Partridge Receives Wo-He-Lo Award

Dr. R. DeAlton Partridge, president of Montclair State College and also a member of the national council, the policy making body of the organization, was given the Wo-He-Lo Order, highest honor of the youth organization.

The award was made at the Camp Fire Girls Golden Jubilee Convention held at the Commodore Hotel in New York and attended by representatives from parts of the country. The order of Wo-He-Lo, watchword signify- ing Work, Health and Love, is given for "distinguished service in behalf of the youth of the country.

In making the presentation, Miss Blakely, first vice-president and chairman of the national awards committee, praised Dr. Partridge for "the generous contribution of his valuable knowledge of the field of education and his wise guidance in the effective use of research study." Dr. Partridge was given special recognition of the pattern for national committee functioning. The national committee of which he was chairman was an outgrowth of the executive committee of the camp.

A long-time member of the national board of directors of Camp Fire Girls, Dr. Partridge has served as chairman of the camp, research advisory and vocational committees of the board, of which, he is also a member.

He is author and lecturer with membership in both Phi Delta Kappa (national education fraternity) and the New Jersey Rotary Club, a trustee of the Montclair Rotary Club, a member of the board of the New Jersey Board for Vocational Education for the United Nations and member of the national personnel committee, Boy Scouts of America. Included in his publications are Time Out for Living, which he co-authored with Helen Harris; Social Psychology of Adolescence, and Social Psychology of the Encyclopaedia of Child Guidance.

Camp Fire Girls, oldest national service organization for girls in the United States, has over 125,000 members regardless of religion, race or economic status.

Students May Speak With Naval Officers

All students who did not have the opportunity to go to the Naval Officer Selective Teams which are interested in the programs offered by each should fill out the form on pages five and six in box 31 in the faculty postal receiving area in Atlantic Highlands, N. J.

The purpose is to form an informal discussion meeting with the officer teams, members of the student body who are in the program and prospective members.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

On November 29, in lieu of an annual meeting, a special meeting will be held.

- The December 6 assembly will feature a Greek Dance Demonstration.

- December 9 is the date of the Faculty-Dames Desert Bridge.

The official College Christmas concert begins at the close of the last regularly scheduled class on Friday, December 8, and regularly scheduled undergraduate classes will end on Thursday, December 17.

- December 6 and 7 Opera Workshop To Bring Together Orpheus From Hades To MSC Facultv

The evening of Tuesday and Wednesday, December 6 and 7, the Opera Workshop of Montclair State College will present a performance of Offenbach’s Orpheus in the Underworld in a new English version by Mr. Emil Kahl. The performance will be held in the Memorial Auditorium conducted by Mr. Kahn who will be assisted by the college orchestra.

Students Leave MSC for Public Schools

On November 28 four departments will send practice teachers to the surrounding communities. These students will teach at their respective schools until January 12.

The Fine Arts, Home Economics, Industrial Arts, and Music Departments are sending out students to give classroom teaching for the time of the year for the first time. This new set up is under the purview of the new curriculum.

IA Department To Hold Dance

The Industrial Arts Guild will hold its annual dinner dance on December 18 at 7:30 p.m. at Dobbins’ Restaurant, Irvington, on Route 46 North, of the Route 46 circle. President William Vandervelde states that all Guild undergraduates are invited to attend. The cost is four dollars per person or couples. The Guild will provide all the canteen of ham, oysters or prime omelet roast beef dinner.

Congratulations

Our heartfelt congratulations go to the undefeated team, the second in MSC football history. Never before in one season we have had a record of eight wins and no losses.

The successful season is not due to any one person or factor. Instead, it is a combination of an able coach, a popular captain, a good team, an active Boosters Association and a display of school spirit such as hasn’t been seen at MSC in a long time.

Again, congratulations! — the editors

Dalphac Announces Annual Greek Sing

The Women of Dalphac have announced that their annual Greek Sing will be held on December 8, at 7:00 p.m. The successful season is not due to any one person or factor. Instead, it is a combination of an able coach, a popular captain, a good team, an active Boosters Association and a display of school spirit such as hasn’t been seen at MSC in a long time.

