Raubinger To Speak
At Fall Convocation

Dr. Frederick M. Raubinger, New Jersey Commissioner of Education, will deliver the main address at the annual Fall Convocation on Tuesday, September 27 at 16:30 p.m. Weather permitting this will be held in the amphitheater, otherwise in the Memorial Auditorium.

Dr. Raubinger's fame as an educator is not confined to New Jersey. He is recognized nationally as a leader in American Education. Recipient of a doctorate from Teachers College, Columbia University, he organized and was the first supervising principal of the Preakness Valley Regional School District until 1946. At that time he became superintendent of schools in the Ridgewood School System. In 1952 Governor Driscoll appointed him New Jersey Commissioner of Education. Dr. Raubinger has written widely for educational journals, among them the NJREA Review. He is nationally sought as a lecturer.

Additions Augment Montclair Faculty

The faculty of Montclair State College this fall has augmented by the addition of five members from the thirteen departments of the college.

Five members have joined the Science Department: Phyllis A. Bush, Associate Professor, has taught at New York University, Harvard, Brooklyn and Queens Colleges. Victoria. P. Flies, Assistant Professor, has been supervising student teaching for the past four years. Roland H. Flynas, Assistant Professor, has taught at Livingston High School and has been on the staff of the Universal Chemical Company as research chemist. Ben Minor, Associate Professor, has been on the staff of Fairleigh Dickinson University as physics instructor. Rumer W. Van Gils, Assistant Professor, has been on the staff of New Providence High School.

Physical Education has welcomed also five new members to its staff: Barbara L. Brown, Assistant Professor of English, will lead the convocation and devotional program. Also highlighting the program will be the academic procession.

'My Sister Eileen Returns Friday & Saturday Nights

As lights dim and a hush falls over the audience, the curtain will go up on the repeat performance of "My Sister Eileen," the smash Broadway hit, which will be presented by the students of the summer session drama workshop September 23 and 24 at 8:30 p.m. in the Memorial Auditorium.

The entire company which is reassembling for these performances consists of 12 high school students, undergraduate and graduate Montclair students, seven of which are Player alumni, and graduates of other colleges and teachers totaling 26 people. This is the first time that high school students, college students, and teachers have worked together in a production at Montclair, according to Dr. Howard Fox of the Speech Department. Donald Hovars, teacher of English at Clifton High School and former graduate of Montclair, is a member of the cast together with some of his own students.

The play, a light comedy which was put together in three weeks during the workshop session is about two midwestern girls, Eileen and Ruth, who come to New York City. Ruth McKenney wrote the play in the early forties after successfully publishing several stories and based it on her own adventures. A hit in its own right, "My Sister Eileen" was the vehicle which brought Shirley Booth, starting as Ruth, to stardom. Later the musical "Mousetrap," with Russell Rusts playing Ruth used the same material and also became a successful production.

Starring as Eileen is Suzanne Domning, a senior at Livingston High School. Co-starring as her sister Ruth is Loretta Maguire.

SGA Sponsors Concert As Freshmen Welcome

While on vacation from the University of Washington in the spring of 1959 the Brothers Four, then unknown, set off for ten days in San Francisco, carrying with them their banjos and bongos to break up the monotony of the 900 mile trip. In the great western city they auditioned for the Hungry I, launching pad for present generation of musical performers, then on other spot on the West Coast. They ran through a repertory of songs they'd worked up during the previous winter as members of a frat house instrumentation and vocal quartet. Within three days they were performing on stage at the club before a regular-week audience.

Bill Bauman, vice president and chairman of the SGA, "The SGA is sponsoring this concert not only as a social function, but also as a welcome to the freshmen. We hope that every member of every class will attend and make this a real success.

Tickets for the concert may be purchased for $1 with SGA cards. Additional tickets are $1.50. Additional tickets on sale from 11:30 to 1:30 in Lower Center and Life Hall lobby.

Partridge To Address OEA Illinois Meeting

Dr. E. DeAlton Partridge, President of Montclair, will deliver the Closing Session of the Outdoor Education Association's "Teacher Education for Outdoor Education." The Conference is to be held on September 23rd and 24th at the Loredo Taftfield campus of Northern Illinois University.

Dr. Partridge will deliver the principal address to the attending delegates on the subject of "Outdoor Education and Real Experience." Lawrence J. Carey, President of the Illinois branch of the American Vocational Association at Northern Illinois University, will deliver the principal address to the attending delegates on the subject of "Outdoor Education and Real Experience.

Vernacchia of the Mathematics, Science and Art Departments responds, "The SGA is sponsoring this concert not only as a social function, but also as a welcome to the freshmen. We hope that every member of every class will attend and make this a real success.

