Mercury studies reveal why eating fish may not be the healthiest choice

Ethan Fria News Editor

What are the negative effects of consuming fish? This was one of the many questions that Professor John Reinfelder posed in his sustainability lecture on Tuesday.

Reinfelder pointed out that people today think eating fish is a healthier alternative. But, according to Reinfelder, consumption of fish could lead to lower levels of cognitive properties, a major health problem.

“Mercury studies reveal why eating fish may not be the healthiest choice,” Reinfelder said.

The suggested consumption of fish with high levels of mercury is once a week, according to the advisory report.

Environmental Protection Agency, New Jersey’s fresh water environment is under a consumption advisory for fish because of high levels of mercury.

“They used to go river by river, creek by creek, pond by pond and lake by lake,” Reinfelder stated. “But, they realized everywhere they look, they saw an increase in mercury consumption; they moved to a statewide report,” Reinfelder said.

The suggested consumption of fish with high levels of mercury is once a week, according to the advisory report.

Barren River bodies that are impaired due to mercury consumption], they moved to a statewide report,” Reinfelder said.

“The suggested consumption of fish with high levels of mercury is once a week, according to the advisory report,” Reinfelder said.

Music continued on Page 19.

From DJ to CEO

DJ Ridd explains how he turned music into business

Stephanie Agudelo Feature Editor

Graduate student Farid O. Oyelaja, nicknamed “DJ Ridd” and “615 Montclair State,” has accomplished more than most of the 25-year-olds he knows.

With a passion for helping others, Oyelaja received his bachelor’s degree in molecular biology with a concentration in medicine (MD) and a minor in chemistry, but at just 20 years of age, he decided to create a company that would share his many passions with the world.

Spotlight continued on Page 10.
Anyone who has information regarding these incidents is urged to call the police station from any campus phone at T-I-P-S (8477). All calls are strictly confidential.
The Graduate School Information Session

Wednesday, November 20, 2013 | 6:00 p.m.
University Hall | 7th floor

SPOTLIGHT ON

The College of Science and Mathematics

Immediately following The Graduate School overview, there will be the following breakout sessions:

- Department of Biology and Molecular Biology (MS in Biology, MS in Marine Biology and Coastal Sciences, MS in Molecular Biology and Molecular Biology Certificate)
- Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry (MS in Chemistry, MS in Chemistry w/concentration in Biochemistry, MS in Pharmaceutical Biochemistry)
- Department of Computer Science (MS in Computer Science w/concentration in Information Technology and CISCO Certificate)
- Department of Earth and Environmental Studies (MS in Geoscience, MA in Environmental Studies, PhD in Environmental Management, Environmental Forensics Certificate, Water and Resource Management Certificate, MS in Sustainability Science and Geographic Information Science Certificate)
- Department of Mathematical Sciences (MS in Mathematics w/concentration in Mathematics Education, MS in Mathematics w/concentration in Pure and Applied Mathematics, MS in Statistics, Doctoral program in Mathematics Education (EdD), MA in Teaching Middle Grades Mathematics, Teaching Middle Grades Mathematics Certification/Certificate)
- Initial Teacher Certification (P-3, K-6 and P-12 with content area certification)
- Woodrow Wilson NJ Teaching Fellowship

Register online: montclair.edu/graduate

It's all here. Montclair State University
montclair.edu | 973-655-5147 | graduate.school@montclair.edu
Joeir Fieri Celebrate One Year
Blanton Hall hosts commemoration

Joseph Stanley Kurp
Staff Writer

Commemorating its one-year anniversary, Guy Fieri On Campus hosted a “Birthday” celebration. Throughout the afternoon of Nov. 5, the event’s festivities attracted countless students to the Blanton Hall dining complex.

“It is wonderful and great for students to enjoy this great venue on campus,” said Dr. Karen Pennington, View President for Student Development and Campus Life.

“We have been very pleased to have the first iteration and we are very happy that students have enjoyed it for over a year. Over 150 people came out to Blanton to take part in the festivities, including music from DJ Ridd, free food from vendors on campus like Dunkin’ Donuts, Club Connection and Einstein Bros. Bagels and raffles for prizes like a free meal from Guy Fieri On Campus. During the celebration, there was an unveiling of a plaque inside the restaurant that features an autograph from Fieri as well as a picture of him with Montclair State President Dr. Seide. There was also another recess and fans were also singing of “Happy Birthday” as well as a cake cutting, live DJs, and other administrators on campus.

“Guy Fieri has been an incredible concept for a restaurant on campus that our students really enjoy,” said Derek Lucas, the Director of Residence Dining. “Putting the value into Guy Fieri and other concept establishments at Montclair State helps make our students feel happy and well-fed here on campus.”

Guy Fieri On Campus decorated with balloons.

Montclair State Update
Real campus and local news with a twist

• Susan Cola was named Educator of the Year by the Research Board of New Jersey.

• In a recent interview, former President Bill Clinton said President Barack Obama should honor his commitment in terms of his health care plans, because no one can fulfill a commitment than Bill Clinton.

• The last official Blockbuster rental was, appropriately, the 2013 hit comedy This Is the End. Too bad there’s not a movie titled I Thought You Guys Closed Five Years Ago.

• Montclair State media students helped generate an interactive election map of New Jersey last Tuesday. It was a late night for students, who were delayed several times when they ran out of crayons and construction paper.

• In Russia, a set of 30 squats is now acceptable currency for subway fare Ako For free bus fares, patrons must workout with a 500-kg weight for at least 5 minutes... with or without laughing.

• Montclair State celebrates its one-year anniversary of Guy Fieri On Campus.

ABC
Continued from page 1

Mercury
Continued from page 1

SGA
Continued from page 1

concussions of mercury in the fish include Spruce Run Reservoir, Round Valley Reservoir, South Branch Raritan River, and the Raritan River. According to Reinfelder, it isn’t simply mercury, but methylmercury that is most prevalent in fish.

How does mercury get to fish in such high levels?

Most ordinary metals diminish as you move up the food chain. However, mercury has unique methods of helping itself into the bodies of their hosts. Also, according to Reinfelder, mercury stays in the animal’s system, propelling the metal throughout the food tree.

Coal- and nuclear power plants and waste incinerators distribute mercury into the air, which then settles. Many believe that mercury concentrations in the water, where it then affects the fish, but that isn’t all true, according to Reinfelder.

“Where mercury really exists is inside slag and bottom ash,” Reinfelder said.

During a Q&A after the lecture, a student asked the audience if he knew what mercury was. Reinfelder responded, “There’s no way to take the side-effects of all the mercury ingested, instead of improving cognitive development, you’re ruined.”

This lecture was part of an ongoing series of lectures on sustainability. The lectures take place every “Wednesday at 4 p.m. in Room 103 of Science Hall.

Perhaps the most vital point of his lecture, Westin presented the idea of each person in the room having their own “brand.” According to Westin, each person should have their own digital strategy and should think of themselves as a brand.

“By thinking of the various ways to distribute and satisfy audiences around the world, the success follows will be more rewarding than that of any other method through the entire economy has changed in [final lifetimes],” Westin stressed that the freelance, entrepreneurial style in which media is headed will hold many opportunities for success just as the older days of media had.

In response to the new digital age, Westin offered students an inside look into the world of online broadcasting and production.

“Every other day we get to hear [stardom experiences],” and sophomore and broadcasting major, Beth Klein-Valladares, a student going into television, said, “I’ve had some stellar experiences at this point. While Klein-Valladares did say, however, that if she could go back, she would have asked more questions of her professors and advisors. According to Klein-Valladares, “My professors had so much important advice, but I didn’t have the maturity to ask for advice.”

In the future, Klein-Valladares hopes to work on infinite happiness for his students, who are studying the power of technology.

The Montclarion|themontclarion.org
Peak Performances

DEPARTMENT OF THEATRE AND DANCE

A Streetcar Named Desire

Written by Tennessee Williams
Direction and Choreography by Kari Margolis
Multimedia and Soundscape by Tony Brown
Set Design by Christina Pfeffercorn
Lighting Design by Jorge Arroyo
Costume Design by Sarah Acklen Stouff

Nov. 14 & 15 – 7:30 p.m. | Nov. 16 – 2:00 p.m. & 8:00 p.m. | Nov. 17 – 1:00 p.m.
Alexander Kasser Theater

JOHN J. CALI SCHOOL OF MUSIC
MSU Wind Symphony and MSU Symphonic Band
“The Leaves Are Falling”
Thomas McCauley, conductor
Nov. 22 – 7:30 p.m.
Alexander Kasser Theater

JOHN J. CALI SCHOOL OF MUSIC
MSU Chorale & MSU Singers
Heather J. Buchanan, conductor
Nov. 23 – 8:00 p.m.
Alexander Kasser Theater

973-655-5112 | peakperfs.org | Every Seat $15
*Undergraduate students at MSU receive one ticket at no additional charge to every event through the Performing Arts Fee with their valid student I.D.
This winter, give yourself some credit.

Winter Session registration opens November 4

- Courses run from December 20-January 17

- More than 100 online and hybrid courses available

- Earn up to four credits

- Undergraduate and graduate courses

Learn more at montclair.edu/winter

Montclair State University montclair.edu
Lesley Hornby, known as "Twiggy," took the fashion world by storm at the fresh age of only 16 years old. She became the face of the swinging sixties as a role model for young teenagers, creating brand new looks called "mod" and "the Twiggy," as well as forever being a fashion icon.

