Dirty old Geiza

Former Student Center Director sentenced to four years in State Prison for stealing $186,000. (Patnode, p.3)
SGA E-Board slashes Class One budgets
by George Colle

Eliminated conference budgets and five percent budget cuts for Class I organizations such as WNMSC, Latin American Student Organization and College Life Union Board were announced by the Student Government Association Executive Board this summer.

SGA Treasurer, Rick Leto cited a $70,000 initial deficit from the years projected revenuefigures as the cause.

Originally, SGA President Sal Anderton said that he did not know if it was constitutional to change a budget that had been passed by last year’s legislature.

He later defended the changes saying, “The original budget was a mistake. It passed with no information. It was too grand and dangerous to the corporation.” He cited line two of the Summer Responsibilities of the Summer Director which empowers the SGA President to “supervise the running and maintaining of the corporate structure over the summer months.”

Director of Student Center Activities and SGA Financial Advisor, Charles Feiner, said he would look into the details of what transpired. He acknowledged that the executive board could make the changes without legislative approval.

Reactions in Class I Alley were tempered due to a lack of information resulting from most of the organizations absence during the summer months. WMSC Manager Mike Pacos said that he had not yet received the memo but was “not surprised,” adding, “they shouldn’t be sticking their hands in our pockets like that.”

LaCampana Editor Sam Rock claims that, legally, the SGA Constitution is subordinate to the SGA Articles of Incorporation which name the SGA Executive Board as the sole executors of the corporation.

Leto said that articles could take precedence over the constitution if there is a conflict. He added that, technically, spending does not necessarily have to go through the legislators.

Leto said, “I have no right to override a (legislative) decision,” yet he stands firm on the decision to eliminate Class I conference lines.

SGA Vice President April Steinmetz agreed with the SGA Executive Board decision to cut the conference lines stating that they have the power as summer directors.

Latin American Student Organization President Steve Buendia said “I don’t know how they could change it (the budgets) without bringing it to the legislation in bill form.”

“All of our actions were taken pending legislative approval,” Leto added.

SGA Attorney General Paola Ciappina was not available to comment.

SGA president petitions for phone registration
by Greg MacSweeney

After witnessing three days of seemingly endless lines with uncomfortable waiting conditions at the “add-drop” session held Aug. 23-25, SGA President Sal Anderton petitioned Provost and Vice President Dr. Richard Lynde to expedite the search and installation of a phone registration system.

Anderton cited several examples from the recent add-drop session which “epitomized the aggravation, inconvenience and inconsideration that the students face here several times a year,” including an Aug. 24 fire drill, that forced the lines “that already stretched out of the annex and into the Student Center quad,” completely outside. Also cited were hot temperatures and hours of waiting in lines that “seemed endless.”

Lynde responded to Anderton on Aug. 25 and stated that although the school has looked into phone registration at several points over the past few years, “the investment required seemed a bit high to justify the change...” Lynde added that this is especially true due to declining state funding.

During the Aug. 24 add-drop, a small child defecated in the annex and the mess was not cleaned up for several hours until the Student Center staff was made aware of the situation.

Many students arrived for the 1 p.m. session on Tue., Aug. 23 at 9 a.m. Students who arrived at noon already encountered a line of 100 or more students.

Not all of the terminals were used during the add-drop registration, although there were students waiting on line outside of the registration room.

Anderton wrote, “Ignoring the dissatisfaction of the students leaves many to conclude that the university is indifferent to our most serious concerns.”

Those that live hours away are forced to drive to campus for the session and go home only to return one week later. Weekend and evening students must take off from work to attend their assigned add-drop sessions.

Lynde stated that approximately 3,500 students attended the add-drop session this summer, over 25% of the entire student body.

He suggested that an immediate solution could be a more orderly scheduling pattern during the coming year.

The Registrar, Denise DeBlasio, sent a letter to the Director of Information Services, Assistant Vice President Lynn Truesdell, before the recent add-drop session ended, communicating her interest in re-submitting her proposal for switching to a phone registration process.

Anderton’s letter was also sent to MSU President Irvin Reid, Vice President for Student Development and Campus Life Dr. Lee Wilcox, Vice President for Administration and Finance Tom Auch, Deputy Provost and Acting Vice President for Institutional Advancement Dr. Gregory Waters and Editor-in-Chief of the MONTCLARION Greg MacSweeney.
Former administrators aware of Student Center corruption since 1987

by Sheila Patnode

Certain former administrators suspected the former student center director of stealing from the student center years before his suspension in 1993 and sentencing this summer, the Montclarion has learned.

Robert Gieza was sentenced to four years in state prison for stealing $186,000 worth of personal-use goods and services over a five-year period, through phony purchase orders paid for by MSU. The 1972 MSC graduate was charged with official misconduct and theft by deception in excess of $75,000 by the Official Corruption Unit of the State Division of Criminal Justice.

The Montclarion obtained two memos written in 1988 by former Faculty Student Cooperative Association Inc. President, Jeffrey Shapiro. The first memo, written on Jan. 6, 1988, informed former Vice President of Administration and Finance, William Griffith of suspicious activities by Gieza. The second, printed below, informed the FSCA, Inc. Executive Committee of the matter and included a copy of the memo to Griffith. At the time, the functions of the Faculty Student Cooperative Association included the employment of student workers for campus services such as the game room, the Rathskellar and the campus store.

The memo to Griffith stated that Gieza had been seen taking a large number of butcher block tables from storage in the student center. Shapiro wrote that when questioned about the removal, Gieza lied about his reason for removing the tables.

Shapiro also asked Gieza where the tables were taken and Gieza avoided the question, saying only that the tables would be returned. After further questioning by Shapiro, Gieza said that the tables were simply gotten rid of.

The two memos were written after an investigation of Student Center finances had already occurred. According to MSU Internal Auditor Raye Jean Mastrangelo, an anonymous letter written in early 1987, informed MSU administrators of irregular finances in the Student Center. In response to the letter, an outside consulting engineering firm, A.D. Jiljian and Associates, were hired to conduct an investigation of the student center finances. According to Mastrangelo, the firm found no irregularities.

An anonymous phone call in Feb. 1993, once again implicated Gieza in financial irregularities and prompted another investigation, this time by college officials, which eventually led to his plea-bargain.

Mastrangelo did not know the memos written by Shapiro existed until informed by the Montclarion. At the time the memos were written, she had been reporting to the Griffith, who did not inform her of the matter.

In his memo to Griffith, Shapiro wrote that although the stolen tables were the first instance of something which was "observed, reported, and followed-up directly by me regarding these types of events, it is not the first situation which has been reported to me."

He went on to cite deliveries of unneeded rock salt and concluded his memo to Shapiro by writing,

"One need only examine more and more concern which have collected over the years regarding the disappearance of major inventory items at the Student Center such as projection TV’s, motors, tools, furniture, etc., to realize that there is some type of difficulty in the Student Center which is not being addressed clearly and in a manner which protects the fiscal and operating integrity of the Student Center."

Since Gieza’s sentencing, the FSCA has been assimilated into the university, said Mastrangelo. This results in more checks and balances for student center expenses. The administration feels confident that the changes in the FSCA will prevent such thefts from happening in the future.
Asbestos in Bohn Hall

by Sheila Patnode

Traces of asbestos were found during Bohn Hall’s A wing renovations this summer, requiring an asbestos removal company, NESCO, Inc., to be called in to dispose of the contaminated material.

The asbestos removal, at $40,000, brought the bill for renovations to approximately half a million dollars, Doug Cooper, Director of Facilities said.

In order to comply with the American Disabilities Act, the renovation included showers and sinks which are accessible to the developmentally challenged. The A wing bathroom renovation is a follow up to last years B and C wing bathroom renovations.

The asbestos was found three to four feet inside walls which divided the bathroom from a “tub room,” a room with a bathtub used by resident assistants and developmentally challenged residents. The B and C wings did not have tub rooms and therefore the walls did not contain asbestos.

“The concentration of asbestos was so low that air tests showed up negative, even during the removal,” Cooper said.

“The students were never in any danger,” Cooper said.

In 1986 Bohn Hall had a complete test for asbestos which showed up negative.

Residence Life offices were relocated to the student center between May 28 and June 11, while the asbestos was removed.

The Department of Environmental Protection was called in by the renovation contractors who stated that they had not given NESCO permission to authorize removal of asbestos from the campus and consequently suspected that the removal may have been illegal, according to campus police. Waste manifest reports shown to Doug Cooper confirm that the asbestos was disposed of properly.

While the renovations to the A, B and C wing bathrooms were structural changes, future changes will be cosmetic, including painting and recarpeting. There is no set date for those renovations.
Coach Blanton sentenced

by Joan Petrocelli

Former MSU Head Track Coach John Blanton was sentenced to four years in state prison this summer after pleading guilty to a charge of official misconduct in March.

