Teachers excluded from committee

By Tom Boud
Staff Writer

American Federation of Teachers (AFT) Local 1904 President Catherine Becker spoke out against union exclusion from a presidential candidate search committee in a December 1 interview in her Chapin Hall office.

Becker’s protest is in response to an October 6 memo from Board of Trustees chair Murray Cole. Cole said in the memo that the board has rejected AFT representation on a search committee that is presently seeking a replacement for former MSU President Irvin Reid. Reid left MSU in October for a higher paying position as president of Wayne State University. The search committee is due to select Reid’s successor by next March.

Instead of AFT representation, Cole proposed to consult with the University Senate on all matters pertaining to the quest for a new president. Nonetheless, Becker said Cole’s proposal is not sufficient.

ICE RINK OPENING DELAYED

By Tom Boud
Staff Writer

The opening of the Floyd Hall Ice Arena has been delayed until Christmas, Associate Director of Architectural and Engineering Services David Yen said on December 3. The ice arena, which features two skating rinks, is situated just west of lot 25.

Yen said rink number one was scheduled to open right after the Thanksgiving holiday break. However, the opening was postponed after officials from the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs (NJ DCA) determined that some safety modifications were necessary. Meanwhile, rink number two is still slated for completion in February, barring any excessively harsh winter conditions.

“On November 20, inspectors from the DCA came in and looked at rink number one. They said that we would have to add more fire alarms at different locations for easy accessibility in case of fire. The contractor is working on installing the alarms right now. This will take one month,” Yen said.

The additional fire alarms are being paid for with existing money in the Floyd Hall Ice Arena construction budget. Yen further mentioned that the rink one debut was also delayed on account of unfinished safety reviews.

“We are checking the refrigeration pressure in the systems that operate the ice machine, and the defrosting machine. There’s no actual problem with any of the two systems. These are just standard safety checks. We did not get around to doing this by the time the inspectors came, but we’ll have them done by Christmas,” Yen said.

Yen said he has yet received no word on the ice arena’s business hours.

“That’s up to Floyd Hall Enterprises. They will notify us when they have worked out a definite schedule. If all goes well, MSU students could be ice skating over winter break,” Yen said.

CLOVER ROAD, QUARRY CAMERAS WORKING AGAIN

The Quarry/Clove Rd security camera system is back on line, Department of Campus Safety and Security (DSS) Lt. Paul Calibre said on December 3.

Calibre said the camera system regained full function shortly after the November 26 edition of The Montclarion went to press. Calibre stated that DSS was able to fix an inoperative camera control console when a replacement arrived via FedEx. Calibre added that there have been no problems whatsoever ever since the new console was installed.

In last week’s issue, DSS Director Philip Calibre said the surveillance camera system had recently been out of commission due to technical difficulties with the main camera control board at DSS Headquarters. Calibre did not quantify exactly how long the camera system has been down, but did say that he instructed his patrol to pay increased attention to all areas around the cameras. A DSS officer insisting upon a new console when a replacement arrived via FedEx. Cell added that there have been no problems whatsoever ever since the new console was installed.

BILL INTRODUCED IN SGA TO FUND E-BOARD TUITION

Constitutionality of bill in question

By Kevin P. Hancock
Managing Editor

Student Government Association President Karen Cardell introduced legislation to the student government legislature yesterday that would allow for the SGA’s four executive board members to receive money “equal to no more than the cost of 12 credits,” in order to fund their full-time MSU tuition while in office, according to the bill.

This legislation, if approved, would allow the SGA president, vice-president, treasurer, and secretary to receive $1,117 each from the SGA budget every semester, adding up to a total semesterly appropriation of $4,471.

The money for this appropriation would be drawn from the SGA’s budget, which is appropriated to them each year from the money the MSU administration collects from student fees assessed on a per credit basis.

The bill sites that SGA executive board members are forced to make a “time commitment equal to that of a 40 hour work week,” preventing them from “holding down a substantial job.”

U.S. seeks world’s help to fight Internet crime

WASHINGTON -- The Justice Department said the two-day meeting beginning next Wednesday will be the first of its kind to gather international authorities to assess ways countries can cooperate to locate criminals who use the Internet and other new technologies and to ensure that there are no safe havens for cybercriminals.

The rapid and global growth of the Internet raises a host of complex issues involving criminal law enforcement that expand beyond national boundaries," Attorney General Janet Reno said Wednesday, addressing a conference on making the Internet a safer place for America’s children.

The Justice Department said law enforcement officials from the United Kingdom, Germany, Japan, Italy, Canada, France and Russia will participate in next week’s conference.

Cooler temps ease threat as fires’ page continues

SYDNEY, Australia -- Cooler temperatures Wednesday eased fears that bush fires would immediately threaten more homes near Sydney.

But forecasters predicted a return this weekend to the hot, dry and windy weather that has fanned the flames in the city’s southern "This crisis is nowhere near ended," New South Wales Emergency Services Minister Brian Langton told reporters.

"Every prognosis for the weather is that this is going to get a lot worse."

Officials evacuated more than 200 families from their homes Wednesday to escape the bush fires, which so far have killed two firefighters and destroyed nearly 40 homes.

World War II Allies caught in stolen gold scandal

LONDON — World War II allies France, Britain and the United States knowingly used gold stolen by the Nazis from individuals to repay looted European central banks after the war, the World Jewish Congress claimed Wednesday. But Britain immediately denied the allegation.

Britain, France and the United States set up the Tripartite Gold Commission after World War II to return looted gold to 10 countries whose treasuries had been sacked when Nazi Germany’s troops swept across Europe.

Clinton Returns To Fund-Raising

AKRON, Ohio --- One day after averting a special investigation into his telephone calls to political donors, President Clinton returned to his public fund-raising schedule Wednesday night with plans to raise $900,000.

After conducting a town hall meeting in Ohio on race relations, the president was flying to Chicago for two political events. He hoped to raise $350,000 for Democratic House candidates and $550,000 for the debt-ridden Democratic National Committee.

The trip is part of an intense effort by Clinton and Vice President Al Gore to close the gap in spending between Democrats and Republicans. The DNC is $13.2 million in debt; about $11 million of the red ink is due to legal bills rung up in campaign spending investigations.

Clinton addresses racial problems

AKRON, Ohio (Dec. 3) — The White House held its first town meeting on race at the University of Akron today where President Bill Clinton went face-to-face with 65 community leaders and students on the racial problems facing the nation.

Clinton stressed the importance of open, frank discussions on the issue of race. "I think it is very important that we understand that this is something that we have to keep dealing with honestly and openly. There are many people today with whom I have great sympathy who say, well, the president shouldn’t be talking about race out of context," the president said.

Supreme Court to hear Woodward trial

BOSTON — A justice of Massachusetts’ Supreme Judicial Court has ordered that the entire seven-judge court hear the combined appeals in the case of au pair Louise Woodward, possibly in March.

Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg, responding to an emergency petition from the prosecution seeking to immediately put Woodward back in prison, ordered on Wednesday that all of Woodward’s court records be consolidated to combine appeals filed by both the prosecution and the defense. The decision means that Woodward will remain free until a hearing before the Massachusetts Judicial Court.

Organizations observe AIDS Awareness Week

By James Falsstrom
Staff Writer

A number of campus groups met last Monday, December 1 for National AIDS Awareness Day which marked the start of AIDS Awareness week here at MSU. The purpose of the event was to promote AIDS awareness, compassion for those with AIDS, and safer sex among college students. The groups participating in and sponsoring the event included the Lambda Tau Omega Sorority, the Campus Health and Wellness Center, Psychological Services, the Women’s Center, the Campus Ministry Council, the Newman Catholic Center, and the Campus Protestant Foundation.

