively affirms the true values of life and offers insight towards understanding this value. Thus, the small town life is beautifully rendered as we take a closer look at Our Town.

In the current production, Joseph R. Paternamde, visiting theatre specialist, resides as director. Faculty theatre members, Jose Kenderish designed the costumes and sets in collaboration with John Figola who designed the lighting. Two BFA students helped to achieve these designs. Sharon Mayerchak co-designed the sets and Matt Novak is the assistant lighting director.

As a whole, the cast renders some fine talent. We can feel the unity and cohesiveness that binds a small town as well as the soft pulsating rhythm that sustains the community. Actor Joe Dalo who holds the principle role of the stage manager, is particularly strong and intriguing as he narrates the happenings at Grover's Corners. Equally as profound and eloquent in their portrayals are Kimberly Monion as Emily Webb and Mark Jameson as George Gibbs. As we watch them grow up, fall in love and marry, these two characters realistically portray the emotions of life.

Finally, Matthew Horohoe, though a minor character in the production, gives a typical enigmatic and surreal "Horohbian" quality to his performance.

Wilder's picturesque legacy of people continues to breath life and meaning today. Dalo's characters sums it all up beautifully when he states: "You gotta love life to have life and you gotta have life to love life." This timeless classic is a worthwhile production featuring a gifted cast and crew. Performances run April 29, 30, May 1, 6, 7, 8 at 8pm and April 30 and May 9 at 2pm. For further information, call 893-5112.

joy. But enough of my personal Rat endeavours. As the middle of Spring Week peeled back, I sparked a gleam in the eyes of the other 13,999 or so students at this college. His timing was perfect, right in the middle of Spring Week. He sparked a gleam in the eyes of the other 13,999 or so students at this college. His timing was perfect, right in the middle of Spring Week.

It was nothing to look forward to at this school (what with no carnival, no hot water, tuition increases, and all around student apathy), along comes Seth with one hell of a fun idea! On Wednesday, April 28, 1993, Seth brought Rat burgers to the Rat. That’s right, kids! Genuine, bona fide, Grade A (maybe), White Castle cheeseburgers in OUR Rat! And at the no-profit price of fifty-five cents per burger, you could have five of those suckers and a soda for around $3.50. That’s less than a helping of vegetable loaf, and that’s without the drink!

I bought ten. My roommate and I had been anticipating this debut of mystery meat on a bun for about a week, and we were in the Rat by 11 a.m. sharp. Of course, true to the University of Montclair at Upper Montclair (UMalUM), the tiny little delicacies were an hour and fifteen minutes late in arriving. But we stayed true, and were the only ones on campus. But we stayed true, and were the only ones on campus.

I have an idea then voice it! But by all means, do not send it through the “proper channels!” All you will meet up with is a bunch of power-hungry, no-fun wanting bureaucrats (administration and students alike). No, sir! No, ma’am! Step up and bring your fun ideas to Seth Liebowitz. He’ll do what he can to help. He’ll probably even give you more ideas to think about.

Speaking of ideas, what ever happened to jello wrestling? You think I’m kidding? Two years ago there was jello wrestling in Blanton Hall and it went pretty darn well. If advertised correctly, it could work again. Just charge a small entrance fee for contestants (and the chance to win prizes) and put it in the Rat. Beer sales would go up and, get this, people might actually have fun! Or what about the Rat serving alcohol during real social hours, and on weekends? That could be the start of something fun. There could be a ladies night, a sports night, a regular comedy/open-mike night... real actual fun events that would keep people ON campus on the weekends.

But it seems that I am just writing in a fantasy world. Nothing will get done. No more fun will be had at Montclair Suitcase College.

You know, as I am sitting here still feeling the effects of the White Castle treats that would keep people ON campus on the weekends.

In order to make it in this world you have to work with people in a team fashion. But, from time to time, you will run across people who can’t work with the team. Let’s call them Louie Yahoos. Mark Loughlin is just such a person, or appears to be when he writes such letters as the one which appeared in last week’s issue regarding my column.

