Montclair To Welcome Basil Rathbone; Phi Announces Campus Queen Finalists

MSC To Feature Ferguson

BULLETIN: February 20, 1962. The SGA announced today that Maynard Ferguson and his group will be the featured artists at Montclair State's Spring Hop. The dance will be held on May 23, 1962, in the gymnasium.

College Participates In Student Exchange

Montclair State College has set up a plan to promote a student exchange program with various colleges within the United States, Mr. King, Director of Admissions, states that this plan, which originated at MSC, has received a great number of favorable comments from other colleges. The program was also unanimously supported by the SGA.

These colleges which will participate in the program include: Chico State College, Texas; Bell State College, Indiana; East Texas State College; South-West Texas State College; Washington State University at Pullman; Washington; West Michigan State College; East Michigan State College; North Illinois State College; South Illinois State College; Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg and Central Washington College of Education at Ellensburg, Washington.

As now envisioned the program would include six students from MSC and six from the other participating colleges. Selection of students will be based on personality, academic performance, and participation in student affairs.

There is also the possibility of small scholarships being awarded to these students who are in need of financial assistance.

Library Sets Up Fine Regulations

Beginning March 15, 1962, the library will charge fines on all overdue books. This new system of circulation regulations was established by the Faculty Library Committee of which Dr. Edwin Fulcomer is chairman, and approved by the Student Library Committee, composed of John Lemery, Pio Tumquist, and Bill Labance. In order to retrieve 2,600 books now overdue and to prevent this recurrence, various fines will be imposed on books borrowed for different time periods commencing with books due March 15.

For a regular book loaned for a three-week period, the overdue fine will be 40 cents a day. They are not renewable. Overdue books not returned by 9:30 a.m. the following school day, or 2:30 a.m. the first hour, or $1.85 each additional hour up to $7.50 for any single book. A three-day loan costs $1.25 for each overdue day, while a week loan amounts to $8.00 a day. Periodicals may be used for a maximum of two periods.

Current periodicals will not circulate. Bound periodicals circulate overnight only at 9:30 p.m. Unbound periodicals may be borrowed for a week. All periodical fines will be $10 a day.

At a faculty meeting on February 21, 1962, it was unanimously decided that these regulations apply to faculty members as well as students.

Overdue notices will be sent only on reserve books and books that are already overdue and requested by another person. It is the student's responsibility to know when his books are due. Therefore, return all books overdue more than the fine regulations.

The Photography Staff of La Campana needs staff members to fill all its vacancies. Meetings are held each third Thursday at 6:00 p.m. in Upper Montclair. Proof of credit shots around campus will be displayed on the Bulletin Board in Life Hall, and prints will be available at the studio for those interested in purchasing them.

All interested students are invited to attend. Anyone interested in work to work and to learn are the only requirements.

Of the 140 students which will participate in the program, the following groups will exchange:

Washington; West Michigan State College; East Michigan State College; Indiana; East Texas State College; South-West Texas State College; Washington State University at Pullman; Washington; Central Missouri State College; Central Washington College of Education at Ellensburg, Washington.

On March 7, Ernest B. Fincher, Ph.D., professor of aeronautics, will speak on "Ancient Roots of Modern Aeronautics," at the Freshman Honors Seminar program sponsored by the College. The program will take place in College Hall, Room 105, at 3:30 p.m. All students are cordially invited to attend.

Basil Rathbone Advocates Focusing English Language

Mr. Rathbone has played in many a starring role, "The Iliad," "The Command to Love," "The Captive," "The Hermit," and "2 B.," to name but a few. It was inevitable that in the course of his acting, that he would come to the conclusion that the English language is filled with mistakes. In the course of his acting, he has discovered that the English language is filled with mistakes. In the course of his acting, he has discovered that the English language is filled with mistakes.

The plays of Shakespeare, if they are given to the public, lose much of their essential quality when read or glanced over and misinterpreted. The works of such literary giants as Poe, Connel Day, and Homer will continue for an indefinite period. Since the Houdaille Corporation Company needs to establish a margin of safety before the "mountain moving" operations and the future library building will have to be built off the parking lot south of Finney Hall.

MSC Bill Blasting.Resumes Tuesday

Blasting operations will resume on the Montclair State College campus on Tuesday, March 6, and will continue for an indefinite period. Since the Houdaille Corporation Company needs to establish a margin of safety before the "mountain moving" operations and the future library building will have to be built off the parking lot south of Finney Hall.

Tuesdays have been selected as the best days to give up the very early morning parking lots because it is a light day for students and also suitable for advance notices in the Friday edition of the Montclairian.

Hereafter we expect to have small announcements in each Thursday issue announcing the blasting operations for the following Tuesday. If snow or inclement weather interferes with the use of the other parking lots the blasting will be postponed until the following Thursday.
Dear Old MSC

A well-known professor on campus once stated that "Montclair State College is merely a professional institution." MSC has dropped the term "Teachers" from its official title and began to attack the professional training of future educators on the liberal arts point of view.

