Hail to the Chief for Four More Years

Cries of victory could be heard around campus late Tuesday night as Barack Obama was reelected as the 44th President of the United States, over Governor Mitt Romney. The election was extremely close all night. However, as President Obama began to claim swing states across the country, the election swung in his favor. Obama suffered a hard blow when his own home state of Massachusetts was secured by Obama, a state that Romney believed he had. Obama secured the election with a final count of 303 electoral votes out of the 270 needed to win the election. Romney had 206 of the electoral votes. Although the electoral votes made it extremely apparent who won the election, the popular vote was extremely close throughout the night. The final count of the popular vote was 50% for Obama and 48% for Romney.

Many changes for the country can be seen coming out of this election. Not only was the first openly gay senator elected, but two states have legalized the recreational use of marijuana (see inside for full details of other national changes). Throughout the day and night, Red Hawks participated in the election through not only voting, but live coverage of the election. Residents all over campus were able to take shuttles to cast their votes. Buses full of students traveled to St. George’s Antiochian Orthodox Church and Mt. Hebron Middle School throughout the day, making sure their voices were heard.

Later in the day, the School of Communication

Hurricane Sandy Blows Away the East Coast

Hurricane Sandy is the worst storm in New Jersey’s history with millions of power outages, gas shortages and property damage throughout the state. It’s hard to find anyone not affected by Sandy. Resident students who live in any of the Clove Road residences experienced their own unique Sandy experience last week. The worst of Sandy hit the tri-state region on Monday, Oct. 29 into Tuesday, Oct. 30. The damage done in that short time was enough to leave millions of people in a state of emergency.

On Monday just before 5 p.m., residents of Hawk Crossings, Sinatra Hall and The Village joined the millions of people in the tri-state area who lost power. Weary residents made it through the night, not knowing when they would receive power again.

Sandy Continued on Page 5

INSIDE

news

Debate Shows Many Political Views

pg. 4

feature

Inside Look at N.J. Legislature

pg. 10

a&e

Stars Align at Hurricane Relief Concert

pg. 16

opinion

Sandy Sweeps Over Campus

pg. 11

sports

Athletes Rally Around Hurricane

pg. 20
On Oct. 29: Karim Sawyer, 19, of North Brunswick, and Lendward Brooks, 19, of Piscataway, were arrested and charged with burglary and theft from Car Parc Diem. They are scheduled to appear in Little Falls Municipal Court.

On Oct. 31: An act of criminal mischief was reported in Bohn Hall. A study room had its window shattered by an unknown person. This matter is under investigation.

On Oct. 31: Alexander Rivera, 19, of Union, was arrested for simple assault while in Freeman Hall. He is scheduled to appear in Montclair Municipal Court.

On Nov. 1: Brandon Lewis, 22, of Neptune, was arrested and charged with marijuana possession while in Lot 19. He is scheduled to appear in Little Falls Municipal Court.

On Nov. 1: Emily Holden, 22, of Fryeburg, ME, was arrested and charged with marijuana possession while in Stone Hall. She is scheduled to appear in Little Falls Municipal Court.

On Nov. 2: An HVAC employee reported the theft of his unsecured tools from College Hall. This matter is under investigation.

On Nov. 3: Ewelina Kluczyk, 19, and Izabella Kluczyk, 20, of Green Brook, were arrested and charged with possession of marijuana while in Freeman Hall. They are scheduled to appear in Montclair Municipal Court.

On Nov. 4: An employee of Parking Services reported the theft of a parking boot from a vehicle parked in Car Parc Diem. This matter is under investigation.

Anyone who has information regarding these incidents is urged to call the police station from any campus phone at T-I-P-S (8477). All calls are strictly confidential.
While many students left for the weekend in preparation for Sandy, the remaining 650 students from the Clove residences were evacuated from their dorms into alternate university housing on Tuesday, Oct. 30 at approximately 1:30 p.m. Displaced students were moved into Bohn, Stone and Webster Hall indefinitely.

“Bohn was ready to be occupied by residents since it was not an occupied building for the fall semester,” said Mario Rapetti, Associate Director of Residential Education. “As a department we worked with our student staff of community assistants and service assistants to develop duty shifts, check keys and provide the same services we would in any open residence hall on campus.”

Many students found the mandate as an inconvenience, but appreciated the efforts of the University in accommodating them with power. “It’s overwhelming but we’re all okay. It sucks having to leave your apartment and (having) everything behind,” said senior Kimberly Horan.

In addition to students from Clove being housed on the main campus, essential staff and Sodexo personnel were housed at Sam’s Place and Freeman Dining Hall open and operational for students on campus.

Throughout the week, many residents, drunk off having so much time off from school, acquired a few damages of their own outside of damage caused by Sandy. A proxy card reader was taken from outside Fenwick Hall and later found underneath a stairwell. Additionally, during the early morning hours on Halloween, an unknown object was thrown through a window in Bohn Hall and a fire alarm was pulled.

Residents received power back on Friday afternoon and residents moved back into their normal housing Friday night through Saturday afternoon. With Bohn and other halls up and running, the University offered to accommodate commuter students who may have issues getting to campus due to Sandy by allowing them to stay on campus.

“As a community we want to help out everyone at MSU who was affected by the storm and provide the essential basics of power, heat and hot water so our community as a whole can return to normal routine as best as they can,” Rapetti said.

About 300 commuter students are taking the University up on their offer and staying in Bohn Hall. They will be allowed to stay on campus until N.J. is fully energized, depending on their current situation at home and how hard they were affected by storm. Rapetti added that students “wanted to be able to attend their classes and get on with their educational goals and we [Residential Education] wanted to support them in accomplishing this regardless of Sandy’s wrath.”

In an email sent out to the student body from Student Government President George Juzdan, he said, “The residents moved [...] should know that your safety and well-being are the number one priority for the University; the administration has taken the necessary actions to ensure that you have a comfortable living space for the duration of the power outage. [...] It is important to remember that the problem is bigger than just the University. More than 2.7 million New Jersey residents were left without power and our campus residents are a part of the larger Sandy impact.”

