Cut Policy Question is On Ballot

Referendum Seeks Moratorium Opinions

By Don Pendley
News Editor

Student opinion on the Vietnam moratorium and the pedestrian mall are some of the questions on the referendum to be presented to the MSC student body starting tomorrow.

The referendum, to be held in the Memorial auditorium lobby beginning at 9 a.m., will also include questions about constitutional amendments, articles of incorporation amendments, and the cut policy.

The Vietnam moratorium question will ask for student beliefs on MSC's position on the December and future moratoriums. Students will be asked to approve one of seven policies, ranging from "regular college sessions to be held with no reaction or to recognition of the moratorium" to "all regular college activities canceled."

Five sections compose the pedestrian mall question. Abolishment of the mall and opening of the mall at night are two of the questions to be voted upon.

The cut policy, as stated by the administration, leaves most of the determination of the cut policy up to the individual professor. The question asks students if they would prefer unlimited cuts, the present policy, one cut per semester hour, or an explanation by the professor of his cut policy at the beginning of the semester.

The articles of incorporation were originally adopted in 1934 and students will vote tomorrow on a revision. The main points in the revision are:

- The (Student Government) association shall be subject only to the authority of the president of Montclair State College in those matters which are within the responsibility of the president.
- The president of Montclair State College shall have the right and responsibility to interfere in any action by the student government which considered to be illegal under the laws of the municipal, state or local governments.
- The (SGA) corporation shall not have the right to interfere in those constitutionally-guaranteed rights to freedom of the press.
- The corporation shall not engage in carrying out propaganda or otherwise attempting to influence legislation.
- The question dealing with the SGA Constitution changes involve a maximum number of representatives in the Legislature and the establishment of two new vice-presidential posts, the vice-president of academic affairs and the vice-president of external affairs.

HOPE FOR U.S.

"The U.S. was only invited in Vietnam by our own puppets," stated Dr. Benjamin Spock as he flashed away at American policy and called U.S. leadership "immoral" and "illegal." Spock, prominent child psychologist, went on to say that inferior education, poverty and racial discrimination in America are rampant throughout America. In his lecture entitled "Dissent and Social Change," last Tuesday, Spock called for "increasing militancy in our dissent" and added that "the only hope for America is that the young people have the courage and ideals to change." — Mike Traylor.
We’re Glad, But…

The Student Government Association wants to hear student opinion. Consequently, tomorrow’s referendum will include questions on the nationwide moratorium against the war in Vietnam, the campus cut policy, the pedestrian mall, the amendments to the SGA constitution and articles of incorporation.

We’re glad that SGA is ready to evaluate campus opinion of the moratorium. But we regret that no action will be taken by the SGA on these opinions. Unfortunately, SGA as a group cannot legally endorse any student recommendations which deal with this politically-oriented event. The most that SGA can do is present the results as the opinions of those students who participated in the referendum.

Four choices of a recommended campus cut policy are also on the ballot. We support the recommendation for unlimited cuts, and we think that the majority of students will agree with us. The next step is for this recommendation to appear before the faculty, administrative and coordinating council of Montclair.

Since Vincent Calabrese, vice-president of business and finance, has stated that student opinion could determine the future of the pedestrian mall, five questions will appear on the ballot concerning the future status of the mall. Calabrese has already stated that the maintenance department has found easy access to upper campus facilities due to the roadblock. However, since no permanent guard is stationed at the chain, outside deliveries are not accommodated as easily.

The creation of the two new vice-presidential positions within the SGA will delegate some poorly needed responsibilities which go beyond the realm of Montclair State College. We especially approve of the creation of the post of vice-president of external affairs who will coordinate all local, state, national and international affairs which involve SGA.

Regarding the revision of the articles of incorporation, we feel that SGA is taking too much power upon itself. We fear that hasty and incompetent decisions can be made. We feel that SGA has not only the opportunity but also the obligation to influence policy whenever it is appropriate.

President Doucette is optimistic that SGA can take a stand on the moratorium. However, since no permanent guard is stationed at the chain, the majority of students will agree with us.