We can be proud of our alma mater for numerous reasons. These attributes are too often overlooked by those who seek to condemn and criticize.

Granted, there are many existing problems which must be faced, (e.g. library, bookstore, parking, advisors,) but on the whole we students are fortunate to be attending "the Harvard of teachers.

We feel it is valid to take a look at the positive as well as the negative side of the MSC ledger.

First, we have an administration staff which is genuinely interested in the welfare of its students. Seldom does one find a college of this size where persons in administrative posts are willing and ready, as well as able, to devote so much of their time to solving all student problems on a man-to-man basis.

We have evidence of this in the concern shown by the administration over the advisory system problem, their interest in the used book store and their plans for improving the present book store. In these instances alone, we see willingness to discuss problems with students and hear and understand the viewpoint from the student's point of view.

Third, too, MSC has experienced a time of outstanding scholars in their respective fields. Many are authors, critics, composers, TV teachers, and others who have received recognition from professional journals and have become effective leaders of their particular professional organizations. Of course, there are a few rotten apples in lesser excellence lead us to condemn our faculty as a whole.

In my travels around to colleges and universities, I have never known a book store where there was no problem with being able to purchase books at registration time. This is a perennial problem because it is a seasonal operation and the store cannot expand its personnel and facilities to meet the demand. Consequently there must be some incompatibility. Inflexibility in line is one of the dubious benefits of our modern society.

The Faculty-Student Cooperative, which is a corporation operating on the campus of the college, has been on the board student representatives. This cooperative has jurisdiction over the college store.

If there are any specific and practical suggestions to be made they can be addressed to the Board and will be given every sympathetic consideration. Student members of the Board will testify, I am sure, that every suggestion that comes in is considered carefully in light of current and pertinent conditions and the needs of the Book Store.

The matter of Book Store prices is one which needs to be studied with great care before drawing a conclusion. Unfortunately there have been made a number of times the prices of the Book Store have been increased because the College Book Store with other college book stores and considered the meeting place including contain.

Every time such comparisons have been made, the results indicate that the college business has lower prices on most items. Comparison on the basis of course. If the SGA would contact the administration of a committee to make another study this year it would be helpful to find out just what the present situation is.

Another interesting suggestion is that the Book Store in the future deal in anything but books or school supplies. Actually in the long run such a break from the general book store business because it is very expensive to maintain an extensive inventory. For instance, I have the entire college year when the Book Store is closed. Book handling is done in several weeks at the beginning of the fall term.

It is good management to have items which bring some income through the long months. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

Earhart's Interview
Marks Anniversary

The following interview was given by Amelia Earhart over twenty-eight years ago to a woman flier of yesteryear. Mrs. John J. Unkles, CA 4-1381.

"Feminine, perfect poise, charming manners, quiet, unassuming, charmingly, naturally pretty—Amelia Earhart is the woman flier of today.

Amelia Earhart chatted, but not of herself; even queries as to what she has done any other woman can do with some life, told me, "That's pretty much a matter of self expression. The first woman to do so, the first woman to do so."

Miss Earhart revealed. After ten hours of instruction this breaker was a matter of self expression. The first woman to do so, the first woman to do so.

Arnheiter Collapses; Alumni Run In Meet

The 74th Annual National AAI Track Championships were held at Moutclair Square Garden. Montclair was adequately represented with a total of 16 entries but some of the edge was taken off by the team effort as partition fans route.

Arnheiter Kees on Track
Lyle Arnheiter, bed-ridden with the flu for the past week, collapsed midway in the race and was unable to finish. At the time he was third—two steps behind the leader, Ronald Zinn, who eventually went on to a time of 1:57.5. West Point's Zinn was the only runner during the past two years to turn in a time faster than Arnheiter's 6:38 in this event. Fingers were crossed in the hope that Arnheiter would regain his old form, as he is one of Montclair's Olympic hopefuls.

Anne Marie, Grads Place
Anne Marie registered a time of 6:38 for the distance. This was only her fourth time on the boards this winter, and the part bruiticke expertise to continue her running when the outdoor season begins. Ron Kulisik, a graduate of Montclair, also participated for the Indians tracksters and placed 8th in the one-mile walk. The nation's best in the 440-yard dash, Suzanne Kost, the winner, who now holds our American record at 58.2, was only a couple of steps in front of the cute bruniticke from Sweden.

Capitano's '46' Leads Big Red
To 84-71 Win Over Southern

by Rick Hiler

A team played against a man last Monday when Montclair's Pete Capitano sparked the Indian into a 84-71 win over Southern Connecticut.

Turning in one of the season's most dazzling court performances, Capitano almost added another record to this collection. The crowd stood on its head during the final moments of the game. Capitano missed tying the court record of 47 points per game set by Curt Mank in 195-56. The Big Red tide hit for 44% of the shots, outpointing Southern Connecticut's effort of 41%.

Capitano lost the jump but so shot connected on either side for the first minute of play against the Mounties.
