Montclair shooting may have been murder-suicide

BY KEVIN P. HANCOK
NEWS EDITOR

The deaths of Delfrances Bennett, and her three young daughters appear to be the result of a murder-suicide committed by the troubled mother and MSU student.

At about 7a.m. last Wednesday, firefighters responded to a call reporting a fire at the Bennett’s Montclair home. Inside, they found the 31 year old Bennett and her three children, Adrienne Cheeks, 9, Kristen Cheeks, 7, and Brittney Bennett, 5, shot dead in one of the apartment’s bedrooms.

The two eldest children were bound hand and foot on a bed with their younger sister while Bennett was found at the foot of the bed with a .22 caliber handgun lying on her chest.

Firefighters had to force their way into the bedroom, which was barricaded shut by an ironing board. In addition to finding the gruesome murder scene, at least two suicide notes were found, in which Bennett described a number of distressing personal issues.

The reaction from Delfrances’ friends and loved ones was one of shock. The mother of three had overcome a number of obstacles and personal problems to get her life on the right track.

Bennett was on welfare for years and involved in two troubled relationships. The first was an annulled marriage with the father of her two eldest daughters, James Cheeks. The second was with Wylie Willis, the father of her youngest daughter Britney.

She successfully fought both Cheeks and Willis for child support, and in 1995 escaped the dependency of welfare.

Things continued to improve for Bennett as she was hired to a full-time job as a laboratory technician at Movatis Pharmaceutical Corporation, in East Hanover, where she was in line to receive Hope Scholarships: Blessing or curse?

BY ADOLFO MENDEZ
COLLEGE PRESS SERVICE

WASHINGTON—As President Clinton launches into his second term, he has pledged to make the first year of college essentially free to students. But Clinton’s proposed “Hope Scholarships,” which would provide a $15,000 tax credit or a $10,000 tax deduction for college costs, is getting mixed grades from educators.

Several educators say they aren’t sure how the details of Clinton’s plan would work. Others say the tax credit and deduction would aid middle class families, rather than the neediest of students. Worse still, there’s worry among college leaders that under the Clinton plan, students’ private records could become an open book for the Internal Revenue Service.

Roy Watson, a spokesman for the National Association

Charges against Marenco dropped

BY KEVIN P. HANCOK,
JOHN BROST AND RADELL
ALLEN

On January 22, the two charges filed in Little Falls Municipal Court against former SGA President Julio Marenco, were dropped by the plaintiff, current SGA Executive Secretary Jennifer Lynch.

Lynch chose to drop the charges of simple assault and false imprisonment, which were originally filed against Marenco on July 22, after a series of court dates spanning over a period of six months.

The charge of false imprisonment against Marenco was dismissed by the Little Falls judge. Lynch then chose not to pursue the second charge of simple assault without the support of the first charge.

“The judge made a ruling on one of the charges on a technicality. Because of that ruling I was unable to pursue the second charge,” said Lynch.

The courts ruling and Lynch’s decision finally closes the book on this case which has continued since the incident

Continued on p. 3

CLASSIFIEDS

p. 21

EDITORIAL

Antics...

Always Right

p. 13

ARTS

Gallery 3 112 Review

Luscious Jackson Review

p. 15

HUMOUR™

p. 17

PERSONALS

p. 20

Continued on p. 6

On The Inside*

NEWS

Blanton Cafe improvements p. 3

Loan default rate drops p. 5

CAMPUS LIFE

Dear Career Services...

Log-On @ MSU p. 9

p. 10
The health of Russian President Boris Yeltsin continues to be a major worry of the Russian parliament, as talk of his possible impeachment due to his ill health is on the rise. Yeltsin has remained out of the public eye for about three weeks while recovering from double pneumonia. “It seems to me (he) has not so far fully recovered from a very serious ailment,” said Kremlin spokesman Sergei Yastremsky. The Duma (lower house of the Russian parliament) put off a motion to impeach the ill Yeltsin last week.

Rebels Release Hostage

Marxist rebels who continue to hold over 70 hostages in the Japanese ambassador’s compound in Lima, Peru, released an ailing hostage on Sunday. The release was their first in nine days, however, they vowed to continue the 40+ day standoff until their demands are met. The rebels are demanding that a large number of their jailed comrades be released from prison. The standoff began on December 17, when the rebels stormed a cocktail party at the ambassador’s mansion.

Canadian Ice Fisherman Rescued

350 Canadian ice fishermen were rescued last week when a break in the ice of Lake Simcoe, 30 miles north of Toronto, separated them from the shore. Police boats and helicopters were used to rescue the fishermen who were left stranded on the lake by the 20 mile long crack. However, another 200 people waivered off rescuers and chose to stay in their ice huts and continue fishing when attempts were made to bring them to shore.

Tornadoes Ravage Alabama and Tennessee

On Friday, January 24, Alabama and Tennessee were hit by tornadoes that caused extensive damage to the two states. The twisters killed 1 person and injured 28. One death occurred when a tree fell on a vehicle, killing the driver. Another one damaged more than 200 homes and businesses in Tennessee. 20,000 people were left temporarily without power by the storms.

Floods Continue to Plague Southern California

Another storm hit southern California on Sunday, soaking the already drenched state, causing floods and mudslides that have damaged homes, closed businesses, and shut down highways. All four lanes of the Pacific Coast Highway were closed by mudslides in Malibu, while portions of the San Diego Freeway were also shut down due to mudslides. Low lying areas experienced flooding in many areas causing the evacuation of some homes and the closing of additional highways. Some relief is expected to come to the area later in the week, with clearer skies in the forecast.

Apollo 1 Victims Remembered

A service was held on Sunday, January 27 at Cape Canaveral to remember the three astronauts killed 30 years ago in the Apollo 1 launch pad accident. Virgil “Gus” Grissom, Edward White, and Roger Chaffee died inside their capsule on January 27, 1976 when a fire broke out during a test. The service in their memory was concluded with Air Force pilots flying over Cape Canaveral in the missing man formation.

AD RATES

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>ON-CAMPUS</th>
<th>OFF-CAMPUS</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Full page - $200.00</td>
<td>Full page - $310.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Half page - $168.00</td>
<td>Half page - $200.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Quarter page - $63.00</td>
<td>Quarter page - $125.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Eighth page - $32.00</td>
<td>Eighth page - $80.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Classified - (up to 30 wds.)</td>
<td>$10.00</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Call the advertising office at 655-5237 for a complete listing of discount packages.
Blanton cafe fires up new grills, fryers

BY JOHN J. O’SULLIVAN
MANAGING EDITOR

Blanton Hall diners have better quality food to look forward to with the addition of new equipment installed in the Blanton Hall kitchen. According to Douglas Cooper, of the Residence Life department of Facilities and Services, the equipment was needed, since repeated repairs proved to be more expensive than buying new equipment.

The Blanton Hall cafeteria picked up new ovens, charbroilers, banks of fryers, and grills. “The burgers taste better with the new charbroiler,” said Cooper. The equipment was purchased via bid from Economy Paper and Restaurant Supply in Clifton. According to Cooper, Economy Paper had the best prices for what they wanted, and MSU would rather purchase equipment from a local retailer.

In the future, Blanton Hall diners can look forward to a revamping of current equipment, from new soup cauldrons, to additional ovens to make food service more efficient and to give the students better quality food.
Volunteers Needed for Alumni Phonathon

BY Liz Voltman
STAFF WRITER

The Alumni Association is in need of volunteers to make calls at their Annual Fund Phonathon, which will run nightly from Feb. 17-20 through Feb. 24-27, in order to raise funds for MSU.

Less than 60 percent of the University’s operating funds are provided by the state, and 75 percent of undergraduates receive some sort of financial aid. Therefore, the support given by alumni, faculty, staff, and parents is critical. Participating in the Alumni Phonathon can be a beneficial experience for all sides involved.

“Every phonathon caller is extremely important. If in one night, twenty callers raise approximately $100 each, that money can provide five scholarships or five Career Service job guides which are now being offered to senior students free of charge, or three faculty grants. These are just a few concrete examples of what one night of phonathon funds can support. And when you add it all together, the results are impressive,” said Hollie Stephens, Director of Alumni Relations.

On a larger scale, fund raisers such as this one allow MSU to provide student scholarships, faculty support, University support through materials and programming, as well as funding for faculty/student projects within the community. In order for the Alumni Phonathon to be a productive effort, volunteers are needed to call MSU Alumni.

This experience can be especially rewarding for students. As MSU senior Jeanette Staal recalled, “I feel a very personal connection with each call I make, which is very important since all students will one day fall into the alumni category. There was one woman I called who was a psychology major just like I am now, and we had such a great conversation. She made a generous contribution and commended me for doing something so worthwhile.”

Students, parents of students, organizations, faculty; alumni, and staff members are all eligible to volunteer to make calls at the Continuing Education House, located at 10 Normal Ave. No training is necessary since there will be a brief training session each night.

On Feb. 5, from 5-6:30 p.m., the Alumni Association is offering a “pre-phonathon training dinner” to anyone interested in getting involved with the phonathon. This function will provide a pleasant atmosphere for students, alumni, faculty, and staff to meet one another. It will also give the Alumni Director an opportunity to explain the important role each group plays within the phonathon. This event will be held at the Alumni House, located at 34 Normal Ave.

During phonathon, each night will start with a complimentary dinner which will be served from 5-5:30 p.m. Then, after some basic guidelines are established, calling will begin and will continue up until 9 p.m.

“Participating in this phonathon is a great way to fulfill a fraternity or sorority’s ‘community service’ requirement because it’s fun, and it allows students to have a direct hand in the betterment of their institution,” said Michelle Libeau, one of Alumni Relation’s previous co-op students.

Monetary prizes will also be awarded. A nightly prize will be presented to the individual who raises the most money that night. And at the conclusion of phonathon, first, second, and third place prizes will be presented to the organizations and individuals who raise the most money overall.

To sign up for the Alumni Annual Fund Phonathon, either stop by or call the Alumni House at 655-4141 for further details.
Student loan default rate declines dramatically

WASHINGTON—The percentage of college students who defaulted on their student loans has declined to its lowest level ever, according to the U.S. Education Department.

About 10.7 percent of students were in default on their loans in 1994, the most recent year for which data is available. The rate is less than half the 22.4 percent rate recorded in 1990.

“We have used every tool available to slash the default rate and save taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars, and these efforts will continue,” said Education Secretary Richard Riley.

New enforcement power, improved loan collections and new technology all contributed to the turnaround in default rates, the department said. Congress in 1990 and 1992 gave the department more leverage to deny schools access to financial aid dollars if they maintain high default rates.