For those of you who don’t know who Mark is, he is a contributing writer in the arts section, who writes movie reviews. So, therefore, he and I are on the same team. I am the assistant Art Editor; he is a contributing writer in the arts section.

But Mark is, unfortunately, one of these know-it-alls. For rather than talk to me about his problem with my column, he feels better to insult me in a letter to the editor.

Well, let’s get a few things straight. In an opinion column, I can comment on “whatever the hell I damn well please.” That’s what an opinion column is for.

Outragedly misinformed? I am on the information list for many studios and get my information from them and other first hand sources. I’m sorry if you feel left out.

I never once said in that week’s issue that Last of the Mohicans was “the best film of the year.” It was, however, my opinion that the film was “disingenuously looked over by the academy for few things,” which it was. (If you’re going to quote me in any future letters please have the courtesy to quote me correctly.)

I don’t want to spend any time on defending my opinions, except to say I do respect your views on the film, but that I hope you realize that people have different tastes, and they won’t always agree with yours. Have you ever read any Matt Schwartz?

But let’s not bother some other things go so easily. I am insulted to be accused of listening to Rush Limbaugh at all, let alone too much. But, of course, that is my opinion. As for my “political views and closenessmindedness” if you had read the article carefully you would have seen “But the awards are so political now that I could care less who wins.” Allow me to translate: I don’t have any political views. Therefore, they can’t effect my opinions. I’m not prejudiced against any group, except loner-yahoos who tell me I’m a bigot, carefully veiled behind such poetic lines as “political values and closenessmindedness” and “You can’t have any major discriminations against certain social groups.”

Finally, you’re right. The film companies are nice enough to send tickets to advance screenings to The Montclarion. But, let’s be clear about this. They request MY presence. And they do it because they are sent copies of the write-ups I’ve done and they are impressed enough to have me back. It’s funny how your reviews and my column often appear on the same page and are seen by the same people, but there never seems to be any tickets waiting around for you or any messages from production companies looking for you because they’d like a write up on their picture. So keep your naive, professional jealousy to yourself and worry about your own “credibility.” The people who actually have a clue will worry about the papers. And if that isn’t enough for you to realize that no one on this campus gives a crass about the new Huck Film circus, aimed at a twelve year-old audience, I feel safer for you than I did when I first read your immature drivel. Grow Up.
Opening options at MSC

Stuart Weissman, the General Manager of WMSC, has addressed all Class One organizations as to the idea of petitioning the administration to keep the Student Center open twenty four hours. This would be an advancement for our now dead campus.

All residents of MSC can empathize with the tumbleweed atmosphere left for us come Friday night. By eleven o’clock on Friday, everything is shut down and all students are left to a darkened campus.

If the Student Center was left open all night, this would be step toward a campus that is there for it’s students. Why should’t the Student Center be open? MSC should have a twenty four hour radio station, those involved with clubs and organizations should be able to meet and produce work, whenever they want.

Beyond the few, yet relative, needs the Student Center holds, having a building open twenty four hours may start a needed trend. Perhaps decadence will prevail and MSC could have a library that extends its hours past that of ten o’clock. It is inane that our library is not open twenty four hours.

Most colleges are set up for the pursuit of education. Having a library close before even most part time jobs are over is pathetic. Most students have plenty of energy past ten. In fact, those after-hours are irreplaceable moments when quiet succumbs the usual noisy hallways and real studying can occur.

After the library branches to twenty four hours, we, as a campus, could move on to pressure the administration to spending money for our business, for our needs. The access road was a gallant try. Although it adds so much to many students’ lives here, the thought that perhaps that money would have been better spent with educating the students (some more computers, extended computer lab hours) does cross one’s mind.

The shafty school store closes at eight. The Rat closes at ten. The computer lab at Richardson closes at ten and is unavailable on weekends. The Student Center and our beloved radio station are shut down at eleven. What’s going on with this school? People live here, students study here. The object of college is to explore possibilities. How is that possible when nothing can be done here.

In hopes that this will set a precedent for other facilities also to be available for students, The Montclarion is unanimous with their support for the Student Center being left open twenty four hours. MSC is a boring, uneventful college blinded with grandeur at becoming university status. In the process for reaching this ultimate ideal, the campus has become inaccessible.

