Montclair Elects New Editorial Staff

The MONTCLAIRON has gone through a renaissance, not only in the realm of appearance and content but also in the realm of staff members. The new edition, a large majority of them sophomores, exemplify the new spirit and dedication that now prevails in the MONTCLAIRON offices.

The Editor-in-Chief, Lorraine H. Teller, a sophomore English major, graduated from Lakewood High School, Lakewood, N.J. While in high school, Lorraine was Editor-in-Chief of the school literary magazine. She also had a column entitled “From A Girl’s Point of View” in the school newspaper. Here at Montclair she was a member of Chi Lambda Psi, Co-Chairman for the Freshman Carnival booth, member of the Delta Theta Pi sorority, Headlines Editor and Assistant Editor of the Montclairon.

New Managing Editor
Managing Editor, Terence J. Heil, graduated from Hackensack High School, Hackensack, N.J. While in high school, Terence was a member of the school literary magazine. He also had a column entitled “The View From the Top” in the school newspaper. Here at Montclair he was a member of Chi Lambda Psi and member of the Student Union committee. At Montclair he is a member of the Newman Club.

New Make-up Editor
Features Editor Laola Dugan is a sophomore English major, from Plainfield, N.J. While in high school, she was Make-up Editor for the school yearbook and assistant Editor-in-Chief of the high school yearbook.

Sports Editor Al Wagner, a junior English major from Carteret, N.J., is an Air Force Veteran. While in the Air Force he saw service in seven countries and the other part of the United States. While in high school he served as Sports Editor of the school newspaper.

Women of Dalphae Present Greek Sing

The women of Dalphae worked and planned to present an entertaining program of music at the annual Greek Sing on Friday, December 4. However, their efforts were much in vain when the music director discovered the program’s content. As a result, that half the singing group had withdrawn from the show.

Six Groups Participate

What remained after the mass withdrawal was six groups — some talented, some courageous, who performed for a disappointed audience. Delta Sigma Chi’s offering, “After the Dance,” was presented as the First Place Sorority award.

Kappa Rho Upsilon presented a group of numbers, followed by Tau Sigma Delta’s “Lament of a Modern-Day Bridesmaid.” Delta Omicron P’s “I Have Known Better,” “Should Have Known Better,” “Love Him,” took the Second Place Sorority award. The honors for First Place Fraternity went to Lambda Chi Alpha, who performed on the theme “Destiny of Man.”

The competition was closed with the selections by the women of Theta Chi. The women offered “If I Fell,” “I Should Have Known Better,” and “I Love Him,” took the Third Place Sorority award.

Christmas Assembly

All classes were dismissed yesterday from 9:30-11:30 a.m. for the annual Christmas Assembly. The program, which featured the Christmas portion of Handel’s “Messiah,” was given in Memorial Auditorium. The College Choir sang under the direction of Dr. Dorothy Morrow and Russell Hayton, members of the Music Department. The orchestra was conducted by Dr. Arthur Christman. Solos were performed in the program by Benjamin Wilkes, tenor; Henry Falchheimer, bass; M. Janis Matlins, contralto; and Brenda Miller Cooper, soprano.

Dormitory Festivities

The dormitories were decorated and illuminated for Christmas. The Sophomore Class decorated the dormitory, and the Junior Class, Life Hall, was the first to be lit. Most of the dormitory lights remain on year-round. The women of Dalphae put on a Christmas party in Stone Hall yesterday evening, with the theme of “Starring in the Dormitory.”

The annual Christmas Ball was held last Friday evening at the Westmount Country Club in West Paterson. Both faculty members and students enjoyed the music of Maynard Ferguson and his band. Although Ferguson is best known for his jazz renditions, he also provided familiar dance music for the annual affair.

Present Christmas Decorations

The Christian Student Union is only eight days away. Dormitory activities are sponsoring a Christmas party in Stone Hall on Friday, December 4. The honors for First Place Sorority went to Lambda Chi Alpha, who performed on the theme “Destiny of Man.”

The competition was closed with the selections by the women of Theta Chi, who offered “If I Fell,” “I Should Have Known Better,” and “I Love Him,” which took the Third Place Sorority award.

Education Bills Are Approved In Trenton

Mr. H. S. Spoor, M.S., member of the Higher Education Committee of the New Jersey Education Association, has announced the approval of several education bills in Trenton.

On November 17, 1964, Governor Richard Hughes signed into law two education bills submitted by NJEA and other organizations which the Senate passed during the fall session of the Legislature.

The first bill signed by Governor Hughes relates to adult education. This bill authorizes two or more boards of education to combine and share educational programs, and to provide adequate educational programs for people of all ages. It also authorizes the payment for supervision of adult education, but not more than $12,000,000.