Under these policies, colleges with default rates above 25 percent for three consecutive years can lose the right to participate in student loan programs. Private trade and technical schools make up the bulk of these institutions.

The progress in combating loan defaults earned praise from President Clinton, who hosted Riley and college students Jan. 10 in an Oval Office meeting.

“We have tracked down defaulters and made them pay,” said Clinton, who also acknowledged that an improving economy contributed to the higher repayment rates.

Overall, collections on defaulted loans increased from $1 billion in 1992 to $2.2 billion in 1996.

Despite the progress, the department on Jan. 10 also put more than 350 institutions on notice that they risk losing eligibility for some or all student-aid programs because of high default rates. Private trade and technical schools make up the bulk of these institutions.

The progress in combating loan defaults earned praise from President Clinton, who hosted Riley and college students Jan. 10 in an Oval Office meeting.

“We have tracked down defaulters and made them pay,” said Clinton, who also acknowledged that an improving economy contributed to the higher repayment rates.

Overall, collections on defaulted loans increased from $1 billion in 1992 to $2.2 billion in 1996.

Despite the progress, the department on Jan. 10 also put more than 350 schools on notice that they risk losing eligibility for some or all student-aid programs in the next year. Most of these institutions are for-profit trade and technical schools.

About two dozen public or private two- and four-year colleges also are on the list of those at risk of losing eligibility. Most of these institutions are two-year community colleges or small, four-year church-affiliated colleges.

College students who attended the White House event also credited the Clinton administration’s new direct loan program with helping lower default rates and improve efficiency. Under this program, the government provides loan capital directly to institutions without requiring help from banks.

Students have various options to repay their direct loans such as income-contingent repayment, in which borrowers have small payments immediately after they finish college and repay more of their debt as they earn higher wages.

“This is government policy at its best,” said Fiona Rose, student government president at the University of Michigan.

By cutting out banks, the direct loan program also allows for more timely loans to students, she said.

Nonetheless, Rose acknowledged many college and university students still remain apprehensive about college costs and their mounting debt burdens.

“It’s making me rethink plans for graduate school,” she said, adding that most of her fellow classmates remain concerned about heavy debt after they leave college.

The three volumes of data released at the White House ceremony also contain school-by-school default rates on more than 8,000 colleges and universities.

Data lists student default rates from 1992 through 1994. To find out more information about an individual institution, contact ED’s Office of Public Affairs at (202) 401-1576.

Historically black colleges and universities and tribally-controlled schools and colleges are exempt from the loan default sanctions through July 1998. These exemptions, along with other student loan policies, will get a detailed review later this year as Congress begins a required reauthorization of the federal Higher Education Act.

---

REGISTER NOW!
1997 SPRING SEMESTER
“STAY ALERT -- STAY ALIVE”
SELF-DEFENSE PROGRAM
SPONSORED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF CAMPUS SAFETY AND SECURITY
OPEN TO ALL MONTCLAIR STATE STUDENTS, FACULTY AND STAFF.
FREE OF CHARGE!
CERTIFIED INSTRUCTORS FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF CAMPUS SAFETY AND SECURITY!
TWO HOUR CLASSES MEET EVERY MONDAY AT 6:00 PM TO 8:00 PM.
Feb. 3rd & 10th in room 178 Dickson Hall 1st floor lounge.
Feb. 14th & 21th, March 3rd, 10th, & 31st, April 7th, 14th, 21st, & 28th in Student Center room 419.
PRE-REGISTRATION IS REQUIRED,
COMPLETE AND RETURN THE FORM BELOW TO:
CAMPUS SAFETY AND SECURITY
ATTN.: LT. PAUL CELL 655-5123

STAY ALERT -- STAY ALIVE REGISTRATION FORM

NAME
PHONE/EXT.
ADDRESS

While the groups praise the president’s efforts, they also stated:

* The program should be reworked to provide more money to low-income students. Right now, the $1,500 tax credit won’t benefit students who receive a need-based Pell Grant. That’s because the $1,500 would be subtracted from the amount of federal aid students already receive. As for the $10,000 tax deduction, many low-income families wouldn’t benefit since they pay little or no income tax, say educators.

* This is a middle-class tax cut,” says David Warren, executive director of the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities.

Warren said 70 percent of the students in the more than 880 private colleges and universities represented by his association receive some form of financial aid.

“We endorse the concept of expanding the resource base of financial aid, and a tax proposal is one way to do that,” he said. “We think there’s real promise in the tax deduction.”

However, he added, “We do have some concerns about the way the program is structured.”

* The administration of the programs should be “kept as simple as possible.” Currently, the president’s plan would require schools to renew the $1,500 tax credit for a second year if a student maintains a “B” average.

“We believe that such a step could lead to unprecedented involvement of the federal government in the internal academic affairs of colleges and universities and could provide the Internal Revenue Service with access to student records,” Ikenberry wrote, on behalf of the associations.

“We are concerned about the proposal for the ‘B’ average,” Terry Hartle, vice-president of governmental relations of the American Council on Education, said. “It would present an enormous level of complexity and confusion. And it runs the risk of giving the IRS personal access to student records.”

Other educators have expressed concern that the educational tax breaks would encourage grade inflation or tuition inflation.

“Hope Scholarships” since he says it “will open the doors of college opportunity to every American, regardless of their ability to pay.”

“Education at the typical community college will now be free,” Clinton said during his campaign. The plan is patterned after a scholarship program in Georgia, where about 80,000 students receive a tax credit.

At the University of Georgia, 70 percent of the 1996 freshmen class received the “Hope Scholarship.”

Currently, 45 percent of students in public colleges and universities receive some form of financial aid, according to The American Council on Education, compared to 75 percent of students attending private colleges.

In fiscal 1997, the U.S. Department of Education expects to award 3.75 million Pell Grants, up slightly from 3.63 million for the same period a year ago. In addition, the government awarded about 7.5 million loans the last academic year.

“Federal financial aid programs are inevitably complex,” Hartle said.

“The president’s plan would help [more students],” he said. “It would not totally eliminate obstacles for all students to go to any school, but this is an enormously positive step.”
S.G.A. Inc.

“Making Our Mark” in 1997

Come and check out what we have to offer you.

Students working for students making changes at Montclair State University.

--------------------

LEGISLATIVE PETITIONS ARE OUT!!!

Come & join the team of SGA to make a difference at MSU.

Petitions are available in the SGA office and are due back by February 7th at 12 noon.
American Humanics attends National Conference

BY WANDA V. SANCHEZ
STAFF WRITER

This winter break many students took vacations and slept long hours MSU’s American Humanics Association received a lesson in multiculturalism and non-profit management. The American Humanics Association is a national certification association which is chartered as a Class III Organization of the SGA. This program prepares students as professional in the non-profit sector. This year, a small group of students was led by Executive Campus Director, Tim Sullivan, and Professor, Ben Schaffer to be part of a national management conference called The American Humanics Management Institute (A.H.M.I.). The MSU delegation was joined by over 250 students from 23 campuses across the nation.

Getting to the conference was not an easy task for the American Humanics students. It took a year’s worth of work in fundraising, grant writing and social services in order to obtain the final goal and reaching “Hotlanta” as American Humanics called it. However, according to the students who participated the work paid off after their experience in Atlanta. “Not only was this an educational experience but also a cultural adventure” stated Mauricio Murga, President of the American Humanics Association.

During the conference the students had the opportunity not just to hear from successful CEO’s of various non-profits, but also interacted on a personal basis. Various students and administrators in the American Humanics Program were able to take part of a week long series of workshops which varied from Volunteer Recruitment to Multiculturalism in organizations. Students were also interviewed by national non-profit organizations and even came home with job offers.

In between the business card exchanges, the students also had the chance to meet students from all parts of the United States with different cultural backgrounds, but similar professional goals.

Along with the educational and networking opportunities, MSU students had the opportunity to go and visit famous places in Georgia, such as Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.’s Memorial, The Olympic Village, the Underground, the Georgia Dome, Coca Cola Co., and CNN. The American Humanics Association is now planning their semester in order to take more students to the 1998 national conference in Denver, Colorado.

For more information on the national conference or the American Humanics Association contact the office at ext. 7574.

Read the Arts & Entertainment Section!
It starts on page 14!

MSU Emergency Service Foundation Update

BY NICOLE DEBARTOLO
STAFF WRITER

The Montclair State University Emergency Medical Service Foundation (MSU-EMS Foundation) recently obtained a Class three charter by the SGA. Fueled by its new charter, the Foundation is eager to bring about campus awareness of the MSU system and life saving information. They intend to work toward helping students and faculty alike, to explore training options in order to become certified Emergency Medical Technicians, and to also familiarize the campus community with first aid techniques and procedures.

Like many other college campuses across New Jersey and the Nation, the Foundation serves as an educational source and a link to pre hospital care field. Its goal is to provide an opportunity for MSU students to enroll in training classes for EMT certification, CPR, and other first air procedures. As a parallel function, the MSU-EMS Foundation is taking steps to bring key members of the medical field to Montclair State to deliver informative lectures and promote emergency medical awareness.

The group is also anxious to explore the possibilities of mutually aiding other organizations on campus. Whether it is by joining them in co-sponsoring pertinent health oriented activities, or in the distribution of literature concerning the latest health issues, the Foundation keeps its ultimate goal of campus awareness a priority.

Next week at MSU...

Psychology Club makes plans for new semester

BY MICHELE ROLAIN
ASST. CAMPUS LIFE EDITOR

For those of you who may not have been aware of it, the Psychology Club at Montclair State University is active, once again. This class III organization allows students, Psychology majors and otherwise, to gain more insight about this expanded field. Dr. Rotter, the clubs advisor, along with its’ members, have taken on the task of arranging the upcoming events including: a guest speaker who will be lecturing on varied topics such as mental health awareness, along with a career services representative to alert Psychology majors of possible career opportunities in this broad field.

The Psychology Club was established to unite, inform and advise the students of MSU. It helps to provide the necessary information about study groups, field trips and graduate school options.

Suzanne Harrington, President, adds, “The Psychology Club is extremely beneficial for those of us who have interests in Psychology. Our goal is to help expand our knowledge of the subject, while maintaining an open forum for any new ideas or questions about it”.

No definite meeting times have been arranged, but flyers with upcoming dates and times are posted throughout campus prior to them. A set schedule will be in order, once more members with mutual meeting dates become available. New members are invited to join at any time throughout the semester. As of now, call x5059 for more information.

Next Week:

Public Telescope Night, an astronomical tradition at MSU, began its 28th year on January 16. Sponsored by MSU and the North Jersey Astronomical Group, free public telescope nights will be held every clear Thursday from 8 to 9p.m., weather permitting, through May 8, with the exception of March 20.

