Assault in Library!

Police investigating sexual attack on female student (p. 3)
Burned out Blanton Hall residents lives slowly return to normal, despite setbacks

by Sheila Patnode

Things are almost back to normal for the Blanton Hall residents who were forced out of their rooms by a fire that occurred two weeks ago. The residents of 4C06 and 4C08 have been living in Bohn Hall while the fire damage is being repaired. The move back to Blanton, however, has been surrounded by miscommunication.

The night of the fire, Ken Doremus, the only resident who was in the suite at the time, was left on his own to find somewhere to sleep after the fire. "Everyone got let back into the building and I was left standing there wondering what I was supposed to do," he said. Doremus called a friend who is a Resident Assistant in Bohn Hall. His friend called an Assistant Manager and Doremus was moved into Bohn Hall.

Spray from the fire extinguishers entirely coated the property of both rooms. The fire itself had gutted the bathroom and left the smell of smoke behind. Doremus and his roommate, Tom Cullen, as well as their suitemates, Pete Beckus and Mike Pisano, stayed in Bohn Hall the week before spring break.

Doremus suffered from dizziness and nausea. He had to deal with the aggravation of getting his room and property back to their original condition and also had to deal with a conflict over a missed exam.

Doremus became ill after breathing in smoke from the fire and fumes from chemical from the fire extinguishers. He stayed in bed on Sunday and went to a doctor on Monday, causing him to miss an examination in a Myth and Literature class taught by Dr. Thomas Price.

Price told Doremus that he would not be able to make up the exam. When the Montclarion contacted Price to get his comment, he told the Montclarion to contact the chairperson of the English Department, Professor Jim Nash. Nash said that Price told him that Doremus would have the opportunity to make up the exam. Doremus has not yet been notified of this.

Meanwhile, Residence Life paid for all four residents to purchase clothing from the Student Store while their clothes were being professionally cleaned. "The only clothes I had were the ones I had on when I went out for the fire drill," Doremus said. "My friends were calling me Montclair Man (after going to the school store) because everything I wore had 'Montclair' on it," Doremus said.

The rooms were professionally cleaned the week of spring break. Clothing and appliances such as TV's and VCR's were sent to professional cleaners. According to Marjorie Coleman-Carter, Director of Residence Life, three rooms were covered with spray from the fire extinguishers. "Aero Care, a professional fire restoration group, did a wonderful job of cleaning the rooms," Carter said. "They cleaned books, razer, everything." The rooms cost $1,400 to clean. Bills have not yet been received for the clothes or appliances which had to be professionally cleaned.

Doremus and Cullen still have a closet full of property, such as shoes and jackets, waiting to be cleaned. "It was an oversight," Carter said. "People are coming back to clean those things.

Beckus and Pisano moved in Monday and Tuesday. "They did everything they're going to do for us," Beckus said. "I'm satisfied. They did a fair job." Doremus and Cullen moved back to Blanton on Wednesday and are still waiting for five boxes of personal property to be cleaned.
Blanton resident clubbed Gillooly style in parking lot

by Greg MacSweeney

A female Blanton Hall resident was assaulted on Sunday night while walking back from her car in Lot 21.

The female student who was assaulted asked that her name be withheld for her own safety. She said that she was grabbed from behind and struck on the side of the head with a pipe or a club.

A CAT scan at Mountainside Hospital in Upper Montclair revealed that the victim received a concussion and a concussion to the head. "The doctor said that I could possibly be in a daze for up to three weeks," the victim said.

At approximately 2:15 p.m. yesterday the victim reported to the Health Center complaining that she could not move her hands because they were clenched in a fist and she could not release them. She is planning to go back to the hospital for observation.

"I'm having a hard time concentrating and memorizing my schoolwork," she said.

She said she spent five hours in the hospital on Monday and missed most of her classes this week.

After being struck she ran to Blanton Hall and the security guard at the desk called campus police. Police searched the parking lots around Blanton but found no suspects.

The victim was not able to identify her attacker and the only information she could come up with is that the attacker wore a black jacket.

An accident report was filed at the campus Health Center.

If you have any information on this attack call campus police at 655-5222.

Pre-Registration Advisement

If you’re undeclared and want to be advised, the Academic Advising Center will help you out March 28 through April 14. The hours will be as follows:
Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, from 9-11 a.m. and 1-3 p.m.;
Thursdays from 9-11 a.m. and 4-6 p.m.
Advisors will see students on Fridays by appointment only.
Students with majors should contact their major departments for registration advisement.

Northwestern College of Chiropractic is now accepting applications for its next three entering classes.

(September 1994, January 1995, April 1995)

General requirements at time of entry include:
• Approx. 2-3 years of college in a life or health science degree program.
• A minimum G.P.A. of 2.5. A more competitive G.P.A. is favored.
• A personal interest in a career as a primary care physician.

Northwestern offers:
• A professional school of 500 students with student faculty ratio of 12:1.
• A well-rounded education in Basic and Clinical Sciences, Diagnosis, X-ray, and Chiropractic.
• Full accreditation by North Central Association of Colleges and Schools and the Council on Chiropractic Education.

Call: 1-800-888-4777 or Write: Director of Admissions
2501 West 84th Street, Minneapolis, MN 55431
Go Express For Less.

When you share a ride on the I-80 Diamond Express Lane in Morris County, you’ll SAVE $$$ on gas, plus wear and tear on your car.

GO EXPRESS FOR LESS. You’ll save time each way on your commute. You’ll also be helping reduce traffic congestion and improve air quality. And that’s a good thing. IT TAKES TWO! The far left inside lane of I-80 from Route 15 in Rockaway through the I-287 Interchange will become a HIGH OCCUPANCY VEHICLE LANE on weekdays, from 6 a.m. to 9 a.m. eastbound and 3 p.m. to 7 p.m. westbound.

The lane will be reserved for vehicles with TWO OR MORE PEOPLE.

Share a ride on the Diamond Express Lane and do your share for cleaner air.

Breathe Easier.

Call 1-800-245-POOL
continued from page 3

locked, but two windows had been opened. Nothing was reported missing.

HARRASSMENTS

A resident of Bohn Hall reported receiving three harassing phone calls from an unidentified male on March 18.

A Clove Road resident receiving harassing phone calls on March 16, shortly after her roommate moved out. She believes the events are related.

Another Clove Road resident reported receiving obscene phone calls late at night.

A resident of Stone Hall reported receiving phone calls over a three hour period after midnight on March 17. Each time, she heard a man screaming into the phone and then hanging up.

THEFTS

A student reported his bookbag stolen from Panzer Gym on March 28.

One of the computer rooms in Building B was found unsecured by an employee, who also discovered a section missing from a disk drive system.

A faculty member reported that, upon entering his office on March 28, his computer had been left on, $1 in change missing from a desk drawer and an obscene handwritten note left. There was no sign of forced entry.

On March 29 an employee reported that a tripod was stolen from the faculty member’s room in Building B.

A faculty member reported a computer, printer, monitor and cables stolen from his office. The items were last seen before spring break.

A student reported her pocketbook stolen from Life Hall during class on March 29, after she had briefly left it unattended.

VANDALISM

On March 29, a student’s car that parked in lot 30 was broken into. The student reported that the dashboard was damaged and the car radio was stolen.

DRUGS

Campus police responded to Stone Hall on March 17 after a student and the Dorm Director, Eric Hunter, discovered a small bag of marijuana. The bag was found under a stairwell.

At 4.5 lbs., Canon’s Typestar™ 10 and 220 may be lightweight, but they’re heavyweights in the world of portable typewriters.

They print crisp, clean characters sure to impress the most demanding professors.

And they have automatic features like word and character delete, underlining and centering to make it easier to create better looking papers. On the Typestar 220, there’s even a built-in spell checker/corrector so you don’t have to drag along a dictionary.

What’s more, their non-impact printing lets you take them to quiet places such as the library. And because they can also run on batteries, you can even take them to the park.

To find out where you can pick up a Typestar personal typewriter of your own, call 1-800-4321-HOP.
NOTICE TO ALL CURRENTLY ENROLLED STUDENTS WHO WILL BE RETURNING IN THE SUMMER SESSIONS 1994 AND/OR FALL SEMESTER 1994

Registration for the Summer Sessions 1994 and Fall Semester 1994 will occur simultaneously between April 5-21, 1994.

All students who are enrolled for the Spring 1994 and who are eligible to return for the Summer or Fall 1994 had a Registration Appointment Card mailed to their home address during the week of March 21, 1994.

Undergraduate students who are currently enrolled for 12 or more credits were assigned an in person registration appointment date and time. Undergraduate students who are currently enrolled for fewer than 12 credits and Graduate students were assigned a range of dates during which they should submit their registration form and Appointment Card to the Office of the Registrar.

