At a meeting of the editorial board of La Campana held Mon­day, January 8, the editors of the 1962 yearbook were elected. The remaining positions will be filled after interested people have been screened and their applications reviewed by the Editorial Board.

New editor-in-chief, Pat Clark, is a member of Gamma Theta Upsilon, the Golden Key, Delta Omicron Pi, and the Epsilon Mu Epsilon. He is also a member of the Fire Brigade. He has been published on the La Campana staff as a member of the photography team.

The yearbook staff will be busy preparing for the yearbook cover and content. The selection policy has been changed to offer the most interested and qualified people for staff membership. The editors are directed by the La Campana Board.

John Scanlon, communications editor, served as assistant photography editor for the 1962 yearbook. Presently, he is a member of the IA Guild and is president of Phi Lambda Pi. He is an IA major and a dorm student. He is also a member of the Theological Society.

Sport editor, Rick Smart, also served in that capacity on the staff. He is a Social Studies major and an English minor, and a member of the Phi Lambda Pi, Theta Sigma, the Newman Club, and the Veterans Club.

The 1962 La Campana年book, the photography editor, is an IA major and previously worked on the staff. He is also serving as Historian for the Industrial Arts Guild. He is the Montclairian photographer for two years and is responsible for the comprehensive photography editor of the 1962 La Campana yearbook.

Business Manager Ida Stuber is a member of Delta Omicron Pi and the Women’s Dormitory. She is also a member of Epsilon Mu Epsilon, the Business Club and the Women’s Dorm Council. She is a business major.

MSC Duo Sums Up Geography Studies

In the years following World War II, American Education has been growing rapidly in size and scope. The knowledge of geography is more important than ever before as a basis for the teaching of geography. In the face of great concern about the improvement and development of geography programs, the New Jersey Geography Newsletter, published periodically by the New Jersey Council for Geographic Education, has been started. The first issue is available in the January issue. The newsletter will give the results of a study to determine the status of geography in the secondary schools in New Jersey. This study was sponsored by the Status of Geography in the Secondary Schools program, a project written by Dr. Donald Jacobson of Montclair State College, and Leasanna Del Duca, a senior English major, Geography minor, who is presently student teaching at Morris High School. The study summary is written by John Scanlon, the photography editor for the La Campana yearbook.

The study summary states that geography is taught in more secondary schools than ever before. It also states that there is a need for more textbooks, more teachers, and more study guides.

Notll—There are four editorships as yet unfilled on the 1963 La Campana staff—art, literary, resident, and managing. Those interested should write to Pat Clark at the address listed above.

The following is an excerpt from the MSC Duo Sums Up Geography Studies article:

"The funds for the study were provided by the New Jersey Council for Geographic Education and the Tafeta Chapter, Gamma Theta Upsilon at Montclair State College. The study was directed by John Scanlon, a senior English major, Geography minor, who is presently student teaching at Morris High School. The study summary is written by John Scanlon, the photography editor for the La Campana yearbook."

The study summary states that geography is taught in more secondary schools than ever before. It also states that there is a need for more textbooks, more teachers, and more study guides.

The following is an excerpt from the MSC Duo Sums Up Geography Studies article:

"The funds for the study were provided by the New Jersey Council for Geographic Education and the Tafeta Chapter, Gamma Theta Upsilon at Montclair State College. The study was directed by John Scanlon, a senior English major, Geography minor, who is presently student teaching at Morris High School. The study summary is written by John Scanlon, the photography editor for the La Campana yearbook."

The study summary states that geography is taught in more secondary schools than ever before. It also states that there is a need for more textbooks, more teachers, and more study guides.

The following is an excerpt from the MSC Duo Sums Up Geography Studies article:

"The funds for the study were provided by the New Jersey Council for Geographic Education and the Tafeta Chapter, Gamma Theta Upsilon at Montclair State College. The study was directed by John Scanlon, a senior English major, Geography minor, who is presently student teaching at Morris High School. The study summary is written by John Scanlon, the photography editor for the La Campana yearbook."

The study summary states that geography is taught in more secondary schools than ever before. It also states that there is a need for more textbooks, more teachers, and more study guides.

