PHI LAMBDA PI TO SPONSOR CAMPUS QUEEN CONTEST

Since 1946 the Men Of Phi Lambda Pi have sponsored an annual beauty pageant contest for the selection of a campus queen. The event is designed to create a fashionable show enabling the student body to choose ten semi-finalists and the men of the campus to select the queen in a poll.

This year the Men of Phi have undergone a drastic change in the contest concept requiring an unnecessary and burdensome expenditure.

In the background, however, was the racial factor.

TIME ESSAY:

THE FUTURIST: Looking Toward A.D. 2000

Technology has advanced more rapidly in the past 50 years than in the previous 5,000. Men in business, government, education and science are in hot agreement that unless we can keep ahead just to keep abreast, we must learn to survive under totally different conditions. In the future, we shall learn to live in a world where some people talk themselves, are well aware of past failures. Soon after World War II, top futurists like J. B. McNeely of the Brookings Institute, and Parke H. Davis of the LLBean’s Research Department, noted the dictum of ansicly to our intercontinental ballistic missile, and as late as 1966, Brit- Telecommunications, say it is possible to travel “after the fact.” In futurist parlance, “the future is the present’s least familiar past.” The computer will be called the “intellect,” the futures predict an era of almost limitless change.

New Skill and Time

The exploration of the future has become a stable business. General Electric has set up Tempo (Technical Management Planning Organization) in Santa Barbara, where 200 physical scient- ists, sociologists, economists and engineers contemplate the future. The annual budget is $7,500,000, a year. The Air Force, at Wright-Patterson AFB, conducts studies of the whole picture of scientific development, al- though as yet no one knows what effect Santa Monica’s Rand Corp. is thinking about. The RAND Corporation has a think tank that monitors the progress of atomic power. The nonprofit Hudson Institute investigates business, science and defense problems. At the University of Pittsburgh, the Department of Atomic Energy and the Atomic Energy Commission are working on atomic power. At the Rand Corp., which was founded by Enrico Fermi and August H. Comstock, the study of the future is in the present. The Public Relations of the Future, 1971, is a book that discusses the future of the computer. The book was written by John A. D. Beresford, a futurist who has studied the future for many years. The book was published by the Rand Corp. in 1971.

People and Weath er

By A.D. 2000, the U.S. popula- tion is expected to reach about 300 million, and nine out of ten Americans will be living in up- per-middle-class or upper-class houses. The cities, like industry, will tend to decentralize; with instant communications, it will no longer be necessary for businesses, entrepre- neurs to cluster together. Futurist Marshall McLuhan even speculates that a day may come when people will stay at home, de- dicated to entertaining a national- and even a worldwide-telecommunications market.

None of the forecasters seem to have foreseen the future of the traffic problem, though they do discuss automated, and pos- sibly underground, highways. Intellect and other people predict that both the wheel and the highway will be obsolete, giving way to flying cars. Today’s planes carrying 1,000 passengers will be traded for a rocket that can reach any part of the earth in 40 minutes. Dr. Rand’s Delphi study, 82 scientists agreed that a permanent lunar base will have been established long before A.D. 2000 and that man will visit Mars by 2030.

Macaluso, Adams, Buchner

Discuss Organized Religion

At a meeting Tuesday, February 21, in Millard Hall Auditorium, the Interfaith Council of Montclair State College held a discussion on "The Future of Western Civilization: Organized Religion?" Mr. Peter Macaluso, Mr. Adams, and Dr. Leonard Barter were guest speakers who led the discussion. Moderator of the proceedings was Leonard Sciascia, Mr. Macaluso cited that he saw the problem as one of "break- throughs of communication" between organized religion, the world, and "the churches..." An elder of the Three Stars was Leonard Sciascia.

The public question is: "Can a Christian, a Jew, or a Moslem have a share in the communication of the church?" Mr. Macaluso discussed the problem as "fraternity in God, or the problem of God's communication with the church."

James B. Sansone, a mathematics teacher at Wallingford High School, has evolved a plan for utilizing teachers to help win the Presidential Election this fall. Teachers will be using the weapon which he can handle best — education.

This program, which will send 150 teachers to Viet Nam this fall, will be called "The American College Education Program" and the teachers will be using programs that can be used by the people of Viet Nam to help them understand, appreciate and respect their new government. The program is based on the belief that if the Viet Nam people can understand our way of life and the American way of life, they will be more likely to accept our help and our technology.

