MSC Stays Open

By John Picinich

In the event of a faculty strike the college will remain open and "try to operate as usual," according to MSC President David W.D. Dickson. Dickson added that all eight state colleges will operate along similar procedures because the faculty will walk off their jobs, though expressing hope that the faculty will not have to revert to a strike in the current resolution.

"I believe the administration has an obligation to keep schools open," he said. "We will try to keep the school open." He added that the steps the college would take during a strike would be determined by the number of teachers out on strike and the number of students not attending classes.

He feels that the college also has an obligation to pay those teachers who conduct classes during the strike. "We have to validate the payroll and find some way to honor the picket lines." he remarked.

EXPRESSING DISLIKE of details which are "gray and specific," Dickson said, "there has to be a fair - a fair for a faculty member to declare himself on whether or not he will teach during the strike.

He lists some suggested procedures for keeping tabs on teachers who do conduct classes during the strike, checking on scheduled classes to see if they are being held or having each teacher call in before reporting for work.

"The MSC president noted that the college will take steps to ensure that state property is not damaged during a strike. This would apparently mean a step-up of security.

"In regard to students' academic credit," Marshall A. Butler, registrar, stated that teachers would no longer be required for the registrar's office to act under during a strike.

He added that, as of yet, no decision has been reached on the distribution of credits to students. "Crediting will depend upon the college's decision," he said.

Also depending upon an academic decision will be the case of senior graduation. Butler stated.

HOWEVEVER, SHOULD teachers hold classes and award grades to students, Butler said that he would post those grades with the teacher stating whether or not he would teach.

However, according to SGA president Angelo Genova, NJASA has indicated that it will not support a faculty strike, though the student organization is in sympathy with the position of the faculty in the current mediations.

By a margin of almost three to one, faculty members at the eight state colleges voted in favor of a strike authorization resolution last Friday.

The authorization vote enables the Council of New Jersey State College Locals (CNJSCL) to set a strike deadline. The voting was on the current contract issues between the AFT and the Department of Higher Education, according to Marconettone Laurena, president of the Montclair State chapter of the AFT and acting CNJSCL president.

"The faculty will support their bargaining agent when the chips are down - they know differently," Laurena stated.

The voting was a "strange bargaining position," according to the MSC president noted that the faculty would strike, "but it's a better bargaining position."

"We don't think we should go down that road," he stated.

Laurena also stated that he would appreciate the support of the New Jersey State Student Association (NJSSA) in the strike because "students have almost as much to lose as the faculty if the board has its way." He feels that the faculty and students and faculty members not out on strike should honor the picket lines.

However, according to SGA president Angelo Genova, NJASA has indicated that it will not support a faculty strike, though the student organization is in sympathy with the position of the faculty in the current mediations.

The program, co-sponsored by the alumni association and the career placement and placement offices, will feature panel discussions on the job market outlook and seminars on specific employment problems. Nearly 40 exhibits representing business and industry, the armed forces and various agencies will be displayed in the Student Center ballroom throughout the day. Company spokesman will be available to answer questions and arrange interviews.

STUDENTS WHO attend the conference will receive packets containing useful job-hunting information on writing resumes, using employment agencies and qualities to look for in an employer.

A KEYNOTE address at 10 am will kick off the program. Joan Kessler, managing editor of the "College Placement Annual," will discuss "Hiring College Grad-Supply and Demand." Immediately afterward, panel discussions on the job market will be led by women from the Peasab Co/VISTA and the field of data processing/programming, finance, retail/merchandising, sales and social work.

The pros and cons of graduate school will be the topic of Dr. Mildred Fields, MSCI graduate studies director, at 2:30. At the same time, Claire Krucher, Douglas College assistant director of career counseling, will discuss women in the job market.

THE DISCUSSIONS and seminars will be held in the Student Center fourth floor meeting room. Registration will be held at the Center information desk throughout the day.

Inflation will be the topic of an economics class, the majority real that they would keep away from classrooms for the duration of the strike.

The survey was taken on a non-probability basis and not necessarily random. Students polled in the Student Center, College Hall and other buildings on campus last week in what Gallay termed "an on-the-street-type study of opinion."