Participants can view the night sky through several large telescopes set up in front of Richardson Hall, next to the Student Center on the MSU campus.

“Parallel Lives: Black and White Heroines in Children’s and Adolescent Fiction” is the topic of Kappa Delta Phi’s third annual Spring Lecture, February 6, at 5p.m. in the Student Center Ballroom C.

Tom Benediktsson and Deena Linett of MSU’s English Department will hold a reading of their new poems at Watchung Booksellers in Montclair, Feb 2, at 3p.m. Call 744-7177 for details.
Dear Career Services...

Q

I’m starting my sophomore year of college and my parents are telling me that I’d better start planning my career. I haven’t even picked a major! What do you think?

A

It is true that the early birds who plan their entry careers during their first years of school, do tend to graduate with the right combination of skills and experience that employers in a competitive market require. This does not mean that you have to decide at nineteen exactly what you will do to earn a living for the rest of your life. It does mean that you should begin to think about this issue and start exploring careers by learning about occupations through reading, listening to speakers, and talking to people who work in areas of interest. You might start by interviewing members of your own family to see what they have to say about their careers.

After reading and interviewing workers, select some possible careers to “try out” via a short term work experience. This can’t wait until after graduation but should begin during your undergraduate years. The National Association of Colleges and Employers in a survey this year confirmed that employers like to hire students who have already worked at part-time jobs, internships or co-ops.

“Almost 70%...hires start their entry level jobs with previous workplace experience.”

Q

I’m a Psychology major. I’ve heard that there is information on the World Wide Web which may help me define my career goals. What exactly is there and how do I find it?

A

There are many wonderful sites of the Web for Psychologists and Psychology students alike. One of the most comprehensive of these is the “PsychWeb by Russ Dewey” page. Following links from this page opens up an enormous amount of resources for students, including an APA style manual “crib sheet”, preparation for the Psychology GRE, hints on writing a Psychology research paper, information on Graduate School admission, and links to on-line Psychology journals.

For the career minded student, there are links to other megalists of Psychology related sites on the Web including professional organizations such as the APA Home Page. Following the link “Scholarly Psychology Resources on the Web” will bring you to a page with links organized by sub-topic within the psychological field, so a student can explore branches of the field, see what kind of research is being done, and where they might possibly see themselves working. There are links to electronic magazines such as “The Industrial Psychologist,” with up to date articles and internship vacancies.

Using the Web to access such information is a fascinating way to explore your chosen area of study, and best of all it’s “live” and often more up to date than the printed word. It can give students planning a career a real sense of the current dynamics of their chosen field.

PsychWeb can be accessed by its URL on the Web which is: http://gasou.edu/psychweb/psychweb.htm or by following the link from the Career Services Home Page at http://www.montclair.edu/Pages/CareerServices/Career.html, under Internet Resources: Specific Interest Sites.

The Career Services Home Page can also be accessed through the University’s Home Page and it contains a wealth of resources for job searching in any field. The World Wide Web can be accessed by using Netscape in any computer lab on campus, or through the Lynx non-graphical browser on your Alpha account.

For anyone who hasn’t browsed the Web before and would like to get a solid start, Career Services offers workshops throughout the semester on “Cruising the Internet.” Call 655-5194 for hours and appointments.

If you would like to share your Career Services experience with us call x5169 for details
Log On MSU

by Rita Bronnenkant

If you are a Snapple aficionado, you may recall Wendy, the former Snapple Lady, from their advertising campaign a while back. Wendy still answers questions, now via email! You can ask her about Snapple or anything else, askwendy@concentric.net. A website is in the works, naturally.

Having spent entirely too much time on the web I am not easily impressed by web sites these days. But, I was absolutelybowled over by the Thinkquest site, http://io.advanced.org/tp6/winners96awards.html! Sponsored by Advanced Network and Services, Inc.

Thinkquest is an Internet contest for 12-18 year olds, but the information and presentation are college-level. Contestants design and create educational web sites. Prizes are scholarship money. Categories include Science and Math, Social Sciences, Art and Lit, and Sports and Health. Wait until you see what these kids did! EduStock, http://tqd.advanced.org/3088/, advises how to pick stocks and provides the only free realtime stock market simulation on the web! In Anatomy of a Murder, http://tqd.advanced.org/2760/, we follow a defendant charged with murder as he goes through our legal system.

Don’t miss Interactive Tour of the Cell, http://tqd.advanced.org/3564/! Over twenty-five different sites receiving awards are linked here. Enjoy!

Did you know that you can search the archives of the U.S. government Copyright Office, http://lcweb.loc.gov/copyright/? This site provides useful copyright info. To actually search their database you have to telnet to the Library of Congress. (Telnet software can be found in the Windows communications group or you can telnet right from Alpha. At the $ just type in telnet locs.loc.gov.)

I suggest checking out the LOCIS (Library of Congress Information Service) guides first at gopher://marvel.loc.gov:70/11/locis/guides. This is an actual web site, just plug it into the URL box and hit enter. You don’t need to add http://. You can also dig around in the National Archives and Records Administration, http://www.access.gpo.gov/nara/.

What if you don’t have a computer with Internet access at home? Where else can you log on besides MSU? I recently surveyed the suburban Essex County public libraries to find out. Currently, Belleville, Millburn, Montclair, and West Orange have public access to the Internet. You handle the computer. East Orange, Livingston, Orange, and Roseland have Internet access through their librarian only. Other towns are working on getting up to speed, technology-wise. I understand that most of Morris County public libraries have Internet access. Call before you go.

Well, I think I will go email Wendy to see if she has any extra Snapple sitting around. TTYNW.

---

The Greek Weekly

Rush

ΘΩ:
Fri., 1/31: TOGA PARTY! Meet by the Blanton Health Center @ 8:30 for rides!

ΣΔΦ:
Thurs., 1/30: Mixer with P.K.A. Meet @ L.C. revolving doors @ 9 p.m.

 Tues., 2/4: Mixer with ZBT. Meet @ S.C. revolving doors @ 9 p.m.

---

THE REAL WORLD

by students of the Cooperative Education Program

by Moneesh Sanghi

Staff Writer

As a computer science student at MSU, I was fortunate to get a co-op position at Panasonic, a world leader in electronics and home appliances. This position was made available to me by the co-op department. This job has allowed me to apply the education I received at the university, to real world applications while being paid financially. As well as enriching my educational opportunities, I earned college credit towards my degree.

Placed in their PC Services department, I worked on the design and implementation of its' WEB page. Utilizing my programming and hardware skills, I wrote many applications for this page. One of the most exciting and challenging was a virus update over the corporate Intranet for all of the PCs. To complete this project, much research had to be done.

During my program, I had several reviews with the co-op coordinator and my departmental manager.

THE JEWISH STUDENT UNION

MONTCLAIR STATE UNIVERSITY

INVITES YOU TO JOIN US ON

FRIADY, FEBRUARY 7TH

FOR

SHABBAT DINNER

5:30 PM

RSVP BEFORE JANUARY 31ST FOR LOCATION

For more info. & to RSVP, call the J.S.U. at (201) 594-4664.
ATTENTION
UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS

Interested in volunteering for a great service?
If so, The Drop-In Center is the place for you!

We are a Peer Counseling, Information and Referral service and are currently looking for volunteers for the Spring '97 semester.

Come in and fill out an application on or before February 7, 1997 or call us for more information at 655-5271. We are located between the Student Center and Richardson Hall.

Don’t let this opportunity Pass you by!

The Drop-In Center is a service of the SGA, Inc.
A new solution to an old problem

"Tuition is too high."

This statement has been made by almost every college student in America. To remedy this situation, President Clinton came up with a plan to try and make at least the first two years of college a reality for everyone. However, there are some problems with the President's proposal.

The $1500 and $10,000 tuition tax credits will cost $42 billion over the next six years, an amount that we simply cannot afford. While trying to balance the budget, each dollar counts and it would be wise to look for other cheaper options that may be available to solve the problem which would not potentially add to the debt. Also, by pulling the money out of the pool of funds available for public colleges (after all, it is taxpayer funds) there will be even less money available to colleges, which may have the adverse effect of driving tuition prices up.

Additionally, many educators are also worried that the tax credit could cause tuition to go up in other ways. Colleges, knowing that the tax credit is available, could raise tuition by the amount of the tax credit, thereby rendering the credit useless. Further, the $1500 and $10,000 tax credits would not benefit low income families thereby rendering the credit useless.

Additionally, many educators are also worried that the tax credit could cause tuition to go up in other ways. Colleges, knowing that the tax credit is available, could raise tuition by the amount of the tax credit, thereby rendering the credit useless. Further, the $1500 and $10,000 tax credits would not benefit low income families thereby rendering the credit useless. This is the only class which deals with any aspect of Celtecentrism. It is finally offered after three years of waiting, and there is only one section offered—at 11:00 in the morning!

The same goes for the G.E.R.’s we are forced to take in order to become well-rounded individuals. If one must take these courses, why aren’t they available from 7:00 p.m. on? For those of us with real lives and responsibilities away from campus, it is absolutely impossible to attend classes at 5:00 in the afternoon. And what of people like my friend? Is it really tough shit if you can’t register on time, even with a legitimate reason?

President Reid, we are the students who work hard in our everyday lives, we consistently earn high grades, and we pay full tuition. There’s no financial aid, no handouts, no special treatment for us. We are the ones who pay for those raises of yours, sir. Can’t we, as older, part-time students who make excellent grades, get some sort of special consideration or priority registration, or even registration protection in circumstances such as this? Will we be forced to transfer to other universities? How will that look to the public who would be impressed with that shiny, new baseball stadium? What will you do to keep us at MSU?

While trying to balance the budget, that should be the goal. So, at least for now, MSU should say, "Thanks but no thanks" to the President's proposal.

Ebonics: The language of further isolation

Poverty has a big role in keeping this divide between the races. Of the ten percent of the population that is black, three-fourths are in poverty. This fuels the misunderstandings and the arrogance of many whites in thinking of blacks as devoid of intelligence or any organizational tools or simply as lesser human beings. Thus, blacks are fought against in having power in this society in many instances.

The situation being what it is, and considering the entrapping nature of poverty, why would some black educators want a language that is rooted in the debilitating psychological effects of poverty and the residual effects of slavery? Ebonics is not a tool of integration, but a tool of division.

The attainment of educated, trusted, fully human black persons depends, in large measure, in trying to contribute fully in the society they live in. What is meant by that is not only to give the world the most talented basketball player or the most virtuous entertainer, but to try to accomplish things that touch the lives and minds of all peoples. Black people must wake up to the idea that they must beat White America at its own game; that is, to speak the Queen’s English better than the queen.