Lesley Hornby, a London native, is internationally known as the world's first supermodel. Her boyish frame was seen as unique in the industry and instantly made her different from all of the other models. She earned the name "Twiggy" due to her endlessly long legs and thin build.

Her true story began sometime in 1966, when Hornby walked into the House of Leonard salon to have her lengthy locks trimmed for modeling test shots. To her surprise, Leonard himself asked her permission to try a new style of haircut that he had in mind, and in return, he would pay for her photographs. He dyed her hair blonde and cut it super "pixie" short.

With this new look, Hornby was even more gorgeous. She had her modeling test shots taken and gave one of her portraits to Leonard, who displayed it in his salon. Soon after, a fashion writer from Daily Express saw the photo in the salon and became very intrigued by the girl with the slicked-back boyish haircut. Only three weeks later, Daily Express named Hornby "The Face of '66." This event turned Hornby into an international fashion phenomenon. This interestingly beautiful newcomer attracted the attention of the fashion world. Some famous bystanders doubted her look while others were infatuated with it. She was featured in Vogue and Elle and was a model in the runway show for her own dress line.

In 1967, Hornby went on a six-week tour to the United States. She posed for many American photographers and promoted her brand new dress line. In The New Yorker, a 50-page spread was devoted to Hornby, welcoming her to the wonderful city. That same year, she was on the cover of Vogue four times, the British edition of Vogue once, as well as many other magazines and publications. She became an exclusive model in the United States, France and Japan. She also introduced the Twiggy doll as well as her own eyeliner so others could replicate her famous long-lash eye makeup. Teenagers looked up to Hornby and wanted to sport her doe-eyed, dainty look. Within the next two years, this pixie queen took upon new projects. She produced an album, Beautiful Dreams, which sparked her interest and passion of music. She also traveled to Germany to promote her dress line and Japan to film commercials. Unfortunately, in 1969, Hornby decided to retire from modeling and focus her career on music and film. However, this did not stop her from being a style icon. She appeared in movies and sitcoms, which only caught more of the public's attention. Her mod look was wildly desired by the young generation.

In her adult years, Hornby became an interviewer for her television series, Twiggy's People, and became a judge on the popular America's Next Top Model. She also wrote a book titled A Guide to Looking and Feeling Fabulous over Forty and introduced a clothing line for the U.K. brand Marks & Spencer.

Even though Hornby's modeling career seemed to be short-lived, the fashion phenomenon that was Twiggy will always be an important asset to the industry. With her boyish looks, large dreamy eyes and elfin crop cut, she struck the industry and spun it into Twiggy World. This style icon will live on and forever be remembered as the face of the late 1960s.
The Skinny On Fats

In today’s diet-crazed society, the word “fat” often comes with a negative connotation. Before everyone misguided started to believe that eating fat is what causes weight gain, it was, and still is, a nutrient essential for survival. According to the United States Department of Health and Human Services and Agriculture’s nationally accepted standards from the 2010 Dietary Guidelines for Americans, 20-35 percent of an individual’s daily calories should come from fat. For example, if you consume 2,000 calories per day, you should aim to consume about 44-77 grams of fat since each gram of the nutrient contains nine calories. However, it is not just the amount of fat that matters, but also the type of fat.

The Bad Guys: Saturated and Trans Fats

These fats increase your risk for cardiovascular disease and Type 2 diabetes. Consumption of saturated fat increases bad LDL cholesterol and the total cholesterol level in your blood. The effects of trans fat are even worse, as it increases the bad LDL cholesterol while decreasing the good HDL cholesterol in the blood.

The American Heart Association recommends limiting your saturated fat intake to less than 7 percent of your total daily calories. Significant amounts of saturated fat are found in butter, fatty cuts of meat, full-fat yogurt, milk, cheese and ice cream products.

Trans fat is naturally found in small amounts in dairy and meat, but the concern lies where they occur most commonly: in processed foods. The addition of chemicals with trans fat during processing increases flavor, texture and shelf life of foods, making it an ideal ingredient for many junk food items—from the perspective of the food manufacturer, that is.

The health consequences of consuming trans fat are so great that in 2006, the Food and Drug Administration began requiring the amount of trans fat to be included on the Nutrition Facts label of foods with more than 0.5 grams of trans fat per serving. Studies show that since this labeling law, Americans have significantly decreased their daily intake of trans fats from 4.6 grams in 2003 to an average of one gram of trans fat per day in 2012.

Last week, the FDA announced their immediate intention to completely eradicate the addition of trans fat to food products during processing as a preventative measure against coronary heart disease in the United States.

Check out the Nutrition Facts label on these common foods with trans fat:

- Cookies, cakes, muffins, candy, pie crusts, pizza dough
- Prepared cake/muffin/brownie mixes, pancake mixes, chocolate drink mixes
- Snack foods: chips, crackers, microwave popcorn
- Vegetable shortening, stick margarine
- Fried foods: doughnuts, french fries, chicken nuggets, hard taco shells

The Good Guys: Mono- and Polyunsaturated Fats

Replacing a majority of the saturated and trans fats in your diet with unsaturated fats may improve blood pressure, blood cholesterol levels and overall heart health in addition to preventing against cardiovascular disease and Type 2 diabetes. Generally, great sources of unsaturated fats include oils, fatty fish, nuts and seeds. Unsaturated fats come in two types: monounsaturated and polyunsaturated.

Monounsaturated fats are the dominant fat in olive oil, nuts, seeds and avocados. Healthy polyunsaturated fats can be categorized even further into omega-3 and omega-6 fatty acids, both containing heart healthy properties.

Omega-3 polyunsaturated fats are found in walnuts, flaxseed and fatty fish like salmon. Omega-6 polyunsaturated fats are present in vegetable oils like safflower, corn and soybean oil.

Simple things to remember when making good decisions about fats:

1. Read the nutrition facts label:
   - Unsaturated fats = good
   - Saturated fats = bad
   - Trans fats = worse

2. Solid, animal fats and fatty processed foods = saturated and/or trans fats

   Liquid, plant-based fats = unsaturated fats (generally)
Does gender play a role in how celebrity scandals are viewed by the public?

HE SAID

It’s hard to say whether or not celebrity scandals are viewed differently because the celebrities are male or female. Generally, it’s true that these scandals are viewed differently because women are incapable of blah or are better at whatever. I’m not saying that both of these genders have their own scandals because women are incapable of blah or are better at whatever. What I’m saying is, look at the evidence.

Serena Williams didn’t get drunk and get caught in a multi-billion sex scandal and, sure as hell, no one wants to see Bill Murray grind all up on Robin Thicke whilst sticking his tongue out. I give these examples to prove that nine out of 10 times, certain events will happen around certain people. It’s the closest to fact that you can get without being scientifically proven. Men and women have certain scandals that they will get caught up in. That’s why it’s hard to judge the public’s reaction to certain celebrity antics.

There are many variables when it comes to scandals. Is the celebrity a man or woman? Are they A-list or B-list? Are they young or old? All of these and more affect how we view celebrities. I won’t be the one to say that Miley Cyrus and Selena Gomez are viewed and treated differently. If they were arrested together for drug possession, our first reaction as a society would be, “How dare Miley try to copy Selena?” The sad thing is that, even if it was proven that the drugs were Gomez’s, we’d still think she was innocent. It’s like when your parents tell you that they’re not mad but disappointed.

In today’s age, tabloids are becoming more popular than ever. People choose to read about Milly Cyrus’ latest stunt rather than educating themselves on the upcoming election. This is the fool of watching TMZ and reading tabletabloids magazines, the popularity of certain celebrity antics is defined by their gender. Celebrities have their own publicity stunts that they pull based on whatever they want to accomplish. They can be like Kanye West and jump on stage in front of Taylor Swift and tell the audience how Beyonce should have won the award instead of this young girl who now have won the award instead of her. Celebrities have their own scandals because wom-en are incapable of blah or are better at whatever. It’s the closest to fact that you can get without being scientifically proven. Men and women have certain scandals that they will get caught up in. That’s why it’s hard to judge the public’s reaction to certain celebrity antics.

There are many variables when it comes to scandals. Is the celebrity a man or woman? Are they A-list or B-list? Are they young or old? All of these and more affect how we view celebrities. I won’t be the one to say that Miley Cyrus and Selena Gomez are viewed and treated differently. If they were arrested together for drug possession, our first reaction as a society would be, “How dare Miley try to copy Selena?” The sad thing is that, even if it was proven that the drugs were Gomez’s, we’d still think she was innocent. It’s like when your parents tell you that they’re not mad but disappointed.

Let’s say Chris Hemsworth was a victim of domestic abuse. We’d laugh at him and believe it was something that only The Onion could think of. Yes, my examples may be drastic and extreme, but they still hold true. Do we view scandals between genders differently? Yes, but only because of who they are as human beings and celebrities, not because they are men or women.