Blanton’s sentence, handed down by the Passaic County Superior Court, consists of five years probation and complete forfeiture of all public employment in state, county and local sectors. In addition, Blanton can not hold any education position, such as teaching or coaching. He must undergo psychiatric counseling and submit payment for various minor fines.

“We are always saddened when a member of the MSU community is convicted of a wrongdoing,” Deputy Provost and Vice President for Institutional Advancement Dr. Gregory Waters said, “but Montclair as an institution acted responsibly and we feel the courts acted appropriately.”

Blanton was originally charged with one count of second degree sexual assault and one count of second degree official misconduct before he entered into a plea bargain for events that took place on or about Feb. 24, 1992.

The former coach allegedly attempted to coerce and force a female member of the track team to have sex with him on two separate occasions in both Little Falls and New Brunswick.

As head track coach, Blanton, 39, of Orange, obtained a fourth place finish in the NCAA Division three in cross country. His career, however, has been surrounded by controversy.

When Blanton, an African-American, was hired by the MSU Board of Trustees in April of 1988, another candidate for the position questioned the appointment and the school was charged with reverse discrimination. As a result of the charges, the men’s varsity track team boycotted that season.

In 1990, allegations that track records had been falsified reflected on Blanton. Sufficient information was not obtained to support the allegations.

In another instance that year, Blanton illegally confiscated film from a Montclair reporter and detained her in his office until campus police arrived. He objected to being photographed for a news story. The incident was not officially acted on by the administration.

Waters said that MSU has always run reference checks before hiring employees, including telephone follow-ups.

July 23- Davio Mussington, 18, and Dashid Williams, 19, both of Irvington were arrested and charged with criminal mischief after spray painting graffiti in the first floor men’s room and near a table in the new academic building. The crime occurred during an EOF dance and the suspects were caught in Freeman Hall after an unidentified caller notified police of their whereabouts. Once caught, the suspects confessed.

CAR THEFTS

June 6 - An '87 Cadillac was stolen from lot 20 between 8:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. The car was recovered in E. Rutherford later that day.

June 10 - '89 Chevy was found in lot 20 and was discovered to have been stolen from E. Rutherford.

June 12 - The attempted car theft of a Honda Accord was found in lot 17.

The passenger door handle was popped open and the ignition was popped out. The owner was a resident of Blanton Hall.

June 30 - '91 Ford Mustang was stolen from lot 21. Broken glass nearby indicates that a window was broken to gain access to the car. The car was recovered, without plates, in New York City on July 20.
The SGA Scholarship Fund, Inc. was formed by last year's SGA president, treasurer and director of services with $150,000 worth of SGA unappropriated surplus.

The new SGA Scholarship Fund was formed to make $10,000 to $15,000 worth of scholarship money available to MSU undergraduate students, said SGA Vice President and SGA Scholarship Fund President April Steinmetz.

The fund, formed without legislative approval at the end of the past school year by last year's SGA President James "Appetite" Cotter, Treasurer James Heneghan and Director of Services Ross Peterson, will provide six different scholarships for students.

"For the first time the SGA will be giving back to the students something they have paid for, for years. Dollars back for dollars in," Heneghan said.

The scholarships, each varying in value, are: the child care subsidy scholarship for student-parents, SGA leadership scholarship for any member of a SGA organization, non-traditional scholarship for any undergraduate student over 25, Dr. Ed Martin honorary scholarship, the PRIDE scholarship for multicultural education, and the Art Carved scholarship from Art Carved Jewelers, according to Steinmetz.

"We wanted to leave something to the students of Montclair that meant something," Cotter said.

The scholarships will be funded solely on the interest produced by the $150,000 which was "wisely" invested in companies such as Prudential, Steinmetz said.

The $150,000 came solely from the SGA surplus reserve which is kept in case of an emergency (new radio tower for WMSC-FM, computers, lawsuits, etc.). The corporation can be abolished immediately and at any time by the SGA scholarship fund president if the SGA is in need of cash, Steinmetz said.

Prior to the formation of the new corporation the SGA reserve was approximately $300,000, SGA Treasurer Rick Leto said.

"The constitution says that the legislature must approve spending and the Articles of Incorporation say that the executive board has the responsibility of controlling the finances," said Leto.

The scholarships will be awarded in late March or early April.

"The scholarships are based purely on merit," Steinmetz said. "It would be too difficult to award them by 'financial need' because we are not trained in that area."

Steinmetz added that all the moves made to construct and form the new organization were completely constitutional and within SGA parameters.

The SGA Scholarship Fund, Inc. executive board consists of President Steinmetz, Treasurer Michele Crifasi (current SGA secretary), Yan Perepletchikov (current SGA director of services), SGA legislators Dan Marshall and Elizabeth Russo, a student Anthony Besantis, the Dean of Students Dr. Helen Matusew-Ayros and Director of Student Activities Charles Feiner.

The BA II PLUS has unique display prompts that guide you through problems. It offers basic business functions like time-value-of-money. Plus, it delivers cash flow analysis for internal rate of return (IRR), Net present value (NPV), Bond calculations, Depreciation, Advanced statistics.

Management, marketing, finance or accounting major? You know dollars and cents. Get a BA II PLUS Calculator from Texas Instruments. It's designed for students and professionals and recommended by professors. Or try the BA-35, our most affordable model for time-value-of-money and one-variable statistics.

If you're in the financial fast lane, TI Business Calculators make the most sense. Try one at your local TI retailer today, or for more information, call 1-800-TI-CARES.

Dollars And Sense.

Join the MONT-CLARION
many positions available
call today
655-5241
655-5169
New dean of students appointed after search

by Bonnie Dexter Greenspan

New Dean of Students, Dr. Helen Matusow-Ayres, has been hired after a national search and starts Sept. 1. She has held student life positions for 17 years and was most recently Associate Dean of Students at NJIT.

She will be responsible for student services including: Career Services, Cooperative Education, Health Center, International Services, Campus Ministry, Women’s Center, Orientation, Psychological Services, and Specialized Student Services.

“The reason I am in this business,” Matusow-Ayres said, “is because I really enjoy college students. I would like to have a relationship with the students (at MSU) as an educator and a supporter. My main motivation is to make their college experience a positive one. Even if I make mistakes, I can always get back to that.”

Connie Ford, Acting Student Center Director, recalled working with Matusow-Ayres several years ago on a committee for the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators (NASPA).

“I think she will make a great Dean of Students and a wonderful role model,” Ford said. “She interacts personally with students and tries to understand their problems.”

Matusow-Ayres also participated in re-working a hazing and alcohol policy at NJIT this past summer, said R.J. Hartman, president of the Inter Fraternity and Sorority Council at NJIT, though the policy has not yet become official.

“I am extremely pleased that Dr. Matusow-Ayres has agreed to be our Dean of Students,” said Dr. Lee Wilcox, VP for Student Development and Campus Life. “Students, faculty and staff at NJIT all saw her as a superb student advocate and student development professional.”

Matusow-Ayres, who resides in Bergen County with her husband and two children, is looking forward to the challenge ahead of her.

“This is an exciting time to be at MSU, now that it has gained university status,” she said. “There is a positive attitude and a good team in student development.”

The new dean holds a master’s degree in Student Personnel Administration from Indiana University and a doctorate in Administration and Organization of Higher Education from Teachers College, Columbia University.
DO YOU SEE THESE FACES?
IT'S 7:15 AM THURSDAY MORNING AND THE STAFF OF THE MONTCLARION IS STILL SLAVING HARD TO FINISH THIS ISSUE.
BUT, IT DOESN'T HAVE TO BE THIS WAY. IF YOU HAD JOINED THE MONTCLARION, THIS MIGHT NOT HAVE HAPPENED. IN FACT, IF WOODY HAD GONE STRAIGHT TO THE POLICE, NONE OF THIS WOULD HAVE EVER HAVE HAPPENED.
Welcome back to the new "U"

Summer's over. It's time for good friends, good food and fine wine. Well, you can find one of the three here at MSU. Don't worry, I'm not going to start crying about the food here. I'm just writing this little note to welcome you all back and to welcome the new freshman and transfers that, for some reason, picked this institution of higher learning.

It's time to readjust to college (whoops, that's university) life again. Instead of working a zillion hours a week for peanuts, you go to class a few times a week and hope that the professor doesn't notice that you can barely focus on your paper because you are so hung-over from the night before. Instead of worrying what your boss is going to say, your biggest concern is going to that 8 a.m. class with a mandatory attendance policy. Your second biggest concern is beating your roommate at SEGA (the ultimate GPA killer).