The following is an excerpt from the MSC Duo Sums Up Geography Studies article:

"The funds for the study were provided by the New Jersey Council for Geographic Education and the Tafeta Chapter, Gamma Theta Upsilon at Montclair State College. The study was directed by John Scanlon, a senior English major, Geography minor, who is presently student teaching at Morris High School. The study summary is written by John Scanlon, the photography editor for the La Campana yearbook."

The study summary states that geography is taught in more secondary schools than ever before. It also states that there is a need for more textbooks, more teachers, and more study guides.

The following is an excerpt from the MSC Duo Sums Up Geography Studies article:

"The funds for the study were provided by the New Jersey Council for Geographic Education and the Tafeta Chapter, Gamma Theta Upsilon at Montclair State College. The study was directed by John Scanlon, a senior English major, Geography minor, who is presently student teaching at Morris High School. The study summary is written by John Scanlon, the photography editor for the La Campana yearbook."

The study summary states that geography is taught in more secondary schools than ever before. It also states that there is a need for more textbooks, more teachers, and more study guides.

The following is an excerpt from the MSC Duo Sums Up Geography Studies article:

"The funds for the study were provided by the New Jersey Council for Geographic Education and the Tafeta Chapter, Gamma Theta Upsilon at Montclair State College. The study was directed by John Scanlon, a senior English major, Geography minor, who is presently student teaching at Morris High School. The study summary is written by John Scanlon, the photography editor for the La Campana yearbook."

The study summary states that geography is taught in more secondary schools than ever before. It also states that there is a need for more textbooks, more teachers, and more study guides.

The following is an excerpt from the MSC Duo Sums Up Geography Studies article:

"The funds for the study were provided by the New Jersey Council for Geographic Education and the Tafeta Chapter, Gamma Theta Upsilon at Montclair State College. The study was directed by John Scanlon, a senior English major, Geography minor, who is presently student teaching at Morris High School. The study summary is written by John Scanlon, the photography editor for the La Campana yearbook."

The study summary states that geography is taught in more secondary schools than ever before. It also states that there is a need for more textbooks, more teachers, and more study guides.

The following is an excerpt from the MSC Duo Sums Up Geography Studies article:

"The funds for the study were provided by the New Jersey Council for Geographic Education and the Tafeta Chapter, Gamma Theta Upsilon at Montclair State College. The study was directed by John Scanlon, a senior English major, Geography minor, who is presently student teaching at Morris High School. The study summary is written by John Scanlon, the photography editor for the La Campana yearbook."

The study summary states that geography is taught in more secondary schools than ever before. It also states that there is a need for more textbooks, more teachers, and more study guides.

The following is an excerpt from the MSC Duo Sums Up Geography Studies article:

"The funds for the study were provided by the New Jersey Council for Geographic Education and the Tafeta Chapter, Gamma Theta Upsilon at Montclair State College. The study was directed by John Scanlon, a senior English major, Geography minor, who is presently student teaching at Morris High School. The study summary is written by John Scanlon, the photography editor for the La Campana yearbook."

The study summary states that geography is taught in more secondary schools than ever before. It also states that there is a need for more textbooks, more teachers, and more study guides.

The following is an excerpt from the MSC Duo Sums Up Geography Studies article:

"The funds for the study were provided by the New Jersey Council for Geographic Education and the Tafeta Chapter, Gamma Theta Upsilon at Montclair State College. The study was directed by John Scanlon, a senior English major, Geography minor, who is presently student teaching at Morris High School. The study summary is written by John Scanlon, the photography editor for the La Campana yearbook."

The study summary states that geography is taught in more secondary schools than ever before. It also states that there is a need for more textbooks, more teachers, and more study guides.

The following is an excerpt from the MSC Duo Sums Up Geography Studies article:

"The funds for the study were provided by the New Jersey Council for Geographic Education and the Tafeta Chapter, Gamma Theta Upsilon at Montclair State College. The study was directed by John Scanlon, a senior English major, Geography minor, who is presently student teaching at Morris High School. The study summary is written by John Scanlon, the photography editor for the La Campana yearbook."

The study summary states that geography is taught in more secondary schools than ever before. It also states that there is a need for more textbooks, more teachers, and more study guides.
We Take This Opportunity—To Commend...

