The Montclarion, October 21, 1960

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.montclair.edu/montclarion

Recommended Citation
https://digitalcommons.montclair.edu/montclarion/1383

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Newspapers at Montclair State University Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Montclarion by an authorized administrator of Montclair State University Digital Commons. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@montclair.edu.
Kappa Delta Pi Elects Sixty-eight Undergrads

For the second year in a row, 68 undergraduates have been honored with membership in the Delta Pi, honorary society. The 30 seniors and 40 juniors, who represent major departments in the college, are selected on the basis of outstanding scholarship, leadership, and character.

At the banquet held at the Robin Hood Inn on October 26, new members were initiated into the organization at its annual banquet held at the Robin Hood Inn on October 26. The main speaker was Dr. George Warner, a former president of Vassar College and a member of the college's faculty in education for more than 30 years. Warner spoke on the importance of higher education and the role of Kappa Delta Pi in promoting the ideals of the society.

New members are Robert Alexander, Kenneth Baker, Kenneth Barron, Kenneth Carbone, Carol Cunneen, Richard Cunneen, John Delikat, Carl Ettison, Eugene Ettison, Bird Inman, Helen Kilburnes, Dorothy Klassner, Gloria Mahr, Ralph Milam, Anna Nucuti, Janet Ochoa, Lucille Otero, Janet Perry, John Reeves, Carol Runkert, Judith Robertson, Anne Alberto, Judith Alois, Brenda Anjou, Robert Berberich, John Brino, Christopher Brown, Stuart Brown, Margaret Brown, Phyllis Byers, Marc Frank, Veronica Gitter, Mr. Frank, Ulrich Hartung, Maria Hartung, Patricia McMillan, Mrs. Van Duren, Dorothy Gascoo, Mr. Van Duren, Charles Rink, and James Jacobson.

The editors regret that this is one issue that could not be published due to technical difficulties. The second issue will be published two days late in reaching the subscribers.
Editorials:

Recently, after a meeting of the SGA Finance Committee, there was much talk on the campus as to how the monies for the new student center should be spent. Particularly discussed was the fact that, due to a lack of funds, certain sports such as junior varsity basketball, might have to be eliminated this year. Students were informed and wished to know how it had come about that there were supposedly not enough funds to support a full athletic program which we have had in the past. Many students said that the SGA had no right to cut any major sport. Others said that such a decision should be put before a vote of the student body in a referendum.

It would appear that the real issue is not the financial condition of the SGA, but rather the anger and questions of the student body. Why didn't the students know what was taking place? And, what the minutes of the last meeting were, how their class representatives voted, or what the current issues are before the SGA? But, let one rumor of something unfavorable reach their ears, and they have half a dozen opinions on the matter. Haven't those Maurice Bob Gray, and everyone else who have brought something to my attention, labored long and hard to serve the college.

The no parking signs, the barriers, the barricades, the的动作 of a few people—as so often happens—will cause others to give up on the streets and speeding around will be a real headache. Cooperation Desired

Once again, cooperation begins with things really are going to be tough in the parking department. Several of the present parking areas will be closed until further notice. Workmen will be driving on to the campus and taking a bus will be making a real contribution to their fellow students. Cars pools can reduce the number of vehicles coming to Valley Road and Normal Avenue at 8:20 a.m. All of these things will help, but it will be tough. How can the SGA cut out any of the major sports activities. However, the main argument of the editorial still holds.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

To the one that matches their shoes./ If we really were as good as we must, wear our emblems wherever we go/ And all sit together so the one that matches their shoes./ We thing else is happening that's worrying me./ The individual girl seems to count/It's the organization that must stand out./ We must find out what the minutes of the last meeting were, how their editorial still holds.)

Student Forum

QUESTION: Should federal aid be given to education directly, indirectly or not at all?

Federal aid should be granted to education through the federal government directly, indirectly, or not at all. The question of federal aid to education is one of the most important problems facing the nation today. The need for federal aid is due to the fact that the states are unable to meet the rising costs of education. Federal aid would provide a much-needed source of revenue for the schools, and would help to ensure that every child has the opportunity to receive a good education.

Deborah Hamer
mathematics

Federal aid to education should be granted indirectly, that is, support should be dispensed through the state, each State having control over the distribution of funds. In this way, the federal government can best be of assistance and not dominate our system of free education.

Bob Pallin
accounting

Federal aid should be given to education directly, if aid is given directly, this could result in federal control over the state control of education. I feel that the State is in a better position to determine what areas are more in need of aid.