Gary Doxy
Psychology major

Antics in the Forbidden Zone

A friend of mine here at MSU is in a similar situation as I. Approximately the same age, we work full-time and have done for the past twenty or so years. In our mid-thirties when we both decided to get the college education we never had. But it has been an ongoing struggle to find suitable classes for our major ever since.

This semester she is in a real predicament. Due to unprecedented circumstances, she was unable to register on time and had no idea what she was in for when she tried to register late. The three classes she was able to work into her schedule were full and she was not able to get departmental approval for any of them. Two are required for her major, the other for graduation, and she ran up against one brick wall after another.

After dealing with the advising coordinator for our department, she was told, “We certainly sympathize with your situation, however, there really isn’t anything we can do to help you.” Basically, if you can’t register on time for a legitimate reason, it’s too bad if you can’t find a class to get into. The advising coordinator actually told her to write to the administration and ask why, she was told, “We certainly sympathize with what we can do to help you.” Basically, if you can’t register on time for a legitimate reason, it’s too bad if you can’t find a class to get into. The advising coordinator actually told her to write to the administration and ask why, she was told, “We certainly sympathize with what we can do to help you.”

As we build completely superfluous and nonfunctional Spanish-style “gates.” Why, President Reid, can we find the money for something as equally unnecessary as a semipro baseball stadium? Who is the stadium for? Is it for students? Can I go there and play catch with my friends? Where are the spectators going to park? How does the school benefit from such a thing, except to boost the university’s public image? How favorable an impression will the university make on the public when it is revealed that adult students, who can only attend classes at night, can’t get an education?

I see, President Reid, we managed to scrape up enough money to give you two raises and a neat little bonus last semester. What was that for? For having the bright idea to plant shrubbery in a very dark area of the campus (i.e., between the library and College Hall) instead of putting in more lighting in that area? Yeah, with the number of assaults—sexual or otherwise—on campus, that’s a decision worthy of a bonus and raise.

There is precious little available to the evening student. The most desirable classes are either held only in the daytime or too early in the evening for adult students to realistically attend. I have been waiting for a class called “Conflict in Modern Ireland” to be offered. In a university with a plethora of classes offered in every aspect of Afrocentrism, this is the only class which deals with any aspect of Celtecentrism. It is finally offered after three years of waiting, and there is only one section offered—at 11:00 in the morning!

The same goes for the G.E.R.’s we are forced to take in order to become well-rounded individuals. If one must take these courses, why aren’t they available from 7:00 p.m. on? For those of us with real lives and responsibilities away from campus, it is absolutely impossible to attend classes at 5:00 in the afternoon. And what of people like my friend? Is it really tough shit if you can’t register on time, even with a legitimate reason?

President Reid, we are the students who work hard in our everyday lives, we consistently earn high grades, and we pay full tuition. There’s no financial aid, no handouts, no special treatment for us. We are the ones who pay for those raises of yours, sir. Can’t we, as older, part-time students who make excellent grades, get some sort of special consideration or priority registration, or even registration protection in circumstances such as this? Will we be forced to transfer to other universities? How will that look to the public who would be impressed with that shiny, new baseball stadium? What will you do to keep us at MSU?

The class struggle thrives at MSU

by Madam Ant

A friend of mine here at MSU is in a similar situation as I. Approximately the same age, we work full-time and have done for the past twenty or so years. In our mid-thirties when we both decided to get the college education we never had. But it has been an ongoing struggle to find suitable classes for our major ever since.

This semester she is in a real predicament. Due to unprecedented circumstances, she was unable to register on time and had no idea what she was in for when she tried to register late. The three classes she was able to work into her schedule were full and she was not able to get departmental approval for any of them. Two are required for her major, the other for graduation, and she ran up against one brick wall after another.

After dealing with the advising coordinator for our department, she was told, “We certainly sympathize with your situation, however, there really isn’t anything we can do to help you.” Basically, if you can’t register on time for a legitimate reason, it’s too bad if you can’t find a class to get into. The advising coordinator actually told her to write to the administration and ask why, she was told, “We certainly sympathize with what we can do to help you.”
A new solution to an old problem

"Tuition is too high."

This statement has been made by almost every college student in America. To remedy this situation, President Clinton has come up with a plan to try and make at least the first two years of college more affordable for everyone. However, there are some problems with the President's proposal.

The $1500 and $10,000 tuition tax credit will cost $42 billion over the next six years, an amount that we simply cannot afford. While trying to balance the budget, each dollar counts and it would be wise to look at other cheaper options that may be available to solve the problem without adding to the debt. Also, by pulling the money out of the pool of funds available for public colleges (after all, it is taxpayer funds) there will be even less money available to colleges, which may have the adverse effect of driving tuition prices still higher.

Additionally, many educators are also worried that the tax credit could cause tuition to go up in other ways. Colleges, knowing that the tax credit is available, could raise tuition by the amount of the tax credit thereby rendering the credit useless. Further, the $1500 and $10,000 tax credit would not benefit low income families who need the help most. The plan, while well-intentioned, is not yet feasible. But there may be other ways to home while lowering college costs.

A plan could be enacted by MSU and would likely lead to the lowering of college expenses across the country. The first step to cut administrators. There are too many non-faculty positions on campus to reduce tuition costs up. We do not need six assistant registrars, each with her own secretary? Probably not. And any obsolete positions or positions which can be improved upon by a computer program should be replaced or enhanced.

The second step is to privatize services on campus such as Residence Life and Maintenance. Little competition might be to these departments to become more efficient and more cost-effective. Many colleges across the country are moving towards leasing out their Residence Life Departments to hotel chains at a cheaper price, which causes them to experience problems with resident housing. Consolidating different services on campus is another way of lowering costs. Wherever there are duplicative departments at MSU, one can be eliminated, therefore saving money.

If followed, the plan proposed here could drive tuition costs down, while improving campus services, without using additional taxpayer dollars. And in this era of trying to balance the budget, that should be the goal. So, at least for now, MSU should say, "Thanks but no thanks" to the President's proposal.

Always Right
by John Brost

Last week, I detailed an incident at the Clove Road apartments that resulted in the expulsion of four students, all with clean records, from their apartment for violating the maximum occupancy level of their apartment while alcohol (which is permitted at the apartments) was present. This violation took place during a Nor'easter while celebrating Homecoming and school spirit. Many of those students in the apartment, friends of the residents, were stranded on campus due to the terrible storm wrecking the state.

The students were prosecuted by Ms. Gretchen Reyes Cseplo, the director of the Clove Road apartments. Since my original column was written, I have learned more about the way Clove Road is being run. According to residents, the running of these apartments, under the direction of the department of Residence Life, indicates unprofessionalism, selective enforcement of rules, and, according to an incident report filed in October, unsafe conditions and lack of action by those who have the ability to remedy the situations.

According to many residents, the problems seem to lie with Ms. Cseplo, whose alleged behavior reflects badly on Residence Life, the university, and the many students, alumni, and faculty and staff members who strive to make MSU a better college. Take, for instance, Ms. Cseplo's alleged actions following the rejection of the residents' final appeal: On the afternoon of Monday, January 13, the students received a letter stating that they must vacate the apartment by 6:00 that night, which was clearly impossible. According to the residents, at 6:30, Ms. Cseplo phoned the students, stated that they were trespassing and that at 9:00 the next morning, other students were scheduled to move into the apartment. Ms. Cseplo then abruptly ended the conversation, according to the students.

The residents further stated that when they phoned Ms. Cseplo, she wouldn't take their phone calls. The mother of one of the students, distraught by this situation, phoned Ms. Cseplo and left a message. When Ms. Cseplo returned her call, she allegedly yelled at the mother for phoning her after 4:30 PM and was rude and insulting to her. In fact, the unprofessional behavior of Ms. Cseplo led her to an apology to the mother.

Additionally, the report filed by Ms. Cseplo concerning the incident in October, illustrated incompetence (at the very least). In the report, Ms. Cseplo asserted that she continued on her rounds. Would it be incorrect to think that Ms. Cseplo's job as director of Clove Road is to help ensure the safety of those students living there? If that is correct, then shouldn't she have immediately taken action to correct this situation? Instead, she decided to ignore the situation, illustrating an ineptitude that, frankly, frightens me as a resident student.

Ms. Cseplo also apparently selectively enforces the rules, as illustrated by the fact that she prosecuted only one apartment at one time, and not following every violation of the rule throughout the semester. (As stated in the letter denying the residents' final appeal, after speaking with "both staff and non-staff residents of Clove Road," it was found that there was "some substantiation for the fact that other 'alcohol parties' do escape penalty...") Thus, the response to the incident in October seems to this writer to indicate a personal vendetta against these four students, and not merely the performance of Ms. Cseplo's job as director of the apartments.

During the four residents' appeals of their punishment, at least ten other residents of Clove Road volunteered to express their dissatisfaction with Ms. Cseplo's handling of their job. Many residents are upset by her policy regarding the availability of the laundry room. Other residents are upset by the arrogance that they believe Ms. Cseplo exhibits when dealing with situations, as well as her allegedly improper handling of the problems. In an incident unrelated to the previously mentioned one, a resident of another apartment was injured after tripping on the stairs in front of the complex. Allegedly, Ms. Cseplo was unsympathetic to, and dismissive of, her complaints. For someone who is employed to ensure the safety of residents, this incident would also indicate ineptitude, if not indifference toward her duties, if the complaint of the student is true. After interviewing many, I have yet to hear of a resident at Clove Road who has one nice thing to say about Ms. Cseplo or the way she is handling her responsibilities as director of the apartments.

Considering recent events, a thorough investigation of the actions and performance of Ms. Cseplo should be undertaken at once. That much is deserved to all residents of the Clove Road apartments, who pay incredible amounts of money to live in campus housing. A competent, professional staff is owed to these students. If the allegations of residents are accurate, Ms. Cseplo, the director of the Clove Road apartments, does not qualify to be a part of this staff. Should an investigation show that they are indeed accurate reports, Residence Life would be well advised to look into replacing her as soon as possible.