Gallay, who declined to say if he was a member of the AFT bargaining agent, he explained. "The state can supposedly close school at any time for energy purposes when in actuality they are attempting to thwart any faculty job action," he charged, adding that "grip students are getting the raw deal."

He SUGGESTED that students "pressure" the Board of Higher Education to be "flexible" in its required 16-week semester.

WMSC Gets FM License

The Federal Communications Commission has granted WMSC through the Board of Trustees, a license to construct a new FM station, according to Charles Hetch, WMSC general station manager.

Hetch stated that the operating license will be granted after the station has been completed and begun broadcasting. "An operating license is something of a formality. It is the construction permit which is difficult to obtain," he commented.

He SUGGESTED that the station was "costing several thousand dollars in legal and engineering fees," Hetch estimated. "We did not have an attorney and an engineer but we felt that we had no choice but to build the antenna to a height of 688 feet above mean sea level. In this way, the FM station will avoid interfering with a protected area of the Columbia University station.

The license was obtained to build the antenna to a height of 688 feet above mean sea level. In this way, the FM station will avoid interfering with a protected area of the Columbia University station.

Are you planning to be married? Perhaps you should ask yourself these questions. How do I see myself? How do I think my partner sees me? For Thomas E. Davis, Catholic chaplain for Moneslon State, offers a pre-marriage conference at Newman House for couples who have made a serious commitment about becoming married.

"WE HELP the people to identify themselves as persons and where they are in relation to the person to whom they are engaged," said Davis, with his blue eye smiling. He added that the conference is "not an advising thing. We are not about to give advice."

Davis was inspired by the techniques of the sensitivity weekend sponsored by the Human Relations Lab (HRL) and determined to combine these techniques with the Pre-Canse concept of the Catholic Church.

Dressed in the traditional collar, Davis stated that the conference is not a religious approach to marriage. He went on to explain that the first epistle of Paul on marriage was open to interpretation, not a religious approach, but asks that "at least one partner be Catholic."

A Mix Of Church And Sensitivity

During the first session of this four sessions which made up the conference, Tete H. Tetens, assistant professor of education, and his wife led the discussion which dealt with appreciation of one's own strength and weak points in personality.

The second session featured Gena Hefilter, who works with industry to develop techniques of communications. The discussion centered upon the question, "What kind of a communicating person am I?"

A DISCUSSION ON THE human sexuality, led by Davis was the subject of the third session. Dr. Virginia Malfitan, gynecologist and guest speaker, answered questions on the physical, physiological and emotional components of a successful physical relationship. If asked about pre-marital sexual intercourse Davis would answer with a Christian approach, "Intercourse is a sign of total commitment until death." Malfitan explained that she sees a purpose in "living together (before marriage) without having sexual intercourse."

The fourth session involved married couples sharing their lives and problems with the engaged couples and a summary of the conference. Davis, in blue jeans and a work shirt, helped lead the discussion along with Tetens, who sports a beard and often assumed a philosophical pose. This last session dealt with the negative aspects of a relationship such as bad habits and the problems the couples have encountered in their sexual involved. The couples opened up slightly but showed a definite shyness in speaking about themselves and their partners during this particular session, according to Davis.

Davis offers at approximately 60% of the marriages of the couples who take part in the conference. He will offer his advice and they will be seen as persons and where they are in relation to the person to whom they are engaged, said Davis, with his blue eye smiling. He added that the conference is "not an advising thing. We are not about to give advice."

Campaign Planned
Strike Information

SGA leaders have kicked off their statewide campaign against a faculty strike with a large-scale letter-writing campaign aimed at students’ parents and state legislators.

In addition, the MSC SGA will host an “information” rally on the faculty strike vote from 10-12 pm and noon-2 pm today in the Student Center ballroom. Strike information tables are also planned at Kent State College on Friday.

Seven thousand mimeographed form letters are ready for mailing to the parents of all MSC undergraduates, according to Angelo Genova, SGA president. The letters, which were prepared by SGA legislators and interested students, lack mailing labels but should be posted by Monday, Genova said.

GENOVA REPORTED that the New Jersey Student Association (NJS) and the American Federation of Teachers’ demand. “We do support the faculty in their fight against the suppressive policies employed by the Department of Higher Education,” he said. However, “such a job action would only disrupt and cause significant harm to students,” Genova commented.