Cards were not generated for students who are on the May 1994 Graduation list. Students who are graduating in May and who wish to register for Summer or Fall 1994 courses should contact the Office of the Registrar at 655-4376, for direction.

Students who did not fulfill their Basic Skills requirements, who have an outstanding financial obligation to the College, or who have an outstanding high school transcript with the Admissions Office were not sent their cards. These students must report to either the Basic Skills Office, the Business Office, or the Admissions Office to obtain their card.

You must have this card in order to register. No one will be permitted into the registration site without a Registration Appointment Card. Registration forms submitted to the office will not be processed without the Registration Appointment Card attached.

STUDENTS WHO DID NOT RECEIVE A CARD OR WHO HAVE MISPLACED THEIR CARD SHOULD CONTACT THE OFFICE OF THE REGISTRAR IMMEDIATELY AT 655-4376.

PLEASE READ THE SUMMER SESSION CATALOG AND THE FALL SEMESTER 1994 SCHEDULE OF COURSES BOOK CAREFULLY!! They are available in the Student Center and in the Office of the Registrar. They will contain the list of Summer and Fall 1994 course offerings.

You should use the registration form that is in the Schedule of Courses book. It is for both Summer and Fall registration. The Registration Appointment Card, together with this form, will serve as your personal registration packet.

Advisement should be obtained prior to registration.
Health alert at MSC
by Greg MacSwaney

MSC is now on a "Health Emergency Alert" in response to the measles emergency and Cook, Douglas and Piscataway campuses of Rutgers University because members of MSC may have been in contact with individuals from Rutgers campuses.

No cases of measles have been confirmed by the MSC Health Center, said Health Center nurse Kathleen Jones.

So far only three cases of measles at Rutgers have been confirmed but more than 20 are suspected, said Dr. Robert H. Beirman, director of student health services at R.U.

"When there are 20 cases you know about, you can pretty much assume there are a multiple of 10 times that," Beirman said.

"There has been no medical confirmation of measles in the Health Center in the past two days," Jones said.

Head Nurse Rose Budjis and Acting Vice President for Student Development and Campus Life Dominica Desideriosioli left for the day and were not available for comment.

Beirman said that most people who contract the measles recover within 10 days but that in rare cases complications develop ranging from upper respiratory infections to damage to the central nervous system to death.

The incubation period for measles is two weeks. The first signs and symptoms of measles are a cough, fever in the excess of 102 degrees, runny nose, watery eyes and conjunctivitis (commonly known as pink eye). These symptoms are commonly followed by a rash on the face, back and chest and lesions on the mouth.

All faculty, staff and administrators are requested to advise students of the potential danger and ask students to check with their parents or family doctor to determine if they have had measles, been inoculated, or should have the measles vaccine.

The Health Center is working with the State Department of Health to monitor the situation and will take immediate action if our campus is infected with the virus. If a state of emergency is declared, everyone born after 1957 will be required to (a) show evidence of measles inoculation or (b) received the measles vaccine. Those not in compliance will not be permitted to attend class or work on campus.

Any case of measles should be reported immediately to the Health Center (x4361).

The last college outbreak of measles in New Jersey occurred in 1990 at Princeton University and at what is now Rowan College in Glassboro. Rutgers reported 30 cases in 1989.
Montclairion/Thursday, March 31, 1994

CLASS PRESENTS

Live

Wednesday April 6th

Memorial Auditorium

with

Gimme the Gun & I Kill Me

Tickets on sale March 28th

in the Student Center Box Office

(Across from the student store)

$8.00 for MSC students

$12.00 for everybody else

Doors open 7:30
HELP WANTED
ADT Security Systems, the leader in electronic security for over 119 years and a company with a strong "promote from within" policy, currently has the following part-time opportunity, which can lead to a full-time position in our Customer Monitoring Center in Parsippany, New Jersey.

Emergency Dispatch Operators
This highly visible, career-oriented position offers flexible hours, competitive pay rates, and the respect and challenge that come from working with the world's largest security company.

If you are career-minded, self motivated, can type a minimum of 35 wpm and are available to work any shift, including weekends/holidays, find out more about this opportunity by contacting our ADT Job Hotline. We will respond to all inquiries within 24 Hours!

Job Hotline (201) 316-1005
ADT Security Systems
300 Interpace Parkway, Bldg B-CMC
Parsippany, NJ 07054-1177

SPECIAL OFFER
with this ad
Gift certificates available • Airbrushing Available • Clean, Ultra-Modern facility with private rooms • Student Discount with Proper I.D.

DON'T BE THE MAN WITHOUT THE MAN WITHOUT FEAR.
Pick up the newest DAREDEVIL comic books, trade paperbacks, and graphic novels at:
TIME WARP COMICS AND GAMES
584 POMPTON AVE / ROUTE 23 SOUTH
CHASKA GROVE (201) 873-7708
WHEN • FRI 11 to 9
SAT • SUN 11 to 6

MAYBE YOUR WISH WILL COME TRUE
Embraced by the Light
Betty J. Eadie

Betty J. Eadie died in a hospital due to complications from surgery - but came back to life.

Her nonfiction book about this two decade-old event has been near the top of the best-sellers list for nearly a year. Her after-life experience has a lot of the regularity and sameness we are all by now familiar with: the tunnel, the light, the warm feeling, etc.

In one way this is beneficial: if she saw something so much different from other cases we might not have cause to believe her.

But there's more - much more. She claims to have met and talked to God and His angels as well, an incident which endowed her with tremendous new knowledge of things.

All spirits, Eadie says, existed before their life on earth. All people actually witnessed the creation of the world, in this universe - one of many.

She says that those on earth must choose to be born here and come here with a purpose, and that each of us know that we will have to face a terrific struggle to achieve that purpose. Thus, all spirits are brave and noble (some of us, she says, even chose the diseases and sickness we would suffer during life!).

To live a happy life and achieve our purpose we should harmonize our spirit with our mind and body.

Each of these has laws of its own which should not be broken in order to exude positive energy (or goodness and kindness) the opposite of negative energy (like hatred and fear).

An example of breaking a physical law might be to destroy the harmony of the body and the spirit, like taking drugs - something which can ruin the physical body.

Thoughts are actions and “color” our spirit. Words are powerful and can give off either positive or negative energy. The teachings of some who communicate God through fear is an example of this negative energy, because we can never come to love something we fear.

Eadie’s God is not a vengeful or malicious one: He is a gentle, lovable one. She tells us several times that He has a sense of humor! He rules over all and helps us all whether we know it or not.

Some parts sound encouraging. All events, Eadie says, happen for a reason; namely to bring us a better spiritual understanding.

She stresses the importance of every human being, the danger of suicide and the essential existence of different religions. There are other ideas I didn’t agree with, such as Eadie’s equating depression with self-centeredness.

In order to heal ourselves we must first reach out and heal others. All of us must care first for our fellow man. True fulfillment is obtained through serving others.

By doing this, she says, we move away from the self. According to her, there is no use for sorrow.

Not nearly enough was said about the spirit’s existence before life, or the reason why people act so cruelly if they are, as she says, so inherently good. No clear reason was given about why we should indeed love our enemies. Whatever the case, Eadie stresses the fact that we are always capable of changing directions and giving off positive energy. Ultimately, we must always think positive.

The book is written in a simple language despite its often confusing philosophical theories. There are some obligatory ethical/sounding parts and the description of the death experience itself is a bit chilling.

If the God Eadie encountered exists and her journey didn’t as skeptics will doubtlessly say, “occur only in her mind,” then there is hope of a life beyond this one though it is a life that I in reading this book labored to properly grasp.

Ryan Watts

The Client
John Grisham

The Client is the fourth legal thriller by John Grisham. In this novel, Grisham deviates from the pious, glamorous attorney as the protagonist to an unsuspecting street-wise juvenile named Mark Sway, who comes from a broken home in Memphis. Mark and his brother, Ricken, both witness the suicide of mob lawyer, Jerome Clifford, but not before Clifford tells Mark information that could get him killed.

Mark confides in Reggie Love, a middle-aged lawyer who has only been practicing law for four years. Love is on a noble crusade as guardian of the oppressed and develops an affinity for Mark. Love takes Mark on as a client and becomes Welcome, loyal readers to another thrilling installment of PROPHET BIGG! We, at MSC, were fortunate enough to get a well-known TV personality to come here and speak. Sally Jessy Raphael spoke in Memorial Auditorium on Tuesday night.