Montclair State was relatively lucky with the extent of damages they suffered. Cities on the coast of New Jersey, like Seaside Heights and Mantoloking, suffered some of worst damage during the storm. With their close proximity to the shore, entire boardwalks and homes were flooded and destroyed and now need rebuilding.

One of the areas hit the hardest was Seaside Heights, home of the “Jersey Shore.” Funtown Pier and Casino Pier, located on the boardwalk, were sent into the ocean. After the hurricane left, remnants of the rides could be found floating in the ocean.

From a residential viewpoint, all of the houses in Seaside and the other barrier islands are completely uninhabitable. Not only are the houses underwater, but all of the gas lines have been completely ripped apart. It is said that there will not be gas to the barrier islands for at least six to eight months.

Many students and their families who live in central and southern New Jersey were affected also. “My family’s business in Seaside, it’s a hotel, was half-destroyed,” said Matt Vanhoogun from Ocean County. “The boardwalk and all of my memories from being a kid are gone.”

In the wake of Hurricane Sandy, much of New Jersey and other states affected by the storm are struggling to recover from approximately $50 billion in damages.

For now, relief efforts from the American Red Cross, the Federal Emergency Management Agency, volunteers and many organizations are being made in order to help the many people suffering from this disaster reach some kind of stability.
Debate Shows Many Political Views

Lucy Anness
Soror Writers

On Thursday, Oct. 25, the Young Americans for Freedom hosted a political debate on campus. The organization is one of the largest and most active pro-liberty organizations among America’s universities and colleges. Its purpose to the student body is demonstrated through events and by providing education to all those who are interested in learning more about the ideas of liberty. With over 300 chapters and over 26,000 student activists worldwide, YAF’s purpose and its effect are shown to be essential to student bodies all around the country.

The debate featured three representatives: conservative David Tubs, liberal Grover Furr and libertarian Yuri Maltsev. Dr. Tubs earned his Ph.D. from Princeton University, where he concentrated in political philosophy, constitutional law and Russian studies. Dr. Furr, an English professor at MSU, completed his undergraduate degree at McGill University and earned his Ph.D. at Princeton University.

Dr. Maltsev is a professor of economics at Carthage College. He worked with former Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev’s reforms on the re-constitution of the political movement in the late 1980s. The entire debate, which lasted an hour and a half, was moderated by Todd Seavey, a producer of ABC and Fox News.

The debate consisted of eight to 10 topics and issues faced by Americans. Some of the questions asked by Seavey included stance on America’s foreign policy, views on the war in Afghanistan and domestic issues such as the war on drugs and health care.

In his opening statement, Dr. Tubs expressed his agreement with anti-Utopian schemes within politics. He also stressed his belief that personal freedom correlates with responsibility.

In Dr. Maltsev’s opening statement, he expressed his beliefs in free minds and free market and that the government should be kept somewhat smaller than currently is, making sure it is “kept in check.”

Within Dr. Furr’s opening statement, he expressed that exploitation is society’s biggest source of misery. He believes that society should be a whole, rather than a society of individuals.

Regarding the war in Afghanistan, Dr. Tubs responded, “I believe that our decision to go to war in Afghanistan met criteria for a just war.”

Regarding foreign policy, Dr. Tubs stated, “I believe that the U.S. is still a positive figure in the world, but cannot simply do everything.” He went on to express the idea that the U.S. should provide leadership throughout the world because of its special status.

His view on drugs included the much needed distinguisher stop without a tremendous struggle from U.S. citizens.” His solution for the war on drugs in America is to “make the private selling of drugs unprofitable, where drugs would be solely sold by the government with high restrictions.”

Regarding the question on health care in America, Dr. Furr stated, “There should be a single-payer universal health care, so everyone has health care.”

Maltsev had concrete points on various issues, although occasional he was unclear. Maltsev believes that all drugs should be legal and that individuals have the right to use whatever drug they choose.

When asked what he thought about education, Maltsev answered, “It simply does not pay to go to college these days, and students are being short changed.” His view on health care was based on the idea that if “market works on everything else, then why not it work in this case?”

Although the purpose of the debate was not to divide the audience and attendees, there was some moment of in the audience’s reaction. However, members were still educated about the issues America faces.

This debate provides a sense of knowledge to individuals who may be confused or unsure of the issues presented,” said Director of Events Corey Hubbard. “It provides a place to discuss opinions, rather than speak about them in a mumbled sense.”
Major national changes to come out of the 2012 election:

- Maine and Maryland voted for marriage equality.
- Minnesota did not vote for banning marriage equality.
- The first openly gay senator, Tammy Baldwin, was elected in Wisconsin.
- The first disabled woman veteran, Tammy Duckworth, was elected in Illinois.
- Medical marijuana was approved in Montana and Massachusetts.
- Recreational use of marijuana was approved for those 21 and older in Colorado and Washington.

-A 7.4 magnitude earthquake struck offshore near the Mexico-Guatemala border yesterday.

-Two American sailors, who were arrested last month, were indicted Tuesday afternoon. The two face charges of raping a Japanese woman.

-Yesterday, the Dow fell below 13,000 for the first time in two months. The average fell more than 300 points, roughly 2.3 percent.

-Violent protests were seen outside the Greek parliament yesterday. Inside, the lawmakers voted on a new batch of austerity measures. This is an issue that has the country both divided and in a state of unrest.

-A 7.4 magnitude earthquake struck offshore near the Mexico-Guatemala border yesterday.

-Yesterday, French Ministers of the Cabinet approved a draft bill that will allow same-sex couples the right to marry and adopt. The actual bill will be voted on in January.

-Syrian insurgents blew up an official’s car using a homemade car bomb. The bombing killed Judge Abada Nadhwah, who was very close to the Syrian President.

-Following a police raid of a corrupt real estate company, Russian President Vladimir V. Putin fired his defense minister on Tuesday.

-A car bomb exploded near a recruitment base in Taji, 12 miles north of Baghdad. Conflicted reports make it difficult to report an accurate death count, but at least 26 were killed with many more seriously injured.

There will be a post-election forum held on Nov. 12. The forum will be hosted by Merrill Brown, Director of the School of Communication and Media. The event is open to all students free of charge, but there is limited space. Students interested in attending should email msupost-election@gmail.com to reserve a seat.

