The Montclarion, April 11, 2013

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.montclair.edu/montclarion

Recommended Citation

https://digitalcommons.montclair.edu/montclarion/1001
The National Rifle Association released its proposal to improve safety in schools across the nation last week.

Rather than agreeing with Congress’ approach of tightening gun control, the main focus of the NRA’s proposal is to train teachers and staff in gun control and have them armed to protect students during school hours. Additionally, in opposition to Congress, the NRA is against expanding background checks for people purchasing guns. The National School Shield program, headed by Hutchinson, of Arkansas, created a 225-page report that includes all the proposals that the NRA believes are necessary to improve safety in schools across the country.

The program was created after the Sandy Hook shooting in Connecticut, and the NRA has already spent over $1 million to support the program. The report is based off of information gathered from safety evaluations at six schools in the United States, and has a total of eight proposals to be considered that will improve safety and control in both private and public schools.

The other ideas stated in the proposal, along with trained and armed personnel in all schools, included a self-assessment tool that allows schools to evaluate their safety policies online, state laws that would allow school staff to carry guns while they are in training, increasing school safety funds on a federal scale. The proposal is to train teachers and staff in gun control. After the Sandy Hook shootings, there have been many debates about increased school security, but training staff in firearms seems ludicrous.

Teachers could soon be carrying guns on campus like officers do if the bill the NRA prepared to accept by schools.

“Instead of agreeing with Congress’ way of approaching gun control, the main focus of the NRA’s proposal is to train teachers and staff in gun control and have them armed to protect students during school hours,” Sergio Troncoso, an essayist of rising notoriety and one lauded at the event: teaching kids within and without the curriculum. He said one of his first major influences that turned him on to writing was a book a teacher assigned him that wasn’t in the curriculum, but was one the teacher thought pertinent to his life. “The great teachers I had did not follow the rules they were supposed to follow, they just saw the curiosity in me,” said Troncoso. The M. Jerry Weiss Early Career Teacher Award was awarded to David Eisenberg of Glen Meadow Middle School and to Katheren Fraser Whisney of St. Vin.

Features, p. 7
Raw Score: What’s In Your Food?
A study conducted last semester by the department of microbiology found E. coli in food samples from dining locations on campus. However, results improved in a second set of tests done this semester.

Lips with a Voice: MSU V-Day 2013
In recent news the National Rifle Association made a recent proposal to train teachers and staff in gun control. After the Sandy Hook shootings there have been many debates about increased school security, but training staff in firearms seems ludicrous.

The Board of Trustees ready to discuss tuition.
On April 4, the Montclair State University Board of Trustees held their annual tuition hearing, an event that allows students to express thoughts and comments on the subject of tuition rates, which the Board of Trustees will vote on during the summer. The event was held at the conference center of University Hall and lasted for an hour and a half. The Board of Trustees, President Cole and several members of the MSU community attended the event. More than 20 students spoke to the Board, all of which spoke against tuition raises.

Several topics were covered by students, all of which related to tuition in some way. Many students expressed unhappiness with the Board’s past decisions and complained about not having their voices heard. Student speaking time was reduced from the previous 4 minutes to 3 minutes. Students of various backgrounds and financial situations spoke to the Board, including students from the military, undocumented immigrants, and students from New York City. Following the Board meeting, President Cole and SUBC members met with students who did not have a chance to speak during the meeting. The meetings continued on Page 4.
Weekly News

On April 1
A female student reported an act of simple assault while in Freeman Hall. The victim declined to pursue charges in this matter. (building #15)

On April 2
A female student visited police headquarters to retrieve her wallet. Upon checking her for her online banking statement, she discovered that someone used her credit card at a location in Montclair. This matter is under investigation.

On April 3
Student Calvin Riley was arrested and charged with harassment while in Sinatra Hall. Riley is to appear at Little Falls Municipal Court. (building #61)

On April 3
Non-student Angel Quinones was arrested on Valley Road for several active warrants stemming from jurisdictions within Passaic County. Quinones was issued traffic summonses for improper passing and driving on a suspended license. Quinones is scheduled to appear in Clifton Municipal Court.

On April 6
Student Latisha Lancaster was arrested on a warrant stemming from a traffic stop on Curiale Road. Her warrant was for failure to appear out of East Orange. She has been rescheduled for a new court date from East Orange Municipal Court.

On April 7
A female student reported that a fire extinguisher was used on her door and doorway while inside of Whitman Hall. This case is under investigation. (building #62)

World News

• A six-year-old boy in Toms River was shot in the head with a .22 caliber rifle Monday while in the yard of a 4-year-old neighbor, police said. The wounded boy was taken by medivac to Jersey Shore University Medical Center in Neptune, where he died Tuesday.

• A vandalized Trenton Fire Department statue may cost thousands of dollars to repair. The statue stood for more than 120 years before being inexplicably destroyed in an act of vandalism Sunday morning.

• Due to safety concerns Trenton-Mercer Airport’s air traffic control tower is expected to close. Pilots protested the expected closure because it will lead to loss of jobs for air traffic controllers.

• The 82-year-old Convention Hall in Asbury Park may have hosted its final event. On Saturday, the Jersey Shore Roller Girls skated in the landmark hall, which may close at the end of the month due to a dispute between city officials and the boardwalk developer over parking and upgrades to the building’s fire safety equipment.

• The U.S. Navy plans to deploy a laser weapon aboard a warship for the first time. The laser will be deployed on the USS Ponce in early 2014.

• A man dressed as the TV character Cookie Monster allegedly shoved a two-year-old boy after the child’s parents refused the man’s demand for $2 for posing for a photo, New York police said.

• The journalist who first reported about a notebook that James Holmes allegedly sent his psychiatrist before last year’s horrific theater massacre could face jail time for not revealing her source. FoxNews.com reporter Jana Winter has been subpoenaed by Holmes’ attorneys to testify on Wednesday, but on Monday, Judge Carlos Samour Jr. put off a ruling on whether Witter must reveal her source.

• Residents in Mayflower, Ark., have filed a class-action lawsuit against ExxonMobil after a pipeline rupture caused thousands of barrels of heavy crude oil to flow into a residential area.

• Anne Smedinghoff, the public diplomacy officer for the U.S. Embassy in Afghanistan, was killed at the age of 25 in the province of Zabul. A suicide bomber smashed into her convoy on Saturday and killed her and four other people.

• The U.S. government is getting a bill for the damage a Navy mineweeper did to a Philippine coral reef. Philippine officials say the USS Guardian damaged 2,346 square meters (25,252 square feet) of Tubbataha Reef after it ran aground on Jan. 17.

• Japan deployed missile-defense systems at three sites around Tokyo early Tuesday ahead of a possible missile launch by North Korea. The Patriot missile batteries were set up in the central district of Ichigaya and in the suburbs of Asaka and Narashino.

• China announced another case of a rare strain of bird flu Monday, taking the total number of H7N9 infections to 21. The new case was confirmed in the country’s eastern Anhui province.

• Former British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, the only woman to become British prime minister, has died at the age of 87. She suffered a stroke on Monday, her spokeswoman said.

Any other who has information regarding these incidents is urged to call the police station from any campus phone at T H P S (8477). All calls are strictly confidential.
Student Examines Holocaust

Ethan Fria
News Editor

Before Professor Kassow, a historian and author took the podium, an award was presented to a Montclair student. Kassow thought it was a great opportunity to showcase outstanding work in an art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattooed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattooed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattooed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattooed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattooed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattooed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattooed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattooed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattooed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattooed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattooed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattooed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattooed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattooed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattooed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattooed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattoed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattoed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattoed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattoed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattoed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattoed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattoed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattoed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattoed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattoed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattoed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattoed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.