SHE SAID

In today’s age, tabloids are becoming more popular than ever. People choose to read about Milly Cyrus’ latest stunt rather than educating themselves on the upcoming election. This is the fool of watching TMZ and reading tabloid magazines, the popularity of certain celebrity antics is defined by their gender. Celebrities have their own publicity stunts that they pull based on whatever they want to accomplish. They can be like Kanye West and jump on stage in front of Taylor Swift and tell the audience how Beyonce should have won the award instead of this young girl who now have won the award instead of her. Celebrities have their own scandals because wom-en are incapable of blah or are better at whatever. It’s the closest to fact that you can get without being scientifically proven. Men and women have certain scandals that they will get caught up in. That’s why it’s hard to judge the public’s reaction to certain celebrity antics.

There are many variables when it comes to scandals. Is the celebrity a man or woman? Are they A-list or B-list? Are they young or old? All of these and more affect how we view celebrities. I won’t be the one to say that Miley Cyrus and Selena Gomez are viewed and treated differently. If they were arrested together for drug possession, our first reaction as a society would be, “How dare Miley try to copy Selena?” The sad thing is that, even if it was proven that the drugs were Gomez’s, we’d still think she was innocent. It’s like when your parents tell you that they’re not mad but disappointed.

Let’s say Chris Hemsworth was a victim of domestic abuse. We’d laugh at him and believe it was something that only The Onion could think of. Yes, my examples may be drastic and extreme, but they still hold true. Do we view scandals between genders differently? Yes, but only because of who they are as human beings and celebrities, not because they are men or women.
In 2010, Oyelaja’s third year as an MSU Red Hawk, he said a few of his friends (Luke Muller, Nick Brasile and Aaron Cicchino) decided to create Baseline Productions. Initially, the company was developed as a way to share their common passion for music and entertainment with fellow students and the surrounding college community. It didn’t take long to recognize the major opportunity Oyelaja had right before his eyes.

“I realized that most students on campus wanted to connect more with their campus community, and outside vendors wanted to connect with the students, so I decided to create the recourse,” Oyelaja said.

The one major advantage he had for starting the company was rooted in his own experience with music as a child. Being born in Lagos, Nigeria and then moving to places like London, England and Lagos, Nigeria and then moving to places like London, Kansas City, Mo. at the age of 12-13, he share one’s common passion for music and entertainment with fellow students and the surrounding college community. It didn’t take long to recognize the major opportunity Oyelaja had right before his eyes.

Oyelaja recalls thinking that DJ-ing would be a suitable lifestyle for him because he moved around so much as a child. Being born in Lagos, Nigeria and then moving to places like London and Kansas City, Mo. and now residing in London, N.J., Oyelaja saw DJ-ing as a perfect way to entertain people anywhere he went. Surprisingly, he never really considered that DJ-ing could be anything more than a hobby.

Oyelaja thinks most people nowadays, especially students, are afraid to pursue something they love because they are made to believe that what they’re passionate about could never help them sustain a financially secure future. BaseLine Productions is now a perfect example of the success students could reach if they tapped into their talents and used them to create something bigger. The company has proven to offer a multitude of services including, but not limited to, photography, DJ services, promotions, advertisement, wedding services, sweet 16 parties, community/corporate events and concerts. BaseLine Productions has also provided services to many reputable clients like Six Flags Great Adventure, Michael J. Fox, Relay for Life and Red Bull, just to name a few.

Farid Oyelaja seen pictured above right and left and below has done numerous events on campus this year. He is always seen with a smile and is always taking suggestions. As he continues to do events on campus, he promotes not only his profession but his the very concept of following your dreams.

We sold our CDs for $3 each and made about $600. We also had a shot to perform for the TV show “Showtime at the Apollo,” he said.

Oyelaja recalls thinking that DJ-ing would be a suitable lifestyle for him because he moved around so much as a child. Being born in Lagos, Nigeria and then moving to places like London and Kansas City, Mo. and now residing in London, N.J., Oyelaja saw DJ-ing as a perfect way to entertain people anywhere he went. Surprisingly, he never really considered that DJ-ing could be anything more than a hobby.

Oyelaja thinks most people nowadays, especially students, are afraid to pursue something they love because they are made to believe that what they’re passionate about could never help them sustain a financially secure future. BaseLine Productions is now a perfect example of the success students could reach if they tapped into their talents and used them to create something bigger. The company has proven to offer a multitude of services including, but not limited to, photography, DJ services, promotions, advertisement, wedding services, sweet 16 parties, community/corporate events and concerts. BaseLine Productions has also provided services to many reputable clients like Six Flags Great Adventure, Michael J. Fox, Relay for Life and Red Bull, just to name a few.

As for the nickname “Mr. Montclair State,” you might be wondering if any student could really be deserving of that title. But according to Oyelaja and the BaseLine team, much of their inspiration and success can be attributed to their experiences at MSU.

Oyelaja started BaseLine Productions with people he met at school because he wanted to connect more students and entertain them. He has literally trademarked himself as one of the friendly guys on campus, which essentially benefits the company and keeps it running, and he continues to do all he can to represent the Red Hawks.

“I love that I could be considered for that sort of homecoming title. I love this school and I am going to make it known to the world and the future leaders of the world that it is bewitching,” he said.

Farid Oyelaja seen pictured above right and left and below has done numerous events on campus this year. He is always seen with a smile and is always taking suggestions. As he continues to do events on campus, he promotes not only his profession but his the very concept of following your dreams.

We sold our CDs for $3 each and made about $600. We also had a shot to perform for the TV show “Showtime at the Apollo,” he said.

Oyelaja recalls thinking that DJ-ing would be a suitable lifestyle for him because he moved around so much as a child. Being born in Lagos, Nigeria and then moving to places like London and Kansas City, Mo. and now residing in London, N.J., Oyelaja saw DJ-ing as a perfect way to entertain people anywhere he went. Surprisingly, he never really considered that DJ-ing could be anything more than a hobby.

Oyelaja thinks most people nowadays, especially students, are afraid to pursue something they love because they are made to believe that what they’re passionate about could never help them sustain a financially secure future. BaseLine Productions is now a perfect example of the success students could reach if they tapped into their talents and used them to create something bigger. The company has proven to offer a multitude of services including, but not limited to, photography, DJ services, promotions, advertisement, wedding services, sweet 16 parties, community/corporate events and concerts. BaseLine Productions has also provided services to many reputable clients like Six Flags Great Adventure, Michael J. Fox, Relay for Life and Red Bull, just to name a few.

As for the nickname “Mr. Montclair State,” you might be wondering if any student could really be deserving of that title. But according to Oyelaja and the BaseLine team, much of their inspiration and success can be attributed to their experiences at MSU.

Oyelaja started BaseLine Productions with people he met at school because he wanted to connect more students and entertain them. He has literally trademarked himself as one of the friendly guys on campus, which essentially benefits the company and keeps it running, and he continues to do all he can to represent the Red Hawks.

“I love that I could be considered for that sort of homecoming title. I love this school and I am going to make it known to the world and the future leaders of the world that it is bewitching,” he said.

If being an entrepreneur, musician, CEO and a graduate student isn’t enough, he is also a DJ and keeps it running, and he continues to do all he can to represent the Red Hawks.

“I love that I could be considered for that sort of homecoming title. I love this school and I am going to make it known to the world and the future leaders of the world that it is bewitching,” he said.

If being an entrepreneur, musician, CEO and a graduate student isn’t enough, he is also a DJ and...
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Help Wanted</th>
<th>Help Wanted</th>
<th>Parking</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Are you a college student experienced in child care and looking for a stable income while pursuing your degree? Becoming a Nanny can provide fulfillment and still allow the time to pursue outside endeavors. Contact Kelley at Perfect Fit Nanny Placement Agency: Kanazarian@gmail.com or call 862-485-5111.</td>
<td>Part-time Nanny wanted from 3:00 - 6:30 p.m. Minimum of 3 days per week (prefer 5) for 2 elementary age children in Pompton Plains. Requires homework help, transportation to extracurricular activities, light housework and cooking. Please call Allie 973-476-5892.</td>
<td>Reasonable off-street parking, M-F. Only three min. walk to MSU Bridge &amp; Shuttle! Call 973-819-0334 Sun-Sat, 5 a.m.- 8 p.m. ONLY.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Babysitter/Mother’s helper: After school help for 3 children in Upper Montclair. Days &amp; hours flexible. Occasional nighttime babysitter also required. Contact Lesley: lesley@abdulhayoglu.com or 201-563-2047.</td>
<td>Room for Rent</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Save $$$ - Female students, grads, transfers. Furnished room rentals Jan – May, across from Campus on Valley Road. Internet included. Single or shared. Call 973-778-1504.</td>
<td>Classifieds</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>After school care for a five year old in Cedar Grove, starting in September 2013. Five days a week, but would consider 2-3 days. Contact Sarahi.grande@yahoo.com or call 973-615-7371.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

INTERESTED IN ADVERTISING WITH THE MONTCLARION?

EMAIL

MONTCLARIONADSALES@GMAIL.COM

FOR MORE INFORMATION AND DETAILS
And now time for something different ...

SUDOKU!

```
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>4</th>
<th>6</th>
<th>5</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>9</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>8</td>
<td>7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6</td>
<td>5</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
```
I

in last week’s election, there were 1,749 Montclair State University students registered to vote, but only 192 ballots were cast, with only a 10.08 percent turn-out. Provisional ballots may be able to clear the eleventh percentile. But it’s a shame to say that this year’s voting efforts by our student body were severely lacking.