The NJS is maintaining a “hard third party” position in negotiations between the state and the AFT. “We will meet with both parties to move to aver a strike and influence their negotiations,” the SGA president stated. He emphasized that “students have a real stake in this dilemma.”

Today’s rally is designed to provide the general student body with “vital information on what we can do” in the event of a faculty walkout, according to the SGA. The energy crisis and its possible relation to a walkout and overall effects on college operations will also be discussed by MSC SGA leaders.

Can Little Falls, MSC Work It Out?

By Bill Gibson and Patricia Macrettell

Any hope to bridge the chasm separating Little Falls and MSC by informal compromise on such issues as the liquor license and the sanitary landfill appear to have been dashed on the rocks below by the college's decision to approach the State Division of Alcohol Beverage Control for a special beer and wine license to be used in the Student Center activities.

In deciding to seek a license from the ABC, the college has apparently not been in accordance with the township.

INADVERTENT

Mayor James T. Capalbo explained that both he and the township committee had no prior knowledge of the college's decision but had inadvertently learned of the action through the MONTCLARION four days after a legal advertisement was to have been placed in the Montclair Times.

Capalbo strongly questioned the legality of placing the advertisement among the intentions of the college to obtain such a license in a Montclair paper rather than the local "Times Herald" in which by law the college's decision to approach the ABC for a "license," he continued.

Dickson did admit that as of this day he has not only with the mayor and the unofficial Citizens Advisory Committee, but also with the township committee currently attending the advisory committee meetings.

It would appear that neither the college nor the community is willing to continue or expand the present lines of communication. And caught in the middle is the powerless student.

Denials Help Racism Grow

By The Task Force Against Racism

The relegation of racism to a minor position among social ills plaguing this campus and the nation should not be tolerated by any rational human being. It is the height of absurdity to believe that racism doesn't exist, or if it does exist, it is so minimal that there is no use in attacking it.

A quick glance at America reveals that minority groups are totally denied participation in relevant social, political and economic decisions. Who inhabits our inner cities ghettoes? Who suffers the highest rate of unemployment? Who gets deprived of a higher education? Who do we incarcerate in our prisons?

Racism is pervasive. It should be attacked and eliminated in order to create a social environment that will allow equal accessibility to everyone.

By Bill Gibson and Patricia Macrettell

Committeeman Edward Shayer pointed out that the "failure of the college to notify the township prior to its action is indicative of the inconsiderate and uncooperative attitude of the college in its dealings with Little Falls."

Contrary to published statements the college has not been meeting with township officials on a regular basis but only in times of crisis, said Little Falls committeeman Sam Sheber. He added that without such regular meetings it is impossible for the committee to remain on top of the situation.

"This lack of knowledge can be helpful to the college since it obscures the committee when such matters are brought up. It could be an attempt on the part of the college to sweep things under," said Sheber. He quickly added "I sincerely hope that our relationship with the college has not deteriorated to such a degree that this is true."

"There is a definite lack of communications among the various parties involved," said Sheber. With a slight smile he mentioned "we are in a worse position than students-at least they get the 'propaganda' from the college."

Although the college has expressed a public willingness to work closely with the township in resolving the various problems that arise between the two parties, in actuality there have been few chances to meet and work with township officials.

"I am perfectly willing to meet with the township committee to discuss our mutual concerns," explained MSC President David W.D. Dickson. "However, kindly let us get competent to inform them of our intentions to approach the ABC for a license," he continued.

Dickson did admit that as of this day he has not only with the mayor and the unofficial Citizens Advisory Committee. Three meetings occurred earlier in the year, before the current controversy.

Sheber pointed out that the Citizens Advisory Committee is not an unofficial organization and that he wasn't "even sure of who is on this committee." Capalbo expected that he is the only member of the township committee currently attending the advisory committee meetings.

In view of the fact that Mr. Gary Hoitsma has attacked the Task Force Against Racism, we are inviting him to the Teach-In on Racism.

They've Got A Secret

This is an extremely difficult time for New Jersey college students. They have been faced with the threat of a faculty strike and with the possible postponement of several weeks of classes because of the energy shortage. These situations are serious but they are made worse by the fact that very little effort has been made to keep the students informed as to exactly where they stand.