However, the most successful part of this year’s election coverage was how much students were involved. The entire youth vote this year increased nearly 20 percent. Many students expressed their voices and were happy with the outcome of the election.

“I feel like it’s a great victory for college students. I’m more hopeful about my future,” said Greg McManus, sophomore. “I feel that with the extra four years, Obama can really fix the economy in the way Romney couldn’t. Crisis averted.”

Most students were looking simply for a change in the economy.

“It really wasn’t a matter of who won, it was that the economy needs to get better by the end of this term,” said Garland Dance, sophomore. “This is the main factor that should have been considered. As students who will be graduating towards the end of his term, we need to see significant economic improvement to guarantee our success in the future.”

No matter who won, Red Hawks across campus definitely raised their voices in this election, making an impact on the entire country.
Winter hats don’t just keep you warm. On the campus of Montclair, hats prove that they can be a fashion statement, too! I call them beanies, but winter hats have a lot of varieties to choose from. Some have earflaps, topped with pom-poms, a folded brim or no brim at all. How do you choose the right style?

If your face is considered square or has sharp angles then consider a more rounded style hat. Avoid all narrow hats which can make you look too angular. Hats with hard edges are to be avoided. I suggest keeping away from what I call, “bomber hats” with the ear flaps and sharp square style.

An oval face is lucky. Basically, you can get away with any style hat. So with that, I suggest to try a variety of hats and choose one that best fits your own personal style. Also choose a winter hat that goes with anything to make it versatile.

Round faces should choose a hat with an angular structure. For this, I strongly suggest getting a really cute “bomber” hat. The angular lines and square style will compliment your face.

If your face is comparatively longer, I suggest breaking it up with a brim. Specifically this winter, beanies with wide brims are no exception. Try a brim that has a decorative pattern different from the hat itself. By folding the hat, it breaks up the length in your face and draws more attention to your eyes.

This is specifically for petite faces. Be aware of how heavy or big a hat may be. Wearing a hat that is too big may make your face appear to be even smaller.

A tip some people tend to disregard is the importance of color. Color is equally important. Cool complexions are complemented by colors such as green, blue and violet. Warmer complexions look great in ‘hot’ colors such as hot pink, red or warm orange shades. However, picking a more neutral color means you will probably get more usage out of it since it will likely match more pieces from your closet.

For thoughts or suggestions, tweet me at MSU_fashion! This week, winter hats are what’s trending because they express style, and of course, are functional in the cold.

Follow for your daily dose of fashion @MSU_fashion.
A new course offered by the Political Science and Justice Studies departments allows students to participate in an internship at the State House in Trenton. Created by President Susan A. Cole and her staff, the practical course provides students with a unique understanding and perspective of New Jersey’s legislative process by taking them behind the scenes at the State House. Not only do students gain knowledge of the State’s Legislature, but they are also given a rare opportunity to observe the government in action.

A typical day in Trenton includes attending voting sessions, committee hearings, listening to testimony and political debates, meeting with Legislators, lobbyists, staff from the Department of State and other officials. On their first day at the State House, students met with staff from the Office of Legislative Services who briefed them on the process of drafting a bill.

Students also met with several Legislators including Assistant Majority Leader and Chair of the Senate Education Committee, Senator Teresa Ruiz, Senator Michael Doherty, Deputy Speaker and Chair of the General Assembly Women and Children Committee, Assemblywoman Pamela Lampitt, Chair of the General Assembly Higher Education Committee, Assemblywoman Celeste Riley, Assemblyman Benjie Wimberly and Senate President Stephen M. Sweeney.

President Sweeney spoke passionately about how his daughter’s plight with Down-syndrome influenced his decision to run for political office in an effort to seek services for other children with special needs. President Sweeney also serves as the General Organizer of the International Association of Ironworkers. While noting that he did not pursue a college education, Sweeney informed students of the importance and advantages of seeking higher education. The Senate President also gave students a solid piece of advice: Despite how successful you might become, never forget where you came from.

Trips to the State House alternate with biweekly classes on campus. Students spend time discussing and analyzing some of New Jersey’s most controversial bills, laws, and political and social issues. Classroom sessions on current “Hot Topics” feature visits from Legislators, lobbyists, and officials from governmental agencies, which included Congressman Rodney Frelinghuysen who represents New Jersey’s 11th congressional district in the U.S. House of Representatives, Assemblyman Thomas P. Giblin, who represents New Jersey’s 34th Legislative District in the State General Assembly, Brendan Gill, a Freeholder representing New Jersey’s Fifth District and Little Falls Town Council hopeful, James Damiano.

The students who are currently enrolled in the course have expressed great enthusiasm about their overall experience. Chelsea Wuesthoff states that she appreciates the realistic view of state government and the hands-on experience that the internship provides. “It’s a great opportunity,” she exclaimed. Student Niku Letang employs a different perspective. “I have become very inspired by the stories and accomplishments of some of the legislators that we have met. It is also nice to know the person behind the politics. This experience completely humanizes them.” The course is taught by Professor Sal Anderton, and the internship is directed by Director of Government Relations, Shivaun Gaines. Professor Anderton’s years of experience as a lobbyist and vast knowledge of New Jersey’s Legislative process also contribute to the students’ overall experience at the State House and in the classroom. When asked about the most important thing he wants students to gain from the internship, Professor Anderton stated, “[To show] how complex state government is, but at the same time, how politics and government are personal to the people involved.”
With the holidays approaching just as fast as the cold, it’s not too early to start mapping out your Christmas list. For most of us collegiates, the further we get in our careers, the longer the list grows. We slowly find ourselves strapped for cash and for time every year, and swear to ourselves that we’ll be more responsible next year. Here are some fool-proof ways to make this year your best yet.

Establish Your Budget
Besides starting sometime before December, this is your second crucial step. Once you’ve established a budget that you can comfortably use without worrying in a month that you have no money for gas, it’s crucial not to budge from it. Don’t talk yourself into spending a few extra dollars on your boyfriend, and then several extra on your mother, thinking it won’t really matter. The total at the end of your spending will add up to much more than you think, leaving you with a lot less than you intended.