What made the 2012 voting percentage in comparison to this year’s voting results? One significant difference was the campaign. In 2012, many students were excited to be able to vote for the President of the United States, probably for the first time in their lives. However, the efforts to register voters couldn’t be compared.

This year, I was only asked if I was registered to vote once. I was bombarded by registration forms last year. Many organizations were collaborating to push students to register. Something that was completely missing this year.

We can’t blame the organizations of this campus for the lack of enthusiasm this year. It isn’t their responsibility to remind students to register or to help them, but last year, the constant nagging to register students reminded them where and when voting was taking place in their areas. Instead, there were only emails sent, urging about the polling place on campus — a single polling place that was only accessible to those in Blaisten, Sinatra, Hawks Crossing, the Village and the Heights. This meant that students in those complexes were allowed to vote at the MacHughes Heights polling place. It was great that we had the polling place for half of the campus, but there had been little to no mention where other students could go to cast their votes.

The only real mention of polling in the other two districts were on montclair.edu. This is not only a classic case of miscommunication but also a perfect example as to how ineffective our emailing campaigns are in trying to notify students about events on campus. To put it bluntly, a majority of students find the constant emails rather unnerving and typically ignore them. This campus needs its organizations to collaborate every year to onboard students constantly about participating in voting.

It’s a shame to see a lot of students disinterested in our state’s politics, especially with the attacks from Little Falls’ Republican in regards to our student body.

The last gubernatorial debate was held in our very own Kasser Theater. A lot of students fail to realize the importance of local and state elections as well, which makes the encouraging of participation necessary.

Students educating peers is a wholesome and poetic gesture, and after the recent Equal Marriage arguments, something like this would have made a good collaborative effort for our community.

Lastly, what we believe really affected this year’s turnout was the address changes.

Many students who lived in a different district last year did not have their new addresses updated to their current campus address which would have allowed them to vote in MacHughes Heights. This lead to students having to fill out absentee ballots. Maybe with the production of elections, Montclair State will have a more organized system for voting on campus.

Those who organised the polling station deserve a lot of credit. There were many difficulties with getting a polling station last year and they still had shortages for those who needed to go off-campus to vote, but the advertising for voting was done incorrectly. People can question the school for the lack of advertising and why the efforts urging students to vote was nowhere near last year’s enthusiasm.

If the university is interested in having its students vote, it should be taking more initiative to inform students. Students should also realize the importance and take interest in more localized elections.

Do you feel that when you vote in elections, your vote makes a difference?

Vicky Leta | The Montclarion

Thumbs Down

Philippines typhoon

Miley Cyrus’ publicity stunts

FDA bans trans fat

Thumbs Up

Exercising for transit fare

Stevie Nicks to appear on American Horror Story

Opinion

Wreck The Vote

Question of the Week

Do you feel that when you vote in elections, your vote makes a difference?

Their vote helps a person win something or lose something. If you lose a vote, then that vote won’t count.

Lenny Barria

Senior

Biology

My vote does make a difference, because you vote for what you believe is right. You vote to pick the right person to lead your country, state, town — whatever it is. Little by little, votes add up together, they will lift that heavy rock, and that’s when we can make the differences.

Josh Ni

Freshman

Undeclared

I feel like it really counts because your vote makes a difference. It’s a vote like an ant. One ant cannot lift a rock, but if a hundred ants cooperate, they will lift it. That’s when we can make a difference, because your vote makes a difference.

Ray Aguiler

Sophomore

Biology

I think a vote really counts because you vote for what you believe is right. You vote to pick the right person to lead your country, state, town — whatever it is. Little by little, votes add up together, they will lift that heavy rock, and that’s when we can make the differences.

Vince Noren

Sophomore

Business Administration

I do think that my vote does count because I think that we, as the people, have a choice to vote, and that is something that we should take advantage of as part of voting power. I think that [in elections], it really depends on who has the most money, because if you ask someone who ran for president last year, most people would say only Obama and Romney. They aren’t aware of any other candidates that ran because those two had the most money to market their campaign.

Veronica Medina

Sophomore

Undeclared

“I feel like it makes a difference because every vote could be the vote that pulls one of that one vote which can differentiate between yes or no, so I feel that it does make a difference.”

Lenny Barria

Senior

Biology

“My vote does make a difference, because we are a lot of students. If we vote, it’s always that one vote which can differentiate between yes or no, so I feel that it does make a difference.”

I

The Montclarion • November 14, 2013 • PAGE 13

The Montclarion
This social Darwinist concept was put to test in the late 1800s during the eugenics movement, which sought to expedite this process of natural selection through trial-and-error. The intention of eugenics is about improving the traits of a species. Academic cheating used to be a lot more difficult years ago. It usually would entail or phenotypes as we do so through dieting, exercising, and altering those who have genetic abnormalities or to compel certain “superior” traits in each other.

Academic cheating used to be a lot more difficult years ago. It usually would entail plagiarism used to be a lot more difficult years ago. It usually would entail cheating on the test, pulling the paper off the screen, and either reproduce with one another. The interbreeding of different human breeds is the main reason for the flourishing of eugenics as a theory or as a practice in the 19th century. It was viewed as a way of improving the human race and preventing the spread of “inferior” traits. However, as a 2008 high school graduate, it is no wonder that is present in our schools today. Cheating on the test, pulling the paper off the screen, and either plagiarism, lying on a test, is burdened strictly on the students. The former, suggesting a more coerced and very unethical method of trying to improve certain characteristics, is being met? Love takes time; coming premade and frozen. It costs almost $10 for a small lunch at the campus dining hall and the unavailability of fresh food or even any food at all are ways many of us have gotten married or are engaged to. As in all things, one must be careful of the end result.

Concerning Editorials and Columns
Main editors appear on the first page of the Opinion section. They are unsigned articles that represent the opinion of the editorial board on a particular issue.

Campus Dining Not the Ideal Brain Food

Cheaters Never Prosper

Genius for free?

Main Campus Spank’n New Parent Genes

Is selective breeding in humans really a practice of the past?

I can’t believe it

T he age old saying, “Manners is the best dress you can wear.”

VICTORIA FISHER

Montclair State. I get it: there is something greater to be had, something that is trying to be passed off as food.

John Brown is a ghost who is haunting us throughout this week; it’s because of the food.

The hand of nature moves swiftly; we may see little more than a cup of fresh coffee and some bagels on their cereal, we are saying to school that does not feed me.

Natalie A Lisa, a former Montclair editor, is now a columnist for The Montclarion.

The lessons to be learned is simple; appreciate what you have.

When I’ve asked whomever is in love, what is their best friend, and found their best friend, or overall genetic capacity of humans, I believe, is beneficial.

There is a good grade by just working hard and putting in the time, why would you choose to cheat instead? If you can be in a healthy, meaningful relationship, that is the best choice as if peoples’ genuine care for each other.

Involuntary, coercive and even more important than the state for a reason. I don’t think it would be nothing but evolutionary and warrants a consideration of the unlikeliness.

If you have a hard exam or a tough paper to write, put it in the extra effort in order to do well. Seeing your good grade and knowing that you put so much work into it will be so much more academically appealing than just copy cut and pasting into a Word document.

If you are in a relationship, stay committed. If you are unhappy, you can put work through your problems with your partner or you can part ways. Denying something along simply because you are unacceptable, or have no friends, and are scared to make the first move at hand is unfathomable and wrong.

Love and academics are serious endeavors in life and should be treated and appreciated as such. Instead of constantly grieving around so to who has the greenest grass, learn to be grateful for your own.

T he name of the new editor is John Brown.

Natalie A Lisa, a former Montclair editor, is now a columnist for The Montclarion.
Clearing up SGA tax-exempt status, in response to the article “SGA Reopens Wife Tax Exempt Status” in a previous issue. The SGA can engage in political activities without having to worry about losing its tax exempt status, as long as lobbying, defined as “substantial activity” of the organization, is involved.

According to the IRS, the SGA engages in lobbying. "Lobbying" is defined as "activities designed to influence legislation," such as approving an organization’s budget, approving the location of a new building, or having a "substantial activity" in the organization. The SGA does engage in lobbying, but it is not a "substantial activity."

According to the IRS, the SGA is not a 501(c)(3) organization. The SGA is a "political campaign activity," as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not engaging in political activity, as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not engaged in lobbying, as defined by the IRS.

The SGA is not a "political campaign activity," as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not engaged in lobbying, as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not a 501(c)(3) organization.

The SGA is not a "political campaign activity," as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not engaged in lobbying, as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not a 501(c)(3) organization.

The SGA is not a "political campaign activity," as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not engaged in lobbying, as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not a 501(c)(3) organization.

The SGA is not a "political campaign activity," as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not engaged in lobbying, as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not a 501(c)(3) organization.

The SGA is not a "political campaign activity," as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not engaged in lobbying, as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not a 501(c)(3) organization.

The SGA is not a "political campaign activity," as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not engaged in lobbying, as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not a 501(c)(3) organization.

The SGA is not a "political campaign activity," as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not engaged in lobbying, as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not a 501(c)(3) organization.