The second bill, which the Governor signed into law, permits vocational schools to receive matching aid as part of their educational programs.
It was long, until forgotten in the recent past, the custom of the MONTCLARION, at the time of the changing of editors, to give an account of itself—its history, to its present achievements (if any) and to set forth its resolve and purposes for the future. With its return to its first (and for a newspaper, the best and soundest) method of printing the gazette and genuine lead printing by press, the new staff proposes to restore the pleasant tradition of self-analysis, exegesis and apology. Because of the unhappy state into which once this proud paper has fallen of recent years, there is much to explain. Since editorial space is limited the account and the story will have to run through several issues.

The MONTCLARION—For at least the last three years has been in a parlous state. In format and appearance, it has not been the equal of any good high school paper, including our own "College High Crier." Whenever, during the press run, the "newspaper" arrives, eager hands and eager hearts come to our office as exchanges, those of the MONTCLARION staff capable of any aesthetic discrimination, have cringed in shame and chagrin at the patent inferiority of their own paper. (There have indeed been other faults than those of composition and form. We reserve consideration of them for future editorkid efforts.)

Why had the MONTCLARION, once so proud a sheet, fallen so low? There are several answers; there were several causes of the decline, all of which will ultimately be enumerated here. The as of now we wish to deal with the radiation malorum— the ill-advised lease-purchase of a Friden Justo-writer, a machine which proceeded like an RUR to put to death the entire staff into tiny boxes and cramped bondage. The contraption undoubtedly has its merits in its proper sphere, and as a toy it considers interesting, especially to angling of an art college or his college newspaper it is sadly deficient. Furthermore, it is so frail that the annual contract service charge (not including parts) is $55. Yet it was brought for transient undergraduate amateurs to operate!

When the present faculty adviser to the MONTCLARION was called into try to discover a way of bolstering the paper short of the way Othello used on Desdemona, he reports he found a situation worthy of the pen of Kafka, Kafka or George Orwell. An insatiable Frankenstein creation was in almost complete control of the some three or four (the staff was woefully depleted) undergraduates who were struggling manfully — and womanfully — for substitutes for professional copywriters, compositors and printers. At the same time they had to try to recruit a new staff, cover beats, and print the newspaper. And all the typists, striving to function as copywriters, were amateurs with heavy class schedules and full date books.

Meantime those responsible for the ill-advised procurement of this inadequate and bumptious engine were for the most part off campus, having left a legacy of bondage behind them. They had happily escaped with the possibility of disposal and future use of the Justo-writer or any part of it which could take much time and trouble to solve. Should one SGA board thus bind its successors into the unlimited future?

We hope you like your new MONTCLARION, which is a return to the old one, of which we were once proud. We hope you like our paper. There is a long way to go, but we think we are on the way. Merry Christmas.
Farrell Elected Vice-President

The 159,000-member Student National Association elected Warren Farrell to the position of national vice-president of the organization. This was the first time that Montclair State College was represented at this level, and Farrell, state president of N.J.'s Student National Association, was the only representative of N.J. in the national convention at the University of British Columbia, in Canada, and Seattle, Washington, where for two weeks a national meeting was held for national officers.

Computers Come To MSC Campus

The MONORBOT XI, a computer, about which an announcement was made at the Faculty executive meeting on November 23, is now being delivered to the College. It is presently located in room 102 of Finley Hall.

A typing course for the MONORBOT will be offered through the College's special education program under the direction of Mr. John E. Wagner, supervisor of special education for children with learning problems.

has ever had a national officer. This was the position of National Associate President of the organization, which has been vacant since 1963.

Farrell will be the only Easterner. As a result of being elected to this office, Warren has spoken at the national convention in Washington, where for two weeks the campaign ensued for the position of National Associate President of the organization, which has been vacant since 1963.

swiatwide conventions and helped to organize conventions all over the country. The meetings will be held on Wednesdays, December 16 at 3:00 p.m. in room 254, Mallory Hall.

Research is also needed to help people who are already born defective. A girl in Massachusetts was given life when the infant was born with an artificial limb, and a child in New Jersey must learn to live without a hand. A great deal can be helped through expert guidance, and the SGA has just co-authored a booklet entitled "Adjustments in the Home" which was published by the NEA in November.

In order to carry out the recommendations of the SGA, the Senate has passed a resolution to increase the membership of the Senate to include members of the Women's Dormitory Council, and girls living in the dorms.