... Boosters because they have finally begun to take an active part in the sponsoring function they should be so vitally interested in. This organization has appeared at the home basketball games to sell refreshments and this is a step in the right direction. We are glad to see that the organization has taken the first, if halting, step to become a vital part of the sports picture at Montclair. We commend their efforts and hope that they will continue along the same lines for the remainder of the semester and well into next year.

And— the operators of the second-hand book store for a job well done. They have worked efficiently, and the service they have rendered should not be overlooked. We sincerely hope that they will continue to maintain this efficiency and we are sure that the present success will be more than doubled in the future.

And— the SGA on the inauguration of the much-talked about lecture series. The introduction of such a series on the MSC campus will undoubtedly benefit all those who send their children here. We encourage the student body to support these lectures in order that this type of cultural activity may continue.

And— we wish to take this opportunity to commend the staff of the college bookstore for a job well done. This is truly a fine achievement. The poetry selections are thoughtful and meritorious. The idea of photographic decorations is both eye-pleasing and artistically rewarding. This fine achievement is a definite accomplishment of which the staff of Quarterly can be justly proud. We commend this issue to both students and faculty alike...
Two Essay Contests Offer Winners $100

The significance of LAW DAY will be the topic of a short essay contest sponsored by the New Jersey Law Journal publication. LAW DAY, designated last May 1 by President Kennedy, intends to foster respect for law, to encourage responsible citizenship, and to promote national strength and unity.

The contest open to New Jersey college students permits the individual to express his feelings on the importance of LAW DAY to society and what it means to the nation in an essay of 250-1000 words. Each of the winners chosen will receive a $100 Savings Bond.

The typewritten, double-spaced essays must be submitted with free choice of subject matter within the general field of factual feature writing.

Open to permanent or temporary New Jersey residents between the ages of 18 and 30 years old, the contest requires that entries appeal to the general reading public. No more than 1500 words may be used, and unity.

The contest may be obtained from Mr. Don M. Seigel, The New Jersey Chapter of the National Society of Arts and Letters, 405 State House, Montclair, New Jersey.

The contest deadline is April 12, with winners chosen within the general field of factual feature writing.

The New Jersey chapter winners will be published in the National Society of Arts and Letters Journal. The winners will receive a round-trip air fare to New York City to attend a reception sponsored by the New Jersey chapter. The first place winner will receive $1000, the second place winner $500, and the third place winner $250.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Monday, February 5, at 7:30, Chaplin, French student Dormitory.

Tuesday, February 6, at 7:45, Russ Lounge, "Le Bal," seventy-five cents per person.

The Cercle Francais will sponsor a Valentine Dance tomorrow evening at 8:00 in the Russ Lounge, presented by the Cercle Francais. Admission is $2.50 per couple. Boosters will be provided.

Joan Foss To Be On Television Panel

Legal Voting Age Is Discussion Topic

Joan Foss, class of 1982, will be seen in a coast-to-coast television panel discussion on "Legal Voting Age" on the "Good Evening" program of Mike Wallace, February 5. Only half of the program will consist of the panel discussion. The remaining fifteen minutes will be devoted to a press interview with Governor Hughes.

During the planning session, Joan expressed the view that the voting age should remain at twenty-one since at that age persons are "less likely to be swayed by the emotional appeals of a political campaign."

CAMP VAPALANNE

April 13-15 will be work-end at the camp for college students. Thirty students from MSC will be able to attend. Those interested should sign up with Dr. Reed at the Men's Physical Education Office, or on various sheets posted around the campus. A bus will leave the campus at 3:30 p.m., Friday, April 13.

$12,000 Granted to Economics Center

Dr. Edward L. Dreyer, second from left, of the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors of the Young Presidents' Organization, is presenting the first part of a $12,000 grant to the Center for Economic Research at Montclair State College. Mr. Dreyer, who is President of Adams Apple Corp. in Kentwood, New Jersey, expressed his hope that the crowning of a new campus economic center will be a great addition to the educational background of the undergraduates. He also announced that this grant would be added to the regular, often additional, funds that the university receives. The grant will be used to purchase new equipment for the Center. The funds will be used to purchase new equipment for the Center. The funds will be used to purchase new equipment for the Center.