The SGA is not a "political campaign activity," as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not engaged in lobbying, as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not a 501(c)(3) organization.

The SGA is not a "political campaign activity," as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not engaged in lobbying, as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not a 501(c)(3) organization.

The SGA is not a "political campaign activity," as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not engaged in lobbying, as defined by the IRS. The SGA is not a 501(c)(3) organization.
Netflix Secures Disney Exclusives

Netflix continues to introduce original TV shows as it joins forces with Disney to bring forth a new wave of Marvel Cinematic Universe series. This partnership has already yielded four 13-episode, live-action series focused on Marvel’s heroes and villains of Hell’s Kitchen, N.Y. The first, to air in 2015, will tell the story of T.V. character, followed by Jessica Jones, Iron Fist and Luke Cage in subsequent years. These four series will culminate into Marvel’s TV Definition, a mini-series event about this dream team of heroic characters.

This new arrangement, produced by Marvel Television and ABC Studios, follows last year’s major deal that gave Netflix exclusive rights to Disney films beginning in 2016. It is in line with US subscription television services for first-run, live-action and animated movies from Walt Disney Studios. This includes movies from Walt Disney Animation Studios, Pixar Animation Studios, Marvel Studios, DisneyNature and Lucasfilm, according to Deadline.

“This deal is unparalleled in its scope and size, and reinforces our commitment to deliver Marvel’s brand, content and characters across all platforms of storytelling. Netflix offers an incredible platform for the kind of rich storytelling that is Marvel’s specialty,” said Alan Fine, president of Marvel Entertainment in a statement released on the Marvel website. “This serialized epic expands the narrative possibilities of on-demand television and gives fans the flexibility to immerse themselves however and whenever they want in what’s sure to be a thrilling and engaging adventure.”

The announcement came after another Marvel series was brought to television. Marvel’s Agents of S.H.I.E.L.D. premiered on ABC this fall and has been picked up for a full season. It has been very strong in DVR/viewing, and according to TV Guide the recordings of the show are “through the roof.” With over 40 million members in more than 40 countries, Netflix has become the world’s largest Internet television network. It receives more than one billion hours of TV shows and movies watched per month, including Netflix’s own original series. These series include the political drama House of Cards, the fourth season of the sitcom Arrested Development and the comedy-drama Orange is the New Black.

House of Cards, starring Kevin Spacey, Robin Wright, Kate Mara and Corey Stoll, received the first Primetime Emmy Awards nominations for an original online-only television series this year. It received nine nominations, winning three of them for Outstanding Directing for a Drama Series, Outstanding Cinematography for a Single-Camera Series and Outstanding Casting for a Drama Series. Arrested Development first aired on Fox for three seasons from 2003 to 2006 and then was continued by Netflix in 2013 for a fourth season. The sitcom stars Jason Bateman, Portia de Rossi. After making its debut on Netflix in 2013, it received three nominations for Outstanding Actor in a Comedy Series Outstanding Single-camera Picture Editing for a Comedy Series, and Outstanding Music Composition for a Series.

Orange is the New Black, starring Taylor Schilling, Laura Prepon, Michael J.Harney, Kate Mulgrew and Jason Biggs received more viewers and hours viewed in its first week than the other popular aforementioned Netflix original series.

Netflix has already introduced the Internet TV audience to award-winning TV shows and is continuing to introduce new original shows with Marvel’s four series and mini-series coming soon.

How much are you willing to go to protect the ones you love? Where are the lines between love and obsession? Are there really two sides to every story? Is the world in which we live merely dangerous and oppressive for Lil’ Bit to finally leave her hometown, yet they feel sorrows and sympathy for Uncle Peck. The dual nature of this event in her story takes her into the world of theater as her directorial debut. MsU alumni Christine Bennett chose this horrifyingly true story is complex and incredibly thought-provoking. It’s possible for one to feel sympathy for the victim and the molester.

Freshman Emma Wagner took on the daunting task of portraying Lil’ Bit which she accomplished with precision and a raw sincerity that stole the hearts of her audience. The 17-year-old gave a performance that was poignant in its genuineness. The Defenders series event about this dream team of heroic characters. The sitcom stars Jason Bateman, Portia de Rossi. After making its debut on Netflix in 2013, it received three nominations for Outstanding Actor in a Comedy Series Outstanding Single-camera Picture Editing for a Comedy Series, and Outstanding Music Composition for a Series. Orange is the New Black, starring Taylor Schilling, Laura Prepon, Michael J. Harney, Kate Mulgrew and Jason Biggs received more viewers and hours viewed in its first week than the other popular aforementioned Netflix original series.

Netflix has already introduced the Internet TV audience to award-winning TV shows and is continuing to introduce new original shows with Marvel’s four series and mini-series coming soon.

How much are you willing to go to protect the ones you love? Where are the lines between love and obsession? Are there really two sides to every story? Is the world in which we live merely dangerous and oppressive for Lil’ Bit to finally leave her hometown, yet they feel sorrows and sympathy for Uncle Peck. The dual nature of this event in her story takes her into the world of theater as her directorial debut. MsU alumni Christine Bennett chose this horrifyingly true story is complex and incredibly thought-provoking. It’s possible for one to feel sympathy for the victim and the molester.

Freshman Emma Wagner took on the daunting task of portraying Lil’ Bit which she accomplished with precision and a raw sincerity that stole the hearts of her audience. The 17-year-old gave a performance that was poignant in its genuineness. The Defenders series event about this dream team of heroic characters. The sitcom stars Jason Bateman, Portia de Rossi. After making its debut on Netflix in 2013, it received three nominations for Outstanding Actor in a Comedy Series Outstanding Single-camera Picture Editing for a Comedy Series, and Outstanding Music Composition for a Series. Orange is the New Black, starring Taylor Schilling, Laura Prepon, Michael J. Harney, Kate Mulgrew and Jason Biggs received more viewers and hours viewed in its first week than the other popular aforementioned Netflix original series.

Netflix has already introduced the Internet TV audience to award-winning TV shows and is continuing to introduce new original shows with Marvel’s four series and mini-series coming soon.

How much are you willing to go to protect the ones you love? Where are the lines between love and obsession? Are there really two sides to every story? Is the world in which we live merely dangerous and oppressive for Lil’ Bit to finally leave her hometown, yet they feel sorrows and sympathy for Uncle Peck. The dual nature of this event in her story takes her into the world of theater as her directorial debut. MsU alumni Christine Bennett chose this horrifyingly true story is complex and incredibly thought-provoking. It’s possible for one to feel sympathy for the victim and the molester.

Freshman Emma Wagner took on the daunting task of portraying Lil’ Bit which she accomplished with precision and a raw sincerity that stole the hearts of her audience. The 17-year-old gave a performance that was poignant in its genuineness. The Defenders series event about this dream team of heroic characters. The sitcom stars Jason Bateman, Portia de Rossi. After making its debut on Netflix in 2013, it received three nominations for Outstanding Actor in a Comedy Series Outstanding Single-camera Picture Editing for a Comedy Series, and Outstanding Music Composition for a Series. Orange is the New Black, starring Taylor Schilling, Laura Prepon, Michael J. Harney, Kate Mulgrew and Jason Biggs received more viewers and hours viewed in its first week than the other popular aforementioned Netflix original series.

Netflix has already introduced the Internet TV audience to award-winning TV shows and is continuing to introduce new original shows with Marvel’s four series and mini-series coming soon.

How much are you willing to go to protect the ones you love? Where are the lines between love and obsession? Are there really two sides to every story? Is the world in which we live merely dangerous and oppressive for Lil’ Bit to finally leave her hometown, yet they feel sorrows and sympathy for Uncle Peck. The dual nature of this event in her story takes her into the world of theater as her directorial debut. MsU alumni Christine Bennett chose this horrifyingly true story is complex and incredibly thought-provoking. It’s possible for one to feel sympathy for the victim and the molester.

Freshman Emma Wagner took on the daunting task of portraying Lil’ Bit which she accomplished with precision and a raw sincerity that stole the hearts of her audience. The 17-year-old gave a performance that was poignant in its genuineness. The Defenders series event about this dream team of heroic characters. The sitcom stars Jason Bateman, Portia de Rossi. After making its debut on Netflix in 2013, it received three nominations for Outstanding Actor in a Comedy Series Outstanding Single-camera Picture Editing for a Comedy Series, and Outstanding Music Composition for a Series. Orange is the New Black, starring Taylor Schilling, Laura Prepon, Michael J. Harney, Kate Mulgrew and Jason Biggs received more viewers and hours viewed in its first week than the other popular aforementioned Netflix original series.

Netflix has already introduced the Internet TV audience to award-winning TV shows and is continuing to introduce new original shows with Marvel’s four series and mini-series coming soon.

How much are you willing to go to protect the ones you love? Where are the lines between love and obsession? Are there really two sides to every story? Is the world in which we live merely dangerous and oppressive for Lil’ Bit to finally leave her hometown, yet they feel sorrows and sympathy for Uncle Peck. The dual nature of this event in her story takes her into the world of theater as her directorial debut. MsU alumni Christine Bennett chose this horrifyingly true story is complex and incredibly thought-provoking. It’s possible for one to feel sympathy for the victim and the molester.