Lambda Tau Omega began AIDS Awareness Week by dropping AIDS ribbons from the balcony in the Student Center. Students were also invited to leave their handprint on a large cloth and write something about the cloth was covered with handprints, prayers, and heartfelt messages and could possibly be used as a patch for the national AIDS quilt according to Lambda Tau Omega. The ceremony also consisted of lectures from Nancy Ellson of the Health Center and Father Al Berner of the Catholic Center.

Lambda Tau Omega continued the week with free showings of the AIDS related movies Philadelphia, The Band Played On, Boys on the Side, and It’s My Party in the Blanton Hall Atrium. The week closed with a candle light vigil at the Blanton Quad last night.

Although most college students are aware of the myths and facts about AIDS, many are still confused about AIDS prevention. High risk behaviors can include anything form having too many sexual partners, not using latex condoms, or experimenting with intravenous drugs. Early symptoms of HIV can include fatigue, fever, loss of appetite, nausea, skin rashes and swollen neck glands. Early detection of HIV is necessary to slow the disease down and prevent the infection of others. An active lifestyle is still possible with early detection and treatment. Our Campus Health Center runs free oral HIV testing by appointment every Wednesday from 1-5pm on the first floor of Blanton Hall. No blood is required and results come back in two weeks. For more information or to make an appointment call 655-4361.

Throughout November the Annual Fund coordinated two phonathons to raise unrestricted funds for MSU. Over 12 events in 1 week, more than 60 student callers phoned parents and reunion-year alumni to request donations. Pledges totaled more than $25,000 for the Foundation and Alumni Association.

The contributions raised through both phonathons will provide funds for scholarships, programming, and special events on campus. The Alumni Phonathon also helps support publications such as Alumni Life.

“Students came out in droves to participate in this year’s phonathons and the results prove that they do an excellent job on the phones. Not only is phonathon fun, but it broadens students’ perspectives about the University as well as reinforces the importance of making donations to worthy causes,” said Deborah Winger, Director of the Annual Fund.

Lindsay Gurley, an MSU senior who was a caller at phonathon, said, “Participating at phonathon was a great new experience for me. The generosity of partners and alumni made my experience positive and fun. I’ll definitely be back for February’s phonathon.”

Two organizations that participated in the phonathons were HRLD and Alumni. These groups will utilize the money they earned by being student callers to fulfill their organizations’ philanthropy requirements.

Three MSU graduates, one alumnus from the class of ’88 and two from the class of ‘73, also made calls to other alumni in their graduation classes to increase interest in reunions planned for the first weekend of May.

“Volunteering at MSU’s Alumni Phonathon enabled to rekindle the pride I feel for my educational home base. Being around the student callers helped me remember my roots and it was satisfying to give something back to the institution that formed the foundation of my professional life,” said Serena Martino, an MSU alumnus who is chairing the reunion committee for the class of ‘73.

The tally for the Alumni Phonathon will continue to grow when the Annual Fund coordinates more weeks of fund raising this coming February.

Response from the University Senate:

(The following is excerpts of a letter from Murray L. Cole, Board of Trustees’ Chair to the Montclair St. Community regarding the presidential search committee.)

I would like to provide an update to the University community on behalf of the Board of Trustees with regard to the presidential search process. At its meeting on September 11, the Board described the composition of the search committee which includes campus-wide representation as follows:

6 faculty members (1 from each college/school, except 2 from the CHSS)
1 professional staff member
1 support staff member
2 administrators
1 dean
1 alumnus/alumna
2 undergraduate students
1 graduate student
2 trustees
17 voting members

In addition, a trustee chair and a staff coordinator will serve a non-voting member of the committee. The Board used the same composition as that in the 1988-89 presidential search, with the addition of one trustee. This composition affords an opportunity for every student and full-time employee of MSU to be nominated for membership on the committee.

The Board recognizes that within groups such as those listed above, there is great diversity of experience, background, and opinion. That is why we decided, once again, to use the same procedures as those from 1988-89 in making appointments to the committee.

That is why we decided, once again, to use the same procedures as those from 1988-89 in making appointments to the committee. Three constituent nominees for each position provides a diverse pool of candidates with various viewpoints, including that of graduate faculty and the AFT Local 1904.

Montclair State University is now in competition with both Rowan University and The College of New Jersey in searching for a new president. We have attempted to create a smooth process by using the procedures that were so successful the last time in attracting excellent candidates. Although the 19 member search committee will be large by national standards, we wish to be inclusive of all campus constituencies and to provide a significant voice for faculty. (Faculty and professional staff will constitute 41% of the voting members of the committee.)

Every member of our campus community is a member of at least one of the groups represented on the search committee.

Graduate studies expand to include doctoral programs

By Carolyn Velchick
Staff Writer

In former President Irvin Reid’s Vision Statement, he stated six points, one being the promotion of graduate education here at Montclair State University. This motive then set off proposals for three new doctorate programs: applied linguistics, environmental management and science, and pedagogy with specialization in mathematics and philosophy for children. After hearing former President Reid’s statement, faculty at Montclair State got together and created those three programs. They not only based their methods of programming on research, but also on surveys of potential students who may have wanted to enter the programs once they were established. In order for any of these doctorate programs to succeed, the programs themselves had to meet certain criteria: they had to be applied in their focus, interdisciplinary, non-duplicative, they must embrace the theme of certain criteria: they had to be applied in their focus, interdisciplinary, non-duplicative, they must embrace the theme of critical thinking, and they must build on existing program strengths. After meeting all of these criteria, the Board of Trustees not only rigorously reviewed these programs, but they also went as far as having consultants come in from across the country to review these proposals. Once the Board of Trustees approved the proposed programs, which was in the summer of 1996, the proposed programs were forwarded to the State, October 1996. Discussions occurring on the State levels brought about questions, which are now causing a holdup within the Ph.D. programs of applied linguistics and environmental management and science. Although these two programs are being held up, the EDD program in the field of pedagogy is still being pursued. It was approved by the Presidents Board of the State in November 1997 and is now awaiting hopeful approval from the Commission on Higher Education.

The proposed doctoral programs would benefit Montclair State University in more than one way, according to Dr. Carla M. Narrett, Dean of Graduate Studies. They also enhance graduate students within the region to become even more exceptional in the classroom and as leaders and scholars in New Jersey schools,” says Narrett. “High quality, well-prepared classroom teachers are the key to success in education,” said Dr. Julie Minier, director of the Center of Pedagogy.

Former President Reid’s Vision Statement has definitely paved the way towards more of a focus on doctoral programs here at Montclair State University. Although doctoral programs are moving up, Lynde maintains, “undergraduate education is still the main focus of this University.”
There is still time to apply for the SCHOLARSHIPS available from the Montclair State University Alumni Association.

Deadline for all Scholarship applications is December 15.

Applications are available at the Alumni House, 34 Normal Ave. Directly across from Sprague Football Field.

Residence Life Benefit Fashion Show raises $1,100

By Rhoda Donat
Staff Writer

On Tuesday, December 2, 1997, in the Student Center ball rooms, the second annual benefit fashion show was held. Something Different for '98, it was a memorable event presented by the Residence Life staff. This event was dedicated to the memory of Yvonne Collins, Kevin Anguin and Omar Redding.

The evening began with the scene Four seasons... In this setting, an assortment of 28 models graced the runway with a variety of stylish pant suits, short skirts and long dresses. The hues of these garments ranged from black and blue, brown or silver, to lime green and bright red. The combinations respectively representing colors from each season.