Group People Based on their Interests, Age, Position in Life, etc.
Buying a gift just for the sake of buying it never made you happy growing up, and the same goes for the people that you could potentially be buying for. Look at each person on your list and genuinely give thought to what they would want or appreciate. Also keep in mind if the people on your list are the type to appreciate homemade gifts. A gift with genuine thought is always noticed, and always well received.

Shop Early and Around
Stores start to raise the prices of their merchandise earlier and earlier every year, and considering most department stores were advertising Christmas long before Halloween, this year will be no exception. Remember to shop around. Look for coupons, specials and sales. If you start early, you won’t have to worry about settling on an overpriced dish set at Macy’s for your mom that she’ll probably exchange anyway. Though it may take a little longer, be thankful in the end.

Make a List
The most obvious, and most overlooked step is to be organized and list every possible person you would consider buying for. While friends and family are the most obvious think about people like your hairdresser who always makes the room for a last minute appointment, or your mailman who always goes an extra step for your family. Consider too if you’ll be donating to any charity. Plenty of jobs and schools collect money during the holiday season to adopt family or raise money for a natural disaster relief fund. By listing everyone, it’s easier to cut those that may not fit in your budget or those who wouldn’t.
Child Care
Child Care needed in clean Clifton home for boys ages seven and nine. Friday or Saturday night each week. Jennifer 973-868-9159

For Rent
25’ x 20’ Full Apt on Clove Road, Female Student Only! Call 973-746-8495.

Services
Tutoring instructions available for Spanish & Italian. If interested, call Nicolina Mzzo, Certified Teacher at: 973-751-3457

Nicolina Mzzo, Certified Teacher

Sheriff Harold! Them Coyotes are at it again.

Thank heavens you’re here Sheriff. We boys was just about to say something rude and vulgar. What are you gonna do?

The hounds are duly/social media without changing partners, the boys are about to riot!

Peace and Order must be restored. Quick Pancake! Fetch my Stallion!

Mighty fine thing you did Sheriff! I saved this number just for you.

Ah, yes siree. You sure are lord for being the preacher’s daughter.
Rodgers and Hammerstein’s Carousel

Music by Richard Rodgers
Book and Lyrics by Oscar Hammerstein II
Based on Ferenc Molnar’s play Liliom
As adapted by Benjamin F. Glazer
Directed by Evan Pappas
Conductor and Musical Supervision by Gregory J. Dlugos
Choreography by Mimi Quillin
Musical Direction by Michael Mahadeen

Nov. 14, 15 & 16 • 7:30 p.m.
Nov. 17 • 2:00 p.m. & 8:00 p.m.
Nov. 18 • 2:00 p.m.

973-655-5112 | www.peakperfs.org | Alexander Kasser Theatre

*Undergraduate students at MSU receive one ticket at no additional charge to every event through the Performing Arts Fee. Show with their valid student I.D.
Not only were most dorms completely operational, but so were the dining halls. The diligent workers of Sun’s and Freeman worked throughout the whole storm and kept us fed.

Though there were complaints from some students about delays in evacuating from Clove Road about using their swipes. Students who live on Clove Road are required to have a meal plan, which means their swipes are limited.

The university hasn’t had control over the weather. It wasn’t some plot to get us to use swipes, it was necessary. To be stingy with swipes when the school is doing us a favor by keeping dining halls open is wrong. The university was fair to those who were running low on swipes by allowing them to eat for free during Sandy.

While on the topic of immaturity, the damage done to Bohn Hall is unexcusable.

After power wires snapping and generators breaking, all of Clove Road was left completely out of power. So instead of keeping students in the dark the University arranged for shuttles to transfer all those without power to unoccupied dormitories.

Unoccupied dorms were also offered to commuters who lost power, as well as staff. Other than this, the university put a lot of work into making sure we were prepared in any case of emergency.

It is hard, we understand. No one is thrilled about being removed from their homes, but to disrespect the extra housing was completely unnecessary.

Many students did have a problem trying to access their apartments during the storm. It seems that the chaos of the storm.

T he devastation which Hurricane Sandy recently caused in our state is a sight to see. For the topic of local and national news since the storm hit last week.

Not only did the storm wreak havoc on those who lost power, homes and loved ones, but many voters also faced numerous obstacles to voting. Students who live on Clove Road are required to have a meal plan, which means their swipes are limited.

The university hasn’t had control over the weather. It wasn’t some plot to get us to use swipes, it was necessary. To be stingy with swipes when the school is doing us a favor by keeping dining halls open is wrong. The university was fair to those who were running low on swipes by allowing them to eat for free during Sandy.

While on the topic of immaturity, the damage done to Bohn Hall is unexcusable.

After power wires snapping and generators breaking, all of Clove Road was left completely out of power. So instead of keeping students in the dark the University arranged for shuttles to transfer all those without power to unoccupied dormitories.

Unoccupied dorms were also offered to commuters who lost power, as well as staff. Other than this, the university put a lot of work into making sure we were prepared in any case of emergency.

It is hard, we understand. No one is thrilled about being removed from their homes, but to disrespect the extra housing was completely unnecessary.

Many students did have a problem trying to access their apartments during the storm. It seems that the chaos of the storm.

T he devastation which Hurricane Sandy recently caused in our state is a sight to see. For the topic of local and national news since the storm hit last week.

Not only did the storm wreak havoc on those who lost power, homes and loved ones, but many voters also faced numerous obstacles to voting. Students who live on Clove Road are required to have a meal plan, which means their swipes are limited.

The university hasn’t had control over the weather. It wasn’t some plot to get us to use swipes, it was necessary. To be stingy with swipes when the school is doing us a favor by keeping dining halls open is wrong. The university was fair to those who were running low on swipes by allowing them to eat for free during Sandy.

While on the topic of immaturity, the damage done to Bohn Hall is unexcusable.

After power wires snapping and generators breaking, all of Clove Road was left completely out of power. So instead of keeping students in the dark the University arranged for shuttles to transfer all those without power to unoccupied dormitories.