The American Federation of Teachers voted this past Friday to authorize a strike. Since the vote was taken, rumors have run rife as to when the faculty will strike. The most popular of these rumors was that the faculty would strike this past Wednesday. News was mistakenly leaked to the New York newspapers that the faculty would soon strike.

What answers do the students get from the faculty and the college to calm their fears? Well, Mariano Antonio Lucerna, president of the MSC chapter of the AFT, has enlightened us all with a brilliant "No Comment" as to when the faculty will strike. The college has been equally informative. No decision has yet been made regarding academic credit if the faculty should strike. Will students lose credit or would a pass/fail system by instituted as was the case in the 1969-70 strike?

The faculty should come out with a definitive statement as to how far apart they are with the state in the negotiations. What is the current likelihood of a strike and if so, when would it most likely take place?

The school should answer some of the questions that it has been putting off. Especially in the area of credits. This is not a decision that should be put off until the situation arises.

In the heat of the energy crisis, it is quite possible that the college administration should make a concerted effort to inform students as soon as possible as to whether Winter Session will be cut or the opening weeks of spring semester postponed. What will happen to the students who need the credits provided by the intervention to graduate? What will happen to the student teachers who must take short term courses in the beginning of the semester before the weeks of teaching? These are questions that must be answered soon.

Students are not here because they haven't got anything better to do with their time. The vast majority of the students are not squatters who hold down jobs to pay their tuition costs. It's about time that both the faculty and the college stop treating the students as a non-entity in these situations.

Famine, starvation and the general collapse of the capitalist system follow by a Communist takeover in the United States. They remain a threat to the American way of life. The student's major problem is not to take the blame for creating and continuing the parking problem. Illegally parked cars don't drive themselves into aisles or in front of other cars-and they won't drive themselves into legal spaces either. Commuting students themselves and they alone, must take the responsibility to park properly. Security men can't do it for them. In the heat of the energy crisis, it is interesting to note the various reactions of a very nervous middle class to a very touchy situation. Most of the reactions are factually evidence of American "spunk," "vigor" or "vitalism" or any other name stuck on self-assigned epithets.

For the most part, the citizens' remarks display an overwhelming fear of the unknown. I have discussed four distinct types of reactions so far, and this does not include those apolitical or those people who ride bicycles and stow their body heat for the United States. They remain a threat to the American way of life. The student's major problem is not to take the blame for creating and continuing the parking problem. Is The Seesaw Weight Shifting?

The decision by the American Federation of Teachers to authorize a strike is a momentous decision. It is an important signal to the labor union leadership that the faculty is concerned and active in the labor relations process. It is also a signal to the administration that the faculty is not willing to accept a token contract.

The strike vote was taken in response to the administration's failure to meet the demands of the faculty. The faculty has been demanding a fair contract for several years. The administration has been refusing to negotiate in good faith. The faculty is now demanding that the administration negotiate in good faith and that the administration meet the demands of the faculty.

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, the men's professional music fraternity, will present its twelfth annual musical production, entitled "Does Anyone Really Know What Time It Is?" on Dec. 6. The show is directed by sophomores Paul Nast and Harry Schenawolf and will feature the Men of Sinfonia and the women of Sigma Alpha Iota, the women's professional music fraternity.

Beginning with a rousing rendition of Maple Leaf Rag, written by Scott Joplin and performed by the Sinfonia Rag Ensemble, the show progresses through the years prior to World War I with the advent of community singing, as remembered in a performance of selections from the show "George M." The development of jazz is shown in performances by the Sinfonia Jazz Band and the DB BSino Jazz Band. Finally, present day jazz-rock styles have produced the final act, a hard and funky portion of the show dedicated to the music of the group, Chicago. "Does Anyone Really Know What Time It Is?" will be held this Thursday December 6th at 8 pm in Memorial Auditorium. Students are admitted for 75 cents. —MacKay

"American Primitive: John and Abigail," never has a chance to get off the ground. From concept to execution to second show of the Speed Theater Department's Major Theater Series is a disappointment. Instead of readers' theater as the initial publicity suggested, we get warmed-up, experimental Group; instead of the usually fine performances of many of our most familiar actors and actresses we get disingenuously flat and self-indulgent rambling. The set and lighting, usually a strong point on the Montclair State stage, was embarrassingly poor and flashy.