The award was given to the student who best captured the events of the holocaust in any sort of art form. The winner was a junior English education major, Morgan Adams, whose essay entitled “Tattoed Memory: The Legacy of the Holocaust Generated by the Oyeng Shabes Archive” delved into Holocaust treatment of the Jews.
transferred the bacteria by touching focal matter (which is passed through the small intestine) and then touching something else. E. coli is a huge concern in the food industry. If an individual comes in contact with or ingests contaminated with everything the bacteria, it can be fatal.

Dr. Brian W. L. Enker, professor of microbiology at MSU, said, "In the past, we discovered there was E. coli in the food at school and when enough people heard about it, MSU switched food vendors." That new vendor is Sodexo.

Dr. Akins, both of whom spoke dining locations on campus.

E.coli microbiology found traces of cuts that could be made. He

SGA President Juzdan

Continued from page 1

SGA President Juzdan

Students were presented a wide array of issues they would like to see the Board acknowledge. Several students gave impassioned speeches. During her speech, MSU student Lisa Crab Green left the Board to face the students, saying, "I am addressing you, the students and faculty and not the administra tors and board members since they are not listening.

SGA President Juzdan spoke about other possible cuts that could be made. He

Students aren't always aware of what is going on behind the scenes in the kitchen at school, but how much can go on before it actually starts causing concerns? The microbiology department at our school runs tests for E. coli on students to familiarize themselves with different microorganisms. Last semester food tester for different distributors were tested for E. coli and finding products from vendors like McDonald's test negative.

However, when lunch from the Student Center was test ed, it came back positive.

We need to... figure out where the[se] cuts.

-- George Juzdan SGA President

Students presented a wide array of issues they would like to see the Board acknowledge. Several students gave impassioned speeches. During her speech, MSU student Lisa Crab Green left the Board to face the students, saying, "I am addressing you, the students and faculty and not the administrators and board members since they are not listening.

SGA President Juzdan spoke about other possible cuts that could be made. He

Students aren't always aware of what is going on behind the scenes in the kitchen at school, but how much can go on before it actually starts causing concerns? The microbiology department at our school runs tests for E. coli on students to familiarize themselves with different microorganisms. Last semester food tester for different distributors were tested for E. coli and finding products from vendors like McDonald's test negative.

However, when lunch from the Student Center was tested, it came back positive.

We need to... figure out where the[se] cuts.

-- George Juzdan SGA President

Students presented a wide array of issues they would like to see the Board acknowledge. Several students gave impassioned speeches. During her speech, MSU student Lisa Crab Green left the Board to face the students, saying, "I am addressing you, the students and faculty and not the administrators and board members since they are not listening.

SGA President Juzdan spoke about other possible cuts that could be made. He

Students aren't always aware of what is going on behind the scenes in the kitchen at school, but how much can go on before it actually starts causing concerns? The microbiology department at our school runs tests for E. coli on students to familiarize themselves with different microorganisms. Last semester food tester for different distributors were tested for E. coli and finding products from vendors like McDonald's test negative.

However, when lunch from the Student Center was tested, it came back positive.

We need to... figure out where the[se] cuts.

-- George Juzdan SGA President

Students presented a wide array of issues they would like to see the Board acknowledge. Several students gave impassioned speeches. During her speech, MSU student Lisa Crab Green left the Board to face the students, saying, "I am addressing you, the students and faculty and not the administrators and board members since they are not listening.

SGA President Juzdan spoke about other possible cuts that could be made. He

Students aren't always aware of what is going on behind the scenes in the kitchen at school, but how much can go on before it actually starts causing concerns? The microbiology department at our school runs tests for E. coli on students to familiarize themselves with different microorganisms. Last semester food tester for different distributors were tested for E. coli and finding products from vendors like McDonald's test negative.

However, when lunch from the Student Center was tested, it came back positive.

We need to... figure out where the[se] cuts.

-- George Juzdan SGA President
Commencement and Convocation: 2013

Convocation Schedule:
- College of Humanities and Social Sciences: Sunday, May 19 at 2 p.m.
- College of Science and Mathematics: Sunday, May 19 at 7 p.m.
- College of Education and Human Services: Monday, May 20 at 2 p.m.
  - The Graduate School: Monday, May 20 at 7 p.m.
  - School of Business: Tuesday, May 21 at 2 p.m.
  - College of the Arts: Tuesday, May 21 at 7 p.m.

Commencement:
- Friday, May 24
  - IZOD Center
  - Reporting time: 9 a.m.
  - Start time: 10 a.m.

Additional Information:
- Free parking is available in the Meadowlands Sports Complex.
- For convocation, tickets and seating are limited.
- For convocation ceremonies, undergraduates wear their robe and stoles with no cap, graduates wear their robe and cap with no hood. For commencement, full regalia is worn.
- Bachelor degree recipients can order regalia for $63 through the bookstore starting May 8.
- Master’s degree recipients can order regalia for $70 at collegegrad.herffjones.com.
- Doctoral degree recipients should contact the Graduate School for regalia ordering information.
- Diplomas will be mailed within 2-3 weeks of commencement.

Inclement Weather for Convocation Ceremonies:
- All convocation ceremonies are set to take place on Sprague Field.
- In case of inclement weather, convocations will be held on May 22-23.
- On the days of the ceremonies, students can call the weather hotline at 973-655-7810 for up-to-the-minute weather information.

I n c l e m e n t  W e a t h e r  f o r  C o n v o c a t i o n  C e r e m o n i e s:
- All convocation ceremonies are set to take place on Sprague Field.
- In case of inclement weather, convocations will be held on May 22-23.
- On the days of the ceremonies, students can call the weather hotline at 973-655-7810 for up-to-the-minute weather information.

Want to Study Abroad in 2014 and beyond?

START NOW!!!

INFORMATION SESSIONS
WEDNESDAYS AT 2:30 PM
GLOBAL EDUCATION CENTER
22 NORMAL AVENUE
Across from the Panzer Athletic Center

Check us out on the web:
www.montclair.edu/global-education/study-abroad
Like us on Facebook:
www.facebook.com/MontclairStateUniversityStudyAbroad
Follow us on Twitter:
https://twitter.com/MontclairAbroad

The Montclarion is looking for writers for their News Section!
For more information, email msnunews@gmail.com
Warm weather has finally set in and the first thing on our minds is baring our legs to start on a much-needed tan. Dresses are the easiest and most comfortable route to take for this goal, and with so many styles to choose from, it’s impossible not to find a comfortable fit for you.

Below are a selection of dresses from Modcloth, a website dedicated to great vintage fashion at affordable prices. These dresses, with the right accessories, can take you from class to the club easily.

After finding the right style for you, explore the thousands of options and accessories to make your dress truly one-of-a-kind and welcome the warm weather.

A-Line

What to look for: A dress that’s floor-skimming.

Best Body: Anyone with a less curvy figure, as it creates curves and conceals any unwanted tummy.

Try: A Choral Line by Modcloth
$36.99

Maxi

What to look for: A dress that’s floor-skimming.

Best Body: Taller girls looking for a flowing frock. Shorter girls take caution, a maxi dress that’s too long can make you look even shorter.