The successful season is not due to any one person or factor. Instead, it is a combination of an able coach, a popular captain, a good team, an active Boosters Association and a display of school spirit such as hasn’t been seen at MSC in a long time.

We are hoping that this year’s performances will exceed those of previous years.

Seniors To Visit Public Schools

Senior students from the departments will visit schools in the New Jersey public schools on Friday, December 2. This day is known as Senior Visitaton Day.

The purpose of this program is to acquaint the seniors with the schools in which they will practice teaching in the spring. The visits will begin January 23 for a period of ten weeks. The seniors will visit the classes of their cooperating teachers who are assigned as part of their program in the physical make-up of the school, the curriculum and the techniques which they will use, and have an opportunity to ask questions they may have.

The seniors and the teachers, who will send out students are business administration, English, Spanish, mathematics, music, social work, psychology, languages and history. The seniors are the following:

Spanish: Robert Clarke, John Neilsen, James Winter, Robert Simms.

Latin: Donald G. Hacket, Peter Hacket, Paul K. Kiesler, John W. Miller.

German: Paul Yelland and June Burek; they are members of the faculty of the department of French, German, and Spanish.

Music: Gregory Peters and the Stagecraft Club.

Mathematics: John Mayo, the head of the mathematics department.

Science: Paul J. Murphy, the head of the science department.

Languages: James Clark, Paul Kearns, James Winter, Robert Wimmer, and several sections of the department.

Art: Paul Landers, the head of the art department.

Social Work: Richard W. Blalock, the head of the social work department.

Business Administration: Paul Landers, the head of the business administration department.

Psychology: Robert Clarke, the head of the psychology department.

English: Paul Landers, the head of the English department.

History: Paul Landers, the head of the history department.

The seniors will have an opportunity to visit schools in most areas of the state.
Praise

For several years it has been our contention that Players has not fully utilized the potentialities of its facilities. However, this year we cannot say this, for the production of The Diary of Anne Frank is excellent.

Every technical and dramatic aspect possible has been fully employed and the result is a production worthy of merit. True, several minor flaws are present, but they do not mar the overall production.

Our praise to Players, its directors, actors, technical crews and members otherwise concerned for an outstanding production.

Quarterly

Last Thursday the question of Quarterly was discussed in the SGA meeting. One faction wished to eliminate the publication, or at least cut its circulation to one issue per semester instead of the usual two. The other faction wished to keep the circulation as it is now. After an hour discussion the issue was tabled.

We maintain our position of two weeks ago, namely, that Quarterly has a function and a place at Montclair State. If last year's SGA Board was not prudent enough to allocate its funds to this purpose take property that does not cost money. If it becomes serious enough, then the cost of the college campus.

The administration should set up a definite course of action to be applied in cases of cheating. When a student discovered cheating he should be warned once. If his practice persists, he should be automatically expelled. There are enough people on the college waiting fist to take his place. Reducing the cafeteria clean is something which should suffer next semester.

Quarterly is a student training institution. Teachers should be the ones who teach our students, who are in the majority but not really know the answers do not have to suffer next semester.

Chewing

Within the last week the problem of cheating in our college has been brought to my attention several times. On one occasion a student complained of the cheating which goes on in one of his classes. Another faculty member came to me about a problem he has with a student who is cheating.

Dr. Partridge thinks the problem acute enough to include it in his column this week.

What we try to make is that only one person on a small scale, chewing does not occur at MSC. As Dr. Partridge points out, it is the honest and trustworthy students who are affected by this practice. They must suffer for the actions of a few. Their standing on the class curve is affected by those students who open books, who get copies of the exam before the testing day, who have their research papers done by other students.

Something should be done about this situation, and soon.

Positive action should be taken by three groups: administration, faculty and students.

The administration should set up a definite course of action to be applied in cases of cheating. When a student discovered cheating he should be warned once. If his practice persists, he should be automatically expelled. There are enough people on the college waiting first to take his place. Reducing the cafeteria clean is something which should suffer next semester.

Quarterly is a student training institution. Teachers should be the ones who teach our students, who are in the majority but not really know the answers do not have to suffer next semester.