The flat line squarely with director, Donald Stoll. His choice of the experimental theatre format for this piece simply does not work. The script, itself, written by William Gibson, author of "The Miracle Worker," is stiff and interminable to start with and it just doesn't read well enough to act out. As readers' theatre, it might have worked but acted just came across as incoherent, confounding and downright boring. In its present form it reminds one strongly of a tourist attraction performed at a revolutionary battlefield site for the summer trade.

To further confuse matters, the lead roles of the piece, John and Abigail Adams, are switched around and played at various times by all the members of the ensemble. This never allows anyone to develop a coherent characterization and we are left with the impression of actors willy nilly playing surface memorizations to create any impression of character at all. Even worse, the great work an actor is expected to present to the audience as the "decider" they feel compelled to give the performance removes any concept we might have had of the actors portraying characters for us and, instead, we can only conclude that they are being themselves and not the people they portray. This creates an even more serious problem of audience embarrassment. As we watch the actors in sequences of touching moments, we just feel they are the only actor, naked and unmasked upon the stage and scaring in our seats for their nakedness.

Original music for the show was created and performed by Dennis Dougherty and Ed Peters. The music was pleasant enough, but it's often awkward moments in the show and further broke the sketchy line of the action.

Gaw Ciocew and Karen Coreno stand out as islands of warmth and satisfaction. As we can see why God made woman — and for all shatter the pre-conceived ideas about their group. It certainly should have been more than that! The group's director is Dr. Noah. Would someone please check the closet in his office to see if he is bound, gagged and hidden there? Have you heard the one about the English Club? Well, like this no one one even knew that this organization even existed on the Montclair State campus and in fact of fact it didn't until last March. Well, that isn't strictly true either, there had been a group with the same name that had gone quietly to its demise a number of years ago. Anyhow, this struggling club had to do something before it died and so, its like this; no

Fairbanks Runs Marathon Circuit

By Rich Keller

Marathon races commemorate the legendary feat of Pheidippides, who supposedly traveled from Marathon to Athens in 490 BC to announce the Greek victory over the Persians. Montclair State could have a direct descendent in junior Jim Fairbanks, who ran in five long-distance marathons since last year.

FAIRBANKS, who runs cross-country in the fall and track in the spring, said, "I usually practice from one to two months in preparation for a marathon, but I will train as much as two and three months for a biggie, like Boston.'

When asked how he mentally prepared for a race, Fairbanks said, "You have to know you can go the distance...you have to convince yourself that you can last the 26 miles."

ONE REALIZES the validity of this attitude when observing the crude running conditions of the ancient Armory.

The inside of the building can be likened to a medieval dungeon. The ventilation isn't fit for humans and the floor is so dirty that one wonders if a dump truck from the quarry had paid the Armory an unexpected visit.

The track at the Armory is a flat board surface which puts great demands on a runner's body. Most runners leave the building with sore bodies and sore throats.

THE TWO-MILERS had to suffer through 16 laps (one-eighth of a mile per lap) in the Armory's barrack-like conditions. Freshman Mike Exton won his heat of the two mile with a time of 9:59 and was the only individual victor of the night for MSC.

John Rafter, likewise a freshman, was right on Exton's heels with a 10:13 effort.

Jim Fairbanks copped a second place in the C race of the two mile event, with a time of 10:17.

IN THE 1000-yard run, Joe Konarkowski, a senior and this year's cross-country captain, turned in a second place performance with a time of 2:14.5. Jonathan Frankel, alias Little Squid, was not too far behind with a fourth place 2:16 effort.

Following the meet, the team rapidly headed for the exits to breathe some good ole New York City air, only to return on Sat., Dec. 15, for the next meet at the 188th Street Armory.

Wrestlers Wreck Princeton, Temple

By John Delery

The MSC wrestling team proved to be very unhospitable guests as they traveled to Princeton’s Jadwin Gym Saturday and returned not only with a victory over host team Princeton (27-6) but also triumphs over Temple University (22-12) and Gettysburg College (39-3) in a quadrangular meet.