Unoccupied dorms were also offered to commuters who lost power, as well as staff. Other than this, the university put a lot of work into making sure we were prepared in any case of emergency.

It is hard, we understand. No one is thrilled about being removed from their homes, but to disrespect the extra housing was completely unnecessary.

Many students did have a problem trying to access their apartments during the storm. It seems that the chaos of the storm.

T he devastation which Hurricane Sandy recently caused in our state is a sight to see. For the topic of local and national news since the storm hit last week.

Not only did the storm wreak havoc on those who lost power, homes and loved ones, but many voters also faced numerous obstacles to voting. Students who live on Clove Road are required to have a meal plan, which means their swipes are limited.

The university hasn’t had control over the weather. It wasn’t some plot to get us to use swipes, it was necessary. To be stingy with swipes when the school is doing us a favor by keeping dining halls open is wrong. The university was fair to those who were running low on swipes by allowing them to eat for free during Sandy.

While on the topic of immaturity, the damage done to Bohn Hall is unexcusable.

After power wires snapping and generators breaking, all of Clove Road was left completely out of power. So instead of keeping students in the dark the University arranged for shuttles to transfer all those without power to unoccupied dormitories.

Unoccupied dorms were also offered to commuters who lost power, as well as staff. Other than this, the university put a lot of work into making sure we were prepared in any case of emergency.

It is hard, we understand. No one is thrilled about being removed from their homes, but to disrespect the extra housing was completely unnecessary.

Many students did have a problem trying to access their apartments during the storm. It seems that the chaos of the storm.

T he devastation which Hurricane Sandy recently caused in our state is a sight to see. For the topic of local and national news since the storm hit last week.

Not only did the storm wreak havoc on those who lost power, homes and loved ones, but many voters also faced numerous obstacles to voting. Students who live on Clove Road are required to have a meal plan, which means their swipes are limited.

The university hasn’t had control over the weather. It wasn’t some plot to get us to use swipes, it was necessary. To be stingy with swipes when the school is doing us a favor by keeping dining halls open is wrong. The university was fair to those who were running low on swipes by allowing them to eat for free during Sandy.

While on the topic of immaturity, the damage done to Bohn Hall is unexcusable.

After power wires snapping and generators breaking, all of Clove Road was left completely out of power. So instead of keeping students in the dark the University arranged for shuttles to transfer all those without power to unoccupied dormitories.

Unoccupied dorms were also offered to commuters who lost power, as well as staff. Other than this, the university put a lot of work into making sure we were prepared in any case of emergency.

It is hard, we understand. No one is thrilled about being removed from their homes, but to disrespect the extra housing was completely unnecessary.

Many students did have a problem trying to access their apartments during the storm. It seems that the chaos of the storm.
Power Outage Provides Relaxation

A break from technology brought us closer together.

The news reported everyday on the civil war in Syria and people defending their homeland, a strong’s alleged drug use. All of that seemed too serious.

The eve of Halloween came and left us in the dark, literally. The day before we had a 24 hour storm; it was 40 miles high. I had chatted up last year’s power outage a rare event, a freak of nature. But Sandy left me in awe of Mother Nature.

Sandy closed the New York Stock Exchange, “Sandy Did It.” Bin Ladin Couldn’t Do Cancel the NYC Marathon” read a headline in the International Business Times.

Suddenly, the topic of conversation was the hurricane. Many of my friends and colleagues became quite passionate. It was a rare opportunity for gas stations, storm windows, tax dollars invested in underground electric lines, and the red tape that resources.

We all have read about natural disasters in the news and heard plenty of war stories from my grandparents’ generation, but never had I thought I would experience a truastic event so close to home.

When the lights came on for the first time, I was overjoyed with the victory dance (while charging my cell phone). I woke up everybody in the house made a grand entrance, and celebrated.

I asked my good readers, did someone come out of this historically momentous event unscathed? A wise man once said that it’s not the things that happen to us, but how we choose to react that makes that difference.

When the lights did not come on for everyone, those whose homes were out of the flooding areas with electrical boxes, it was an interesting experience. We welcomed relatives, friends and neighbors as guests. Guests, in turn, brought an abundance of food and supplied to our hosts families. When I met up with those host families, they beam。

Without their cherished electronic gadgets, everyone gathered to share ideas on how they would survive. As technology is out the window, Sandy showed the world how to share the world. Sandy showed the world how to share our homes, but on our hearts. If Sandy taught us nothing else, it’s the effects of a natural disaster, not on our homes, but on our hearts.

Perhaps we should consider the possibility of extending the six-episode Star Wars films saga. I ask my good readers, did some families as we gathered around one day to realize what we have lost, we must keep our kindness. Sandy set a precedent in the lives of New Yorkers actually enjoyed being without their cherished electronics.

Life must move on. And you have to admit, we’re commenting with flying colors.

Ian Callahan, a Sociology major, is in his first year as an animation studio for Lucasfilm.

Jocelyn Choi, an Applied Linguistics major, is in her first year as a columnist for The Montclarion.
In an effort to raise money for the victims of Hurricane Sandy who have experienced everything from power outtages to home destruction this week, NBC Universal decided to take matters into their own hands by organizing a ben-efit concert on Nov. 2 from their studios in Rockefeller Center, New York City. The line-up included many musicians native to our area such as Bruce Springsteen, Jon Bon Jovi, Billy Joel and Chris- tyina Aguilera. Each artist performed some of their most heartfelt songs in dedication to the victims of the natural disaster. Other musicians and speakers included Mary J. Blige, Steven Tyler, Jon Stewart, Jimmy Fallon and Al Roker. Each of whom showed their support for those affected by the di-saster and urged others to help in any way they could.

Some of the most no-table performances of the night were Christina Agu- ilera’s “Beautiful,” Bruce Springsteen’s “Land of Hope and Dreams” and Sting’s “Message in a Bottle.” Former Sayerville, N.J. resident Jon Bon Jovi felt particularly affected by the storm because he went home to be with his fam- ily soon after the storm hit. Bon Jovi also released a statement which urged people to donate or help in any way they could. “Once again, the eyes of the world are upon us as we wake to the devasta-tion of Hurricane Sandy. We can’t help but to cry when we see what has been lost, but we mustn’t lose hope. We must come together and help those in need to persevere.”