The program will be called "The American College Education Program" and will be carried out by the U.S. government. The program will be run by the American College Education Program Board, which will be composed of American educators, military personnel, and government officials. The program will be carried out in cooperation with the U.S. government and the Viet Nam government.

There are other problems con- necting the veterans in personal- and financial areas. D.e.a.n Wallen commented, "while the veterans are generally more mature and able to take care of themselves, they often have more problems than younger students."

There will be a higher p.r.c. of married students among veterans, and many are likely to have dependents, such as spouses and children. Veterans are more likely to be on welfare, and many are likely to be on welfare. Many veterans have no social security benefits from the government, and many veterans have no social security benefits from the government.

Veterans are more likely to be on welfare, and many are likely to be on welfare. Many veterans have no social security benefits from the government, and many veterans have no social security benefits from the government.

According to Sansone, there are about 600,000 refugees in Viet Nam. It is expected that the U.S. government will send about 500,000 refugees to its camps throughout the country. They will remain there for a period of three months.

The intended approach will 1) emphasize the basic "three Rs" as well as economics, civics, and history.

Sanseone has stated that, "We have learned in Viet Nam that the refugees are a people that live in peace, and that they have a strong sense of determination modeled after our own democracy. Only through our understanding of their needs and aspirations can these people help themselves. We are not going to sit back and watch these things happen. We are going to win the peace."

Findar Addresses Newman Members

On February 15, the Reverend and Founding President of Seton Hall University, Dr. Joseph L. Bette, addressed Newman Members on the topic of "Modem Communications and the Church." Federal Government officials were present on the parochial school system to discuss the future of education and the role of government in education. Newman Members were also present.

Also, at this meeting, applica- tions were made available to those interested in the Newman Club. The elections will take place on March 17.

The Foreign Language Department will offer a Tour of French Provence for a week in Paris and a week in Provence above the regular course program. This tour will be open to undergraduates and graduate students for a total of six semester hours, to be counted as electives for majors in Language, Arts, Music, English, etc. Two scholarships covering the cost of the Transatlantic trip to and from New York City will be available.

The cost of the tour will be $600 including the week in Paris.

The tour will take the participant through such picturesque spots as the Chateauroux Country, Brittany, and Normandy. Highlites of the tour will include visits to some of the battlefields of World War I and World War II, sightseeing on route along the Rhine and in Switzerland with an optional ascent to the Jungfrau in the evening of musical enjoyment. Italian, Spanish, French and Zambrana’s voice effortlessly ranged over a wide gamut of German composers’ for the benefit of state LICENSED INSTRUCTIONAL FACULTY MEMBERS.

A stay of one week in Paris will cap the tour of French provinces. This week will be spent in the Foreign Language Department, displayed once more a well-known artist. The three Indians recently instructed—Dr. N. M. Hasee, the head of Commerce at Aligarh College; Mr. S. R. Khan, lecturer in commerce at Attock College; and Mr. M. R. Nadeem, lecturer in commerce at University College—visited Dr. Freeman at his office. The three Indians came to the United States through AID, having been selected for their potential contributions to the nation's educational programs. The three Indians were chosen by AID from among 4,000 college students from 40 countries who were eligible for the program. The three Indians were chosen for their potential contributions to the nation's educational programs.

On the other hand, the four regional colleges training programs in India, which are currently working in tandem with AID, are being used to train Indian educators in technology and agriculture, and a similar program is being used to train Indian educators in the United States.

One of the most important aspects of the AID program is the provision of technical assistance to the nation's educational programs. The four regional colleges have been instrumental in providing technical assistance to the nation's educational programs.

Dr. Freeman, the director of the AID program, is an expert in the field of educational programs. He has worked for several years on international education programs, and has been instrumental in the development of the AID program in India.

The AID program is a crucial part of the nation's educational programs, and it is expected to continue to play an important role in the future.
Spring Arrival - SGA Elections

Spring is slowly making its way to Montclair State College. The birds are again appearing for a difficult job well done; the green and the date for SGA elections has been set.

First, we must extend our sympathy to the candidates with letters in this issue of The Montclarion; we would hope that others who intend to run will use this means of consolation.