Try: Longshore Drifter by Modcloth
$54.99

Shirt

What to look for: A dress that’s essentially an extra long button-down shirt.

Best Body: Anyone looking for extra coverage and casual comfort. Girls who aren’t into girly dresses, this is the dress for you.

Try: Golden Grasslands by Modcloth
$44.99

Sheath

What to look for: A dress that comes in at the waist to the hemline.

Best Body: Anyone with a less curvy figure, as it creates curves and conceals any unwanted tummy.

Try: A Choral Line by Modcloth
$36.99

Peplum

What to look for: A dress with ruffled material generally in the middle.

Best Body: Anyone, with caution. For curvy girls, be mindful of where the peplum hits.

Try: Salt n’ Peplum by Modcloth
$47.99

Wrap

What to look for: A dress that’s put on like a robe and wrapped around your body.

Best Body: A curvy girls best friend, this dress accentuates curves in the right places.

Try: Teal it with a Kiss by Modcloth
$49.99

High-Low

What to look for: A dress that is shorter in the front and longer in the back.

Best Body: This style works best on petite figures, as the differing heights help elongate your legs and accentuate your frame.

Try: Sparkling Dessert Wine by Modcloth
$52.99
April is all about cancer control, and the best way to spend this month is by making small lifestyle changes that can have a huge impact on lowering your risk for developing cancer. According to the American Cancer Society, about two million more Americans will be diagnosed with cancer in 2013, with an average 1,600 dying each day. The good news is that over half of these deaths can be prevented by focusing on controllable risk factors like diet, activity, weight, smoking and sun exposure.

The power of nutrition is tremendous, especially when it comes to preventing, fighting and recovering from cancer. The easiest and most effective way to start combating cancer is to focus on diet and exercise. Here are three things that you can do right now to begin cutting your cancer risk in half.

1. Maintain a healthy weight

Research has confirmed that there is a definite link between being overweight and having an increased risk for cancer. Some of the most prevalent forms of cancer, like cancer of the breast, colon and pancreas, are stimulated by carrying around excess body fat. The key to weight loss is calorie control. Keeping an eye on your portion sizes and eating less empty calories such as sweets, junk food and sodas will help you slim down.

The calories that we take in must be expended through our daily activity, otherwise those extra calories will lead to weight gain. Regular physical activity helps to decrease body fat and reduce the circulating hormones that can promote cancer growth. It is recommended for adults to get at least 150 minutes of moderate physical activity per week.

2. Occasionally replace fatty and processed meats with leaner proteins

Studies suggest that consumption of processed and red meat may contribute to a higher risk of cancer. Processed meats include lunch meat, bacon, hot dogs and sausage. Lamb and beef are referred to as red meats. If you find yourself eating these foods almost every day, try substituting with leaner proteins like fish, beans, grains and poultry for a healthier balance.

3. Consume cancer fighting foods

Fruits and vegetables seem to be the answer to any nutrition-related ailment. Research supports their use in cancer prevention as well. Incorporating more fruits and vegetables into your diet leaves less room for potential cancer-stimulating and high-calorie foods.

Many fruits and vegetables are also rich sources of antioxidants. Antioxidants are today’s most well-known phytochemical, a broad term for substances in plants that provide protective benefits to ward off disease. Antioxidants are thought to reduce cancer risk by protecting our cells from daily exposure to free radicals, the suspected culprits when it comes to cancer formation. Antioxidants can also be found in some nuts and whole grains.

Go To Guide for Antioxidants:

- Vitamin C: Citrus, strawberries, green, leafy vegetables, broccoli
- Vitamin E: Nuts and seeds, whole grains, vegetable oils
- Beta-Carotene: Orange-colored foods, including sweet potatoes and carrots
- Lycopene: Tomatoes (even ketchup), papaya and watermelon
- Leutin: Green, leafy vegetables like spinach, kale and collard greens
- Selenium: Whole grains, Brazil nuts

To celebrate Cancer Prevention Month, Montclair State University will be hosting their annual Relay For Life event starting on the evening of April 26. To register, go to relayforlife.org and search for the event at Montclair State. At the event, members of the Montclair State Dietetics Organization will be selling copies of their cancer-fighting cookbook which promotes healthy living through tasty dishes that may prevent diseases.
“AT FIRST I WAS EMBARRASED. ME, A CAT, LIVING WITH A SINGLE GUY. BUT WHEN I WATCH HIM PICK SOMETHING UP WITH HIS HANDS AND EAT IT, I CAN'T HELP BUT LOVE HIM.”

—MARU
adopted 01-10-10

A PERSON IS THE BEST THING TO HAPPEN TO A SHELTER PET

adopt theshelterpetproject.org
Yoga: A Personal Testimony
Strength and Relaxation in the Same Workout

Morgan Adams
Staff Writer

Have you ever had a hard time falling asleep because you have a million thoughts racing through your mind? It’s safe to say that just about all of us would agree that we have experienced this at some point during our college career.

We are constantly bombarded with homework, tests, payments, job responsibilities, the list goes on. With so many things going on at once, it is almost impossible to relax.

Yoga is one way that makes relaxation possible and has been proven to be a major benefit to mental health. Not only do you feel good during the practice and sessions, but you also feel cleansed and relaxed afterwards.

There is an emphasis on breathing and focusing while doing yoga. This emphasis allows you to clear your mind and escape from everything that’s bothering you. Even though a session may only last an hour and 15 minutes, it puts you in a better mood to continue your day.

Exercise, as we all know, releases positive endorphins. Typically when you least feel like exercising is when your body needs that release of endorphins the most.

Yoga is a nice switch from bulk training and the stereotypes of a gym. Personally, I have been practicing for a little over a year now on a pretty consistent basis and I have noticed a difference. Doing yoga regularly gives you an overall better tone and works muscles typical gym exercises wouldn’t. Yoga has also taught me how important stretching is and has increased my flexibility.

While many may find regular yoga a little boring like I did, Bikram yoga, or hot yoga is just the opposite. The integration of heat with yoga makes me feel like I had a sufficient workout.

There are many places in and around Montclair where students can take classes for a discount as low as $10 per class. The cost for non-students for classes is around $18. There are also specials available occasionally at You-nique Yoga in Cedar Grove, where I’ve been going.

Check out WESS for yoga classes offered as gym courses or look at the campus gym or local gym for your opportunity to try hot yoga.

Personally, I recommend taking a class. It boosts your spirit and your strength all while helping you relax.

Sweating may disgust some, but the workout is well worth it.
Spring has most certainly sprung, a fact attested to by the sweat-drenched students on the quad. Speaking of sweat, I suppose public displays of affection, or PDAs, are all the rage now. Cuddling for warmth switches to clinging for contact, the skin peeling away as people pull apart.

When prompted with the question what is an appropriate display of affection during the warmer months? My answer is this: anything short of ripping your clothes off and “doing it.”

Seriously, I think there is a certain threshold that causes nausea in passersby. This threshold may be lower for those who may have been lonely during cold months and whose disposition still has to thaw.

Kissing: fine. Holding hands: more than okay. Getting cozy: more power to you. I think it’s heartwarming to see people becoming more and more affectionate as the temperature rises. It’s endearing to see public displays of affection and it gives everyone around the happy couple a wide grin.