As a singer-songwrit-er, Marshall was involved in all aspects of Sun, but leaves with a product that is a departure from her earlier works such as songs as “Lived in Bars.” In the music video for “Cherokee” her short, bleached blonde hair serve as the visual icing on the cake to her new era in musicianship.
In the wake of The Von Bondies' second attempt at fame, just last year, it seems that frontman Jason Stollsteimer has moved on to bigger and better things. His newfound success has introduced him to a new audience, one that is more receptive to his brand of rock music. The album's dance-rock sound and draws the listener in. The song builds up to the cho-

The emotion of “You” and “I” careers. He has an incredible vocal range and the capability to flaw-

This track is absolutely one of the stron-

The combination of acoustic and electric guitars and blended with smooth vocals creates a seamless blend that is perfect for any situation, but is especially poignant and meaningful during times of heartbreak and emotional turmoil and is appropriate for any situation, but is especially poignant and meaningful during times of heartbreak and emotional turmoil.

Boys Don’t Cry is an explosive love story that ends in tragedy.
1. “Let It Rain,” by Eric Clapton
   Nick Taylor – Chief Copy Editor
2. “A Hard Rain’s A-Gonna Fall,” by Bob Dylan
   Jessica Czarnogursky – Feature Editor
3. “Snow,” by Red Hot Chili Peppers
   Nick Verhagen – Sports Editor
4. “Every Snowflake Is Different,” by My Chemical Romance
   Kristen Bryfogle – Assistant Opinion Editor

Nor’Easter Playlist

5. “Stormy Weather,” by Lena Horne
   Monika Bujas – Opinion Editor
   Lindsay Rassmann – Managing Editor
7. “Colder Weather,” by Zac Brown Band
   Carley Hussain – Production Editor
8. “Mean Monsoon,” by Dan Auerbach
   Jonathan Molina – Assistant Arts Editor

BARTEND
Make Money • Meet People • Have Fun!

Mix 'em Up
BARTENDING SCHOOL

• 1 or 2 week course
• Day, Evening & Weekend Classes
• National Certification
• National Job Placement
• Hands-on Training
• Low Tuition/Payment Plans

1-800-925-MIXX (6499)
www.mixemup.com

Located in Linden, Verona & Flemington

$50 Off Tuition With This Ad
Last Sunday when the scoreboard indicated the end of the third quarter, a packed Sprague Field crowd was electrified as they watched a raucous and joyous celebration by the MSU women's field hockey Team.

The moment was the Lady Red Hawks bench stormed the field to join their teammates following Montclair State's overtime NCAA Tournament final win over Rowan University that gave the Lady Red Hawks an automatic NCAA Division III Field Hockey Tournament bid.

The MSU field hockey team poses with their first NJAC championship trophy after finishing the regular season 19-1-0,16

Red Hawks Advance to NCAA Tournament

In one of the most dramatic endings in program history, the Mosteri Hawks bench stormed the field to join their teammates following Montclair State's overtime NCAA Tournament final win over Rowan University that gave the Lady Red Hawks an automatic NCAA Division III Field Hockey Tournament bid.

The MSU field hockey team poses with their first NJAC championship trophy after finishing the regular season 19-1-0,16

Red Hawks Will Overtime Thriller

Rushing: A.J. Scoppa - 686 yds, 6 TD, 114 yds/game
Passing: Drew Cathey - 1605 yds, 9 TD, 178 yds/game
Receiving: Bryan Ogden - 562 yds, 3 TD, 62 yds/game

The touchdown run by junior running back William Merz won the game for the Red Hawks with a 100-yard interception return for a touchdown in a double overtime. However, the Red Hawks defense had come up huge. In a five-play, 65-yard drive fueled by a 45-yard completion to sophomore wide receiver Aaron Williams, the Red Hawks pulled one back just before the half with a 21-yard touchdown run by junior running back Sierra Rauchbach. The Red Hawks took possession of the ball at the 10-yard line to complete the Red Hawks' improbable comeback.

Unbelievably, they took the lead three possessions later with another touchdown pass from Cathey to senior wide receiver Bryan Odgen. The Golden Eagles were knocking on the door and they didn't have too many players who were scoring threats. They also believed they were so close to the first goal, they would score again quickly.

The defense once again forced Brockport into a three-and-out and the game went into overtime. The Red Hawks took possession of the ball at the 10-yard line to complete the Red Hawks' improbable comeback victory over Brockport. The Red Hawks received four weekly conference honors with their comeback win. Odgen was named Offensive Player of the Week after making five catches for 110 yards and a touchdown. He threw a pass that was intended for Spalik in the front corner of the endzone, but the ball was tipped and picked off the pass, then raced on 100 yards down the sideline for the game-winning touchdown.

Shireem Cobb. The defense once again forced Brockport into a three-and-out and the game went into overtime. The Red Hawks took possession of the ball at the 10-yard line to complete the Red Hawks' improbable comeback victory over Brockport. The Red Hawks received four weekly conference honors with their comeback win. Odgen was named Offensive Player of the Week after making five catches for 110 yards and a touchdown. He threw a pass that was intended for Spalik in the front corner of the endzone, but the ball was tipped and picked off the pass, then raced on 100 yards down the sideline for the game-winning touchdown.

Shireem Cobb. The defense once again forced Brockport into a three-and-out and the game went into overtime. The Red Hawks took possession of the ball at the 10-yard line to complete the Red Hawks' improbable comeback victory over Brockport. The Red Hawks received four weekly conference honors with their comeback win. Odgen was named Offensive Player of the Week after making five catches for 110 yards and a touchdown. He threw a pass that was intended for Spalik in the front corner of the endzone, but the ball was tipped and picked off the pass, then raced on 100 yards down the sideline for the game-winning touchdown.