It is important that those who seek any of the positions on the executive board of the SGA realize the responsibility of this position. The people must play a part in representing the college is one of utmost importance, and we believe that the elections should run by the student body and not by the selection of the faculty. Let's hope that when the time comes, Rutgers will be able to handle the job.

Ave Atque Vale

Due to the ground, we have long realized that our bookstore was in upheaval. It has been a disaster, and we have no reason to believe that it will ever be returned to its former state. Let's hope that the bookstore will be able to recover from this setback.

Governor Hughes in announcing his 50 million dollar college construction program has created the usual problem of higher education in New Jersey. Our low rank in state educational support has been highlighted by this urgent need. It is important for us to compare the amount of money we spend on Rutgers, which is about $925,500, which has been appropriated by the state.

However the important point to consider is the $2 million which Montclair State College will receive. We are not able to show any appropriations. It is important for us to realize that the $2 million is the lowest sum allotted in comparison to the $135 million which Trenton State will receive or even the $2.4 million New Jersey College will receive. It is fair to note that we exceed Trenton State by 400 students and that half the amount of classroom buildings. Trenton will receive a new library, a new classroom building, and an addition. Trenton has a larger amount of classroom buildings, but we will receive a new classroom building and a vocational education building. It is true that in the 1964 Bond Issue, we received funds for two buildings and two additions—two of them to be the heating plant; while Trenton received only one building. He who sees the dorm space still exceeds ours and that class­room space for Trenton is a precaution. It is the comparative beauty of Trenton's dormitories and campus.

We could continue to illustrate that obvious thing but disgraceful in such a state educational support. We could continue to tell the full story of Montclair State College during 1931-1965.

We could continue to illustrate that obvious thing but disgraceful in such a state educational support. We could continue to illustrate that obvious thing but disgraceful in such a state educational support. To the Editor:

Monday, February 14, 1966
Valentine's Day, the S.H. P. more Class attended a required assembly. An announcement by Senator Clifford P. Case caused a program to be extended beyond the allotted time. An announcement had been made previous to his arrival that twelve o'clock classes would be cancelled if the Senator's program continued into the following class period. It did.

After the assembly many did not attend twelve o'clock classes under the assumption that they had been cancelled as announced. Many students felt that the auditorium before a second assembly had been made reversing the previous one.

Therefore, a misunderstanding among instructors and students. At the next meeting of these classes the students were informed that they had been released.

"Is this the Montclair way?" Lack of communication.

Yours truly,

To the Editor:

The time has arrived to examine how and why we are spending money on our campus activities. Each semester the Student Government budget is presented to the Student Body. Recently in close contact with the Senator, I would like to announce the feasibility study to evaluate one organization of this, I would like to announce the feasibility study to evaluate one organization of this.

I have suggested a program where the call was relayed to the Student Body.

To the Editor:

The time has finally arrived for decisions to be made concerning the upcoming SGA elections. I, for one, have made my decision; I shall be a candidate for the presidency. My activities on the campus include the Student Government representative, assistant to M.A.C. and I am also a member of the Stone Hall Dorm Council, and I believe that I am an off-campus resident, a commuter and now a resident of dorm.

At the present time my major is in Social Studies and I am looking forward to an upcoming campaign and would appreciate the support of you, the Student Body.

Respectfully,
Drew Stevens

To the Editor:

The Class of 1968 sponsored an assembly at which Senator Clifford P. Case spoke. He had been in contact with the Senator since November, when we received a phone call from Washington in reply to a letter we had sent. (At that time I was attending Camp Wappanasset, where the Senator was vacationing.) For three months we worked on the preparation for this appearance. At the first Senator was vacationing at home in December, but he decided it necessary to wait until Congress reconvened. By the time before he could set a definite date.

At the next meeting the Senator main times to make arrangements for this program. The Senator decided that the format of the program would be one of questions and answers. He would answer a Miss Nathanson's charge, which appeared on the front page of the MONTCLARION, that we had no chairman; this was decided by the Senator. I have not seen a Government official on television operating giggle throughout the country, that has been chairman. This would only serve to slow down the program. The Senator wished that the student body directly and not through the Social Studies Department. I am looking forward to an upcoming campaign and would appreciate the support of you, the Student Body.