Whether it’s Dick and Jane swapping fluids under the shaded willow, Denise and Jewell making out on the park bench or Don and John rubbing whiskers near the student center, it’s all okay. We’re human, dammit, and this is the 21st century. To quote the Cole Porter standard: “In olden days, a glimpse of stockings was looked on as something shocking, now anything goes.” But like I said before, not anything.

I suppose if people really were going to rip off their clothes, then I’d probably say something along the lines of: “Gross, you two!” or the tried and true, “Get a room!” Now beyond the pairs of people, if there were any a trio, I think that would be even more delightful. The more, the merrier, but some rules apply.

She Said

Public Displays of Affection run rampant on college campuses and it only gets worse with climbing temperatures. PDA toes a line between cute acceptability and total repulsion. We are all in college and we are all familiar with either experiencing or witnessing, romancing contact. Holding hands is cute and relatively harmless. This practice declares that the couple is happy and aren’t afraid to show it. However, those hands shouldn’t be holding anything else. I don’t want to see you grope your girlfriend’s butt; that is behavior that should be saved for the bedroom.

That type of behavior doesn’t deserve any sort of respect from your peers. Hugging your boyfriend is fine, but no one wants to see a full-on make-out session. You’ve crossed the line when tongues start flying.

We all fall into Spring Fever when the weather begins to warm up. All those bare arms and legs are a constant reminder that we all have hormones. Besides PDA, I am also going to advise against leering at the opposite sex. Whether we know we look cute or not, no one wants to be stared at. I’m not blaming one gender for this tendency. Women can be just as guilty as men when it comes to staring a little too long. I like to look good as much as the next girl but just be tactful about it. Or, you can just buy a pair of sunglasses and stare as much as you want without anyone noticing.

Now that it’s spring, what’s an appropriate level of PDA?

HE SAID

Spring has most certainly sprung, a fact attested to by the sweat-drenched students on the quad. Speaking of sweat, I suppose public displays of affection, or PDAs, are all the rage now. Cuddling for warmth switches to clinging for contact, the skin peeling away as people pull apart.

When prompted with the question what is an appropriate display of affection during the warmer months? My answer is this: anything short of ripping your clothes off and “doing it.”

Seriously, I think there is a certain threshold that causes nausea in passersby. This threshold may be lower for those who may have been lonely during cold months and whose disposition still has to thaw.

Kissing: fine. Holding hands: more than okay. Getting cozy: more power to you. I think it’s heartwarming to see people becoming more and more affectionate as the temperature rises. It’s endearing to see public displays of affection and it gives everyone around the happy couple a wide grin.

Whether it’s Dick and Jane swapping fluids under the shaded willow, Denise and Jewell making out on the park bench or Don and John rubbing whiskers near the student center, it’s all okay. We’re human, dammit, and this is the 21st century. To quote the Cole Porter standard: “In olden days, a glimpse of stockings was looked on as something shocking, now anything goes.” But like I said before, not anything.

I suppose if people really were going to rip off their clothes, then I’d probably say something along the lines of: “Gross, you two!” or the tried and true, “Get a room!” Now beyond the pairs of people, if there were any a trio, I think that would be even more delightful. The more, the merrier, but some rules apply.

She Said

Public Displays of Affection run rampant on college campuses and it only gets worse with climbing temperatures. PDA toes a line between cute acceptability and total repulsion. We are all in college and we are all familiar with either experiencing or witnessing, romancing contact. Holding hands is cute and relatively harmless. This practice declares that the couple is happy and aren’t afraid to show it. However, those hands shouldn’t be holding anything else. I don’t want to see you grope your girlfriend’s butt; that is behavior that should be saved for the bedroom.

That type of behavior doesn’t deserve any sort of respect from your peers. Hugging your boyfriend is fine, but no one wants to see a full-on make-out session. You’ve crossed the line when tongues start flying.

We all fall into Spring Fever when the weather begins to warm up. All those bare arms and legs are a constant reminder that we all have hormones. Besides PDA, I am also going to advise against leering at the opposite sex. Whether we know we look cute or not, no one wants to be stared at. I’m not blaming one gender for this tendency. Women can be just as guilty as men when it comes to staring a little too long. I like to look good as much as the next girl but just be tactful about it. Or, you can just buy a pair of sunglasses and stare as much as you want without anyone noticing.

Now that it’s spring, what’s an appropriate level of PDA?
Rentals

Save $$ - Female Students or Grads: Summer, Fall 2013 room rentals May-August or school year. Furnished, Across from Campus. Internet Included. Singles or Shared. 973-778-1504

Boarding available 9/1/13 for female, non-smoker. In lovely, secure, private home, 2.4 mi. from MSU. All amenities. Furnished Room with bath, lg. closet. $1500.00 mon. plus security. Call Diane: 201-315-0476

SAVE $ - FEMALE STUDENTS, GRADS: Summer, Fall 2013 Room Rentals May thru August, OR School Year! Furnished – Across from Campus, Internet Inc. Singles or Shared. ONE ROOM AVAILABLE IMMEDIATELY – 973-778-1504

Help Wanted

HOMEWORK-HELPER Wanted for 10 year-old, MSU Student w/exc driving record & organizational skills needed to pick up 15-yr old HS Freshman boy after school or JV tennis/Bring him to our house & oversee school assignment & planning, ensure HW is being done, help him stay on task & completing work by due dates. Mon-Thur from either 3PM (aft school) or 6pm (aft tennis) until 7:15pm. $20/hr Call Stacy at 973-818-0165.

For Sale

Park & Lock $80.00 / Month....Very Close to MSU....973-746-8495

MSU Student w/exc driving record & organizational skills needed to pick up 15-yr old HS Freshman boy after school or JV tennis/Bring him to our house & oversee school assignment & planning, ensure HW is being done, help him stay on task & completing work by due dates. Mon-Thur from either 3PM (aft school) or 6pm (aft tennis) until 7:15pm. $20/hr Call Stacy at 973-818-0165.

Email montclarionad@gmail.com for more information and details.
Fun & Games

HOROSCOPES
By Madame Carley

Aries March 21 - April 19
It’s time for you to stop receiving and instead start giving. If you keep relying on material possessions for happiness you will never be truly satisfied regardless of how much you have.

Taurus April 20 - May 20
Shift your focus on your health, particularly your emotions. Perhaps you should consider talking to others on how you’ve been feeling lately. Whether they decide to listen or not, it will help because there are times where you just have to open up.

Gemini May 21 - June 20
While it may be fun to be different, to socialize, to break the rules, and to go beyond the limits, be wary of your impulsiveness in making decisions. Something that seems trivial may end up having a greater significance than you think.

Cancer June 21 - July 22
Don’t become defeated by things of the past. It’s time to move forward and realize how fortunate you are to be alive and to have the things that many don’t. You really don’t know how much power and influence you have among others.

Leo July 23 - August 22
You seem to value things that you normally have never considered being important. Although many of your close friends may believe it is just a ridiculous phase of yours, trust this intuitive force. Now, you don’t have to push these people away, but pull yourself back a little instead.

Virgo August 23 - September 22
Many have been wondering what you’ve been up to lately. Try to make an unexpected appearance where you know that you will be recognized and appreciated, despite your prolonged absence. Be a good sport and don’t criticize others. Otherwise, people are just going to wish you had stayed gone.

Libra September 23 - October 22
It’s time to stop being self-righteous and start considering what others have to say. Whether you like it or not, everyone that you meet has something to teach you. Just keep a positive behavior instead of a bitter one and you will be quite successful.