Montclarion Mailbag Letter Policy

- All letters must be typed and no longer than 250 words. Letters exceeding this length will be edited to 250 words.
- Please keep letters to a single topic which is relevant to the issues at hand.
- Once received, letters are property of the Montclarion and may be edited for length, content, and libel.
- Letters will not be printed unless they are signed, include the author's name, major, phone number, and social security number. The last two items will be used for verification only.
- Only one letter by an author will be printed each month.
- Letters and e-mail must be submitted by Tuesday at 10:00 a.m. Any correspondence received after this time will not be considered for publication in that week's issue.
- Correspondence may be submitted through e-mail to navettj@alpha.montclair.edu or sent to The Montclarion, Attn.: Editorial Editor, MSU, 113 Student Center Annex, Upper Montclair, NJ 07043.
”Architectural Transformations” opens in Gallery 3 1/2

Timothy M. Casey, MONTCLARION

Yesterday, in Calcia Hall’s Gallery 3 1/2, a new group exhibit opened featuring the work of the Modern Architecture class. Several undergraduate student works were displayed. The class was taught by Professor Sabine Eck in the Fall 1996 semester. The show featured a project that was designed to incorporate a transformation into an already existing object. Student approaches varied from traditional floor plans, to sculptures made from clothing. This was due to the diverse group of students in the class. Although Modern Architecture is listed in the Fine Arts department, students of all majors enrolled. “To participate you don’t have to be an Art major, everyone has the ability to appreciate architecture and design,” said Professor Eck about the course.

Modern Architecture is mainly a lecture class, consisting of exams. The class discussed the influences of art in daily life. Professor Eck commented, “Architecture is of great significance since you can’t help being exposed to it.”

The students submitted proposals for this particular project last October, which were presented to the entire class for comments. Photographs and typed reports were assigned to help the students convey the concept they had in mind. Students then went to work using whatever ability they had.

“I was stunned by Professor Eck’s approach,” said Jerusha Anne Childs-Brown, one of the students in the class. “The more I thought about it, I wanted to construct a lamp and environment.” The focus of the environment she created is intended for meditation. Keeley McCool went about the project in a totally different manner. She is an Art Major, with a concentration in sculpture. She created a mixed media piece titled “Ornament in Search of Architecture.” It is a chair with an extended back constructed from 19 pieces of metal tubing. “It is structured as a chair, not functional, but to resemble a ladder which symbolizes a high authority,” stated McCool about her piece. “I wanted to show the creative potential of a very simple material like square tubing by constructing this formal chair.”

Danielle Pompeo presented a series of drawings which resemble blueprints. They show the campus of Montclair State being transformed to include a monorail. These works were drawn after Pompeo experienced difficulty traveling around campus, especially from the parking lot. The series of six concept drawings portray MSU in a futuristic manner.

Modern Architecture will be next offered in the Fall of 1997. This group show will be on display Monday-Thursday until February 14 from 10:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m. in Calcia Fine Arts Building, Room 208. Don’t miss it!

Paramount Pictures’ Evita is rainbow high

Daryn Allyn Strauss, MONTCLARION

The spectacle Evita premiered in Hollywood glory and its magnetism has not lapsed since. The most recent contribution to the film’s accolades, the Golden Globe Awards (Sunday, Jan. 19) closed with three statuettes awarded to the Evita effort, including Best Picture (Music or Comedy) and Best Actress (Music or Comedy) for Madonna, which makes her the first lady of Argentina in the 1940s, and not unlike Madonna, developed a publicized penchant for designer fashions and bleached hair. Exhuming the image of a beautiful angel, Santa Evita, Peron received suspicious nods from the aristocracy and the bourgeoisie. Her legend lives on in the form of the dubious financial restitutions to the “descamisados,” the poor and dispossessed of Argentina, by her Eva Peron Foundation and the findings of her secret bank accounts in Switzerland.

Director Alan Parker creates “Evita” not in the tradition of Broadway director Hal Prince in which she is shown as one-dimensional and shallow, nor as the angel that the Argentines saw her. Rather, he attempts to retell history as accurately as he can and allows the audience to judge the motives of Senora Peron for themselves.

As a tactic, Parker transforms the character, Che (Antonio Banderas), into an every man character/narrator, which in turn, weakens Banderas’ role. Another debatable tactic...Banderas is the only actor with a Latin accent. However, the cinematography and costume design were enveloping, and after several hours in the make-up chair, the stylists painted masks on Madonna and Jonathan Pryce (President Juan Peron) that looked strikingly like the real Perons.

Just as controversial as its historical counterpart, Madonna’s arrival in Buenos Aires and Budapest caused riots, boos, ahhs, and media bandaging. It is amazing that she had any time to focus on her role. Madonna attacked the role so vigorously that her teeth marks still remain. She interviewed Argentinean diplomats, ex-Peronists, historical experts, and acquaintances of the late Eva Duarte de Peron. Hence her portrayal is well-researched and emotion-filled; she finds within herself a new depth, charm, and sophistication. She is brilliant, well-delivering of any awards that she may earn.

Although Evita is sung almost entirely and concerns itself with foreign political policy, it is not at all dull or dry like the connotation. The situations are very realistic; the singing, very naturalistic. Evita is not just a movie for artisians and politicians; it can be appreciated by everyone.

Evita stars as Eva Peron in the motion picture Evita.

Photography by Danielle Pompeo and Professor Sabine Eick discuss Pompeo’s MSU Monorail Drawings. TIMOTHY M. CASEY/ MONTCLARION

Madonna stars as Eva Peron in the motion picture Evita. DAVID APPLEBY/ WARNER BROS. RECORDS
Bill Maher maintains edge despite channel switch

BY JODI KASTEL
ASSISTANT ARTS EDITOR

I get off on politics, and I couldn’t live without comedy. Anything that combines the two is absolutely incredible, hence my infatuation with Dennis Miller, Saturday Night Live, David Letterman, and now Bill Maher’s Politically Incorrect.

My cable company at home doesn’t carry Comedy Central, so my exposure to Politically Incorrect’s brand of political humor has been limited to articles and Talk Soup clips, until now. Maher and his show has recently moved to broadcast, and I get to indulge in Politically Incorrect’s unique format five days a week!

Politically Incorrect, now in its fourth season, debuted on ABC on January 6, in the unpopular time slot following Nightline. Politically Incorrect must also compete with Letterman and Leno for viewers. But Maher has a leg up, so to speak, on the competition—his show is completely different than the rest. Maher regards the usual fare as “cogs in the publicity mill,” and strives to keep his show cutting edge.

 Maher’s show throws together an unusual sampling of celebrities and political pundits, forming a bizarre four-person debate panel. For example, one show featured both Senator Arlen Specter and cult film director John Waters.

“Another contrasted Happy Days’ Marion Ross with the brilliant Dennis Miller. Sometimes the results are quite tame, other times mayhem ensues. Maher, as side bar commentator, throws out subjects for the panel debate. Some recent topics include capital punishment, JonBenet Ramsey, O. J. Simpson, and ethics.”

It’s almost unnerving to watch people like Sandra Bernhard, Dana Carvey, Larry Flynt, and Yasmine Bleeth speaking intelligently, and Arianna Huffington, James Carville, Patricia Schroeder, and Ann Richards displaying a sense of humor. All this entertainment and sharing is complemented by a Greek forum-like set, columns and all.

Maher, 40, commented about his show’s move to ABC in a recent Entertainment Weekly interview, “Politically Incorrect may not be mainstream America’s cup of tea, but with the kind of base we’ve built, I don’t think we’ll go away. I mean, there are a lot of fucking channels out there.” This fan base increased greatly with Maher’s critically hailed presidential campaign coverage (Incident ‘96), upping Politically Incorrect’s ratings by 67% over the previous year’s ratings.

Fans wonder if Maher will soften his unapologetic, cut-to-the-chase ways—ABC is owned by Disney, and Mickey may not enjoy discussing Larry Flynt’s favorite sexual position or admitting how many times a day he masturbates. Everything is open for discussion on PI. Maher, a New Jersey native, says, “It’s amazing how many people insist it will change when I say it won’t. They say, ‘Come on! It’s Disney, man!’ And I say, ‘Okay, you know my life better than I do.’”

Bill Maher has taken his show to network TV.

Fever In, Fever Out: Fabulous

BY JODI KASTEL
ASSISTANT ARTS EDITOR

Luscious Jackson’s album Fever In, Fever Out (Capitol/Grand Royal) was one of the best released in ’96. Though it is just gaining momentum now on the charts with the success of the first single, “Naked Eye,” Luscious Jackson has been a constant force in female alterna-rap for almost a decade.

This album is incredible. Altering between sultry and smooth to angry and socially-charged, the songs on Fever In, Fever Out fit just about every mood. Luscious Jackson is Jill Cunniff (vocals, bass, guitar), Gabrielle Glaser (vocals, guitar), Kate Schellenbach (drums), and Vivian Trimble (keyboards), who joined in ’91.

For this album they enlisted the talents of country singer Emmylou Harris. Fever In, Fever Out is Luscious Jackson’s second full-length album, preceded by the EP In Search of Money and Natural Ingredients. Winding down their current tour, the band has also toured with R.E.M. and on the Lollapalooza ticket.

“Naked Eye” is very radio-friendly, attracting fans with a variety of musical tastes. My favorite line from the song reads, “Wearing nothing is divine, naked is a state of mind, I take things off to clear my head, to say the things I haven’t said.” Another gem on the album is the song “Under Your Skin”: “Lie down underneath the breeze, can’t cool down when you’re down with me, if it don’t feel good when you first get in, wait ’til it gets under your skin.”

Another complimented Happy Days’ Marion Ross with the brilliant Dennis Miller. Sometimes the results are quite tame, other times mayhem ensues. Maher, as side bar commentator, throws out subjects for the panel debate. Some recent topics include capital punishment, JonBenet Ramsey, O. J. Simpson, and ethics.

It’s almost unnerving to watch people like Sandra Bernhard, Dana Carvey, Larry Flynt, and Yasmine Bleeth speaking intelligently, and Arianna Huffington, James Carville, Patricia Schroeder, and Ann Richards displaying a sense of humor. All this entertainment and sharing is complimented by a Greek forum-like set, columns and all.

Maher, 40, commented about his show’s move to ABC in a recent Entertainment Weekly interview, “Politically Incorrect may not be mainstream America’s cup of tea, but with the kind of base we’ve built, I don’t think we’ll go away. I mean, there are a lot of fucking channels out there.” This fan base increased greatly with Maher’s critically hailed presidential campaign coverage (Incident ‘96), upping Politically Incorrect’s ratings by 67% over the previous year’s ratings.

Fans wonder if Maher will soften his unapologetic, cut-to-the-chase ways—ABC is owned by Disney, and Mickey may not enjoy discussing Larry Flynt’s favorite sexual position or admitting how many times a day he masturbates. Everything is open for discussion on PI. Maher, a New Jersey native, says, “It’s amazing how many people insist it will change when I say it won’t. They say, ‘Come on! It’s Disney, man!’ And I say, ‘Okay, you know my life better than I do.’”