So much has changed since the majority of you left a few months ago. Where shall I start? To make it quick, we have a new Vice President of Student Development and Campus Life, Dr. Lee Wilcox, a new Dean of Students, Dr. Helen Matusow-Ayres, a new SGA (is that good or bad?), and almost every organization in the SGA has new leaders and a new staff anxious to make this year a successful one. They renovated the C-Store. Who the hell wanted a renovation of the C-Store? Didn't we want the prices to go down? It's a good smoke screen so far. They know that they have a captive audience (a.k.a. a monopoly). We have a new owner of the book store (now slickly renamed the "University BookStore"). It's still the same manager and guess what, I don't see any great drop in prices like we were told. Again, didn't we get a new vendor for the bookstore to lower the prices? Smoke screen. Oh, yeah don't forget that this is the first full semester of "university" at Montclair. If U-status is a plus, it remains to be seen.

I really have just one thing to say to the freshman and transfer students. Get involved in this campus. There is something for everyone. Sure, it may be easy to sit in your room all day and watch TV or watch your roommate sleep, but there are other things out there that some students who care enough have set up over the years to give you something to do between classes. The SGA is a prime example. Sure, you probably think that it is some boring organization like the one you had in high school. Sure, it probably would be if it weren't for the $520,000 budget that comes from your student fees. Why not take advantage of some of the services? Most organizations are funded by the SGA, whether the organizations like it or not. So get out there and join the MONTCLARION, Class One Concerts, WMSC or any of the other organizations. There has got to be something for everyone and if there is nothing for you, you got problems! But if you like to watch your roommate sleep......

Greg MacSweeney
Editor-in-Chief
Dr. Lee Wilcox:
Friend of freshman
by Chris Hinck

This Monday, I met with Dr. Lee Wilcox, the new Vice President of Student Development and Campus Life to discuss his plans and goals for his first semesters at MSU. Dr. Wilcox appears ready to implement both his own and Dr. Reid's ideas in his revamped department.

"It's [the Student Development and Campus Life Division] been changed, divisions have been added," said Wilcox.

Departments within Student Development and Campus Life now include Admissions, financial aid, Dean of Students, Inter-Collegiate Athletics, Residence Life, and the Student Center.

At a retreat weekend over the summer, a mission statement was created outlining the overall purpose of Student Development and Campus Life.

"The Mission of Student Development and Campus Life is to support and enhance the educational mission of Montclair State University and to assist students in reaching their goals. Division staff will work in a cooperative relationship with the faculty, staff, and students to provide an environment that fosters the intellectual, psychological, physical, social and career development of students."

Four more specific goals have been set by the division. Implementation on the Academic Success Center, developing a wellness program, improving the new student experience, and increasing retention rates make up this list. The focus of this year's work seems to be freshmen, leaving upper classmen to wonder what will be done for them.

According to Wilcox, MSU loses 20 percent of the freshmen class every year. This appears to be the reason behind the focus on first year students. Wilcox's department plans to attempt to increase the freshmen's school and class spirit at the first annual Freshman Convocation on Sept. 12. The entire freshman class will gather at Memorial Auditorium for programs and a speech by President Reid. The Freshmen Convocation will be "an example of trying to do something new that will tell students that we care about you and we want you to stay here."

Another program that Wilcox is implementing to increase retention rates is the Academic Success Center, which will be located in Moorehead Hall. It will be a location for all the developmental activities and essential program support services directed toward first year students. According to Wilcox, offices that may be moved to Moorehead Hall are Academic Advising, the Tutorial Center, Orientation, Career Services, Educational Opportunity Fund, Financial Aid, and Psychological Services. Turning this idea into reality appears to be the most important individual plan for the division.

Programs that will not receive a forefront position include student leadership development, multicultural and diversity programs, enrollment management, quality of campus life, service learning, and total quality management.

Dr. Wilcox feels that the primary responsibilities of his job are "to help students succeed academically and grow personally, make sure there are talented individuals working in the various departments, and to represent student concerns in meetings with the administration."

"Student involvement is the key to everything," said Wilcox.

According to Wilcox's master plan, freshmen will receive a lot of help in this area. MSU veterans will benefit from the programs which are being created to help incoming students, but Wilcox's plans do not include any special programs directed towards upper classmen.
CAMPUS CALENDAR

TONIGHT
Wander around the campus or check out where your classes will be. There's nothing planned for you to do, so relax, read the MONTCCLARION and get ready for tomorrow!

FRIDAY
The First Day of Classes

SATURDAY
Labor Day Weekend!

SUNDAY
Labor Day Weekend!

MONDAY
Labor Day!
No Classes!!!

TUESDAY
6 p.m. One People Free Reggae Concert, Blanton/Bohn Quad

WEDNESDAY
11 a.m. - 3 p.m. SGA Fair
Noon - 2 p.m. Check out the magician, have your fortune told, or get a caricature drawn to hang on your wall.

NEXT WEEK
Thursday
3 p.m. - 5 p.m. Art Forum Lecture, Calcia Auditorium
4 p.m. - 7 p.m. Hot Air Balloon
9 p.m. Reality Bites

---

MSU's "Tex-Mex" Connection

by David Nikithser

It's usually not easy to enjoy a good night "out to eat" when you're living on a college student's budget. That is, until you go to Chili's Grill and Bar on Route 46 in Little Falls. With every entree coming in at under $10, you can feast on a variety of Southwestern specialties and still manage to afford 13 credits worth of books.

Just a quick trip by car from MSU, Chili's is the perfect spot for college students. Their menu offers a wide selection at affordable prices. Bring a date and you both can savor a delicious entree (like the marinated grilled chicken breast), dinner salad, drinks and dessert for just under $40; a few dollars more if you indulge in one of their many special mixes from the bar. If you're on your own, Chili's offers a variety of flame-broiled burgers - my favorite being the "Chili's Trip," loaded with chili and covered with melted cheese. Need to lose that extra weight you put on over summer break? Chili's offers a "guiltless" menu with many excellent dishes that are low in fat.

Combine all of this with outstanding service in an attractive restaurant with famous "Tex-Mex" decor, and you can see why Chili's Grill and Bar is the perfect after-class place to eat for the MSU student. From MSU, take Valley Road north to Route 46 West and make the U-Turn at Browertown Road. Check it out!
Join Class 1 Concerts
General Membership meetings
Every Thursday, 4 PM
Cafe C of the Student center.

Class One Concerts

Present...

Various Kick Ass Shows
In the Ratt
Every Tuesday Night.
Beginning in Sept.

Come party and kick ass with the coolest of all the Class One's

FREE REGGAE SHOW

One People
Presents...

Blanton-Bohn Quad

Tuesday, September 6, 6 PM

Montclair College
Real Life: The Last Hobbit

This was the summer if you belong to that ugly demographic known as Generation X. The lineup at Lollapalooza was stellar. The Crow, probably the best movie ever produced, did so well they're putting it back in theaters. And, of course, Woodstock (or Mudstock, or Greedstock, or whatever the cynics are calling it this week). And where was I during most of this? Trapped. Stuck in an office working my temp job, sending Interoffice Memos in manila envelopes and getting stranded by air conditioning. Does anyone remember when summer vacation meant sleeping till one, watching bad reruns all day and going to the beach every weekend for three months? Suddenly, I had to worry about car payments and insurance premiums — that is, until my car was stolen a couple of weeks ago. Next, I had to think about getting my next temp assignment when the company that hired me turned to part-time and now I was working on a “poor me” soapbox rampage. All I’m doing is relating a true story of my first bite of reality. I mean, I’ll probably want to print a retraction for all of this by the end of next semester — that’s just how I am. But I won’t regret saying any of it. And I don’t want summer to go away forever or anything; admittedly, some of it was pretty good. It’s just...well, some people work all year and look forward to a summer vacation. I work for a few months and come here for a vacation from summer. Hell, after this summer, a mid-term exam doesn’t sound too threatening.

I am not writing this to be whiny, nor am I trying to use this newspaper for a “poor me” soapbox rampage. All I’m doing is relating a true story of my first bite of reality. I mean, I’ll probably want to print a retraction for all of this by the end of next semester — that’s just how I am. But I won’t regret saying any of it. And I don’t want summer to go away forever or anything; admittedly, some of it was pretty good. It’s just...well, some people work all year and look forward to a summer vacation. I work for a few months and come here for a vacation from summer. Hell, after this summer, a mid-term exam doesn’t sound too threatening.

Part way through the summer, I returned to campus to find an old friend sitting in the rain. He was writing, enthralled with the rain.

"The rain is magnificent!" he exclaimed as his black clothes clung to his body.

"It seems pretty wet to me," I replied. I had just left work and my suit was getting soaked.

"Some people just can’t see beyond the wetness."

Maybe I couldn’t. Maybe two jobs and thirteen credits of summer classes had taken away my vision...my inspiration. Maybe I had finally sold out to the “real” world. Maybe I had become a realist, leaving behind my idealism as something of my youth. No more anti-establishment thoughts. I had just left work and my suit was getting soaked.

"Some people just can’t see beyond the wetness."