Freshman Emma Wagner took on the daunting task of portraying Lil’ Bit which she accomplished with precision and a raw sincerity that stole the hearts of her audience. The 17-year-old gave a performance that was poignant in its genuineness. The Defenders series event about this dream team of heroic characters. The sitcom stars Jason Bateman, Portia de Rossi. After making its debut on Netflix in 2013, it received three nominations for Outstanding Actor in a Comedy Series Outstanding Single-camera Picture Editing for a Comedy Series, and Outstanding Music Composition for a Series. Orange is the New Black, starring Taylor Schilling, Laura Prepon, Michael J. Harney, Kate Mulgrew and Jason Biggs received more viewers and hours viewed in its first week than the other popular aforementioned Netflix original series.

Netflix has already introduced the Internet TV audience to award-winning TV shows and is continuing to introduce new original shows with Marvel’s four series and mini-series coming soon.

How much are you willing to go to protect the ones you love? Where are the lines between love and obsession? Are there really two sides to every story? Is the world in which we live merely dangerous and oppressive for Lil’ Bit to finally leave her hometown, yet they feel sorrows and sympathy for Uncle Peck. The dual nature of this event in her story takes her into the world of theater as her directorial debut. MsU alumni Christine Bennett chose this horrifyingly true story is complex and incredibly thought-provoking. It’s possible for one to feel sympathy for the victim and the molester.

Freshman Emma Wagner took on the daunting task of portraying Lil’ Bit which she accomplished with precision and a raw sincerity that stole the hearts of her audience. The 17-year-old gave a performance that was poignant in its genuineness. The Defenders series event about this dream team of heroic characters. The sitcom stars Jason Bateman, Portia de Rossi. After making its debut on Netflix in 2013, it received three nominations for Outstanding Actor in a Comedy Series Outstanding Single-camera Picture Editing for a Comedy Series, and Outstanding Music Composition for a Series. Orange is the New Black, starring Taylor Schilling, Laura Prepon, Michael J. Harney, Kate Mulgrew and Jason Biggs received more viewers and hours viewed in its first week than the other popular aforementioned Netflix original series.

Netflix has already introduced the Internet TV audience to award-winning TV shows and is continuing to introduce new original shows with Marvel’s four series and mini-series coming soon.

THE FOUNDATION FOR A BETTER LIFE

www.theblueline.org
Over the years, all of television’s most memorable shows have had notable finales, uncommon plot twists, and impressive writing. Even so, what makes a show stay near and dear to our hearts forever is the timely case of “will they or won’t they?” Almost every show that has reached critical acclaim has featured the adorable crowd favorite: frustrating sexual tension between the two male and female main characters. No show in the last couple of years has made audiences question their sanity more than ABC’s smash hit Scandal.

The show’s lead characters, Olivia Pope and President Fitzgerald Grant, hate each other, purposely try to hurt each other and can’t stand the thought of not being with each other. Shonda Rhimes, the show’s creator and executive producer isn’t new to the love triangle and forbidden love route with her characters. Her other hit series include Grey’s Anatomy and Private Practice and have featured jaw-dropping, headline-dominating romances. Scandal, however, has its own category.

Scandal premiered on April 5, 2012 and it soon burst onto the primetime lineup and quickly gained a very strong and boisterous following. Kerry Washington’s character, Pope, is a fixer, or as referred to on the show, “a gladiator in a suit.” If there is a secret someone wants kept hidden or a case someone wants destroyed, Pope and her team takes care of it. Whether it’s covering up a murder by destroying the evidence or covering up her own affair with the President, Pope does it all. Season three is well underway and does not show any signs of slowing down. So far, we have seen who Pope’s father is and what he does. We are also learning about what happened to her mother and who was in on her death. We are also getting to see a new side of Huck this season, played by the incredible Guillermo Diaz. Not only is Pope balancing the heart wrenching struggle of trying to solve what happened to her mother, but she is also dealing with the fact that she is helping Lisa Kudrow’s character, Congresswoman Josephine Marcus, run for president instead of helping the man she loves win his re-election. Congresswoman Marcus is new this season and is a powerhouse. She is giving Fitz a run for his money and will definitely be a serious threat to him and his campaign for re-election.

With the addition of Kudrow to the cast, I think it brings a much softer feel. Congresswoman Marcus is tough but won’t let the media or a fellow politician bring her down. She believes in herself and won’t stand for sexism and belittling. At the same time, she is soft-spoken, caring and truly passionate about being President, and I think that adds a nice touch to the already extremely character-driven show.

Overall, Scandal is one of the strongest shows on television. The casting for the show is impeccable and writing is sharp and on point. Rhimes is one of the top producers today for a good reason. There are sure to be more shocking reveals in episodes to come and there most definitely will be more scandalous tension between Pope and the President.
Everybody is familiar with it. That pulsating four-on-the-floor beat with leads and melodies working together harmoniously in a way that causes drogued out 20-somethings to become “one with the music,” if only so to run away from their post-recession realities and true to their hardcore warehouse rave habits.

EDM has gotten to the point where the happy hardcore warehouse raves of the 1990s have evolved to a commercial juggernaut with multi-million dollar productions, multi-record sales, and multi-award winning artists. First, Black Coffee, became the first artist since The Beatles to have four songs in the Top 20 of the Hot 100, which is a huge accomplishment. Rihanna also broke a record with “The Monster” becoming her 20th Top Ten hit song, tying Elton John. She is currently tied for eighth place on the all-time list, only 13 away from all-time record holder Madonna.

On Nov. 6, the Country Music Association Awards were held in Nashville, Tenn. George Strait took home Entertainer of the Year, while Blake Shelton and Miranda Lambert took home Best Male and Female Vocalist. The biggest honor of the night went to Taylor Swift, who received the Pinnacle Award for her achievements in recent years.

Swedish pop group ABBA may be reuniting in 2014 for the 40th anniversary of their first hit song, “Waterloo.” The group’s members said they may be reuniting for one night only in honor of the anniversary. ABBA is one of the most successful artists ever, selling over 380 million records worldwide as well as being inductees of the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame.

Music

Continued from page 1

#1. Royals - Lorde
(Last week - #1, Weeks on chart - 18 weeks)
#2. Wrecking Ball - Miley Cyrus
(Last week - #3, Weeks on chart - 11 weeks)
#3. The Monster - Eminem feat. Rihanna
(Last week - Weeks on chart - 1 week)
#4. Roar - Katy Perry
(Last week - #2, Weeks on chart - 13 weeks)
#5. Wake Me Up - Avicii feat. Aloe Blacc
(Last week - #4, Weeks on chart - 19 weeks)
#6. Story of My Life - One Direction
(Last week - Weeks on chart - 1 week)
#7. Hold On We’re Going Home - Drake
(Last week - #5, Weeks on chart - 13 weeks)
#8. Diamonds - Imagine Dragons
(Last week - #9, Weeks on chart - 28 weeks)
#9. Counting Stars - One Republic
(Last week - #8, Weeks on chart - 20 weeks)
#10. Applause - Lady Gaga
(Last week - #7, Weeks on chart - 12 weeks)

Everybody wanna be a DJ, but nobody wanna be a SN.

BLACK COFFEE IS NOTHING MORE THAN PSEUDO-ELITIST RANTING WITH NO SUBSTANTIATION.

Kevin Camilo
Staff Writer

Dancing Queen remains!

Photo courtesy of themirror.co.uk

Internet. If there ever was an Internet. If there ever was an “singer/songwriters” publish and self-claimed disillusioned it’s expected to see tweens in shame. However, it’s all based on-the-floor beat with leads and melodies working together harmoniously in a way that causes drogued out 20-somethings to become “one with the music,” if only so to run away from their post-recession realities and true to their hardcore warehouse rave habits.

EDM has gotten to the point where the happy hardcore warehouse raves of the 1990s have evolved to a commercial juggernaut with multi-million dollar productions, multi-record sales, and multi-award winning artists. First, Black Coffee, became the first artist since The Beatles to have four songs in the Top 20 of the Hot 100, which is a huge accomplishment. Rihanna also broke a record with “The Monster” becoming her 20th Top Ten hit song, tying Elton John. She is currently tied for eighth place on the all-time list, only 13 away from all-time record holder Madonna.

On Nov. 6, the Country Music Association Awards were held in Nashville, Tenn. George Strait took home Entertainer of the Year, while Blake Shelton and Miranda Lambert took home Best Male and Female Vocalist. The biggest honor of the night went to Taylor Swift, who received the Pinnacle Award for her achievements in recent years.

Swedish pop group ABBA may be reuniting in 2014 for the 40th anniversary of their first hit song, “Waterloo.” The group’s members said they may be reuniting for one night only in honor of the anniversary. ABBA is one of the most successful artists ever, selling over 380 million records worldwide as well as being inductees of the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame.