Scorpio October 23 - November 21
You should notice a new strength in your emotions and character. Use this to help you get one step ahead of the game, as you have a special power that cannot be matched by anyone. Don’t let others abash this new found confidence of yours.

Sagittarius November 22 - December 21
Break open those gates that you feel are obstructing any aspect of your life. Whether it is happiness, love or success that you are seeking, it shouldn’t feel arduous when doing so. Have fun with it, and don’t go out of your way to do the things you know are nearly impossible.

Capricorn December 22 - January 19
You feel as if you’re running on reserved battery power, since you work more efficiently under pressure. If things, however, don’t end up exactly the way you wanted, remember to stay calm and don’t put yourself down. It’s not the end of the world.

Aquarius January 20 - February 18
You feel as though your daily routine is beginning to get a little boring, so change it up one day. Let the events come to you, rather than have you coming to them. Enjoy the day that you have been given, and make sure to use every minute to its fullest potential.

Pisces February 19 - March 20
While the attention from others may give you some extra confidence and pleasure, you can only take so much of it. You will start to feel threatened by newcomers whom you believe will steal your “spotlight,” but don’t worry about it too much. Perhaps they will start to admire you as well.
Opinion

Up in Arms For Our Students

Question of the Week

Do you think professors should be allowed to carry guns on campus?

---

Bruce Higa

Senior

Psychology

Personally, I feel that professors shouldn’t carry guns just because it would be encouraging more violence. We come to school, learn, and feel safe, not scared. Safety is important, but there are other requirements (to get to the point where) professors would bring guns.

---

Michael Pope

Junior

Broadcasting

I think, as far as professors carrying guns on campus, I don’t really see the need as per this campus, since we do have campus police. I feel like they can do anything we would need done. I don’t know if I would feel safe having people with guns on campus if they didn’t actually know what to do with one.

---

Jia Patel

Senior

Psychology

“I would exactly know why a professor would need a gun in the first place. I would probably just say no out of not understanding why.”

---

Paul Sabino

Junior

Fine Arts

“I think, as far as professors packing heat seems daunting to most minds. The thought of our professors packing heat seems daunting too.”

---

Noah Fontina

Sophomore

Animation

“I think if they have all the right permissions, then that’s their right to have arms. I think for all the schools that these crazy people get in — granted, I think the security could have been better — I think having a teacher with a gun is a good help.”

---

Ewa Kuruc

Sophomore

Justice Studies

“My answer is no because I think that is just really made. It depends on the professor’s personality and if they’re right in the head to see if they would use it correctly. If the students are just joking around, the professor might think they’re a serious problem. He might get out of control.”

---

Charles DePiero

Senior

Psychology

“There’s a few professors in my mind that I really wouldn’t be comfortable with bringing a gun. In my opinion, I wouldn’t feel safe at all if I knew they had guns.”

---

Vicky Leta

The Montclarion

Lack of air conditioning in buildings around campus

---

In recent news, the National Rifle Association made a recent proposal to train teachers and staff in gun control. After the Sandy Hook shootings, there have been many debates as to how bump up school security, but training staff in firearms seems ludicrous. It’s almost unbelievable that this is even being implemented in elementary schools.

New people could be able to get a gun if they obtain it through proper protocol, but to force teachers to take up arms is almost a hindrance on staff. The program is forcing teachers to take up arms and go through the procedures of obtaining proper training and background checks.

There are many professors and teachers who are against firearms and would oppose this protocol. The state wants to force workers to bear arms, especially to those who are opposed to having them. Many believe it is unsafe and will make young, impressionable children uneasy in a classroom setting. Who are we kidding? It makes no sense for the sake of the students. The thought of our professors packing heat seems daunting.

The NRA and Congress are trying to make an environment safer for students, but this resolves nothing. If students feel threatened or uneasy in a classroom, then it’s adding to the threat. It’s the elephant in the room, that awkwardness and uncomfortable feeling of knowing there is a potential threat. It will be a distraction to most students and could cause an even bigger threat to students’ lives. There are many possible scenarios that could occur: when staff bear arms on school grounds. A staff member could accidentally trigger the lives of students. Criminality is unpredictable, which causes some concern with armed staff.

You cannot predict what can cause a human being to snap and that is a thought that will be on many students’ minds. This may also pose a threat because it would make firearms more accessible to students. Having them in the classroom won’t necessarily provide most students to take them, but there is a possibility that a student might go through inescapable means to obtain such a weapon. As much as teachers could be a possible threat, students could also pose a threat towards staff and other students.

The best way to have security is by stationing armed guards or trained officers at schools. Since gun restrictions will not be changed, it is probably best to have someone who has gone through rigorous training and mental testing to handle firearms. What are we going to do, send teachers into an academy? Police officers are trained and are usually physically fit. Most teachers cannot meet that same stature of fitness and training that officers endure. We are much better off with armed guards. Upgrading school security could also be a huge factor in protecting our students. There are better methods to protecting our students and staff. There is no need to pull the trigger on such a controversial issue.

---

Thumbs Up

Spring has Sprung

The Village Pool Opening

Cubist Paintings in the Metropolitan Museum of Art

---

Thumbs Down

Tick-Tock Diner Assassination Plans

Roger Ebert’s Death

Lack of air conditioning in buildings around campus
Unguided Edits
Managing Editor
Whether in face-to-face telephones, robots, it never ends. My Montclarion e-mail gets the most spam of all, getting press releases and events sent to me constantly.

Nicola, normally I devote most of me, however, a few weeks ago, one caught my eye.
I received a press release for a website called Qpid.me.
What intrigued me about this website was the mere thought process behind why there wasn't a need for such a site. Qpid is a free, simple way to get and share your verified STD results. To me, this just proves that in this day and generation, if you can think it, it definitely exists. There should not be a need for this website to exist.

Qpid.me's most dedicated users are featured on the front page, proclaiming, "My results were just for you guys. I love you what you guys are doing!" and "An empowering avenue into having that talk up front and a quick and easy way to get verified results to any sexy partner they have that any potential lovers have an account on Qpid me."

The hardest thing for me to disappoint is the fact that people find it as hard to have the "talk." The site proclaims that by taking an STD test, you can confidently and accurately know their partner's STD status and simultaneously avoid all the awkwardness and uncertainty that vocally communicating the same thing holds.

Wouldn't you take out of the moment and make it more awkward if while still the other half bit part of his ear off.

The two episodes that have been found to have been anything but boring. In fact, even the "boring" parts of the show have brought nothing but talents. However, this article's focus is not on the series in total, but on an unfortunate incident involving a fan that sparked a sidekick.

On March 27, the 6'5" individual boarded disrupting noises coming from outside his room at the Twombly be-staying. According to the UM Mirror, three men were wrestling in the boxers' dorm. Two were brunet, drunk, and loud, which were too much for the two to stop.

After they continued their domestic violence, Mantle
then came out and threatened the boy in his dorm room, who then prompted the men to jump Mantle, pinning him to the ground while the other bit part of his ear off.

This episode is not

With Wario and Waluigi being two of the titles most complained about on previous years, there is now an option to test for STDs.