This scene was the first of eight which was displayed. Coordinated by Breniece Duran, the committee members included: Erinn Brown, Clara Cheung, Nikki Colella, Theresa Elehak, Marsha Guthrie, Matthew Kane, Amy Kgpzynski, Tara Morlando, Dana Sevean, Lori Tobias, Leah Weinberger, and Nicole Zeimer, with special assistance from Elizabeth Jiminian, Kelly Marin and Christina Piedra. Greg Ciccone and Opheila Johnson served as masters of ceremonies. The scenes following Four Seasons were: In Style, (contemporary wear), Making You Sweat (sports wear), The Great Outdoors (hiking gear), Intimate Moments, (lingerie), Free Your Soul, (metallic wear), and A Touch of Elegance, (formal wear).

The final scene, We’ll Be Missing You brought to light the purpose of the entire event. The models: Ruben Delgado, Shola Briggs, Jason D. Jerimiah, Mike Scott, Conni Freestone, Brenda Sheeahan, Pandora Anderson, Hyun S. Park, Yocasta Garcia, Shabenea Rehan, Angie Del Busto, Steven Daniels, Antoine Smith, Erica Jiminian, Damion Newman, Carolyn Jean-Phililppe, Neneh Kamara, David Leon, Kelly Marin, McMasyarakat Olei Meinga, Timothy Cheung, Milton Olate, Dementa Ashe, Christina Piedra, Mari Del Busto, Elizabeth Jiminian, Berenice Duran and Matthew Kane, came out dressed all in black as they performed a melancholy march as a symbol to paying tribute to the individuals to whom the event was dedicated.

Matthew Kane, Resident Director of Blanton Hall commented “It was a wonderful event. It was a fitting tribute in memory of the students who passed away.”

Collins, born March 4, 1974, was a Pre-med student enrolled in the Health careers program. In the evenings program she was described as, “a loving person who tried to bring love into the lives of everyone she touched”.

Anguin, born in Manchester, Jamaica on September 9, 1974, was remembered as “a kind, loving and compassionate person. His easy going manner and his pleasant personality attracted people to him.”

Thoughtful and thrifty this holiday season

By Kara L. Richardson
Feature Editor

What if your holiday shopping list goes on and on but your ATM card doesn’t. The holiday season is becoming more and more commercialized, and there is more pressure to buy more. Well, a lack of money doesn’t mean you won’t put some joy into someone’s holiday gift. I have come up with some handmade gifts that will lighten anyone’s heart and your credit card statement for months to come.

You can start by saving money on holiday cards. Although it may seem like a small gesture, holiday cards are a great way of letting loved ones know that you are thinking about them this season. If you are not sure which holiday someone celebrates, a New Year’s news letter is a politically correct way to go about it. Hand delivering cards is a charming way of saving cash, postage adds up. You can make your own cards by recycling parts of old cards given to you. Just cut out pictures or designs and paste them to some construction paper. This money saving tactic is not only great for the wallet, it can produce some pretty, creative greeting cards.

Perhaps your skills lie in the wood-working category, stop by any craft or hardware store and you will be able to find whatever you need to bring the Tim Allen out of anyone. There are kits and instructions available at most stores for those who don’t have time to start with the bare tree. Remember things like painting, engraving, stenciling can help personalize your gift.

Making a batch of candles can save you a bunch of money. Candles are an easy craft to make and a perfect gift for all ages. Scented or unscented, dipped, beeswax, colored, round, pillars, etc. the list goes on and on. There are many products out there in craft stores to help you out. Candle making is also a fun pre-holiday activity to share with a friend to gear up for the sea—

Stressed out about stress

By Peter Kofitsas
Staff Writer

Have you ever experienced a sudden increase in your heart rate, surge of body heat, beads of perspiration and a feeling of hopelessness, all the result of a sudden realization that finals or some other major event is lurking from a corner of an ever-approaching future?

This is stress, and depending how you react to it can mean the difference between happiness and despair. Stress comes in many forms, from a positive anticipation of graduation, to anguish over failing a course. It is an inherent component of our everyday life. The good news is it is not a hereditary gene whose only purpose is to wreak havoc. It only seems like that when we allow it to.

Dr. Schwartz of the Psychology Department says, “Stress, especially during finals, can obscure our focus and can cause us to lose sight of our goals.” What can we do about it? How does it affect us? Can it ever be helpful, or does it always warrant caution? First, it is important to identify stressors then step back and rationally confront the source. How you think? We’re glad you asked. Fortunately someone has done the legwork for us and has provided answers to these questions. Dr. Susan J. Herman, Director of Psychological Services located in the Gilbreh House, has recently produced a helpful newsletter offering insights into causes, health consequences, and strategies all related to stress. She says, “Just as there are many sources of stress, there are many possibilities for its management.”

Eliminating stress is not possible or necessary. She says what is important is how to manage it and use it to our benefit. Because we are all unique human beings by nature we all interpret events in our lives differently. What is stressful to some is not to others and so on.

Sometimes our bodies give us cues that we are “stressed out.” According to Dr. Herman, we may experience headaches, skin disorders, menstrual discomfort, insomnia, overeating, and an upset stomach. These symptoms may be brought on by various sources including our thoughts, perceptions and environment, which includes social, psychological and physical interactions and experiences.

Dr. Herman offers many stress survival techniques in the newsletter. She says to begin the morning with a good breakfast and try to eat three balanced meals a day. Try to avoid caffeine and sugary treats that may cause excitability.

Next, try to manage your time wisely. Learn to be organized and do not concern yourself over things you
Alpha Phi Omega hosts blood drive at MSU

By Kara L. Richardson

Alpha Phi Omega, MSU’s coed service fraternity, hosted the third Blood Drive this semester on Wednesday, December 3. From 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. the Alpha Phi Omega volunteers greeted the blood donors as a service to the New Jersey Blood Bank. According to Lennon N. Barkley, an Alpha Phi Omega brother, the blood drives are open to the public. She mentioned that they avoid a sign up process to encourage more people to donate blood. The Alpha Phi Omega brothers noted a good response to their frequent blood drives. On average the drives will attract 50 people to give blood. There are usually two days offered by Alpha Phi Omega but on this particular drive, the Student Center was only available for one day.

A New Jersey Blood Center Phlebotomist, P. Ravirajait mentioned that the holiday time is a crucial time for the Blood Center. The supply of blood drops very low due to frequent accidents. The blood drive is not the only on-campus service done by Alpha Phi Omega. With 20 active brothers, the Nu Psi chapter has played an influential role around the community and in MSU life. The enthusiastic group of students has been a part of campus clean-ups, church paintings and the AIDS Dance-a-thon. Recently, the chapter made a donation to the Kevin Anguin scholarship fund.

According to Kane, the benefit coni, from 7 the students who were in attendance. Tears at the end of the show, were moved by the love and support demonstrated by students who passed away.

You haven’t had many lovers have you? If you have this many reservations about sex, maybe you should ask yourself if you should be doing it at all. When you’re with someone who you feel totally comfortable with, trying new things and pleasing each other can be exciting and fun. Sex with the wrong person can be disastrous though, so choose carefully. You’re missing out on a lot!

You’re experienced, but not too much. You’re good to your partner, but you’re not always sure what you’re doing is right. Allow your partner to lead you to his/her pleasure spots. Ask them to if you have to. What you know may not please every person you are with. Try new things! Take new paths! Allow yourself to expand and you’ll be set!

31-45

Can I have your number?! You’re obviously very comfortable with your body and interested in getting the most out of your sex life. You’re curious, adventurous, willing to try anything once, and just like to have a good time. You are knowledgeable about your partners needs and desires, and you’re not afraid to please. You have the moves and the skills and have no qualms with using them. You never allow your partner to leave unsatisfied. You are so good you keep them coming back for more! Don’t stop baby!!