Maybe I couldn’t. Maybe two jobs and thirteen credits of summer classes had taken away my vision...my inspiration. Maybe I had finally sold out to the “real” world. Maybe I had become a realist, leaving behind my idealism as something of my youth. No more anti-establishment thoughts. I, Hell, I am part of the establishment now.

Later the same day, I ran into my friend again. In his serious, philosophical tone he said, “It’s raining now. It won’t be raining later.”

Okay, I laughed. If that’s deep, I just don’t know what deep is. Obviously, maybe things seem bad now, but that will pass.

Now, as summer comes to a close and classes are starting and this issue of the MONTCLARION needs to get out and I have a million deadlines to make at work, it’s still raining, but now I can see that the rain is pretty magnificent. It probably never will stop raining. There will always be new problems, new conflicts to overcome, but it all depends on how you see the rain. I guess I got my idealism back. I have one more year to be young, and hell, I’m going to make the best of it!!

So my message to everyone is get involved. College, LIFE and, of course, the rain is what you make of it!!!

Put your career questions to Career Services, Student Center Annex, room 113.
Poet
by Arielle Gronner

I watched him
Crawl out of His own mouth
And kiss the Forehead of Each person in the room. They Heard it happen.
They did not See the tears on the face that Emerged from his lips
Therefore
They did not Offer any more Comfort than Applause.

How My Mother
Pisses Me Off
by J.S. Hamer

She exhales smoky words:
No chemotherapy.

Ice cubes rattle at the bottom of her wineglass.

I stand before her,
hug my vitality,
barely breathe between
words,
cautious of the smoke.

Show your love - she tells me-
by understanding.
I can’t,
say it is suicide.

She calls me too young,
(forgetting her own youth);
I relent,
as I ask never to discuss it.

When we kiss goodnight,
I neglect to say I love
her,
Because I hate so much her dying.

Awake and...
by J.S. Hamer

I don’t know why I haven’t really considered the concept that, when you get involved with someone, it involves two autonomous people. I mean - well, I mean just that. I never thought Dave would kiss me first, that it would happen so unexpectedly. (Not that he jumped out of a doorway or anything like that.) Actually, though, I hadn’t seen myself as the one “taking charge”, either. With all this thinking, it seems I haven’t thought at all.
Only, I have. I pictured it happening, which it did, only I could never have predicted it this way.
Tonight, Dave and I started out shopping. Things went as usual, though usual, lately, has been far from what it once was. We began in the men’s department at Macy’s. Every time we looked at something, we ended up centimeters apart. When those centimeters became millimeters it was like... sexual static electricity. I swear, if I could’ve taken all of those molecular things out of my chest, I would’ve lit up Rockefeller Center.
After the mall we rented a movie. We sat on the same couch, lying in two directions. I was being very careful, or rather, I started out being very careful, not to sit too near Dave. Not that I’m uncomfortable, but I thought, if those molecules kept running through my chest like lost sperm, I’d start gravitating, about the speed of an upright vacuum, towards David.
On top of it all, I was trying to be subtle, (which, yes, I know is just a clever word for phony), only I didn’t want to go nuts, and I certainly wasn’t planning anything, so I figured, why drive myself crazy?
In the middle of the movie I got up for coffee. I put the tray on the tea table; Dave sat up. Once again, we were millimeters away.
I finished my cup, sat back where I was. David did the same. Our shoulders touched and my heart began conducting this new wave symphony - percussion only.
I wasn’t vacuuming the couch yet, so I stayed put.
I don’t know why I have such trouble with the sequence of events when I’m trying to remember something. It’s like my memory keeps snapshots instead of videos. I relaxed, Dave relaxed, we both relaxed a little more, and then even a little more. At some point Dave’s arm found its way to my shoulder, which is kind of funny when you think about it, because men always pull that on women in the movies
-not their best friends. Protons and neutrons were holding the Kentucky Derby in my bloodstream, but at least that wasn’t visible.
After all that relaxing, which wasn’t much relaxing at all, I was kind of in David’s arms. I started fuzzing with the roy of his corduroys, since I didn’t know what else to do, only that stopped when he took my hand. The subsequent feeling, unfortunately, is absent from my vocabulary. The squeeze I gave his hand, though, covered all of those speeches I mentally recited as transitions from our friendship to “relationship”.
It was pretty late by the time we actually kissed, so, we didn’t remain like that for hours on end. Dave got up, we slowly reached the door, and finally said goodnight. We didn’t talk too much; it was one of those moments you sort of want to be quiet. I’d say the air smelled like relief, but that makes me think of farting. My muscles feel like the resting embers of a fire, and boy, is it great.

To submit your poetry, prose, and/or artwork, contact Arielle or Heather in the Montclarion office, Student Center Annex, Room 113.
The news department of the Montclarion is looking for reporters. Experience is not necessary for entry-level reporting. We will give you all the information and materials you need to begin. Experienced reporters are invited to tackle more complex stories, cover specific news beats or join the Investigative News Unit.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain hands-on experience and compile a library of clips. Journalism minors and English majors are strongly encouraged to come in, but all majors are invited. You decide your hours - work as many or few hours as you want.

Bolster that sagging resume. Meet the campus leadership within the administration, faculty and student body. Prepare yourself for the real-world. Reach an audience of 10,000.

Contact:

News Editor, Greg MacSweeney at 655-5241 or 655-4642 or

Executive News Director, Karl Lomberk 655-5241
The preceding was the eleventh in a series of letters stemming from last semester's EOF debate. Like the Stones, it drags on and on...and it's about money!

The first fall semester at Montclair State UNIVERSITY...welcome! My name is Ron as the little masthead suggests, and I am the editorial page editor for the school year. This is my second fall semester at this college, and so far it's been good. This collection of related words and phrases is my column which will appear periodically, based on availability of time, space, and logical opinion. My interests in this type of communication began in what was my feather-haired kiss-fan youth (where I learned to argue against detractors), was subsequently nurtured by girlfriends!, and is maintained by professionals such as Bob Grant.

Logical opinion, that's a nice phrase. It's what got me involved with the MONTCLARION. It's true. You see, I attended another college, and was involved with their paper extensively. It was a good publication, and provided anyone interested with great experience in journalism and like areas. Except for one, the absence of this section puzzled me somewhat, for I always viewed it as a great source for all to express sentiments on all aspects of a campus community and the world at large. When I came to Montclair and first read this page I was at once surprised and relieved. Each week I saw students expounding on current issues, speaking my mind, and openly displaying the importance of an editor. For the most part, the articles and letters I read were well-written, and regardless of what side of the fence the opinion was on, they sustained readability, which is the way to get heard. Spurred on by this, I myself eventually penned a column, entitled FREE THOUGHT, which offered my take on the truly ridiculous "Far Side" situation of the time.

At this point I would like to say what my goals are as editor. I will strive to have all views presented, and all topics covered. On what subjects? You decide. When opinions are offered, particularly in rebuttal, the best effort should be made to be logical and fact-based. Don't get me wrong, I don't want only poets and pseudo-intellectuals writing, but I want to see the mud-slinging factor to have as small a role as possible. My reasoning is simple. At Montclair State University, this is THE PLACE for mass communication. For students, it's the outlet to express feelings on life, politics, and of course the school itself (always enough fodder here). For everyone else, this is a great way to see what's on the mind of America's future (no, I'm not going to be conned into using the "Generation X" tag). Anyone who has the impetus to write is more than welcome, just drop by the Montclair office in the Student Center. It's a good place. Use it wisely.

When's the next tube to Guantanamo?

I refuse to do the dreadfully played out but always expected BACK-TO-SCHOOL-IT'S-GREAT-TO-SEE-YOU-WELCOME-BACK-WHAT'S-YOUR-MAJOR-I'M-LIVING-AT-CLOVER-YOU'RE-SO-OOG-TAN-WHERE'D-YOU-GO-WHAT'S-YOUR-NAME-BABEE-HUH! column.

...but enough about the English Department...

Cuba Get Out Of My Uterus!

The deadline is the Monday before the start of the next term on... 10/1.

The MONTCLARION encourages students to submit letters expressing their views. Letters must include your name, major, and telephone number (for verification purposes) to be considered for publication. The deadline is the Monday before publication. Letters may be edited for brevity or libel. The author of a letter, not the MONTCLARION, is responsible for the opinions expressed therein.
EDITORIAL

A lot of dirt, not enough rug...

As everyone was leaving the beach, pulling out the warmer clothes, and attempting to find that misplaced fall schedule, the MONTCLARION was gearing up to tell you about all things Monclair State. In our news gathering endeavors we've noticed a pattern among some members and organizations of the campus community...questionable behavior! No, it's not the title of a new Madonna song, but it's the rage nonetheless.

First we offer you tales of the SGA! The wolf-in-sheep's clothing is at it again. In late summer, all Class One organizations suddenly found themselves with a five percent budget cut. Now, it's within the purview of the SGA to allocate and subtract monies from stipends, but here's the rub: the budgets were previously approved by the erstwhile legislature. With a last minute change such as this, why should have they even bothered voting ahead of time? Like Ginsu knives, there's more. While all involved were still reeling from the blow and thinking of how to compensate, all fundages for conferences for the class ones were removed, courtesy of the SGA.