In Memoriam

"Marry die suddenly and when they little think of it: 'Because at what hour you know not the Son of man will come.'"—Matt. XXIV, 44

As the Class of 1963 returns to the Montclair campus, one person will be missed. Robert Lombardi, senior music major, was suddenly called to his eternal reward on Friday, September 10. Although he was involved in a traffic accident, while serving his country in the National Guard. He will be missed by all those who knew him at MSC, but especially by the students of the Music Department, where the closeness of the group made it fortunate enough to know Bob well despite the best of us.

Welcome!

Although freshmen have already been welcomed at least two dozen times, the MONTCLARION, the voice of the student body, welcomes you, the Class of 1964.

Facing you is a great challenge and a tremendous responsibility. For how the demand for better-qualified teachers increases and the responsibility which they must assume grows, your task becomes harder.

You will not be teaching merely to fill minds with facts. You will also be aiding in the development of critical intelligence, that intelligence which helps young people to adjust adequately to their society, to accept their responsibilities as a democratic society and to prepare for the future.

We hope you will accept your task as one of the major goals of your four years at Montclair. If they are years of fruitful study, evenly tempered with social and extracurricular activities, you will be ready for your task. But if the Montclair campus is merely your setting for a gay social whirl, you will not be able to assume your responsibility as citizens of a democratic society.

The choice is yours; is it yours. Are you going to accept the challenge and assume the responsibility?

Again... A Tribute

This summer most of us avidly watched our television sets to see the telefilms of the Olympics. What most of us didn’t know was that one of our seniors, Wesley Rehberg, nearly qualified for the United States Olympic Track Team.

During the past school year, Wes’ record was astonishing. It was not phenomenal. Time after time he placed fifth and several times second.

At the end of the school year he traveled to California to try out for the team. Although he didn’t qualify, Wes came closer to the Olympics than any other student has in the history of Montclair.

For this achievement, we salute Wes Rehberg. He is someone of whom, we, the student body of Montclair State College, can be very proud.

Clifford To Teach... Television Class

Professor Paul C. Clifford, a member of the MSC Mathematics Department, will be one of the four instructors of the Television Classroom, which is produced on the NBC Television Network.

The scope of the course includes modern algebra in the fall semester and probability and statistics in the spring. This is the third in a series of mathematics courses that have been offered on the Continued Education Classroom; the other two being chemistry and physics.

Clifford will receive no compensation for his services and will be one of the co-sponsors and supervisory organizations of the course. The Montclair State College will also be giving credit for this course.

Tryon Added To CUNN Staff

Carolyn Tryon, a senior at Montclair, has been appointed assistant director of the Mid-Atlantic Coordinator’s Council of CUNN, the United Nations Service of New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware to speak at various colleges about CUNN. She also will coordinate region and state programs.

CUNN’s purpose is to encourage and support the United Nations—its organizations, aims, and accomplishments—on the college and university campuses. Other goals of CUNN are to encourage student opinion on the UN, sponsor United Nations celebration, encourage Model United Nations meetings.

Carolyn, a social studies major, is president of IBC and SEAM, business manager of the Montclarion and a member of the Kappa and Kappa Phi Alpha social sororities.

John Krentsky, another senior social studies major, and Carolyn were sent to the Institute by the BSA to represent Montclair State.

Harvey Schneider, senior social science major, also attended the Institute on the UN scholarship.

New Cafeteria System

Peering through a forest of greenery, returning Montclair State students and new freshmen are eyeing with interest the new cafeteria. It is open, airy, and, number, please!" by a student as­ sembling at one of the new additions to the cafeteria, the interactive dividers which separate the cafeteria, the express bar and, most of all, the food. Pupils will see more of their instructors. Directors of these programs may not invite in school colleagues will not understand that Johnny is in any trou­ ble. Dr. Lynch notes. Schools are just putting more on­ class on guidance, trying to find out more about their pupils and what they hope to do in life, so they will make a better choice subject.

If Johnny is in a high school sen­ ior with college aspirations, he will probably be asked to start­ picking his college this September. Getting into college will be even more difficult next year than it was in 1960, with some colleges already announcing that all ap­ plications must be in by December.

There is always a lull after the Olympic games for sports fans, and this year the Montclair State soccer team is enjoying its last few releases and they turn their collective attention to raising the autumn leaf color. Playing another winter series, Dr. Edwards is in special esteem; and it would be only fair to say that we all are wishing him the best. Nothing less would suit this gentleman of sport.

Another gentleman of sport has returned to these halls after his remarkable State Department tour throughout the Middle East and will be handling, again, the old familiar rules of the cross-country and the indoor track teams. This, of course, is none other Dr. Richard Willing. Welcome back, Coach.

It's the last year for the good guys (one way or another). The "good guys," of course, are a special group of athletes that comprise a part of and what kind of heritage you have to maintain.

As the faculty has taken on a new perspective. Last year's basketball stars (JV and Varsity), baseball, track, wrestling and cross-country teams have all visited this campus at one time or another.