Janice Tabor
accounting

I think federal aid to education should be given directly, if aid is given directly, I feel that this would result in a better control of education. I feel that the State is in a better position to determine what areas are more in need of aid.

Student Forum

QUESTION: Should federal aid be given to education directly, indirectly or not at all?

Federal aid should be granted to education through the federal government directly, indirectly, or not at all. The question of federal aid to education is one of the most important problems facing the nation today. The need for federal aid is due to the fact that the states are unable to meet the rising costs of education. Federal aid would provide a much-needed source of revenue for the schools, and would help to ensure that every child has the opportunity to receive a good education.

Deborah Hamer
mathematics

Federal aid to education should be granted indirectly, that is, support should be dispensed through the state, each State having control over the distribution of funds. In this way, the federal government can best be of assistance and not dominate our system of free education.

Bob Pallin
accounting

Federal aid should be given to education directly, if aid is given directly, this could result in federal control over the state control of education. I feel that the State is in a better position to determine what areas are more in need of aid.

Janice Tabor
accounting

I think federal aid to education should be given directly, if aid is given directly, I feel that this would result in a better control of education. I feel that the State is in a better position to determine what areas are more in need of aid.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Robert A. Johnson

To the one that matches their shoes./ If we really were as good as we must, wear our emblems wherever we go/ And all sit together so the one that matches their shoes./ We thing else is happening that's worrying me./ The individual girl seems to count/It's the organization that must stand out./ We thing else is happening that's worrying me./ The individual girl seems to count/It's the organization that must stand out./ We thing else is happening that's worrying me./ The individual girl seems to count/It's the organization that must stand out./ We thing else is happening that's worrying me./ The individual girl seems to count/It's the organization that must stand out./

Student Forum

QUESTION: Should federal aid be given to education directly, indirectly or not at all?

Federal aid should be granted to education through the federal government directly, indirectly, or not at all. The question of federal aid to education is one of the most important problems facing the nation today. The need for federal aid is due to the fact that the states are unable to meet the rising costs of education. Federal aid would provide a much-needed source of revenue for the schools, and would help to ensure that every child has the opportunity to receive a good education.

Deborah Hamer
mathematics

Federal aid to education should be granted indirectly, that is, support should be dispensed through the state, each State having control over the distribution of funds. In this way, the federal government can best be of assistance and not dominate our system of free education.

Bob Pallin
accounting

Federal aid should be given to education directly, if aid is given directly, this could result in federal control over the state control of education. I feel that the State is in a better position to determine what areas are more in need of aid.

Janice Tabor
accounting

I think federal aid to education should be given directly, if aid is given directly, I feel that this would result in a better control of education. I feel that the State is in a better position to determine what areas are more in need of aid.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Robert A. Johnson

To the one that matches their shoes./ If we really were as good as we must, wear our emblems wherever we go/ And all sit together so the one that matches their shoes./ We thing else is happening that's worrying me./ The individual girl seems to count/It's the organization that must stand out./

Student Forum

QUESTION: Should federal aid be given to education directly, indirectly or not at all?

Federal aid should be granted to education through the federal government directly, indirectly, or not at all. The question of federal aid to education is one of the most important problems facing the nation today. The need for federal aid is due to the fact that the states are unable to meet the rising costs of education. Federal aid would provide a much-needed source of revenue for the schools, and would help to ensure that every child has the opportunity to receive a good education.

Deborah Hamer
mathematics

Federal aid to education should be granted indirectly, that is, support should be dispensed through the state, each State having control over the distribution of funds. In this way, the federal government can best be of assistance and not dominate our system of free education.

Bob Pallin
accounting

Federal aid should be given to education directly, if aid is given directly, this could result in federal control over the state control of education. I feel that the State is in a better position to determine what areas are more in need of aid.

Janice Tabor
accounting

I think federal aid to education should be given directly, if aid is given directly, I feel that this would result in a better control of education. I feel that the State is in a better position to determine what areas are more in need of aid.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Robert A. Johnson

To the one that matches their shoes./ If we really were as good as we must, wear our emblems wherever we go/ And all sit together so the one that matches their shoes./ We thing else is happening that's worrying me./ The individual girl seems to count/It's the organization that must stand out./

Student Forum

QUESTION: Should federal aid be given to education directly, indirectly or not at all?

Federal aid should be granted to education through the federal government directly, indirectly, or not at all. The question of federal aid to education is one of the most important problems facing the nation today. The need for federal aid is due to the fact that the states are unable to meet the rising costs of education. Federal aid would provide a much-needed source of revenue for the schools, and would help to ensure that every child has the opportunity to receive a good education.