To the Editor:

Some Americans prefer to see the Nov. 15 gathering in Washington as a subversive act. Instead, it should be viewed as a profound demonstration of faith in the democratic process. Several hundred thousand students gave millions of man hours, spent millions of dollars and traveled millions of miles to exercise their constitutional right “peaceably to assemble and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.”

In this way, students publicized their belief that elected leaders are responsive to the voice of the people.

If officeholders, particularly members of Congress, subject to reelection next year, are wise, they will listen to what college students have to say instead of regarding the demonstrators as errant children. These young people are brave enough to proclaim what many of their elders are too timid to say: “Our Vietnam policy is bankrupt.”

Victory in Vietnam can be achieved only by a flexible total understanding. However, I would rather see them happen. On stage we were watching mere amateurs. Their performance conveyed all the sensations one would expect. Congratulations to every character of the play.

SGA’s ‘No Comment’ Provokes Questions

Doucette Says Legislature Can Be Influenced

by Patrick M. Romanisti

Staff Reporter

After issuing a statement of “no comment” concerning the moratorium policy of Montclair State College, Chancellor’s Student Government Association’s effectiveness as a policymaking organization was once again questioned.

However, according to Greg Doucette, vice-president of SGA: “The associations are not a policy-making organization. The moratorium policy had to be decided by the Board of Trustees.”

Doucette explained that the actual agreement reached at the SGA meeting was that individual choice should govern the decision of students in participating or not participating in the protest. “They [SGA] made a statement to that effect,” he said.

“If the student membership does not influence actual policy, it can influence the decisions of the Board of Trustees,” he stated. “We have a Board of Trustees that is responsive to what we say.”

Explained Calabrese: “SGA has only the opportunity but also the obligation to influence policy whenever it is appropriate.”

REFLECT OPINION

Concerning the failure of the SGA to take a position on the moratorium, Doucette stated: “I think the Legislature fell down. The 38 representatives should know and reflect what student opinion is concerning such important issues as the moratorium. Some do and some don’t.”

The disappointments which arose from the moratorium decision provided what Doucette termed a “new beginning” for SGA. The meeting which followed the moratorium, he said: “was a time for soul-searching and much fine discussion which brought to light the fact that we must get back into gear.” He continued, “there is a good deal of power that we could have.”

Concerning the setup of SGA Doucette stated: “In an ideal world the operation of SGA in the legislature would be 38 barometers measuring opinion. However, I was rather convinced that representative democracy works, but it is the best we have right now. I think that the ideal legislators would be a constituencies of a mind of its own.”

PART TIME OPERATION

Attached to the nameplate on Doucette’s desk was a button reading, “I could do better if….” That “if,” he added, represents many problems. In spite of the fact that “we are provided with a fulltime secretary to take messages and type, we are hampered because we are a part of the college.”

To explain the breakdown which occurred during the moratorium debate at Montclair State College, we are going through growing pains.

The college is changing around us and we must change within the college.

He added: “An effort will be made to learn student opinion in important areas through a referendum. We want to keep SGA relevant.”

No ‘Amateurs’ In Production

To The Editor: The production of a play is going to be evaluated by the talent of its performers, I believe that a critic need not mention that Montclair State College is going to be evaluated by the performance powers and directness, the skills of the performers. Their performance conveyed all the sensations one would expect. Congratulations to every character of the play.

CUT POLICY: THE CONTROVERSIAL ISSUE

Prof Opinions Range from 'No Cuts' to 'No Policy'

By Roberta Kuehl
New Editor

Since students will be voting on a cut policy in this week's SGA referendum, the MONTCLAIRian has presented the results of actual faculty cut policies.

Mr. Michael X. Fricic of the English department believes there should be no cuts. "If there are cuts for students, there should also be cuts for teachers. If I miss a class, then all the students deserve one cut. If there is an exorbitant amount of cuts, say, 10-15, that of necessity would affect the student's mark because he would miss tests and papers and other requirements of the course. However, if reading the text is the main point of the course, attendance isn't that important."

Mr. Thomas Carroll, also of the English department, stated: "In large classes it's somewhat impossible to keep attendance. They have to be in class to develop their skills."