Conference Topic: Church Vocations

From March 2 to March 4, a Church Vocations Conference meeting field at Princeton Theological Seminary, Princeton, New Jersey. The theme of this conference will be "Responsible Path of Christian Leadership."

The main objective of this meeting is to have lay people examine varieties of professional services in the church. The conference is open to college students who are undecided about their life's work and also to those who want to enter one of the varied areas of the Christian ministry.

Activities at the conference include a play, which will be a Merlin Theatre production; also talks by noted speakers and group discussions will be on the agenda. Panels and informal group activities will also be activities open to any devout participant. The program is arranged to provide informal opportunity for encounter and conversation between the student leaders and the conference leaders.

Mr. Ralph Passiel of the speech department will accompany four Montclair students to the Church Vocations Conference. These students, Nancy Hach, Joanne Nau, Judith Ann Schott, and Warren Perloff, are members of the Montclair Protestant Foundation and have volunteered to attend the conference.

Speech Tour Set

The Speech Association of the East Coast is sponsoring a short tour to Europe again this year. The trip, which is open to all students, will leave on August 3 via Lufthansa, the German airline, with first class accommodations, including continental meals and complimentary beverages. The trip will be provided. No students interested in the trip are selected, but interested students may obtain further information from the Speech Department.

An actor who has played 53 roles in 23 of William Shakespeare's plays, Mr. Rathbone intends to devote half of his program to the Bard, when he brings his unique dramatic presentation, "A Day With Basil Rathbone," to the Montclair State College student body on March 7, 1962.

The first half of Mr. Rathbone's program will consist of monologues by such literary greats as Poe, Connoisseur, Dumas, Dickens, Mark Twain, and others, while the second portion of his presentation will be devoted to Shakespeare.

One of the foremost interpreters of Shakespeare on the current theatrical scene, Mr. Rathbone of Morris Lake Central school, has announced his new trip, which he will present to his students as a way of giving them a real taste of what it is like to act. He feels rather strongly that "the academician has not been a very good friend to the drama," explaining that, "these plays—and their interpretation—cannot be taught in school. They must be learned on a stage. A keen sight, "You may theorize on golf until you are red in the face, but you will only learn to play it on a golf course, where the same holds true for learning Shakespeare.

The Bard's life, Rathbone believes, "should be modeled after the best of us in a day and age when accomplishment inevitably is related to one way or another to money, or to the lure of conformity. Shakespeare was as much a rebel as he was a spiritual leader and hopes to meet. And yet he managed to turn out some of the most beautiful poetry and music most man that has ever produced."

He feels rather strongly that "the academician has not been a very good friend to the drama," explaining that, "these plays—and their interpretation—cannot be taught in school. They must be learned on a stage. A keen sight, "You may theorize on golf until you are red in the face, but you will only learn to play it on a golf course, where the same holds true for learning Shakespeare.

The Bard's life, Rathbone believes, "should be modeled after the best of us in a day and age when accomplishment inevitably is related to one way or another to money, or to the lure of conformity. Shakespeare was as much a rebel as he was a spiritual leader and hopes to meet. And yet he managed to turn out some of the most beautiful poetry and music most man that has ever produced."

He feels rather strongly that "the academician has not been a very good friend to the drama," explaining that, "these plays—and their interpretation—cannot be taught in school. They must be learned on a stage. A keen sight, "You may theorize on golf until you are red in the face, but you will only learn to play it on a golf course, where the same holds true for learning Shakespeare.

The Bard's life, Rathbone believes, "should be modeled after the best of us in a day and age when accomplishment inevitably is related to one way or another to money, or to the lure of conformity. Shakespeare was as much a rebel as he was a spiritual leader and hopes to meet. And yet he managed to turn out some of the most beautiful poetry and music most man that has ever produced."

He feels rather strongly that "the academician has not been a very good friend to the drama," explaining that, "these plays—and their interpretation—cannot be taught in school. They must be learned on a stage. A keen sight, "You may theorize on golf until you are red in the face, but you will only learn to play it on a golf course, where the same holds true for learning Shakespeare.

The Bard's life, Rathbone believes, "should be modeled after the best of us in a day and age when accomplishment inevitably is related to one way or another to money, or to the lure of conformity. Shakespeare was as much a rebel as he was a spiritual leader and hopes to meet. And yet he managed to turn out some of the most beautiful poetry and music most man that has ever produced."