We hope you enjoyed this little homemade quiz and we also hope that everyone scored within the highest range! Let us know how you did!

Stress cannot change, like the past. Identify deadlines and be prepared. Try to relax a few minutes every day. Take a deep breath and release slowly. This can help bring your heart rate and respiration back to normal. Meditation and massage can also be helpful. Exercise is also an excellent release for built up stress. Try moderate physical activities like walking, cycling or swimming. You can use this time to get away from pressures.

DURING THE LAST 4 WEEKS I HAVE NOTICED:

BEING SAD, HOPELESS, BORED OR BLUE □ □ □
BEING ANXIOUS, IRRITABLE, RESTLESS OR EDGY □ □ □
A LOSS OF INTEREST OR PLEASURE □ □ □
POOR CONCENTRATION OR MEMORY □ □ □
CHANGES IN EATING OR SLEEP PATTERNS □ □ □

IF YOU CHECKED “A LOT” IN TWO OR MORE ROWS, YOU MIGHT QUALIFY FOR ONE OF OUR FREE RESEARCH PROGRAMS. FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CALL US AT (888) 561-5505.
If handy crafts aren't your thing, how about a mix tape? You don't even have to own a huge CD selection to make a good one. Borrow some from friends. Call up a radio station during an all-request segment. If you have the capability, you could add your own voice with a holiday greeting. You can even add some clips from favorite movies or TV shows. Personalize the cover with a picture of yourself or a mini-collage from magazines. The real dollars that you spend on a blank tape will go a long way with this memorable gift!

Creativity is the key to saving money during the holiday season. Use your own skills and talents. Maybe you write a poem during an English class that got rave reviews. If you use a calligraphy pen, write it on fancy paper and maybe use some watercolor paints around it, it's a gift!

Picture frames can be very inexpensive to buy and even cheaper to personalize. Take a book of quotations and find an appropriate quote and write it around the frame or matting, add the picture and voila. I once gave a friend of mine in Sweden a picture frame with the saying "A friend is always there for you even if you don't give good directions."

Theme baskets can make a few inexpensive things come together as a beautiful gift. If you have a friend with a new baby fill a basket full of helpful things, like diapers, wipes and baby oil. A pasta lover would be delighted to receive an appetizing basket with some pasta, olive oil and a jar of sauce in it. Throwing in a wooden stirring spoon with a ribbon wrapped around it would be a nice touch. Inexpensive baskets can be found in many craft, discount and retail stores.

Baked goods can be a tasty holiday treat. Recipients will appreciate the hours you spent slaving over a stove for these gifts. If you are going to mail baked goods, make sure you prepare solid foods like breads. Delicate cookies may arrive as crumbs. Take time to package your gifts well to ensure that they arrive safely and fresh.

Wrapping and presentation can make any small or inexpensive gift luxurious. Recycling paper is a good idea, as long as it's not torn. Personally designed paper is also a good way to personalize your gifts. Be excessive with bows and ribbons.

If you can't make a gift, offer your assistance with dreary chores. Make coupon books for friends, family or significant others. Do you know someone with kids? How about a few hours of free baby-sitting? How about your parents, is there a project at home that never seems to be done? Make a coupon for it. I bet your roommate would like a week off from dishwashing duty. Can you cut hair, give manicures, mend or sew? These are all talents that your loved ones would appreciate more than you would think!

As over used as the expression is, "It's the thought that counts." Thoughtful and handmade gifts will bring joy to anyone's holiday this year.

Giving the greatest gift

By Mariel Aponte
Staff Writer

It's finally that time of the year. The holidays are here. For some people that means memorable moments of tree trimming, eggnog and many gifts. But for some other people it might not be so pleasant. The holidays can bring disappointment, loneliness and depression. There are a lot of unhappy people that we'd just rather forget sometimes when we get caught up in the joy of the season.

There are a myriad of events to participate in this season. For example, some local community churches are participating in food drives and providing services for the homeless. You can learn about other community service activities by calling local hospitals, schools, food banks, and shelters. Donating blood is another crucial service during this time of year. Service agencies and organizations are in great need of help this time of the year.

Sometimes we find ourselves stressed out because of all the commotion with the last minute shopping and hustle and bustle of parking and even figuring out what to buy for who, that brings out the worst in most of us and we tend to forget about the people who are less fortunate. We should think about them and do something. The smallest bit helps.

Donating money, food, blood or participating in other planned charity events are wonderful ways of making a difference in someone's life. The rewarding experience of helping someone in need may be the best gift you give this year.

What is it like to be a Lab Assistant, Part 2

If you read part one, you know the score. If you didn't, listen up: this is a "screenplay" that someone wrote a while back called, "Lab Assistants On Location - MSU." I'm printing this to show you exactly what lab assistants have to deal with. Remember it next time you're in the lab.

Lab Assistants On Location - MSU

LA (lab assistant - voice over): A lot of people who use the labs just sit around on e-mail and Netscape for hours. They really make me mad when there are several students who need to type a paper up. In the old days, I used to kick these several students who need to type a paper up. In the old days, I used to kick these students out of the lab, but since teachers have begun putting a lot of people who use the labs just sit around on e-mail and Netscape for hours.

Scene: LA is standing over a student helping him. Another student approaches him.

LA: ...okay, you have to make sure to change the drive to A: before saving. Just call me if you have any problems.

STUDENT: Hi, can you help me?

LA: Sure, what seems to be the problem?

STUDENT: The mouse isn't working.

LA: Let me take a look. Hmmmm...it looks like the computer froze. Did you save your paper?

STUDENT: No, I don't have a disk!

LA: The only thing we can do is reset the computer. Your paper might get lost, but there is no other solution. I recommend that you purchase a disk before using the computer again so that you can save your work periodically.

STUDENT: I don't have the TIME to type it again, you @$$hole!!! What kind of piece of st lab is this? MSU sucks!!!

LA: I'm sorry, but there is nothing else I can do.

LA (voice over): I could tell the student was becoming upset and I tried my best to avoid an altercation. I tried to ease the tension, but he got agitated and stormed off out of the lab. Sometimes there is nothing we can do. It is just a fact of life. I wish I could have done more, but it was out of my control.

Scene: LA sitting at computer typing. A student voices some irritation.

STUDENT: Damn it, I hate these stupid chair letters. Why do people keep sending them to me?

LA (voice over): I approached the student and asked what the problem was. She informed me that she had just received another chain letter from somebody she doesn't know. She also informed me about her superstitions and how these letters were making her nervous if she didn't do exactly as it says. Fortunately, I had a solution for her. I wrote a letter to the head of the alpha system and had the person who sent the letter's account suspended. She seemed at ease knowing that person was in trouble, so I went on with my job. Anytime there is a problem, I do my best to assess the problem, approach it with care, and try to solve it in the most logical and least harmful way. It's my love for people that keeps me doing my job. Without people, I wouldn't have a job.

The End

Write Me:
If you have any questions you'd like answered, or you'd just like to tell me what a freak I am, feel free to write me at: collil@alpha.montclair.edu

The last column this year will be responses to all the questions I get, no matter how dumb the questions may be. As always, there will probably be a few celebrities who want my answers :).

A very different Turkish perspective

I was appalled by last week’s article under the Feature Section’s “International Focus.” Recep Kaplan’s perspective is only his and it neither represents nor reflects the attitudes of the other Turkish people in the United States.

It is true that Turkish society is more family oriented and there is freedom of religion, but Turkish society is also known for hospitality and tolerance to other ideas. Mr. Kaplan, by stereotyping all American men as “muscles” and women as “bimbos,” is not representing the Turkish perspective, but only his own ignorance.