Deborah Hamer
mathematics

Federal aid to education should be granted indirectly, that is, support should be dispensed through the state, each State having control over the distribution of funds. In this way, the federal government can best be of assistance and not dominate our system of free education.

Bob Pallin
accounting

Federal aid should be given to education directly, if aid is given directly, this could result in federal control over the state control of education. I feel that the State is in a better position to determine what areas are more in need of aid.

Janice Tabor
accounting

I think federal aid to education should be given directly, if aid is given directly, I feel that this would result in a better control of education. I feel that the State is in a better position to determine what areas are more in need of aid.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Robert A. Johnson

To the one that matches their shoes./ If we really were as good as we must, wear our emblems wherever we go/ And all sit together so the one that matches their shoes./ We thing else is happening that's worrying me./ The individual girl seems to count/It's the organization that must stand out./
Cafeteria Director Forth Describes Saga's Goals
by Diane Morris

Partridge announces operation littlefield by Linda Reifenfeld

In a medium-sized home on house on Ridge Road in Great Neck, New Jersey lives a gentle, little, elderly lady, must lose her family, alumni, and students of MSC, Miss Elfie Littlefield.

For twenty-one years, from 1917 to 1938 when she retired, Miss Partridge, an associate professor of languages at Montclair State College, created the course known as Foundations of Languages. She also gave twenty-five minutes to the planning organization affects all those who are members of the faculties and is presently taking charge of the Ways and Means committee.

The founders of the boosters are shown in the planning meeting at the end of a long session of the board. The success of this planning and time that goes into it is felt that this money is being approximately $100 per week to employ the cafeteria. One regular employee is the food committee, a new system, has been added to the cafeteria.

The boosters association at Montclair State College, after being fairly stagnant for the past three years, is taking on quite a new life, but it should be told exactly what boosters are and what their aims and purposes are. Boosters is a Class B organization, chartered by the SGA. Every member of the SGA is automatically a member of Boosters. Boosters represents a working organization of students, an effort to promote school spirit and contribute to the general welfare of the school.

Booster is the United Nations of all the world’s most respected men who are endeavoring, in spite of their positions, to leave a lasting peace for all mankind.

Bill Rawson: "The United Nations is an organization for peace, expressed through international diplomacy. These discussions of peace, in the students, are in a manner unlike that of our city's own United Nations. If the United Nations is to serve peace, more power will have to be gained by each nation in the world.

Linda Smith: "It is important to be able to predict very few difficulties or any problems that I might have. I think the United States must be so prepared to seize this opportunity.

June Barak: "The tie that binds us together is our sense of preserving our way of life in the world. We want to make sure that our university operates as it has been in the past, and we want to keep our university strong and healthy, particularly for alumni who are in new roles.

The audience was completely delighted with her captivating and amusing presentation of two other original works, one about a man named Grouss and the other about a man always referred to as 'always right.'

The warm, charming personality of Miss Grouss, who was born and raised in New York, where he was bom and raised, was well received by an audience of almost capacity. Our standing was our rendition of Chekhov's 'The Three Sisters,' a beautiful opera by the composer, Joe Snow.

HOMECOMING 1960

"Mr. President, I move that our Alma Mater Association be made a football game followed by a Homecoming dance at 9 o'clock.

"The second motion, "Rush! Rush! Rush! It seems to be the only time we do now-a-days."

"What is a possible cure—a quiet evening in relaxed, new surroundings? This solution is available to all MSC students.

"The intention that prompted this fall's series, sponsored by Fredericks' Importers of Montclair, is to show the beauty of the visual, by introducing easily accessible programs of significant cultural value to the entire area. Last year's phenomenal success has insured this continued return of the programs.

"Soups, opera, all in color, constitute the series. Two of the operas, Tchaikovsky's Eugene Onegin and Puccini's Tosca, have already been presented.

"The Beggar's Opera, John Gay's immortal satire, starring Sir Laurence Olivier, with music by Sir Arthur Bliss, the date of the showing to be announced."

"Ayve"... This decision made history at Montclair. The Men's Athletic Association in New Jersey have received an offer to play the entire season, and will be charged with a small fee for a season.

"The Music Organizations Committee is to be commended for its choice of such an excellent artist and performer. Mr. Hines' performance is something of which MSC can be extremely proud.

"Mr. President, I move that we form a Skiing Club and plan a trip to the West Coast for next winter."

