Cheerleading Squad Adds Six Members

On Tuesday, September 27, in the Montclair State cheerleading tryouts, the squad had added six new members. The tryouts were held in the Student Center, and squad members Pino Postigno, have been added to the regular squad for the fall season.

Junior varsity cheerleaders will be in the soccer game and at all the JV basketball games. Six girls were chosen to serve on the squad. They are sophomores Beth Dunn, Lorraine Trimperl, Isabel Paparelli and freshmen Barbara Molitoris, Hedy Berger and Marge Stoeber.

Dr. Hazel Wacker of the Physical Education Department was added to the cheerleaders, and she served as judges to determine the new members of the squad.

There were over thirty applicants at the tryouts and Barbara Gondek, head cheerleader, stated, "I wish to express my gratitude to the judges to determine the new members of the squad."

At the tryouts the girls were judged on their enthusiasm and animation. Their hand motions, jumping ability and general appearance were also taken into consideration.

The Montclair State cheerleading squad has added six new members.
Raubinger Inspiring . . .

"Don't let your minds calcify on this question of teaching." With these words Dr. Frederick M. Raubinger delivered his message to the student body of MSC at the Annual Fall Convocation last Tuesday.

Dr. Raubinger's message to us was most appropriate because it dealt with the practical aspects of the teaching profession, rather than the concepts of theory. He deplored the use of the Socratic method in teaching, stressing instead the "flowering of the individual himself." He made us realize that as teachers we should recognize individual differences. He cited the case of a Russian woman who had been denied the privilege of teaching because during practice teaching she had demonstrated an interest in the needs of her students.

"I came as a friend of yours." Indeed this was true, for Dr. Raubinger's message to us was as valuable as any course in the curriculum of the school year, and the selection of him as a speaker was a wise decision.

Vast Improvement

Through the efforts of a special faculty-student committee set up last year, a new cafeteria system has been put into effect. There is one advantage and one disadvantage of this new system: a person should receive some attention.

First, the advantage. There is no doubt about it that the food is greatly improved. Not only is it of quality, but also the variety is better. Ever since school opened we have heard many compliments and few complaints about the new system.

Now, the disadvantage. Eating space is greatly curtailed. Students, particularly during the cafeteria hours, must spend at least ten minutes of their lunch hour looking for a place to eat. Then they must spend another ten minutes waiting on the lunch line.

We commend everyone concerned for the changes which have been made, and urge them to continue their efforts to improve the food system at MSC.

Education In Politics

A week ago Monday millions of Americans viewed the first Kennedy-Nixon debate. Among the several topics discussed, education received some attention.

"So far we have really considered very little what education means, and yet it is education that we are talking about." Taking his cue from the debate, Dr. Frederick M. Raubinger delivered a challenging message to us last Tuesday morning.

"If students wish to extend their knowledge of Mr. K. they could obtain this privilege by paying a twenty-five cent fee, or perhaps "take a trip." In either case, Mr. K. will be free to them."

In addition, Mr. Nixon declared that we should "expand educational opportunities," and it is in this light that Dr. Raubinger's message to us was as valuable as any course in the curriculum of the school year, and the selection of him as a speaker was a wise decision.

Bank

The student bank, located in the Library, is surrounded by the attractions of the quadrangle. Students may cash checks, receive retirement, or get a check from their account. A student may obtain this privilege by applying to the registrar's office, which opens his account until he has reached a certain point. He must then present his checks to the registrar's office for payment.

Bank hours are from 11:30 to 3:30, Monday through Friday, unless otherwise posted.
Lepow At Conference
For Student Presidents
by Linda Reichenfeld

"Where are you from?" "Harvard." "And you?" "National University." "UCLA." "Northwestern." "Michigan." [60x-321]

And so continued the list as Student Body Presidents from the four states over the United States gathered to represent their colleges and universities at the National Student Body Conference, which was held at the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis this summer from August 17 to August 22. Sponsored by the United States National Education Association, the purpose of the conference is to acquaint prospective government leaders with the problems that beset the modern-day campus and to enable them to know the problems that exist in other colleges and universities. "The meeting was unique in that it brought together Area Art Lepow, who represented Montclair State College as a Senior student president, "I felt this was an opportunity where one can exchange ideas and learn about the problems which might seem as exotic but which were the same. From these conversations I realized that we are not isolated in our problems." [60x-46]

President's Problems
The conference was started with the announcement that Student Body Presidents from everywhere together discussed the problems of their schools and activities and compared them with the national problems and their solutions with those of the national Student Body. It was found that in comparing our student government with the others of the country, ours is far more successful. "We have a weight in regard to making decisions and the responsibility of the student is more independent to the degree of upholding and securing student rights and privileges with the administration and the faculty." [60x-495]

"What is the role of the student body president?" a question that was discussed at the conference. "We are as valedictorians as we are as valedictorians," said one member of great wisdom. Some thought that the president should be a representative of the students' interests and of the student body, as he was responsible to the students, the administration and the spokesmen of the school. Others felt that the student body president should be strictly an administrator and nothing more. The isolation of the student body president caused the greatest amount of question. "Who is to answer for their best interests are?" [360x-18]

Citizenship Committee
Several other topics of national interest which were debated were the organization of the student government, the pros and cons of Fee Financing, student representation, organization programs, segregation versus integration, the cold war, and the threat of war. While the delegates discussed these major problems, the official conference concluded with the formation of the National Citizenship Committee, with the purpose of helping to administer the school and the outside groups or individuals. Others felt that the student body president should be strictly an administrator and nothing more. The isolation of the student body president caused the greatest amount of question. "Who is to answer for their best interests are?" [360x-18]

Girl of Month
(Continued from Page 1) In her junior year. Among her hobbies are music, especially being classical music which she has studied for ten years.