A more liberal policy was proposed by Mr. William Nye of the sociology department. "I believe in unlimited cuts. Classes are long enough to begin with. You can't force people to learn things."

A member of the math department, Mr. Thomas Carroll, mentioned his position on cuts. "I permit the student to come and go as he pleases. However, when it comes to the final analysis of grades, and a student has missed more than one-third of the classes, I make no attempt to raise his grade or be of help. If someone were absent for two weeks in a row, I would assume there's a reason. If a student has trouble, I'll help him."

Dr. Richard Barker, who teaches European history, has an "unlimited" cut policy. "I do make out an elaborate seating chart, but it's mainly to learn names, not to take attendance. If you can make the class worthwhile enough, then you have no problem with attendance. I have no problem with people coming to class as they please."

A member of the history department, Mr. Robert Beckwith, commented: "I don't take attendance and I hope I notice if people aren't there excessively."

The survey, resulting from a faculty meeting, was composed by a committee of undergraduates, graduates, and professors from the psychology department, according to Terry B. Lee, SGA psychology department member. Thirty randomly selected classes approximately 700 students participated in the random survey.

"You can do a valid survey with 50 students if you pick them randomly," Lee said. "But I think certain faculty members felt the student body would not accept a survey using that many people."

Stating that the survey did not have SGA authorization, Kenneth Traynor, SGA president, said that body would look at the results "objectively." However, though he thought it was "great," a "true picture" of student opinion.

Lorraine Leitgeb, chairman of the cut system committee said in Life Hall last Wednesday: "The function of the committee is to get support of the student body for cut system reform."

Which one of the four alternatives the students support, Miss Leitgeb went on, will become our goal and we will try to make this goal a reality. Miss Leitgeb further stated that "any plan of the cut system changes would have to be approved by the faculty council."

SGA President Ken Traynor was the founder of the cut system committee and says of the present cut policy: "It is unclear and could be more explicit." Traynor personally feels that unlimited cuts is the only alternative. "Students at Montclair State are responsible students and really want their education. They should determine how much classroom knowledge and activity they should have to build their education," Traynor said.

The present college policy concerning cuts is: "All students are expected to attend scheduled classes regularly. The treatment and handling of any absences that occur for personal reasons including illness of less than two days, are within the jurisdiction of the individual faculty members."

Traynor would like to have a large turn-out for the referendum and sees student support as a stepping stone to reform.

The four alternatives on the ballot will be:

1. Unlimited cuts.
2. Present policy as stated in present policy.
3. One cut per semester hour credit.
4. Class attendance requirements.

The referendum will run for about a week and student government legislators will be speakers answering questions on the five points of the ballot.

Psych Poll's Validity Cause for Doubt

SGA Will Use Own Questions Tomorrow

By Helene Zuckerman
News Editor

The validity of the psychology department's random survey of student opinion concerning past and present moratoriums has been questioned by the Student Government Association. As a result, a question on that subject will be included in the SGA referendum tomorrow.

The survey, resulting from a faculty meeting, was composed by a committee of undergraduates, graduates, and professors from the psychology department, according to Terry B. Lee, SGA psychology department member. Thirty randomly selected classes approximately 700 students participated in the random survey.

"You can do a valid survey with 50 students if you pick them randomly," Lee said. "But I think certain faculty members felt the student body would not accept a survey using that many people."

Stating that the survey did not have SGA authorization, Kenneth Traynor, SGA president, said that body would look at the results "objectively." However, though he thought it was "great," a "true vote was more valid in theory than random sampling." He also commented that although it's a "professional survey" the referendum would be voted upon by the interested students who he feels are the best representatives of the student body.

According to Dr. Daniel Brower, chairman of the psychology department, "we know how to set up a sample that will be truly representative of the student body." He stressed the point that in the psychology department survey, all opinions including noncommittals would be taken into consideration. In light of this, he said that students do not know how to conduct a survey correctly. He added that those in favor of the SGA ballot "won't take personal hostilities into account." Because only certain people will vote, the opinions of those who do not will not be present to create a balanced picture of student opinion.