Shireem Cobb. The defense once again forced Brockport into a three-and-out and the game went into overtime. The Red Hawks took possession of the ball at the 10-yard line to complete the Red Hawks' improbable comeback victory over Brockport. The Red Hawks received four weekly conference honors with their comeback win. Odgen was named Offensive Player of the Week after making five catches for 110 yards and a touchdown. He threw a pass that was intended for Spalik in the front corner of the endzone, but the ball was tipped and picked off the pass, then raced on 100 yards down the sideline for the game-winning touchdown.
On-Campus Jobs Now Hiring!

Work with University Facilities as a Snow Removal Assistant!

♦ $12.00/hour
♦ Flexible Hours
♦ Training Provided

Help your fellow students by making campus walkways safe!

An information session will be held in University Hall Room 1050 on 11/14/12 @1:00pm.

You must bring a copy of your photo ID & social security card to complete hiring paperwork.

If you cannot attend, please email us at snow-work@mail.montclair.edu
Mike Pendleton

As devastation struck the entire Northeast region, there are many things that have brought us together. From relief efforts by first responders and social workers, donations by thousands of citizens and even the everyman, a sense of community has come out of the tragedy. While Miami showering gifts in the form of t-shirts, the fans have supported the Miami Hurricane football team by donating t-shirts there for $15. While the Hurricane fans have given to the hurricane victims, the fans have also been helping out through and I see them going through this rough time, this region has brought us together through sports.

In the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009, which created the Troubled Asset Relief Program, $300 billion was allocated to purchase $1,000,000 in bonds, $150 billion to purchase $100,000 in bonds, $100 billion to purchase $10,000 in bonds, and $50 billion to purchase $1,000 in bonds. The TARP program has been criticized for being too lenient on banks and financial institutions, and for not doing enough to help the average American. The TARP program has also been criticized for being too complex and for not being transparent. The TARP program has been a major factor in the current economic crisis, and it is difficult to say whether it has been effective or not.

This is the case

Sporano, many of us were expecting something big and exciting to come out of this Jets offense during the preseason. This was not the case. They've blown first-half leads in a few games, including an overtime loss against the Saints, another struggling team. Sanchez was his quarterback, and in week three falling short in a few games, including an over-time loss to the Detroit Lions. Interestingly enough, Michael Vick is another quarterback to record over 2,000 passing yards so far this season, but almost matches his 10 touchdowns with nine interceptions, plus a bad case of the fumbles. Bad decisions, play-calling and sloppiness could cost the Eagles a playoff spot, and possibly cost head coach Andy Reid his job.

Recently being dubbed as hav- ing the “most overrated coach in the NFL,” the only thing the Jets seem to have going for them is their public- ity, and not necessarily the good kind either. After acquiring the polarizing Tim Tebow and pairing him with offensive coordinator Tim Sperano, many of us were expecting something big and exciting to come out of this Jets offense during the preseason. This was not the case.

Hood coach Rex Ryan has stat- ed time and time again that Mark Sanchez was his quarterback, and has not given Tim Tebow the chance that maybe the Jets need. After coming up short in a few games (losing to New England in overtime), and being decimated in others, the Jets inconsistency is what will prevent them from seeing the playoff picture. Sanchez has thrown for 30 touchdowns, but has eight interceptions and seven fumbles. Is it Tebow Time yet?

The Giants are an old team, but that experience is shining through and I see them going uphill in the second half of the season. They're still a game be- hind the Baltimore Ravens in the AFC North, but I have a sneaky feeling that might change soon.

Three two games plus a week two come- back win against the Tampa Bay adds to the game eight-winning drives Manning had in the 2011 season. He has been everything a defend- ing Super Bowl champion should be as far as with over 3,000 passing yards, 12 touchdowns and seven in- terceptions, taking his team to 6-3 so far in the league's top two.

Of course, Manning can't look as good as he is without one of the best receivers in the league at the receiver position in the season. Go-to guy Vic- tor Cruz has been continuing his impressive display from the past four weeks, winning a game in a row and hoping to make it four in a Monday night home game against the 5-7 Kansas City Chiefs. QB Ben Roethlisberger has been as impressive as ever, being another quarterback out of only three to have over 2,000 passing yards already this season. The Steelers offensive line has also been stepping up, limit- ing Roethlisberger to 13 sacks. He's thrown for 16 touchdowns and has only four interceptions, less than any other quarterback in the league. The Steelers are an old team, but that experience is shining through and I see them going uphill in the second half of the season. They're still a game behind the Baltimore Ravens in the AFC North, but I have a sneaky feeling that might change soon.

The Eagles are an old team, but that experience is shining through and I see them going uphill in the second half of the season. They're still a game behind the Baltimore Ravens in the AFC North, but I have a sneaky feeling that might change soon. The Eagles started tank- ing, losing their past four games, most recently to the New Orleans Saints, another struggling team.

They've blown first-half leads in a few games, including an over-time loss to the Detroit Lions. Interestingly enough, Michael Vick is another quarterback to record over 2,000 passing yards so far this season, but almost matches his 10 touchdowns with nine intermediations, plus a bad case of the fumbles. Bad decisions, play-calling and sloppiness could cost the Eagles a playoff spot, and possibly cost head coach Andy Reid his job.

Recently being dubbed as hav- ing the “most overrated coach in the NFL,” the only thing the Jets seem to have going for them is their publicity, and not necessarily the good kind either. After acquiring the polarizing Tim Tebow and pairing him with offensive coordinator Tim Sperano, many of us were expecting something big and exciting to come out of this Jets offense during the preseason. This was not the case.

Hood coach Rex Ryan has stated time and time again that Mark Sanchez was his quarterback, and has not given Tim Tebow the chance that maybe the Jets need. After coming up short in a few games (losing to New England in overtime), and being decimated in others, the Jets inconsistency is what will prevent them from seeing the playoff picture. Sanchez has thrown for 30 touchdowns, but has eight interceptions and seven fumbles. Is it Tebow Time yet?

The Giants currently lead the NFC East with a 6-1-2 record while the Jets sit in third in the AFC East at 3-5.

The Giants currently lead the NFC East with a 6-1-2 record while the Jets sit in third in the AFC East at 3-5.

The Giants currently lead the NFC East with a 6-1-2 record while the Jets sit in third in the AFC East at 3-5.

The Giants currently lead the NFC East with a 6-1-2 record while the Jets sit in third in the AFC East at 3-5.