Concerning Editorials and Columns
Main editorials appear on the first page of the Opinion section.
An obvious difference between commentaries is that columns are written by individuals and do not necessarily reflect the opinions of The Montclarion staff.
Many tears were shed at shame surrounding sexualasing the silence and ending the matter. Revealed personal accounts related conversations and bravely related monologues but raised members not only rehearsed that, for many, would also campaign have been hard at "The Vagina Monologues" and since February, the cast of Vagina Monologues is a series of monologues read by a varying number of women celebrating power, pride, vagina and soon found herself pertected, abused and raped. They relate shocking experiences of their fellow women. "The most important thing that I gained from this experience," told Carla, "is the realization that you are not alone. There is no experience more empowering or inspiring than to realize you're not alone. There is something so powerful about people sharing their stories and experiences that you have been forced to keep to yourself, and to realize that you are not alone, that there are others who have gone through the same thing. It's a powerful experience where they happened to them, where other women who may have her truly horrific experiences took center stage and revealed the process not just in terms of support, I would have sisters," says Minarchi. "Without their help, I would not have been able to reveal the things I did. The support of my castmates, the members of the college community, and my family was invaluable."

When someone is deciding what movie to see or whether it's worth their time and money to do so, they tend to turn to the advice of their friends, for advice. Film criticism is a nationwide profession, yet the critic's name seems to be at the front of everyone's "must read" list - Roger Ebert. Not only was Ebert the dean of film criticism, he was a Pulitzer Prize winner and the first to get his own star on the prestigious Hollywood Walk of Fame. The Chicago Sun-Times was an advocate of a world who reshaped journalism by unpacking the hidden language embedded within a plethora of films. His reviews could make or break a movie. If it got two thumbs down, chances are the theater would be empty. Ebert's review was both sharp and witty, and each of his reviews helped to advance the careers of some of today's most prominent critics including A.O. Scott, and his reviews made him a few enemies, but his colorful disposition and robust nature when it came to reviewing movies may have to take center stage and revealed the process not just in terms of support, I would have sisters," says Minarchi. "With-
out their help, I would not have been able to reveal the things I did. The support of my castmates, the members of the college community, and my family was invaluable."
Oakland emcee Lil Debbie is quickly proving that she has the look and flow to stand out in the male-dominated hip-hop game with her latest video, “Rachets,” an upbeat club anthem. The rapper/model basically stands around for most of the video and delivers one of the sickest verbal beatings I’ve heard in a while. The true stars of the video are her red headed background dancers who twerk and pop in unison wearing skintight Budweiser leotards. If that’s not “ratchet,” I don’t know what is.

Rapper French Montana’s latest single, “Freaks,” gives a reggae classic a modern facelift with the help of hip-hop’s favorite pinup and American Idol judge Nicki Minaj. The third single from Montana’s debut album, Excuse My French, is an infectious anthem that infuses some of my favorite things to enjoy responsibly: chilled Ciroc and a well-orchestrated dance-off. With a fire-spitter, hardcore grinding and Minaj’s strategically placed pasty tassels, Montana definitely has a hit on his hands.

Welcome to the Odd Future doll house.

Hip-hop lyrical menace Tyler, The Creator from Odd Future just released a new single, “IFHY,” from his forthcoming third album, WOLF. The track, which also features vocals from Pharrell Williams, is a twisted love ballad and a great showcase for Tyler’s signature, slightly sinister-sounding flow. The accompanying video, which is set in a whimsical dollhouse where Tyler and a lover are living dolls, matches the playfully demented vibes in Tyler’s rhymes. The budding romance is extremely creepy, but we can’t help but notice that it’s also a little sweet.

Jessie Ware, the London-bred soul songstress, is back with a newly-released video for her latest single, “Imagine It Was Us.” The video is an trip into club decadence and features an array of whimsical characters that strike intricate poses in the vogue style similar to Madonna. The track is from Jessie’s Devotion, which will be released on April 16. Ware is quickly becoming one of my favorite new artists and I’m sure that after watching the video, she will be yours, too.

 Ware is putting the soul back into music one track at a time.
In New Jersey, any voter can vote by mail in any election. You do not need a reason!

If you voted using your residence hall address in the 2012 presidential election, you can vote in the June 4, 2013 primary by having your ballot sent to any address this summer. Below is a sample ballot application. Your Community Assistant will speak to you about filling it out. Let’s continue to Rock the Vote!

Shivaun Gaines, Director | Office of Government Relations | 973-655-7648
Bated Breath: TV’s Hottest Thriller

Dhabbi Banerji
Staff Writer

A horror classic gets a face lift.

Toward the end of the first episode, Norman tells her, “I’m your whole life, my whole self.” In the outside world, Norman is polite and, for the most part, normal. However, once they leave, Norman flicks a switch and becomes the monster Norma Bates. Some people might argue that she’s just being overprotective, but I believe that it could best be described as “sociopathic.”

Norman’s mother, Norma, is a social worker, someone who attempts to reconnect with her son after her husband dies. Some might say that she does not do it for her son, but for herself. The show’s tagline is “A boy’s best friend is his mother.”

The fourth episode, “The Man with the Blacklight,” shows that Norman had a traumatic when he was a young child and was left alone in the motel. His mother had been away for a few days and he had to fend for himself. He was discovered by a group of friends who were looking for something to do. They were shocked to find a young boy with a gun. They spoke to him and he opened up about his situation. He said that his mother was away and he had nowhere to go. They took him in and he stayed with them for a few days.

The fifth episode, “The Man with the Blacklight,” was a turning point for Norman. He had been living in the motel with his mother for a few years and had become quite attached to her. When she left, he was left alone and had no one to turn to. He turned to the darkness to find a place to call his own. He started to kill and to hurt people. This episode was a turning point for him.

The sixth episode, “The Man with the Blacklight,” was the finale. Norman had been killed by his mother and the show ended on a cliffhanger. The final shot was of Norman’s mother, Norma, standing in front of the motel and looking out over the horizon. She seemed to be thinking about the past and the future. It was a somber ending to the show.

Overall, the show was a success. It was well written and directed and the performances were outstanding. It was a show that you could not take your eyes off of. It was a show that you could not stop thinking about. It was a show that you could not put down.

The show’s tagline is “A boy’s best friend is his mother.” This is a true statement. Norman’s mother, Norma, was his best friend. She was the one person who always had his back, no matter what. She was the one person who always listened to him, no matter what. She was the one person who always loved him, no matter what. She was the one person who always supported him, no matter what. She was the one person who always protected him, no matter what. She was the one person who always forgave him, no matter what. She was the one person who always believed in him, no matter what.

The show’s tagline is “A boy’s best friend is his mother.” This is a true statement. Norman’s mother, Norma, was his best friend. She was the one person who always had his back, no matter what. She was the one person who always listened to him, no matter what. She was the one person who always loved him, no matter what. She was the one person who always supported him, no matter what. She was the one person who always protected him, no matter what. She was the one person who always forgave him, no matter what. She was the one person who always believed in him, no matter what.

The show’s tagline is “A boy’s best friend is his mother.” This is a true statement. Norman’s mother, Norma, was his best friend. She was the one person who always had his back, no matter what. She was the one person who always listened to him, no matter what. She was the one person who always loved him, no matter what. She was the one person who always supported him, no matter what. She was the one person who always protected him, no matter what. She was the one person who always forgave him, no matter what. She was the one person who always believed in him, no matter what.

The show’s tagline is “A boy’s best friend is his mother.” This is a true statement. Norman’s mother, Norma, was his best friend. She was the one person who always had his back, no matter what. She was the one person who always listened to him, no matter what. She was the one person who always loved him, no matter what. She was the one person who always supported him, no matter what. She was the one person who always protected him, no matter what. She was the one person who always forgave him, no matter what. She was the one person who always believed in him, no matter what.