Perhaps Mr. Kaplan should get out more often and see the millions of Americans who are both intelligent and highly intellectually.

Mr. Kaplan also commented on America’s lack of cultural curiosity. What kind of an illogical statement is that coming from such an intellectual person such as Mr. Kaplan? Just in this region alone, there are thousands of people from all over the world, each bringing their own ideas into our lives. If Americans are not culturally curious then I don’t know of any other country that is. Even if Americans were not curious about other cultures, Mr. Kaplan is in a perfect position to alleviate that problem as President of the International Student Organization.

What has he done to make Americans more curious about other cultures?

It is both shameful and regretful that a person in the third year of study at a UNIVERSITY still makes ignorant and stereotypical comments about another culture. What is even more shameful is that he is the president of ISO. I have a suggestion for Mr. Kaplan. If he finds Americans so intellectually weak and vain, then he should continue the rest of his education back in Turkey.

Kaplan owes all Americans an apology

I am writing in response to Tom Boud’s interview of Recep Kaplan. With all due respect to Mr. Kaplan’s right to free speech, I do not feel that he should be acting as President of the International Student Organization.

In particular, his labeling of “American girls as bimbos” in conjunction with his separatist attitude disqualified him for the aforementioned position.

I demand an apology to all Americans, especially American woman. I will not tolerate such bigotry being supported by the U.S. tax dollar. I wonder why Mr. Kaplan has chosen to become educated by the American dummies when he has such exciting things to do back home such as talking about turbins. I see that Mr. Kaplan hangs out in bars rather than the library and chooses to make his observations according to that segment of the population.

Mr. Kaplan’s comments are pointless and he has shown no qualifications to be an ambassador. I agree that Americans are closed minded about learning other languages, but I should also remind Mr. Kaplan that it is his job to integrate into American society, not vice versa. He should not categorize others if he does not choose to be stereotyped. A logical explanation to Mr. Kaplan’s dilemma would be for him to return to a more friendly, better-educated, and family-oriented society. I am not calling Mr. Kaplan a hypocrite, because he does fine all by himself. God bless America.

Student’s own version of computer lab adventures

To the Editor,

I must admit, I found Mr. Colli’s last few “Log On @ MSU” articles interesting. Interesting in that they provided me with some good fictional entertainment. In them, he refuted my observation on Lab Assistants being incompetent and overpaid. Now perhaps in some computer lab, at some school, on some planet there is an army of Lab Assistants that fit Mr. Colli’s utopian model, but not at MSU. Granted there must be a few Lab Assistants that know how to do something beyond checking their e-mail, but there are too many that I have seen that are too busy doing homework or “phoning” friends to give more than a simple answer to a student’s computer question. Don’t even get me started on what they get paid for this.

Now don’t get me wrong, I appreciate the fact that LAs are students doing a job to benefit the University. In fact, some good friends of mine are Lab Assistants. Take for example my recently hired friend (who will remain nameless). After she was hired she came to ask me a favor. She wanted to know if I could teach her how to make a script that she could integrate into American society, not vice versa. She should not categorize others if he does not choose to be stereotyped. A logical explanation to Mr. Kaplan’s dilemma would be for him to return to a more friendly, better-educated, and family-oriented society. I am not calling Mr. Kaplan a hypocrite, because he does fine all by himself. God bless America.

Letters to the editor...
American women are not all "bimbos"

Dear Editor,

Upon reading last week's Montclarion, I took an interest in the title “This week: A Turkish Perspective.” I would like to make a few comments. In high school, two of my best friends were Turkish girls. They taught me several dances at a Turkish hall with all Turkish people. My friends’ parents did not like Americans and they tried to keep their daughters away from us. For some reason, they liked me, so I was welcome in their home, but no others were. The point of all this information is to tell Recep Kaplan a thing or two about American bimbos. Every woman in the United States is not a bimbo and it is unfair of him to generalize in that manner. Personally, I am not a bimbo and I am very interested other cultures. I love meeting people or different races and ethnicities and I always inquire about their culture. I’m sure that I am not the only American to do so, either. If Recep Kaplan keeps up with his attitude, I’m sure he’ll never have a girlfriend to talk about when he goes to his bars.

I could very well throw in some rude comments about Turkish people given the hardship I went through to be accepted among them. But I won’t be, because I like Turkish people as well as Chinese people, and Greek people and so on. I will also not sink to Recep Kaplan’s level either. I was angered by his comments and disappointed because the article started out nicely enough, but he blew it with his comments. If I wasn’t curious about culture, I wouldn’t have started to read the article at all. My final words to Recep Kaplan himself are, “If it’s so bad here in America, then don’t let the door hit you in the ass on your way out!”

Ice rink will only cause us problems

It has been the noise of the steam shovels, dump trucks and other construction machines, maybe it has been either the traffic disruptions in the vicinity of the Clove Road Bridge or losing some parking spaces in the lower lots of the Quarry. Perhaps, like many other people, you’ve seen it with your own eyes or in the Montclarion. In case you still do not know, I am talking about the Floyd Hall Ice Arena that is being built near the railroad tracks behind Lot 28 off of Clove Road.

I was shocked to find out that this arena will not even be primarily for use by Montclair State students. It is designed for use by area high schools. As to make this seem rational to us, we are told that a venue such as this might draw more perspective students to our campus.

But anyone with an ounce of intelligence would ask, “What about the students who are already on this campus?” What about the students that find it very difficult to park their vehicles safely and conveniently? What about the students that often abandon this campus on the weekends for lack of a better thing to do?

Over a very limited time at this University, I have discovered that our administrators only seem to care about money. The more students they have attending this institution, the more students there are to pay the tuition every time someone decides to raise it to pay for something that we are not going to see.

I understand that the money for the ice rink came from Hall and Hall Enterprises. Further understood is that no money came from Montclair State (or so we are told). The money that these prospective students will bring in will make our greed filled administration very happy.

A student like you or I that is paying hard earned money to attend this university has every right to be crying foul, especially whenever we make an attempt to park our car in the already overcrowded parking lots. Instead of trying to pack in more of your “prospective” students, worry about the ones that are already here.

Worry about the students that must wait in the biting cold for a shuttle bus (any of the nine of them) that will take its sweet time to arrive. Worry about the resident students that have to park at least a mile from their dorms.

Mr. Hall, my message to you is to listen to the needs of the community that you have chosen to build your precious ice rink in. A community of students that does not have a safe and convenient place to park their vehicles, which many of them depend on immensely. Instead of an ice rink which they will barely be able to use, you should have given them a parking garage of at least seven stories. This would be secure, and it would have plenty of room to park our vehicles. Plus, this would have created jobs for the students on this campus that are already having their money sucked out of their pockets by this greedy driven University.

If Mr. Hall and our administration were so hot to have an ice rink here, why didn’t they create the provision for a Montclair State University Hockey Team? Again, in the Public Educational Arena, making sense is not the order of the day.

Maybe they will let us use this ice arena once in a while. Those students that enjoy ice skating may stay here one weekend and do so, instead of running home from this “suitecase school” and abandoning it for the weekend for whatever reason. But why is it that people whom we do not know have to come on our campus, disrupt our traffic flow, to use something that we will not even own until the middle of next semester?

Furthermore, the Department of Campus Safety and Security (DSS) says that they are worried about having added strain placed upon them trying to secure the grounds of the new Floyd Hall Ice Arena. A quick solution for that would be to hire students to work for DSS. There are many able bodied students in need of work, that would solve any problem being employed by DSS for slightly above minimum wage (which is what other unskilled campus jobs pay).