Leave decisions unmandated, nothing will be made for students. If you want a campus built for status. In the process for reaching this ultimate ideal, the campus has become inaccessible.

Suggestions from students can occur.

If the Student Center was left open all night, this would be step toward a campus that is there for it’s students. Why should’t the Student Center be open? MSC should have a twenty four hour radio station, those involved with clubs and organizations should be able to meet and produce work, whenever they want.

Glen Ridge judgement a travesty

A total travesty of Justice. That is the only way to explain the events that unfolded in the Glen Ridge sexual assault case. If any of you have been living the hermit’s life for the past four years, let me fill you in. On March 1, 1989, thirteen high school athletes from Glen Ridge, either forced or coerced a 17 year old to perform sex acts with seven of them. These sex acts included penetration with a baseball bat and a broomstick. To make matters worse, the 17 year old girl had an IQ of 64 and the social skills of an 8 1/2 year old. This victim was a mildly retarded girl desperate to fit in with schoolmates. The four defendants, Kevin and Kyle Scherzer, Christopher Archer, and Bryant Grober, knew of the defendants' condition and used it to have their way with this girl. They then threatened her if she told anyone. In the four years since the attack, the defendant's attorneys have portrayed the victim as a Lolita, a promiscuous girl who instigated such acts. The four defendants were portrayed as innocent boys. Their lawyers said these were All-American boys from Glen Ridge, either forced or coerced a 17 year old to perform sex acts with seven of them.

To all the women out there, let me assure you what these assholes did, does not go through the minds of all boys. These four convicts are a bunch of pampered, spoiled brats. They thought they could get away with anything, and they did, for most of their lives. But then they had to push it too far. They sexually assaulted a retarded girl and got caught. If the story ended there, all is fine. But no, it’s not that simple. These sentences are totally unjust. What a travesty of Justice that is. What a travesty of Justice that is. What a travesty of Justice that is. What a travesty of Justice that is. What a travesty of Justice that is.

MSC breaks school records at Penn Relays

Men's track stars take second place in sprint medley, 800-meter races

When expectations are placed upon a team to excel and the pressure to meet those lofty heights becomes difficult to handle, results are often disappointing.

Track Talk

by Mark Alan Belnay

For the MSC track and field team, at this past weekend's Penn Relays at the University of Pennsylvania, those expectations were nowhere to be found. Thus, the team responded to the pressure-free atmosphere and broke two school records in front of 38,592 at Franklin Field.

The sprint medley team consisting of Wayne Dennis, Neal Ruiz, Jacinto Alayon and Dewayne Stevens once again provided the highlight of the Penn Relays for MSC.

The Red Hawks took second place in this race that went right down to the wire, with MSC coming up just short again.

Other relay teams for MSC weren't as successful. The men's 400-meter relay team of Anthony Williams, Ruiz, Alayon and Stevens continued to have its' difficulties. Fundamentals have become a problem for this team, but Blanton is confident that a return to basics could put them back to a respectable level.

Ruiz, a sophomore from Camden, was a key in the Red Hawks' record-breaking finishes at the Penn Relays last weekend.

Men's tennis nets two of three

Red Hawks could finish with a winning record

In its quest to finish the 1993 season with a winning record, the MSC men's tennis team came up with victories in two out of three matches last week.

After starting out the week with a loss to Kutztown on April 20, the Red Hawks responded with wins over the United States Merchant Marine Academy and New Jersey Tech.

MSC picked up two of its easiest wins of the season by disposing of Kutztown and Colgate University, Yale University and the United States Naval Academy. In fact, the Red Hawks were playing David to the Goliath of Division I track and field.

So, in what turned out to be a weekend in which the MSC team made its presence felt at the 99th annual Penn Relays, the athletes discovered that talent alone is not the key to victory. It takes pride and desire to attain that extra something that makes the difference between victory and defeat.

The Red Hawks are in a different situation than most of the teams that they faced this past weekend.