Music

Continued from page 1

#1. Royals - Lorde
(Last week - #1, Weeks on chart - 18 weeks)
#2. Wrecking Ball - Miley Cyrus
(Last week - #3, Weeks on chart - 11 weeks)
#3. The Monster - Eminem feat. Rihanna
(Last week - Weeks on chart - 1 week)
#4. Roar - Katy Perry
(Last week - #2, Weeks on chart - 13 weeks)
#5. Wake Me Up - Avicii feat. Aloe Blacc
(Last week - #4, Weeks on chart - 19 weeks)
#6. Story of My Life - One Direction
(Last week - Weeks on chart - 1 week)
#7. Hold On We’re Going Home - Drake
(Last week - #5, Weeks on chart - 13 weeks)
#8. Diamonds - Imagine Dragons
(Last week - #9, Weeks on chart - 28 weeks)
#9. Counting Stars - One Republic
(Last week - #8, Weeks on chart - 20 weeks)
#10. Applause - Lady Gaga
(Last week - #7, Weeks on chart - 12 weeks)

Everybody wanna be a DJ, but nobody wanna be a SN.

BLACK COFFEE IS NOTHING MORE THAN PSEUDO-ELITIST RANTING WITH NO SUBSTANTIATION.

Kevin Camilo
Staff Writer

Dancing Queen remains!

Photo courtesy of themirror.co.uk

Internet. If there ever was an Internet. If there ever was an “singer/songwriters” publish and self-claimed disillusioned it’s expected to see tweens in shame. However, it’s all based on-the-floor beat with leads and melodies working together harmoniously in a way that causes drogued out 20-somethings to become “one with the music,” if only so to run away from their post-recession realities and true to their hardcore warehouse rave habits.

EDM has gotten to the point where the happy hardcore warehouse raves of the 1990s have evolved to a commercial juggernaut with multi-million dollar productions, multi-record sales, and multi-award winning artists. First, Black Coffee, became the first artist since The Beatles to have four songs in the Top 20 of the Hot 100, which is a huge accomplishment. Rihanna also broke a record with “The Monster” becoming her 20th Top Ten hit song, tying Elton John. She is currently tied for eighth place on the all-time list, only 13 away from all-time record holder Madonna.

On Nov. 6, the Country Music Association Awards were held in Nashville, Tenn. George Strait took home Entertainer of the Year, while Blake Shelton and Miranda Lambert took home Best Male and Female Vocalist. The biggest honor of the night went to Taylor Swift, who received the Pinnacle Award for her achievements in recent years.

Swedish pop group ABBA may be reuniting in 2014 for the 40th anniversary of their first hit song, “Waterloo.” The group’s members said they may be reuniting for one night only in honor of the anniversary. ABBA is one of the most successful artists ever, selling over 380 million records worldwide as well as being inductees of the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame.

Music

Continued from page 1

#1. Royals - Lorde
(Last week - #1, Weeks on chart - 18 weeks)
#2. Wrecking Ball - Miley Cyrus
(Last week - #3, Weeks on chart - 11 weeks)
#3. The Monster - Eminem feat. Rihanna
(Last week - Weeks on chart - 1 week)
#4. Roar - Katy Perry
(Last week - #2, Weeks on chart - 13 weeks)
#5. Wake Me Up - Avicii feat. Aloe Blacc
(Last week - #4, Weeks on chart - 19 weeks)
#6. Story of My Life - One Direction
(Last week - Weeks on chart - 1 week)
#7. Hold On We’re Going Home - Drake
(Last week - #5, Weeks on chart - 13 weeks)
#8. Diamonds - Imagine Dragons
(Last week - #9, Weeks on chart - 28 weeks)
#9. Counting Stars - One Republic
(Last week - #8, Weeks on chart - 20 weeks)
#10. Applause - Lady Gaga
(Last week - #7, Weeks on chart - 12 weeks)

Everybody wanna be a DJ, but nobody wanna be a SN.

BLACK COFFEE IS NOTHING MORE THAN PSEUDO-ELITIST RANTING WITH NO SUBSTANTIATION.

Kevin Camilo
Staff Writer

Dancing Queen remains!

Photo courtesy of themirror.co.uk

Internet. If there ever was an Internet. If there ever was an “singer/songwriters” publish and self-claimed disillusioned it’s expected to see tweens in shame. However, it’s all based on-the-floor beat with leads and melodies working together harmoniously in a way that causes drogued out 20-somethings to become “one with the music,” if only so to run away from their post-recession realities and true to their hardcore warehouse rave habits.

EDM has gotten to the point where the happy hardcore warehouse raves of the 1990s have evolved to a commercial juggernaut with multi-million dollar productions, multi-record sales, and multi-award winning artists. First, Black Coffee, became the first artist since The Beatles to have four songs in the Top 20 of the Hot 100, which is a huge accomplishment. Rihanna also broke a record with “The Monster” becoming her 20th Top Ten hit song, tying Elton John. She is currently tied for eighth place on the all-time list, only 13 away from all-time record holder Madonna.

On Nov. 6, the Country Music Association Awards were held in Nashville, Tenn. George Strait took home Entertainer of the Year, while Blake Shelton and Miranda Lambert took home Best Male and Female Vocalist. The biggest honor of the night went to Taylor Swift, who received the Pinnacle Award for her achievements in recent years.

Swedish pop group ABBA may be reuniting in 2014 for the 40th anniversary of their first hit song, “Waterloo.” The group’s members said they may be reuniting for one night only in honor of the anniversary. ABBA is one of the most successful artists ever, selling over 380 million records worldwide as well as being inductees of the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame.
Womens Soccer

The Red Hawks fell to The College of New Jersey in the final game of the NJAC Championship but remain undefeated in regulation because the game came down to penalty kicks. With their impressive season record, MSU earned a spot in the NCAA Div. III Women’s Soccer Championship and will host a four-team pod over the weekend with their first game against Colby-Sawyer at 5 p.m. at MSU Soccer Park.

Departing seniors Sara Girgus and Marta Topor had great outings in their final game with four kills each. Montclair finished its season with a 19-12 record, reaching the feat of 19 wins for the second straight year.

Field Hockey

With a goal from forward Maura Johnston, MSU secured its second straight NJAC title in a 1-0 victory over TCNJ. The Red Hawks won the top seed of the NCAA Field Hockey Championship, meaning they will host both the second and third rounds of the tournament. They will host Mount Holyoke this Saturday at 11 a.m. on Sprague Field in their third uninterrupted appearance.

Football

Though in defeat, the Red Hawks showed that there is still some fight in them, as freshman running back Denzel Nieves ran for 180 yards in 27 carries. However, turnovers and a Ryan Davies fumble eventually put Brockport up 24-0 over MSU. The Red Hawks look to finish out their season as they host Kean this Saturday at 6 p.m. at Sprague Field.

Mens Soccer

Though they did not win the NJAC tournament, the Red Hawks’ 15-3-2 record was good enough to earn a bid to the NCAA Division III Men’s Soccer Championship. They will face Misericordia University at Carnegie Mellon University in Pittsburgh, Pa., this coming Saturday. The Red Hawks have the possibility of facing NJAC champion Rutgers-Camden.

Volleyball

The Red Hawks season has come to an end as they were defeated by Richard Stockton College in the semifinals of the NJAC Volleyball Championship. Departing seniors Sara Girgus and Marta Topor had great outings in their final game with four kills each. Montclair finished its season with a 19-12 record, reaching the feat of 19 wins for the second straight year.
Football Streak Ends with Shutout

Joe Stanley Kurp
Staff Writer

The Montclair State Red Hawks football team ended Saturday's game battered and bruised as their two-game winning streak came to an end with a 24-0 road loss to SUNY Brockport on Nov. 9. The loss marked the second time in the last 16 years that Montclair State lost in a shutout.

Although Brockport scored a 21-yard field goal and by freshman kicker Tyler Perna with 2:00 left in the first quarter, the Montclair State defense managed to keep the game close early on as they trailed 3-0 at halftime. As the second half began, Brockport turned it up and took a 10-0 lead on a 26-yard run by freshman running back Denzel Nieves this time a 32-yard run with 4:17 left, sealing the 24-0 win.

With the win, Brockport remained in a tie with Rowan for the NJAC title and an automatic bid to the NCAA Division III Playoffs, which will be decided next week with Rowan hosting the College of New Jersey on Friday, Nov. 15 at 7 p.m.

On offense, freshman running back Donald Nieves continued his strong breakout season, as he rushed for a season-high 180 yards on 27 carries. Sophomore quarterback Ryan Davies completed 7 of 10 passes for 46 yards, was sacked twice and threw two interceptions.

On defense, two players set school records, as sophomore defensive back Matt Mencio intercepted two passes and moved into second on the all-time career list for interceptions while senior linebacker Dan Avento recorded an interception and four tackles.

Photo courtesy of Sports Information.

MSU Rallies Around Basketball Teams

Joe Stanley Kurp
Staff Writer

On Nov. 12, hundreds of Montclair State students came out to celebrate and support their athletic teams at Red Hawk Madness, a Celebration of School Spirit, a pep rally that boasted interest in Montclair State's athletic teams and gave students a chance to show their MSU pride at the Panzer Athletic Center.

This event heightened support for MSU. As students walked into Panzer and grabbed free t-shirts given to the first 250 students, they experienced a festive atmosphere, from the vendors selling free concessions all the way to DJ Ridd playing some tunes.