Chewing

Within the last week the problem of cheating in our college has been brought to my attention several times. On one occasion a student complained of the cheating which goes on in one of his classes. Another faculty member came to me about a problem he has with a student who is cheating.

Dr. Partridge thinks the problem acute enough to include it in his column this week.

What we try to make is that only one person on a small scale, chewing does not occur at MSC. As Dr. Partridge points out, it is the honest and trustworthy students who are affected by this practice. They must suffer for the actions of a few. Their standing on the class curve is affected by those students who open books, who get copies of the exam before the testing day, who have their research papers done by other students.

Something should be done about this situation, and soon.

Positive action should be taken by three groups: administration, faculty and students.

The administration should set up a definite course of action to be applied in cases of cheating. When a student discovered cheating he should be warned once. If his practice persists, he should be automatically expelled. There are enough people on the college waiting fist to take his place. Reducing the cafeteria clean is something which should suffer next semester.

Quarterly is a student training institution. Teachers should be the ones who teach our students, who are in the majority but not really know the answers do not have to suffer next semester.

Chewing

Within the last week the problem of cheating in our college has been brought to my attention several times. On one occasion a student complained of the cheating which goes on in one of his classes. Another faculty member came to me about a problem he has with a student who is cheating.

Dr. Partridge thinks the problem acute enough to include it in his column this week.

What we try to make is that only one person on a small scale, chewing does not occur at MSC. As Dr. Partridge points out, it is the honest and trustworthy students who are affected by this practice. They must suffer for the actions of a few. Their standing on the class curve is affected by those students who open books, who get copies of the exam before the testing day, who have their research papers done by other students.

Something should be done about this situation, and soon.

Positive action should be taken by three groups: administration, faculty and students.

The administration should set up a definite course of action to be applied in cases of cheating. When a student discovered cheating he should be warned once. If his practice persists, he should be automatically expelled. There are enough people on the college waiting first to take his place. Reducing the cafeteria clean is something which should suffer next semester.

Quarterly is a student training institution. Teachers should be the ones who teach our students, who are in the majority but not really know the answers do not have to suffer next semester.

Chewing

Within the last week the problem of cheating in our college has been brought to my attention several times. On one occasion a student complained of the cheating which goes on in one of his classes. Another faculty member came to me about a problem he has with a student who is cheating.

Dr. Partridge thinks the problem acute enough to include it in his column this week.

What we try to make is that only one person on a small scale, chewing does not occur at MSC. As Dr. Partridge points out, it is the honest and trustworthy students who are affected by this practice. They must suffer for the actions of a few. Their standing on the class curve is affected by those students who open books, who get copies of the exam before the testing day, who have their research papers done by other students.

Something should be done about this situation, and soon.

Positive action should be taken by three groups: administration, faculty and students.

The administration should set up a definite course of action to be applied in cases of cheating. When a student discovered cheating he should be warned once. If his practice persists, he should be automatically expelled. There are enough people on the college waiting first to take his place. Reducing the cafeteria clean is something which should suffer next semester.

Quarterly is a student training institution. Teachers should be the ones who teach our students, who are in the majority but not really know the answers do not have to suffer next semester.

Chewing

Within the last week the problem of cheating in our college has been brought to my attention several times. On one occasion a student complained of the cheating which goes on in one of his classes. Another faculty member came to me about a problem he has with a student who is cheating.

Dr. Partridge thinks the problem acute enough to include it in his column this week.

What we try to make is that only one person on a small scale, chewing does not occur at MSC. As Dr. Partridge points out, it is the honest and trustworthy students who are affected by this practice. They must suffer for the actions of a few. Their standing on the class curve is affected by those students who open books, who get copies of the exam before the testing day, who have their research papers done by other students.

Something should be done about this situation, and soon.

Positive action should be taken by three groups: administration, faculty and students.

The administration should set up a definite course of action to be applied in cases of cheating. When a student discovered cheating he should be warned once. If his practice persists, he should be automatically expelled. There are enough people on the college waiting first to take his place. Reducing the cafeteria clean is something which should suffer next semester.

Quarterly is a student training institution. Teachers should be the ones who teach our students, who are in the majority but not really know the answers do not have to suffer next semester.