Led by 158-pound freshman Bob Woods’ one decision and two pins the Indians were never really threatened all day. WOODS, WHO was beaten in his first match against East Stroudsburg on Wednesday, came roaring back and scored an 8-4 decision over Princeton captain and premier East Coast wrestler Paul MartineUi. He then pinned back to back last second defeats on Temple’s Brian Miller and Gettysburg’s Mike Madden.

As coach Larry Schiacchetano put it, “We are still not completely healthy and wrestlers like Bob Woods and Oscar Zavala are wrestling out of position because of it. When John Reid arrives in January we should be able to make a few shifts and we could be unbeatable.”

He also said that “the first three wrestlers (Alber, Guketlov and Spencer) are carrying the team so far and if it wasn’t for the great depth on this team things might be a little bit different right now.”

This weekend the Indians embark on their toughest trek of the early season as they take on the cadets of West Point and teams from Indiana, Buffalo State, Bloomsburg and William and Mary at West Point, New York.

Auerbacher's Bucket Stuns Pioneers

By John Zawoyski

Sophomore Jeff Auerbacher banked a left-foot shot with two seconds remaining to give Montclair State a 58-56 victory over William Paterson Tuesday night. Both teams needed their records at 5-1 before a capacity crowd at Panzer Gym.

WITH EIGHT MINUTES to go in the game, the Indians, using a tight defense, managed a nine-point advantage entering by only four WPC points. The Pioneers came back for two more points before Eugene Jemner tied it at 65-65. Brian Wagner netted two more points for WPC and the Pioneers had a one-point lead.

With 40 seconds remaining, Chuck Holland's fastbreak layup tied it at 65-65. MSC applied a full court press before Wagner was fouled in the act of shooting. When the Pioneers missed at the line, the Indians had 28 seconds remaining to work for a good shot.

Passing the ball around from corner to corner with the crowd yelling and the clock ticking, Jemner let a shot off, hitting the glass. The rebound was taken by Auerbacher who won the jump ball, setting up the winning shot.

Auerbacher rushed toward Auerbacher as the MSC fans went wild and the WPC players remained stunned on the court, their mouths hanging open.

Stuns Pioneers

McKinley Boston was having trouble moving his wheelchair. No matter. He just scored anyway.

What sounds like an adventure in the MSC parking lot is actually a typical scene at last Saturday's wheelchair basketball game between the New Jersey Blue Devils and representatives of the Student Intramural and Leisure Council (SILC) and student organization.

THE EVENT was viewed by a crowd that filled half of Panzer Gymnasium and the proceeds of close to $250 were turned over to the Blue Devils, a team of paraplegics and amputees.

THE DEVILS, although superior to the MSC squad, are inexperienced when compared to other wheelchair teams.

"We have three members of the starting lineup who never played wheelchair basketball before," the Devil coach said.

Presently the Devils spent their time playing teams like SILC or scrimmage against other wheelchair squads. They will enter an organized league next year.

THE SPORT demands a control of the wheelchair, arm stamina and an ability to shoot from the sitting position. All of which were noticeably absent from SILC's play.

While the home team was basically getting their arms warmed up, Devil Mike Lioni was putting on a display that would make the varsity Indians blush. Among Lioni's unbelievable maneuvers were behind the back passes, spinning layups and a game high of 26 points.

So that Lioni wouldn't be alone in entertaining the crowd, MSC football coach Don MacKay also put on a one-man show. He missed every shot he took, save one. Acknowledging the fans' spontaneous applause, MacKay headed back to the bench tugging at his Adam's apple.

TO BREAK up the monotony of a shutout, SILC's Don Walsh and Mike Maino combined with MacKay for MSC's only legitimate points.

"MacKay and Walsh seem to be back with about 2-20 left in the first half. Maino got his two points in the midway point of the second half.

THE DEVILS, although superior to the MSC squad, are inexperienced. For this reason,ober than to other wheelchair teams.

"We have three members of the starting lineup who never played wheelchair basketball before," the Devil coach said.

Presently the Devils spent their time playing teams like SILC or scrimmage against other wheelchair squads. They will enter an organized league next year and compete against better teams. Better teams?"

"There's a team down in Bayonne that would ruin these guys," offered McKinley Boston.

Let's see, maybe they'll spot MSC's wheelers 60 points, and then...