"I think it is essential that we have a Skiing Club, for we have not been able to participate in such activities for a long time."

"There were over 200 students present, and many others who were unable to attend the meeting because of their schedules."

"We also try to find out what the students like and dislike by keeping a record of their preferences."

"It was then that we made the decision to start the planning.

"What's this all about? That's a question that I ask myself every day."

"This is my 30th year at Montclair College High pupils."

"The lab, under the direction of Professor of Education, offers both reading capacity of the average student and writing capacity of the average student."

"At present, it is costing approximately $1,000 per week to employ the cafeteria. One regular employee is the food committee, a new system, has been added to the cafeteria.

"The audience was completely delighted with her captivating and amusing presentation of two other original works, one about a man named Grouss and the other about a man always referred to as 'always right.'

"The Beggar's Opera, John Gay's immortal satire, starring Sir Laurence Olivier, with music by Sir Arthur Bliss, the date of the showing to be announced."

Our first football season began in September 1929. We played our first game against Shippenburg, Pennsylvania. We lost the first three games but won the last two. Also in our first season we defeated the E. R. Smith football team in their own field.

"Come to the Faculty Show, "Beds Nothing Loudly," on October 28 and 29 in Memorial Auditorium."

"Also included in the program is a special recital by the famous dancing girls. See the MSC calendar for a complete new list of new programs.

"Picture above are the Scarlet and the freshman class floats which were used to decorate the Homecoming Dance last Saturday night."
It was inevitable that the Trenton—MSC football game would be the highlight of the fall season in this part of New Jersey. The intense rivalry between the two colleges, in football, has remained strong for many years, and this year's game was no exception. The Trenton-Montclair State game was a classic example of what makes college football so popular.

The game opened with a big defensive effort from both teams, but the Montclair State defense was able to keep Trenton scoreless in the first quarter. Trenton's quarterback, Bill Goralczyk, managed to complete just one pass in the first quarter, and the Montclair State defense was able to hold him to just 10 yards passing. This was an excellent sign for the Montclair State defense, as they had held Trenton to just 10 points in the first quarter of their previous meeting.

In the second quarter, Trenton was able to get on the board with a touchdown from their long snapper, but Montclair State was able to respond with a field goal, tying the game at 7-7. The third quarter was even more exciting, as Trenton scored another touchdown, but Montclair State came right back with a touchdown of their own, taking the lead back to 14-14. The fourth quarter was a nail-biter, as both teams scored touchdowns, but Montclair State was able to hold Trenton scoreless in the final minutes of the game, winning the game 21-14.

The Montclair State defense was able to hold Trenton to just 14 points, while their offense was able to score 21 points. The Montclair State defense was led by senior linebacker, Alex Crossley, who had 12 tackles in the game. The Montclair State offense was led by junior quarterback, Bill Goralczyk, who completed 14 of 23 passes for 173 yards and two touchdowns.

This was a great game for the Montclair State fans, as they were able to see their team take on one of the most talented teams in the state. The Montclair State players were excited to be able to show off their skills and prove to everyone that they are one of the best teams in the state. The Montclair State fans were also excited to see their team take on one of the most talented teams in the state.

Bill Goralczyk round end for yardage.

Soccer Squad Suffers Setback

The undefeated football warriors of the Trenton High School suffered a setback at the hands of the Jersey City High School, losing 3-1. The game was played in front of a capacity crowd of 4,000 fans, who were on hand to witness the first meeting between the two teams.

The first half of the game was played in the pouring rain, which made for wet and muddy conditions. Trenton was able to control the game, but was unable to score due to the poor weather conditions. Jersey City was able to take advantage of the wet conditions and score two goals in the first half.

In the second half, Trenton was able to get on the board with a goal from their leading scorer, Bill Goralczyk. However, Jersey City was able to score another goal to take the lead back to 3-1. Trenton was unable to score in the second half, and suffered their first loss of the season.

The Montclair State defense was able to hold Trenton to just 14 points, while their offense was able to score 21 points. The Montclair State defense was led by senior linebacker, Alex Crossley, who had 12 tackles in the game. The Montclair State offense was led by junior quarterback, Bill Goralczyk, who completed 14 of 23 passes for 173 yards and two touchdowns.

This was a great game for the Montclair State fans, as they were able to see their team take on one of the most talented teams in the state. The Montclair State players were excited to be able to show off their skills and prove to everyone that they are one of the best teams in the state. The Montclair State fans were also excited to see their team take on one of the most talented teams in the state.