He feels rather strongly that "the academician has not been a very good friend to the drama," explaining that, "these plays—and their interpretation—cannot be taught in school. They must be learned on a stage. A keen sight, "You may theorize on golf until you are red in the face, but you will only learn to play it on a golf course, where the same holds true for learning Shakespeare.

The Bard's life, Rathbone believes, "should be modeled after the best of us in a day and age when accomplishment inevitably is related to one way or another to money, or to the lure of conformity. Shakespeare was as much a rebel as he was a spiritual leader and hopes to meet. And yet he managed to turn out some of the most beautiful poetry and music most man that has ever produced."

He feels rather strongly that "the academician has not been a very good friend to the drama," explaining that, "these plays—and their interpretation—cannot be taught in school. They must be learned on a stage. A keen sight, "You may theorize on golf until you are red in the face, but you will only learn to play it on a golf course, where the same holds true for learning Shakespeare.

The Bard's life, Rathbone believes, "should be modeled after the best of us in a day and age when accomplishment inevitably is related to one way or another to money, or to the lure of conformity. Shakespeare was as much a rebel as he was a spiritual leader and hopes to meet. And yet he managed to turn out some of the most beautiful poetry and music most man that has ever produced."

He feels rather strongly that "the academician has not been a very good friend to the drama," explaining that, "these plays—and their interpretation—cannot be taught in school. They must be learned on a stage. A keen sight, "You may theorize on golf until you are red in the face, but you will only learn to play it on a golf course, where the same holds true for learning Shakespeare.
Singing SATISFICEs arouse Appreciation Everywhere

by Felliniat Four Price

The news that RCA Victor's new recording artists, the Lime- lite, will be performing at Montclair State has stimulated considerable debate about the merits and accomplishments of this popular group.

In an age of standardization and trend following, the Lime- lites offer a re­ freshingly different blend of vo­ cal and instrumental music combined with a rare breed of honesty that will certainly prove to be "institutional utterance." Praised by Variety as "sharp and hip to the times," their wide appeal is based on the rounding out of their traditional style combined with sophisticated, up­ to-the-minute image. They're that simple: uniform arrangements are bolted out with a hard-driving style that has prompted one critic to comment that they make three voices sound little six.

Critics Praise Limelites

A registration of some assurance at San Francisco's Geary Theatre, by the San Francisco Chronicle (September 13, 1965) headlined the Lime lites... and then went on to heap praise on the group. The Limes­ lite have risen to top rank in their field, their accomplishment and their performance Tuesday night showed it.

They brought down the house. They (the speaker) of the group proved himself one of the finest men in show bus­ iness. They were expected by R. I. lita­ d, introducing their numbers, clapping, laughing, Alex Hassilev and Glen Yarbrough, got them into the audience roar­ ing.

And after the Limelites' Holly­ wood Bowl, Margaret Harford, of the Los Angeles Mirror News gloated: "The Limelites con­ vinced the crowd, stopped the pro­ ceedings, and were finally per­ suaded to produce an encore. They probably could have stayed over on the weekend if the man­agement hadn't insisted the show must as quarter of America's.

Chances Meeting

Before the chance meeting in Los Angeles, the group had been singing at a club in Aspen, Colorado, under the name of "The Lime lites." In Aspen, Colorado, during the last six months, they have sold for as high as $500,000 each, and have sold for less than $2,000.

Tommy Peters Builds Unique Organ; Amazingly strong, the portable organ is a marvel of craftsmanship.

When Tommy Peters, creator and owner of a portable organ, demonstrates the instrument for his mother, Mrs. Grace Peters.

Jack Peters, creator and owner of a portable organ, demonstrates the instrument for his mother, Mrs. Grace Peters.

The Limelites

Alex Hassilev, dark-haired, banjo-playing baritone, is a con­ tinued phenomenon to audiences all over the world. In France, at the Edinburgh Festival, in Italy, and elsewhere, Hassilev has appeared in a variety of roles.