The MONTCLARION stresses that these controversial actions may or may not be constitutional; however, they are definitely unconventional and worthy of attention. Will the SGA strike again? It's been said that things happen in sets of three, and given their track record, it may come true.

Another subject in this trend is the saga of Mr. Robert Gieza, former Director of the Student Center, who was convicted in 1993 of "Official Misconduct, and Theft By Deception in excess of $75,000". Now that's bad enough, right? But wait! There's still more! Apparently a request was made as early as 1987 to look into Gieza's affairs. Couple this with the attainment by the MONTCLARION of an anonymous letter from January 1988 referring to "Financial irregularities" on the part of Gieza, one begins to wonder if there's more to this than meets the eye. In any event, happenstances such as these make you wonder what surprises and secrets lie around the corner in the world of MSU. It's not a perfect world, but why should clubs and organizations have to see their itineraries for the next year survive day to day? Why must an urge for investigation go unheeded? It's going to be an interesting fall.
REVIEW: Anything Goes - ahh, summer love

by Kelly Schab

This summer, TheatreFest wrapped up its season with the classic Cole Porter musical, Anything Goes.

Melba Moore, star of stage and television, as well as MSU alumna and honorary degree recipient, plays Reno Sweeny, the central character in this romance- and fun-filled cruise down lover's lane.

The beginning of the Great Depression is shaping up and dreams of success and love fill the hearts of passengers, and a few stowaways, during their voyage to England.

The central love story involves Billy Crocker (Alton Fitzgerald White), a stowaway, and Hope Harcourt (Rebecca Baxter). Their romance is doomed from the start since Hope’s father killed himself after the stock market crash and the start since Hope’s father killed him—Crocker (Alton Fitzgerald White), a stowaway, during their voyage to England.

The two lovers sneak away together as much as they can and we learn that they truly love each other and Hope’s pending marriage to Sir Evelyn Oakleigh (Martin Van Treuren) isn’t as inevitable as it seems.

There is also a quirky cast of characters, including a Yale alumni, Elisha J. Whitney (Robert Vincent Smith, who has perfect comic timing) and a stowaway criminal, Moonface Martin (Stanley Wayne Mathis) with his companion, Bonnie (Dawn M. Ward). This ensemble is the backbone of the production and makes it all the more colorful.

As the first act winds down, the wedding looms ahead and Billy, is caught by the ship’s crew. They mistake him for America’s Most Wanted man and celebrate the fact that the ship now has a celebrity on board.

This obsession with fame is a very timely subject because the debate of whether to allow sports figures to be our celebrity on board.

The viewer begins to find it hard not to like them because you adapt to their associated with the reality of what their attached to their actions.

The two confess as much as they can and we learn that they truly love each other and Hope’s pending marriage to Sir Evelyn Oakleigh (Martin Van Treuren) isn’t as inevitable as it seems.

The act is wrapped up with the title song, “Anything Goes” which illustrates the decadence of the 1920’s and of today. The choreography here is excellent and very energetic.

A high-energy dance drill is performed in this number that will take your breath away (it certainly did for the dancers).

In act two, some of the ship’s passengers thank Billy for being number one (even if it means being number one on the FBI’s list). It just goes to show that America’s love affair with celebrity isn’t a new development.

However, Reno performs her evangelism and all are saved from their sins of decadence.

Billy, being the nice guy he is, can’t live with the charade any longer and confesses that he’s just an unimportant stowaway.

He and Moonface are thrown in the big where they are left to wonder just how they will stop the wedding between Hope and Sir Evelyn.

This scene contrast well with Reno’s and Sir Evelyn’s romp in the number, “Let’s Misbehave.” The two confess their love which make the possibility of a wedding become more and more unrealistic.

Through a series of hilarious tricks, Bil and Moonface escape and the wedding is called off.

All the men get the girls they truly love and everyone is at last happy as they land at England.

When the mass market is flooded with Disney musicals, it’s nice to be treated to a Cole Porter gem so expertly executed by a cast as talented as this.

REVIEW: Natural Born Killers, society’s state

by Kristin Haugstetter

Oliver Stone’s latest film Natural Born Killers makes Ted Bundy and John Wayne Gacy seem like Boy Scouts to their profession. Woody Harrelson and Juliette Lewis portray two lunatics madly in love with one another as well as with the sight of blood. The body bing all begins when Mickey (Harrelson) rescues his beloved Mallory from the wandering hands of her father. Together they avenge her parents and begin their journey on highway 666 randomly leaving a trail of victims.

Acting in the film is delivered in stunning performances by all in the cast. The man we’ve come to know and love on Cheers, will never be viewed from the same point again after this movie endeavor. Harrelson’s role as Mickey is convincing. His side-kick Lewis manages to keep the audience’s attention with her sporadic episodes of aggression. Robert Downey Jr. gets into the picture about halfway through the film. As a T.V. host, Downey’s portrayal of the two killers has the population looking up to them as idols rather than brutal killers. Even the audience wants only the best for these two. A woman sitting next to me in the theater even admitted, “I hope they escape prison.” They are sick killers on the loose!

As for most of Oliver Stone’s films, there is an underlying message to be learned. Natural Born Killers is what the public is anxious to see. This film is a mockery of what our society is hungry for viewing. Who do we want to hear about most: wanted felons. Think about it…Manson’s parole review every year, the O.J. Simpson trial, we may complain about hearing these people, but we still watch eagerly to see if details are unveiled. This film certainly gives you vivid details while splashing the screen with tins of red, signaling the rage these two characters possess.

Stone manages to make this film violent to the extreme, all the while making Mickey and Mallory’s actions excusable due to their lack of morals and wicked humor. Stone, by no means, discriminates by singling out the violent acts of Mickey. No, I’d say Mallory deserves life imprisonment as well. The viewer begins to find it hard not to like them because you adapt to their characteristics and eventually feel dis-associated with the reality of what their doing, just as they have become unattached to their actions.

Although this film is pretty graphic in nature, the techniques Stone uses are unusual and grasping. Segments from ‘60’s programs and animated characters take over the screen every now and then breaking up the scenery and giving the viewer a breather. This can either be taken as an annoyance to some or others may find it to add to the uniqueness of the film. If that’s not the case, the film is full of interesting monologues from various characters throughout the film.

Continued on page XX
REVIEW: Forrest Gump

by Kelly Schab

It shouldn't take much for people to like Forrest Gump, with its impartial recollections of the fifties, sixties and seventies told through the eyes of a slow-witted yet insightful man along with its ingenious visual effects.

This tall-tale tracks the unbelievably eventful life of Forrest (Tom Hanks) who doesn't know enough to be awe-stricken by the amazing things that has happened to him. This makes him all the more insightful as he can indeed "see the forest for the trees" as the old saying goes.

Throughout his life, Forrest is told that he's too stupid to be an active part of the real world but time and again, he proves that his pure, free-flowing thoughts are inspirational gifts.

The core of the film is an ill-fated love story. Early on in his childhood, he meets a restless young girl named Jenny (Robin Wright) who prays to be a bird so that she could fly away from the troubles in her short life. Little does Forrest know that the girl he's fallen in love with will use her wings and run away from him time and again. These appearances and disappearances of Jenny into and out of Forrest's life are like a ribbon that ties the amazing story of Forrest Gump together.

While battling his intellectual downfall, Forrest learns that he has great talents. One of these, running, puts him in the circle of life. Forrest is benefited by computer technology. For instance, as the Billboard chart blares on.

"Row, Row, Row Your Boat."

The beginning is marked by the birth of the new prince Sims (Jonathan Taylor Thomas) and the ending is marked with the birth of Sim's son. The title of the movie itself explodes on the screen in the same manner both times to wrap up the "circle of life" that is stressed in the story. This prompts continued on page 20

NEW & Recommended

The Hot-selling soundtrack is available in stores nation wide.

REVIEW: The Lion King — an original lion's tail

by Kelly Schab

Disney always attempts to attract adult as well as young audiences and The Lion King is no exception. In fact, with its beautiful artwork and soul lifting music, this film is probably the most attractive to all ages that Disney has made in quite a while.

A grand variety of African animals gather for the presentation of their lion king's first born male cub. Striking giraffes, mighty elephants, elegant zebras, colorful birds and a host of others are brought to life in a wonderful display of animation. This powerful scene is spiritual in its beauty and awe-inspiring in its display of talented Disney artists.

Thus begins the story of a lion's journey to understand what his place is in the circle of life.

An interesting point about the structure of the story is that it is a rime. This is a circular poem or song like William Taylor Coleridge's "Rime of the Ancient Mariner" or even...
REVIEW: The Mask – is Carrey man or cartoon?

by Kelly Schab

James Carrey is so outrageously physical in his performance in The Mask that one wonders if money was saved in the special effects budget.