Chewing

Within the last week the problem of cheating in our college has been brought to my attention several times. On one occasion a student complained of the cheating which goes on in one of his classes. Another faculty member came to me about a problem he has with a student who is cheating.

Dr. Partridge thinks the problem acute enough to include it in his column this week.

What we try to make is that only one person on a small scale, chewing does not occur at MSC. As Dr. Partridge points out, it is the honest and trustworthy students who are affected by this practice. They must suffer for the actions of a few. Their standing on the class curve is affected by those students who open books, who get copies of the exam before the testing day, who have their research papers done by other students.

Something should be done about this situation, and soon.

Positive action should be taken by three groups: administration, faculty and students.

The administration should set up a definite course of action to be applied in cases of cheating. When a student discovered cheating he should be warned once. If his practice persists, he should be automatically expelled. There are enough people on the college waiting first to take his place. Reducing the cafeteria clean is something which should suffer next semester.

Quarterly is a student training institution. Teachers should be the ones who teach our students, who are in the majority but not really know the answers do not have to suffer next semester.
from Great Britain to the Continent. I used the week to see Paris and also Amsterdam.

The final week was spent at the University College in Swansea, Wales, studying the various aspects of British life given by authoritative teachers and professors. According to the lectures we usually went into the country and visited British and student friends for discussions. This was the last week that had the opportunity to evaluate the final and make offer suggestions for improvement.

Many American Influence
After spending a summer in a foreign country and living with its people, there are several changes in opinions based on observations. I learned more about how the British people are far from being liberal; nevertheless, they do give us an insight as to how the English people are viewed. It was a surprise to see how much American influence was apparent in Britain.

The "Lost" Pavers
The experience in Britain is the train ride that is necessary to take since it is more than three miles from the hotel to the nearest building. Three members of the construction crew that paved the area last year are well and are very eager to help. The British economy needs the American influence and has been fully aware of this fact.

The "Loss" of Youth Image
However, I found that they are (the English people) more like the masyarakat, bowling alley, driving school, and various and other typical American cultures. They have a culture that is quite different from ours, and consequently, manyfine and interesting things have been accomplished. The English can rapidly break or forming or breaking these traditions and they deeply resent it. In Wales, for example, it is required that all children take the Welsh language so that it will be used and may be retained as a symbol of identification. Many of our ways appear "silly" to them and they won't hesitate to criticize us. They have said that American influence is generally a poor one with their bus services, and what they read in the newspapers and magazines. Too many Americans have not taken the time to learn the language and can not understand or speak the language. It is a wrong impression.

"America, Grow Up!"
Great Britain and America will always be joined together. Everybody feel that you are young and we know that their way of life is more practical and realistic. Meanwhile, it is up to us to convince our friends across the Atlantic that they have a misconception of Americans. At least, I hope they do.

Wrestlers Open At Yeshiva
by Ken Villani
Montclair's team of matmen embark upon a ten-match series which they face Yeshiva University away December 5th. This marks the second season of grappling for Montclair. Last year, under the guidance of Coach Thomas J. Rillo, the squad copped six of nine dual meets and finished as the Eastern Regional Intermediate Champions. This year the team is under the guidance of Tommy Mroz, who won all eight of his matches for Montclair. Joe Levine and Chuck Waxler garnered two wins each.

BAUMAN
(Continued from Page 3)
Each and every word is a plea to discuss international affairs and, usually, American students in general.

English Halls
After the semester we took our English brother or sister with us on the informal trip. The trip was so rewarding that for the purposes of this project alone, we see no point in discussing it further. What we are quick to point out is that all the English people are so well read and are able to discuss international affairs and, usually, American students in general.

English Halls
After the semester we took our English brother or sister with us on the informal trip. The trip was so rewarding that for the purposes of this project alone, we see no point in discussing it further. What we are quick to point out is that all the English people are so well read and are able to discuss international affairs and, usually, American students in general.

English Halls
After the semester we took our English brother or sister with us on the informal trip. The trip was so rewarding that for the purposes of this project alone, we see no point in discussing it further. What we are quick to point out is that all the English people are so well read and are able to discuss international affairs and, usually, American students in general.