Ruiz, an instrumental part of the relay teams, addressed MSC's position. "This team isn't about the amount of scholarships we have. It's about the pride that each athlete has concerning his or her performance on the track," Ruiz said.

If the MSC track and field team has fully accepted this slice of reality, it could be the turning point in a season that thus far has been uneventful for the outdoor track and field team.

RED HAWK NOTES...

MSC will participate in the CTC Championships this weekend (April 31-May 1).

Meanwhile Barry was thinking... whose bathroom am I in?

Jeanine remembered going to a party and getting smashed out of her mind...

Barry remembered getting drunk and acting really stupid...

Eventually the whole evening came back... "What did I do? How did I get myself into this?"

"What about AIDS?"

Then they both realized much to their relief that unlike the rest of us...

They were just cartoon characters!

A little bit of this and a little bit of that makes for an exciting week

It has just been one of those weeks. The New York metropolitan area has been quite a little hotbed for professional sports. So, let's just consider this a grab-bag week for this column.

First and foremost, the Knicks wrapped up home-court throughout the NBA Playoffs. Some may not see that as being overly important, but think about it. It's Game 7 of the Eastern Conference Finals, the Knicks and Bulls are tied entering the fourth quarter and it's all on the line. Get the point?

The New York Athletic Conference Tournament begins Sunday afternoon as the Red Hawks play host to sixth-seeded Kean College at 1 p.m. The major obstacle for MSC will be adjusting to Kean's slower pitchers. "We're better at the plate against fast pitching, but I think we'll be able to adjust," said Kubicka. It would be hard to argue with her philosophy since MSC swept Kean in a double-header on April 20.

In the bleachers...

MSC (24-6, 5-3 NJAC), shutout the visiting Pioneers, 5-0. Once again Warnock was brilliant as she tossed her second shutout of the season. The Kearny native raised her record to an outstanding 14-1 and pitched herself out of three bases loaded jams without giving up a run.

The Red Hawks were led offensively by Kent O'Meara's home run in the third inning. Flann, Kuchinski and Shannon Malone all added RBI singles for MSC. The sweep gave the Red Hawks a final NJAC record of 5-3, their best conference mark under Kubicka.

The New Jersey Athletic Conference Tournament begins on Friday afternoon as the Red Hawks play host to sixth-seeded Kean College at 1 p.m. The major obstacle for MSC will be adjusting to Kean's slower pitchers. "We're better at the plate against fast pitching, but I think we'll be able to adjust," said Kubicka. It would be hard to argue with her philosophy since MSC swept Kean in a double-header on April 20.

Lack of focus shouldn't be a problem in this single-elimination tournament for MSC either. "We know what's at stake. It's do or die and obviously we'd like to do," said Kubicka.

RED HAWK NOTES...

Kuchinski leads the team in batting average (.461), home runs (3), RBI (33), hits (41), doubles (11), total bases (63) and slugging percentage (.708). She has also not made an error behind the plate this season...MSC has outscored opponents 158-94. This is direct proof that the new optic yellow polyurethane balls that are being used have benefited the Red Hawks more than it has hurt them...Rowan (No. 3 in Division III) and Trenton State (No. 5 in Division III) received the first and second seeds respectively in the NJAC tournament...The second round of the tournament begins on Friday (5/7). If MSC beats Kean, it advances to this round.

MSC loses (New Jersey) War; chances for future battles taken away by ECAC

by Nicole Festa

The MSC lacrosse team lost its opportunity to be crowned the Kings of the NJAC, when the Red Hawks lost to arch-rival Kean College, 21-10, at Sprague Field on April 22.

Winning the annual "New Jersey War" in lacrosse would have made what thus far has been a disappointing season an easier pill to swallow. The Cougars of Kean would have none of it.

Lacrosse

The victory gave Kean its first Knickerbocker Conference title in 13 years. The win also gave Kean its fourth decision over MSC in their last six meetings.

The lopsided final score is certainly misleading. That's because MSC trailed by scores of 12-8 and 10-7 (third quarter), but could never take the lead.