The Montclair Montclarion welcomes back the students from the holidays and to those who are on campus for the first time, whether they be students or faculty members. It is hoped that many faculty members will avail themselves of the computers at their disposal.

Slateiner Plans Banquet Tonight

Sister Food Service has planned a Christmas Dinner for all students and faculty members, with meal tickets, to be held tonight in the cafeteria of the College Center.

Sister Food Service, foreseeing many difficulties in the year's Christmas Banquet for dorm students and off campus students, met with a food committee of students and Mr. Ray

The Christmas Dinner will begin at 8:30 in front of Russ Hall. At approximately 9:30 there will be a party for all dorm students who have participated in the Christmas Caroling.

Note: Dress for the banquet will be suitable for the holiday season, and no thought for more than a second will be given to the fulfillment.

Editors Note:

The Montclair welcomes independent reviews of any performances held on campus.

Protests "Haifat" Review

I am referring here to the review of the play, "Haifat." It is a powerful picture of a group of amateurs, non- professionals, who put in hours of practice and hours of study in order to perform which they believe hope their fellow students will enjoy. What then is the purpose of this venture to ribbons by a bigoted, power- wielding critic? A fellow student turned monster by the pen, perhaps.

I want to know if it is the proper Montclair response for the shows, dancers and games which are presented to them, or is it only this one writer and his group who believe they can attack what they want with words and demonstrate full lack of consideration for the opinions of the student body.

Will this continue to go on this way— an almost total destruction of every effort by the whole body are held. Each committee is assigned one general area in which it may propose resolutions. All delegates then meet in a series of plenary sessions in which resolutions planned in committees are discussed and voted upon. All delegates will stay at the Commodore Hotel and thus have an opportunity to engage in causing and sustaining the processes of the College. The whole meeting will be under the leadership of Bruce Brickman. Other members of the delegation will be David Will, Bill Bowyer, and Bob Copie.

Letters Continued

The International Relations Club has agreed to send a delegation of six to the annual Model General Assembly (MGA) to be held in New York City on March 4 to 6 and will dress accordingly. Every student who arrives at their training will receive a fresh fruit and dairy-free menu, and will be able to meet other groups of freshmen who have arrived from various parts of the country. The MGA is sponsored by the Harvard College, Secretary of the United Nations.

UN Essay Contest Offers Fully-paid European Trip

The Collegiate Council for the United Nations, CCUN, is awarding two fully-paid European trips to students who write the best essays on the subject of the role of women in the world. The competition is open to all students, regardless of major or year. To participate, students must submit an essay of 1,000 words or less on the role of women in the world. The essays will be judged on originality, creativity, and relevance to the theme. The winners will be announced in March, and the trip will take place in June. Students interested in participating should submit their essays to the CCUN office by February 1st. For more information, please visit the CCUN website or contact the office at 908-618-1234.
Toy Campaign
The Fraternal Order of Eagles recently sponsored a toy drive from December 7 to December 15. The drive will benefit the children of the Newark Public Schools with toys, which will be given to the mothers of New Jersey children in the Newark area. In the past, the Order has placed toys in a box, and distributed them to children throughout the city. The proceeds from the sale of toys will be distributed among all members of the order.

Bergman Film Forum
The "Virgin Spring," one of Ingmar Bergman's most acclaimed films, was shown in the Mahr Hall Amphitheater on December 1. The film is based on the novel by Selma Lagerlof, and is a tale of a young peasant girl who is seduced by a local priest. The film was presented in a special screening, and was followed by a discussion and coffee hour. The forum is open to the public, and is sponsored by the MSC Protestant Foundation.

Players Tryouts
Dr. Clyde McElroy of the Speech Department said that the tryouts for the second play were a tremendous success. The tryouts were held in the reserve room of the Memorial Auditorium from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m. Try-outs will be held on January 5, 6, 7, and 8 in the Speech Department. The plays presented and their directors were: "The Heiress," Diane Panpollo; "Just Women," Vermont (four years), and the Bill Korton; "The Skin Of Our Teeth," Judi Balmi; "Farewell," Dolora Potocki; "Long Day's Journey into Night," Muriel Debutante; "Madame Bovary," Rayzelle; "A Marriage Proposal," Adelia Rancourt, Supperwoman; "Sue Berkowitz," Tony Barretts; "The Skin of Our Teeth," and "She's Not Talking," directed by John Smith, and will be presented today.

Dr. Mehofter's Talk
Dr. Mehofter is a member of the Executive Committee of the Adolphus House, and was instrumental in bringing about a number of the programs that are now being conducted by the House. He is a member of the American Medical Association, the American Psychiatric Association, the American Psychological Association, the American Public Health Association, and the American Association of Retarded Children.