Stanley Ipkiss (Carrey) is one of those “nice guys” who doesn’t get any respect from women. While they find his niceness a refreshing change from the jerks they’ve been dating, he’s just not exciting enough for them.

Boy does that soon change.

In a scene reminiscent of It’s a Wonderful Life, Stanley ponders life on a bridge. But instead of Clarence, the angel, coming to his rescue, Stanley spots a figure in the water and, true to form, jumps in to save the supposedly drowning human.

What Stanley finds is not a person in distress, but a mask waiting for a new owner.

Wet and still downtrodden, Stanely walks home to find solace in his faithful dog. Curious about the mask, he puts it on figuring that he has nothing to lose.

What Stanley finds is not a person in distress, but a mask waiting for a new owner.

Wet and still downtrodden, Stanely walks home to find solace in his faithful dog. Curious about the mask, he puts it on figuring that he has nothing to lose.

Indeed, he has everything to gain.

It seems the mask is inhabited by the spirit of Loki, a very mischievous Norse god. Whoever puts on the mask becomes a host for the imp and inherits various magical superpowers.

What follows is a breath-taking whirlwind of sight gags and puns which Carrey pulls off flawlessly. He makes it all look so easy to be a cool cat painting the town red in a zoot suit.

Of course, there are some very questionable scenes. For example, after the masked Stanley demonstrates one of his special powers to local police, the officers don’t bat an eye and speak to the troublemaker as if he was a regular drowning human.

The vibrant colors of the sets and The Mask’s costumes remind one of Dick Tracy. Those primary colors make the movie even more loud and outrageous.

Big band sounds fill the soundtrack which provide a high energy coolness (if that’s at all possible) and when combined with the colors and costumes, it seems as if the movie was lifted right from a Tex Avery cartoon.

The Mask is a perfect summer movie, right down to its cartoon qualities.

Not only is the world’s fastest Macintosh computer available at special low student prices, but now it includes a student software set available only from Apple. For a limited time, buy a select Power Macintosh and you get software that helps you through every aspect of writing papers, a personal organizer/calendar created for your student lifestyle and the Internet Companion to help you tap into on-line research resources. Plus you’ll get ClarisWorks, an integrated package with a word processor, database, spreadsheet and more. Buy a select Power Mac™ with CD-ROM, and you’ll also get a multimedia library of essential reference tools. It all comes with Power Macintosh — the computer that grows with you from college to the professional world.

Now, with an Apple Computer Loan, it’s easier than ever to own one. It’s the power every student needs. The power to be your best.

For further information visit

University Bookstore

Lower Level — Student Center Building or call 655-4310

Offer expires October 17, 1994, available only while supplies last. ©1994 Apple Computer, Inc. All rights reserved. Apple, the Apple logo, Macintosh and “The power to be your best” are registered trademarks of Apple Computer, Inc. AppleWorks, Power Mac and Power Macintosh are trademarks of Apple Computer, Inc. ClarisWorks is a registered trademark of Claris Corporation.
“LOOK AT WHAT’S NEW WITH THE DINING SERVICE”

Get on board the Fruitopia Bus in Front of the Student Center:

Arrives at 11:00 a.m. September 8, 1994
Leaves 3 p.m., September 8, 1994

Free Samples of Fruitopia, the “New Cosmic Sensation” from Coca Cola.

* A Magician Act *

Visit the newly Renovated C-Store and stock up on our new variety of offerings.
Use your Free Flow Plus When Making Purchases in the C-Store.
(Coffee, Donuts, Dairy Products, Cold Cuts, Toiletries, & other Apartment & Room Needs)

Guess What??
Burgers, Wings, Fries and Mozzarella Sticks are Now Available in the Ratt!

Come See:
The Redecorated Student Center Cafeteria and Enjoy the NEW FRESH FRUIT STAND and pasta station.

DON’T FORGET TO:
Open a Free Flow Plus account and Take Advantage of ALL the Upcoming Specials Exclusively for Free Flow Plus Members!
Formal Dining Room now features BOTH Buffet and Waited Service, with a 5% discount for Free Flow Plus Members.
Hi all!

This is John J. O'Sullivan, and I'm the new comics person. (Yippee!) My column will return here next week after I get used to doing this wonderfully wonderful comics section!

The one, the only (thank God),

John J. O'Sullivan
Aries: (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) It’s a good thing you like pain, because the eight-week bout you’re going to have with a mysterious blistering underarm rash is going to make last month’s scabies seem like a picnic with Julie Andrews.

Taurus: (Apr. 20-May 20) Don’t go off half-cocked, although I doubt that you can help it since the drill-press accident.

Gemini: (May 21-June 21) Drinking all the watery residue in the bottom of the city’s dumpsters might cause you to be excessively regular.

Cancer: (June 22-July 22) It’s hard to admit you’re wrong, even to a friend, but it’s even harder to bury that so-called friend to a friend, but it’s even harder to be a friend.

Leo: (July 23-Aug. 22) The vision of St. Mark that led you to join the seminary twelve years ago was just a prank by your high-school audio-visual club.

Virgo: (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You’re experiencing continental drift.

Libra: (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Under the skin, everybody is the same.

Scorpio: (Oct. 24-Nov. 21) Actions speak louder than words. Whip the finger at someone today.

Sagittarius: (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) The upset stomach you have been feeling lately is caused by the fact that you cannot tell the difference between magnets and stickers.

Capricorn: (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) 20/20 this week will feature a segment concerning the various fatty deposits on your torso.

Aquarius: (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Your relationship is on rocky waters when your partner finds that you see a baby pinned under a club.

Pisces: (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) When you see a baby pinned under a Buick you’ll find you have the strength of five men. Unfortunately, those five men are Steven Hawking, Jimmy J.J., “Kid No-Mite” Walker, Tony Randall, President Carter, and Billy Barry.

Ruby Wyner-lo wishes to extend belated condolences to the family of rock superstar Kirk Cobain. “His will always be in my heart.

Help wanted: Seek dedicated individual to work with 30 month old language delayed son on in home behavioral teaching program. Must love children and be available 3 days per week for 2 hours. We’ll train. Please call Mary Beth at 743-6902.

After-school Babysitter wanted for Mon-Fri. For 2 children 12 and 8 in our home in Montclair. Prefer you have a car. Competitive salary. Call 509-665 days.

Child Care: Loving, responsible, person to care for our daughters, in our Caldwell home. Must like children, non-smoker, current references, own transportation. Call 201-226-8594.

Student who enjoys children to care for 8 year old in our Upper Montclair home Wednesdays and/or Thursdays. Excellent salary. References required, own car preferred. Call 783-9206.

After-school care. Two children, 3 afternoons per week, 3 pm to 7 pm. In Montclair. Car necessary. References. Call 744-4680.

Babysitter needed for my 2 young children 3 days/week, 7:30am-6:30pm. Bloomfield, near Brookdale Park. Must drive, use of car not necessary, excellent references, non-smoker. Call 356-1442 after 7:30pm.

Foster Place: Responsible person to place posters in stores/restaurants. Motivated, part-time, flexible, $7/hr+Gas+Bonus. Car required. Call Alex 1-800-655-6250.

Are you a childhood education major? Would like to earn extra money by providing childcare one night a week? Then please call Gail @ 744-1050.
Offense fails as Red Hawks fall short in quest to repeat

by Joe Amoroso

The MSU baseball team wrote yet another page for the history books with their performance in 1994.

They wrapped up the year with a 36-11, picking the NJAC crown and their second consecutive Mid-Atlantic Regional crown enroute to the Division III World Series in an unsuccessful attempt to defend the national title.

After winning the aforementioned championships, things didn't get any easier for the Red Hawks, who headed to Battle Creek, MI and the Division III World Series for the third time in five seasons.

MSU found themselves facing North Carolina Wesleyan, who were 41-2. Earlier in the season, the Red Hawks lost to the Bartling Bishops, 6-2, with John Carl on the mound.

MSU Coach Norm Schoenig decided to start John Carl on and give him another chance at the Wesleyan lineup.

"John had big-game experience," said Schoenig. "He started the first game of the NJAC's and the Regionals."

Carl did not disappoint, pitching a complete game and holding the Bishops to just four hits and one run in a 5-1 win in the opener.

"John is a gamer," Schoenig said. "He has pitched like a senior since he was a freshman."

In the winner's bracket game, the Red Hawks were shutout, held to just two hits as Wisconsin-Oshkosh touched MSU pitching for nine hits in an 11-0 victory.

Having to battle their way back to the NJAC postseason, things didn't get any easier.

DEFENDER

"We didn't expect to be in the World Series, but we knew we had the ability to compete," said MSU pitching coach Rich Stair.

"The defense is a big part of our success. We have had some great pitchers throughout the season, but it's the defense that has carried us."