The Giants currently lead the NFC East with a 6-1-2 record while the Jets sit in third in the AFC East at 3-5.
In a match that saw 30 ties and 15 lead changes, eventually the Keane University Cougars would knock off the Red Hawks in the first round match of the NJAC Tournament. The match was played in front of a large home crowd at the Panzer Athletic Center. The fourth seeded Cougars, who came into the match with a 27-9 record, eliminated the Red Hawks in straight sets. The scores were 27-25, 26-24, proving this match to be one of the most exciting of the season. The Red Hawks showed their resilience early, leading 10-6. The Cougars would find themselves out in front until the final point of the set. Two serves by Alix Denison, one an ace, gave Keane a 28-26 win. They led the match 2-0. The third set saw Keane building a 10-4 lead in the set. The Red Hawks showed their resilience and fight by narrowing the lead to 15-13 on a kill by Nicole Wojtowicz. Later in the set MSU went on a 10-3 run to give them a 24-23 lead, but they could not close out the set and would see their season end. Hansen scored the match point on an ace and Keane advanced to the semifinals with the three-set sweep. Following the match, the energy around the team remained positive, as it had all season, despite the season ending loss. Sara Girgis discussed the team’s successes and hopes for next season, saying, “This is only the beginning for this program. We had an amazing season and it’s just the foundation for years to come. We tied the school record for most wins in a season and next year we’re taking the record. As for Keane, they have no idea what’s coming for them next season.” Montclair tied their single season record for most wins in a season.

Montclair’s hopes for next season, saying, “This is only the beginning for this program. We had an amazing season and it’s just the foundation for years to come. We tied the school record for most wins in a season and next year we’re taking the record. As for Keane, they have no idea what’s coming for them next season.” Montclair tied their single season record for most wins in a season. August Batisse and Danielle Salemo both registered eight kills for Montclair. Nicole Wojtowicz contributed five kills, two aces and one block. Angela Campos assisted on 27 MSU points. Kaitlyn Hansen was a standout with 11 kills and three blocks. Jen Espinal also added nine kills of her own. For the Cougars, Kaitlyn Irwin led the team with 20 digs. Salemo added 10 digs of her own. For Kean, they have no idea what’s coming for them next season.” Montclair tied their single season record for most wins in a season.
Red Hawk Reaches New Heights
MSU alumus signs with Atlanta Falcons

Mike Panepinto
The Montclarion

“Surreal” is the word Chad Faulcon, who played safety at Montclair State from 1977-1980 where he was a two-time All-American Linebacker. He is also a college football Hall of Famer. Faulcon was one of the backbones of the MSU defense, finishing his career with 169 tackles, seven interceptions and four forced fumbles.

Faulcon is not the only one that believes he can play in the NFL. "I've seen the competition and I believe I have the ability to play in the NFL." Faulcon is the only one who sees himself in the NFL one day, and that's not just on the couch. Faulcon is one of the 14 out of 18,000 Division III football players currently playing in the NFL. What this means is that 0.2 percent of players from the Division III level to the NFL. Faulcon was one of the backbones of the MSU defense, finishing his career with 169 tackles, seven interceptions and four forced fumbles.

To put it, to play in the NFL you need “speed, strength, size (helps), football intelligence, mental/physical/emotional toughness, discipline, integrity and character.” At one of Montclair State's practices, Coach Cieri talked to all the Falcons scout who had this to say about Faulcon “He’s a missile from the centerfield position, he has a certain toughness with tackling people and he plays every play like he does not get tired.” Coincidentally, Faulcon was nicknamed “The Missile” at MSU. While Faulcon waits for the phone call that could change his life, he spends his time training at DeFranco's Gym in Hawthorne and coming back to Montclair State to watch home football games. Faulcon knows his day will come and he also knows that he has “the support of everyone around him until his time comes.”

NFL Draft Statistics

- Out of the 100,000 high school students that play football, only 215 (0.2 percent) go on to play in the National Football League.
- Out of the 9000 collegiate football players, only 310 (0.3 percent) get invited to the NFL Scouting Combine.
- Athletes who don’t attend the NFL Combine go on to attend the regional combine. If they impress there, they then get to attend the Super Regional Combine which is attended by many NFL teams.
- Last year, 21 players were signed to NFL teams.

Coach O’Connor was tenacious and he knew that he wanted Faulcon at Montclair State. After no scholarship offers came in for Faulcon, he made the decision to become a Red Hawk.

When Faulcon first came to MSU, one thing in particular stuck out to all the coaches, his speed. To be even more specific, it was his closing speed that wowed the coaches.

Closing speed is defined as the distance between you and the ball carrier or receiver. While at Montclair State, not only did Faulcon earn the respect of his fellow teammates, but he also earned the respect of his coaches. I recently sat down with current MSU Defensive Coordinator Todd Agresta. He said, "Chad was a step faster than anyone out on the field" and that "Chad follows Sam Mills' keep pounding attitude."

In Faulcon's freshman year, he was awarded the Freedy Hill Award. In his sophomore and junior years, he was awarded three Hatchets for three big hit tackles he made in separate games. By senior year, the awards started rolling in for Faulcon.

At the end of Faulcon’s senior season, he was awarded first team all-conference, first team all-region, defensive player of the conference, defensive player of the region and was named a Division III All-American. Faulcon was also the runner-up for the National Division III Player of the Year Award.

As Head Coach Rick Giancola said, "Surreal" is the word Chad Faulcon, who played safety at Montclair State from 1977-1980 where he was a two-time All-American Linebacker. He is also a college football Hall of Famer. Faulcon was one of the backbones of the MSU defense, finishing his career with 169 tackles, seven interceptions and four forced fumbles.

The running back was my favorite position, but when college recruiting Faulcon, he was immediately told by Chad's high school coach Rich O' Connor first started recruiting Faulcon, he was immediately told by Chad's high school coach Rich O' Connor that "not give up onleges" and Coach Rosenmeyer asked was "being overlooked by a lot of colleges" and Coach Rosenmeyer asked to "not give up on the possibility of getting Chad.” Coach O'Connor was tenacious and