Concert Benefits
On December 9, the Omicron Chapter of Phi Sigma Theta hosted the International Fraternity of Fraternal Aid, held their annual benefit concert and bazaar. The benefit was held in the College Auditorium from 8:00 to 10:00 p.m. Ticketed, pre-school classes, sheltered workshops, and various other activities were available to the public. The proceeds from the concert will be used for the support of a clinic for the retarded, pre-school classes, sheltered workshops, and various other activities. The concert was held in conjunction with the Fraternity of Fraternal Aid's national convention, and was open to the public.

Montclair State Fraternities To Aid Children's Campaign
The fraternities of Montclair State College participated in the 1964 Retarded Children's Campaign during the month of December. Alvin Frank Jackson, Jr., president of the Montclair Junior Bar Association, and chairman of the 1964 Retarded Children's Committee, organized the activities. The committee included senators, faculty, and students.

Concert Benefits
Choral Groups
The Music Organizations of Montclair State College, including the College Orchestra, performed an evening of music to benefit the Christmas Fund. The program included works by Mozart, Schubert, and other composers.

Montclair State College Fraternities
Many of the Montclair State College fraternities participated in the 1964 Retarded Children's Campaign during the month of December. The fraternities included Phi Sigma Theta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Phi Delta Theta. The campaign included a variety of activities, such as a benefit concert, a sale of items, and a donation drive.

Education Bills
The Federal Education Bill of 1964, known as the "Higher Education Amendments," was introduced in Congress. The bill included provisions for the expansion of higher education programs, including grants for college and university expansion, scholarships for needy students, and increased funding for research and development.

Concert Benefits
The Music Organizations of Montclair State College, including the College Orchestra, performed a benefit concert to aid the Christmas Fund. The program included works by Mozart, Schubert, and other composers.

MAC BANQUET

The Men’s Athletic Commission of Montclair State College held its annual fall sports banquet on December 1, 1964. In the Grace Freeman Dinner Hall. The purpose of the banquet was to honor the coaches and members of the varsity and junior-varsity football, soccer, and cross country teams. Most of the speeches were devoted to the undefeated football squad.

Special Awards

Special awards were presented to several of the athletes who made outstanding contributions to their teams and to sports at Montclair State. The most valuable player in the football season was certified with the Moose Wunderlich Award that year. Ron Zerman was given the most valuable back award. Only a junior, Ron will return next year to improve upon his performance. In addition to these awards, both Ron and Al, along with senior Mike Duskin, were elected to first-team positions on the mid-Atlantic states team for the Board of Intercollegiate Athletics. In his work at defensive halfback, Mike Duskin, and Al for offensive center and defensive linebacker.

The players were not the only ones to receive awards. Dr. Gerard Edwards, head football coach, was named “Coach of the Year” in the mid-Atlantic states by the Board of Intercollegiate Athletics of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Wrestling

With Two Victories, Two Defeats

The Montclair State varsity basketball team has inaugurated the 1964-1965 season with two victories in four games. The Indians can attribute its success so far to the coaching staffs of both teams. The first game against a stubborn Albany State team was lost with an impressive 77-71 victory. The Montclair State basketball team has scored 22 points, with Bob Gleason’s 20 points, and Tony Minn 14 points. The second game was a close 70-67 victory over Penn State and the Coast Guard Academy. With this victory the Blue Devils are now 2-1 in the conference.

Intramurals

The Intramural Basketball Program will start on Monday January 4, 1965 at 4:30 PM, as announced by Mr. Henry E. Schmidt, Director of Athletics.

Any student-employee or member of the consultant: society is welcome to participate. A squad should not exceed 16 players. This Intramural Program is open to all male students of the College and Physical Education Majors with a scholarship credit.

Following is the schedule of dates for the Intramural Basketball Program.

Montclair State College adds to its achievement with a big victory over the Indians with a score of 80-70. Although Jameson led the team with 23 points, Bob Gleason followed with 20 points. Tony Minn 14 points and Bob Coughlin 16 points.

The team looked especially good in the coming minutes of the first half when they ran off 10 points to Tristain’s 2 and led 40-31. The rest of the game it was all MSC except for a brief Trenton rally.

Glassboro State College added another loss to MSC’s record defeating the Indian five 78-67 in the last 55 seconds. Four of the leaders lost on offense, but Bob Gleason 18 points, Tony Minn 14 points and Bob Coughlin 16 points.

With the addition of former All-American Ron Deenick a husky 4’11” to the squad for the first time, plus the services of Gil Young 5’7”, who will be available after January 1st, the Indians should not be just a good team but a top-notch one.