MSU found itself trailing early in the game and could not pull ahead. Despite Ralph Yezza's two home runs, the Red Hawks were never able to mount a comeback.

"We have always played well against Eastern," said Schoenig, "but you have to wonder when the momentum will shift. They are a good club and capable of winning any region."

For the first game, Schoenig gave the ball to Carl, the sophomore finished fifth after a coin flip). Also, they got off to a slow start.

This year, Bradley only has to contend with the loss of All-NJAC forward Judy Stair while trying to lead the Red Hawks back to the NJAC tournament.

Making the tournament at the end of the year is one of her goals and it possible that it just might happen. But what would a coach be without having expectations.

"We're going to try and bring it back to the level they were at," said Bradley of her intention to help recapture past glories at MSU. Entering the 1994-1995 season, the Red Hawks are 406-189 in 25 years of existence. She added that she would like to get back to the NJAC playoffs annually, as well, after not making the playoffs last year.

Other things she seeks to improve on are to get more alumni involved and to improve continuity in the program. MSU has had three head coaches in the past four years.

"It's pretty tough to switch different personnel," said Bradley.

Sounds like she may be here to stay.

HATCHLINGS

Details of the three MSU players who concluded their careers as Red Hawks when they signed contracts to play professional baseball. All except John Pallino were underclassmen.

Pallino, a first baseman/outfielder, signed a free-agent contract with the Lethbridge Mounties of the Independent League on June 11. One of the greatest to ever play at MSU, he was the all-time hit (259) RBI (224) leader. Those totals were third and second best, respectively, in Division III history.

A major surprise, Micucci was taken by the Chicago Cubs in the 47th round. He signed with them and is playing at their Short-Season A-Ball team at Williamsport, PA. A solid defensive catcher, he hit a mere .223 last year. As only a junior, he forfeited his eligibility by signing.

Keith Glauber only started pitching in September. But he earned high grades, throwing in the high 80's. Potential such as his got him drafted by the St. Louis Cardinals in the 46th round. Presently, the right-hander, who was 7-3 with a 3.13 ERA is playing for the Single-A New Jersey Cardinals.
Are the Red Hawks ready for prime time?
Questions at running back and defensive line need to be answered

by Glenn Steinberg

For head coach Rick Giancola and his MSU Red Hawks, last year began with a full head of steam only to quickly cool down.

According to Giancola, last year was like playing two different seasons.

"We began 6-0 and we were very pleased because things fell right into place," said Giancola. "Then we lost three out of our next six games. It was a tough year, from being right on top to not on top at all.

Football Preview

Ultimately, a loss to Rowan College on the last game of the regular season cost them the New Jersey Athletic Conference (NJAC) championship (which Rowan won) and a bid into the NCAA tournament. With a 6-3 record, however, they were able to play in the ECAC Southwest Championship Game, which they won 17-9 against Dickinson College to finish the season 7-3.

Not only did last year bring an end to the season, but also to the collegiate careers of two talented running backs, Gerry Maretz and John Culver. Now Giancola has a hard task in trying to replace these two.

According to Giancola, fullback is solid with A.J. Wells, Ralph Cinque, Jashon Coleman and Joe Owens. Attailback they have Neil Ruiz, Mike Green, Damon Stockhouse and Keith Izza (a group Giancola refers to as "inexperienced but talented").

Though he has a senior at quarterback in Darren Volker and two senior-wide receivers, Tyrone Rolls and Tremaine Wimberly, the coach is leaning towards the run rather than a pass-oriented team.

"Our offense must be able to do both (pass and run)," said Giancola. "I lean to the run, but we must also pass to be able to confuse the defense. We have to control the line of scrimmage.

Having two senior-wide receivers and a senior quarterback helps Gianola. He believes that what all coaches hope to get so the others will watch and learn.

"Programmatically," said Gianola, "three seniors is good for this year because while they're playing, the others are getting experience and developing.

The 12th year coach believes that the key players this year are going to be the offensive line, also noting that Volker must also have a solid year.

"We must have good, solid line play," he said. "Their play is critical to our success.

That offensive line has three starters in Bill Furst (left guard), Karl Roberts (center) and Joe O'Connor (right guard) returning.

Gianola noted that aside from the loss of Maretz and Culver, another key loss for them was defensive back Keith Davis. He knows it is tough to replace people but he knows there are people that are always ready to go.

"When John Walker (MSU running back two years ago) left, people said, 'How will you replace him?,' but Maretz stepped in," said Gianola.

Another significant loss the Red Hawks suffered was defensive end Jeff Bargiel. The All-American is academically ineligible this year. Last season, he recorded a team-leading 17.5 sacks and had 29 tackles. His presence will be missed, but they have other quality players to step in for him.

"Jeff was an outstanding player for us last year, but we were not by any means a one-man defensive team," Gianola said. "We'll miss his ability, but our supporting cast will step in.

"But it does hurt," he added.

On defense, Gianola said that his starting linebackers will be Mark Gatto in the middle and Eric Macllroy and Jeff Kerwin on the outside. He believes that a big reason why the line was good was because the linebacker corps became such a strength this year is a result of the pickup of Kerwin, who transferred from Penn State.

"These three give us a tremendous amount of speed and athleticism," said Gianola. He also said that Kerwin is someone to watch on defense, noting, "You could see why he was in a Division I program."

Another player to watch is defensive back Jermaine Johnson, who had off-season knee surgery. If he remains healthy, he will have an impact. Gianola said his knee is doing fine.

They give him the necessary rest he needs, sometimes giving him part or all of practices off to keep him healthy.

The strongest part of the Red Hawks, according to the coach, is the kicking game and secondary. "We have an excellent kicking game, probably the best combination in the conference," said Gianola, referring to the duo of kicker Scott Rubinetti and punter Daryle Pellegrino.

On the other hand, he said the weakest part of the team seems to be the defensive line. Gianola said they need the right combination of players, though he does know Jason Williams and Dan Garrett will be two of the starters in MSU's 4-3 defense.

Three players that will be vital to the outcome of this season are co-captains Gatto, Karl Roberts and Wimberly. With all of the question marks on both offense and defense, Gianola does not believe there will be much of a difference between this year's team and last year's team.

"We lack experience in some areas, but we come back in work ethic," said Gianola.

RED HAWK NOTES: The Western Connecticut game, originally scheduled as an away game, is now a home game. MSU will play them on Sept. 17 at Sprague Field.

Just like starting over for Rubinetti

by Glenn Steinberg

One of the most important roads to success for the MSU Red Hawks this year just may be their kicking game. For the Red Hawks, this responsibility lies in the foot of their place kicker, Scott Rubinetti.

The 6', 185 lb. Rubinetti won his starting position as a football freshman while posting some impressive numbers. In 1992, Rubinetti completed the year by making 10-for-14 field goals and hitting 15-for-18 extra points, scoring 45 points. The highlight of his season came in the annual Pride Bowl, when he hit on a school-record-tying 50-yard field goal against Ramapo College.

Unfortunately for Rubinetti and the Red Hawks, he did not fare as well last season.

According to head coach Rick Giancola, Rubinetti's somewhat disappointing season last year was in part due to his success the year before.

"What happened with Scott is that he had such a great season two years ago that he put added pressure on himself last year," said Gianola.

During last season, Rubinetti's accuracy on both field goals and extra points dropped. He made seven-for-10 field goals and only 14-for-22 extra points. He acknowledged that his performance was not up to what it should have been.

"I started out good," said the Lyndhurst native. "I went 6-for-6 on field goals and no missed extra points and I ended up strong, but in between (the season) was not so good."

Rubinetti blamed his lackluster performance on misconception between himself and the holder, quarter- back Darren Volker, and the mental pressure he placed on himself.

Both he and Giancola agree that in 1993 he thought about a missed field goal so much it would make him miss the next one. Now his philosophy is not to think about it and just do it.

"Last year I put way too much pressure on myself," said Rubinetti.

Another change besides his mental outlook will be that he will have a new holder, Daryle Pellegrino, the punter.

"I just want to have a good year and not worry about anything else," said Rubinetti.

1994 Red Hawk Football Schedule

(HOME GAMES in CAPS)

Sept. 3 So. Connecticut
Oct. 1 EDU-MADISON (Pride Bowl)
Oct. 8 Kean College
Nov. 5 Jersey City St.
Dec. 22 FERRUM (VA.)
Nov. 19 TRENTON ST.

(MONTECLAIRON) Sports/Thursday, September 1, 1994
MSU moves on from Blanton sentencing

by Nick Gantafis

The past few months for the MSU Track and Field program have been a long, hard journey for the team members and for the program itself. During the fall semester of 1993, former head track and field coach John Blanton was accused by an unidentified female athlete of the MSU track team for engaging in sexual misconduct during the course of the season. These allegations were later taken to court and Blanton pleaded guilty to the charges. He received various fines and penalties. He also must receive five years of counseling in addition, he can no longer hold a state or federal job.