There were many questions asked of Raphael in the Q and A portion of the program. I’ve selected a few below in part one of this interview. Next week, I will bring you part two of Sally. In part two, the PROPHET, as well as representatives from both William Paterson and Jersey City State College newspapers spent some time with Sally after the official programming. Enjoy!

Question: Do you go to school full time? I work full time. And I find it difficult to manage. Do you find there is ever enough time in the day in your life?

SJ.R.: No. And I can’t say I see it getting better. Do I ever feel discouraged? Do I ever feel put upon everyday? Yes. I’m sorry if that doesn’t give you any comfort (laughter).

Question: If you were alive in the 1800 s, what would your job be?

SJR.: I’d love to say something but I can’t (laughter). Maybe I should say Libertarian. I’d be a Libertarian. I’d run a railroad.

Q: Are there any women in power in broadcasting or is it all just on the surface?

SJR.: If you’re asking me if any major networks have a major woman in charge of making major decisions, Sherri Lansing is the only one that I know with any power.

Q: Do you choose the topics for the show?

SJR.: I can say I won’t do that. And I can say I will not talk to those guests. Do I? Almost never. In the ten years of the show, we’ve only aired two shows. Each show costs the company about $50 thousand. So at the end of the year, when my company tallies up, I say, “Oh, we didn’t run two shows, here’s $100,000.” And every thing is fine.

The Client continued from page 10

Mark’s confidant and friend. Mark becomes the most important client in Love’s career and together they try to figure out what their options are with the dubious information Jerome Clifford gave to Mark.

The police, newspapers and the mob all want Mark but for different reasons. The police are looking to keep Mark alive, the newspapers want a story and the mob wants to see Mark dead but they all want the information Clifford gave him.

Grisham takes the reader on a roller-coaster ride from start to finish. From the outset this novel grabs the reader and doesn’t give any breathing room until halfway through the book. The last half of the book is all down hill and when the book snatches into the last page the reader is left looking for more story.

Grisham doesn’t spend much time on character development or historical background in the story. Grisham’s first novel A Time to Kill has much more in the way of character and historical development. The Client doesn’t get into much legalese either like Grisham’s last novel did, The Pelican Brief. So Black’s Law Dictionary can be returned to the bookshelf because Grisham does away with the legal jargon in The Client. The irony in the story is that Jerome Clifford and Mark Swy both have the same dilemma in possessing the coveted information.

The Client is a traditional David and Goliath story set in the complex legal system. The Client is in its sixth week at the number one spot on the New York Times Paperback Best Seller list and costs $6.99.

Vincent Caruso
Southern Exposure
By Anthony O'Donnell

Heavy snow was predicted for the day of my departure (3/3), and this not being a winter to disappoint expectations, the snow came. I called the airport as early and as late as possible hoping a delay might buy me a little time to sleep. I didn’t want the flight to be cancelled of course, but since I was scheduled to be laid over in Miami between 10 a.m. and 9:30 p.m., I wasn’t in a hurry to get started.

Despite a ferocious and continuing storm the airline’s annoying computerized message kept saying the flight would leave as scheduled at 7:30 a.m. I had felt certain it would have been otherwise, so had very little time to get to the airport considering the condition of the roads.

Teri Ryan and I pulled up to the terminal with scarcely 15 minutes to spare. I dragged my luggage to the check in counter in a state of considerable anxiety. A question to the sullen counter attendant, “Is flight 101 on schedule?” Her reply, “Yes.” No commentary whatsoever on the atrocious weather and how it might influence our actual time of departure. As the passenger ahead of me finished checking in, the same lady said to him, “Be sure to hurry up to the gate, the flight is ready to leave.” I’m sure perspiration was breaking on my brow as I wondered, “If there’s such a damned hurry why is she moving so slowly!” She checked me in with mat­dening casualness, then after an all-too-brief goodbye to Teri, I ran off to the gate.

Running with my backpack was no easy thing. But I had been possessed since 5:00 a.m. with the thought that I could miss my flight. It was the only one of the day for their airline and I wasn’t about to blow it at the last minute. I relaxed my pace to a rapid walk as I approached the gate. With boarding pass in hand and pleased with my efficiency I smiled at the gate attendants expecting to ride my momentum all the way to my seat. They looked at me dubiously and explained that we were not yet boarding. There must have been a blank look on my face, because their news took a moment to sink in. A couple of fellow passengers explained to me that they too had made heroic efforts to arrive only to find that the flight crew apparently hadn’t tried as hard. My first thought was that Teri and I needn’t have taken our leave so abruptly. For the most part though, it was simply consoling by the fact that I hadn’t missed my flight after all.

In buying my ticket the prime consideration had been economy, and it was by this route that I ended up with an airline I’d never heard of, Carnival. It is, as the reader may have guessed, an offshoot of the cruise line. For me the name conjured up unfavorable associations. I imagined a jingle, “Carnival, the airline with the clown in the cockpit.” Now, I think that just as investment bankers ought to wear dark suits, airlines ought to project an image of sober responsibility. A relaxed and fun-loving attitude is simply “not on” for a business that wants to float you at 40,000 feet above sea level in a tin can. I imagined that the planes would have names not like “Spirit of the Sky” or something equally suitable, but more like “The Ferris Wheel” or “The Scrambler.” I awoke from ruminations of this nature to actually look at the bow of the plane. It read “The Fun Ships” which I thought uncomfortably close to “The Fun House.”

Upon boarding, a half-an-hour or so later, I was deprived of my backpack. The attendant assured me that it would fit neither in or above compartment nor under my seat. I protested that I had stowed bigger things on a 727, but she was adamant.

I discovered on board that she was at least right about the space below the seat. This Carnival plane had apparently been modified in the spirit of economy of space practiced on their ocean liners; it was a very “tight ship” indeed, when my seat-mate arrived I felt a kind of familial closeness towards him. He seemed like a relative of mine;

Landing was almost as thrilling as taking off. It’s not that we bucked and rolled quite as much, but that we bucked and rolled so close to the ground.

I was a grim sardine during the 45 minutes it took to de-ice, but all was well in the end. There was plenty of extra room on the flight and I was able to move to a seat by an exit door. Thus I enjoyed not only a window, but enough leg-room for Shaquille O’Neal.

It may seem to contradict some of what I’ve written above, but I really love to fly. My misgivings about Carnival arose out of pique, not fear. But I must say that this flight reminded me what fear of flying is. It was the fault of the weather rather than the Carnival pilot, I’m sure. But I think I can be forgiven for it having occurred to me that the experience had a certain flavor of an amusement park ride. The rocking and buffeting alone might have been tolerable however extreme. It was the plummeting through “air pockets” on take-off that unnerved me.

Once above the clouds it was smooth sailing. The friendly crew went about their act. One young lady (surely she had worked before on the “Love Boat”) made a speech in imitation of the U.S. Postal Service motto about how the plane had taken off despite rain, sleet, snow, etc. A modestly appreciative applause followed, whereupon the young lady exclaimed, “is that the best you can do?” The passengers dutifully clapped louder and I privately thought, “What’s next, a bleedin’ singalong!”

Landing was almost as thrilling as taking off. It’s not that we bucked and rolled quite as much, but that we bucked and rolled so close to and while rocketing towards the ground. I swear that it’s almost never so bad. I can’t help out of pique, not fear. But I must say that this flight reminded me what fear of flying is. It was the fault of the weather rather than the Carnival pilot, I’m sure. But I think I can be forgiven for it having occurred to me that the experience had a certain flavor of an amusement park ride. The rocking and buffeting alone might have been tolerable however extreme. It was the plummeting through “air pockets” on take-off that unnerved me.

Once above the clouds it was smooth sailing. The friendly crew went about their act. One young lady (surely she had worked before on the “Love Boat”) made a speech in imitation of the U.S. Postal Service motto about how the plane had taken off despite rain, sleet, snow, etc. A modestly appreciative applause followed, whereupon the young lady exclaimed, “is that the best you can do?” The passengers dutifully clapped louder and I privately thought, “What’s next, a bleedin’ singalong!”

Landing was almost as thrilling as taking off. It’s not that we bucked and rolled quite as much, but that we bucked and rolled so close to and while rocketing towards the ground. I swear that it’s almost never so bad. I can’t help out of pique, not fear. But I must say that this flight reminded me what fear of flying is. It was the fault of the weather rather than the Carnival pilot, I’m sure. But I think I can be forgiven for it having occurred to me that the experience had a certain flavor of an amusement park ride. The rocking and buffeting alone might have been tolerable however extreme. It was the plummeting through “air pockets” on take-off that unnerved me.

Once above the clouds it was smooth sailing. The friendly crew went about their act. One young lady (surely she had worked before on the “Love Boat”) made a speech in imitation of the U.S. Postal Service motto about how the plane had taken off despite rain, sleet, snow, etc. A modestly appreciative applause followed, whereupon the young lady exclaimed, “is that the best you can do?” The passengers dutifully clapped louder and I privately thought, “What’s next, a bleedin’ singalong!”