These students could serve as extra sets of eyes on this ever growing campus. They could handle basic needs such as parking parking tickets, sitting in guard booths, patrolling the campus. This way, our present DSS staff could do more important things like work on investigations, ticket speeding motorists on Carlisle Road, or provide safety and security to the students who live on and use this campus. This solution is sensible, and it would costs much less than hiring new policemen and security guards.

So clearly, the intelligent among you can see that our new ice arena is just another problem to add to the list of growing pains that our overcrowded University is experiencing.
MSU senior gets his break with Chubby Checker

By Victoria Tengelics
Arts Editor

Those who have attended any of the open mic events at MSU may be aware of some of the overwhelming talent we have on our campus. Scott Solomon is a senior here at MSU majoring in Music Education; he is also an accomplished saxophone player who has played with, among others, Chubby Checkers and The Nerds.

Scott started playing the saxophone in the fourth grade when he got to choose an instrument to learn to play at school. His father was also a musician who played with the late Jimi Hendrix in the 60's. Scott says three types of saxophones: soprano, alto and tenor; along with the flute and the piano. He performs with various bands at bars, weddings and other functions. Scott first started playing out when he was fifteen at local bar bands around Freehold. In 1993 he recorded the soundtrack for Kathy Ireland’s fitness show on E.S.P.N., Body Shaping.

Recently, Scott performed with Chubby Checker at a show in Virginia. “I got my name around from playing out a lot. A friend of mine is Chubby Checkers and The Nerds.” He played with Chubby for a year.”

Currently Scott is with Main Attraction a wedding/bar band which Scott feels is “probably one of the best bands I’ve ever worked with.” Scott also has a jazz quartet which has played at MSU in the past. Scott has studied with Erik Sanborne, probably the most recorded rock-saxophone player there is. He was Michael Brecker, Stevie Wonder, James Brown, and Jimi Hendrix.”

His advice on how to get into the music business is: “The biggest thing that I would say is don’t just play an instrument, become a musician if you are really serious. Because if you just want to make it big, you want your one big shot, then you’re just going to get one shot. If you’re a musician and you really know your instrument you can work, you can really make a living at it for years. It’s a shame, you listen to the music that’s out there, now, it’s just people playing instruments and they play three chords and they scream and I think it’s sad that people don’t take it seriously. Music is such a craft.”

I got a chance to see Scott perform with Main Attraction; he was very impressive. With his talent and drive, he is sure to succeed.

Children of Eden is a refreshing change from the norm

By Garry Doxy
Staff Writers

“Children of Eden” is the musical child of Stephen Schwartz (music and lyrics) and John Caird (book) based on an original idea by designer Charles Lisanby. Many might know Stephen Schwartz from his hit musical “Godspell.” Religion seems to offer Schwartz an outlet for his creative impulses.

“I am concerned with spiritual issues, but the truth is, these projects find me, mostly,” said Schwartz. “It’s not the religious aspects that attract me to them, but the fact that they deal with big stories, big human issues and people making choices and decisions under very extreme circumstances.”

Children of Eden is loosely based on the Genesis’ accounts of the creation of Adam and Eve and the story of Noah. Note the word loosely. It raises some pertinent questions, such as: the judgment of God in allowing the temptation of Eve, his involvement and subsequent silence toward mankind and his decision to annihilate all species of creation at the time of Noah.

“What appealed to me about the idea was that it was a way to deal with the issue of dysfunctional families and how dysfunction gets passed from generation to generation,” continued Schwartz. And according to him, “it’s the first family which happens to consist of God and Adam and Eve” that is to be blamed for originating dysfunction.

The strong melodic voices of Stephanie Mills (Eve/Mama Noah) and Kelli Rabke (Yona, wife of Noah’s son Japhet) stress the mettle of the female leads in the play. They are not portrayed as the weaker vessel rather the strongest characters that question the motives of God and their own exclusion in the finality of events. “God doesn’t talk to me,” said Eve to Adam. Besides strength, Miss Mills and Miss Rabke offer delightful performances that also accent the early feminine sensibilities.

Adrian Zmed (Adam/Noah) and William Solo (Father) create the typical father and son tumultuous relationship. The cycle by which a growing son searches for answers and direction from his father and son tumultuous relationship.

Lawrence plays the saxophone at MSU

By Robert Oakes

With lills, shrieks, buzzes and key taps on his sax, MSU Professor Erik Lawrence invited his audience to join him and his group as they performed improvised music at a noon recital on Monday afternoon at McEachem Recital Hall.

After his initial solo piece, Lawrence welcomed two friends, upright bassist Dave Keyes and electric guitarist Eric Schenkman, onto the stage to engage in some spontaneous composition. The trio improvised nearly every note of music heard that afternoon, though some was previously written. “There is little music on the stand,” Lawrence said, pointing to a few sheets of paper on which only bits of bars and notes were scribbled. “Most of the music isn’t even in our heads yet.”

Lawrence explained that when performing improvised music, the first rule to follow is that all musical rules are broken. Unsure of what was about to happen, Lawrence said, “so, let’s play, guys.” Then the group took their instruments in hand as the audience looked on quietly.

Schenkman began with some ringing notes on guitar and was met by Keyes’ deep bass tones. Lawrence added his sax, and the trio sparked a musical meditation. At times the trio locked in together completely and at times they ventured off into separate places.

Three pieces performed by the group originated from songs composed by Lawrence and Schenkman. The first, “Epifanes” by Schenkman, whose credits include starting the group “The Spin Doctors,” is soon to be recorded, said Lawrence.

The next piece, entitled “Lullaby” was a soft, melodic tune composed by Lawrence. The song seemed to include some intentional dissonance within its sweet context as well as some dirty guitar.

“Beautiful Nightmare,” another piece by Lawrence, began with some piercing sax notes then flowed into some wonderful interplay between the players. The piece involved a series of pauses and starts, as the trio weaved harmonies together masterfully.

After the performance, the musicans talked questions from the audience and discussed the process of spontaneous
Midnight in the Garden of Good and Evil

By Gabrielle Wild
Assistant Arts Editor

The film Midnight in the Garden of Good and Evil is one of this year’s best. The film is an adaptation of John Berendt’s best selling novel and is directed by Clint Eastwood.

Midnight in the Garden of Good and Evil stars John Cusack as John Kelso, a writer in New York. Kelso comes to Savannah, Georgia, where the entire movie is set, to write an article on one of the most lavish Christmas parties in the South. Kelso soon discovers that Savannah isn’t a normal Southern town. In fact, everyone Kelso meets once his plane lands in Savannah is eccentric. But, it is these whimsical characters that make the film such an entertaining one. For example, where else can you find a man that walks an invisible dog? Overall, Cusack does a superb job playing Kelso, who is more like a fish out of water than a hero.

The film also stars Kevin Spacey, who plays Jim Williams, a wealthy antiques dealer. He holds an annual black-tie Christmas party at his mansion, Mercer House; which is the reason for Kelso’s trip to Savannah. Williams is himself an eccentric character. His sultry elegance makes him stand out on the screen and his lavish Christmas parties in the South. Kelso meets once his plane lands in Savannah is eccentric. But, it is these whimsical characters that make the film such an entertaining one. For example, where else can you find a man that walks an invisible dog? Overall, Cusack does a superb job playing Kelso, who is more like a fish out of water than a hero.

There are many notable things to play. Kelso goes to bed early that evening. He witnesses an argument between Williams and his young assistant, Billy. He is again awakened during the night; only this time it is by the police who have gathered at Mercer House. Cusack, Kelso walks right into the uncontrollable crime scene. Kelso tries to find Williams explaining to the police why his young assistant is lying dead on the floor in his study. Kelso decides to stay in Savannah for the murder trial so that he can write a book about it after it is over.