Bill Maher has taken his show to network TV.
Smashing Pumpkins rock Long Island on year tour

by Bill Casalino
Staff Writer

Last Friday night the Smashing Pumpkins continued their year-long tour with a massive show at Long Island’s Nassau Coliseum. Because of the possibility of slippery roads, due to a light snow storm, my friends and I decided to rent a limousine for the evening. Our limousine driver, Jimmy, had never even heard of the Smashing Pumpkins, but it was evident that everyone attending the concert were huge fans.

The crowd waited anxiously as the band’s instruments were set up on the stage. Then the lights were dimmed and the fans went crazy as Billy Corgan and company occupied the stage. The evening began with “Mellon Collie and the Infinite Sadness,” the piano melody which starts off their popular double CD. They appropriately followed with “Tonight, Tonight.” The hypnotized crowd dazed in amazement as the band played in front of a variety of trippy color patterns, which swirled throughout the entire concert. My buddy “Sid Vicious” especially enjoyed this aspect of the concert.

The second song performed by the Pumpkins was the first track off their breakthrough album, Siamese Dream. “Cherub Rock”, a fan favorite, was one of only two songs played from Siamese Dream. The other was “Disarm,” while “Today” was mysteriously missing from the set. The band obviously wanted to play more of their newer material although they used some older tunes to end newer ones. For example, brief portions of the songs “Hummer” and “Rocket” were blended into the ends of songs such as “An Ode to No One” and “Here is No Why.”

Pumpkin leadman Billy Corgan treated the fans to a couple of older songs which no one really expected to hear. “Siva” and “Rhinoceros” were both performed. These two tracks are from the band’s debut album, Gish. Another surprise was the performance of “Drown,” a song the Smashing Pumpkins wrote to be featured on the Singles soundtrack.

The rest of the songs played were all from Mellon Collie and the Infinite Sadness. These tracks include: “Zero,” “Bullet with Butterfly Wings,” “Muzzle,” “Porcelina of the Vast Oceans,” “Where Boys Fear to Tread,” “Thirty-Three,” “X.Y.U.,” “Thru the Eyes of Ruby,” and “1979.” During the song “1979,” Jimmy Frog, from the Chicago band, The Frogs had all of his hair cut off which had been growing for an unknown amount of years.

Overall, the concert was incredible. Billy Corgan is a musical genius and his stage antics are unforgettable. At one point, he held the guitar high above his head while playing a loud, ear ripping chord which drove the fans into a frenzy. Corgan was just being himself up on the stage, a crazy performer, but as he put it, “We’re allowed to be fucking crazy cause we’ve been on tour all year long.”
DORKS ON THE SCENE

by John J. O’Sullivan

Adm. McDougal attacking the Empire single-handed, while on vacation at a nearby planet.

It’s a Friday night at a busy bar in Trowlesville, NJ. Trowlesville, a beautiful town close to everywhere, except for the places that it’s far away from, is known for its large number of bars and drinking establishments. One bar, John’s Tavern, is the oldest, and most popular, of the bars in town. It’s large—it has an enormous bar. It’s a Friday night at a busy bar in Trowlesville, NJ. Trowlesville, a beautiful town close to everywhere, except for the place that it’s far away from, is known for its large number of bars and drinking establishments. One bar, John’s Tavern, is the oldest, and most popular, of the bars in town.

rather strange looking man, dressed in a jump suit, with a Star Trek communicator pin shining brightly upon his chest. He walked up to the bar. “Excuse me...I would like...some Romulan ale,” said the man.

The Trekkie, also known as Kirk McDougal, grew up on Star Trek, watched it extensively since he was three, and lives it day in and day out. His wardrobe consists of four standard Starfleet Uniforms, with a dress uniform for special occasions. He thinks that’s on the planet Zzzzzartblat Zeta IV, on shore leave from his starship. He also thinks that he has the charm of Captain Kirk, which he doesn’t.

“What are you, on crack,” Robert replied. “We don’t have any such thing here. Do you want a Bud? If you don’t, too bad, ‘cause I don’t feel like making a cold drink for you. So do you want a Bud?”

“What ever, strange alien man...a Bud would be...good,” replied Kirk.

Robert grabbed a frosted mug, poured the Trekkie a beer, and practically threw the mug at him. “Two bucks,” said the orner y bartender.

“Here is...two dollars, of your strange alien...currency,” said Jean-Luc Retard. The Trekkie, grabbing his beer at the bar, and started to saunter around the bar, in a manner that would make William Shatner proud. He spotted a nice-looking “strange alien woman,” and determined that she would be his conquest for that evening. Kirk always got the girl on the original series, why couldn’t he? He went up, and approached her. “I noticed you...from across the room. Where are you from?”

“Um, who are you,” replied the woman.

“I am Kirk, Admiral Kirk McDougal, Starfleet,” said Kirk proudly. “I come from...the...stars.”

“Uh, yeah. Whatever.”

“So, would you like to come with me and see my starship,”

“Uh, no. I have to...water...my cat. Bye.” The girl walked away quickly, thinking to herself why the weird one’s are attracted to her. Kirk, feeling like quite the intergalactic stud, considered this a strange alien mating ritual, and continued to saunter around the bar. Meanwhile, across the floor, a thin Hawaiian-shirt wearing man was talking to another woman. “Well, I’m just a triple play fajita kind of guy! Ha ha ha,” he said, with a se to follow his nerd-like guttural laugh. Jenn, the attractive blonde looked around the room, trying to find an exit to slip out of, or contemplated using her extensive karate skills on this guy. But that’s for next week. I’m out of space. I had to build the bar, create an orner y bartender, and make “John’s place” popular somewhere else to go, but they always give singles to his bar,‘and he’d prefer they find to hell with that!”

This Friday night, was not unlike others. The crowd started to trickle in around 8 p.m., and started to pour in around 8:30. Among those pouring into the bar was a high-muck-a-muck (n) [by folk etymology fr. Chinook Jargon hiu muckanuck plenty to eat]: a person of importance; esp : one who is arrogant.

Word of the Day:

The horo, the horo

Written by Mr. Know-It-All himself, John J. O’Sullivan

Aries (March 21 to April 19) DJ Mixmaster Muggs will hide in your room in an elaborate attempt to rob you of sleep by playing Laurence Welk albums. Fill him in the head with a frying pan.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) If you see a flying saucer, stop, drop, and hide. They’re after your Blockbuster™ Card. They don’t want to use theirs, since they owe a lot of money in late fees.

Gemini (May 21 to June 20) Dig a hole in your back yard, bury your favorite CD, and make sure that no one ever digs it up. Your CD is possessed by the spirit of Pat Boone. He’ll do covers of your favorite songs just to spite you.

Cancer (June 21 to July 22) No matter how much you may like to, don’t sit in your father’s La-Z-Boy™ recliner. It’s hungry.

Leo (July 23 to August 22) New Jersey will declare your room a Superfund site. So, when you see men dressed up in radioactive clean-suits, you’ll understand why they’re putting your clothes in huge barrels.

Virgo (August 23 to September 22) Brad Pitt is stalking you. He blames you for his latest film. Wear one of them fake mustaches for awhile.

Libra (September 23 to October 22) Your lucky numbers are 5, 7, 1997, and 4. Your dog is the antichrist.

Scorpio (October 23 to November 21) The early bird gets the worm, but why would anyone want a worm?

Sagittarius (November 22 to December 21) Luck, prosperity, and happiness will be in your future. (This horoscope is sponsored by Ford™, which reminds you that you got the only really good fortune, because they gave me, John J. O’Sullivan, a large sum of money.)

Capricorn (December 22 to January 19) Seasons Greetings to you and yours,

Aquarius (January 20 to February 18) Wait, what do you mean it’s not Christmas-time anymore??? You mean I SLEPT THROUGH THE WHOLE THING/????!AAAAAA! Pisces (February 19 to March 20) A man wearing a Star Trek™ costume will walk up to you and say that he’s a “triple-play fajita kind of guy.”

“ar” words in sports

Find the listed words in the diagram. They run in all directions-forward, backward, up, down and diagonally.
Hey Everyone:

We Want You*

*To work for the MONTCLARION!

It's easy & fun. Impress the heck out of your parents! Buff up that super resume!

Get thousands of people to READ YOUR THOUGHTS!

don’t delay, call

655-5169

for more information!
HELLO EVERYONE! Welcome back to yet another semester. I'm your host and narrator, John J. O'Sullivan. I'll be making some unscripted comments throughout this page. I'm sure that I'll talk to you later.

As usual, John J. O'Sullivan

RUSH THETA XI!

YEAH YEAH, RUSH THETA XI!

RUSH RUSH RUSH RUSH RUSH THETA XI!

YES I AM ABUSING MY POWER, AND I ASK YOU TO RUSH THETA XI!

TO RUSH THETA XI, CALL TIM AT 440-7910 FOR MORE INFO.

RUSHrama! BUT RUSH THETA XI!

Prankish that you're a guy go to Montclair State and aren't on our network. Visit where prohibited. Limit one copy per person. While supplies last. Do not leave Theta Xi™ in direct sunlight. All rights reserved. Copyright © Theta Xi™ Forester Press NY.

Lisa Wonder works overtime, multiple markets.

Five American Angels. Thanks for the tons. What would we have done without you? Sorry about the checks.

The Girls

Rabia

I'm watching out for random eyestoppers near my area.

Love your name.

Camel

Who keeps our carpet. Out with boys, let's find some men. I love you.

Love you.

CLUB—GET INVOLVED! Call 4711. Be a part of some of the greatest events on campus

—Jon CALLB

McCoey Operation Clean Sweep is on the prowl.

RUSH SIGMA!!! Call Korn 795-09 or Garbo (GM). Sigma Beta Psi Celebrating 50 years. Sigma—OLDEST AND BEST!

Song

Have we heard from Tognum or Lisa? Is he still here? Call Lisa, Lisa.

To tell the truth, we're not alone.

Lisa

Kick butt!!!

Lisa, Lisa.

Corgi

Next time we want, a PBS special on elephants, tell the children to leave the room. Too good for your eyes.

Love you. Lisa, Lisa.

PS Rabbit pornmen.

Unlucky am I for being bald? Hot dogs anyone? Lisa, Lisa.

I'm

I can't wait to part of the Alpha Pi Pledge Class of JEM.

Lisa

Dudley

You are special especially to me. I love you.

Love Toddie Bear.

Pete

Puppets outnumber ever since! Love the Corinna.

Teensterman Alan

Hey you know you remind me of my ex-boyfriend's that for a pick up line?

Lisa

McCoey

Does anyone know the universal sign for "non-handshake"?

Love, Keifer.

McCoey

You are just a son of a gun. Please come visit.

Love, McCoey

Torgo and Friends

I miss you, dude. "Cosper, Girl if"

LAVE SEXUAL IMMUNOLOGY OF THE WEEK

Peter

Are we doing this to the library? "Time to play with some sticks."