Landing was almost as thrilling as taking off. It’s not that we bucked and rolled quite as much, but that we bucked and rolled so close to and while rocketing towards the ground. I swear that it’s almost never so bad. I can’t help out of pique, not fear. But I must say that this flight reminded me what fear of flying is. It was the fault of the weather rather than the Carnival pilot, I’m sure. But I think I can be forgiven for it having occurred to me that the experience had a certain flavor of an amusement park ride. The rocking and buffeting alone might have been tolerable however extreme. It was the plummeting through “air pockets” on take-off that unnerved me.

Once above the clouds it was smooth sailing. The friendly crew went about their act. One young lady (surely she had worked before on the “Love Boat”) made a speech in imitation of the U.S. Postal Service motto about how the plane had taken off despite rain, sleet, snow, etc. A modestly appreciative applause followed, whereupon the young lady exclaimed, “is that the best you can do?” The passengers dutifully clapped louder and I privately thought, “What’s next, a bleedin’ singalong!”
The other half of the test is English. A segment of the English section deals with finding antonyms to various five-word sentences. Is it biased to ask a student to be fluent in the language they speak, including words with which they are unfamiliar with? In fact, most people are not familiar with the words they use in the S.A.T.'s.

Another segment of the English section is reading comprehension. This is the only part where I heard an attempted argument against it. Those against the S.A.T.'s say that the stories in this part do not interest some urban students. That's bull. More often than not, the things students are forced to read will not interest them; but they have to read it anyway. If people only had the trouble of what they were interested in, I wouldn't have had to read "Catcher in the Rye." This part of the test was made to see how well the student can understand basic sentence structure and how well they can decipher what the writer is trying to communicate, not to exclude any certain group of students.

As far as I can tell, the test is about as fair and balanced as you can get. Of course, no test is going to give a perfect outline of a student's abilities; but the test combined with the student's school records should show where the student is truly prepared for college.

In conclusion, it seems that those coaches who claim that their athletes (not their students) are being treated unjustly for having to adhere to a certain standard in the S.A.T.'s (which I believe is much, much lower than the average score of 1,000) need to find a new excuse. It also seems that few who work in the collegiate athletic-making machine are interested in changing things. Keep an eye out, folks. Make sure your tax dollars are going to libraries before renting the Goodyear blimp for their football games. Also, make sure people like that, who throw the word "bias" out at will don't go unchallenged.

Letters...

Cookies and sex should be fun

Donating blood can either be a positive or a negative event. I have experienced both.

I was asked to participate in a blood drive at work. I believe in donating, but I had some reservations. The last time I donated, I fainted. Passed out cold. Cookies or no cookies it wasn't worth it. But previous to my fainting spell, I enjoyed donating. Out with the old, in with the new. I chance to rejuvenate your system. Generate some fresh blood.

Thus, I put my anxiety aside and signed up. Because of the concern of a tainted blood bank, the screening process is extremely detailed and personal. "Have you ever had sex with someone who has had homosexual sex?" "Have you ever taken intravenous drugs?" "Are you HIV positive?"

Questions like these got me thinking...I knew the answers to most of them. But to one or two of them I responded, "Not to my knowledge." My mind raced, my stomach flip-flopped and all I wanted was an extra long lunch break and some cookies!!!

Then of course the inevitable question, I thought sex was supposed to be fun, not a medical history? Well, sex is and always will be fun. But, with caution. Now I am not going to preach about the do's and don't's of condoms. You know. But when you donate blood, you are reminded, again.

So we donate blood to be a humanitarian, yet we are reminded of the world we live and love in. We are forced to ask ourselves some straight forward questions about our lifestyles that maybe we never considered. We all know what is right for ourselves and we know what is wrong. We all have to make our own personal choices. And, most importantly, respect the choice of others.

Well, apparently passed the screening. They gladly accepted one whole pint of my blood. I did not faint or pass-out. And, I was able to eat as many cookies as I wanted!!! Plus everyone received a bright red umbrella as a gift.

For me, a little self reflection was worth it. I may have saved a stranger's life - most likely my own.

Melody Lima
DO YOU WANT TO BE PRESIDENT?

(Appetite is tired, cranky and thankfully graduating)
Let the heavens shutter!

EXECUTIVE BOARD PETITIONS ARE NOW OUT

300 signatures to get on the ballot
President Vice Prez
Sec.
Tres.
BOT alternate

DUE: FRI. APRIL 8TH HIGH NOON
Legislative petitions also available for Fall '94 semester

SGA SCHOLARSHIPS APPLICATIONS NOW AVAILABLE

The SGA will be awarding 6 $500 awards to students exemplifying leadership in all
SGA chartered organizations.

Qualifications: Minimum 2.7 GPA
42 credits earned
Undergrads only
Applications Due FRIDAY APRIL 22 at 4 p.m.
in the SGA office room 103 Student Center Annex
Two essential ingredients for a perfect date:

A date and this.

It's everywhere you want to be.
Memorial Auditorium had a packed house on Tuesday night as talk show host Sally Jesse Raphael helped in the celebration of Women's History Month at Montclair State.

With the help of neighboring colleges, Jersey City State and William Paterson, Raphael was present to speak on "Meeting The Challenge: Women In Media."

Raphael told all who were present about her life as a woman in the media. She had been fired from 18 jobs before having her popular talk show, but each job had been a stepping stone for her because women were almost "invisible" when she first started in the business.

Raphael told students that grades are not the most important thing, but instead confidence and persistence are more important talents, and that it is fine to bounce from job to job and lie on resumes.

She graduated from Columbia University with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Broadcasting. When the time came to look for a job, Raphael lied about her broadcasting anchoring experience in order to get a job as an anchor in New York City.

Raphael recalls buying two books on how to anchor a newscast, "I stayed up all night reading these books and then went to an audition the following day. Everything was going fine until they asked me how I was with editing, I said fine, even though I had never done it before." She learned the editing process four days after accepting the position.

"Is it okay to lie? I don't know," Raphael said, "it's okay to lie about your age or even about the jobs that you've had in the past, as long as you can have someone to back you up when the employer calls. The ideas of resumes is pretty dumb anyway."

"People spend too much time and money perfecting their resume, so if you ever apply for a job at my show or even with Oprah of Geraldo, the interview questions are somewhat different", Raphael said.

Raphael worked 26 years in the broadcasting business in Puerto Rico, and managing a family at the same time sometimes got hard, "there were times that we had to sleep in the car and live off of credit cards. Now I find it funny but at the time it wasn't," Raphael stated.

She advised all women that seek to go into the profession to definitely learn a second language and to put off having a family for as long as possible. Raphael felt very welcomed at Montclair State. Prior to the show she had dinner with President Ried. After addressing our campus community, Raphael was available for a question and answer period.

Her courage to stay in the business has taken her to the top. "You need to love what you're doing in order to succeed. Most jobs will not pay much, but it's a chance that you have to take. If you're hired somewhere, take it, if in eight months you haven't moved up, it's time to start looking for something else," Raphael said.

"There's nothing wrong with being fired, in fact, I don't think that you can make it in the business unless it has happened to you. People must have various jobs before finding their niche".

So Much for Grades, Motherhood and the Truth: Sally Jesse Raphael Speaks

by Hugo Arenas

The Summer and Fall Semester Course Booklets are available in College Hall and the Student Center.

It's not too late!

The deadline to drop courses without receiving an automatic "F" has been extended until April 4.

Award Application Deadline

The deadline for the Raymond Paul Journalism Award is 1 p.m. April 4. Applications should be submitted to Professor Ron Hollander.

Civil Rights and Environmental Activism

by Daniel Saggio

On April 8th, at St. John's University, the Journal of Legal Commentary is sponsoring a symposium on a heated issue surfacing in the arena of Environmental Justice. The topic to be addressed during the scheduled four panels of speakers is "The Merging of Civil Rights and Environmental Activism." The discussions will attempt to articulate the discriminatory factors behind the siting of industrial waste centers.

All those interested need to register by calling (718) 990-6688. A copy of the published remarks can be purchased when it becomes available. The symposium scheduled at St. John's University School of Law, will be held in Most Courthouse, Room 2050, and will go from 9:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Noteworthy's

Pre-Registration Advisement

Undeclared and want to be advised? The Academic Advising Center will help you out until April 14.

The hours are as follows: Mon., Tues., Wed.: 9 - 11 a.m., 1 - 3 p.m., Thursdays: 9 - 11 a.m., 4 - 6 p.m.