The murder trial sparks the second part of the movie. Kelso settles into Savannah and goes around interviewing connections to the murder of Williams’ assistant. The first person that Kelso confronts, while leaving them room to develop their own parts. He called this sort of interactive improvisation, “sustained composition.”

Keyes explained that in order to improvise well, a player should first learn the many different musical scales and the ways to improvise with them. “Then forget everything and just listen to what the others are playing,” he said. “Just feel it.”

Schenkman agreed, saying, “Forget everything. The biggest danger is taking music too seriously. Allow yourself to have freedom.”

Though the major character conflicts seem to melt into the character of Williams. His performance alone is reason enough to see the movie.

The first part of the movie was like a big dream sequence. Kelso comes to Savannah with one mission: to gather information for his article on the Mercer House Christmas party for Town and Country Magazine. He meets Williams who shows him around the extraordinary mansion. Kelso goes to bed early that night in Williams’ guest house, only to be awakened in the middle of the night by Mandy Nicholls, played by Alison Eastwood. Eastwood serves as Cusack’s love interest throughout the film.

Kelso goes to Williams’ party the next night and has a very interesting evening. He witnesses an argument between Williams and his young assistant, Billy. He is again awakened during the night; only this time it is by the police who have gathered at Mercer House. Cusack, Kelso walks right into the uncontrollable crime scene. Kelso tries to find Williams explaining to the police why his young assistant is lying dead on the floor in his study. Entertainment in the 90's: The karaoke experience
By: Angela Marchetti
Staff Writer

There's a scenario for you: It's the weekend. You and some friends have decided to go to the local bar in town for a few drinks and some laughs. Upon arriving at the bar, you see some people on a small stage singing to some accompaniment tapes, laughing, carrying on and having a pretty good time. Then you realize, it's karaoke night. But, what is karaoke? To you, it's probably just a bunch of drunk people getting up on stage, making fools of themselves "trying" to sing. In some cases, that could be true, but what's the history behind this new entertainment craze that's sweeping the nation?

The Japanese like parties. From ancient times, a party became enlivened when someone started singing and the others kept time with hand-clapping, making the atmosphere more cheerful. It has never mattered whether the person was well or not. Even if he sings out of tune, it can spark laughter and make the party more lively.

It is now widely recognized that the use of karaoke started at a snack bar in Kobe City, an industrial trading hub located in Western Japan. It is said that when a strolling guitarist could not come to perform at the bar due to illness or other reasons, the owner of the bar prepared tapes of accompaniment recorded by local singers and locals enjoyed singing to the tapes. Until then, customers used to listen to popular songs via wire broadcasting; they would request their favorite songs by telephone, and the bar would broadcast a company hotline. The songs on the air. It was then that karaoke appeared on the scene. Holding a microphone and singing a song to the accompaniment of an "orchestra," you can feel like a professional singer. If other customers give you a big hand, you feel all the happier. Karaoke has thus stimulated people's desire to sing. Consequently, karaoke immediately spread from Kobe City, all over Japan and to the United States.

So, you're at the bar, and you see these people up on the stage having a good time and you think you might want to try your hand at karaoke. What do you do? Companies such as Sing-Sing Karaoke provide bars with their karaoke equipment such as CD players that include laser disk graphics which appear on a television screen in front of you while you're singing along to the accompaniment music. Located on the tables and bars are thick, hard-bound books filled with lists of over 1,000 songs listed by song title and artist alphabetically. Once you find the song you'd like to try, you fill out a little slip of paper, hand it to one of the professional karaoke singers (yes, these people are professional and do this for a living), and are called up to the stage on a first-come-first-serve basis. Many people try karaoke for the first time in a group setting. "I was so nervous the first time I got up on stage," stated sophomore, Rider University student Urszula Broniszewski. "Actually, I was pulled up onto stage by a group of friends, but once we started singing, I didn't want to stop." Many people like the solo spotlight and choose to sing alone. "Karaoke's a lot of fun," states Montclair State senior, Tracy Polay. "It's great getting up there and being the center of attention, but it is kind of nerve-racking."

Many bars around the Tri-State area hold "Karaoke Nights" and even have designated contests where contestants can compete for cash awards and even trips. One karaoke company recently sent three semi-finalists to Las Vegas to compete in a National Amateur Karaoke contest, in which the winner could win up to $10,000. This past summer, Sing-Sing Karaoke held a contest where the winners of 4 different contests were invited to sing at the Meadowlands Fair, as well as win cash awards. These events take place year round and are often listed in the Arts Sections of local newspapers.

So, the next time you stop into a bar holding a karaoke night, why not get up and sing? And bring your friends along too. Remember, the more, the merrier.

Top 5 Songs Sung at Karaoke: (As of 11/16/97)
1. How Do I Live (Trisha Yearwood)
2. Barbie Girl (Aqua)
3. Sweet Caroline (Neil Diamond)
4. Copacabana (Barry Manilow)
5. All Cried Out (Allure)

Bouncing Souls are excellent
By Jeff Kaminski
Staff Writer

I went to Tramps in NYC to see the Bouncing Souls and Vision on Wednesday, November 26. Things were running late, so I got to Tramps and Vision had just taken the stage. This New Jersey hardcore band is one of the oldest as well as one of the best. They have been doing their thing for many years and which they proved that night. Vision consistently puts on excellent live shows. Everyone seemed to enjoy Vision and they received a great response after each song. Vision played old songs, as well as new ones which were awesome.

The next band to hit the stage was Anti-Flag. They are out of Pittsburgh and play straight forward 70's style punk rock. Bands like this are hit and miss with me. Anti-Flag was a hit. I thought they were really cool and had tons of energy.

YEAH! The Bouncing Souls. From New Jersey right? Or is it New York City? Well the Bouncing Souls spent about 8 years or so playing out of New Brunswick then. Last year they all moved to NYC. Their record company, Epitaph, is billing them as a NYC band which is kind of unfair and a slap in the face to NJ. It wouldn't bother me, or a lot of people from NJ, if the Bouncing Souls sucked. But they are one of the coolest and most talented punk bands I have ever seen one great show.

76ers Tim Thomas makes it big, and gives back to the community

By Lakresha Harris

Staff Writer

Even as a small child, Tim Thomas dreamed of becoming an NBA star and making his mom proud.

"I used to get up early. I don't really remember what time, but as soon as I got up the first thing I wanted to do was go in the back yard and shoot some hoops," Thomas laughs as he recalls the make shift basketball court made out of a plastic milk crate that was nailed to an old tree.

Now, long gone are the days of having to wear worn out sneakers and feeling awkward about always being the tallest in his class. He even admits that at the age of eleven he would go to the local Dunkin Donuts and buy large cups of coffee, hoping that it would stunt his growth.

"It is his tall lanky build and his natural abilities on the court that have helped him reach his goals. It was also that bright smile that lights up every time a young fan asks for his autograph that has labeled him a "likable" person on and off the court.

"This is it! This is what I've been working for all my life," said Thomas referring to his three-year, over 4 million dollar NBA contract with the Philadelphia 76ers. This contract might be small in comparison to the Michael Jordans and the Grant Hills of the NBA, but for a 20 year-old barely out of high school, it's more than enough.

At 6 foot 10, Thomas entered the NBA after only one year of college at Villanova University. Thomas received a lot of negative response for this decision. At a time when many teens are being recruited right out of high school with the prospect of making the "big bucks," many feel that these youngsters aren't prepared yet for the NBA.