Respectfully,
Charlotte Drew

To the Editor:

The importance of one organization is truly concerned with the potentially critical world issues of the future.

How many Americans, who are aware of the critical world situations, spend time on their Activity Fee.

It's Your SGA

Each semester the Student Government budget is presented to the Legislature for its approval. As well as possible, the budget is prepared by the interests and those who work on their Activity Fee.

The time has come to examine how and why we are spending money. We are also faced with the problem of the future of the Activity Fee with the already organized organizations. The legislators are meeting the "Voice of Montclair," as accepted by the Student Government, and immediately places this organization in a position to receive a direct appropriation from the Activity Fee.

Realignment of the budget to accommodate the new groups is not good. Each organization will be evaluating increased budgets as they wish to expand their program.

Although, we have in our country are often not really appreciated until we are separated from them by distance or time.

Fine programs in art, music and drama are offered frequently and the quality of some of these products are truly concern with the potentially critical world issues of the future.

How many Americans, who are aware of the critical world situations, spend time on their Activity Fee.

The editors request that students, who submit letters to the MONTCLARION kindly limit their words to 200 and submit them typed, double spaced.

It's Your SGA

Each semester the Student Government budget is presented to the Legislature for its approval. As well as possible, the budget is prepared by the interests and those who work on their Activity Fee.

The time has come to examine how and why we are spending money. We are also faced with the problem of the future of the Activity Fee with the already organized organizations. The legislators are meeting the "Voice of Montclair," as accepted by the Student Government, and immediately places this organization in a position to receive a direct appropriation from the Activity Fee.

Realignment of the budget to accommodate the new groups is not good. Each organization will be evaluating increased budgets as they wish to expand their program.

Letters To The Editor

(Continued from page 7) up the request was not received. Mr. Leo has suggested that Joe Kline, sophomore class president, send letters to the responsible persons hoping that the situation could be rectified for future lectures.

Miss Nathanson speaks of the casualness of his exit. Is there more than one way for a Senator to thank an audience and to make his exit from a stage?

According to the article, "These situations must be rectified before the arrival of Harrison Williams, and seating difficulties and lateness must be anticipated." The auditorium was filled to capacity. All the seats were taken, and extra students sat in the aisles. This made a favorable impression on the Senator. Also, President Richardson was in complete agreement with this situation, and he too, like the Senator was pleased.

The Senator's lateness was something that we knew was possible. We could not however advertise the Senator's appearance as being (between eleven and twelve). The Senator said he would be here at eleven and he offered his thoughts about the student assembly. He said every detail was looked after with an almost professional eye. He was pleased to see so many students, enlightened with the way the questions were asked and the type of questions asked and just generally glad that you asked him to come to Montclair and that he would work it out. The Senator is particularly grateful to you because you know you were largely responsible for the well-planned program.

Let me add my thanks to the Senator for the way you handled everything in connection with his visit. He enjoyed it immensely and I gather it went very well indeed.

FUTURISTS

(Continued from page 6) in Huxley's Brave New World. But most futurists believe that a work will still be the only way to gain responsibility and power.

Fear & Bliss

Social and political changes are far harder to forecast than technological ones. Futurists are currently considering all kinds of worries: the possible failure of underdeveloped countries to catch up with the dazzling future, the threat of war, the Today's "New Left" predicts the demise of a system of the world that do something for the better.

Srauge Library

Now Open on Sun.

The library will be open on Sunday evenings from 6 to 10 beginning Sunday, February 20. This arrangement is a result of consultation among Dr. Richardson, Mr. Calabrese, and the SGA committee headed by Murray S. Wagoner. The services offered on Sunday will be more limited than those offered during the school week. The Sunday use of the library will include availability of the Reading Room, regular circulation of books, and use of the Zeros copier. No reference service will be available.

Shadel To Conduct Symphonic Concert

Spring will be ushered in with the Montclair State College Symphonic Band concert on Wednesday, March 16, 8:30 p.m., in Memorial Auditorium. Under the baton of Mr. Shadel, the program will offer representative works from the Baroque, Classic, and Contemporary periods.

The fifty members of the band, many of them non-music majors, will play "Toccata" by Fresco-Bahls and arranged by A. Salier; a contemporary twelve tone work entitled "Sunrise" by Hall Smith; "Handel in the Strand" by Perry Granger; "Voices Boho" by Clare Grundman; and "Excerpts from Subaltern Ballet" by Menotti. For the finale, the band will render "Highlights from Golden Boy," the Broadway musical starring Sunny Deeve, Jr.