Sophos Schedule
Wapalanne Trip
Seven sophomore majors participated in a trip of outdoor education activities at the New Jersey State School for Conservation at Stokes Forest. The program has developed in recent years on the wide range of natural resources and the teaching of conservation in the public schools. Prospective teachers need a broad understanding of the concepts of outdoor education and its relationship to the total curriculum, stated program coordinator John Redfield of the Physical Education Department. [60x-245]

The sophomore groups scheduled to participate during the fall semester are as follows: October 14-16, science and home economics majors; October 21-22, arts and majors; November 14-16, agriculture majors; November 28-December 2, music majors. The schedule for the second semester will include November 22-25, home economics majors; December 23-26, social studies, language, mathe­matics and business majors. [60x-310]

The program is an introduction to conservation education. It is a school camping period and is a part of the social studies, language, mathematics and business majors. [60x-312]

President's Problems
The conference was started with the announcement that Student Body Presidents from everywhere together discussed the problems of their schools and activities and compared them with the national problems and their solutions with those of the national Student Body. It was found that in comparing our student government with the others of the country, ours is far more successful. "We have a weight in regard to making decisions and the responsibility of the student is more independent to the degree of upholding and securing student rights and privileges with the administration and the faculty." [60x-495]

"What is the role of the student body president?" a question that was discussed at the conference. "We are as valedictorians as we are as valedictorians," said one member of great wisdom. Some thought that the president should be a representative of the students' interests and of the student body, as he was responsible to the students, the administration and the spokesmen of the school. Others felt that the student body president should be strictly an administrator and nothing more. The isolation of the student body president caused the greatest amount of question. "Who is to answer for their best interests are?" [360x-18]

Citizenship Committee
Several other topics of national interest which were debated were the organization of the student government, the pros and cons of Fee Financing, student representation, organization programs, segregation versus integration, the cold war, and the threat of war. While the delegates discussed these major problems, the official conference concluded with the formation of the National Citizenship Committee, with the purpose of helping to administer the school and the outside groups or individuals. Others felt that the student body president should be strictly an administrator and nothing more. The isolation of the student body president caused the greatest amount of question. "Who is to answer for their best interests are?" [360x-18]

Girl of Month
(Continued from Page 1) In her junior year. Among her hobbies are music, especially being classical music which she has studied for ten years.
The enthusiasm displayed in support of our school's athletic endeavors Pat is considered by his teammates to be a full member of the team. Pat graduated from Madison High School in 1956. While at Madison he made first team all-state in basketball for two years. He also made the All-Morris County football team. To show his versatility in sports Pat was selected captain of the football, basketball and baseball teams in his senior year. He also made the honor roll for two years. Before coming to Montclair Pat attended Miami University where he played freshman basketball. He then went to Penn in 1960. In his junior year he was awarded the Sigma award for athletic skills by the Panhellenic Society of Physical Education.

Besides his athletic and academic endeavors Pat seems to have a decided interest in the things that go on in the Montclair Community. He is also a member of Agora.

In closing, we would like to say, 'Well done' to Pat with Pat DeMail.

Dr. Richard Willing Returns From Tour

by William Tomney

The Montclair State College football team caught running across the campus by a bristly little man with a pipe and a stop watch. Whatever you do, don’t step to talk to, for he will have you in a sweat suit before you can say so.

As for Dick’s main talents, the cross country moves to make a few more in the near future. He is also planning to win the annual Agua show, for a fair price. He'll probably sing “When I Fall in Love” as that is the only song he knows.

In closing, we would like to say, “Well done” to Pat DeMail.

Dr. Richard Willing returned from his tour of the Orient. Dick DeMail. The captain of the Indian football team. Dick DeMail. Dick is the first team right guard and defensive linebacker.

He graduated from Verona High School where he made the All-State football team in 1965 and the Metropolitan All-Star team in 1966. Upon graduation from Verona, Dick began his travels from school to school. He went to Bordentown Military Institute on a football scholarship. After one year at RMU he went to Upsala where he lasted exactly one semester. It was then that Dick came to Montclair. After trying out industrial arts, Dick decided to be a physical education major. At the rate he is going he may make it in two years.

It didn’t take Montclair long to change its direction. Meeting Pat wasn’t able to get out on the field he is with the team in igrit. Pat’s athletic record here at Montclair has been marked by two broken legs.

Dick DeMail returns to us after spending a year working for the State Department of Foreign Aid Program. During this year he traveled through Afghanistan, Ceylon and Pakistan, lecturing, advising and training truck athletes in those countries. In Afghanistan Dr. Willing taught physical education in teachers’ college. In Ceylon he worked with army and police athletes in the entire island giving lectures over two hundred schools in Ceylon. He also worked with the Pakistan team to the Olympics. Dr. Willing describes these places as strange and surrounded by many problems.

In describing the program as a whole, Dr. Willing said it was a success as far as good will was concerned. He does not feel he made a dent in improving track, but he has helped cement friendship between the Pakistanis and the Americans. He hopes to repeat his success in other Asian countries.

In closing, we would like to say “Well done” to Pat with Pat DeMail.

Pictured above is the MSC Cross-Country Team.