Shortly after MSU suspended Blanton, the track and field program was taken over by assistant coach Charlie Bethas. Bethas leads the team as the remainder of the cross country season and the entire indoor season before resigning.

Upon Bethas’s resignation and with the best interest of the MSU and its athletic department, they searched for an interim coach. The athletic department felt that the best qualified candidate for the interim head coaching position would be former student and standout athlete Leonard Knight. Knight was hired as a part-time coach who will be in charge of the indoor season and the outdoor season. The cross country program will be headed by Knight’s assistant, Noreen Cassidy.

Both Cassidy and Knight feel that this season will be a promising one, although Knight admits that inheriting a squad that was in the middle of turmoil was difficult at first.

“I’m a player’s coach and I can relate to my athletes,” said Knight. However he added, “My athletes have to understand education always comes first, followed by athletics.”

When Cassidy was reached, she did not have much of a reaction.

“I don’t really have much of a reaction because I wasn’t really connected to him,” she said. “I never ream under John Blanton.”

This season’s outlook doesn’t look bad for MSU with the incoming freshman class hoping to add to the tradition of Red Hawk Track and Field. Knight and Cassidy are very optimistic with the female track athletes, especially Sharaon Lindo, who was named MVP at last season’s conference meet.

When Holly Gera, Assistant Director of Athletics at MSU, was asked about the Blanton case and its results, she responded by saying that she wasn’t truly aware of the outcome but did not have much of a reaction.

“Where becomes a problem of continuity when a part-time coach is in charge,” said Gera, something MSU experienced of face. “It becomes difficult to keep up with everything.”

However, Gera could not say for certain what will become of the head coaching position.

“After this season we don’t know,” she said.

From here the MSU Track and Field program kicks off their season with the Cross Country team. With an optimistic coaching staff and hopeful athletic department, MSU track should be back to its winning ways.

It looks great on resumes and is a good way to establish contacts.

Baseball recap, from page 28

By Trenton State starter Dave Dudgeck, who was working on two days rest.

Van Duyne hit an RBI single, tying the game at two, and started an 8-2-4 triple play to prevent a Lion rally and send the game into extra innings. It was in vain as the Red Hawks fell to the Lions, 3-2 in the 11th inning, giving them their first loss of the tournament. The Red Hawks and the Lions would have to face off once again.

Trailing by two, tournament MVP Yezza lined a one-out single, scoring two runs and tying the game in the sixth inning. They rallied for 10 runs in two innings including Chris Rouss’s 11th home run, 1-2. Glauber worked the first eight innings, allowing four hits and two runs, while collecting six strikeouts.

In a rematch of the NJAC playoffs, the Red Hawks blitzed Trenton State star player Chris Pino, sending him to the showers just after one-third of an inning. Yezza, who had six RBI on the day, blasted a three-run homerun, his first of two, off the scoreboard 435 feet away in the first inning, to easily defeat the Lions, 15-4. Leftfielder T.J. Costello earned the win, improving to 5-0 on the year.

The two teams met again in the championship of the Regionals. MSU found itself trailing 2-0 after the second inning, victims of a masterful performance by John Blanton.

SCOUTING REPORT: Southern Connecticut State

By Glenn Steinberg

The 1994 season for the MSU Red Hawks kicks off on Saturday against the Southern Connecticut State Owls.

The Owls are coming off a 3-7-1 record from the 1993 season haven’t met the Red Hawks since 1979, with MSU winning 14-13.

For SCSU head coach Rich Cavanaugh there are question marks at quarterback and with their inexperienced lineman corps.

Last season, starting quarterback Rob Burns completed 82 of 198 passes, throwing for eight touchdowns and a whopping 16 interceptions.

Also returning on offense for the Owls are receivers Chris Ortiz (38 receptions, 677 yards, 10 TD’s), Phil Plummer and junior Mike Accardo (17-230, one TD), all of whom are good targets for Burns.

Running the ball will be tailback Ellis Robinson (84 att., 457 yds., 1 TD) and fullback Scott Rowe (57-246). One of the more solid areas for the Owls is at offensive line which has both size and experience. Starting on the line will be senior guards Scott Robinson and Jamie Groesbeck who are joined up front by Brandon Wrinn, center, and tackles Tom Madigan and Joe Andruzzi.

Defensively, SCSU is experienced on their 4-man defensive line and in the secondary this season. Their captain, Anthony Idone and Anthony Paper are solid tackles and the Owls moved OB Glenn Xavier to one end with Vladmir Jean-Mary at the other end. Returning at the corners are Marcel Dumas and Dwight Clark who are joined by strong safety Tom Caparole and free safety Fran Beauvais.

Slated to start at linebacker where the Owls need to develop consistency are J.R. Ferguson, Mike Teves and Terry Barreau.

On special teams an inexperienced Frank Biancarnano, freshman, will be doing the placekicking and punting for the Owls while freshman Rick Potteete will return punts with Caparole and kicks with Sherema Sheppard.
Three Words: End the Strike
by Brian Falzarano

From the lush green grass at Yankee Stadium to the new parks in Cleveland and Texas, all the way to Dodger Stadium, it had been an incredible baseball season.

People were talking about the seasons of players such as Frank Thomas, Matt Williams, Jeff Bagwell, Tony Gwynn and Ken Griffey Jr. The Yankees were in first place and were driving towards a pennant. Therein lies the beauty of baseball.

But the baseball strike, the one that happens seemingly every seven or eight years has ruined it. Even coming back now would not replace the damage it already caused.

Why? Well, the owner’s are insisting on a salary cap. Sure, there are owners in basketball and football. But you see the problems they cause (i.e. Phil Simms, Horace Grant). Their reasoning is that smaller market teams (Pittsburgh, Seattle, Milwaukee) cannot compete with larger market teams such as the Yankees and Blue Jays. Teams such as the Mariners pull in a pittance from television rights in comparison to the lucrative 12-year, nearly $500 million contract the Yankees have with the MSG network.

Signing superstar free-agents would be difficult as well for these financially strapped teams because frankly, the money is not there. Therefore, the owners’ way of figuring is that restricting how much a club can spend will make everybody equal. Put everybody on equal footing and see if they can run the race at the same speed. Kind of like an atheistic form of communism.

Though this writer believes that arbitration should be eliminated, a salary cap guarantees nothing. It does not put a player’s name on a contract to play for a smaller market team. Remember that in a city such as Chicago or Los Angeles, endorsements are easier to come by.

George Steinbrenner, owner of the Yankees, made a comment that the Montreal Expos, owning the best record in baseball despite the second lowest payroll ($18.5 million), endorses the theory that a team can squeeze the nickel out of its players. As one of the aforementioned teams, they are a dual beauty of baseball. It still does not guarantee that the Expos can attract star free-agents or make them want to stay there (Remember Mark Langston?). As one of the villains at point this and will be until this gets resolved. With the strike, they put the players up on an even higher pedestal than before.

Maybe it is about time the owners have realized this and let us have our game back.

PARTING SHOTS

CHUCK DALY quitting as coach of the NEW JERSEY NETS, or Swamp Dragons, or Mediocre Meadowlanders, was the right decision.

Not having any of your players show up when you are inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame is not exactly a show of gratitude.

Meanwhile, BRENDAN SUHR or PAUL SILAS should be the New Jersey head coach. BUTCHE BEARD was a bad choice.

MIKE KEENAN was trying to go one-up on BENEDICT ARNOLD, right.

After stealing the RANGERS’ spotlight, Keenan sunk to an all-time low. His picture should be in the dictionary next to the words backstabber and liar.

I was at the ticker-tape parade for the Stanley Cup Champion Rangers. It was incredible to see a parade many of us never thought would have happened.

Maybe hockey can be a major sport after all.

Here’s hoping DOC GOODEN gets his life in order. In a MARLIN or GIANT uniform.

DAVE BROWN was the right choice as GIANTS quarterback.

But I will have a hard time getting used to not seeing PHIL SIMMS in the pocket. Simms shows why the salary cap is wrong.

DREAM TEAM II... nevermind. I don’t have enough space to waste.

Great to see the World Cup was such a success. The U.S. played as well as expected. Still, even though they did not win, admit it. You enjoyed it.

Wasn’t SEITON HALL trying to hire a younger, more charismatic coach. GEORGE BLANEY is old and unproven.

The wise choice all along was KEVIN BANNON of RIDERS. Bannon is charismatic and young — qualities one builds a program around focus upon for potential recruits.

NOTRE DAME will defeat NEBRASKA for the National Championship at the Orange Bowl on Jan. 1. Remember when WOODY HARRELSON was just a naive bartender from Indiana.

Watch out for the HOUSTON OILERS this year.

See you in seven days.
Gloria Bradley to lead Women's Basketball as Full-Time Coach (Falzarano, p. 28)