Gary Guaia, a freshman cornet major, will solo in a Hubert Trumpet Concerto. Described as a "very fine" player, Gary was president of the Fairfield High School band and a member of the All North Jersey Band and a member of the All State Band. Admission to the concert is free with identification cards for all college students, faculty, and staff, and there is a charge of $1.25.

Well, Cassius Clay has become eligible for the draft, but one can be very skeptical as to whether or not Clay will ever be pulled in. He’s gotten a lawyer to protest the action and has made some unpatriotic remarks. It seems that Clay feels that, if his lawyer can keep him out of the Army, his mouth will be the greatest inducement he can make for a fight. I wonder whether or not John Joe’s induction would be deferred until he could get his Ph.D., but it would seem doubtful.

This brings up the controversial question of the drafting of professional athletes, which points out another, well-known case—Joe Namath’s 43rd status. Uncle Sam says that they can’t afford to have four players around whenever Namath would move, and that the record is 43 in a row. However, State was on the college team free throw crown. The professional athletes have more opportunities to earn a living or has made a name for himself should be only too happy to defend this country. He’s up to the top atomic scientist lives in the Soviet Union. It’s up to them, and men like them, to help make sure that these opportunities are here for a long time to come.

MOC ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The Music Organizations Commission conducted an election at a meeting held on Fri., February 28, 1968 in the Music Library. The newly elected officers are Bruce Deisinger, manager, representing the Symphony Band; Karen Jo Bennet, treasurer, representing the orchestra; Mar­­vin Money, secretary, representing the Concert Band; Mrs. Car­­oline Card, liaison officer, also representing the Concert Choir; and Clair Murphy, public­ity, representing the College Choir. Mr. Louis E. Zerbe is the faculty chairman of the Com­­mission. These officers will hold office until next February.

The Music Organizations Commission (MOC) is designed to provide for its members the practical experience necessary to organize and present effective programming. The Commission strives to offer opportunities in the faculty and student body an adequate number of concerts and performances throughout the year. The range of programs is chosen with the interests of the student body in mind.
Indians Close Season; Win 12 Games, Lose 14

The Montclair State Indian basketball season was a success in 1965-66, compiled a 9-3 record although the Big Reds were outclassed 81-59 in the last home game of the year.

The Glassboro State College "Red and White" fought their way to the N.C.A.A. small college tournament, the Big Reds were always in control, but the New Jersey City varsity squad was a tough opponent.

The "Red and White" fought hard in the Met Championship in the 191 lb. class. The most improved player of the season for the Glassboro Indians was Pete Jerauld.

The Montclair State Junior Varsity squad, coached by Paul Komives, compiled a 9-3 record although the team was outclassed 81-59 in the last home game of the year.

Coach Dave Watkins' squad compiled a 9-3 record although the team was outclassed 81-59 in the last home game of the year.

To any kid who'd like to go somewhere:

We’ll pay half your fare.

The idea’s not as crazy as it may seem. Anytime we take a jet up, there are almost always leftover seats. So it occurred to us that we might be able to fill a few of them, if we gave the young people a break on the fare, and a chance to see the country.

The American Youth Plan*

We call the idea the American Youth Plan, and what it means is this: American will pay half the jet coach fare for anybody 12 through 21. It’s that simple.

All you have to do is prove your age (a birth certificate or any other legal document will do) and buy a $3 identification card.

We date and stamp the card, and this entitles you to a half-fare ticket at any American Airlines counter.

The only catch is that you might have to wait before you get aboard; the fare is on a standby basis.

“Standby” simply means that the passengers with reservations and the service must get on before you do.

Then the plane’s yours.

The American Youth Plan is good year round except for a few days before and after the Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas rushes.

If you can’t think of any places you’d like to go offhand, you might see a travel agent for a few suggestions.

We can’t add anything else. Other than it’s a marvelous opportunity to just take off.

Complete this coupon—include your $3. (Do not send proof of age—it is not needed until you have your ID validated.) In addition to your ID card, we’ll also send you a free copy of AA's Go Go American with $50 worth of discount coupons.