English Halls
After the semester we took our English brother or sister with us on the informal trip. The trip was so rewarding that for the purposes of this project alone, we see no point in discussing it further. What we are quick to point out is that all the English people are so well read and are able to discuss international affairs and, usually, American students in general.

English Halls
After the semester we took our English brother or sister with us on the informal trip. The trip was so rewarding that for the purposes of this project alone, we see no point in discussing it further. What we are quick to point out is that all the English people are so well read and are able to discuss international affairs and, usually, American students in general.

English Halls
After the semester we took our English brother or sister with us on the informal trip. The trip was so rewarding that for the purposes of this project alone, we see no point in discussing it further. What we are quick to point out is that all the English people are so well read and are able to discuss international affairs and, usually, American students in general.
Montclair State Is Undefeated

SMOKE SIGNALS by Wes Robber

Since the revival of the modern Olympic Games, in 1896, by Baron Pierre de Coubertin, the world has gone through many significant changes.

Today there are millions of athletes throughout the world, each representing different nationalities, cultures and beliefs. In the face of this diversity, the Olympic Games have become a symbol of peace and unity, bringing together athletes from all corners of the globe.

The Games, first held in Athens in 1896, were a resounding success. They showcased the best athletes from around the world, and their success paved the way for the modern Olympics. Today, the Games are held every four years and attract athletes from more than 200 countries.

Montclair State University has a rich history of athletic success. The gymnasium, located in the center of campus, is a source of pride for the student body and the community.

The basketball team is one of the most successful in the nation, having won several national championships. The team is known for its strong defense and ability to score. The Montclair State University gymnasium is a favorite destination for fans of all ages, with the student body and alumni enthusiastically supporting the team.

The gymnastics team, under the leadership of Coach Ms. Gazdag, is another area of strength for Montclair State. The team has produced several Olympic athletes, including a gold medalist in the floor exercise.

The track and field team is also a source of pride, with many athletes competing at the highest level. The team has produced several All-Americans and Olympians, including a silver medalist in the 100-meter hurdles.

Montclair State University has a rich history of athletic success, and the future looks bright for the team. With a strong coaching staff and dedicated athletes, the team is poised to continue its success in the years to come.

Gymnastics In Preparation

State Is Undefeated

Griddlers Edge C. W. Post 21-19; Pioneer Last Minute Thrust Falls

by Ken Villani

Montclair State University's gymnastic exhibition and exhibition teams are now practicing for the coming season under the direction of Ms. Gazdag.

Three senior men will be on the squad; co-captain Tony Tauter and Bill Minsho and Al Baumann. The remainder of the squad will include Mike Ianelli, George Fagan, Ron Cichri, Mike Aran, Jim DePolo, Frank Sica, Dennis Soltem and Roosevelt George. The squad is selected by coach. The contest is open to the public.

One becomes totally fit for life in athletics. It developed and enhanced in athletics. It provided the margin for victory. The Indian took over an early load and commanded it throughout the game, at one time leading by 39 points.

The three units of post-grads and sent them back to their scrappings for remembrance of veterans. The undergrads defeated the Post by a score of 81-73.

MSC Basketball Team Bounces Alumni 93-68

As the last touchdown is made, and as the victorious coach is carried off the field the sound of Mr. Hans Schmidt’s voice can be heard above that of the basketball game.

The basketball game is on, and it is not one that is easy to watch. The players are too skilled and too fast. The game is too fast and too intense for the spectators to follow.

The game is over, and the Montclair State University guitar, playing the national anthem, can be heard. The gymnasium is quiet, and the players are tired.

The game was not decided until the last minute of the game as the Pioneers moved within 10 yards of the goal. On fourth

Gymnastics In Preparation

Montclair State University's gymnastic exhibition and exhibition teams are now practicing for the coming season under the direction of Ms. Gazdag.

Three senior men will be on the squad; co-captain Tony Tauter and Bill Minsho and Al Baumann. The remainder of the squad will include Mike Ianelli, George Fagan, Ron Cichri, Mike Aran, Jim DePolo, Frank Sica, Dennis Soltem and Roosevelt George. The squad is selected by coach. The contest is open to the public.

One becomes totally fit for life in athletics. It developed and enhance