Traynor stated that the SGA would make a statement concerning moratoriums and not the Dec. 12, 13 and 14 moratorium this week.

Questionnaire Invalid Due to Distribution

Eleven Montclair State students have been responsible for formulating and distributing a questionnaire concerning student opinion of the pedestrian mall.

The students, who form the SGA pedestrian mall committee, together with Mr. Vincent Calabrese, vice-president of business and finance, and Mr. Jim McKnight, director of student activities, have collected about 300 responses.

Chairman of the committee, Tim Fanning, junior English major and member of the MSC Student Peace Union, summarized the idea of a "pseudo-guerrilla theater," a mock presentation of the war in Vietnam.

The pseudo-guerrilla theater is one of several activities planned by the SPU for this month's anti-Vietnam war moratorium, which will be observed on Fri., Sat., Dec. 12 and 13.

Other activities include an indoor vigil for peace, an open forum on the war, workshops pertaining to the war and distribution of antiwar literature.

Lees added that on Christmas eve, the SPU will probably participate in some type of observance that will involve the Town of Montclair, but this activity is still tentative.

During the hour-long meeting in which approximately 35 members of the SPU voted to stage the pseudo-guerrilla theater, the date was set for the performance as Fri., Dec. 12.

SPU members and students will portray American soldiers, Vietcong guerrillas and Vietnamese villagers in the pseudo-guerrilla theater skits.

Life Hall lounge was decided as the best place for the indoor vigil for peace, during which antiwar songs will be sung and readings of war dead will take place, according to Lees. Later in the day, a public address system will be set up for objections, faculty and staff to express their opinions by participating on an open discussion on the war.

Workshops pertaining to the war and its effects will be conducted on Sat., Dec. 13. A literature table will also be set up during the December moratorium to distribute leaflets and anti-war buttons and literature.

Dr. Ronald Haan, SPU advisor and associate professor of education, suggested that Muhammad Ali (Cassius Clay) be invited to speak at a future moratorium observance. SPU members voted to have the former heavyweight champion lecture here in April.

A meeting concerning the grape-boycott will be held in the faculty lounge, Life Hall on Mon., Dec. 8 at 6:00 p.m.

A bill which would correct some irregularities in organization constitutions has been passed by the Student Government Association Legislature.

At their meeting last Tuesday, the SGA Legislature voted to approve the bill, which will create a "constitutions review committee." The purpose of the bill is to "tri-annually review all student organization constitutions."

Robert Stickel, SGA English department representative, stated that many constitutions were "sightly out of order," and that the committee would check for irregularities and obedience in the constitutions. Some of the constitutions date back to the 1950s, stated Stickel, and even to the 1940s.

The bill was drawn up said Stickel, because of two organizations having trouble from within which related closely to constitutional discrepancies. This prompted Stickel and the other councilors (James Wynne, physics-earth science department representative; Sharon Wachos, class of 1971 representative, and Lorraine Leitgeb, class of 1972 representative) to formulate the bill.

According to the bill, all class I organizations (such as Players, Montclair Athletic Commission, campus publications, and others) will be reviewed the first year; all class II organizations (special interest groups) will be reviewed the second year; and all class III organizations (fraternities and sororities) will be reviewed during the third year.

However, at any time an organization may request a review by the committee. This would have first precedence over all other organizations then under review.

Two Student Conductors Lead Musical America

Musical America VIII, sponsored by the national men's music fraternity, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, and Sigyn Alpha Iota, the national music fraternity for women, will be held tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. in Memorial auditorium.

James Muscardo, junior music major, will conduct the choir composed of 75 students of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia and Sigyn Alpha Iota. Selections to be performed include: "Now is The Caroling Season" by Robert Pinnnington; "Variants on a Medieval Tune" by Norman Dello-Joio; "Fantasia for Band" by Vittorio Giannini; and three other pieces.

Jack Oliva, vice-president of Phi Mu Alpha and chairman of Musical America VIII, noted that American music is the theme used each year. Student conductors, chosen during the summer, are free to choose their own music.

Tickets are available in the Music building or at the door: $1 for loge; $1.50 for orchestra. Credit will be given to all Music 100 students who attend.