"I feel like I'm ready. I know that I still have a lot to learn but I think this was the right decision for me at this time," says Thomas.

Coming out of high school, Montclair State Outfielder Dan Wydner was a highly recruited athlete. While attending West Morris Central High School in Chester, New Jersey, Wydner accumulated a total of six varsity letters to go along with all-state selections in both football and baseball. Numerous recruiters were very interested in his abilities to play both sports for their colleges, but wanting to concentrate on one, Wydner chose his first love, baseball.

Migrating south, Wydner took his act to George Mason University, a Division 1 program in Fairfax, Virginia. It didn't take the coaching staff long at Mason to see that Wydner's blazing speed (4.5 in the 40 yard dash), would make him an excellent leadoff hitter. For two years Wydner manned the #1 slot, leading the team in at-bats his freshmen year.

Wydner was having a successful career for himself down in Virginia until rumors of coaching changes started to circulate. While standing 5 feet 6 inches tall when he entered George Mason, Wydner noted that his weight had risen significantly during his time in Fairfax, Virginia.

Defining a winner: One athlete's rise to glory

Senior Offensive Tackle/Place Kicker Kris Grundy will be taking the field in the most important football game of his life when he and his teammates of West Morris Central High School take on the Colonials of Morrisstown on Saturday, to see who will be crowned the Group 3 section 2 State Champion. No matter win or lose, Grundy is a champion in my eyes.

Gave me a great opportunity to come to a place where winning a National Championship was held in the highest regard," said Wydner.

This fall, MSU traveled to Columbus, Ohio for the College Baseball Classic, a tournament that hosted teams from all over the country. Wydner started the tournament off with a bang, smashing a home run in his first at bat. He wound up going 8 for 15 with three doubles, one home run, and four stolen bases.

"We have a talented bunch of ballplayers on this team with a coaching staff that has the experience and ability to get the most out of us." said Wydner.

Wydner gave the MSU fans an invitation to travel Europe for two months, playing teams from all over the continent. Sitting in Wydner's dorm room on Tuesday, I asked Wydner what he feels is the goal for the team going into the 1998 season.

"I'm excited to see what the younger guys will do, also seeing how the seniors can lead this team to another national championship." said Wydner.

Grundy pushed himself to the limit. All in all, Grundy's many fans back in Long Valley are looking forward to seeing this young man compete for his National Championship this season.

Only time will tell how well the Red Hawks will do, but so far 1st year Head Coach Darryl Jacobs has done an outstanding job of getting the most out of his players. Hopefully, the team will continue it's much deserved success.
Thomas reveals that he was tired of watching his mother Dorothy struggle everyday cleaning houses that belong to other people, a job that she did for almost 30 years. His decision to join the NBA has now allowed his mom to retire, living in a home that Thomas purchased for her that’s even bigger than the one she used to clean.

“I told her how much she could spend and said get what you want, and that felt good. She deserves it. I remember when we didn’t have any food to eat, walking around in old sneakers with holes in them. We struggled but we stuck it out and now it’s my turn to give back,” says Thomas proudly.

Giving back is what he is doing. Some say that the New Jersey native has given more back to his home town of Paterson than anyone since actor Lou Costello, also a Patersonian. He has founded the Tim Thomas Summer Basketball League which began this summer.

He has a basketball court dedicated to him at a local park for his contributions towards rebuilding it for the neighborhood kids, along with Adidas. Thomas also has a $12 million contract with Adidas in which stipulations were made to supply his former high school, Paterson Catholic, with brand new Adidas gear for its sports program.

It is his relationship with his mother that has kept him well grounded even with his newly obtained success and riches. His mother raised five children on her own, Thomas being the youngest. When speaking about her, his words come out slowly and thoughtfully. “I love my mom. She’s my anchor. She always told me to put God first and everything else will follow.”

This advice is especially important now that Thomas is experiencing many things that are very new to him. He just moved into his first apartment which is nothing like the your typical first apartment - complete with marble floors, and an in house elevator complete with doorman. Even so, Thomas likes to think of himself as normal.

“I’m just an ordinary guy. I still hang out with my same old friends, play video games when I’m bored. I try to be as easy going as possible. I don’t want to be a superstar personality, but if I become a superstar for my abilities on the court, then I’ll be happy,” says Thomas.

Thomas doesn’t take all the attention he has received to heart. If he can avoid being noticed then he feels a little normal. That is why he cherishes the time that he spends with his family, especially his nieces and nephews and now his two-month old daughter. It is here that he feels the most at ease. Now he’s just Tim.

“One thing I know about my mom is that regardless of what I do she’ll tell me the truth,” says Thomas. Even after his first exhibition game against the New York Knicks, Thomas couldn’t wait to get to a phone so that he could call home and ask his mother, “How did I do?”

Throughout his career he has proved himself to be a winner in the “game” of life.
Men's basketball defeats Ramapo 73-61
Peeples leads Red Hawks to victory with 21 points, 13 rebounds; MSU record to 4-1

Junior Forward Anthony Peeples continued his strong play with a team high 21 points and 13 rebounds, leading MSU to a 73-61 victory over Ramapo College Wednesday Night at Panzer Gymnasium. MSU's record now stands at 4-1.

Seniors Raheem Rex and Kyle Griffith joined Peeples in controlling the glass the entire night, totaling 30 rebounds between the three of them.

The team played well, though they can play better. Freshmen Jermel Mayo from Irvington High School, is a very talented guard with cat quickness on defense and a potentially explosive offensive weapon.

B.J. Reilly is the team's point guard, is a solid player. Though he does nothing exceptional, Reilly does a little bit of everything to help the team win. Whether it's with a steal, three pointer, or one of his numerous assists, he continues to breakdown opposing teams guards until they fold like a sheet of paper.

Griffith is the team's swingman at 6'2", 200 pounds. He has a good combination of size and speed which can be very intimidating to opposing players unfortunate enough to draw him as a defensive assignment. Griffith has a beautiful arch to his shot to go along with a very soft touch. Simply put, Griffith is the kind of player you want to have on your team instead of someone else's.

Peeples and Rex fill the last two starting slots at the forward and center positions, respectively. Peeples stands at 6'4" weighing 225 pounds while Rex hovers six feet eight inches above the ground weighing 220 pounds.

If MSU is going to build on their 4-1 record, Peeples and Rex are the players who are going to have to sit at the head of the table. Both are very good athletes and both have the potential to dominate the frontcourt night in and night out.

Holland's 21 not enough as turnovers cost MSU close game

By Jason Lampa

Laleethea Holland slightly grimaces in pain as she hobbles down the floor, due to a heavy brace on her left leg. Though only around 70 percent, Holland showed herself to be a dominant low post player, shooting 8 for 11 from the field for a total of 21 points, while grabbing eight rebounds and blocking four blocks in a 96-66 loss to Ramapo College on Wednesday night at Panzer Gymnasium.

"I think once we get everyone healthy I think it will all come together, said Bradley. "We had our chances tonight to put the game away, but all those turnovers killed us."

Bradley was both complimentary and critical of the way some of her players played tonight, something that every good coach does. Bradley knows her team needs some work, but she also sees some positive things that could be taken out of Wednesday's defeat.

After the game, she spoke on how her leader Jill Schultz is a very gifted player, but must start to assert herself more in all facets of the game. Bradley is looking for Schultz to be one of the players to carry the team on her shoulders, since Schultz has had so much experience in both the regular season and post-season in her first three seasons at MSU.

Bradley continued to focus on her Soph, guard Felicia Ingram drives to the basket in last nights game.

The men's basketball team's next home game is next Wednesday, Dec. 10 in Panzer Gym.