Fridays by appointment only.

Course Books Are Available

The Summer and Fall Semester Course Booklets are available in College Hall and the Student Center.

Attention All Business Majors

Don't be frustrated and alone in your Job search after graduation!

Network yourself to a brighter future with the PHI CHI BETA Co-ed Business Fraternity.

Networking is your future !!!

(No Pledging Involved)

Class IV org. of SGA

Call Mary or Jerry to find out more information.

Mary - (201) 836-4069 Jerry - (201) 239-3360

Noteworthy's

Civil Rights and Environmental Activism

by Daniel Saggio

On April 8th, at St. John's University, the Journal of Legal Commentary is sponsoring a symposium on a heated issue surfacing in the arena of Environmental Justice. The topic to be addressed during the scheduled four panels of speakers is "The Merging of Civil Rights and Environmental Activism." The discussions will attempt to articulate the discriminatory factors behind the siting of industrial waste centers.

All those interested need to register by calling (718) 990-6688. A copy of the published remarks can be purchased when it becomes available. The symposium scheduled at St. John's University School of Law, will be held in Most Courthouse, Room 2050, and will go from 9:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Attention All Business Majors

Don't be frustrated and alone in your Job search after graduation!

Network yourself to a brighter future with the PHI CHI BETA Co-ed Business Fraternity.

Networking is your future !!!

(No Pledging Involved)

Class IV org. of SGA

Call Mary or Jerry to find out more information.

Mary - (201) 836-4069 Jerry - (201) 239-3360

Montclairion
Student Life

The Wonderful World of John J. O'Sullivan

Spring Break: Bah! Humbug!

I hate it when people ask me how my spring break was. They say, "Hey John! How was your spring break? Well, I went to Cancun and got drunk everyday and had sex every night under a palm tree and..." By this point in the conversation, I am so jealous, angry, and just plain miffed that I have no choice to say, "YOU BASTARD! I HAD A SHITTY SPRING BREAK! WHILE YOU WERE OUT THERE HAVING SEX WITH SOME UNDERGRAD NYPHI NAMED 'BAMBI' (or 'CHUCK'), I WAS AT..." Pathmark.

No, I didn't choose to go to my local Pathmark for Spring Break. I work there. Pathmark is an "interesting" place if you consider arguing with 2439-year-old women interesting. I find it to be a drag. For example, I had this one 2439-year-old named Mr. Wilma Bartleberry Jones McDuff Scribner Herbert Walker Bush. Miss Jones was just so incredibly annoying, most of my actual hair fell off of my actual head. Here is the ACTUAL (sorta) transcript of what went on:

Ms: "Hello, welcome to Pathmark. Would you like paper or plastic bags?"

Mr. Wilma Bartleberry Jones McDuff Scribner Herbert Walker Bush: "(screaming) WHAT?"

Ms: "Hello, welcome to Pathmark. Would you like paper or plastic bags?"

WBJMSHBWB: (screaming once again) WHAT?

(This went on for 1/2 more times.)

My Scanner: "Beep."

Ms: "Beep."

WBJMSHBWB: "HOLD ON THERE SONNY!!! THAAT ORANGE JUICE IS SUPPOOSED TO BE $2.89, NOT $2.90!"

Ms: "(tired) I WILL CALL THE MAN-A-SORT TO CHECK THE PRICE."

WBJMSHBWB: "WHAT?"

My Manager On The Phono: "Waaa Waaa Waaa Waaa $2.90 (My boss was a teacher in the same school as Charlie Brown before he worked in Pathmark.)"

Ms: "THE ORANGE JUICE IS TWO DOLO-LARS AND NINE-TY CENTS!"

WBJMSHBWB: "WHAT? THE ORANGE MOOSE IS TELLING ME THE ORANGE IS TWO DOLLARS AND NINE TY CENTS!"

(WBBWJMSHBWB: "WHAT? THE ORANGE MOOSE IS TELLING ME THE ORANGE IS TWO DOLLARS AND NINE TY CENTS!")

This happened 119 times. The line stretched from my cash register to Chicago. Customers were about to revolt and burn Mrs. Wilma Bartleberry Jones McDuff Scribner Herbert Walker Bush on a stake. The 12th time she bitch about the price, I snapped. I couldn't take this anymore, I was approaching Wit's End.)

Ms: "(quietly) Beeep.

WBJMSHBWB: "THAAAT PRICE ON THE FLEEET'S ENEMA IS SUPPOSED TO BE $4.80, NOT $4.90! FIX IT!"

(Hello and welcome to Wit's End!)

Ms: "YOU STUPID FUCKING OHDAG FROM HELL!!! WHY THE HELL DID YOU EVER COME HERE, YOU SATANIC GRANNY FROM COCYTUS!!! YOU ARE MAKING MY LIFE A LIVING HELL!!! I HOPE YOUR TRUCK HITS YOUR HOUSE WHILE YOU'RE THERE MAKING SATANIC KNIT THINGIES!! DIE!! DIE!! DIE!!!!!!"

(At this moment I picked her up, stuffed her in a paper (with plastic) bag, and threw her out of the store. Everyone on my line applauded me, and my manager named me "Associate of the Month.")

Now, if only had to deal with Satanic old-women from Hell, life would be good. Real good. Like when you wake up in the morning and you realize that you can sleep an extra hour. That good. But NO, NEVER!!! Not in Pathmark. To add to the aggravation, management discovered another device about as BAD as BAD as Mrs. Wilma Bartleberry Jones McDuff Scribner Herbert Walker Bush: The PA System.

"Right now we have Pursuit(TM)'s Fresh-Roasted chickens for $1.99 a pound! Buy a cart-load today!!!" When one first hears this phrase, it seems like nothing at all, none-the-less something evil. But, multiply that by 13,478,238.12 and square it, and find the sine and...sorry, I got carried away. The point that I'm trying to make is that after the 100th time, it's like Chinese water torture. After being heard..."Buy a cart-load TODAY!!" for time 488, I was about to wig-out. At repetition number 523, I once again, flipped out. I found the bag with Mrs. Wilma...and thrust it against a wall. I tore off my shirt and went leaping around the store, eating people's boxes of "Lucky Charm(TM)" and calling little girls by the name of "Ike." By the time security wrestled me to the ground to take me off in a paddy wagon. I was puking little marshmallows, and cursing that damn leprechaun. The doctors say that the medicine that I'm taking should help me, but...I don't know how to deal with the emotional fluctuations. That, my friends, was my Spring Break. Seven days of tortuous Hell. Fun. I don't know about you, but I'd rather be here anytime, eating horrible food, and danc-...
MISTER BOFFO
by Joe Martin

Test:
1. When did the Pilgrims land at Plymouth Rock?

I'm not permitted by liberty to divulge this information.

2. Where is Plymouth Rock?

Your solemn countenance suggests a heritage
unusually rich in species diversity.

GIVE ME A QUARTER, TWINKY.

I UNDERSTAND MY TESTS ARE POPULAR READING IN THE TEACHER'S LOUNGE.

THINGS THEY GO WITHOUT SAYING?

QUARTER WORTH 25 CENTS.

WHAT? HERE YOU GO.

THAT WAS WORTH 25 CENTS.

That's weird. The same commercial on every channel?

I'M NOT SURPRISED ANYMORE. I'M THE LUCKIEST ONE I'VE NEVER WORN.

CLEAN THE GARAGE.

THEY'RE FOR ATTENDANCE.

DINGO THE DINOSAUR AND HIS 2-167TH OWNER.

SNAPSHOTS
by Parag Joshi

Nothing but mit

It Came From Left Field
by Sean Daily

At this stage of your workout you'll want to seriously think about slowing down.

THE FAR SIDE
By Gary Larson

"Well, scratch No. 24. He did pretty good, though — right up to the jet engine test."

Life Tips
Practical and fun April fools jokes for you and your friends.

1. Tell your boyfriend that your pregnant.
2. Tell your parents that your dropping out of college.
3. Go into a Mc Donalds with a Uzi.
4. Tell your girlfriend that you love her. (Ha Ha Ha).
5. Have your brother committed.
6. Feign death in the commuter cafe.
7. Eat at the commuter cafe.
8. Sell people cat nip to your friends and tell them it's marijuana.
9. Confess to the police for any headline crime!
10. Really be pregnant!
I'm so very sorry.

An apology by John J. O'Sullivan.

I would like to apologize to all of you, the collective group of readers of our beloved Montclarion, because I, John J. O'Sullivan, could not come up with a topic that worked for this week's comic page column.

