Art Exhibited In Life Hall

An exhibition of the work done by the sophomore fine arts majors at their painting classes is currently on display in the lobby of Life Hall. Mr. Abrham S. Kopp and Mr. Charles B. Marinas are the instructors of these classes. These paintings, which represent realism, expressionism and surrealism, are a cross-section of the many types of work produced during the fall semester. Mr. Marinas says that this type of work "results from a study of art forms and the past and culminates in the expression of the students' own contemporary ideas."

The variety of styles accepted in present-day art circles is reflected in these paintings. Montclair's Fine Arts Department encourages such variety and inventiveness in painting classes, and the variety of styles reflects the high degree of freedom and creativity the students are allowed.

TYPED QUESTIONS

Anyone interested in typing for the committee, should contact Pat Stefanski via the Bulletin Board.
Are These Our Students?

There is a small group of students, about eight in number, who sit in the snack bar every morning from eight to eight twenty, who certainly don't belong at Montclair State College.

These students, whom I shall have to call crows, because certainly they aren't men, asked a group of juniors if they were using a particular table. The juniors said yes. Thereupon, the group of eight grabbed the table and took it for their own use.

Had we decided which are the more important items, the copy must be prepared. This means that it must be typed and copy read. It is amazing how unwilling so many people are to devote an hour or half hour of their time to typing for the newspaper! The upper classmen give this feeling to the freshmen and so it becomes a vicious circle. It seems that most of the students here are just marking time until they can get out.

The Junior Class does have a problem, but I don't feel that we will be able to solve it ourselves. Maybe if Montclair was run on a more collegiate level, this feeling would permeate the students, and eventually school spirit would result.

Barbara Smith

Yes, I definitely do feel there is a lack of school spirit in the Junior Class. But, I don't think it can be limited to just one class. It would be lack of school spirit at Montclair.

When students arrive here as freshmen, they learn very rapidly that it is gauche to have any school spirit. The upper classmen give this feeling to the freshmen and so it becomes a vicious circle. It seems that most of the students here are just marking time until they can get out. The Junior Class does have a problem, but I don't feel that we will be able to solve it ourselves. physical education

Yes, I do feel so, although it has improved with the help of the Junior Indians which has acted as a unifying and stimulating factor. I think this lack of school spirit and lack of knowledge of what is going on in the junior class as an individual. To improve our class spirit, etc., we must, as individuals, wake up, learn what is going on in the junior class, and become actively interested in participating. Our Junior Class leaders can't alone improve school spirit—we must help them by helping ourselves.

math

Yes, but the lack of school spirit and enthusiasm is not limited to the Junior Class. It extends over most of the student body. A more active participation on the part of the students could increase school spirit immensely.

Patricia Onesi

physical education

Definitely, but I don't think it is only the Junior Class. I feel that it is the entire school as seen by the turn out at various school functions. I think the main reason for Junior Class lack of spirit is because of the Junior Class. But, I don't think it can be limited to just one class. It seems that most of the students here are just marking time until they can get out. The Junior Class does have a problem, but I don't feel that we will be able to solve it ourselves. Nancy Krupner

physical education

Yes, but not only the Junior Class. The students of Montclair as a whole lack the spirit and enthusiasm they should have. You can't expect miracles from a commuters' college.

Bretter McCambler

secretarial studies

The lack of class spirit among the Juniors is certainly obvious; however, I know it is not the fault of their officers. This number of four people have tried and tried again to stimulate interest in the class but for some reason they continually fail. This problem has been apparent for some time now—it's no one's fault but our own and we're the ones who are losing because of it.