The mood kept improving as performances from the Complections Dance Team, MSU Cheerleaders and MSU's Pep Band were well spirited, proving as performances from the event alongside some of Montclair State's best athletes was a memorable, once-in-a-lifetime experience that I will never forget. Overall, Red Hawk Madness was a night to never forget as many students, including myself, were able to have some fun and strengthen school spirit.

When the mens and womens basketball teams start their seasons this month, it is hopeful that the school spirit Montclair State students gained will rally the teams and help them succeed on the court this year.
UFC Middleweight Tim Kennedy excited the troops with a TKO victory over Rafael “Sapo” Natal on Nov. 6 at UFC Fight For the Troops 3. The Brazilian met his end 4:40 into the first round. Natal found success early with kicks, but as the round came to a close, Kennedy kept going forward and threw a thunderous left hook that dropped “Sapo” and finished him off with strikes.

“Moments before I threw that left hook, I heard my coach Winkeljohn say, ‘Tim, throw it,’” Kennedy said. “Insestinctively, I listened to my coaches and I did what they wanted.”

Canadian bantamweight Alexis Davis defeated Liz Carmouche via unanimous decision in the night’s co-main event. To defeat her opponent, Davis relied heavily on leg kicks. However, Carmouche found some success, opening a cut on Davis’ face.

“It was incredible the first time, but it’s starting to feel more like home now,” said Davis, who is on a four-fight winning streak. “I knew it was going to be a war. She’s tough.”

Olympic wrestler Yoel Romero Palacio delivered a huge knockout to his opponent Ronny Markes only 99 seconds into Round Three of their middleweight bout. Markes caught the American Top Team fighter by surprise, taking him down multiple times, but Palacio capped and used technical boxing skills to outstrike him. In the third round, he let an overhand left go that floored his opponent, who he finished off with strikes on the ground.

Rustam Khabilov has been on a rise to the top and it doesn’t look like he’s stopping anytime soon. The Russian outpointed Jorge Masvidal by unanimous decision in a lightweight matchup. The two traded blows on their feet with Khabilov landing more and even landing a spinning back kick that nearly finished his opponent.

A battle of two Ultimate Fighter winners Michael Chiesa submitted Colton Smith via rear-naked choke at 1:41 into the second round of their lightweight showcase. The fighters went back and forth for the first round with Smith almost finishing the fight as the round expired.

In the second round Chiesa dumped Smith on his head with a simple judo throw leaving him dazed and confused. Unable to defend, he tapped out to the choke that followed.

“He was pressuring hard,” Chiesa said. “You just step across and hit the throw. That’s textbook judo, and then I went to my go-to: the rear-naked choke.”

Boren Awards Scholarship to Study Critical Need Languages Abroad

Information Session
Wednesday, November 20, 2013
Dickson Hall, Cohen Lounge
10:00 am

Come learn how you can win up to $20,000 as an undergraduate student or $30,000 as a graduate student if you’re interested in:

- Studying a less common language
- Studying in Africa, Asia, Central & Eastern Europe, Eurasia, Latin America, or the Middle East

Open to undergraduate and graduate students. All majors welcome. Special initiatives for STEM majors and those studying African languages.

LOVE SPORTS?
Interested in writing for sports or taking photos?
Contact Nick at montclarionsports@gmail.com
Who’s Hot This Week

Maura Johnston
Forward — Field Hockey
Johnston was named NJAC Player of the Week thanks to her assist against Stockton in the conference semifinals and a goal against TCNJ in the championship.

Who’s Hot This Week

Michael Smith
Swimming & Diving
Smith took part in winning four events (two individual) in MSU’s 144-86 win over Drew to bring their season record to 2-2.

Game of the Week

Womens Soccer
vs. Colby-Sawyer
Nov. 16, 5 p.m.

MSU will host one of the four-team pods in the round of 64 in this year’s NCAA National Tournament.

For updates, check out:
www.montclairathletics.com
and follow @TheMontclarion on Twitter and Instagram

---

‘Montclarion’ Staff NFL Predictions

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Game</th>
<th>Nick (Sports)</th>
<th>Jessica (E.i.C.)</th>
<th>Jonathan (Arts)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Colts vs. Titans</td>
<td>78-54 This Week 8-6</td>
<td>78-54 This Week 8-6</td>
<td>77-55 This Week 5-9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Packers vs. Giants</td>
<td>Colts Giants Jets</td>
<td>Giants Jets Bears</td>
<td>Giants Jets Bears</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ravens vs. Bears</td>
<td>Ravens Bears Bengals Eagles Lions</td>
<td>Ravens Bears Bengals Eagles Lions</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Browns vs. Bengals</td>
<td>Browns Eagles Lions Falcons Buccaneers Cardinals Cardinals Cardinals</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Redskins vs. Eagles</td>
<td>Redskins Eagles Lions Falcons Buccaneers Cardinals Cardinals Cardinals</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lions vs. Steelers</td>
<td>Lions Falcons Buccaneers Cardinals Cardinals Cardinals</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Falcons vs. Buccaneers</td>
<td>Falcons Cardinals Raiders Changlers Saints Saints</td>
<td>Falcons Cardinals Raiders Changlers Saints Saints</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cardinals vs. Jaguars</td>
<td>Cardinals Raiders Changlers Saints Saints</td>
<td>Cardinals Raiders Changlers Saints Saints</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Raiders vs. Texans</td>
<td>Raiders Changlers Saints Saints</td>
<td>Raiders Changlers Saints Saints</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chargers vs. Dolphins</td>
<td>Saints Saints Saints Saints</td>
<td>Saints Saints Saints Saints</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>49’ers vs. Saints</td>
<td>Saints Saints Saints Saints</td>
<td>Saints Saints Saints Saints</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vikings vs. Seahawks</td>
<td>Seahawks Seahawks Seahawks Seahawks</td>
<td>Seahawks Seahawks Seahawks Seahawks</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chiefs vs. Broncos</td>
<td>Broncos Broncos Broncos Broncos</td>
<td>Broncos Broncos Broncos Broncos</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Patriots vs. Panthers</td>
<td>Patriots Patriots Patriots Patriots</td>
<td>Patriots Patriots Patriots Patriots</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
The Montclair State field hockey team was crowned the NJAC Champion once again. MSU won two games in the NJAC Tournament to claim the championship for the second straight year. The Red Hawks are currently ranked the top team in the country in Division III by the National Field Hockey Coaches Association (NFHCA).

MSU opened their week on Nov. 6 with a 3-0 home win over Richard Stockton in the NJAC Tournament.

Jennifer Tafro (left) and Stephanie Lewis (right) were named to the NJAC All-Conference team.

Jennifer Tafro (left) and Stephanie Lewis (right) were named to the NJAC All-Conference team.

Semifinals. Senior midfielder Jennifer Tafro struck first for MSU in the 15th minute, knocking in the first goal for the Red Hawks and her 20th of the season.

Four minutes later, sophomore forward Maura Johnston connected with freshman forward Gianna Moglino, who notched the second score for Montclair State. In the 30th minute, Moglino registered the final goal of the day for MSU thanks to an assist from Tafro.

The Red Hawks’ next game was at home on Nov. 9 for the NJAC Championship Final against the TCNJ Lions. The teams fought valiantly, but Montclair State got the win in the end, 1-0. MSU and TCNJ went into halftime deadlocked at 0-0. The second half remained scoreless until the 53:32 mark. Tafro found Johnston, who sealed the one point win for the Red Hawks with the goal. Johnston scored her 10th of the season off a pass, which she converted into a shot opportunity from the right side of the field.

“We didn’t have many opportunities, especially in terms of penalty corners, but we converted off one and that was good enough for us to get the win,” said senior defender and captain Sierra Rauchbach after the game.

Tafro was named Midfielder of the Year by the NJAC for her play this season. Tafro, senior midfielder Stephanie Lewis and junior forward/midfielder Abby Erler were each tabbed First Team All-NJAC while senior forward/midfielder Brooke Hullings was named Honorable Mention.

Tafro joins Megan Ulicny from the 2003 field hockey squad as the only two players to be chosen for Midfielder of the Year. This is the second straight year Erler was selected for the First Team All-Conference. This was Lewis’ first All-Conference NJAC award and third in the NJAC with ten assists.

Montclair State swept the NJAC Awards of the Week after they won the NJAC Tournament. Johnston and second year goalkeeper Rebecca Brattolo were each named Offensive and Defensive Players of the Week, respectively. Freshman forward Gianna Moglino was selected as NJAC Rookie of the Week for the squad. Johnston had an assist in the semifinals and the game-winning score for MSU in the NJAC Final.

Brattolo recorded her eighth and ninth shutouts of the season in the Red Hawks’ two wins. Brattolo also had eight saves between both games. Moglino scored two key goals for Montclair State in their semifinal game against Richard Stockton.

MSU was named the #1 overall seed in the Division III Field Hockey Tournament. They will host second and third round games at Sprague Field as a result of being the top seed. The Red Hawks have a bye week until the second round, where they will face the winner of Gwynedd-Mercy and Mount Holyoke.

Montclair State’s next game will be Saturday, Nov. 16 at 11 a.m. when they host Mount Holyoke. MSU defeated Gwynedd-Mercy less than two weeks ago at Sprague Field during the Red Hawks’ Senior Day, 8-1. If Montclair State wins, they would continue Sunday, Nov. 17 at a time yet to be determined.