Here's what happened; I was typing at my regular spot in Richardson Hall, trying to construct my premise for the week: Advice from Bob the Plumber. It was going to be a mock advice column by this guy Bob who would scream at his readers. When I read it, it seemed as if it would flop. Really flop. Here's a sample:

"Q. Dear Bob,

My wife left me for some other guy who makes more money in one day than I do for an entire year. I still love her and I miss her. What should I do?

Signed, Depressed.

A: Dear Depressed,

YOU ARE A DAMN LOSER!! SHE LEFT YOU BECAUSE YOU ARE A LOSER!! IF YOU HAD THE BALLS, SHE WOULD HAVE STAYED WITH YOU, BUT YOU DON'T, LOSER!!!!!

Wasn't that terrific? I think it was. It sucked worse than Ishtar! I tried writing another "What If..." column, but every time I tried, it had something to do with flying airborne land-animals. I hope you see my frustration here. I tried doing 'What if it really rained cats-and-dogs,' 'What if rabbits REALLY COULD deliver eggs,' etc. I tried a few more premises on my keyboard, they flopped too. I couldn't take anymore. I took the Mac and threw it out the window of lab, pulled my sweater over my head and started screaming ancient Celtic tribal chants. Yeah, I was THAT frustrated! So I hope you accept my apology; I promise as God being my witness I WILL HAVE A REALLY COOL COLUMN NEXT WEEK! If I don't, may God smite me off the face of the Earth.

"ZZZZZZZZAAAAAAAAAAAAA pppppppppppppppppppppppp!!!"

Damn it; I guess God really doesn't like my articles. (Insert assorted pain sounds here.)

Respectfully yours,

John J. O'Sullivan

--

John J. O'Sullivan is an air-borne land mammal and chairman of the "International Association of Extra-Terrestrial Carpenter Herbivores.'
Cardiac Kids come up big in Florida
Red Hawks win five games in last at-bat during 9-3 Spring Break tour

by Keith A. Ide

Initially, the MSC softball team struggled during its annual Spring Break trip to Florida. Prior to embarking on the seven-day, 12-game excursion, the Red Hawks had not played outdoors at all due to the inclement weather in this area.

They needed time to adjust.

Softball

But once they settled into a comfort zone, MSC was able to put its 2-3 start behind and went on a seven-game tear, during which the Red Hawks outscored their opponents 52-19. (See chart to the left.)

Overall, MSC won five of its games on the trip in its last at-bat.

Head coach Anita Kubicka was relieved that MSC was able to leave the Sunshine State winning nine of its first 12 games, which included seven opponents that were nationally ranked in the Division III pre-season poll.

“It was one of those trips that could have easily put us at 6-6,” said Kubicka. “But putting together the streak we did at the end of the trip showed that this team has a lot of character, drive and determination.”

The Red Hawks hit .358 as a team and sported a .422 on-base percentage. Their performance at the tail end of their trip allowed them to keep the No. 7 national ranking that the Red Hawks were awarded in the pre-season poll.

MSC was led by the hot bats of senior catcher Kristi Kubicka and senior centerfielder Keri O’Meara. Both players hit at a .529 clip and were able to consistently get on base and knock in timely runs for MSC. (See story on page 21.)

Also swinging hot bats were junior second baseman Jenn Flinn (.474), freshman designated hitter Rosalie Guzzi (.378, seven RBI), junior shortstop Fran Bellapianta (.333) and sophomore first baseman Shana Caufield (.321, six RBI).

Flinn, however, only played in seven of MSC’s 12 games after pulling a muscle in her upper torso. Kubicka is hopeful that Flinn will return by this weekend.

As was expected because of the outdoor inactivity, the pitching staff started slow, but managed to get into a groove. Sophomore Robyn Baron especially stood out for MSC. The University of Vermont transfer tallied a 5-2 record to go with a 2.33 ERA in 36 innings of work.

Baron also set an MSC single-game record with 12 strikeouts in a 7-4 win over Western Connecticut, breaking Dina D’Aquino’s old mark of 11 set in 1986.

She struck out 32 batters in all during her eight mound appearances.

Her walks (22) and wild pitches need to be cut down, but as the season wears on that should not be a problem.

Fellow sophomore Denise Warnock continued on page 23

Blaney, Morano pace MSC lacrosse to first victory

by Maureen K. McLeer

Over the break, the MSC lacrosse team split its first two games of the young season. Yet, the team is still very optimistic about gaining a berth in the NCAA tournament.

The opening competition was stiff, as MSC played Pfeiffer College and Queens College, which are ranked No. 7 and No. 8 in Division II respectively.

The Red Hawks bounced back from a loss in the opener with a win over Queens College, 20-13. Playing almost flawlessly for the Red Hawks was junior Neil Blaney who scored five goals and dished out five assists. Accompanying Blaney in attaining the 20 Red Hawk goals were Frank Morano with four, and Danny Van Ness, John Belotta and Mike Bruton, who each had two to lead MSC to the non-conference win.

Dan Van Ness also came up with two assists. Aside from compelling goal scoring, the offense was sparked by Mike Como, who won 80 percent of his faceoffs. This enabled the Red Hawks to have advantageous access to the ball.

Junior midfielder Keith Van Ness netted four goals in the loss, while Morano added four goals and one assist. Matt Klank chipped in with two goals and two assists.

MSC’s next game will be on Saturday when it travels to Pomona to take on Richard Stockton.

The Red Hawks expect to win this game, but won’t be overconfident because Stockton is the most improved team in the Knickerbocker Conference and is currently sporting a 3-0 record. MSC will then play at Drew on Wednesday.

by Mike Como, who won 80 percent of his faceoffs. This enabled the Red Hawks to have advantageous access to the ball. Each had two to lead MSC to the non-conference win.

Dan Van Ness also came up with two assists. Aside from compelling goal scoring, the offense was sparked by Mike Como, who won 80 percent of his faceoffs. This enabled the Red Hawks to have advantageous access to the ball.

MSC’s loss came at the hands of Pfeiffer College, 27-13, in Durham, N.C. on March 22.

“The team didn’t play well because they weren’t prepared for it,” said Alsobrook. “We haven’t had valuable field time due to poor weather conditions.”

Senior midfielder Keith Van Ness netted four goals in the loss, while Morano added four goals and one assist. Matt Klank chipped in with two goals and two assists.

MSC’s next game will be on Saturday when it travels to Pomona to take on Richard Stockton.

The Red Hawks expect to win this game, but won’t be overconfident because Stockton is the most improved team in the Knickerbocker Conference and is currently sporting a 3-0 record. MSC will then play at Drew on Wednesday.
MSC makes strides despite trip record

by Brian Falzarano

Carlon hurt as Red Hawks go 5-3 in North Carolina-Virginia games

Being away from home would be an experience for most. An experience of growth, maturity, and prosperity. Or conversely, it could also be an experience of horrific proportions.

MSC's trip was actually successful in that they finished above .500 (5-3, 6-4 overall). Nothing can ever be taken for granted between the white lines. The only things you can count on are that there are nine players in the field and that it will be a contest every time out.

Baseball

The Red Hawks are a testament to that last sentence. Their North Carolina trip could be deemed a success because of those guidelines.

"Overall, I think you have to be pleased because of the competition we played," said Schoenig. "Six and four is certainly an acceptable record."

Their most recent contest was against Virginia Wesleyan this past Saturday. MSC dropped that game, 10-5, but the loss itself was overshadowed by John Carlon's performance.

Carlon, a sophomore who was 6-0 last year, dropped to 1-2 on the year. He was taken out after two-thirds of an inning (four hits and five runs, two of them earned) due to tendonitis in his rotator cuff.

Serious? Not really. It will not hinder him for the rest of the year. Nonetheless, precautionary measures will be taken on the fourth Red Hawk pitcher to experience arm trouble (Chris Rampone, George Salinovich, and Drew Yocum were the others).

"After he threw (in the bullpen), he thought he'd be able to go," said Schoenig of Carlon, who experienced a twinge in the shoulder while throwing on the side on March 19. "He wasn't real sharp, but he thought he could go."

Carlon will throw on the side starting next Tuesday and will get back on the mound on the following Friday or Saturday. However, he will not be brought back until league play said Schoenig.

"Towards the end of the trip was when we really started to click. I hope-fully, that will carry over into this weekend (MSC-Kean Softball Classic on Friday and Saturday)."

Kuchinski, O'Meara tandem sparks softball to hot start

by Keith A. Idee

More often than not, when a team’s No.3 and No. 4 hitters both bat .529 over a 12-game span, it’s going to translate into a lot of victories.

In the MSC softball team’s case, it was good for nine wins during its annual spring tour of Florida, thanks largely in part to the offensive production of seniors Kristi Kuchinski and Keri O’Meara.