The Red Hawks seemed to be clicking after sophomore midfielder Mike Bruton scored to cut Kean's lead to 10-7 with 10:04 left in the third quarter. With plenty of time left in the game, the Red Hawks looked as if they were to actually make the game a "war" like it was supposed to be.

But an unpresumptuous misconduct penalty on MSC opened the floodgates for Kean.

"The penalty hurt us pretty bad, but it was our overall lack of discipline that really hurt us," said MSC head coach Doug Alferd.

The penalty seemed to throw the Red Hawks off their game. "It was 10-7 and we were on a pretty good roll, but then we just fell apart as though we had totally forgotten what to do. It was very disappointing," Alferd added.

MSC managed to pull within four goals (12-8) late in the third quarter, but Kean had an answer. The visiting Cougars went on an eight-goal run to put the game out of reach for MSC at 20-8.

The Cougars, who won for the first time ever at Sprague Field, were led by Darren Calendrello who netted five goals and passed off three assists. Tony Clandra and Nick Medvedich also scored five goals apiece in the winning effort.

MSC goalie Ken Kane, an All-America candidate, was tough in the first half as he stopped 13 of 16 Cougar shot attempts. The second half was another story for the senior from Kinnelon as Kean scored 13 goals in just 27 shot attempts on Kane. It's quite ironic that Kean proved to be too much for the almighty Penguins. Sorry, couldn't resist that.

"For the Giants' sake, Dave Brown sure better be worth it," said one MG fan.

And lastly, Hal McRae lost his freakin' mind or what?

MSU's Nick Medvedich also scored five goals in the first half as he stopped 13 of 16 Cougar shot attempts. And lastly, Hal McRae lost his freakin' mind or what?

MSC's loss to Kean eliminated any chance for MSC to qualify for the ECAC Tournament. The Cougars (21-1, 11-1 NJAC) will now face Upsala College in the first round of the conference.

"Lewis! You wanna be a part of this team, or what?! Get your green butt out there and shag some flies!!"
Red Hawks soar again in NJAC play

Offense explodes on conference foes as MSC primes for post-season

by Brain Faltzarano

The win was significant for several reasons. Kubicka, in her third season at MSC, is a 1984 graduate of Trenton State and is a former Lions' player. Thus, the first win over her former coach and mentor is quite special.

But more importantly, the win gave MSC a confidence booster. If the Red Hawks are going to make a return trip to the Division III College World Series, the road will likely have to go through Trenton State, the defending National Champions.

"This was a moral victory for us," said Kubicka of the first victory in eight attempts. "It was also real nice to finally beat my former coach," she added.

After dropping the first game of the double-header 9-3, MSC responded with a hard-fought 2-1 win. Junior catcher Kristi Kuchinski delivered the game-winning hit as she drove in Jennifer Flinn in the bottom of the fifth inning. Freshman Denise Warnock picked up the victory for the Red Hawks.

The win also earned MSC some respect in the Division III national poll. This week the Red Hawks moved up to No. 6, up four spots (No. 10) from last week.

Considering that MSC has won 10 of its last 11 games, it gained in the Trenton win to sweep the also-ran 3-2 and 19-3.

Both wins were important for the Red Hawks, who were led by junior John Pallino's (.417, 8 RBI), who had two hits and two RBI. John's inactivity may have affected his performance," said Schoenig of Pallino, who had two hits and two RBI. Pallino (2 for 4), Scavalla (2 for 4), Renda's two solo blasts, and hom­ers by Jim Freel and Luis Cabezudo, provided the offense again for the Red Hawks as they seek a College World Series appearance.

Providing the offense again was Pallino, who had two hits and drove in two runs. Joe Critelli drove in the third MSC run that turned out to be the game-winner. The nightcap was a laugher, as Critelli, Pallino, and Scavalla all hit home runs enroute to the 19-3 massacre.

"Rob is having an outstanding year. He is our most valuable player," Schoenig said.

State in the second game of a double-header on Saturday marked the first time a Red Hawk team coached by Kubicka defeated the Lions.

The win was significant for several reasons. Kubicka, in her third season at MSC, is a 1984 triple crown.

The combination of Kuchinski, a junior, currently leads the team in all major offensive categories.