The show’s tagline is “A boy’s best friend is his mother.” This is a true statement. Norman’s mother, Norma, was his best friend. She was the one person who always had his back, no matter what. She was the one person who always listened to him, no matter what. She was the one person who always loved him, no matter what. She was the one person who always supported him, no matter what. She was the one person who always protected him, no matter what. She was the one person who always forgave him, no matter what. She was the one person who always believed in him, no matter what.

The show’s tagline is “A boy’s best friend is his mother.” This is a true statement. Norman’s mother, Norma, was his best friend. She was the one person who always had his back, no matter what. She was the one person who always listened to him, no matter what. She was the one person who always loved him, no matter what. She was the one person who always supported him, no matter what. She was the one person who always protected him, no matter what. She was the one person who always forgave him, no matter what. She was the one person who always believed in him, no matter what.
People were skeptical at first when they heard of a band on the music scene about a year ago. Everyone assumed the band would be a one-hit wonder with their platinum hit, “We Are Young,” yet they somehow managed to ave many people wondering.

Nate Russel formed the band after serving as The Format’s lead singer for eight years. The Format did decently well in the indie music scene but later, successfully made it to the charts.

That all changed when Russel teamed up with Andrew Fox from Audials and Jack Antanoff to form “fun.” Antanoff was also from an indie band but he played guitar for the band Steel Train. Like The Format, they struggled for fame and they expected the exposure they deserved.

In 2008, the future hit-makers forced and formed the band “fun.” They debuted on the music scene with their 2009 album, ‘Aim and Ignite’ which featured hits such as “All The Pretty Girls” and “Take Your Time.” The album did fairly well. They developed a small but very loyal following.

The “Carry On” single started playing small venues and played anywhere that they could be heard.

Then, in 2011, the real fun began. They started getting a lot of airplay for their first single of their latest album, “We Are Young” quickly shot to #1 after its release was featured on an episode of the hit show, Glee. In December, the song secured its spot at #1 on the iTunes chart and stayed there for many weeks to follow.

Having their song featured on Glee really put “fun.” on the map. They became regulars on popular radio stations and made the rounds on all the high-rated talk shows. The band was becoming a household name and people couldn’t get enough of them.

When award season rolled around, their talent didn’t go unnoticed. “fun.” took home “Best New Artist” as well as “Song of the Year” at the Grammy Awards. They also took home “Choice Rock Group” and “Choice Single By A Group” at the Teen Choice Awards.

The band recently released their third single, “Carry On,” from their latest album, ‘Some Nights,’ The song went straight to #1. They have just kicked off their seven-month worldwide tour. Russel collaborated with Pink on her single, “Just Give Me a Reason.” The band has been doing nothing but achieving new levels of success and they are on a steady path of staying at this level of success for a long time. All in all, the trio have been through some tough times. They have all experienced failure and now they are all experiencing success. The band has had a very long journey to success, but I am looking back, they will all agree that it was worth it, and even though it’s a lot of hard work, it’s been extremely rewarding and incredibly fun.

Nicole Dugue
Staff Writer

Louisiana has done it again. A state known for its huge musical output over the past few centuries has brought the world yet another promising act. Six ambitious folk from New Orleans under Dangerbird Records three years ago and have already gathered a huge number of fans.

To successfully indulge in their beat-centric sound, give a nod to the band, Royal Teeth. The Louisiana natives are nearing the end of their US tour and have already gathered a lot of attention. Packed venues during their shows in New Orleans and the rest of the nation.

Since that show, Louisiana native Jeff Castelaz was hoping to make a name for himself in the indie music scene but later, successfully made it to the charts. Castelaz was hoping to see his dreams was minutes from becoming a reality. Perhaps setting off a whole new trend. Castelaz formed “fun.” An other- wise unknown act. Fans from Louisiana and beyond were not disappointed. The band did not disappoint.

In 2011, the CMF Festival in New Orleans welcomed the band wholeheartedly, boasting their image with its positive promotions and reviews. Luckily, the band did not disappoint. In fact, their demand was so high that they played two shows during the festival. The show, they delivered their playful blend of indie-pop with snippets of key- board, lively choruses that get stuck in your head, and a海南 music scene. They have all experienced failure and now they are all experiencing success. The band has had a very long journey to success, but I am looking back, they will all agree that it was worth it, and even though it’s a lot of hard work, it’s been extremely rewarding and incredibly fun.

Nicole Dugue
Staff Writer

Kevin Camilo
Staff Writer

* On April 8, the 2013 Academy of Country Music Awards were held. The big winner of the night was Miranda Lambert, winning Female Vocalist of the Year, Single Record of the Year and Song of the Year. Luke Bryan also had a huge night after a performance of his song, “Crash Your Party,” which won Entertainer of the Year. Many other acts performed as well, including Lady Antebellum, Florida Georgia Line and Jason Aldean.

* Brendan Miers is looking to have his fifth #1 hit on the Billboard Hot 100 by making a sweet move and disappointing the press for his single, “When I Was Your Man,” instead of the normal $1.29 for the single, it has been brought down to #64. Many other artists have done this before, including Lady Gaga, who did it for her single, “Born This Way,” which made it to the #1 spot.

Billboard Hot 100: Week of April 4

#1. Thrift Shop – Macklemore & Ryan Lewis feat. Wanz (Last week – #1. Weeks on charts - 20 weeks)
#2. When I Was Your Man – Bruno Mars (Last week – #4. Weeks on charts - 13 weeks)
#3. Suit and Tie – Justin Timberlake & Jay-Z (Last week – #3. Weeks on charts - 12 weeks)
#4. Harley & Rose – Beach (Last week – #2. Weeks on charts - 7 weeks)
#5. Just Give Me a Reason – Pink feat Nate Ruess (Last week – #6. Weeks on charts - 1 weeks)

Biggest Jump #100 – 409 “Levitation” by Halsey
Biggest Fall #86 – 487 “Pussy Love Girl” by Justin Timberlake
Baseball Strong in NJAC Doubleheader

Rich Efrus
Staff Writer

Last week, the Red Hawks struggled, posting a 2-3 record. The team’s only win came against Rutgers-Camden.

On April 2, the Red Hawks travelled to Williman-tic, Conn. to take on Eastern Connecticut State University. The game was a close, hard-fought game that went to extra innings. Eastern Connecticut State came into the game ranked #23.

The Warriors started scoring in the second inning, scoring two runs. In the third inning, Montclair State scored a run when Cody Pace singled to right field and Jose Carlos Padilla scored. In the sixth, Montclair added five more runs, giving them the lead, 6-3.

Eastern Connecticut scored two runs in the eighth, tying the game at six, but the tie would not stand. Stephen Nappo homered to left in the ninth and catcher Anderson Rosa scored on a pass ball.

It seemed to be over in the ninth inning, but Eastern Connecticut tied the game in the ninth and then won the game in the tenth inning, when Balowski hit a walk-off single down the right field line, with Riemer scoring to win the game for the Warriors.

Josh Manto got the loss for MSU and Purnell was credited with the win for the Warriors.

The Red Hawks then travelled to Union for the first game of a home-and-home match-up against Kean University. The Red Hawks scored one in the first inning, two in the sixth and Stephen Nappo hit a homerun to left field in the eighth inning.