Kuchinski, a third-team Division III All-American last season, slammed three home runs and drove in 11 runs, while going 18-for-34 in Florida. She also returned with a hefty .882 slugging percentage, a .638 on-base percentage and scored a team-high 11 runs.

Kuchinski still sees room for improvement, though.

"I think that numbers can be deceiving because we were a little inconsistent," she said. "But the hitters in front of me have been doing a good job and having Keri hitting behind me takes away some of the pressure."

"Towards the end of the trip was when we really started to click. Hopefully, that will carry over into this weekend (MSC-Kean Softball Classic on Friday and Saturday)."

O’Meara knocked in a team-high 15 runs, went 18-for-34 and has a .538 on-base percentage.

"I think that I want it more this year than I did last year," said O’Meara. "Also, last year I was just DH’ing. Now that I’m playing the field (center), I’m into the game more.”

MSC Sports Schedule

Friday, April 1:
Baseball (home) vs. Allentown College, 1 p.m.
Softball (home) in the MSC-Kean Softball Classic, TBA (through Saturday)

Saturday, April 2:
Baseball (home) vs. Wilmington College, 1 p.m.
Lacrosse (away) vs. Richard Stockton, 1:30 p.m.

Tuesday, April 5:
Baseball (away) vs. Kutztown College, 3:30 p.m.

Wednesday, April 6:
Softball (away) vs. FDU-Madison, 3 p.m. (Doubleheader)
Lacrosse (away) vs. Drew University, 7:30 p.m.

Thursday, April 7:
Softball (home) vs. Richard Stockton, 3 p.m. (Doubleheader)
Baseball (away) vs. Rutgers Newark, 3:30 p.m.

*Spring sports teams’ home game and match sites: baseball (Pittser Field), softball (Quarry Fields), lacrosse (Sprague Field), men’s tennis (The Red Hawk Courts).
PERSONALS

Beth
Where are you? I have missed you!
Let's do coffee.
Mick

ΔΚΨ
Ladies, Smoke Pot, want a hit?

ΔΚΨ
Panama City International airport, what?

ΔΚΨ
Hey look, it's a Little Fyle!

δκΨ
Who was watching Ohio while they were on Spring Break?

Bob-
Who farted all over your room?

ΔκΨ
Wait, let me guess, you're from Ohio?

ΔκΨ
Lazy Daze, Pier House, moonshine, are you in the service?

ΔκΨ
When's the road trip to Ohio State?

ΔκΨ
Looking for maids to help dean room 70s. Call the Del Cornadoll

Ωκη-
I'm fightin' someone right now! Harry

Ωκη-
Who got laid in Panama City?

Ωκη-
What is Superman's mother's name? Louis Schltiz?

Ωκη-
Where's the mixer? Lake Gaston, the Halloway or Ohio?

ΔκΨ-
How many Deltas can you fit in a sardine box?

ΔκΨ-
Is he cool for a week... must have been the weather.

ΔκΨ-
Panama City is not good for us...
Chris Relie (ΔκΨ) is Casper the friendly ghost.

ΔκΨ-
I can't be Harry was actual cool for a week... must have been the weather.

ΔκΨ-
Delta is definitely going to Peru next spring break! What do you think, Pat?

ΔκΨ-
It is still a pleasure to meet you, Mick.

ΔκΨ-
Delta-
It's a good thing there's a place on your wrist for your new watch.

δκΨ-
Chachi is Marky Mark!! Walko is a big guido and Panama City knows it.

δκΨ-
Jeff Klastava is a mumbling fool.

δκΨ-
Ohio sucks!

δκΨ-
Where did you go for Spring Break?

δκΨ-
Ohio.

δκΨ-
Here is your personal. It was also a great pleasure to meet you this week.

δκΨ-
P.S. I have your poster!

ΔκΨ-
Who's family Rocked Panama City?

ΔκΨ-
Do you have a razor I could borrow?

ΔκΨ-
Dave Bajicic is definitely ready for flood season.

ΔκΨ-
What's your favorite nationality?...Peruvian

Ωκη-
You have the best buns! No need to show cleavage.

ΔκΨ-
Put up the f-in window it's cold as hell...

ΔκΨ-
150 mile through Virginia 150 m.p.h. - no sweat.

ΔκΨ-
Ohio is great!

Ωκη-
Chu Chi (ΔκΨ) Have you ever seen an overgrown peach?

ΔκΨ and Ωκη-
Thank god Joe was able to drive so much on the ride home... and he made such great time, too.

Schltizy!!
Walko-
You're my Diamond Girl

Dave Bajicic is ready for any flood.

Pyle-
The best night sleep you had was your first night with me.

VBOD-
Where's the mixer- Lake Gaston, the Halloway or Ohio?

ΔκΨ-
I'm fighting someone right now!

ΔκΨ-
Who got thrown out of LaVele 3 times in 2 days?

ΔκΨ-
Put up the f-in window it's cold as hell...

ΔκΨ-
Fat, Maria, Pock, and Nelly-
For the last fucking time - I did not break the fucking window - I fixed it.

Θκη-
Worst ghost story ever!

ΔκΨ-
I'm not paying for the beer.

ΔκΨ-
I'm the best drunk driver in the fraternity.

ΔκΨ-
I can't be Harry was actual cool for a week... must have been the weather.

ΔκΨ-
Chris Relie (ΔκΨ) is Casper the friendly ghost.

ΔκΨ-
It's a good thing there's a place on your wrist for your new watch.

Chachi is Marky Mark!!
Walko is a big guido and Panama City knows it.

Jeff Klastava is a mumbling fool.

Panama City-Show your tits.

Slobvokian tutor-call Greg

I am not a schmooz

Dave-
Do you have a razor I could borrow?

Dave Bajicic is definitely ready for flood season.

ΔκΨ-
Want a hit?

ΔκΨ-
Hey look, it's a Little Fyle!

ΔκΨ-
Who was watching Ohio while they were on Spring Break?

ΔκΨ-
Who farted all over your room?

ΔκΨ-
Wait, let me guess, you're from Ohio?

ΔκΨ-
Lazy Daze, Pier House, moonshine, are you in the service?

ΔκΨ-
When's the road trip to Ohio State?

ΔκΨ-
Looking for maids to help dean room 70s. Call the Del Cornadoll

Ωκη-
Who got laid in Panama City?

Ωκη-
What is Superman's mother's name? Louis Schltiz?

Ωκη-
Where's the mixer? Lake Gaston, the Halloway or Ohio?

ΔκΨ-
How many Deltas can you fit in a sardine box?

ΔκΨ-
Is he cool for a week... must have been the weather.

ΔκΨ-
Panama City is not good for us...
Chris Relie (ΔκΨ) is Casper the friendly ghost.

ΔκΨ-
I can't be Harry was actual cool for a week... must have been the weather.

ΔκΨ-
Delta is definitely going to Peru next spring break! What do you think, Fat?

ΔκΨ-
Ohio sucks!

ΔκΨ-
Where did you go for Spring Break?

ΔκΨ-
Ohio.

ΔκΨ-
Here is your personal. It was also a great pleasure to meet you this week.

ΔκΨ-
P.S. I have your poster!

ΔκΨ-
Who's family Rocked Panama City?

ΔκΨ-
Do you have a razor I could borrow?

Dave Bajicic is definitely ready for flood season.

ΔκΨ-
Want a hit?

ΔκΨ-
Hey look, it's a Little Fyle!

ΔκΨ-
Who was watching Ohio while they were on Spring Break?

ΔκΨ-
Who farted all over your room?

ΔκΨ-
Wait, let me guess, you're from Ohio?

ΔκΨ-
Lazy Daze, Pier House, moonshine, are you in the service?

ΔκΨ-
When's the road trip to Ohio State?

ΔκΨ-
Looking for maids to help dean room 70s. Call the Del Cornadoll

Ωκη-
Who got laid in Panama City?

Ωκη-
What is Superman's mother's name? Louis Schltiz?

Ωκη-
Where's the mixer? Lake Gaston, the Halloway or Ohio?

ΔκΨ-
How many Deltas can you fit in a sardine box?

ΔκΨ-
Is he cool for a week... must have been the weather.

ΔκΨ-
Panama City is not good for us...
Chris Relie (ΔκΨ) is Casper the friendly ghost.

ΔκΨ-
I can't be Harry was actual cool for a week... must have been the weather.

ΔκΨ-
Delta is definitely going to Peru next spring break! What do you think, Fat?

ΔκΨ-
Ohio sucks!

ΔκΨ-
Where did you go for Spring Break?

ΔκΨ-
Ohio.

ΔκΨ-
Here is your personal. It was also a great pleasure to meet you this week.

ΔκΨ-
P.S. I have your poster!