Love, Lisa

Cran Big

Is that really where it's at? Cause in our cases I couldn't feel it!

The Paragolz, comrades.

McCoey

Wopped your leg around on your good man lately?

Lave, Lisa

Torgo

Do you think you'll actually BOIL on Saturday?

Love, Pete Lisa, McCoey and Kort

Miss New York.

Comrades, good luck with everything.

Love, Lisa

Jim

Can we be in your Sorority?

Love, Lisa, Lisa

Torgo

You promised to buy me one at Badger City. We are tipsy lice, non basically.

Love, Lisa

AND ANOTHER LAVE SEXUAL IMMUNOLOGY OF THE WEEK

Gran Big (argh! -argh!)

I'm still waiting for my week. Remember: it's not to keep a body waiting in vain.

My GODS THERE'S A FOLLOW-UP-TO THAT ONE!!! ARGH!

Torgo

Are you girls, we get "groined."

Love, Lisa, Lisa

Joey Bear

Thanks for all of your support last week. You really helped me get by. But if you ever keep me up until 4:30 again.

Lave, Your dead cat.

PS Do I still know how to get you up? -

RUSH SIGMA!

We are Sigma.

Corgi

I love you, baby!

Love, little Corgi

Jerg, Sarah, Karen—We are back! —

Love you girls, Me

Sigma—have a great semester.

Love, Karen.

Happy Birthday Sarah, Sigma

Waving—Lisa's Sister)

ke ke ke.

Geoffy

Karate Girl

Process of Evil

My advice for the week. Don't settle for all the rest keep searching for the right thing.

The Goddess of Beauty and Love

Lisa

Happy 22nd, 3-21! We love you!

The Phi Floor Girls

Good luck! Positive. You'll do great! We're proud. -

Hey Jerg

Stay away! You can do it all.

Jennifer (DH) Congrats! The ring a beautiful, I wish you both the best of luck. Love ya!)

Landa, Little # 4

 Theta Class of 3-21 3-21

We will always rule! Loveya, Chief

49 + 50 (DH)

Hooked on a Feeling.

Sister Sandie

Do you want my mother or my brother?

Loveya, Chief

Kim (TO)

SSSSSHHHHHH!

Tina (DH)

Carry (DH)

Things seem better. Hope they last! —

Love ya again.

Landa, Chief

Sisters of 3-21 3-21

The "what the hell are you talking about" personal of the week:

Above

I've been total respect for you. You're replaced. Egg salad.

Love, Lisa

What a time back home to make memories. Good luck with classes and remember. I love ya.

Landa Chief # 49

What are we here TODAY!

Lisa (DH)

I think I found a portrait in our fireplace.

Lisa (DH)

Why did you go on an Abuser's head?

Lisa, Maria + Garbo

Kim and Shane (DH)

Sweethearts 101 has been canceled.

Love, Lisa

Shane (DH)

According to the Mountain Times, we quite the ski bummers.

Love, The Pro Ski

Sandra Unplugged (DH)

So glad you got your Bondi Babbits.

Love, The Girls of Montana

Lisa

What did Steven the Bertard say about the 23 P E girls? He's stupid just like someone else we know.

Lisa, Maria

Rabia

At night when your sleeping, I store deep into Tickle the Clown's eyes.

Love, Luke Skywalker

Abuser

Thanks for all your wrapped cream and the cold brass.

Love, The girls of Montana

Lisa + Garbo

Who do you call boys today?

Love me

Smote.

Thanks for an ongoing time. Next time leave the knot at home.

Love, The Girls

Ganci (DH)

You're not, you glad you come over! The pack of old Ganci's back!LOOK OUT! Love, Kim

RUSH SIGMA DELTA PHI!

Garcia (DH)

You are beautiful not just today, but everyday.

Love, Lisa

Look out Panama city Sigma Coming back!

Look out "middle of the week" Theta Xi, or at least John J. O'Sullivan, a coming back!

OK by the way RUSH THETA XI! RUSH 180! A FAREWELL TO CLASS! THETA XI! GEEZ! IS THIS ALL YOU HAVE TO OFFER? ALEX LITESHOW! RUSH XI XI!

So what did we learn this week?

D. With a name like "Groanzy", the sensual persona loses to be done.

D. Rascal Theta Xi

D. McCoey gets too many personas whatever he or she is.

D. Vin Abuser is the man. Vin Abuser rules. "Dude the Abuser" is one of the greatest songs ever written. I worship the grand he walks upon.

D. Never use the following pickup line because it won't work: "I'm just a three-piece fagot kind of guy." This advice comes courtesy of one of my patrons or Ruby Tuesday's. "That's all for now, you may leave."

-SEE YOU NEXT TIME!
Classifieds...

- Child Care Wanted -
Student wanted for care of infant and light house keeping. Daytime hours M-F. Own transportation... Call 955-9553.

Experienced baby-sitter wanted to play with active one year old while mom works at home near campus. Approx. 10 hours/week. Afternoons preferred, hours flexible. Non-smoker. 744-6590.

Child care needed- my home or yours Beg. mid-march, 3-4 days/week. 5 month old. No-smoking/Eng. spkg. Ref. req'd. 201-571-1044.

Afternoon baby-sitter with car wanted for 7 and 11 year old boys. M-F 4:00 - 6:00. Homework help and drive to activities. Experience preferred. Call 783-7254.

- Help Wanted -
Quality Day Camp in Morris County looking for applicants in the following areas: General Counselors, Swim - LGT or WSI, Music, Drama, Photography, Sports, High Ropes, Roller Hockey, Mountain Bikes, Newspaper. Please call 201-895-3200 for more information.

EASY INCOME! Distribute telephone calling Cards. No cost or expense to you. Just your tie and energy! Commissions paid on activated cards! Generate income easily! Serious inquiries only!! Call (201) 253-0362.

Aquarium store is in need of sales/main- tenance help. Candidates should be personable, ambitious, and self-motivated. Great job for science, education or communication majors. Full and part-time available. Please call: AQUA-Tropics. 365-0200. M-F 10:00 - 9:00, Sat. 10:00 - 8:00. Sun. 12:00 - 6:00.

DEAN WITTER TELEMARKETING Willowbrook Mall Area. Part-time evenings, 6-9 PM, M-TH., Flexible $6.00 per hour. Call Sandy at 1-800-659-6665.

- Fundraisers -
FREE T-SHIRT + $1000 Credit Card fundraisers for fraternities, sororities & groups. Any campus organization can raise up to $1000 by earning a whopping $5.00/VISA application. Call 1-800-932-0528 ext. 65. Qualifed callers receive FREE T-SHIRT

• Spring Break •
Spring Break '97 Cancun, Jamaica, Bahamas!!! 7 nights w/air from $399. Panama City $129 Beach front & Daily Free Drink Parties! Group Discounts Available!!! Endless Summer Tours 1-800-234-7007.

- Apartments -
Room to rent in Little Falls 1/2 miles from campus. Newly renovated house- deck. Large yard. Non-smoker. $400 per month util. inc. 201-256-9184. Leave # and message.

Apartment for Rent in Montclair. Walking distance to NJ Transit & DeCamp Bus lines. 3 bedroom apartment with nice wooden floors. Share with two other men in twenties. Great landlord and plenty of parking. Rent from now until end of August with option to renew. $360 a month plus utilities. Located two blocks from Bloomfield Ave. If interested call Greg during evening (201) 746-3286. Leave message if not in.

Looking to start a career in Banking? Why not start off the year right with Valley National Bank, one of the leading Commercial Banks in the Northern NJ area. Currently, we are looking to fill several entry level full & part-time positions. If you are a motivated individual who takes your future seriously, then we’d like to meet you!

* TELLER POSITIONS (VARIOUS LOCATIONS) *
* CLERICAL OPPORTUNITIES (WAYNE) *
* CUSTOMER SERVICE REPRESENTATIVES (WAYNE) *

Qualified candidates should have excellent customer service, organizational, & clerical skills to be considered. Some positions call for good figure aptitude & some PC skills.

Along with a pleasant working environment & plenty of opportunity for growth, we offer full time employees a full benefits package which includes tuition reimbursement, 401(k) savings, paid vacations, & paid holidays. Part time employment includes paid holidays, paid vacations, & 401(k). All interested candidates can call or visit our Human Resource Dept. located at 1455 Valley Road in Wayne.

THE JEWISH STUDENT UNION AT MSU PRESENTS
SKIING AT CAMELBACK
SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 16TH
Group Prices (includes transportation)
LIFT TICKET ONLY $36.00
LIFT TICKET & RENTAL $43.00
LIFT TICKET, LESSON & RENTAL $48.00
PAYMENT MUST BE MADE IN FULL BY FEBRUARY 13TH
STUDENT CENTER PICK UP DROP OFF
MONTCLAIR STATE UNIVERSITY 9:00 AM 8:30 PM
FOR MORE INFO, CALL THE JSU AT 655-5280
Sophomore guard B.J. Reilly (Middlesex) working the ball on multiple occasions in the second half, he was game that they should win if they just stuck with their aggressive style.

The Red Hawks shot 46% from the field and a stellar 73% from behind the three point arc before 516 fans in Panzer Gym.

On Saturday, the Red Hawks played host to the Ramapo College Roadrunners, who beat the Red Hawks on a last second shot last December. The Red Hawks were feeling extremely confident going into the game following the triumph over Rutgers-Newark. Ramapo had a 7-8 record at the time, so the Red Hawks felt that this was a game that they should win if they just stuck with their aggressive style.

Revenge was sweet for the Red Hawks as they defeated the Roadrunners, 76-64 as guard B.J. Reilly came through for MSU. When the team needed a lift on defense, Reilly had a game-high 10 rebounds, eight on the defensive side, and also played great defense.

The MSU bench also deserves credit for the win. Guard Harry Jones-Bey (East Orange) added eight to the 82-64 MSU victory.

The trio of starting guards scored 72% of MSU's 76 points on the night. The starting front-court mates of Rex and Weipz had to play strongly and aggressively all night in order to get the guards the ball and to get them open looks. Rex had a game-high 10 rebounds, eight on the defensive side, and also played great defense.

The Red Hawks are now 13-3, 7-3 NJAC and now face conference rivals for the rest of the season.

When the Red Hawks returned in the second half, as MSU ran away with the game, 54-45.

"It seems that we use the first half to get used to playing with each other, and we shouldn't have to do that. But, when we get started, there's no stopping us. We need to that for 40 minutes," said Ingram.