Alphonse Beverini, the organist of the Limelites, has appeared in concerts and recitals throughout the world. In France, he has appeared with the French National Orchestra and the Paris Symphony, and has appeared as a soloist in concerts in New York and London. He has also written several hit arrangements, including the Limelites' version of "Hallelujah" and "Ave Maria."
From Where I Sat . . .

by John Davies

The attraction now appearing at the Music Box Theatre is one of the most delightful musicals of the past several seasons and is based on a theme that is not entirely new in the world of the stage. The story is set during the reign of Alexander the Great and is concerned with the events that led up to the Battle of Arbela in 331 B.C.

The music, which is composed by Frederick Loewe, is one of the most beautiful and moving ever written. The lyrics, which are by Alan Jay Lerner, are also excellent. The book, which is written by Lerner and Loewe, is equally good.

The production is directed by Leonard Whiting, and the sets and costumes are by Boris Aronson. The lighting is by Sol C. Siegel, and the choreography is by Michael Kidd.

The cast is excellent, with Robert Donat as Alexander, Gladys Cooper as his mother, and John Gielgud as Herod. The other members of the cast are all well-cast and perform their parts with skill.

The play is well-acted and well-directed, and the audience will find it a most enjoyable experience. The music is delightful, the story is interesting, and the acting is excellent. It is a production that should not be missed by anyone who enjoys the theatre.
Montclair Splits Washington Games; Tops Bowie 89-61, Loses To Howard

by Ken Villani

Montclair Bill No. 1962 came to Washington this past weekend and received a split as Pete Captiano, Mike Losten, and Bob Moore so young as to be a college freshman, indicating that he would soon carve an individual niche in professional league. Coach Harold Watkins has done this and more, establishing a hopeful sports scene. Coach Harold Watkins has proved a valuable addition for a much needed solid sports foundation.

The president, treasurer and assistant treasurer are the only starting seniors on the team. Captiano, Losten, and Moore, as well as Bob Captiano, Johnson, Jenkins, and Votto are all members of the National Honor Society. One may drive any conclusion one wishes.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Stroudsburg SC—Home—February 10—

Gam. Av.pr

Player

Pittsburgh

Captiano, Pete 420 18 24.0

Lenox, Joe 112 15 14.2

Johnson, Tommy 128 18 7.1

Pawlowski, Vlad 111 18 6.1

Murray (14), and Slaton (10).

Francis, Lynn 42 5 9.6

Grob, Lou 95 18 5.3

Wolfe, Frank 95 15 6.3

Jenkins, Todd 97 13 6.7

Johnson, Jenkins, and Votto are all members of the National Honor Society. One may drive any conclusion one wishes.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Stroudsburg SC—Home—February 10—

Gam. Av.pr

Player

Pittsburgh

Captiano, Pete 420 18 24.0

Lenox, Joe 112 15 14.2

Johnson, Tommy 128 18 7.1

Pawlowski, Vlad 111 18 6.1

Murray (14), and Slaton (10).

Francis, Lynn 42 5 9.6

Grob, Lou 95 18 5.3

Wolfe, Frank 95 15 6.3

Jenkins, Todd 97 13 6.7

Johnson, Jenkins, and Votto are all members of the National Honor Society. One may drive any conclusion one wishes.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Stroudsburg SC—Home—February 10—

Gam. Av.pr

Player

Pittsburgh

Captiano, Pete 420 18 24.0

Lenox, Joe 112 15 14.2

Johnson, Tommy 128 18 7.1

Pawlowski, Vlad 111 18 6.1

Murray (14), and Slaton (10).

Francis, Lynn 42 5 9.6

Grob, Lou 95 18 5.3

Wolfe, Frank 95 15 6.3

Jenkins, Todd 97 13 6.7

Johnson, Jenkins, and Votto are all members of the National Honor Society. One may drive any conclusion one wishes.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Stroudsburg SC—Home—February 10—

Gam. Av.pr

Player

Pittsburgh

Captiano, Pete 420 18 24.0

Lenox, Joe 112 15 14.2

Johnson, Tommy 128 18 7.1

Pawlowski, Vlad 111 18 6.1

Murray (14), and Slaton (10).

Francis, Lynn 42 5 9.6

Grob, Lou 95 18 5.3

Wolfe, Frank 95 15 6.3

Jenkins, Todd 97 13 6.7

Johnson, Jenkins, and Votto are all members of the National Honor Society. One may drive any conclusion one wishes.