ΔκΨ-
Who's family Rocked Panama City?

ΔκΨ-
Do you have a razor I could borrow?

Dave Bajicic is definitely ready for flood season.

ΔκΨ-
Want a hit?

ΔκΨ-
Hey look, it's a Little Fyle!

ΔκΨ-
Who was watching Ohio while they were on Spring Break?

ΔκΨ-
Who farted all over your room?

ΔκΨ-
Wait, let me guess, you're from Ohio?

ΔκΨ-
Lazy Daze, Pier House, moonshine, are you in the service?

ΔκΨ-
When's the road trip to Ohio State?

ΔκΨ-
Looking for maids to help dean room 70s. Call the Del Cornadoll

Ωκη-
Who got laid in Panama City?

Ωκη-
What is Superman's mother's name? Louis Schltiz?

Ωκη-
Where's the mixer? Lake Gaston, the Halloway or Ohio?

ΔκΨ-
How many Deltas can you fit in a sardine box?

ΔκΨ-
Is he cool for a week... must have been the weather.

ΔκΨ-
Panama City is not good for us...
Chris Relie (ΔκΨ) is Casper the friendly ghost.

ΔκΨ-
I can't be Harry was actual cool for a week... must have been the weather.

ΔκΨ-
Delta is definitely going to Peru next spring break! What do you think, Fat?

ΔκΨ-
Ohio sucks!

ΔκΨ-
Where did you go for Spring Break?

ΔκΨ-
Ohio.

ΔκΨ-
Here is your personal. It was also a great pleasure to meet you this week.

ΔκΨ-
P.S. I have your poster!

ΔκΨ-
Who's family Rocked Panama City?
Can Earvin perform “Magic” again for struggling Lakers?

Showtime is back at the Great Western Forum. Temporarily, at least. ”I know it’s going to be for a month, anyway,” said the man with the million-dollar smile.

That wasn’t exactly reassuring for Lakers fans, nor was it what owner Dr. Jerry Buss probably wanted to hear.

Thus, the uncertainty of his commitment is the most unnerving thing about Magic Johnson’s appointment as Los Angeles Lakers’ head coach last week.

Sure, Magic will bring the celebrities and others back to Inglewood to fill those suddenly-empty 6,000 seats and to check out at best a mediocre bunch. There will be some sellouts (possibly all) for the few remaining home games. But that in itself will not restore the interest and faith that were once so vital to Laker basketball.

Magic, who led the Lakers to five NBA Championships, will be able to motivate his players by demanding their best and nothing else, just as he did as the best point guard to ever step on a basketball court. No one is questioning that.

Yet, that too will not be enough.

What guys like Doug Christie, George Lynch, Vlade Divac, Nick Van Exel and Elden Campbell need, is someone who will stick around and help them become winners again. In the four seasons since Pat Riley left town, the Lakers have had three coaches (Mike Dunlevy, Randy Pfund and Johnson). The revolving door must be nailed shut.

So, if Magic isn’t willing to be the Lakers’ coach for more than a month, that he never should have taken the job. After all, fulfilling Buss’ fantasies should not come at the organization’s expense. That is, of course, if Buss is interested in making the Lakers contenders again.

If he is willing to remain for the long haul, then the Lakers are in business. Magic is a proven winner with a tremendous amount of knowledge of the game. Those are key ingredients that make a good coach.

However, let’s play Devil’s advocate for a second.

Doesn’t Quinn Buckner know a lot about basketball and winning? Yup. Can he coach worth a lick? Apparently not. Jamal Mashburn and Jimmy Jackson will be the first to attest to that.

The point is that hiring a coach at this level that has absolutely no coaching experience could backfire.

But Magic’s situation is unique because the fans will tolerate the growing pains, simply because he’s Magic. For a little while, anyway.

The real question that will be answered soon enough is: Will Magic be able to handle not being the best for a change, knowing that he will have to take a game into his own hands with strategy and not physical ability?

Baseball’s trip, from page 21

also pitched well, collecting three wins in four decisions. She returned with an impressive 1.29 ERA and gave up only 17 hits in 21 innings.

Warnock turned in her most impressive performance in the team’s last game in Florida when she tossed a three-hit complete game without allowing a walk in a 3-1 win over Allegheny College.

"It was very difficult for the pitchers to adjust from inside to outside," Kubicka said. "I think that was why there were so many walks and wild pitches in the first few games. But once they settled down and made adjustments, they pitched well."

The Red Hawks will need some of that superior pitching, along with some offensive punch in this weekend’s MSC-Kean Softball Classic at the Quarry Fields beginning tomorrow and concluding on Saturday with the championship game at 3 p.m.

The 10-team field features seven nationally ranked Division III teams, including MSC.

The condition of the fields will factor into whether the games are played as scheduled. Call the Red Hawks Sports Hot Line for up-to-date information at 655-7645.

Baseball’s trip, from page 21

tried to shovel his teammates out. Instead, he gave up a three-run homer to Kevin Rooks.

With the score 10-5 in the ninth inning, Chris Roof hit a liner into the alley in right-center with the bases loaded, but it was caught.

St. Andrew’s, one of the two NAIA schools MSC came across on the trip, benefitted from a three-run rally in the bottom of the ninth to overcome a 7-5 deficit for an 8-7 conquest over the Red Hawks on March 23.

Ralph Yezza, picking up where he left off last year, went 2-for-5, with three RBI, including a two-run fence-clearing shot to give MSC a 7-4 advantage. Keith Glauber, who won two games on the eight-game swing, suffered his first loss of the season after giving up all three runs in the ninth.

Although he was not too thrilled with the losses, Schoenig was more disappointed with how his team lost. "The way those games transpired bothered me. The St. Andrew’s game, we had won,” the seventh-year coach said.

They bucked the trend of the previous game as Tony Martinez singled in the second of the year, in a four-run first inning, Chris Roof hit a liner into the alley with the bases loaded, but it was caught.

Hulk Hogan technically doesn’t have a new career. He’s been an actor all these years. The Hulkster has just ditched the tights. And, if good sense prevails, he probably won’t mention his “24-inch pythons” too much on his new TV show. .. Have a nice week.

Calling the shots.....

Jerry Jones has become the George Steinbrenner of football. He’s just a lot better at damage control. But enough with that “we’re good friends” crap. If Jones and Johnson really were great pals, Barry Switzer wouldn’t have been yanked off his couch in Oklahoma to coach the Cowboys. . . .And Johnson is no angel in this ordeal either. He wants to be in full control of a football franchise. He’s made that very clear. Jones’ comments that he made in a drunken stupor provided Johnson with his timely ticket out of Dallas. Johnson said that he didn’t have the “drive” to lead the Cowboys in their quest for a third straight championship. That’s funny, he never mentioned that as being a problem before. Reporters should have been forewarned to wear hip boots for that press conference. And shovels wouldn’t have hurt either. . . .Feeling pretty good about the NCAA tournament picks (Connecticut, Massachusetts, Duke and Minnesota in the Final Four) that were made in this column two weeks ago. Might as well follow the Johnson-B.S. model. . . .Is Florida really in the Final Four? . . .Hulk Hogan technically doesn’t have a new career. He’s been an actor all these years. The Hulkster has just ditched the tights. And, if good sense prevails, he probably won’t mention his “24-inch pythons” too much on his new TV show. . . .Have a nice week.

Baseball's trip, from page 21

Roof added a three-run homer, his second of the year, in a four-run first inning for the Red Hawks.

Against High Point, another NAIA school, it began and ended with Mike Micucci. He bashed a two-run homer in the second and a three-run dinger in the fourth, pacing MSC to a 5-0 win on March 19. That gave the Red Hawks eight innings, yielding only seven hits. Freshman third baseman Ryan Bowie added two hits.

Down 8-1 entering the fourth, MSC scored six runs in the fourth, led by Yezza’s grand slam, and three in the seventh for an 11-8 win over Chowan.

Jason Scavalla homered and had two RBI, Glauber got the win in relief.

On March 18, they braved a four-run eighth inning to dispose of Mt. St. Mary (NY), 12-8. T.J. Costello, who has been subpar, got the win in 5 2/3 innings, giving up four runs on four hits. John Pallino had three hits and an RBI. Rob DiLaurenzio homered for MSC.

N.C. Wesleyan, one of the top teams in Division III, blitzed Carlow with a five-run fourth inning as the Red Hawks succumbed, 6-2, on March 17.

MSC outlasted Division II Barton College (N.C.), 8-6 in the opening game of the North Carolina trip on March 16.
Kristi Kuchinski and Jenn Flinn (pictured left) celebrate after one of the MSC softball team’s nine wins in 12 games during its Florida trip (Idec, p. 20)