The Red Hawks are averaging 6.7 rebounds per game, with Wykemia Kelly (Paterson) following in Villalta's example, with 40 steals and 69 assists. While they may not be the offensive standouts of Klingert and Singletary (though not far behind), these two player's command of the back court have been one of the major keys to the Red Hawk's success this season. Watching Kelly play is akin to witnessing Kordell Stewart of the Pittsburg Steelers. Both are unpredictable and make things happen. But the team's performance as a whole is an exciting match to watch no matter the competition.

Although off to a slow start, MSU led 24-20 at the end of the first half. When the Red Hawks returned in the second half, it appeared as if they were merely toying with the Roadrunners in the first half, as MSU ran away with the game, 54-45.

WOMEN'S B-BALL, Cont. from back page

Almut off to a slow start, MSU led 24-20 at the end of the first half. When the Red Hawks returned in the second half, it appeared as if they were merely toying with the Roadrunners in the first half, as MSU ran away with the game, 54-45.

"It seems that we use the first half to get used to playing with each other, and we shouldn't have to do that. But, when we get started, there's no stopping us. We need to that for 40 minutes," said Ingram.

The Red Hawks are now 13-3, 7-3 NJAC and now face conference rivals for the rest of the season.

On the year, Klingert leads MSU in scoring with 174 points, averaging 12.4 point per game. Singletary, who is just behind her with 169 points (113 per game), is also their leading rebounder with 100 rebounds averaging 6.7 rebounds per game. Round out the top three is Schultz, with 129 points (8.1 per game), Villalta is right behind her however, with 127 points (7.9 per game). Not to mention the fact that she also has the most steals with 68 and the most assists at 70 (4.3 and 4.4 per game, respectively) Wykemia Kelly (Paterson) is following in Villalta's example, with 40 steals and 69 assists. While they may not be the offensive standouts of Klingert and Singletary (though not far behind), these two player's command of the back court have been one of the major keys to the Red Hawk's success this season. Watching Kelly play is akin to witnessing Kordell Stewart of the Pittsburg Steelers. Both are unpredictable and make things happen. But the team's performance as a whole is an exciting match to watch no matter the competition.

With each game, win or loss, the Red Hawks are showing the tenacity needed to enter and be successful in the post season.

MSU will host Willaim Paterson College Wednesday, January 29, followed by a road trip on Saturday, February 1. The Red Hawks return for a home game next Wednesday against Rowan College.
The Master Debate
by Dennis DeMercurio

Last week’s topic: Should the NFL restore instant replay?

Responses to last week’s topic were less than stellar, however, sophomore Jason Reid, a sociology major had this to say: “Because the referees are so often right anyway, I don’t think we need instant replay during the season. But because the games are so critical, and because the officials assembled are not used to working with each other, I definitely think there should be instant replay during the playoffs.”

Perhaps last week’s explanation of this column were not specific enough. This is to be an open forum for YOU, the MSU student to debate on the topics posted. Suggestions for topics will also be taken and possibly used. Responses and topic suggestions should be sent to demercuriod@alpha.montclair.edu (or NorNRad@aol.com) or by calling 655-5169.

This past Monday, I heard a story that at first I thought was just a subject of this week’s made-for-television-movie. It’s the story of a professional basketball player whose sister is in desperate need of a kidney. Since he is the perfect match for her body type, he is the only chance she has for a successful kidney transplant. The catch? If he proceeds with the donation, he may never play professional basketball again. Only this wasn’t fiction. This is what happened to Carlos Rogers of the Toronto Raptors. What would his decision be? What should it be? He has spent his entire life working for the goal of reaching the NBA, and now might lose everything-except his sister. As it turned out, while waiting for his sister to fight off an infection, she passed away. He did state, however, before she passed on, that he would give up one of his kidneys. How many people would have done the same? Would it matter on whose life was at stake? Therefore, I ask:

Knowing it may prevent you from achieving your life’s goal or dream, would you make the sacrifice? Would it make a difference if it was your mother, father, sister, brother, etc and why?

---

Take a Free Test Drive
GMAT  GRE  LSAT  MCAT

Bring a friend and win a prize

If you took the test today, how would you score? Come find out.
Call today to reserve your seat!
Saturday February 8, and Sunday February 9, 1997

KAPLAN
1-800-KAP-TEST
www.kaplanc.com

*Course names are registered trademarks of their respective owners
Fowler leads MSU to pair of wins

by JEFF EHRICH
Assistant Sports Editor

Last Wednesday the Red Hawks hosted the Rutgers-Newark Raiders in their first of three consecutive home games. The Red Hawks went into the game with an 8-6 record and needed a win following their two straight losses. And a win is exactly what they got. In fact, the Raiders were no match for the fired up Red Hawks who won easily, 82-64.

“Every game is our Super Bowl,” were the words of Coach Nick Del Tufo.

By the end of the first half the Red Hawks had a 36-21 lead that they would not relinquish. Throughout the first 20 minutes of the game, the Red Hawks stepped up their defense by forcing the Raiders into 13 turnovers and holding them to just 39% shooting from the field.

For the game, all five MSU starters scored in double figures, led by Greg Fowler’s (Plainfield) and Rohan Sutherland’s (Miami, FL) 18 points apiece. Fowler shot seven for 13 and a perfect four for four from behind the three point line. He also had five rebounds and two steals. Sutherland was eight for 15 on the night and one for three from three point range. He also dished out one assist, grabbed eight boards, had one steal, and was tied for a game high 33 minutes with fellow back-court mate B.J. Reilly (Middlesex).

Reilly added 11 points and continued on p.22

Men’s Basketball picks up streak with two wins

by DENNIS DEMERCURIO
Sports Editor

After losing two straight games to New Jersey Athletic Conference rivals, the MSU Women’s basketball team responded to their defeats by winning their next two games against the Rutgers-Newark Raiders last week and Ramapo Roadrunners this past Saturday.

The Red Hawks came out in the first half against the Raiders as they have in their past few games, somewhat tentative and apprehensive. Despite turning the ball over and missing open shots, MSU led 25-24 at the end of the half. The Red Hawks held onto the ball much of the first half, neglecting to pass when the opportunity arose. When MSU returned to the game in the second half, they learned from their first half experience and began to move the ball around to each other. Then the Red Hawk scoring blitz began.

Senior guard Heidi Klingert (Linwood) said, “It seems that we save everything for the second half, but we’re not doing that on purpose.”

MSU outscored Rutgers-Newark 28-19 on offense and defensively forced 30 turnovers. Senior forward Tracy Singletary (Keasby) had 13 points, five rebounds, three blocks and two steals on the night while junior guard Jill Schulz (West Milford) added 12 points and six rebounds.

Freshman forward Felicia Ingram (S. Brunswick) and Klingert tallied nine and six rebounds, respectively. With five points and rebounds, four steals and three assists, senior guard Lisa Villalta (Harrison) helped the Red Hawks gain their 12th win by defeating the Raiders, 53-43.

Against Ramapo College this past Saturday, it was freshman center Lindsay Robinson’s (Asbury Park) turn in the spotlight. Despite nurturing a season-long nagging back injury, Robinson came off the bench on fire as she scored a game-high 20 points and pulled down 10 rebounds. Klingert, who had 13 points, rounded her game out with three steals, assists and rebounds each. Schlutz walked away with eigth points and six steals, while Colette Canfield came up strong defensively with eight rebounds.

Head Coach Gloria Bradley said, “Lindsay has come a long way nicely. She’s stepped up on the boards and if we can her to hold onto the ball and commit fewer turnovers, she’s going to cause alot of problems, a real threat for other teams.”

Continued on p.22

MSU Swim team struggles to keep head above water

by CHRISTOPHER LEPRE
Assistant Sports Editor

The MSU men’s swimming team lost a close meet against Bloomsburg University last week by a score of 104-97. The score was tied at 93-93 going into the last event, but Bloomsburg pulled ahead in the 400 yard free-style relay, outscoring the Red Hawks 11 to four.

The highlight of the meet for MSU was senior Billy Blomn (Clifton) who was a triple winner in the 1000, 200, and 500 yard free-style events.

In the meet against Kutztown, the Red Hawks were defeated, this time getting blown-out of the water by a score of 128-69. Kutztown won seven out of 11 events, four of them by MSU disqualification’s. The Red Hawks standouts were Blomn with another triple crown in the 1000, 200, and 500 yard free-styles, and junior Kervin Quinones (Jersey City) winning the 200 yard Butterfly event. Overall the men’s team record now stands at 2-6.

Continued on p.23

Women’s basketball picks up streak with two wins

by DENNIS DEMERCURIO
Sports Editor

After losing two straight games to New Jersey Athletic Conference rivals, the MSU Women’s basketball team responded to their defeats by winning their next two games against the Rutgers-Newark Raiders last week and Ramapo Roadrunners this past Saturday.

The Red Hawks came out in the first half against the Raiders as they have in their past few games, somewhat tentative and apprehensive. Despite turning the ball over and missing open shots, MSU led 25-24 at the end of the half. The Red Hawks held onto the ball much of the first half, neglecting to pass when the opportunity arose. When MSU returned to the game in the second half, they learned from their first half experience and began to move the ball around to each other. Then the Red Hawk scoring blitz began.

Senior guard Heidi Klingert (Linwood) said, “It seems that we save everything for the second half, but we’re not doing that on purpose.”

MSU outscored Rutgers-Newark 28-19 on offense and defensively forced 30 turnovers. Senior forward Tracy Singletary (Keasby) had 13 points, five rebounds, three blocks and two steals on the night while junior guard Jill Schulz (West Milford) added 12 points and six rebounds.

Freshman forward Felicia Ingram (S. Brunswick) and Klingert tallied nine and six rebounds, respectively. With five points and rebounds, four steals and three assists, senior guard Lisa Villalta (Harrison) helped the Red Hawks gain their 12th win by defeating the Raiders, 53-43.

Against Ramapo College this past Saturday, it was freshman center Lindsay Robinson’s (Asbury Park) turn in the spotlight. Despite nurturing a season-long nagging back injury, Robinson came off the bench on fire as she scored a game-high 20 points and pulled down 10 rebounds. Klingert, who had 13 points, rounded her game out with three steals, assists and rebounds each. Schlutz walked away with eigth points and six steals, while Colette Canfield came up strong defensively with eight rebounds.

Head Coach Gloria Bradley said, “Lindsay has come a long way nicely. She’s stepped up on the boards and if we can her to hold onto the ball and commit fewer turnovers, she’s going to cause alot of problems, a real threat for other teams.”

Continued on p.22

• On the Inside

Sports

Men’s Basketball........p. 21
Women’s Basketball........p. 21
The Master Debate........p. 22
Swim team..................xp. 22

Stat of the Week:

Lindsay Robinson scores 20 points and grabs 10 rebounds against Ramapo College.