Jonathan Torregroza, who came into the game with a 3-0 record, got his first loss of the season, giving up six earned runs on 10 hits in 6 2/3 innings. He struck out four and walked three batters.

Charles Thiemann picked up his fourth win of the season for Kean. He pitched 8 2/3 innings and struck out seven on Red Hawk batters. Thiemann now has a 4-1 record this season.

In the next game, the Red Hawks suffered another hard loss at home. Kean right-hander Kevin Herget pitched a complete-game two-hitter and struck out 11 Red Hawks to improve to 3-2 on the season.

Rutgers’s only run came in the fourth inning on a wild pitch, Montclair’s only blemish on the night. Catcher Jason Stoltz had a big game for the Red Hawks, driving in three runs and went two for four at the plate.

Ryan Farabella drove five earned runs on 11 hits in 6 2/3 innings pitched for Rutgers-Camden. It was his first loss of the season and now has a 3-4 record.

In the second game of the NJAC doubleheader, Montclair’s bats stayed hot.

In the fourth inning the Red Hawks had a 7-0 lead. Rutgers battled back in the sixth inning as they now trailed by just three runs. Montclair State scored seven runs in the seventh inning to take a 14-4 lead, which would be the final score.

Designated hitter Anderson Rosa drove in three runs and went three for four at the plate. Juan Perdomo and Scott Glazier both had 2 RBIs. Pars, Nappo, and Moreno also drove in runs.

Travis Della Volpe improved to 2-1 on the season. He gave up three earned runs on nine hits in nine innings pitched. Chris Scarlett got the loss and now has a 0-3 record.

Montclair State improved to 11-8 on the season and a 3-3 record in New Jersey Athletic Conference contests.

Next week, the team has a home-and-home series versus the Ramapo College Roadrunners. They will then play a doubleheader against Richard Stockton in Pomona.
Under Kubicka, the Red Hawks have an awe-inspiring 700 wins compared to their 264 losses, a win percentage of 72 percent.

She began coaching at MSU because she wanted to contribute to the sport and claims that coaching softball "gives her the opportunity to have an impact on young adults." A lot of her girls have since gotten out of Kubicka's program, found jobs and started families. To Kubicka, that’s a whole other degree of success, that there’s been an abundance of "successes" with the Montclair State softball program.

Though coaching is "sometimes frustrating," it is also "very rewarding." Kubicka even thinks that the reason why she’s been coaching so long is that every year is something new and different and challenging for her.

If 11-year-old Anita never picked up a softball, she would probably be "selling something" right now, and she’d “have a lot more money.” If that were the case, then every player who has ever come under Kubicka’s coaching would have been robbed of the pride that she seeks to instill in them. "Pride," she says firmly, "pride in the program, pride in themselves and pride to be the best that they can be on and off the field."
JUMPSTART YOUR CAREER!

MPA IN PUBLIC POLICY AND ADMINISTRATION
MPA IN INSPECTION AND OVERSIGHT
ADVANCED CERTIFICATE IN FORENSIC ACCOUNTING

• Ranks in top 25% of public affairs programs by U.S. News and World Report.
• Offers most affordable tuition rates in the NYC region.
• Connects students to doctoral studies and law school.
• Prepares students for careers in public, independent and oversight agencies as managers, analysts and leaders.

• Delivers courses online, campus-based, Saturday and Summer.
• Offers Advanced Certificate in Forensic Accounting for professional careers in investigative accounting.
• Offers scholarships, no-cost textbooks, tablet computer loans.
• Expedites applications: apply online, no GRE exam required.

APPLY NOW!
mpa.jjconline.net/jumpstart

33% OFF First Service!

Waxing
We Are | Beach Ready | Are You?

1132 Rt 46 W. Clifton/Little Falls  973 772-6677
Just East of Valley Rd.  Across from Pub 46

Earn summer credits at STOCKTON COLLEGE

• Eight different summer sessions with starting dates in May, June and July
• Discounted tuition and housing
• Convenient class times, online and distance learning courses available

www.stockton.edu/summer

STOCKTON COLLEGE
Stockton University
Fresno College
Stockton College is an equal opportunity institution.
Game of the Week

Baseball

vs. Ramapo

April 11, 3:30 p.m.

The Red Hawks will take the field against a strong 16-4 Cougars with hopes to ride the momentum from their wins over Rutgers-Camden.

For updates, check out:

www.montclairathletics.com

and follow @TheMontclarion on Twitter

Who’s Hot

Alex Hill

Pitcher — Softball

Hill continued to dominate on the mound with another outstanding week. In four games, Hill recorded 38 strikeouts while allowing only seven hits.

Who’s Hot

Zach Schreck

Midfielder — Men’s Lacrosse

Schreck helped the Red Hawks maintain a close loss to Connecticut College with three goals and one assist. Schreck currently has 18 goals this season.

Who’s Hot

Kasey Maquire

Midfielder — Women’s Lacrosse

Maquire helped lead the Red Hawks during last week’s 1-1 run with an impressive seven goals on eight shots.

This Week

Game of the Week

Softball

vs. TCNJ

April 11, 1 p.m.

The Red Hawks will look to win their 25th straight game against TCNJ at MSU Softball Stadium.

For updates, check out:

www.montclairathletics.com

and follow @TheMontclarion on Twitter

Game of the Week

Baseball

vs. Ramapo

April 11, 3:30 p.m.

The Red Hawks will take the field against a strong 16-4 Cougars with hopes to ride the momentum from their wins over Rutgers-Camden.

For updates, check out:

www.montclairathletics.com

and follow @TheMontclarion on Twitter
The Montclair State softball team has kept their impressive streak going, as they raised their record to 22-0 this past week. MSU Softball remained #1 nationally in the National Fastpitch Coaches Association (NFCA) Division III poll. The Lady Red Hawks are now on the second-longest winning streak in program history, trailing only the 2008 softball team who won 26 straight.

The Lady Red Hawks hosted the Rutgers-Newark Scarlet Roadrunners on March 4. Montclair State won both games by the scores of 8-0 and 4-1. Junior pitcher Alex Hill continued her fantastic season, throwing a one-hit shutout and striking out 11 in five innings of work. MSU had a huge game at the plate. Junior third-baseman Dana Amato led the attack by going 3-3 and by contributing three RBIs.

Senior leftfielder Kelli O’Brien, junior catcher Alisha Allegretta, and sophomore first baseman Katie Muglia all helped the cause with one RBI each.

In the second game, junior pitcher Allison Cullen took the mound and kept the Lady Hawks alive with a solid performance. Over 4 innings, she gave up one run on five hits. Hill came in to seal the deal for the Lady Red Hawks. As Hill continued her astounding performance, she carried the same confidence into the second game with one hit and one RBI in the seventh to seal the deal for the Lady Red Hawks. Hill is now 18-0 on the season and she has a scoreless inning streak of 55.0 innings.

Amato has Top 10 positions in eight different categories in the NJAC, including: .406 in batting average, which ranks fifth, .594 in slugging percentage, which ranks third and sixth in total bases with 38. MSU’s next game is at home on April 11 against the NYU-Poly Fighting Blue Jays. The two games are scheduled to begin at 3 p.m. and 4:30 p.m.

On Saturday, April 13, the Lady Red Hawks go up against the The College of New Jersey (TNJs) Lady Lions at home. The first game is slated to begin at 1 p.m. and the later game is set to begin at 2:30 p.m.